Founded in 1853, Central College is a four-year coeducational liberal arts college of the Reformed Church in America. Located 40 miles southeast of Des Moines, Central offers its 1,400 students learning opportunities not only on the Pella campus, but on branch campuses in London, England; Merida, Mexico; Leiden, the Netherlands; and Bangor, Wales; and at study centers in Granada, Spain; Paris, France; and Vienna, Austria.

Central is a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, Division III, and the Iowa Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. Men compete in baseball, football, basketball, tennis, golf, wrestling, soccer, track and cross country, while women compete in tennis, golf, track, softball, volleyball, cross country, soccer and basketball. Rugby is offered at the club level.

The A.N. Kuyper Athletics Complex

The A.N. Kuyper Athletics Complex is located at the corner of Independence Street and West Fifth Street in southwest Pella. The complex includes P.H. Kuyper Gymnasium (1970), H.S. Kuyper Fieldhouse (1987), Ron and Joyce Schipper Stadium (1977), the baseball and softball fields (1978), Ryerson Golf Practice Range (2005), tennis courts (1992), soccer field (2005) and the Ron Schipper Fitness Center (1999). The complex also includes practice and intramural softball diamonds and football fields. Golf meets are held at the Bos Landen Golf Club, two miles southwest of the campus on Highway T-15.

Craig Douma

Head coach

2014 Iowa Conference Coach of the Year

Named the Central men's basketball coach in 2012, Craig Douma has piloted the Dutch to two NCAA Division III tournament appearances.

His 2015-16 squad became the first in Iowa Conference history to win three straight road games in taking the league tournament championship with a No. 5 seed. It gave Central a conference record 11th NCAA tourney appearance overall. Douma's Dutch were picked for last place in the league for the 2013-14 campaign, but he piloted the squad to a surprising championship, the program's 17th, and rolled to a 21-8 season.

After inheriting a team that posted a 10-14 mark in his first season, Douma's squads have posted four straight winning campaigns, giving him a 81-55 (.596) collegiate mark.

Previously Douma piloted high school teams to eight conference titles in 12 years. Douma, a two-time NAIA all-America honoree at Northwestern College, was the coach at Carroll High School for six years after spending the previous nine seasons at South O'Brien High School in Paullina. He compiled a lofty 268-78 (.774) record over 15 seasons, including a 123-22 (.848) mark at Carroll, where he piloted state tournament squads in 2007, 2009 and 2010 and reached the substate round five times in six seasons. His teams claimed conference titles in 2007, 2008, 2010 and 2011. At South O'Brien, Douma's squads were league champs in 2001, 2002, 2003 and 2004. He was the Class 2A Northwest District coach of the year in 2000-01 and took Class 3A Southwest District honors in 2006-07.

Before becoming a high school coach, Douma spent the 1996-97 season as assistant coach at Northwestern.

Douma is also known for working with thousands of young players through the Central Shooting Academy. He's helped lead the program each summer since 1998. As a player, Douma is the third-leading scorer in Northwestern history with 2,276 points and is a member of the Red Raider Hall of Fame. He also received the Red Raider Coach of the Year Award following Central's 2013-14 championship season. Douma played in three NAIA Division II national tournaments, helping the Red Raiders finish second in 1992 and reach the final eight in 1994. The Nebraska-Iowa Athletic Conference player of the year in 1994, Douma was a second-team all-America pick in 1993 before earning first-team recognition in 1994, when he also served as Northwestern's team captain.

A Maurice-Orange City High School graduate, Douma was inducted into the Iowa High School Athletic Association players' hall of fame in 2009.

Obinna Agomo

Assistant coach

Obinna Agomo was named assistant men's basketball coach at Central in 2017.

Agomo, a former team captain for Greenville College (Ill.) and international player, joined the Dutch staff after spending two seasons coaching with the Lisle (Ill.) High School boys' program. He also worked with the Chicago Bulls Youth Academy in Lisle.

At Greenville, Agomo was an all-St. Louis Intercollegiate Athletic Conference second-team selection. He was also an all-SLIAC defensive team pick in 2010 and 2011.

A four-year international career sent Agomo around the world, playing in 10 different countries on five different continents. Drafted 24th by the London Lightning of the National Basketball League of Canada, Agomo played for the Nigerian national team in 2013 and earned all-star recognition in Kosovo.

