School Nickname

"Bronchos" was the nickname selected for Central Oklahoma in 1922 by Mrs. C.W. Wantland, wife of long-time UCO football coach C.W. Wantland. The name was chosen from a number of suggestions for the name of UCO's football team and became the nickname for all athletic teams at the school.

Mrs. Wantland was made an honorary member of the Lettermen's Club as a result of selecting the nickname, becoming the first woman admitted to that organization.

School Colors

Bronze and blue were chosen as Central Oklahoma's school colors early in the fall of 1895 by school president Edmund Dandridge Murdaugh. The first public display of the bronze and blue was in Guthrie when a student represented UCO in the first oratorical contest ever held in Oklahoma.

The Coaches

Head Coach Bob Hoffman

Bob Hoffman joined the University of Central Oklahoma as its head men's basketball coach before the 2019-20 season and now enters his second season leading the charge.

Hoffman came to UCO from Mercer, where he led the Bears of Macon, Ga. to 209 wins in his 11-year stint there. He has coached at multiple levels, winning an NAIA national championship as a women's head coach, winning nearly 250 games as an NAIA men's head coach, assisting at the Division I level, and leading teams in the ABA and the NBA's Development League.

Hoffman has over 600 career victories.

In his first trip through the calendar with the Bronchos, Hoffman led Central to an 11-18 overall record. The Bronchos did earn a spot in the MIAA Tournament and drew the eight-seed following a well-time four-game win streak to end the regular season.

Hoffman earned his first career victory against Oklahoma Christian on Nov. 12, 2019. That game came on the road in Oklahoma City. He won his first game at Hamilton Field House, in the first game he ever coached the Bronchos there, beating Midwestern State on Nov. 20, 2019.

An Oklahoma City native, Hoffman played his high school basketball at Putnam City High School in the early 1970s. He then moved on to play collegiately at Oklahoma Baptist in Shawnee, Okla., where he would spend the next four years scoring more than 1,000 points. To this day, Hoffman still ranks among the all-time scoring leaders for the Bison.

Hoffman accepted his first head coaching job at Piedmont High School and coached there from 1982-86 while simultaneously attending graduate school at Central Oklahoma, earning his master of education in 1985.

After working with OBU as an assistant coach for a couple years, he took his first head coaching position at the college level at Southern Nazarene in 1987.

At SNU, Hoffman averaged 29 wins per season, going 88-16 in a three-year stretch. He took a program that never had a winning season and won a national championship in 1989, earning Sooner Athletic Conference, District 9, and NAIA Coach of the Year honors for his efforts.

Hoffman then returned to Shawnee to become the head coach at his alma mater and would soon leave a mark on the program still remembered today.

Now a member of the OBU Athletics Hall of Fame, Hoffman led the Bison from 1990-99 and won 243 games along the way. He led OBU to the national tournament six times and had three teams win 30 or more games. The Bison finished second in the national tournament in 1993 and 1997, while finishing third in 1994. He reached the Sweet 16 in 1996 and the Elite Eight in 1999.

Hoffman was named SAC Coach of the Year in 1993, 1996, and 1997. He was the District 9 Coach of the Year again in 1993, and earned National Coach of the Year honors for the second time in his career in 1993.

He moved on from OBU in 1999 to Texas Pan American and won 68 games there over the next five seasons. He guided the program to its first winning season in over ten years, and its first tournament victory over 15 years while also helping UTPA to its first ever national ranking.

After spending a few seasons as an assistant coach at Oklahoma, and leading the American Basketball Association's Arkansas Aeros and the NBA Development League's Rio Grande Valley club, Hoffman would move to Mercer University in Georgia and again, leave his mark on a program.

Hoffman won 209 games at Mercer from 2008-19, including 119 conference games. He led the Bears to its first ever NCAA Tournament win in 2014 – a major upset of Duke in the opening round of March Madness. And he also became the first coach in NCAA history to win a tournament game in all four Division I postseason tournaments in a four-year span.

Hoffman directed Mercer to six postseason appearances over the past seven seasons. He was named Atlantic Sun Coach of the Year three times during his tenure at Mercer.

Hoffman takes over the reins of a Central Oklahoma program looking to rebound after a rare sub-500 season in 2018-19. UCO has won over 1,300 games in its illustrious history that includes 22 conference or division championships and 17 national tournament appearances.

