Curt MILLER

NOTES ON MILLER:

- Enters the 2008-09 season with a 150-68 overall record, making him the winningest coach in BGSU women's basketball history. With the Falcons, Miller has won four consecutive MAC regular season championships and three MAC tournament titles.
- Miller ranks seventh all-time in the total wins column amongst all MAC coaches; he moves to third overall among active MAC coaches in the same category.
- Miller is the reigning four-time MAC Coach of the Year and is the only coach to repeat the title over four consecutive seasons.
- In each of the last five seasons, Miller has led the Falcons to at least 20 wins, including a 31-win season in 2006-07.

Anyone who has ever heard head coach Curt Miller (150-68) speak about an opponent knows the man is one of statistics.

How many players over 6-2 will the Falcons be forced to battle on the court at a given time?

What kind of rebounding team will the Falcons confront on the glass on a given night?

What percentage of field goals do they make on their final six possessions?

Yet, take a deeper look at the BG women's basketball mastermind and his recent statistics are mind-blowing.

With a roster containing 10 underclassmen - including seven freshmen - Miller used a 26-8 season to become the all-time winningest coach in BGSU women's basketball history in 2007-08. His 145th win came on Feb. 23, 2008 in an 81-66 come-from-behind decision at Miami's Millett Hall. That win not only propelled Miller past former coach Fran Voll, but also helped the Falcons secure at least a share of the MAC regular-season crown. By season's end, BGSU would become the first women's basketball team in the league's 27-year history to win four consecutive regular season crowns.

"When Curt became the winningest coach at BGSU, a reporter asked then-senior Kate Achter to comment on the accomplishment. Her answer was one that I hope to hear from all of our student-athletes. She said 'Coach is a great basketball coach but he is also a great man. He cares so much about each of his players and he also cares that we care about each other.' I couldn't say it any better," said BGSU Senior Associate A.D./Senior Woman Administrator Janna Blais.

In those four seasons (2004-08), Miller and the Falcons have gone 57-7 in MAC play and own winning streaks over eight of 11 conference programs - seven of which are at five or more victories. Additionally, BG is also only one of nine DI women's basketball programs to win four consecutive regular-season titles in as many seasons.

Are these stats convincing enough? We have not even begun to scratch the surface.

When comparing his numbers to his MAC peers, Miller's accomplishments have the power to stand the test of time. Not only is he one of just seven coaches in MAC history to win at least 150 games, but he also is the only one to win four straight Coach of the Year awards.

And when it comes to staying power, he has a bit of that on his side as well.

Longtime mentor Bob Lindsay is the only other active MAC head coach to orchestrate more repeat 20-plus win seasons. Between 1995 and 2002, Lindsay strung together seven seasons of 20 or more victories at Kent State; currently, Miller is enjoying his own five-season run. In fact, of the winningest coaches in MAC women's basketball history, only three coaches own more total 20-win records. Lindsay has accumulated 11, while former Toledo coaches Mark Ehlen and Bill Fennelly each narrowly edge Miller with six apiece.

Though a proven powerhouse in the conference, Miller's winning ways do not only translate into the MAC.

In 2007-08 the Falcons brought an 11-3 overall record into the start of the league season and were the only MAC program to boast at least 10 wins in that point in the season. In three neutral contests alone, Miller and Co. were 3-0 and won by an average of 21.7 points; as usual, more than one statistic was on the side of the Falcons. Over the 14-game non-conference season, BGSU was named the champion of the Cornell Classic and was the runner-up in the Iowa State Cyclone Shootout. BGSU would finish those games with a +10.9 scoring margin and would be on the better side of the rebounding, steals, turnover and blocks categories.

Despite losing in double-OT to Ohio in the semifinals of the MAC Tournament, BGSU did earn a berth in the WNIT. The Falcons went on to record BG's first-ever win in the tournament, a 64-52 final over Dayton, in front of a home crowd in Anderson Arena in late March.

With the UD win, Miller became just the second head coach in MAC history, and the only current coach, to advance beyond the first round of both the WNIT and NCAA with victories.

Since the 2003-04 season, Bowling Green's year has not ended before March 19. With the Falcons, Miller and his staff are 55-11 (.833) during the critical months of February and March since 2003.

Have we mentioned with the loss of nearly 6,000 points and two of the program's top-five scorers the Falcons were 'supposed' to be in the midst of a reloading year in 2007-08?

In what will become known as the greatest season in Bowling Green women's basketball history, Miller led the 2006-07 Falcons to a 31-4 record and a berth in the NCAA's 'Sweet 16.'

Thirty-one wins in a season ... a 'Sweet 16' appearance ... Both were MAC 'firsts'.

Since then he has added a few other firsts to his coaching resume.

- First MAC women's basketball coach to win four consecutive Coach of the Year nods (2005-2008).

- First coach to see a group of players win more than 102 games in a four year span - his 2007 class would set the MAC record (male or female) with 103 career wins only to be surpassed by the Class of 2008's total of 108.

And though it may not be a first, Miller does sit atop the leader board when comparing his win/loss totals of the past five years to the remainder of the MAC. Since 2003, the Falcons are 129-33 (.796) and are one of only two MAC squads to win at least 100 games. That total also makes the cut as one of the Top 25 teams across the country in the same time frame.

Yes, in just a few short years, Miller has proven himself to be one of the top coaches in the league and the country.

Miller assumed the BGSU helm on May 8, 2001, with the hope of returning the Falcon program to prominence. After seven seasons, it is safe to say that his mission has been accomplished.

TTA B L E

Handed the reins of a storied Falcon program that had fallen from the top of the conference, Miller spoke of a five-year plan to return the Brown and Orange to the top of the MAC. He and his assistants have indeed restored the Falcons as a perennial league power, and have also guided the program to dizzying heights on a national scale over the past few seasons.

After posting a 28-3 mark in the 2005-06 season, the Falcons broke that record with the 31-win season in '06-07. The latter BG team beat Oklahoma State and Vanderbilt in the NCAA Championships to become the first-ever MAC women's team to advance to the 'Sweet 16' of the national tourney.

The Falcons have advanced to the championship game of the MAC Tournament in four of the last five years, winning three in a row.

BG posted a perfect 16-0 league record in 2005-06, and added three more wins in the conference tournament. In the '06-07 campaign, Miller's club went 15-1 in league regular-season action, and again had a 3-0 mark in the MAC Tournament.

Miller's name has become synonymous with success amongst the coaching ranks. He was named the Russell Athletic WBCA Region 4 Coach of the Year in both 2006 and 2007 while earning nominations in 2004, 2005 and most recently in 2008. In late April of 2007, he was the runaway winner of the Ohio Coach-of-the-Year award, given by the Columbus Dispatch.

Most recently, the 2007-08 Falcons were guided by Miller, his staff and his 'floor general,' point guard Kate Achter. The senior leader would carry that young team further than most expected and would make a case to be mentioned amongst the most prolific players in both BGSU and MAC history. Achter was named MAC Player of the Year and also earned All-America Honorable Mention, following in the footsteps of former Falcon Ali Mann.

In total, Miller has coached four All-Americans, three conference Players of the Year and another trio of conference Freshmen of the Year - including BGSU's Lauren Prochaska. Prochaska (FOY), Achter (POY) and Miller (COY) combined to give BGSU the first-ever sweep of the MAC's major specialty awards in 2008, just another first to add to Miller's growing list.

Achter and Prochaska also were named to the all-conference list as first- and second-team members, respectively, while Tara Breske garnered a spot on the MAC All-Tournament Team. BGSU has placed at least one athlete on the all-tournament team in each of the last five seasons. Of the 120 possible slots, BGSU athletes have been mentioned on 25 occasions.

The 2006-07 season saw the Falcons reach heights never before achieved by a MAC team. As mentioned, the Falcons won the league's regular-season and tournament titles for the third year in a row, and BGSU won a pair of NCAA Tournament games to advance to the round of 16.

BGSU was listed in the national rankings in both the Associated Press and USA Today/ESPN Coaches poll for nearly the entire season, reaching a school- and MAC-best ranking of 16th.

