DON WARHURST
Athletic Director

Don Warhurst is starting his 20th year in the Cal Poly Pomona athletic department.

His first assignment with the Broncos was as head football coach in 1957. In 10 years his teams won 56 games, lost 33, and tied two. His 1962 team won nine games and lost just one.

His own athletic career was highlighted with three years of varsity football at Cal, where his versatility showed. He played at center, guard, end, fullback, halfback and quarterback at different times in the 1939, '40 and '41 seasons. "I guess they couldn't find one place I could play," Don jokes. His major was physical education for his undergraduate and graduate work at the Berkeley campus.

After serving in the Navy during World War II, Don began his coaching career as a football assistant at Santa Ana High School, moving into a similar capacity in 1950 at San Bernardino Valley College. He was head football coach at Modesto High School from 1951 until coming to Cal Poly.

He has been athletic director since 1969, supervising the continued growth of the Bronco athletic department.

He and his wife, Arlene, have been married 38 years, during that time practically raising their own football team — they have nine children (three sons and six daughters). They boys have been successful in athletics. Oldest son Don, Jr. was Cal Poly "Athlete of the Year" in 1969 and currently coaches football and track at San Dimas High School, while Blaine was a starting fullback (1973) and linebacker ('74) for his dad's alma mater, Cal. Youngest son, Grant, plays football and is a junior at Claremont High School.

Herb Adams

HERB ADAMS
Assistant Athletic Director

Herb Adams is a man always active. As the assistant athletic director for men's sports at Cal Poly, Pomona, he is heavily involved in bringing top-flight football schedules for the Broncos.

Herb's hobby is running. He keeps in shape by running for the Beverly Hills Master Striders, a group that has many meets during the year at various places in Southern California.

"A friend of mine who coaches at Fullerton J.C. got me involved with the Striders about three years ago," Herb noted. "I run in the 100 and 220 yard sprints as well as in the sprint relays (440 and 880 yards)."

The youthful Adams also has competed in the Senior Olympics.

Adams and his wife, Bobbie, have six children, three of whom are still at home. Two others are married and another is living in Hawaii.

Adams played tailback for the National Championship Gulf Coast Junior College team in Mississippi. He made honorable mention All-American that season, as well as all-conference tailback.

He then moved on to play for three colleges — New Mexico State, Livingston State University in Alabama and Southeastern Oklahoma. Adams received a degree in Physical Education from Southeastern Oklahoma. He played one year in the Canadian Football League.

The Man With A Dream:

ANDY VINCI
Head Football Coach

"The man with a dream" . . . Andy Vinci's dream when he came to Cal Poly, Pomona in 1974 was to develop a faltering football program into one that would command attention from the local community through an ambitious schedule and the recruitment of outstanding student athletes.

Now, at the beginning of his third year at the helm of Bronco football, he has more than accomplished that goal.

Although Vinci had to delay his plans for upgrading the grid schedule (as the opponents had already been decided) until 1975, he led the Broncos to a 5-3-2 record in 1974, a mark which represented the university's most successful football campaign since 1962. For the 1975 season, Vinci added four new opponents, including Northern Arizona and formidable North Texas State, and by the end of the season had compiled an even better record of 6-4-1. So in 21 games since taking over, Vinci's team has only seven losses.

This season, however, represents Cal Poly's biggest step into major college football. The dynamic Bronco leader has scheduled powerful Mississippi State of the Southeastern Conference. Admittedly, Vinci says that economics had a great deal to do with the scheduling although he says "I think we can win!"

While his Bronco footballers take the field only during the fall, Vinci's fascination with the game goes on all year long. The world of Andy Vinci extends far beyond the gridiron. The energenic Poly head coach is a man constantly on the go, whether it be recruiting, fund-raising or promoting the Bronco football program.

Vinci was a member of the Cal State Los Angeles national championship coaching staff in the mid-sixties under Homer Beatty. The Diablos were NCAA Small College champs in both 1963 and 1964 with Beatty at the helm and Vinci as assistant coach in charge of the offense.

Vinci began his head coaching career in 1966 at South Fork High School in Northern California, and after four highly successful seasons as a prep coach he took over the reigns at College of the Desert in 1970. In two years at the junior college, his squads ran up a 15-3-2 record, including a 9-1 season in 1970. That season was the first winning campaign in COD's grid history.

The Vinci magic worked once again when he moved back to the four-year level in 1972 as head coach of the University of San Diego. Facing the task of turning a club football team into a competitive, self-supporting program, he turned things around in a hurry at USD.

In two short years, San Diego went from club football to the NCAA Division III National Championships. After a 6-3-1 inaugural campaign, Vinci's 1973 USD squad ran up a 9-1-1 1973 season, capping that year with entry into the Division III National Playoffs. The lone loss came in the semi-finals of those same playoffs.

Cal Poly, seeking to rebuild a sagging program of its own, lured Vinci to Pomona for the 1974 season. Vinci promptly produced the winning team which has been his trademark.

1976 CAL POLY BRONCO SEASON OUTLOOK

With a solid nucleus of 29 returning lettermen from last year's Cal Poly Pomona football team and a host of talented junior college transfers and red-shirts, head coach Andy Vinci feels he has the basis for one of the most powerful and exciting football teams ever fielded at Cal Poly.