Agomo earned a bachelors degree in sports management from Greenville in 2011 and expects to complete a masters degree in coaching from Greenville in 2018.

Kent Henderson

Assistant coach

Kent Henderson joined the Central men's basketball coaching staff in 2017.

Henderson came to Central after spending the 2016-17 season as an assistant sophomore coach for the boys' basketball team at Urbandale High School.

Henderson also served as the freshman coach for the boys' basketball program at Gilbert High School for five seasons while he was a student at Iowa State University. Other coaching experience includes being the head coach for the All Iowa Attack, an AAU program based out of Ames. He has also worked camps including the Jay Bilas Young Coaches Camp (2017), Drake University Camp (2012-13) and the Prep Hoop Iowa Top 100 Camp (2016).

While a student at Iowa State, he worked as an assistant video coordinator with the Cyclone football team. He graduated with a degree in Kinesiology in December of 2016.

Coach: Craig Douma

Assistants: Obinna Agomo, Kent Henderson

Student assistant: Luke Den Adel,

Athletic trainer: Frank Neu

Outlook

There are no guarantees on win totals or championships for the Central College men's basketball team for 2017-18 but one certainty is the Dutch won't be dull.

Coach Craig Douma thinks playing at a frantic pace is Central's best avenue to contending in a hotly competitive Iowa Conference race. Entertaining, definitely, but successful? To be determined.

Not that Central's ever employed a walk-it-up-the-floor style under Douma, who's led the Dutch to two NCAA Division III tournament berths and who enters his sixth season on a streak of four straight winning campaigns, including last year's 16-12 effort. Central pumped in 81.9 points a game last season.

But the Dutch graduated five of the top seven scorers from that team, including the school's career record-holder, all-region honoree Colby Taylor, who averaged 20.7 points a game and racked up 1,856 over four years. Also gone is much of the squad's post presence.

The good news is that, while undersized, the Dutch have a gym-full of talent, leading Douma to envision attacking opponents in swarms.

"All 15 guys could see playing time," he said. "It's a different type of team. The past couple of years we've had some size. This year we'll have to play fast and we've got to do some things different defensively at times. We won't have a typical post. We'll be much smaller, which can be good and bad."

The only full-time starter back is senior point guard Trashawn Boyd (Normal, Ill., University HS), although forward Kyle Smith (New Hampton) started 16 of the team's 28 games and was the third-leading scorer.

Yet it's a veteran club, with eight seniors, bolstered by a lot of promising younger players as Douma continues to hit the recruiting trail at a torrid rate.

Point guard

A 5-9 speedster, Boyd took a big step forward last year, averaging 10.1 points and a team-high 3.5 assists, highlighted by a 20-point, 11-rebound effort against powerhouse Augustana (Ill.) last December.

"Trashawn is a two-year starter and played as a freshman so he has a lot of experience and we're looking for a lot of leadership from him," Douma said. "His athleticism and his quickness are what he brings to the team. His ability to get in the paint and break down defenses are his strengths."

With 193 career assists, Boyd is positioned to move well into the top 10 on Central's all-time list.

Central has another experienced option at the point in high-octane 6-0 senior Nick Drucker, who appeared in 23 games last year. Drucker averaged 4.5 points and 1.9 assists along with a persistent defensive effort in 16.3 minutes a game, earning the team's hustle award. He'll also play at the off guard spot.

"We can use Nick a lot of different ways," Douma said. "He brings energy to the floor and to this team. We really like what Nick does and his ability to run the team. We can play at a very fast tempo with him. The experience he got last year was valuable for him and his confidence is at a new level."

Jamel McKnight, a 6-2 junior, saw brief varsity action last year, appearing in nine games, but is hoping to make more of an impact.

"He can play the point or the off guard position," Douma said. "Like Nick Drucker, he's a versatile player. He's very long and athletic. He defends well and his confidence has increased. Being a junior now, it's his chance to step up and contribute as a player to the program and this team."

Off guard

After playing an increasingly significant role off the bench last year, 6-5 senior Malik Wildermuth is eyeing a starting spot. He did start 11 games last year and played in 26, averaging 5.1 points, 1.8 assists and 3.3 rebounds, with a 16-point effort against Luther in January. He was voted the team's defensive player of the year.