Assistant Coaches

Daniel Wheeler

Daniel Wheeler is in his sixth year as an assistant men's basketball coach at the University of Central Oklahoma, moving from graduate assistant coach (2015-18) to assistant coach (2018-20) to his current role as lead assistant. He's helped the Bronchos to 75 wins over the past five seasons.

Wheeler helped UCO to its 23rd 20-win season in school history in 2017-18 as the Bronchos went 20-10 and advanced to the semifinals of the MIAA postseason tournament. Central had records of 16-14 and 17-12 during Wheeler's two years as graduate assistant coach.

The Bronchos have posted 11-17 and 11-18 records in each of the past two seasons.

Daniel came to the Bronchos after spending the previous two years as student assistant coach at MIAA rival Missouri Western.

Wheeler worked three years before that as student manager/assistant coach at Northern Oklahoma-Tonkawa, helping the Mavericks to a best-year 27-4 record and conference championship during his last season.

A native of Burden, Kan., Daniel was a four-year standout in football, basketball and baseball at Central High School.

Daniel is married (Paige).

Chad Johnson

Chad Johnson enters his second year with the University of Central Oklahoma men's basketball program. This will be his first season as a part-time assistant coach following a year of volunteering his services in 2019-20.

Johnson came to UCO from the Dallas Mavericks, where in 2018-19 he worked as a Player Development Intern, assisting the staff in player workouts, video breakdown, analytics, and scouting.

Originally from Edmond, Johnson graduated from Edmond Santa Fe in 2011. Was named MVP of the Jim Thorpe All-Star Game as a senior for the Wolves.

Johnson then went to Lipscomb University and played basketball there from 2011-15, twice earning All-Academic honors. He earned his bachelors degree in Journalism and New Media as well as his masters degree in Business Management while there.

Johnson worked in the banking and finance sector in the greater Nashville area for two years while coaching at Nolensville High School in 2017-18, where he served as the head freshman boys coach and varsity boys assistant coach before beginning his work with the Mavericks in 2018. Johnson continued to work for Dallas as an Independent Analytics Assistant during the 2019-20 season while additionally working as a volunteer for the Bronchos.

The Players

Season Outlook

The University of Central Oklahoma men's basketball team returns nearly its entire roster from a season ago and is looking to use that experience to climb back to its winning tradition this winter.

Now in his second season as head coach, Bob Hoffman is looking to turn his experience from year one into a successful second trip through the MIAA. Central went 11-18 last season and finished eighth in the league standings. The Bronchos did make the MIAA Tournament thanks to a well-timed four-game win streak over the final four games of the regular season.

Central Oklahoma returns 10 players from last year's squad, including three players that started at least 19 of the team's 29 games. Camryn Givens, Justin Nimmer, and Seth Hurd all started a majority of Central's contests last season.

Givens' 10.4 points per game is the most of any returner and he led the team last year with 5.6 rebounds per game. Nimmer averaged 8.5 points per game and 4.9 rebounds per game. Hurd put up 3.4 points and 2.1 rebounds as a true freshman last season.

D.J. Basey is also back for his sophomore season after posting 6.3 points per game and 3.3 rebounds per game as a true freshman last season. He also led the team with 28 blocked shots. Colt Savage also averaged 6.1 points per game. Now a junior, Savage is looking to improve on his contribution. He has 51 career made 3-pointers and is a 43.9 percent (51-for-116) career shooter from behind the arc. Carson Calavan (4.9 ppg) and Jayln Turner (3.6 ppg) both look to improve their contribution as well.

Wade and Shemar Smith are both expected to play a big role. Both are returners but sat out last season as redshirts. Wade could be the best big in the conference and is capable of putting up a double-double every night. Smith is a raw athlete with a high upside. Callen Haydon could see a lot of time. He led the country in assists last season in junior college.

Davon Richardson, Jaden Wells, Conner Calavan, and Austin Fenton are all true freshman. Richardson and Wells have seen extended time in the preseason. All four are all-state selections ready to find their roles with the Bronchos.

Here's a closer look at each class:

SENIORS

Alex Ogunseye and Isaiah Wade are the only two seniors on the roster for the Bronchos this season. Ogunseye is a fifth-year senior that has been a vital role player in practice and in games for the past four years and has also improved in each year he's been at Central. He'll look to continue that trend in his final season in Bronze & Blue. Isaiah Wade is also a fifth-year senior, though he took an unorthodox path to get here. After two years in junior college, Wade went to Washington State and played there, then he came to Central last season but sat out a redshirt year. Now he's ready to showcase his talents. Wade could be the leading scorer for the Bronchos and will definitely be a factor on the offensive end. He also should be the leading rebounder for UCO, and possibly in the MIAA and of anyone in the country. His ability to go up and get the ball is unlike anyone else he'll see on the court this season.