"This is the first time since I've been coach here that we have returning lettermen in any numbers," he said. "Last year there were seven returning defensive and two returning offensive starters."

"This year we have eleven starters returning on offense and seven on defense. It is the best aggregate of returning lettermen we've ever had here. In addition, our schedule is commensurate with our returning lettermen — it's a lot tougher," Vinci added.

Certainly no one can argue with the toughness of the 1976 Bronco schedule. Although Poly is listed NCAA Division II, the Broncos will face the likes on the road of such major college Division I opponents as Mississippi State (Oct. 2), North Texas State (Oct. 9) and Northern Arizona (Oct. 16) and host in addition powerful sister school, Cal Poly San Luis Obispo at Kellogg Field (Nov. 20).

Other home games include Cal State Fullerton in the season opener Sept. 11, San Francisco State on Sept. 25, U.S. International University on Oct. 23, and Puget Sound on Nov. 20.

Heading up the list of returnees is cornerback Jim Poettgen (5-10, 170, Sr.), who led the nation last year in interceptions with 12, for 156 yards and 1 touchdown. Poettgen was named on the first team All-California Collegiate Athletic Association roster and also captured honorable mention honors on the Associated Press College Division All-American team.

Other defensive standouts returning include linebacker Rich Kluck (6-1, 210, Sr.), defensive ends Damon Petta (6-3, 225, Sr.) and Max Weischedel (6-4, 230, Sr.), and tackle John Medlin (6-4, 245, Sr.), who also earned honorable mention All-CCAA recognition last year.

"I feel that Rice, along with Jim Castanon, were the two best linebackers in the conference last year. Rice and Kluck at the linebacker position this year are the biggest and fastest men we've had there in two years," Vinci stated.

Offensively, the Broncos are in good shape for the 1976 season. Seven lettermen (six of whom started) were lost from last year's squad, but seventeen are returning and eleven of those started regularly last season. Poly's number one quarterback last year, Leo Costa (6-0, 205, Sr.) is back in top form for his last season of collegiate ball, but is facing strong competition from two other QB hopefuls. Costa ended up with 1,304 yards passing (10 TDs) and 378 rushing (3 TDs) for a total offense figure of 1,682 yards. He completed 51% of his passes (97 of 192) and also doubled as a punter halfway through the season.

"The most important development at this time is the improvement of Sammy Ross," Vinci said. "He has looked super in practice and will really count as an intricate part of the offense. Valenzuela is also doing a fine job, and once he gets adjusted to our system, will be counted on heavily. We also have fine depth at the QB spot now with a senior, junior and sophomore," he added.

The receivers are one of the strong points in the offensive attack with four returning lettermen and the addition of sophomore Brad Carter (6-1, 210) from UC Riverside. Junior Teddy Myles (6-2, 180), who led the team with 48 receptions for 718 yards and 6 TDs, returns at the wide receiver spot. He is joined by Lonnie Carr (6-3, 185, Sr.), who caught 9 passes for 155 yards, red-shirt Dale Mitchell (5-10, 165, Jr.), and JC transfer Kurt Boeche (5-9, 160, Jr., San Diego Mesa). Jay Johnson, a 1975 first team All-CCAA selection, leads the list of candidates at tight end. Johnson grabbed 23 passess for 367 yards and 5 TDs last year.

No less than six lettermen are returning from last year's squad at the running back positions. Ron Jones heads up the running attack and is the player who surprised everyone, including the coaching staff last season by coming off the bench a third of the way through the season and ending up the leading ground gainer, playing in only five games. Jones, a 6-2, 235 pound junior, carried the ball 105 times for 720 yards and 6 TDs. Also returning are Mark Sanders (109 carries—475 yards), Fred Sanders (56 carries—358 yards), Aundre Holmes (57 carries—183 yards) and Brent Partridge (31 carries—119 yards).

Last season, the most talked about aspect of the Bronco team was the offensive line, which returns in fine form for the upcoming season. Regarded as one of the biggest lines on the west coast, it looks to be even better this year with the return of All-CCAA first team tackle Bobby Costeldia (6-4, 265, Sr.), Dan Mitchell (6-5, 265, Sr.) and Doug "Buck" Fowler (6-5, 270, Sr.).

Newcomers Bill Henry (6-3, 240, Jr.), a transfer from Saddleback and Dave Mackley (6-2, 221, Jr.) from Orange Coast JC, along with red-shirt Jeff Buhr (6-2, 230, Sr.), figure to add to the strength of the line.

"Our offensive linemen are working harder this year and have slimmed down some to improve their speed," stated OL coach Tom Hoffman. "Their attitude is great and our depth will be even better with the addition of some very good freshmen."

The Bronco kicking game, which faltered last year (only 4 of 11 field goals were made), will be greatly improved with the addition of JC transfer Armando Herrera from Mount San Antonio College.

Generally, Vinci is very optimistic about the upcoming season. "We are very enthused and encouraged about our depth and the progression of depth by class. The team attitude is great and we feel we're developing into a well-disciplined, well-drilled team. We'll be an exciting team to watch."

ERIK WIDMARK
Offensive Coordinator

Head Coach Andy Vinci wants his Cal Poly football team to be explosive on offense, so offensive coordinator Erik Widmark has the responsibility of making sure Vinci's wishes are granted.