Individually, Mann shared MAC Player-of-the-Year honors and was a repeat selection to the All-MAC First Team. Mann was also a finalist for both Kodak/WBCA All-America team and the Lowe's Senior CLASS Award.

For the third consecutive season, four of BGSU's five starters earned all-league honors. Kate Achter (second team), Carin Horne (third team) and Liz Honegger (honorable mention) joined Mann on the all-conference squad, and Horne was named the MAC Tournament's MVP. Mann and Achter joined her on the all-tourney team.

Amber Flynn was selected as the MAC's Sixth Man of the Year in 2006-07. In February of 2006, the Falcons broke into the national rankings for the first time in 12 years, with a 25th-place ranking in the USA Today/ESPN Top 25 Coaches Poll on Valentine's Day. BGSU entered the '06 national tournament ranked 21st and 23rd, respectively, in the USA Today and Associated Press polls.

Miller and the Falcons ended the 2005-06 season with an overall mark of 28-3, one of the nation's best records. Mann was named to the All-MAC First Team, while Achter and Honegger each earned second-team laurels and Horne was chosen to the third team.

In 2004-05, Miller guided the Falcons, picked to finish third in the West Division, to the league's best overall record, a MAC regular-season championship and the top seed for the Kraft MAC Tournament. In the league tourney in Cleveland, the Brown and Orange downed Miami, Eastern Michigan and Kent State to capture the school's first conference tourney crown and NCAA Championships bid in over a decade. Mann was named the league tournament MVP. In the NAAs, Miller and the Falcons led nationally-ranked Kansas State at the half before succumbing, 70-60.

Also in the '04-05 campaign, four of the five Falcon starters earned conference honors on the eve of the MAC Tournament, as Honegger and Mann were named to the all-conference second team while Horne earned honorable mention and Achter was chosen to the MAC's All-Freshman Team. The fifth Falcon starter, Casey McDowell, had a career game the next day as the Falcons downed Miami in the tourney's quarterfinal round, and joined Honegger and Achter on the all-tournament squad. Achter became just the second freshman in league history to be named the tournament MVP.

In 2005-06, with all of those starters returning, and the bull's-eye squarely on their backs, Miller and the Falcons proceeded to begin the year with a school-record 8-0 start, finishing non-conference play with a 9-2 mark. An overtime loss at Kentucky on Jan. 2 would be the Falcons' last setback until the NCAA Championships. BGSU won all 16 league regular-season games, then downed Northern Illinois, arch-rival Toledo and KSU in the conference tournament, allowing fewer than 49 points per game in the three wins in Cleveland.

The success of the subsequent three seasons came on the heels of a magical 2003-04 campaign, when Miller and his staff orchestrated one of the top turnarounds in the nation. BGSU, picked to finish sixth in the MAC West, tied for second (just a game out of first), finishing 21-10 overall.

Miller and 2008 graduate Kate Achter won 108 games in four years together.

That marked a nine-win improvement over the prior season, tying for 11th in the country in that category.

In conference play that year, Miller and his staff guided the Brown and Orange to an 11-5 ledger, a complete reversal of the prior year's league record (5-11). In 2003-04, the Falcons finished with a winning record -- both overall and in MAC action -- for the first time in six years. BGSU, six games better than the previous season in conference play, was the only MAC team to improve by more than three games over the '02-03 season.

The Falcons posted three consecutive wins to close the regular season, then picked up three-straight wins in the league tourney. The final two victories in the tourney came on back-to-back buzzer-beaters by senior Lindsay Austin at Cleveland's Gund (now Quicken Loans) Arena.

In the quarterfinal round, Austin's jumper at the horn lifted the fourth-seeded Falcons to a 63-62 win over Western Michigan. Two days later, lightning struck for a second time, as another Austin buzzer-beater led to another one-point win. This time, the victim was top-seeded Miami, as the Brown and Orange picked up a 75-74 win to advance to the championship game. In that championship contest, EMU ended BG's stellar season with a 65-56 win over the Falcons.

Miller's 2003-04 team included the MAC's Defensive Player of the Year (Austin) and the league's Freshman of the Year (Mann), and three players (Austin, Mann and Stefanie Wenzel) named to the all-league squad.

In 2002-03, the Brown and Orange went 12-16 overall. After posting the most successful non-conference season in over a decade, that edition of the Falcons -- in BGSU's first season in the MAC's West Division -- amassed a 5-11 league ledger that included a win over the division's co-champion.

The Falcons posted a 9-19 overall record in 2001-02. That record does not indicate the masterful coaching job turned in by the first-year head coach and his staff. Despite the loss of Preseason All-MAC Team member Francine "No Relation" Miller for all but four games, BGSU went 6-10 in league action and featured a much-improved defense from prior years. Miller's Falcons had a field-goal percentage defense of .400, the lowest in a decade and at the time the fourth-lowest in school history.

The Falcons improved upon that figure in 2003-04, setting a 'modern-day' record by allowing opponents to shoot just .388 from the field. That marked the third-lowest opponent field-goal pct. in school history, and the lowest since 1977-78. In '05-06, the Falcons allowed foes to shoot just .373 from the floor, the second-lowest opp. FG pct. in school history. In '06-07 BG opponents shot a .390 total; the '07-'08 group allowed their adversaries a .398 percentage. In his seven seasons, Miller-coached teams have posted six of the top-nine totals in that category in BGSU annals.

Yet, there is another percentage that can attest to the fact that Miller and his staff hold the secret to recruiting. In seven seasons, BGSU's combined team grade point average has never sunk below 3.0. Dating to their first season, BG has increased their average GPA from 3.19 ('01-02) to 3.40 in 2007-08 and was good enough to be classified as the most improved GPA among all women's varsity teams at the University. His staff also boasts a 100% graduation rate among all athletes who exhaust their eligibility with the program.

Most recently, Whitney Taylor was named the 2007-08 BGSU Senior Scholar-Athlete as well as a member of the Academic All-MAC team. Taylor was also recognized at Beyond BG as one of the Top 10 Outstanding Senior's of the Year. Proving the Falcons get it done on the court and in the classroom, three of the six honors graduates of Miller's team are also listed among the Top 25 scorers while donning the Orange and Brown.

Miller, a native of Girard, Pa., had ties to both Ohio and the MAC prior to his appointment at BGSU. He graduated from Baldwin-Wallace College in Berea, Ohio, and spent a year as a graduate assistant at Kent State University, where he was a volunteer coach on Lindsay's women's basketball staff.

Miller joined the Falcons after spending three years as the associate head coach at Colorado State University. During the 2000-01 season, Miller was listed as one of the top 10 assistant coaches in the country in an article in the Women's Basketball Journal, as voted by his peers.

Miller helped Colorado State to an overall record of 81-20 over his three seasons there. The Rams, guided by head coach Tom Collen, a 1977 BGSU graduate, finished with a 25-7 record in 2000-01. CSU won the Mountain West Conference Tournament and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

When combining his tenure at CSU and BGSU, Miller celebrated a decade of success in 2007-08 amassing a 231-88 record as an associate and head coach. Those teams averaged 23.1 wins per season while making five trips to the NCAA Tournament and another two to the WNIT marking only three seasons in which Miller has not earned a post-season bid.

The year prior, CSU qualified for the WNIT and advanced all the way to the final four of that tourney, losing to eventual champion Wisconsin. In 1998-99, Miller's first season in Fort Collins, CSU won the preseason WNIT title and the Western Athletic Conference championship. The Rams posted a 33-3 record, the best in school history, and advanced to the "Sweet Sixteen" in the NCAA Tournament. That squad was ranked as high as fourth in the nation.

Miller's responsibilities at Colorado State included serving as defensive coordinator. He was in charge of all practice and game decisions regarding defensive strategies. Additionally, Miller was the recruiting coordinator and scouting coordinator, and his responsibilities also included academic counseling, scheduling, player development and administrative coordination.

Prior to Colorado State, Miller spent four seasons as an assistant coach at Syracuse University (1994-98). The Orange shared the Big East Conference championship during the 1995-96 season.