JUNIORS

Givens, Savage, and Haydon make up the junior class and it is full of talent. Givens earned All-MIAA Honorable Mention last season and has every argument for the fact that he should have picked up a better postseason nod than that. He's capable of leading the team in scoring every night he steps on the court and he's capable of leading the team in rebounding. His defense is a top quality as well. Savage played sparingly as a true freshman but showed his abilities in what time he got. Last season, he moved into a more noticeable role as the team's best shooter. Now he looks to find a consistency from outside and a consistency to his contribution to helping the Bronchos win some games. Haydon's ability to find the open man is his best quality but he has plenty more positives. He can penetrate any defense, pull up with a deadly mid-range jumper, and his defense is an in-your-face aggressive style that will frustrate his opponents.

SOPHOMORES

Central's sophomore class is its biggest class, though two of the five are third-year players. Justin Nimmer is one of the best players UCO will put on the floor, having an offensive attack that is hard to stop. Carson Calavan's experience in the system makes him the best point guard on the roster, but whether he or Haydon are on the floor is a sidenote to the depth Hoffman has at the position. Hurd and Basey provide the same options in the middle. Both can play well at a high level on both ends of the floor, giving Central a consistency for 40 minutes. Basey is tough on defense above the rim and Hurd is slick on defense in the paint. The duo creates a lot of problems for the opposition. Turner is the last sophomore and though he is still searching to find minutes, his ability as a well-rounded player stands out. Turner is solid on offense, can get to the basket, and can pull up and shoot. On defense, he's just as solid, staying with the assignment every time he's on the floor.

REDSHIRT FRESHMAN

Shemar Smith is the only redshirt freshman on the roster and should figure to burst onto the scene every time Hoffman gives him a shot. He's one of the most athletic players on the team and has the ability to break out on offense and can reel off highlights on any night. As he continues to learn the game, the league, and his role, he will become one of the better players in the league.

FRESHMEN

Davon Richardson is the best of the new group for the Bronchos, though there isn't much of a gap between the others. Central brought in four true freshman and all were stars in high school. Conner Calavan can shoot the ball from all over the floor and can do so in a hurry, not needing so much room to get a shot off. Fenton is strong on the inside, fights for rebounds, and can also shoot from multiple positions outside the paint. Wells, like Conner Calavan, can pull up from anywhere, but is also quick and athletic enough to take someone off the dribble. He has an unassuming ability to take over on offense and still has room to improve. Central Oklahoma also added Kobe Higgins, who sat out a redshirt season as a football player in 2019. His athletic ability at defensive back was clear then and is now translating well onto the basketball court. He will find some minutes and will infuriate opposing point guards in the MIAA with his tough and pesky style of play.

Hamilton Field House

Central Oklahoma plays its home basketball games inside Hamilton Field House, which opened its doors on Jan. 8, 1965 when the UCO men's team downed intrastate rival Northeastern State 64-52.

The Bronchos have a 459-186 (.711) home record in 56 seasons at Hamilton Field House.

Hamilton Field House was renamed from Broncho Field House on May 1, 1993 in honor of long-time UCO coach and athletic director Dale Hamilton, who helped design the building in the 1960s.

The facility underwent extensive renovation before the 2001-02 season, with new chairback seats installed around floor level. A new floor, pictured above, was installed following the 2019-20 season, the first such upgrade since the building was erected in the 1960s.

Hamilton Field House is also the home facility for the women's basketball program, as well as the volleyball and wrestling teams and numerous other events, including the university's graduation ceremonies, are also held in the building.

History

All-Conference Selections

Central Oklahoma has had 79 players earn all-conference honors a combined 126 times in the 90+ year history of the program. The Bronchos have been members of the Oklahoma Intercollegiate Conference and District Nine while in the NAIA and in the Lone Star Conference and Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association as members of NCAA Division II.

Only three players earned all-conference honors four times during their careers. Bill Ballew (1947-50), Wesley Clark (1976-79) and Sam Belt (2005-08). Each were a first-team selection three times and a second-team pick once.

Five players were three-time all-conference picks – Otis Delaporte (1937-38-39), Larry Wood (1953-54-55), Leo Holland (1956-57-58), Bryce Vann (1959-60-61) and Alfred Murrell (1965-66-67).