Widmark, 28, has been successful in doing just that, as he is an assistant for the fourth year under Vinci (one year at the University of San Diego and three at Cal Poly). Among his successful pupils is quarterback Jim Zorn, who earlier this season exploded as a starter for the expansion Seattle Seahawks of the NFL.

A graduate of United States International University in San Diego, Widmark set numerous career reception records for the school. After winning all-district honors as a split end at USIU, he played in 1971 and '72 for the San Diego Chargers.

Whatever Erik is doing to develop the offensive punch, his system has been successful, as proven by the winning percentage of teams he has coached on offense — .664 (40 wins, 19 losses, five ties).

MIKE STEINHOUR
Linebacker Coach

Now in his third season as Cal Poly linebacker coach, Mike Steinhour had 10 years of coaching experience in the prep ranks before coming to Pomona.

A 68-19-2 record in his high school coaching years shows that Mike gets the job done. At Notre Dame High School, he had four high school All-Americans, seven All-CIF performers and 15 All-San Fernando Valley picks.

A long time acquaintance of Andy Vinci, the two played together for two seasons at Cal State Los Angeles in the early 1960's.

Mike and his wife Rose have two sons: Steven, 7; and Sean, 2. Steinhour enjoys playing golf.

Of this year's Bronco defensive unit, he commented: "I think that with the ability of the people we have, plus the depth, this is probably the best unit we've ever had."

TOM HOFFMAN
Offensive Line Coach

Offensive line coach Tom Hoffman has always been a winner. In the last 16 years, Tom has either played or coached on 11 championship teams.

Hoffman came to Cal Poly along with Andy Vinci from the University of San Diego in 1974. He attended San Diego State, where he played on the offensive line.

When Tom is not coaching he keeps active backpacking, a subject he teaches at Poly.

Tom was an all-CIF performer at Coachella Valley High School in 1958, and made all-conference and All-State JC at Riverside City College in 1960 and '61 prior to transferring to San Diego State, where he majored in Geography.

After his college playing days, Hoffman signed a pro contract with the San Diego Chargers, but opted to become a defensive coordinator at Castle Park High. In 1970 and '71 he was the head football coach and athletic director at Montgomery High School in San Diego.

In 1972 he joined forces with Vinci at USD, where Tom coached the defensive line. Following his switch to Poly, he shifted from defense to offensive line.

"I like to help the players to become better football players and to make each one a finer person," says Tom. "I want them to have some form of success."

Hoffman's wife, Dottie, works as the secretary in the Cal Poly football office, and they have two daughters: Kelly, 13; and Kimberly, 9.

BOB LONG
Defensive Line Coach

In his first season with the Broncos is Bob Long, who will coach the defensive line. He comes to Southern California from Houston, Texas, where he spent three years teaching high school and coaching prep football.

Bob spent two seasons in the ranks of pro football, playing in 1970 on the taxi squad of the New York Giants of the National Football League. He spent '71 in the Atlantic Coast Football League.

He received his BS degree and master's degree as a physical education major from the University of Houston, where he played tight end and on the defensive line in football, and pitched in baseball.

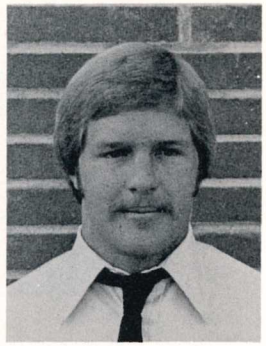

Along with his duties at Cal Poly, Bob will serve the Fullerton and Rowland Heights school districts as a substitute teacher. He and his wife, Beryl, reside in Placentia.

Jimmy Skipper

Lowell Johnson

Rich Paulson

JIMMY SKIPPER, Defensive Backs Coach

The Bronco seconard is once again coached by Jimmy Skipper. His guidance has produced such outstanding talents in the past as All-California Collegiate Athletic Association safety Scott Sanders, including an outstanding pass defense put on by Cal Poly.

Last year's winning campaign for the Broncos marked four winning season in as many years for teams which Skipper has coached on. Skipper has seen his teams compile 25-10-4 record. He is an alumus of Whittier College, where he was an outstanding defensive back and started his coaching career.

LOWELL JOHNSON, Defensive End Coach

In 10 years of coaching at Alhambra High School, Johnson coached football and basketball squads that won 13 league championships (seven in basketball, six in football) on the sub-varsity levels.

Last season he tutored the down linemen on the Occidental College squad, after serving two years previously as head coach of the Alhambra High varsity grid team.

He was a linebacker at both Cerritos College and Cal State Los Angeles, the latter where he received his BA degree in physical education. He still is a PE teacher at Alhambra.

RICH PAULSON, Offensive Backfield Coach

A '74 graduate of Cal Poly, Rich tutored an effective running game that would have been even better had running back Ron Jones not been injured.

He knows the kind of offensive style that head coach Andy Vinci likes, having played under Vinci for one year each at the University of San Diego and at Cal Poly.

As a tailback with the Broncos, Paulson accounted for 561 yards and five touchdowns (three TD's coming in the Southern Utah game).

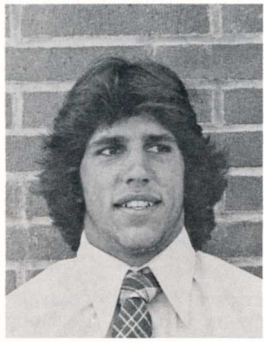

Paulson is single and resides in Pomona.