Miller was an assistant coach at Cleveland State University for three seasons, and was the youngest top assistant in the country upon his hiring in 1991. Prior to his stint with the Vikings, as mentioned, Miller served as a volunteer assistant coach at KSU. The Golden Flashes finished 17-12 that season (1990-91), and enjoyed the second-best turnaround in the nation, with a 12-game improvement over the previous year.

In Miller's 10 years as recruiting coordinator, Colorado State, Syracuse and Cleveland State combined to sign all-state players from 17 states, Canada and South America. That list included a Gatorade Player of the Year from the states of Maryland, New York and Connecticut. Miller has been asked to serve on coaches' round table discussions regarding recruiting or coaching techniques at four Women's Basketball Coaches Association national conventions.

Miller has a plethora of camp experience, having served as camp director at each of his previous three schools. He has also instructed at Blue Star camps and at schools including Purdue and North Carolina.

In 2007-08, Miller was joined for the seventh consecutive season by assistant coaches Jennifer Roos and Brandi Poole, while Kevin Eckert completed his sixth season with the Falcon program.

"I truly believe that I have the strongest assistant coaching staff in the MAC and the entire Midwest," said Miller. "We work long hours and spend a ton of time together, showing by example to our players that team chemistry starts from the top. I love them like family!"

According to Blais, "Curt Miller is an outstanding teacher of the game of basketball. But perhaps more importantly, there is no one better at developing a solid lockerroom. He continually produces teams that understand that no one person is more important than the other. His teams play hard for each other because they care more about the success of the team than individual honors.

"He instills a strong sense of tradition in each team that he coaches and the women take great pride in representing all the Falcons that have come before them."

Miller is the chair of the Russell Athletic/WBCA National Coach of the Year Committee, and is also a member of the National Rules Committee.

Miller received his Bachelor of Arts degree in physical education and business administration from Baldwin-Wallace in 1990. He has taken courses toward his Master of Arts degree in sports administration at KSU.

Assoc. Head Coach • Eighth Season
Davidson '93

Jennifer ROOS

NOTES ON ROOS:

- Enters the 2008-09 season with a 150-68 overall record in seven seasons with the Orange and Brown, Roos has helped BGSU to four consecutive MAC regular season championships and three MAC tournament championships.
- As of June, 2008, Roos became the only female assistant coach in the MAC to work under a long-term contract. With the terms of the contract she also became the only BGSU assistant coach ever to be given a multiple year contractual agreement.
- Since earning the title of associate head coach in 2004, Roos, whose main forte focuses on the Falcons' defensive efforts, has helped BGSU top the Mid-American Conference in overall scoring defense in three of the past four seasons. The 2006-07 team would finish the season ranking 29th amongst all NCAA squads under the same category; that finish is the highest in the Miller-era.
- A member of the Davidson College Hall of Fame.

With a 26-8 overall record in 2007-08, an unprecedented fourth Mid-American Conference regular season title, and the Falcons first ever win in the postseason WNIT it is obvious associate head coach Jennifer Roos, who has spent seven years with the Falcons, and the BGSU staff have a clear game plan that works.

Roos is in charge of the Falcon defense, and also serves as the team's recruiting coordinator.

"Jennifer is an outstanding coach," said Miller. "She has coordinated our recruiting efforts, and has opened doors in the recruiting wars that haven't been open for years for potential Bowling Green players."

Proving her worth not only in the recruiting arena but also on paper, the Falcon defense has ranked first in the MAC in overall scoring defense for the past three seasons with the 2006-07 team finishing the season ranking 29th amongst all NCAA squads in the same category.

Furthermore, the defense has held their combined opponents between a .373 and .404 field goal percentage in each of the past four seasons; when combining those seasons, BGSU has allowed their opponent to post a .390 (2809-7207) field goal percentage.

In the four seasons she has served as the associate head coach (2004-present), she has helped the Falcons to as many Mid-American Conference regular-season titles, becoming the first women's basketball team to accomplish the four-peat. Mix in the Falcons' three MAC Tournament Championships, an additional trio of visits to the NCAA Tournament and a bid to the postseason WNIT and it is apparent she, alongside Miller and the staff, has found a recipe for success.

Record-breaking success, to be exact.

On Feb. 23, 2008, in an 81-66 come-from-behind decision at Miami's Millett Hall, the Falcons won their 145th game during the Miller Era to become the most dominant staff in the programs' history. By the end of the season, Roos, Miller and assistant coach Brandi Poole would accumulate a 150-68 record in seven seasons together. With the inclusion of assistant coach Kevin Eckert, who joined the program in 2002, the staff is 141-49. The group also has become one of the longest tenured staffs in the conference.

That record breaking success also includes the epic 2006-07 season, which saw the Falcons reach heights never before achieved by a MAC team. The Falcons went 31-4 overall and 15-1 in MAC regular-season action, winning the league's seasonal and tourney titles before winning a pair of NCAA Tournament games to advance to the round of 16.

BGSU was listed in the national rankings in both the Associated Press and USA Today/ESPN Coaches poll for nearly the entire season, reaching a school- and league-best ranking of 15th in the final AP listing.

The 2005-06 team set records for wins (since broken) by going 28-3 overall. The Falcons posted a perfect 16-0 league record, and added three more wins in the conference tournament. BGSU has an overall record of 124-60 and a MAC ledger of 66-30 in the last six years. Over the last four seasons, the Falcons are 103-25 overall and 55-9 in MAC regular-season play.

In 2004-05, the staff guided the Falcons, picked to finish third in the West Division, to the league's best overall record, a MAC regular-season championship and the top seed for the Kraft MAC Tournament. In the league tourney in Cleveland, the Brown and Orange downed Miami, Eastern Michigan and Kent State to capture the school's first conference tourney crown and NCAA Championships bid in over a decade. In the NCAAs, Miller and the Falcons led nationally-ranked Kansas State at the half before succumbing, 70-60.

The success of the last four years came on the heels of a magical 2003-04 campaign, when Miller, Roos and the staff orchestrated one of the top turnarounds in the nation.

BGSU, picked to finish sixth in the MAC West, tied for second (just a game out of first), finishing 21-10 overall. That marked a nine-win improvement over the prior season, tying for 11th in the country in that category.

In conference play, the coaching staff guided the Brown and Orange to an 11-5 ledger, a complete reversal of the prior year's league record (5-11). In 2003-04, the Falcons finished with a winning record -- both overall and in MAC action -- for the first time in six years. BGSU, six games better than the previous season in conference play, was the only MAC team to improve by more than three games over the 2002-03 season.

In 2002-03, the Brown and Orange went 12-16 overall. After posting the most successful non-conference season in over a decade, that edition of the Falcons -- in BGSU's first season in the MAC's West Division -- amassed a 5-11 league ledger that included a win over the division's co-champion.

The Falcons posted a 9-19 overall record in Miller's staff's first season at the helm. Despite the loss of Preseason All-MAC Team member Francine Miller for all but four games, BGSU went 6-10 in league action and featured a much-improved defense from prior years. In fact, over the past seven seasons, the Falcons have posted six of the top-nine totals in that category in school history.

Roos came to the Falcon program after spending eight years at Davidson College. She became a coach with the Wildcats upon her graduation from the school.

Roos served as the recruiting coordinator for her final two seasons, the scheduling coordinator for the last five years and the scouting coordinator during all eight years at Davidson.

team's starting five. She led DC in minutes, steals and assists, and was one of only two players to start all 22 games.

Roos was a standout in field hockey during her undergraduate years. She was a four-year letterwinner and a three-time MVP for Davidson. Roos led the 'Cats to a 50-15-6 record in her four seasons, and helped the squad to three consecutive Deep South Association championships.

Roos served as a captain for both the field hockey and basketball teams as a senior. She also lettered in lacrosse at Davidson.

Roos graduated from Davidson in 1993, with a B.A. in history, upon which she began her coaching career at the school.

"Jennifer has helped a young program blossom into a solid defensive team," said Miller. "Overall, she is considered one of the best assistant coaches in the profession."

In January of 2006, Roos was inducted into the Davidson Athletics Hall of Fame.

