NEED TO KNOW

Conference action arrives in Berkeley for the first time in 2018 when California men's basketball hosts USC on Thursday. The Golden Bears tip off against the Trojans at 7:30 p.m., live on the Pac-12 Network and KGO 810 AM.

Cal's spirits are high after winning four of their last five contests, including three on the road with a comeback victory at Stanford to open Pac-12 play. The Bears are 3-2 in their last five Pac-12 home openers.

California split at the Southern California schools in the lone pair of meetings last season, falling at UCLA but taking home a 74-73 victory from the Galen Center to upset the then-No. 25 Trojans. During the road swing, Don Coleman emerged to average 13.5 points, including 12 points against USC. He enters Thursday's matchup leading the Bears with 20.1 points per game and coming off a 15-point game at Stanford that saw him record a pair of clutch free throws down the stretch.

Coleman is joined in double figures by Darius McNeill (13.4 points), Marcus Lee (12.6) and Justice Sueing (12), each of whom also scored in double figures in the win at Stanford. Sueing scored 14 of his 18 points in the second half, including eight in the final three minutes, while Lee poured in 19 points in a 9-11 day from the floor.

HOW TO FOLLOW THE ACTION: Thursday's action airs live on the Pac-12 Network, with JB Long and Mike Montgomery on the call. Fans can also follow the action on the Pac-12 Now app on mobile, and by watching at www.Pac-12.com/live on the web. The California Golden Bears Sports Network will offer play by play and analysis, as well as post-game interviews, from Todd McKim and Jay John live on KGO 810 AM. Live stats, full broadcast details and more can be accessed via the Cal men's basketball schedule page on CalBears.com, and fans can follow the Bears on social media via @CalMBball on Twitter and Instagram, and at Facebook.com/CalMBball.

BY THE NUMBERS

12 Don Coleman scored 12 points in last year's upset of then-No. 25 USC in Los Angeles. Coleman's Southern California coming out party saw him average 13.5 points in the two-game road trip after he scored 15 at UCLA.

81.4 Kingsley Okoroh and Marcus Lee have a combined 70 blocks this season, accounting for nearly 81.4 percent of Cal's 86 blocks through 14 games.

53 Cal's 53 points in the second half at Stanford marked a new season-high for points in a half. The Bears outscored the Cardinal 53-37.

1-10 Grant Anticevich was 1-10 from downtown prior to the Stanford contest. With 1:19 remaining in the second half, he hit his second try of the season to help Cal pull within one point of the Cardinal.

14 Justice Sueing scored 14 of his 18 points against Stanford in the second half. With the Bears down 17 points with 9 minutes to go in the second half, the rookie helped lead Cal's comeback effort by scoring eight points in the final 3 minutes.

ROOKIES RISING TO THE CHALLENGE

With one of the youngest squads in the national, California's newcomers have been pushed to step up and contribute major minutes to the lineup.

Two freshmen are averaging double figures for the Bears, with Darius McNeill (13.4 points per game) and Justice Sueing (12.0 ppg) averaging above 11.0 points.

McNeill, a Houston, Texas product poured in back-to-back career-high point totals, starting with 18 points against Chaminade and improving to 22 points against CSUN, then topped it four games later with a 30-point outing against CSU Fullerton. McNeill became the 40th player in Cal basketball history to score 30 points in a game. Against the Titans, he also recorded career-high totals for assists (6), steals (5) and rebounds (6). Following his 30-point outing against the Titans, McNeill added 20 points -- all in the second half -- at Seattle. The rookie carried a 12-game three-pointer streak before it was snapped in Cal's nonconference finale against Portland State. He has 10 games with multiple three-pointers this season.

Sueing was pivotal in Cal's come-from-behind win at Stanford, scoring 14 of his 18 points in the second half with the Bears down 17 points. Over the final three minutes, he scored eight points. Earlier this season, he scored a career-high 23 points against Chaminade, including 19 in the second half, and has scored in double figures in eight games this season while starting all but one game. His output comes after missing most of the preseason due to a stress fracture.

Juhwan Harris-Dyson has also stepped up with solid minutes off the bench for the Bears, averaging 4.2 points and 3.0 rebounds. He came up clutch in Cal's 63-62 win at San Diego State, icing a pair of free throws with less than 8 seconds in the game to lift Cal to the win.

Rookie Grant Anticevich helped fuel Cal's comeback win at Stanford with a key three-pointer at 1:19 in the second half to help erase the deficit. Anticevich was 1-10 on the season in three-pointers before making the three that brought the game within one point.

BIG KIDS ON THE BLOCK

California's senior big men are among the country's best players on the block, with Kingsley Okoroh and Marcus Lee combining for 70 blocks so far this season. The Bears rank among the Top 20 nationally for total blocks (15th, 86) and blocked shots per game (14th, 6.1).

Okoroh and Lee are both in the top 35 individually for total blocks and blocked shots per game. Okoroh is 19th with 38 total blocks, and 21st with 2.71 blocked shots per game. Lee is 33rd for his 32 total blocks and 33rd at 2.29 blocks per game.

The 7-1 Okoroh has tied the Cal single-game record for blocked shots twice this season, recording 7 blocks against UC Riverside and against Portland State. He ties the number set by Michael Stewart (1994-97), which Stewart recorded thrice in his Golden Bear career. Okoroh has 173 career blocks, currently ranked third among Cal's career leaders. Stewart ranks second with 207 blocks, and David Kravish (2012-15) leads with 226 career blocked shots.

The Cal team record for blocked shots in a season is 161 blocks through 33 games in 2013, an average of 4.9 per game. The Bears are currently swatting shots at a pace of 6.1 blocks per game, with 86 total blocks.