INTRODUCING THE '76 BRONCOS

QUARTERBACKS

Leo Costa, the six-foot, 205-pound senior, is the first returning quarterback that Coach Andy Vinci has had in the past eight years. "He's like another coach," the head coach has said about Costa. "Leo has the ability to completely understand what is going on in the game. He reads defenses extremely well." Costa completed 51 per cent of his passes in '75, throwing 10 touchdowns. In 1975, he established himself in Bronco football history in the following categories: 8th, number of rushing attempts for one season (143); 10th (tie), most yards gained passing in one season, 1,304; 5th (tie with Jim Zorn), highest completion percentage in one season, 51 percent; 10th, most touchdown passes in career, 10. The undisputed leader of the offense, he is offensive captain this year.

Costa is backed up by junior Jim Valenzuela (from San Diego Mesa JC) and sophomore Sammy Ross (a '75 redshirt). Valenzuela has "a pro arm" and both backups have the complete confidence of the Bronco coaching staff.

Leo Costa

Ron Jones

Fred Sanders

RUNNINGBACKS

Fred Sanders so greatly impressed the Bronco coaching staff in pre-season practices that he may start at tailback. Says Vinci about Fred: "He is a natural runner. He's beautiful to watch. Also, he is tough, has good balance. He's really coming to play. You don't have to coach him; he coaches himself." That's the talent which made the happy-go-lucky sophomore an All-CIF selection on both offense and defense at several positions for John Muir High in Pasadena. As a freshman in 1975, he gained 358 yards rushing.

Junior Ron Jones was the team's leading rusher at tailback in '75 with 720 yards in 105 carries (6.9 yards per carry) in five games. He was bothered by illness early in pre-season camp which slowed his progress, but he was working at full strength by the end of camp. Others seeing plenty of time at TB are Aundre Holmes and Mark Sanders (both returnees).

Senior Brent Partridge starts at fullback for his second year. "Brent is one of our most versatile backs. He blocks, runs and catches quite well," said offensive coordinator Erik Widmark. Partridge is backed up by sophomore Kenny Robinson and freshman Tommy Arons.

RECEIVERS

Returning tight end Jay Johnson was an All-California Collegiate Athletic Association first team member, also winning honorable mention for All-Coast selection by the Associated Press. He was the second-leading receiver for Cal Poly with 23 receptions for 367 yards for a 16-yards per carry average and five touchdowns. Split end Teddy Myles, now a junior, who had 48 catches to lead the team (718 yards, 15 yard average) and six touchdowns. Myles and flanker Lonnie Carr (nine catches, 155 yards, 17.2 average) will start.

Depth in the receiving categories is strong. Brad Carter (transfer from UC Riverside) will spell Johnson at tight end, Gaylon Ratliff and Ian Smith will back up Myles at split end, and Dale Mitchell, Rodney Soward and Glen Di Vincenzo will play behind Carr at flanker. Smith (9.6 sprinter from West Covina) and Soward (9.7 from San Bernardino) add speed to their positions.

Dale Mitchell

Teddy Myles

Rodney Soward

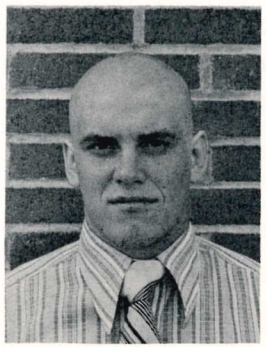

OFFENSIVE LINE

Serving on the offensive line will be a mixture of experience and new players. Larz Malony seems certain to start at center with back up supplied by Doug "Buck" Fowler and Bob Taylor.

Larz Malony

Bobby Costeldia

Moving from a third-string job as a defensive end in 1975 to first-string at nose guard is 6-3, 220-pound senior Ben Merchant of Carson. However, junior Forest McClendon of Los Angeles has impressed the coaches with his hustle, and figures to see playing time at nose guard.

DEFENSIVE BACKS

last year. If that's true, then opposing offenses are going to have considerable trouble scoring against the Broncos in 1976. Poettgen had 12 interceptions in 1975 to lead the nation in that category. The 5-10, 170-pound senior from Mission Viejo has impressed the coaches with his efforts at the Bronco's training camp. "He (Poettgen) was an All-American last year and definitely quite deserving of such an honor," said Jimmy Skipper, Bronco defensive secondary coach. "He's a very intelligent player and certainly looked excellent at camp. He should repeat as an All-American this year and be a top pick in the pro football draft."

Strong safety Doug Hughes, six-feet, 190-pound sophomore from Pomona, has "been looking super and is playing with a lot more confidence than he had last year ,when he started for us as a freshman," Vinci said.

Skipper says that freshmen Jim Middleton of Pomona and Beno Lee of Duarte will see plenty of time at strong safety, also.

DEFENSIVE ENDS

Max Weischedel

Bill Griffith

Armando Herrera

KICKER

Junior Armando Herrera is consistent from 40 yards and has ability to kick field-goals from beyond 50 yards. He is the brother of Efren Herrera, Dallas Cowboys PK.

Stadium: Cerritos Stadium (15,000)

1976 Scouting Report

When Jim Colletto accepted the head coaching position at Cal St. Fullerton on Jan. 22, 1975, he became the youngest major college head coach in the country at age 31.