Brandi POOLE

NOTES ON POOLE:

- Enters the 2008-09 season with a 150-68 overall record in seven seasons with the Orange and Brown. Poole has helped BGSU to four consecutive MAC regular season championships and three MAC tournament championships.
- As the primary post player coach, four of Poole's forwards/centers have earned All-MAC Tournament honors dating to 2003-04.
- Poole brings not only college playing experience to the Falcons, but also WNBA/ABL and collegiate coaching experiences. As a player, her 1,088 points rank 10th all-time and her 821 rebounds remain as the third best effort.
- In April, Poole completed her first half-marathon in Nashville.

To say assistant coach Brandi Poole has helped the Bowling Green State University Falcons re-emerge as a Mid-American force is an understatement. Since joining head coach Curt Miller's staff in July of 2001 the Orange and Brown has painted the history books at the program, conference and national levels.

As the primary post player coach, Poole has coached not only the Conference Player of the Year in 2007 (Ali Mann), but also the Sixth Man of the Year (Amber Flynn) that same season. Most recently, starting post Tara Breske concluded the 2007-08 season with a team leading .517 field goal percentage. Her accuracy was the third best not only among her position group, but the third highest in the league. Breske's precision shooting ranked as the highest among all sophomores in the MAC. In MAC only play, Breske's .540 percentage was a top five effort. Her inclusion on the 2008 All-MAC Tournament team marked Poole's fourth starting post to win the honor dating back to the 2003-04 season.

"Brandi is an excellent assistant coach," said head coach Curt Miller. "In nearly two decades of coaching, I have not worked with a more efficient coach than Brandi."

Poole is also responsible for the daily operations of the team as well as the coordinator of team travel. Other duties include overseeing all aspects of the team's summer camps.

In the last four seasons alone she has helped the Falcons to as many Mid-American Conference regular-season titles becoming the first women's basketball team to accomplish the four-peat. Mix in the Falcons' three MAC Tournament Championships, an additional trio of visits to the NCAA Tournament and a bid to the post season WNIT and it is apparent she along side Miller and the staff have found a recipe for success.

Record-breaking success, to be exact.

On Feb. 23, 2008 in an 81-66 come-from-behind decision at Miami's Millett Hall, the Falcons won their 145th game during the Miller-era to become the most dominate staff in the programs' history. By the end of the season, Poole, Miller and associate head coach Jennifer Roos would accumulate a 150-68 record in seven seasons together. With the inclusion of assistant coach Kevin Eckert, who joined the program in 2002, the staff is 141-49. The group also has become one of the longest tenured staffs in the conference.

That record breaking success also includes the epic 2006-07 season, which saw the Falcons reach heights never before achieved by a MAC team. The Falcons went 31-4 overall and 15-1 in MAC regular-season action, winning the league's seasonal and tourney titles before winning a pair of NCAA Tournament games to advance to the round of 16.

BGSU was listed in the national rankings in both the Associated Press and USA Today/ESPN Coaches poll for nearly the entire season, reaching a school- and league-best ranking of 15th in the final AP listing.

The 2005-06 team set records for wins (since broken) by going 28-3 overall. The Falcons posted a perfect 16-0 league record, and added three more wins in the conference tournament. BGSU has an overall record of 124-60 and a MAC ledger of 66-30 in the last six years. Over the last four seasons, the Falcons are 103-25 overall and 55-9 in MAC regular-season play.

In 2004-05, the staff guided the Falcons, picked to finish third in the West Division, to the league's best overall record, a MAC regular-season championship and the top seed for the Kraft MAC Tournament. In the league tourney in Cleveland, the Brown and Orange downed Poole brought a wealth of experience, from both the collegiate and professional ranks, to the BGSU staff. A native of Clarksville, Tenn., she joined the Brown and Orange after spending the 2000-01 season as an assistant coach at West Virginia University.

Prior to her stint in Morgantown, Poole served as the director of basketball operations for the Portland Fire of the WNBA. She also coached at the Fire's 2000 Tryout Camp along with assisting in practice and game coaching strategies and decisions. Her résumé also includes 16 months as an assistant coach at West Virginia Wesleyan College.

Poole also worked with the Colorado Xplosion of the now-defunct ABL, serving as both a season ticket account executive and the team's director of group sales.

Poole is a 1997 graduate of the University of the South in Sewanee, Tenn., where she earned a B.S. in mathematics. Poole received a Master's degree in business administration from West Virginia Wesleyan in 2000.

On the court, Poole was a three-time all-conference performer and three-year co-captain at the University of the South. She ranks tenth on the school's scoring list (1,088 pts.) and third on the rebounding chart (821).

"Brandi plays a huge role in the success of our recruiting, with her ability to relate to the young student-athletes," said Miller. "Overall, Brandi has impacted the Falcon program, and is a major reason for the continued growth and increased success of our program."

Kevin ECKERT

NOTES ON ECKERT:

- Enters the 2008-09 season with a 141-49 overall record in six seasons with the Orange and Brown. Eckert has helped BGSU to four consecutive MAC regular season championships and three MAC tournament championships.
- Graduated Summa Cum Laude from Ohio University
- The Falcons are undefeated on Eckert's date of birth posting a 3-0 record with a 79-70 win over the Hampton Lady Pirates in 2007-08.

With the completion of the 2007-08 season, assistant coach Kevin Eckert and the Bowling Green State University staff have etched their names as the most successful coaching staff in program history.

En route to completing their fifth consecutive 20-plus win season, the latest Falcon squad amassed a 26-8 overall record while becoming the first to complete a four-peat as the regular season champions. Not a bad track record for the current scouting coordinator.

Eckert, a six-season veteran of the program who also works with the Falcons' wing players, saw starting guards Lindsey Goldsberry and Lauren Prochaska rank in the top ten in conference three point field goal percentage standings. The pair also found homes in the top 11 in the three point field goals made category during the 2007-08 season. Shooting guard Whitney Taylor would also lead the league in conference-only percentage after setting the school record for trey's made in a solo outing in that same season.

"Kevin is a veteran assistant that brings never-ending enthusiasm to the program," said head coach Curt Miller. "He has impacted the program with his work ethic and ability to motivate and challenge the players."

In the last four seasons alone he has helped the Falcons to as many Mid-American Conference regular-season titles becoming the first women's basketball team to accomplish the four-peat. Mix in the Falcons' three MAC Tournament Championships, an additional trio of visits to the NCAA Tournament and a bid to the post season WNIT and it is apparent he, along side Miller and the staff, has found a recipe for success.

By the end of the season, Eckert and the Falcons' staff would go down in history as the winningest coaches in BG women's basketball lore. Though he joined the staff one year into their stint, Eckert was on hand for 141 of the Falcons' 150 total wins. With Eckert on the bench, BGSU is 141-49 all-time.

Together, Miller, Eckert and the staff have become one of the longest tenured groups in the conference.

That record breaking success also includes the epic 2006-07 season, which saw the Falcons reach heights never before achieved by a MAC team. The Falcons went 31-4 overall and 15-1 in MAC regular-season action, winning the league's seasonal and tourney titles before winning a pair of NCAA Tournament games to advance to the round of 16.

in over a decade, that edition of the Falcons -- in BGSU's first season in the MAC's West Division -- amassed a 5-11 league ledger that included a win over the division's co-champion.

Upon his arrival in Bowling Green, Eckert was certainly no stranger to the MAC or to the state of Ohio. A native of Berea, Ohio, he spent six years on MAC coaching staffs prior to joining the Falcons.

Eckert came to the BGSU program after spending four seasons on Cheryl Dozier's staff at the University at Buffalo. While with the Bulls, Eckert worked primarily with developing UB's post players, and also served as that staff's recruiting coordinator.

Eckert's tenure at UB coincided with the Bulls' first four seasons as a MAC member. The team posted a 61-51 overall record during that time, going 18-11 in 1999-2000 and 19-9 the following year. In that 2000-01 campaign, the Bulls went 10-6 in MAC play to tie for second in the East Division.