"Malik got better as the year went on," Douma said. "He really had a good February for us and played very well down the stretch. We look for his leadership and for his experience and I think he will step up and give us even more this year."

"Defensively, he's outstanding. He understands the game so well. He's a big-time thinker when it comes to understanding how to guard guys."

Jacob Hay, a 6-2 senior, is also game-tested. He averaged just 1.4 points last year but was the only player to appear in all 28 games. Hay received the team's Mentink Award for leadership on and off the court in 2015-16 and the Dirksen Achievement Award last year. He's also a two-time academic all-conference honoree.

"Jacob's had a lot of valuable playing experience the last two years," Douma said. "But he's got something to prove this year. He had a great sophomore year but he was kind of disappointed with himself last year for how he shot the ball. He worked really hard this summer in the weight room and with his shot.

"I'd really like to see him step up. He brings valuable experience to the team at the national tournament level and in conference play. And he understands what we want as coaches."

Shimar Jones, a 5-11 junior, was Central's most valuable freshman in 2015-16 and the most improved player last year, making cameos in seven games.

"Shimar brings big-time athleticism to that position," Douma said. "He's an energy guy. He plays with a passion and he brings a lot of intensity to the team. He just has the ability to score."

Also up from the JV is 6-0 junior MaRenz Bruce.

"MaRenz has really developed his game the last couple years," Douma said. "He's still learning but he has the potential to give us some time. His major strengths are his ability to shoot the basketball and to defend. He's a very long kid."

Small forward

While Smith (6-4) spent much of his time at small forward last year, he'll likely line up at power forward this year, leaving the Dutch with minimal experience but some promise in his former spot.

Jaden Moody, a 6-3 sophomore, could become a scorer.

"Jaden brings a lot of athleticism to the wing position," Douma said. "The better he shoots the basketball, the better he's going to be. He's a slasher; he can get to the lane. He really grew a lot as a player in the off-season and grew in the weight room. He's a big, strong wing, which we like."

He's being challenged by 6-2 sophomore Preston Flood, who can also play the off guard position.

"Preston was the most efficient player we had on the JV last year," Douma said. "He shoots well, he pursues the ball well, he does all the little things. He has a good attitude and approach to the game. We like what he brings to the floor."

Power forward

Smith will be counted on to do what he does best—score—but will be looked to as a leader as well.

A second-team all-conference pick, he averaged 13.8 points and 3.2 rebounds last year, including a monster 31-point outburst at Wartburg. He also notched his first statistical double-double against Grinnell. Smith's looking to raise his shooting percentage from last season (41.9) and is capable of doing so, as evidenced by his 85.2-percent showing at the free throw line. He was also the team 3-point goals leader with 74.

"Kyle is as experienced as anyone in the program," Douma said. "We're really looking to him to have a big year. Obviously, he has the ability to shoot the basketball and he understands the game, but he also has the ability to do a lot of things very well."

Smith is a solid bet to join Central's 1,000-point club, with 875 in his previous three years, including 372 in 2016-17.

Andre Johnson, a 6-3 junior, appeared in 17 games last year and could force his way onto the floor in a much-needed role for an undersized front line. He was the team's freshman of the year two years ago.

"Talk about a worker," Douma said. "Andre has impressed us a lot. When he's got minutes, he's never disappointed us. We're going to need his rebounding on both ends of the floor."

Seth Wood, a 6-5 sophomore, brings different strengths but opened some eyes as a rookie, playing in 14 games.

"Seth brings shooting ability," Douma said. "He has a knack for the game. He's a great passer. He sees the open man. And his range is tremendous. He's hungry to help us."

Center

Center is another key to Central's season.

At 6-8, senior Luke Posivio is the team's only true post, but isn't game-tested, due to injuries. He played briefly in just five games last season. Still, he's been around and could be a surprise at a spot where Central could use one.

"The biggest thing Luke gives us is maturity," Douma said. "He's practiced with the varsity since his freshman year, but was injured as a sophomore and junior. He's had a tough time. But he's in the best shape of his life and his attitude is tremendous. We're excited about what Luke brings. He's a big dude who's hard to reckon with."

Another unproven senior is 6-4 Connor Hehli.

"Connor understands the game really well," Douma said. "He knows his limits. He's a great jumper. He plays a lot bigger than his size. He's got a chance to contribute."

