The tradition and success of Cal Poly Pomona baseball traces back to the 1962 hiring of Coach John Scolinos, who would become an enduring champion of students and the game he so loved.

"When I arrived at Cal Poly Pomona, I knew I had made the right decision," Coach Scolinos said in the 2007 biography "John Scolinos: The Man, The Legend" written by Jerry Miles, former sports editor of the Pomona Progress Bulletin and former executive director of both the American and National High School Baseball Coaches Associations.

Scolinos loves the working environment on campus. The decision was not only right for Coach, but also for Cal Poly Pomona and his student-athletes.

Over the next 30 years, Coach built a program that won three NCAA championships and touched the lives of countless people with inspiring messages of teamwork, leadership and life skills.

"I equate his leadership, his direction, his mentorship with the greatest coaches of all time," former Broncos player John Love said. "He was far more than a coach. He was a father figure for many people, even outside of the playing field."

"His legacy deserves the very best in all the baseball program has to offer its players, spectators and our Coach's memory."

When Coach Scolinos passed away in 2009 at the age of 91, more than 500 people attended his memorial service, including many former players and individuals whose lives he touched.

The outpouring to honor this man and the program he loved so much has culminated in a vision for a new baseball stadium at Scolinos Field. The campaign will create a lasting monument to an unforgettable member of the Cal Poly Pomona community.

-  More than 1,100 victories at the collegiate level - One of only 18 coaches at the NCAA Division II level with 1,000+ wins
-  Three NCAA Division II titles at CPP (1976, 1980 and 1983)
-  Three-time NCAA Division II Coach of the Year
-  Inducted into the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA), Cal Poly Pomona Athletics, California Collegiate Athletic Association (CCAA) and National College Baseball Halls of Fame
-  The 1976 Cal Poly Pomona Professor of the Year, chosen by students, faculty and staff
-  Scolinos Field, the current home of CPP baseball, was dedicated for Coach John Scolinos on Feb. 11, 1980
-  The Broncos are 673 - 445 - 8 at Scolinos Field since the field was dedicated at the beginning of the 1980 season