Prior to heading to UB, Eckert served as a graduate assistant for two seasons on the men's basketball staff at Ohio University. While with the Bobcats, Eckert's responsibilities included on-campus and phone recruiting, scouting, film exchange, summer camps, strength training and conditioning, on-the-floor teaching and player academics. While an undergraduate at Ohio, Eckert served as a varsity assistant and the junior high head coach for the boys' basketball teams at Federal Hocking High School. Both teams won the Tri-Valley Conference championship, and Eckert received an award for outstanding ethics and sportsmanship in coaching.

A Summa Cum Laude graduate of Ohio, he received his bachelor's degree in physical education with an emphasis in sports science and coaching philosophy in 1996. He earned a master's degree in athletic administration in 1998.

"Kevin is an excellent recruiter, and continues to raise the level of player looking at and committing to BGSU," said Miller. "He believes in the vision of the program, and came to BG to help restore the outstanding tradition of success.

"I look forward to working with Kevin for years to come."

Monique ROSATI

NOTES ON ROSATI:

- Enters the 2008-09 season with a 26-8 overall record after her first season with the Orange and Brown. In that same season BGSU won their fourth consecutive MAC regular season championship.
- Upon her appointment as the Director of Basketball Operations in August, 2007, Rosati became the program's first ever D.O.B.O. Within the role, Rosati is responsible for multiple obligations during the Falcons' many road trips. She also handles all video exchange duties.
- In the mid-1990's, Rosati served as an undergraduate student-manager for the women's basketball team under Miller during his assistant coaching years at Syracuse.
- Rosati also handles administrative and historian tasks for the Donovan McNabb Foundations as well as McNabb Unlimited.

Following a 2007-08 regular season MAC championship finish, Monique Rosati enters her second season with the Bowling Green State University women's basketball program as the Director of Basketball Operations.

Rosati, whose duties include assisting the coaching staff with film exchange, team travel, academic coordination and daily operations duties within the Falcons' basketball office, saw the program record a 26-8 overall ledger. She was appointed to the position in August of 2007.

Rosati and head coach Curt Miller first worked together at Syracuse University, where she served as a student manager for the women's basketball team (1994-2001). Miller was an assistant coach at Syracuse during the 1994-98 seasons. Rosati was named the head manager in 1996 and was responsible for tasks pertaining to statistics, video coordination, and public appearances while working towards the completion of a dual undergraduate program in International Relations and Spanish. Rosati continued her tenure with the Orange's staff as she pursued a master's degree from the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs.

Her ties to Bowling Green basketball also include a link to current Falcons' head men's basketball coach Louis Orr who was an assistant with the Syracuse men's team from 1996-2000.

The Brooklyn, N.Y. native also serves as the historian and administrative assistant for McNabb Unlimited where she digitally archives all media coverage for fellow Syracuse graduate Donovan McNabb. Her efforts also extend to The Donovan McNabb Foundation, which creates awareness and raises money to fight diabetes.

Rosati's husband, Clayton, a fellow Syracuse alum, is assistant professor in BGSU's School of Communication Studies.

Rick Court
Strength and Conditioning • Sixth Season

Rick Court enters his sixth season with the Bowling Green State University Strength and Conditioning staff. Most recently he was promoted to head strength and conditioning coach.

Since joining Director Aaron Hillmann's staff in 2003, Court has worked in various capacities with each of the Falcons' 18 varsity sports.

After earning a bachelor's degree in Kinesiology from Michigan State in 2002, Court obtained his master's in Sports Administration from Eastern Kentucky University one year later. In that one year at EKU, Court served as an assistant baseball coach.

Sheri Quiroga
Administrative Assistant • 11th Season

Sheri Quiroga is in her 11th season in the athletic department, as an administrative assistant. In that role, she aids the men's and women's basketball teams as well as the volleyball team in their day-to-day duties.

Quiroga and her husband, Jesse, reside in Deshler with their three daughters, Devan, Kendyll and Regan.

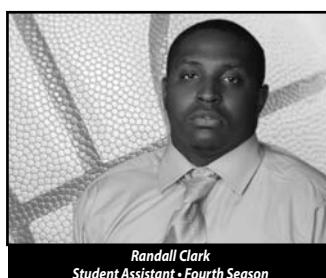

Jessie Bullis
Graduate Assistant Athletic Trainer • First Season

Graduate Assistant Jessica Bullis will begin her first season with the BGSU women's basketball team. Currently the Madison, Wisconsin native is working toward her master's degree in Kinesiology at the University. As a graduate assistant, Bullis works primarily with the women's basketball squad as well as the volleyball team. She also has responsibilities surrounding football.

As an undergraduate at University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire, Bullis worked with the football, women's basketball and softball teams, while earning her Bachelor of Science with an emphasis in Athletic Training.

Graduate Assistant Athletic Trainer Jessie Bullis stretches out Niki McCoy before practice.

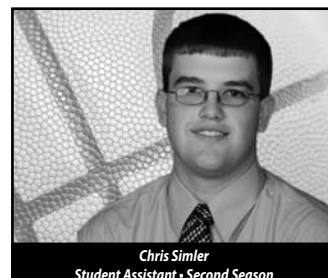

Randall Clark
Student Assistant • Fourth Season

Randall Clark enters his fourth and final undergraduate season with the Falcons. As a student assistant Clark's primary responsibility off the court is to break down game film for head coach Curt Miller and his staff. At practice, he supports assistant coach Brandi Poole in post player development; his duties also extend to live competitions where he charts Offensive and Defensive efficiency in-game for the staff.

Clark, an avid student of the game, has also worked with various AAU basketball programs such as the Dayton Nets (Boys 13U) and the Dayton All-Stars (Boys 14U) where he was an assistant coach. Upon graduation he would like to start his own AAU program for boys ages 12-15 and has already begun the process to make Gem City Elite more than a dream.

A native of Dayton, Ohio, Clark is a 2004 graduate of Chaminade-Julienne high school where he was a classmate of current Falcon Lindsey Goldsberry. Clark, a Sport Management major, plans to graduate in August, 2009, with a Bachelor of Science in Education.

Chris Simler
Student Assistant • Second Season

Chris Simler enters his second season with the Falcons. As a student assistant Simler's primary responsibilities surround the video taping of live game action. He is also present at all practices to help the coaching staff as needed.

Away from the Falcons, Simler has served as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Bowling Green High School for two seasons.

A native of Bowling Green, Ohio, Simler was a member of the BGHS graduating class of 2007. At the university, he is working toward a degree in Adolescent/Young Adult Mathematics. He is expected to complete his program in 2011.

NOTES ON GOLDSBERRY:

- Enters the 2008-09 season with an 85-15 overall record in three seasons with the Orange and Brown; Goldsberry has helped BGSU to three consecutive MAC regular season championships and two MAC tournament championships.
- Goldsberry will serve as the lone true senior on the 2008-09 BGSU women's basketball roster and will take on captain's duties for the second consecutive season.
- Goldsberry, who entered the starting line-up in 2007-08, has played in 67 consecutive games dating back to her sophomore season.
- In 2007, both Goldsberry and her brother John, competed in the NCAA tournament under their respective universities; one year later, the Falcons would host Dayton in the first round of the WNIT tournament pitting the then-junior vs. her father, Frank, the UD Dir. of Basketball Operations.

In her words ...

I am proud to wear Orange and Brown because I am representing Bowling Green. The women's basketball tradition here at BGSU is tremendous and I am thankful that I have had the chance to build upon it.

What has been the most memorable trip you have taken with team?

Cancun my sophomore year because I was able to have ice cream all day long!

What will take to win a fifth MAC regular season championship?

110% effort on and off court all year long.

When I am old and gray, the story I will tell time and again about my days at BGSU will be the night we beat Vanderbilt at Michigan State to go to the Sweet Sixteen. The celebration in the Michigan State locker room is a memory that will stick with me for the rest of my life. The feelings and emotion of that night are indescribable and one of the best of my life.

In her words ...

I choose BGSU because they were a successful program with a reputation for great coaching.

I am proud to wear Orange and Brown because at BG I have been given the opportunity to finish my career in an environment where I can grow both as a person and a basketball player; Coach Miller was willing to take a chance on a senior transfer with only one year to play.

How does the greater Falcon support staff contribute to your success as a student-athlete?