Colletto suffered through a disappointing 2-9 season last fall, but he made an all-out bid to improve that mark by spending the four off-season months searching for high school and junior college stars.

The Titans will have 32 returning letterman from last season's unit, including 12 starters (seven defensive and five offensive starters). Split end Randy Stage (6-2, 186), guard Jim Beranek (6-0, 240), tight end Bruce Abraham (6-4, 214), quarterback Steve Martindale (6-4, 212) and fullback Cecil Gordon (6-1, 206) returning on offense; and tackles Joe Jordan (6-4, 237) and Ray Dabela (6-2, 231), middle guard Rocky Wilson (6-2, 220), linebackers Aaron Ball (6-2, 229) and Randy Bowker (6-4, 219) and defensive backs Don Bertoni (6-2, 188) and Allen Kennett (5-11, 174) return on defense.

Colletto sees his defensive secondary as being a strong point this season. No less than 14 athletes are vying for the four positions.

Running back Gordon, who is considered one of the top rushers in the PCAA, averaged 4.9 yards per carry last season (142 carries for 689 yards) and scored nine touchdowns.

Spearheading the defense will be Ball, who led the Titans in tackles for the second straight season. Ball, a senior, is a three-year starter for CSF. Both Gordon and Ball were second team All-PCAA picks last year.

1975 Record: 7-3 (5-0 in conference)
Letterman Lost: Off.-10, Def.-16
Letterman Returning: Off.-10, Def.-8
Stadium: Toomey Field (7,400)

1976 Scouting Report

Rebuilding will be the name of the game once again for Aggie head football coach Jim Socher. Three seasons ago Sochor was in a similar situation and he made the best of it. The Davis squad has racked up three straight Far West Conference championships under Sochor's leadership.

Sochor is now faced with the prospects of rebuilding an entire defensive unit. The defensive secondary, minus four starters, does have some proven players in Don Brown, Rick Barboza, Eric Johnson and Keith Crooks to help take up the slack.

Offensively, the Aggies will group behind veteran quarterback Jim Speck. Despite three seasons of alternating at the QB spot, Speck has thrown for 32 touchdowns and accounted for over 3,700 total yards.

The real strength of the club appears to be up front on offense, behind all-star guard Andy Gagnon and vets Bob Watters, Cliff Warner, Ron Terra and Mike McColgan.

Undoubtedly, the team will have to depend greatly on transfer students if its string of championships is to remain intact. Some top prospects include running backs Scott Thorne and Kirt Giovannoni, linemen Chuck Fomasi, Louis Dokos and Phil Barry, linebacker Frank Rosen, and deep backs Al Perretti and Mike Crosby.

GAME NO. 3

1975 Record: 4-4-1 (2-3 in conference)
Letterman Lost: Off.-8, Def.-8
Letterman Returning: Off.-15, Def.-15
Stadium: Cox Stadium (8,000)

1976 Scouting Report

Vic Rowen's 1976 edition of the Golden Gators football squad will be depending heavily on the development of some new talent.

Last season, San Francisco State University compiled only 359 net yards rushing. Some new blood in the backfield may be able to improve that low total.

The top offensive returnee from last year will be Ed August, a junior, who led the Gators with 37 catches, 706 yards, and 7 touchdowns.

The highlight of the 1975 season was passing and Jeff Galaviz helped with 30 receptions for 2 TD's and 369 yards.

The key contender for the quarterback spot for 1976 figures to be Jim Jarvis, a senior. He was the number 2 QB for the past two seasons behind Dave August, but still completed 45 passes in 83 attempts for 512 yards in 1975.

Two top linebackers should earn starting roles in '76. Forest Hancock, a 6-3 210-pound senior had four interceptions for 49 yards, while teammate Kevin Banton (6-2, 210) had a pair of interceptions for 20 yards. Both should help bolster the San Francisco defense.

Letterman Lost: Off.-7, Def.-7
Letterman Returning: Off.-21, Def.-17
Stadium: Scott Field (35,000)

1976 Scouting Report

Posting successful seasons in both 1974 and '75, the Bulldogs hope to continue their winning ways under head coach Bob Tyler in the 1976 campaign. Last season MSU completed a 6-4-1 record which gave the Bulldogs successive winning seasons for the first time in 20 years.

Harvey Hull, a 230-pound nose guard, led last year's defensive efforts. But Hull is far from a one-man defensive squad. Other defensive stalwarts are ends Wally Cox and Will Coltharp; tackle Larry Gillard and veteran secondary operators Stan Black, (a pre-season All-American), Henry Davison and Bill Lee.

Talented Walter Packer leads the Mississippi offensive attack. A genuine Heisman Award candidate, Packer rushed for 1,012 yards last season, third best in the SEC, and is their leading career rusher with 2,187 yards. He scored seven touchdowns last fall to rank second to kicking specialist Kenny Jordan in Bulldog scoring.

Jordan was the leading scorer with 53 points. The soccer-style booter had 13 field goals, which led the SEC and established a new school record, and was successful on 14 of 16 conversions.

1975 Record: 7-4
Letterman Lost: Off.-9, Def.-10
Letterman Returning: Off.-17, Def.-21
Stadium: Fouts Field (20,000)

1976 Scouting Report

Mean Green head coach Hayden Fry has taken a cautiously optimistic attitude toward the 1976 football season. Fry believes that the 1976 edition of the Eagles is improved yet the new season's schedule shows tougher competition.