Edmond

Edmond is located in the heart of Oklahoma, just north of the state capital in Oklahoma City, and has a population of over 90,000 as one of the fastest growing cities in the state.

Edmond has the best of both worlds, including easy access to the city with just enough distance to maintain a close-knit community atmosphere.

The city offers outstanding hotels, nostalgic shopping areas and conveniently located attractions for your enjoyment. Known for its outstanding golf courses, Edmond has hosted some of the most exciting PGA and celebrity events in the past two decades at world-famous Oak Tree Golf Club.

Edmond is the fastest growing, most economically dynamic city in Oklahoma. Thriving technology firms, diverse retail and commercial opportunities and small corporate office headquarters have enhanced its reputation as the affluent residential suburb to the metropolitan area.

There are many more activities in Edmond, with a variety of music, art, theatre, water and sporting events that make for spectacular family fun.

Heard on Hurd is a monthly festival where Downtown Edmond is transformed into an exciting mix of food trucks, family-friendly excitement and music that has become one of the premier, socially engaging events in the area.

Edmond also boasts one of the best Fourth of July fireworks shows in the country. More than 125,000 people attend the event. LibertyFest has been previously chosen by CNN and USA Today as one of the top 10 places to be in America on July 4.

Another Edmond attraction is Lake Arcadia. Home to the Center for Outdoor Adventure Recreation, Lake Arcadia offers trails for running, hiking, and cycling, as well as 1,820 surface acres for boating, skiing, kayaking, and fishing, and 26 miles of shoreline for more fun.

Oklahoma City

The largest city in the state, Oklahoma City borders Edmond to the south and sits at the crossroads of I-35, I-40 and I-44, leaving OKC with more than 130 miles of federal and interstate highways.

More than 1.3 million people call metro Oklahoma City home.

The City, as it is commonly referred to around the state, offers numerous things to do on any given day of the week – or year for that matter. Whether it is sports, music, art, or just getting outside on a nice day, OKC offers it all.

Chesapeake Energy Arena in downtown Oklahoma City is not only home to the NBA's Oklahoma City Thunder, but it also hosts concerts year-round, as well as other events such as pro wrestling, bull riding and more.

Bricktown, the central hub of entertainment in downtown, is home to Bricktown Ballpark, where the Oklahoma City Dodgers – Triple-A affiliate to MLB's L.A. Dodgers – play ball. The ballpark also hosts high school games, collegiate tournaments, as well as concerts of its own.

There is plenty more to do, especially on the booming, Oklahoma River.

The UCO rowing team calls the river home and has a state-of-the-art boat-house on the river to prove it. Visitors can also enjoy the Riversport Adventure District, where you can challenge yourself through a white-water rapids course, zip line across the river, or bungee jump among other fun activities.

There are also five lakes in the greater OKC metro area that offer ample fun including fishing, running or cycling trails and swimming.

There are also more than a dozen golf courses to choose from.

Along with art museums, a science museum, and many more, there is always something to do in OKC.

The Adventure District is just 10 minutes from UCO and offers many fun things to do.

Remington Park races horses more than half of the year, the Oklahoma City Zoo is always a top-pick, and it sits right next to the science museum.

If you venture west of downtown toward the fairgrounds, you can find more fun.

Home to the Oklahoma State Fair every September, as well as shows year-round, the fairgrounds offer countless entertainment options.

Oklahoma City is in a warm southwest climate. It sees more than 300 days of sunshine on average per year.

The average temperature annually is 60 degrees ac-ording to the Oklahoma City Visitors Convention Bureau. OKC also sees on average 32.03 inches of rain and nine inches of snow every year.

President Patti Neuhold-Ravikumar

Patti Neuhold-Ravikumar is the 21st president of the University of Central Oklahoma and the institution's first female president in its 129-year history. She has been a contributing member of the Central community since 2007. She served in a variety of roles during that time; most recently serving as the institution's Vice President of Finance and Chief Financial Officer.

Her multidimensional experience in private business and higher education includes business operations, finance, human resources, organizational development, strategic planning, institutional budget development, business process improvement and governing board relations. As a result of her commitment to developing others, she led the creation of the award-winning UCO Management Development Program. Under her leadership, UCO's compensation structure and health insurance plan were modernized to help create a contemporary people-centered benefits culture.