Strategy

What the Dutch lack in experience and size they'll try to overcome with energy and numbers.

"We could play 11-12 guys a night," Douma said. "That's not easy to do. But the pace we want to play requires us to play more people. We need multiple guys to give us energy. We'll play guys in small spurts. We won't have anybody playing more than 30 minutes.

"It will be a lot of fun to see who steps up. The competition for playing time will be tremendous. But it makes our job hard as coaches."

Yet size is an inevitable worry.

"Our big concern is rebounding," Douma said. "We've got to be athletic and increase our offensive rebounding. We've got to hustle and have a sense of urgency, and we have to learn to play physical."

It's difficult to play up-tempo without rebounds, but intense defense is vital as well.

"Defense is a staple of this program," Douma said. "We've got to create deflections. We have to create turnovers for us to have opportunities to run."

A frantic playing style also presents challenges for the Dutch offensively.

"We have to limit turnovers," Douma said, noting that Central averaged 13.5 last year. "That's a stat we'll have to improve throughout the season."

Shot selection can sometimes suffer on the fast break.

"Just because we play fast doesn't mean we have to shoot fast," Douma said. "That's important for us. We have to play selfless basketball and share the ball. That's how we play."

New coaches

Highly regarded assistant Joe Steinkamp departed to become Central's new head women's basketball coach, but Douma is enthused about the additions to the Dutch bench.

Obinna Agomo, who earned all-conference honors while starring for Greenville College (Ill.) before embarking on a four-year international career, is the new top varsity assistant.

"I'm really excited about having Coach Obi on our staff," Douma said. "He brings a love of the game and experience at the professional level. He resonates well with the players. He brings big-time energy to the program and a passion for the game."

He's doing a great job with recruiting as well. He's a great fit for our program and for the guys."

Kent Henderson also joined the staff and will work with the JV. Henderson, an Iowa State graduate, previously had stints as a ninth-grade and sophomore assistant at Gilbert and Urbandale high schools as well as getting some AAU experience.

"Kent's doing a great job," Douma said. "He gives us another good Iowa connection and this is a great chance for him to develop and grow in the profession. We're excited to have him."

The schedule

Even with the host of new faces on the roster, Douma didn't back off in building the season schedule which again features traditional NCAA tourney veterans like national contender Augustana (Ill.), Washington-St. Louis and Gustavus Adolphus (Minn.) as well as Wis.-River Falls and Wis.-La Crosse. They'll also get away for a Christmas-break event in Las Vegas, taking on Ramapo (N.J.) and Pacific Lutheran (Wash.).

"Our non-conference schedule is going to expose a lot of our weaknesses," Douma said. "It will force us to learn a lot about our team. But the guys are excited to play this kind of schedule, despite its difficulty.

"The fact that we have eight seniors will help this team get through a tough schedule. They understand what it takes. They've been around the success we've had and have a lot of confidence in the program. They saw that maybe January didn't go well last year but that we were still able to bounce back in February and that you need to keep playing with a level head."

Central surged late last year with a couple of huge road wins in the conference tournament, including an 85-63 stunner at top-seeded Nebraska Wesleyan, before letting a second-half lead and an NCAA tourney berth melt away in an 89-85 loss to Wartburg.

Nebraska Wesleyan returns nearly its entire roster and has the favorites' tag in the preseason coaches' poll, ahead of Loras and Wartburg. Central is tabbed for sixth place.

"Nebraska Wesleyan is probably the favorite but there are a lot of teams that could step up and be in position to win the league this year," Douma said. "For us to contend, guys who are inexperienced have to step up and contribute. The faster we can grow as a team, the better our chances."

While many of last year's key performers have graduated, Central's returnees aren't enamored with the sixth-place pick and eager to surpass the 2016-17 finish.

"They have something to prove," Douma said. "They were disappointed with how last year ended, missing a chance to go to the national tournament. That, and the fact that January wasn't very good to us, is driving them."

Attaining the lofty goals they've set won't be easy for the Dutch, but it's likely to be an entertaining ride, albeit chaotic.

"Playing the way we want to play, we're probably going to see a lot of momentum shifts and spurts," Douma said. "As coaches, we preach a lot, 'Don't get rattled if we get down 15.' We can rally, and previous teams here have shown that."