ROAD WARRIORS

With the Dec. 30 win at Stanford, the Golden Bears are riding a three-game win streak in games away from Haas Pavilion, and are 3-0 in true road games this season. The streak started on Dec. 9 with a 63-62 victory at San Diego State, followed by a decisive 81-59 victory at Seattle on Dec. 19. The 77-74 win on the Farm came as a come-from-behind victory in which the Bears battled back from a 17-point deficit late in the second half.

Cal's three-game road win streak is its best since 2015, when the Bears won at Washington State, Washington and Colorado between Jan. 29 and Feb. 12. The streak ended on Feb. 15, 2015, when Cal fell at No. 11 Utah, 68-61. The Bears have not recorded a four-game winning streak in true road games since the 2002-03 season, when Cal took wins at New Mexico, Cleveland State, Washington and Washington State.

NEXT UP

Cal hosts UCLA on Saturday, Jan. 6 at 3:30 p.m. The game airs live on the Pac-12 Network with Roxy Bernstein and Don MacLean on the call.

OKOROH'S OFFSEASON

In preparation for Wyking Jones' style of press, Kingsley Okoroh spent his summer becoming a leaner, more mobile and more conditioned athlete. From June 19 to Aug. 28, Okoroh dropped 14 lbs. of weight, improving his lean body mass from 245.8 to 252 -- a gain of 7 lbs. of muscle. His fat measured at 8.4, down from 18.7 in June, including a nearly four percent drop in body fat from 9 percent to 5.1 percent.

Okoroh worked with men's basketball strength and conditioning coach Jordan Jackson, with a primary area of focus in his mobility -- including the ability to stay into basketball stances and positions for longer periods of times, and opening up his hips to move better. Ankle strength for the 7-footer was also a focus. Okoroh's conditioning to lean out included utilizing the underwater treadmill at Cal's Simpson High Performance Center to put less pressure on his joints, and participating in low-impact cardio such as intervals on the elliptical. Okoroh, Jackson and team nutritionist Elizabeth McNear also met several times throughout the summer to tighten up Okoroh's diet and nutrition plan.

WORKOUT WAYS

In order to prepare for a new style of offense this year, the Golden Bears were hard at work this offseason adapting to Strength & Conditioning Coach Jordan Jackson's workouts. Along with Olympic style weightlifting and conditioning, the Bears also participated in unique sessions such as hot yoga, conditioning on the campus beach volleyball courts and running the California Memorial Stadium steps.

HEAD COACH WYKING JONES

With more than 15 years of collegiate coaching experience, Wyking Jones was introduced as California's head coach on March 24, 2017.

Prior to his tenure as head coach, Jones served as an assistant coach at Cal for two seasons under Cuonzo Martin in 2015-16 and 2016-17.

Charged with coaching Cal's big men, Jones helped forward Ivan Rabb become a two-time All-Pac-12 performer and Jaylen Brown earn All-Pac-12 and Pac-12 Freshman of the Year honors in 2015-16. In addition, center Kingsley Okoroh set a school record with 74 blocks in 2016-17.

In his first season with the Golden Bears, Jones helped steer Cal to the program's first NCAA Tournament bid since 2013 and the program's highest tournament seeding, a No. 4 seed. Cal's defense earned top marks, leading the Pac-12 with just 67.3 points allowed per game and finishing in the top three for rebounding. The Bears went 23-11 and extended their home winning streak to 19 games, dating back to the 2014-2015 season.

The Bears continued their success in 2016-17 by pushing their home winning streak to a program-record 27 games and once again led the league in defense, limiting opponents to 63.4 ppg and 40.0 percent shooting. Cal finished the season with a 21-13 record and earned the top seed in the National Invitation Tournament.

Throughout his career, Jones has also been instrumental in the development of 11 current and former NBA players, including standout Golden Bear Jaylen Brown, plus Terry Rozier, Gorgui Dieng, Montrezl Harrell, Tony Snell, Russ Smith and Peyton Siva.

Jones, a native of Inglewood, Calif., returned to his home state with 12 years of experience as a coach at the collegiate level and was introduced as Martin's assistant on April 23, 2015. He joined the Golden Bears' staff after serving as an assistant coach at Louisville for four seasons. During his time on the Cardinals' coaching staff, UofL's combined record was 123-30. Louisville captured the 2013 NCAA Championship and reached two Final Fours over the past four seasons. The Cardinals completed the 2014-15 season with a 27-9 record, reaching the NCAA Tournament regional final.

Prior to Louisville, Jones served two seasons on the coaching staff at New Mexico where the Lobos won 52 games in two seasons, including a school-record 30-win campaign in 2010. New Mexico finished the 2010 season ranked eighth in the Associated Press national poll.

Jones served as an assistant coach for five seasons from 2002-06 at Pepperdine, where he was the Waves' recruiting coordinator. He got his start in coaching at his alma mater, Loyola Marymount, during the 1996-97 season.

As an assistant coach, Jones boasts one national championship, two Final Four runs, seven NCAA Tournament appearances, an Elite Eight and Sweet 16 run and 10 NBA Draft selections.

He was a standout at LMU from 1991-95 under head coach John Olive, where his 1,076 career points rank 24th all-time in the program's history. Jones also collected 493 career rebounds during his career with the Lions. He was a two-time All-West Coast Conference selection, highlighted by a 19.7 ppg average as a junior. He earned his bachelor's degree in business administration from Loyola Marymount in 1995.

Jones played professional basketball from 1995-2001 in Italy, France, Japan, Lebanon and South Korea. He also served on the staff at Nike Elite Youth Basketball for three years, where he was the Travel Team Manager for more than 45 programs.

Jones and his wife, Estrella, have a son, Jameel and a daughter, Zoe.