There are so many people who work behind the scenes to create a successful basketball program. The contributions of a support staff consisting of trainers, strength and conditioning coaches, and academic services personnel is essential. They help you get stronger, stay healthy, and keep your life organized. Additionally, they give you the tools to flourish on the floor and in the classroom.

THE FALCONS

In her words ...

I am proud to wear Orange and Brown because there have been so many great players in this program before me that have had tremendous success with these colors.

How does the greater Falcon support staff contribute to your success as a student-athlete?
Everyone is very supportive, and being in such a positive environment really helps us to stay focused.

What will it take to win a fifth MAC regular season championship?
Everyone being dedicated and focused...and our sixth man (the fans).

Tara BRESKE

NOTES ON BRESKE:

- Enters the 2008-09 season with an 57-12 overall record in two seasons with the Orange and Brown; Breske has helped BGSU to two consecutive MAC regular season championships and one MAC tournament championships.
- Then a sophomore, Breske entered the starting line-up versus #13 Notre Dame on Dec. 5, 2008 and would contribute a pair of late blocks to not only send the match into one overtime, but a pair of OT's before the Falcons lost by a field goal in Anderson Arena.
- As a sophomore, Breske led the Falcons in shooting percentage with a .517 accuracy rating. In fact, of the 19 games in which she shot at .500 from the field or better, BGSU was 18-1. Additionally, over a two week span in late December/early January, Breske shot at or above .600 from the floor – the Falcons were undefeated in that timeframe.
- Standing at 5-11, Breske has a vertical jump of 27.5", when taking a step prior to her jump, Breske can clear 30".

2007-08: Played in 33-of-34 games while earning 28 starts at forward ... averaged 10.9 ppg and nearly double-figures through the MAC season ... averaged 5.5 rpg, but accumulated three double-doubles ... connected on a team high 51.7 percent of her shots from the field ... was 63.3% from the FT line ... earned first MAC Player of the Week nod on Feb. 11 ... was the Falcons' sixth man for the first five games of the season ... saw her breakout game vs. Florida Gulf Coast (Nov. 30) at the Cornell Classis going 8-12 from the field en route to scoring 16 points and pulling down three boards ... at the time the 16 points were a career high ... two games later, Breske found herself in the starting line-up as the Falcons' took nationally ranked Notre Dame (Dec. 5) to OT in Anderson Arena ... Breske would go off for 10 points, seven rebounds, two assists and two blocks in that game ... not only hit a jumper to tie the game at 66 all prior to a media timeout, but also blocked Charel Allen's shot and came up with the defensive rebound to send the game into OT ... recorded first collegiate double-double at Mount St. Mary's (Dec. 19) scoring 12 points and grabbing 11 rebounds as BGSU won the non-conference road contest ... followed that road performance with 21 points and seven defensive rebounds at Delaware (Dec. 21) ... went 11-17 at the Iowa State Cyclone Shootout (Dec. 28-30) while averaging 8.7 ppg through the three game tournament ... averaged 3.3 rebounds while in the post-Christmas Mid-West tournament ... began the new year with a 20 point outing to close the non-conference season with a win over Chicago State (Jan. 5) ... began MAC play with a pair of 12 point nights while nearly double-doubling versus (12pts. - 9rebs.) in a win over Ohio (Jan. 12) ... was 7-10 from the floor at Buffalo (Jan. 19) scoring 17 pts - at the time a MAC career-high ... after three game with less than 10 points and combined 16 boards, Breske contributed a steal, and three rebounds at rival Toledo (Feb. 2) ... followed that performance with almost two more double-doubles bringing in nine boards versus Northern Illinois (Feb. 9) and at Central Michigan (Feb. 13), she scored a career high 23 points and another 10 points in those respective games ... Breske also had a block and a steal at CMU ... through the second cycle of the MAC East, averaged 12.75 points and 6.25 rebounds ... highlight of that second cycle was a 17 point/13 rebound night as BGSU came from behind to beat the Ohio Bobcats (Feb. 27) ... contributed 20 points and eight rebounds as the Falcons closed the season at Akron ... was 7-12 from the field that night ... double-doubled scoring a team high 16 points while securing another team high in 11 rebounds as BGSU beat Kent State in the quarterfinal round of the MAC Tournament ... had a career high four steals and three blocks in that game ... had a team high nine rebounds in a double overtime semifinal loss to Ohio in the MAC Tournament ... went 7-15 from the field and recorded a block and an assist in 44 minutes played ... converted a shot inside the three-point line just before the half to send BGSU in to the first intermission trailing the 'Cats by only five points ... that shot capped an 8-0 scoring run over Ohio in which Breske was responsible for the latter four ... finished the MAC Tournament with a spot on the All-Tournament team ... Breske led BGSU in scoring and rebounding averaging a double-double with 15 points and 11 rebounds ... for the tournament, Breske was 13-of-29 from the floor and 4-of-4 from the free throw line ... she also went on to tally three assists and four steals as the Orange and Brown went 1-1 in post season MAC play ... recorded her fourth consecutive game with a block (2) as the Falcons beat Dayton in the first round of the WNIT ... was 3-of-5 that game in the first and 3-of-4 from the FT line en route to her nine point game ... had an additional three rebounds and three steals ... snatched four defensive rebounds while contributing a block and a steal in the second round of the WNIT ... in that loss at Michigan State (Mar. 22), Breske contributed six points and was 2-of-3 from the line.

2006-07: Played in 23 games off the bench ... averaged 1.4 points, 1.0 rebounds and 0.2 blocked shots per game ... shot 47.4% from the field, going 9-for-19, and was 14-for-19 (73.7%) from the free-throw line ... averaged 2.1 points and 1.2 boards in MAC games, shooting 66.7% (6-of-9) from the floor ... all five of her blocked shots on the season came in MAC action ... led the Falcons with 1.8 blocks per 40 minutes ... had a season-high three rebounds vs. Albany ... picked up her first collegiate point with a free throw in the Fairleigh Dickinson game ... four points in seven minutes vs.

How does the greater Falcon support staff contribute to your success as a student-athlete?

The Falcon support staff has contributed to my success as a student-athlete by first recognizing that I am a student. The academic services are there for help with tutoring and other services that keep me on track in the classroom. The trainers are very important as they treat all of my injuries and get me back on the court as soon as possible. The strength and conditioning coaches have pushed me day in and day out to become the "physical specimen" that everyone THINKS I am ... and only being 5'11 going up against the "big tree", I need all the help I can get!

What has been the most UN4GETTABLE experience as a Falcon?

consecutive sectional titles ... had over 1,000 career kills, and twice earned all-county honors.

PERSONAL: Laura Michelle Bugher was born June 4, 1987, in Beach Grove, Ind. ... early childhood education major with a perfect 4.00 cumulative GPA through her first two years at BGSU ... daughter of Gary and Linda Bugher ... has a younger brother ... her mother's cousin is Jody (Beerman) Kelly, who played basketball at Central Michigan ... has played AAU ball for Indiana's Finest ... that team advanced to the national Final Four on four occasions.

In her words ...

I am proud to wear Orange and Brown because BGSU women's basketball has great tradition and I am proud to be a part of that; it is not something I take for granted.

In preparation for a game, I look over the scouting report again and listen to music.

What has been the most memorable trip you have taken with the team?

I would have to say the most memorable trip was the Cancun, Mexico trip we took my freshman year over Christmas break. Nothing can beat sun, fun and basketball! Not to mention almost upsetting #1 Duke and playing all of our games in a ballroom.

Anderson Arena is call "The House That Roars" because we have the best crowds that make the most noise! Other teams don't like coming to our house. It is an awesome atmosphere!

In her words ...

Anderson Arena is called "The House That Roars" because it is the best place to play! It gets very loud and the fans are amazing!

I chose BGSU because it was a pretty campus with amazing coaches and players. We also have a great Sport Management program.

What has been the most memorable trip you have taken with the team?
Sweet Sixteen!!

When I am old and gray, the story I will tell time and again about my days at BGSU will be every scenario I can think of is hilarious! I will have too many memories to pick just one.

In her words ...

I chose BGSU because of the welcoming and successful attitude I sensed from the whole BGSU community; especially my teammates.