North Texas State has three fine quarterbacks and each will be used in specific game assignments during the year. The three signal callers are Ken Washington, Glen Ray and Ken Smith.

Returning from a knee injury, Mack Cumby should bolster the running attack along with Mike Jones and Billy Cox. Players like Paul Martin, Mike Henry, Ollie Green, Bernie Little and Gary Smith all have game experience at offensive line positions.

An improving defense will be led by Walter Chapman, who has to be one of the best, if not the best nose guard in America. Chapman will be stationed between top-flight tackles in Garry King and Mike Dooley. The No. 1 secondary could be the best in the school's history. J. T. Smith is an exceptional free safety. Randy Fry should become an outstanding strong safety. His brother, Kelly, can play all of the secondary positions but will start out at one cornerback. Bruce Bell has greatly improved at the other corner.

The kicking game figures to be strong since both Don Fetchman and Iseed Khoury return.

Overall Coaching Record: 53-47-4
Assistants: Dan Runkle, Jerry Janson, Jim Clements, Dick Heesch, Joe Glenn
1975 Record: 1-9
Letterman Lost: Off.-7, Def.-8
Letterman Returning: Off.-19, Def.-15
Stadium: Lumberjack Stadium (8,350)

1976 Scouting Report

As Joe Salem heads into his second season as coach of the Lumberjacks, he will find a youthful team to work with. Less than 40 players return from last year's squad and only eight of those are seniors, so for his second straight year, Salem must call upon younger players to do the bulk of the work on the field.

NAU's kicking game could well be the best the school has had in senior punter Bob Martin and junior place kicker Tom Jurich. Martin averaged 47.5 yards a punt during the last half of the season and had eight punts go for more than 50 yards, including a school record 84-yarder into the wind at Boise.

Jurich has great range and if he develops his consistency and confidence before the season, he could be extremely effective for NAU.

Leaders on the offensive side of the ledger for NAU should be junior guard Larry Friedrichs, a 6-2, 230-pounder, who has not missed a single offensive down at NAU, and Paul Duchaineau, a center who earned first-team All-America junior college honors at Citrus College where his team was 9-0-2.

Stadium: Merrill Stadium at Mesa College (5,000)

1976 Scouting Report

After breaking even at 5-5 in the 1975 campaign, the Westerners have acquired the services of new head football coach John K. O'Brien, who came from his assistant coaching duties at New Mexico State.

O'Brien feels that the Westerners' talent in camp this season is far better than last year's, but he also admits that the USIU schedule is also far superior.

Running back Steve Maston, who was first string on the 1975 Kodak All-American College team, rushed for 1120 yards in nine games, and had 12 touchdowns. The senior back also totaled 500 yards in pass receiving, averaging 21 yards per catch.

The quarterback spot has four contenders, including Bill Calabrese (Sr.), Mike Stiner (Jr.), John Wilkerson (Jr.), and Gary Vosberg (Jr.). Calabrese passed for over 1,000 yards while starting in five contests for the Westerners in '75.

The defensive unit will be led by Gregory Carl, defensive end; Larry Hutchinson, defensive end; John Grant, linebacker; and Matt Anderson, strong safety.

Letterman Returning: Off.-11, Def.-16

1976 Scouting Report

The Matadors hired Jack Elway to take the reigns as head coach for the 1976 season. Elway, the fifth head coach at CSN, is from Washington State University where he spent four years as offensive coordinator.

Under Elway's direction, the Northridge squad will run the Veer offense. The Matadors have two fine receivers who should help their passing game.

Rick DeSimone, a 6-4, 210-pound senior, will be at tight end, where last season he grabbed 32 passes for 390 yards. He averaged 12.1 yards per catch and had one touchdown.

Dave Baldwin, a wide receiver, had a good 1975 season with 24 receptions for 277 yards and one touchdown.

The defensive unit wil be led by Chuck Shroeder, a middle guard. Shroeder, a senior, stands 6-1 and weighs in at 248 and is a definite All-American candidate. The Matadors will have a good strong safety in senior Danny Garrett, who had nine interceptions in '75.

Letterman Returning: Off.-18, Def.-14
Stadium: Mustang Stadium (7,000)

1976 Scouting Report

Mustang coach Joe Harper rests his hopes for a ninth consecutive winning season at Cal Poly SLO on a new offensive backfield and defensive secondary.

Because U.C. Riverside dropped its football program following the 1975 season, the Mustangs were able to pick up former Highlander QB Bob Ansari. While a backup at UCR, Ansari completed 8 of 10 passes in 1975 for 110 yards and three touchdowns.

Another UCR product transferred there to help out in the offensive backfield. Jeff Jones, a fullback, was an All-CCAA member and was the second leading rusher in CCAA in 1975 with 156 carries for 710 yards and had eight touchdowns for the Highlanders.

Overall Coaching Record: 15-12-1
Assistants: Ron Simonson, Joe Stortini
1975 Record: 7-4
Stadium: Baker Stadium (5,000)

1976 Scouting Report

The University of Puget Sound has fielded a team that is both small in size and numbers. However, UPS head coach Paul Wallrof claims that it isn't "the size of the dog in the fight, but the size of the fight in the dog."