Joe Steinkamp

Head coach

Joe Steinkamp took over as Central's head women's basketball coach in 2017 after a highly successful nine-year run on the Dutch men's basketball staff, determined to help the women's program attain even greater heights.

A 2003 Central graduate, Steinkamp previously spent 2006-12 as a Central assistant, becoming the top varsity assistant in 2008, then was in private business for a year in Sioux Falls, S.D. But he returned as the top assistant in 2013 and helped lead the Dutch to two Iowa Conference championships and three NCAA Division III tournament berths in the next four seasons. In his eight years as the lead assistant, Central posted a 132-80 mark.

Steinkamp was a two-time letterwinner and the Central team co-captain in 2002-03. He spent the 2003-04 year as a graduate assistant women's basketball coach at Loras College while pursuing a master's degree. He was Central's men's junior varsity coach in 2004-05 and a volunteer assistant at Lewis University (Ill.) in 2005-06 before returning to Central as JV coach for 2006-07.

Amy Briggs

Assistant coach

Former Truman State University (Mo.) standout Amy Briggs joined the Central women's basketball staff in 2016.

Briggs spent two seasons (2013-15) as a graduate assistant coach at Missouri Valley College (Mo.) while earning a master's degree at Northcentral University (Ariz.) and serving as head coach for the Vikings' junior varsity squad. She was an NAIA National Tournament Committee member in 2015 and has extensive camp and youth coaching experience.

A 2014 Truman State graduate, Briggs was a first-team Great Lakes Valley Conference pick and league all-tournament team selection in 2013-14. She helped her club earn a conference title and she set a school season record for most 3-pointers (80). Truman State was 42-17 in her two seasons there. She earlier attended Johnson County (Kan.) Community College for two years, gaining WBCA all-America distinction in 2011-12. Her squad made national tourney appearances both years, finishing fifth in 2010-11 and posting a 64-8 two-year mark.

In high school Briggs was a 2009-10 Class 5A second-team all-state pick by the Kansas Basketball Coaches Association and a first-team selection by the Topeka Capital Journal.

Austin Hellbusch

Assistant coach

Austin Hellbusch joined the Central staff in 2014 as an assistant coach after a six-year high school coaching career.

He graduated from Northwestern College in 2000. Hellbusch served as the varsity girls' coach at Des Moines Christian High School from 2001-03 before holding the boys' head coaching position at Belmond-Klemme in 2003-04 and at Dakota Valley from 2004-07. He also served as an instructor at the Northwestern College Basketball Camp for nine years and the Jess Settles The Next Level basketball camp for five years.

Outlook

The challenge of rebounding from a string of disappointing seasons is a lot to take on for the Central College women's basketball team and new coach Joe Steinkamp.

And they can't wait to get started.

After an encouraging non-conference start last year, the Dutch struggled in Iowa Conference play, closing at 9-16 overall and 2-14 in the league. They haven't ascended any higher than seventh since 2002 and are picked for ninth in the league this season.

Yet Steinkamp, coming off a highly successful nine-year tenure as the Central men's basketball assistant, sees no reason why the Dutch women's program cannot return to its traditional status as a consistent NCAA Division III tourney contender. Central earned five NCAA berths and captured a national title before the recent downturn.

And he's seeing plenty of signs of potential progress already in year one.

"We're off to a great start," he said. "The team is really excited to play the way we want to play. There's been a lot of great support within the athletics department and the community. I think the alumni are excited. And I'm really excited to see what this team can accomplish."

A big reason for Steinkamp's quiet optimism are the returnees. The Dutch return four of five starters and nine letterwinners overall, and Steinkamp sees something special in his first senior class.

"I can't tell you how impressed I am with the seniors, with their leadership qualities and their toughness," he said. "We'll rely on them as leaders all year and I think they can help establish our culture moving forward."

Point guard

One of those senior leaders, 5-foot-5 Emily Dine, the team's top returning scorer, handled the point position most of last year but is moving to off guard to better facilitate her offense. That likely means a more prominent role for another senior, 5-4 Jessica Helton. She averaged 3.4 points and 1.2 assists in 20.4 minutes a game off the bench last year, but is a top candidate for a starting spot.

"Jess played a mix of off-guard and point guard last year," Steinkamp said. "The plan is for her to be more of a full-time ballhandler this year. I think she brings real defensive intensity and will help us play the pace we want to play."