What will it take to win a fifth MAC regular season championship?

Working hard enough to deserve it and believing we can do it.

In preparation for a game, I listen to music.

I am proud to wear Orange and Brown because it represents our team!

Chelsea ALBERT

NOTES ON ALBERT:

- Enters the 2008-09 season with an 26-8 overall record in one season with the Orange and Brown; Albert has helped BGSU to one MAC regular season championship and is a member of the fourth consecutive class to win a MAC Championship in their first season at BGSU.
- In 22 minutes played at Miami in late January, Albert contributed a season- and career-high nine points and seven rebounds as BGSU took a come-from-behind win over the RedHawks
- Albert is one of four second-generation collegiate athletes on the Falcons' roster; in addition to Albert, Tara Breske, Niki McCoy and Tracy Pontius' fathers were each previously student-athletes.

2007-08: Played in all 34 games averaging 2.2 ppg and 1.6 rpg ... started the first six games of her career at Bowling Green ... picked-up three points and a defensive rebound in her first collegiate contest against Valparaiso (Nov. 9) ... at Lipscomb (Nov. 11) went 2-of-6 from the floor and a perfect 4-of-4 from the free throw line scoring eight points in 31 minutes ... combined a pair of offensive and defensive rebounds to tally four boards while contributing three steals and an assist ... continued to reign over the rim recording three and six rebounds over the next two games ... set a then career high in the rebounding column at Indiana (Dec. 12) with four defensive boards ... also had six points in that loss ... averaged a bucket and just over a rebound at the Iowa State Cyclone Shootout (Dec. 28-30) ... on the final day of the Shootout, had a pair of assists ... began the new year with a pair of field goals, an assists, a block and two defensive rebounds as BGSU beat Chicago State (Jan. 5) at home ... was 1-of-1 from the floor and picked-up a steal as the Falcons beat the Ohio Bobcats (Jan. 12) ... would continue with that perfect streak over the next two MAC games going 1-of-1 and 2-of-2 on the road at Kent State (Jan. 16) and at Buffalo (Jan. 19) ... was also a solid 2-of-2 from the line at Buffalo while dishing one assist ... at Ball State (Jan. 26) nabbed another four rebounds in 13 minutes of play ... contributed four points, a rebound, a block and a steal in Anderson Arena in a loss to Western Michigan (Jan. 30) ... made a habit of blocking shots as she rejected one in the following two games ... versus Kent State (Jan 20) scored a pair of points, grabbed three rebounds, and both blocked a shot and gained a steal in 12 minutes of play ... set a career high in points going 4-of-5 from the floor and 1-of-3 from the line for 9 points while also solidifying a career high seven rebounds (six at the offensive end) as BGSU beat Miami (Feb. 23) on the road in an important contest to take over first place in the MAC East ... Albert also had a block and a steal in that win ... pulled down three rebounds over the next two games before sinking a pair of free throws at Akron ... pulled down a defensive rebound in the MAC Tournament quarterfinal versus Kent State ... scored a pair of buckets going 2-of-2 from the floor in a first round WNIT win over Dayton ... also recorded two steals and an offensive rebound in that outing ... recorded a steal at Michigan State (Mar. 22) in the second round of the WNIT.

HIGH SCHOOL: A four-year letterwinner for Jason Peipno at Brighton High School ... finished sixth in the Miss Michigan Basketball race ... voted team MVP from 2004-2006 ... holds the Bulldogs records in blocks and rebounds as well as a member of the 1000 point club ... named to the Associated Press All-State and Kensington Valley Conference first-teams ... a captain in 2007 ... helped Brighton High School to four straight league championships as well as appearances in the district tournament ... reached the regional tournament in 2004 and from 2005-2006 ... advanced to the elite eight as both a freshman and a senior ... the class council secretary.

PERSONAL: Chelsea Lynn Albert was born February 4, 1989, in Lansing, Mich. ... tourism/event planning major with a 3.00 cumulative GPA at BGSU ... daughter of Bill and Kelly Albert ... second oldest of four children ... has one older sister and one younger sister as well as a younger brother ... father played basketball and football at Adrian College.

THE FALCONS

In her words ...

Anderson Arena is called "The House That Roars" because our fans literally 'make it roar'. We draw a great fan base that show incredible excitement and spirit!

What has been the most memorable trip you have taken with the team?

My most memorable trip would be the MAC Tournament my freshman year.

In preparation for a game, I try to get a nap in then before leaving for the gym then I play my "PUMP UP" playlist on my iPod.

I am proud to wear Orange and Brown because it shows my spirit not only for the basketball program, but also for BGSU.

Tracy PONTIUS

NOTES ON PONTIUS:

- Enters the 2008-09 season with an 26-8 overall record in one season with the Orange and Brown; Pontius has helped BGSU to one MAC regular season championship and is a member of the fourth consecutive class to win a MAC Championship in their first season at BGSU.
- Pontius sank at least one three in each of her first three games at Anderson Arena as a Falcon rookie in 2007-08. Keeping that sharp shooting later in the season, Pontius would hit a key trey to push BGSU ahead of the Ohio Bobcats 13 points in the second half of that MAC road game.
- Along side fellow freshman Lauren Prochaska, Pontius saw her first double-digit scoring game in her Orange and Brown debut on Nov. 9. The tandem are the first freshmen to accomplish the scoring feat since Megan Thorburn's 22 point tally vs. Youngstown State.

2007-08: Saw action in all 34 games as the reserve point guard ... averaged 2.8 ppg and 1.1 rpg in 9.1 mpg ... began collegiate career scoring 10 points including twin three point field goals over Valparaiso (Nov. 11) ... also had a steal and a rebound on opening night ... averaged just under five points over the next four games before sinking nine on the nationally ranked Notre Dame Fighting Irish (Dec. 5) ... laid in another two treys and three additional free throws while grabbing a defensive rebound in 12 minutes played ... the point guard snatched up a career high five rebounds at Mount St. Mary's (Dec. 19) and sank another three pointer in the BG win ... in 13 minutes played versus Hampton (Dec. 29), contributed six points with three coming behind the arc ... in her first MAC game, Pontius scored four of her seven points from the free throw line and the remaining three behind the arc while nabbing two rebounds against Akron (Jan. 9) ... tossed in another four points in a win over Ohio (Jan. 12) ... to close the month of January, averaged nearly two rebounds per game and a pair of points ... picked up a steal in two of those games (Buffalo, Jan. 19 and Miami, Jan. 22) ... at rival Toledo (Feb. 2) contributed three points and two rebounds in five minutes of relief ... was 2-of-2 from the free throw line at Central Michigan (Feb. 13) and at Miami (Feb. 23) ... three points at Ohio (Feb. 27) came at the right time moving the Falcons ahead 13 on the hosts in the second half of play ... recorded another rebound versus Buffalo (Mar. 1) ... scored three points from the free throw line in the MAC Tournament quarterfinal versus Kent State ... also finished the night with a steal and an assist ... contributed 15 minutes of relief including the entire second overtime period as the Falcons dropped a double overtime semifinal decision to Ohio in the MAC Tournament ... as Kate Achter was sent to the bench with her fourth foul, Pontius would key a 7-0 BG run, having a hand in all seven points ... Pontius drilled a three-point field goal with 12:44 left, tying the score at 38-38, then hit a lay-up 48 seconds later to give the Falcons the lead ... midway through the second half, Pontius made a behind-the-back dribble to evade an Ohio defender and create a 2-on-1 opportunity, and she then dished the ball to Lauren Prochaska for an 'and-one' lay-up ... Prochaska's free throw was good, and the Falcons held a 43-38 advantage ... helped to send the Falcons to a second OT hitting the back-end of a free throw situation and later hit the first jumper of the second OT ... notched a rebound, steal and an assist in five minutes of play in the Falcons' first ever WNIT win ... in final game of the season, a second round WNIT loss at Michigan State (Mar. 22), she contributed two assists in three minutes of action.