Wallrof had only 64 football prospects in camp, which is the smallest turnout for the Loggers in nine years.

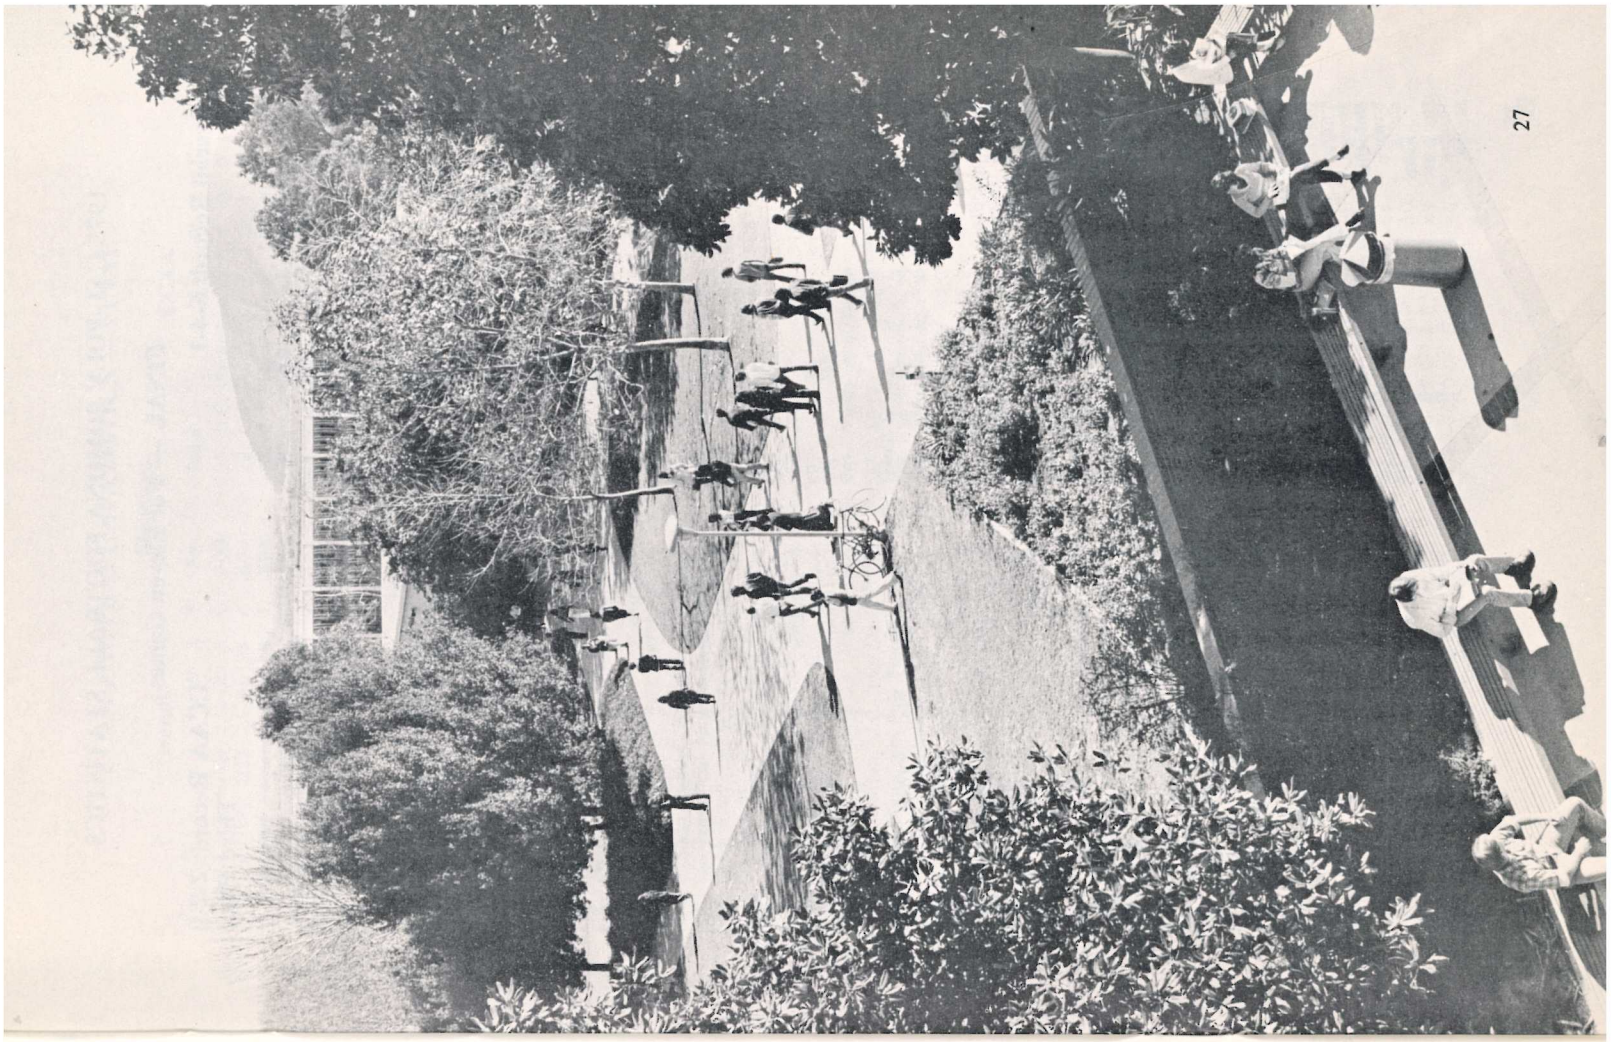

The gridders from UPS also are small size-wise with the largest player being returning letterman tackle Bill Stout (6-4 and 245 pounds) while the smallest of the group is returning halfback Bob Brede (5-7 and 151 pounds).