Among her contributions to UCO, she has served as chair or member of a number of institutional committees and task forces. These include the university branding initiative, program prioritization, budget model exploration, Affordable Care Act implementation, the creation of the University Planning Council, strategic planning and enrollment management planning. She currently serves on the Strategic Enrollment Planning Council as well as the University Planning Council at UCO. She has served as the chair of the Regional University System of Oklahoma Business Officers, chair of the Pension Committee for the Regional University System of Oklahoma and vice chair of the Oklahoma Higher Education Employee Interlocal.

As UCO's vice president of finance and chief financial officer, she helped to navigate the financial turbulence created by the precipitous decline in enrollment and the significant loss of state funding. While the institution had lost more than $10.5 million in tuition revenue and $12.3 million in state funding by 2019, her leadership ensured the preservation of every job on campus and buffered our classrooms from negative impact. For her work in successfully guiding the institution through these rough waters, she was awarded the President's Award in Applied Leadership in 2018.

A champion for progress and improvement, she leads the university's pursuit of innovation in shaping the future of higher education. This includes educating for tomorrow's skills, growing more fully online programs designed and taught by our talented faculty, partnering with businesses in the metropolitan area to expand non-credit offerings and capturing opportunities for growth through institutional responsiveness to student demand and economic need.

President Neuhold-Ravikumar currently serves on the Board of Directors for the Regional Food Bank of Oklahoma, Oklahoma Center for the Advancement of Science and Technology (OCAST), and Oklahoma State Chamber. She serves as an ex-officio member of the Edmond Chamber of Commerce Board of Advisors.

Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association

Central Oklahoma enters its eighth year as a member of the Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association.

The MIAA, a 14-member conference of NCAA Division II institutions in Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma, was first organized in 1912 as the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Over the past 100 years, the MIAA has gained the reputation of being one of the top NCAA Division II conferences in the nation. MIAA schools have won 35 NCAA team championships and over 300 individual national championships over the past four decades.

The MIAA currently conducts championships in nine sports for both men and women.

For the men, champions are crowned in football, cross country, basketball, indoor and outdoor track & field, baseball, tennis, golf, and wrestling. The MIAA crowns champions in bowling, basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, softball, tennis, and indoor and outdoor track & field.

The MIAA turned a new page on July 1, 1992, when the NCAA Division II conference changed its name from the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association to the Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association.

The decision to make the change originated in 1989, when Pittsburg State and Washburn became the first schools outside the state of Missouri to gain membership in the MIAA.

The conference was first organized in 1912 with 14 member institutions. Of those original members, Central Missouri and Northwest Missouri still remain a part of the MIAA.

The first change in membership came in 1924, when the MIAA reorganized to include only the five regional Missouri state colleges: Central Missouri, Truman (at the time known as Northeast Missouri State), Northwest Missouri, Southeast Missouri State and Southwest Missouri State (now Missouri State).

Over the next 56 years, three schools joined the membership: Missouri School of Mines (later Missouri-Rolla) in 1935, Lincoln in 1970 and the Missouri-St. Louis in 1980.

Ken Jones became the first full-time commissioner of the MIAA in 1981 and would be in the position for 16 years, retiring in 1997. Ralph McFillen succeeded Jones, serving 10 years before his retirement in 2007.

Jim Johnson succeeded McFillen in July of that year and served as commissioner until September of 2010, when Dr. Bob Boerigter took over. Mike Racy is the current commissioner and began in January of 2017 following Boerigter's retirement.

Southwest Baptist brought membership back to eight schools in 1986, before the major expansion of the conference in 1989. Pittsburg State, Washburn, Missouri Southern and Missouri Western began competition in the 1989-90 season.

Southeast Missouri State left the MIAA following the 1990-91 season and was replaced by Emporia State in the 1991-92 season.

Missouri-St. Louis departed the MIAA in 1996, Missouri-Rolla left in 2005 and Lincoln forfeited its membership in 1999. Fort Hays State joined the MIAA in 2006, Nebraska-Omaha entered the league in 2008 and Lincoln re-joined the conference in 2010.

UCO, Lindenwood, Nebraska-Kearney and Northeastern State all become league members with the start of the 2012-13 academic year.

Nebraska-Omaha left the league in 2011 and Truman State did the same in 2013.

Southwest Baptist, which had not competed in football in the MIAA since 2014, and Lindenwood, departed the MIAA altogether in 2019. Lincoln, who like SBU had been competing as associate members without football, returned to fill the void left by Lindenwood to keep the MIAA with 12 football playing schools.

Newman (Kan.) and Rogers State (Okla.) also joined the league in 2019 to give the MIAA 14 total schools. Newman had been an associate member in wrestling.