HIGH SCHOOL: A four-year letterwinner for coach Bob Becker at Morton High School ... averaged 18 or more points in her sophomore through senior seasons ... contributed 3.9 rebounds a game as a senior captain en route to finishing third in the Miss Basketball of Illinois race with 125 points ... earned multiple distinctions from Street and Smith Magazine (Midwest Region honorable mention - 2005 and special mention - 2006), the Associated Press (All-State honorable mention - 2005 and first-team - 2006), the Illinois Basketball Coaches Association (All-State fourth-team - 2004, third-team - 2005 and first-team - 2006) and the Campaign News Gazette (All-State special mention - 2004-2005 and second-team - 2006) ... twice named Pekin Daily Times Player of the Year (2004 and 2006) ... elected to the Chicago Sun Times first-team in 2007 and the Chicago Tribune and Champaign New Gazette second-teams ... a three-time Mid Illini conference first-team choice ... Quincy Tournament MVP as well as a State Farm Classic all-tournament team member

In her words ...

How does the greater Falcon support staff contribute to your success as a student-athlete?

The Falcon support staff contributes to my success as an athlete by preparing me to be mentally and physically tough enough to succeed in any situation in practice, during games, and also in the classroom.

I am proud to wear Orange and Brown because they are the best colors ever and we are representing BGSU.

In preparation for a game, I sleep, sleep, and then sleep some more!

What has been the most UN4GETTABLE experience as a Falcon?

My most unforgettable experiences are all the time we spend together as a team in the locker room, on bus trips, in practice, during games, and outside of basketball. We have some unforgettable stories and memories from all of it.

NOTES ON UHL:

- Enters the 2008-09 season with an 26-8 overall record in one season with the Orange and Brown; Uhl has helped BGSU to one MAC regular season championship and is a member of the fourth consecutive class to win a MAC Championship in their first season at BGSU.
- Averaged 11.6 ppg in the month of February contributing 10 or more points in five of the Falcons seven contests including a career-high 22 points in a home win over Kent State. As the Falcons moved toward completing the MAC season, Uhl helped the team post a perfect 7-0 record in February.
- Knocked down one of her 14 career three pointers in the closing minutes of the season finale at Michigan State to give the Falcons the tempo and to bring the visitors within four points of the eventual WNIT runners-up.

UHL AND THE RECORD BOOKS

- Freshmen Scoring - 12th (226)

2007-08: As the first reserve off the bench, Uhl played in all 34 games while averaging 16.5 minutes on the floor ... led the BG bench seeing 6.6 ppg and 3.9 rpg ... began the season scoring seven points going 1-of-1 from the three point line and 4-of-4 from the free throw line ... also picked up two rebounds and a steal in the Falcons' win over Valparaiso (Nov. 9) ... matched her four points at Lipscomb (Nov. 15) with four rebounds before going off for a then career high 17 points at Belmont (Nov. 18) ... nearly double-doubled that game with eight rebounds ... would averaged two points and a little under two boards over the next four games before contributing 11 points, three assists and five rebounds in a loss at Indiana (Dec. 16) ... continued to contribute from the bench averaging 3.8 ppg in the next five games ... book ended that span pulling down six rebounds while averaging a total of four boards each night ... closed the non-conference season recording 13 points over Chicago State (Jan. 5) including a 5-of-5 outing from the FT line ... through MAC East play, sank 13 point while pulling in 15 boards and dishing eight assists ... hit a pair of three's en route to a 14 point/five rebound night as BGSU fell to Western Michigan (Jan. 30) ... as the Falcons turned their three game losing streak upside down Uhl became the 'spark plug' of sorts from the bench ... in six games she averaged 13.5 points and was outscoring four of the Falcons' starters ... she also ranked third in rebounding with an average of 5.3 ... after going 2-of-3 from the field at Toledo (Feb. 2), she posted 13 points over NIU while contributing three assists and two steals ... first her assist on Lindsey Goldsberry's three pointer helped the Falcons take what would become permanent control over the score board ... later as the BGSU rookies recorded a 14-8 run on the Huskies, Uhl would be responsible for the latter seven points in that run ... at Central Michigan (Feb. 13) she went a perfect 8-of-8 from the free throw line while sinking five from the field ... she finished with a then career high 18 points ... she also pulled in six rebounds ... versus Eastern Michigan (Feb. 16) she led all Falcons with five FG's ... she also posted her third consecutive game scoring in double-figures ... in their second outing versus Kent State (Feb. 20), Uhl contributed a game and career high 22 points and 12 at Miami (Feb. 23) ... over the six game span she was shooting .564 from the field and 77.8 percent from the line ... she averaged a steal in each of those games ... went on to finish the regular season with a steal in each of her last three games as well as an average of three rebounds ... went 6-of-9 from the field tallying 15 points and six rebounds in the quarterfinal round of the MAC Tournament ... blocked an Ohio shot attempt with less than a minute remaining in the first half, as BGSU held the Bobcats scoreless for 6:22 to end the first half ... finished the 2OT loss with six points, five boards and a steal ... scored back-to-back baskets to give BGSU its first (and last) advantage over Dayton (Mar. 20) ... the Falcons would go on to beat the Flyers for a first round win in the WNIT ... Uhl would finish the game with seven points and three rebounds while setting a career high in the blocks category (2) ... scored seven points, including a key three point field goal off Tara Breske's high ball screen to bring BGSU within four points of Michigan State (Mar. 22) in the closing minutes of the second round of the WNIT ... complemented her seven points with seven rebounds, an assist, a block and a steal in the final game of the season ... her 226 points are the 12th best scoring outing by a BGSU rookie.

HIGH SCHOOL: A four-year letterwinner for coach Andrew Booth at Wadsworth High School ... finished 2006 season shooting a 63.8 field goal percentage (155/243) and a 78.4 free throw percentage

In her words ...

What has been the most memorable trip you have taken with the team?

Our Tennessee trip last season was so much fun. We won both of our games and even got to line dance at the Wild Horse Saloon after our second victory.

What has been the most UN4GETTABLE experience as a Falcon?

I couldn't believe how much fan support BGSU truly has; they really do bleed Orange and Brown. Playing in Anderson Arena would not be the same without our die-hard fans.

What will it take to win a fifth MAC regular season championship?

We need to keep wanting to win and doing whatever it takes to win. We all need to work even harder and put in the extra time to make ourselves the best we can be.

In preparation for a game, I eat, take a nap, do my hair, and listen to music that gets me hyped and ready to play.

In her words ...

How does the greater Falcon support staff contribute to your success as a student-athlete?

The support staff are really awesome and what is so great is they are such quality people; they definitely make me a better student-athlete. They push us in the weight room, the classroom and our trainers do a great job of taking care of us. As a whole they are an instrumental part of our program's success.

What has been the most UN4GETTABLE experience as a Falcon?

Beating Miami and Ohio on their home courts to clinch the regular season MAC championship was unforgettable. I'll never forget celebrating in the lockerroom afterwards - everyone was screaming and hugging each other. It was so much fun and absolutely amazing!

I am proud to wear Orange and Brown because it makes for a really cute outfit - And, of course, it is a symbol of the tradition that Bowling Green has established. I am really proud to be a part of the Falcon Family.

In her words ...

I chose BGSU because of the team and family atmosphere. I love the campus and having the opportunity to compete in the MAC.

What was the most memorable event of your first summer in Bowling Green?

My most memorable event would have to be Junkyard Wars, with the adrenaline of waking up so early and having a great workout.

What will it take to win a fifth MAC regular season championship?

The "Drive for Five" starts with the beginning of workouts and pushes us toward competing to win another MAC championship, and I'm excited for the challenge.

I am proud to wear Orange and Brown because I am a Falcon.

In her words ...

What do you remember about the first Falcon women's basketball game you attended?

The first thing I remember is the atmosphere. At first sight, Anderson Arena didn't look like much, but the atmosphere come game time was unbelievable. The game I attended was against Notre Dame - the intensity and excitement portrayed by both players and the fans made it virtually impossible for me to wait to play there.

What has been the most memorable trip you have taken with the team?

Probably the trips to the haunted house and Sundae Station on the night of my official visit. I learned what the team was about and, as it turned out, that was the night I decided BGSU was the perfect fit.

I am proud to wear Orange and Brown because it represents a great tradition that I am honored to have the opportunity to continue.