The Loggers have experience, particularly on offense, where eight starters return off of the 1975 squad, that finished 7-3-1. The team will bring back 28 letterman. They led the Northwest in defense against the running game ,but rebuilding will be necessary, since the entire line, except middle-guard Dan Kuehl, were graduated.

In the 1975 contest with the Broncos, UPS played to a tight 3-3 standoff.

ALL ABOUT CAL POLY POMONA . . .

California State Polytechnic University, Pomona offers higher education in an atmosphere of free inquiry and social awareness.

It offers its students the education and the opportunity to acquire skills, intellectual habits, critical attitudes, and broad perspectives which will help them function in, and contribute to a changing society.

Since its founding, the university has specialized in practical, occupationally centered learning. Today, it continues this role and also offers a liberal education to its students and prepares them for professional roles in a variety of fields.

HISTORICAL DEVELOPMENT

In 1966, the California Legislature established California State Polytechnic College, Kellogg-Voorhis as an independent state college. Thus ended almost three decades of direct legal and administrative relationship between this institution and Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo. This rapidly growing, changing institution is proudly aware that it has its roots in an unusual two-campus specialized institution with a polytechnic emphasis.

In 1938, the 157-acre Voorhis Campus near San Dimas, formerly the Voorhis School for Boys, became the Southern California branch of California State Polytechnic School of San Luis Obispo. In 1945, the parent institution was renamed California State Polytechnic College.

The 813-acre W. K. Kellogg Arabian Horse Ranch near Pomona was deeded to the State in 1949, and in 1956 it became the second campus of the college's southern facility. Six programs in agriculture leading to four bachelor of science degrees were offered that year. By 1959, the curriculum of the college also included six degree programs in the arts and sciences and four in engineering. In 1962, the Voorhis campus became a continuing education center and a laboratory for students in agriculture and natural sciences.

Many changes that were to have a profound influence on the college were made in 1961. The implementation of the Master Plan for Higher Education saw the establishment of the California State University and College System with its own Board of Trustees. In that year, the Legislature enacted Education Code Section 22606 which identifies the primary function of the State Colleges as ". . . the provision of instruction for undergraduate students and graduate students, through the master's degree, in the liberal arts and sciences, in applied fields and in the professions, including the teaching profession." The Legislature recognized the special responsibility of this college as a "polytechnic college" by adding Education Code Section 24751 which authorizes the college to emphasize ". . . the applied fields of agriculture, engineering, business, home economics, and other occupational and professional fields."

The 1966 establishment of California State Polytechnic College, Kellogg-Voorhis, Pomona, was accompanied by the appointment of Dr. Robert C. Kramer as president.

Since 1956, the educational programs have grown from 6 undergraduate programs enrolling 550 men to 53 undergraduate and 13 graduate programs enrolling over 10,000 men and women. The number of degrees granted increased from 54 in June 1957 to over 1900 in June 1974.

On November 29, 1971, the governor signed into law Assembly Bill 123, the enabling legislation to change the name of the California State Colleges to the California State University and Colleges and also authorizing changes in name of those colleges which would fill the description of university. This institution was one of those which met these criteria and on June 1, 1972, the name was changed to California State Polytechnic University, Pomona.

DR. ROBERT C. KRAMER

President

California State Polytechnic University, Pomona

Dr. Robert C. Kramer, Cal Poly Pomona President, has always been and most likely always will be an extremely busy man.

Dr. Kramer received his B.S. degree from Purdue University in 1947 and his M.S. degree from Michigan State University the following year. He also completed work for his Ph.D. in Agriculture Economics in 1952 at Michigan State.

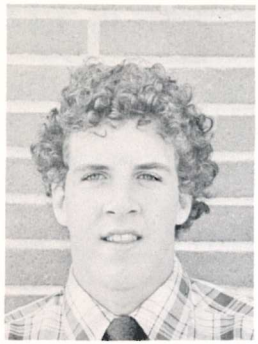

President Kramer spent 11 years in the administration at Michigan State.

He spent six weeks in Washington, D.C. in 1956 studying the organization and operations of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The youthful looking 56-year-old executive is married and has six children. Dr. Kramer was appointed Vice-President and Administrator in Charge, at Cal St. Polytechnic College, Kellogg-Voorhis, in Pomona in 1965. One year later he assumed the duties of the President of the college.

President Kramer has been chairman and a member of numerous educational councils and committees. He is listed in American Men of Science, Dictionary of International Biography, Marquis Who's Who, Inc., Who's Who in America, Who's Who in California, Who's Who in the United States, Who's Who in the West, and has been cited with many education honors and awards.

Last year Dr. Kramer took a leave from his office to conduct a study in Latin America for the W. K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek, Michigan. In all he visited 10 countries.