Steinkamp is also excited about a couple of freshmen who he thinks can make early contributions. And the Dutch can call on 5-7 senior Kylie Mack-Garding, a two-time Gray Team Player of the Year Award winner.

Wings

Steinkamp thinks Dutch's hopes could rest on how well they utilize Dine's talents. She averaged 13.3 points a game last year and received all-conference honorable mention. Already the school's career 3-point goals leader with 143, she hit a record 82 last year, shooting 38.9 percent. She also averaged 1.9 assists and 1.1 steals while shooting 40.8 percent from the floor. But Steinkamp thinks the Dutch haven't unleashed her full offensive potential and wants to free her of floor general responsibilities.

"Emily is an unbelievable 3-point shooter," he said. "We want to be able to use her in a way we haven't in the past. Moving her off the ball will allow her to come off screens and also create space for everyone else. She's also a smart defensive player. She has good anticipation skills."

Allison Malaby, a 5-6 senior, is another returning starter on the perimeter. She averaged 5.8 points and 4.6 rebounds last year, while leading the team in steals with 1.8. A three-time letterwinner, she erupted for 21 points against Luther in 2015.

"We hope she can emerge and be one of the best perimeter defenders in the league," Steinkamp said. "I really like the energy and intensity she plays with. We're asking her to carry more of the offensive load this year. I like the way she can attack the rim."

Two-time letterwinner Kaitlyn Johnson, a 5-8 junior, also brings experience. She averaged 4.2 points and 2.0 rebounds with 1.4 assists in 25 games last year, starting 18. Johnson was Central's second-leading 3-point scorer with 31.

"Kaitlyn played some point guard last year but we hope to move her off the ball as well," Steinkamp said. "She's a really good 3-point shooter."

Kristin Hubert, a 5-5 junior guard, received the team's Most Improved Player Award in 2015-16 and played in 21 games last year.

"We really like her," Steinkamp said. "She can attack the rim off the dribble. She did a good job in the weight room and has improved her shot."

Jessica Nelson, a 5-10 sophomore, appeared in 13 games as a rookie.

"We hope she can help spread the floor with her 3-point shooting," Steinkamp said.

Maddi Hennessey, a 5-7 senior, appeared in four games last year, and can provide support as a small forward or power forward, Steinkamp said.

She's a vocal leader and a tough kid," he said.

Posts

Central has experience inside as well, starting with 5-11 senior Jackie Kriegel, a team leader. Kriegel averaged 7.0 points and 6.2 rebounds, shooting 45.9 percent from the floor. Numbers don't begin to measure her value to the team, Steinkamp said.

"I can't say enough about Jackie's leadership qualities," he said. "Everyone looks up to her and her toughness and energy rub off on the rest of the team."

Flashing great promise down the stretch was 6-0 sophomore Kendall Brown. She appeared in 24 games, averaging 4.7 points and 4.2 rebounds, while leading the team in blocked shots with 1.6. Brown shot 47.8 percent from the field and 78.8 percent from the free throw line.

"She showed some glimpses of great things last year," Steinkamp said. "I think she could surprise a lot of people. She can really run the floor and has great hands. I think she can be an offensive force in this conference if she continues to work hard."

Kriegel and Brown form a dynamic tandem.

"They both played the five (center) position last year, but we're going to look at more lineups where we can play them together," Steinkamp said.

Another experienced inside player, 5-10 senior Tina Lane, will see time as well. A three-time letterwinner, Lane appeared in 22 games last year, starting four.

"I can see Tina fitting in well in our system," Steinkamp said. "She's a versatile player who can play the four or the five position. I like her ability to pass the ball as a post player."

Emily Salvador, a 5-10 senior, has seen limited action but is looking to contribute.

"She's a skilled post player who can step out and shoot it," Steinkamp said.

A couple of freshmen are also forcing their way into the conversation.

It's an area where Steinkamp expects improvement.

"One of the team's biggest weaknesses last year was rebounding," he said. "This year it could be a strength. We've got some size up front and we've got some guards who are good rebounders."

Playing style

Steinkamp has an edge over most first-year coaches in having seen his players in action during league women's-men's doubleheaders while he served as men's assistant.

"We're more ahead of the game in terms of knowing what everyone can do," he said. "At the same time, you want to go in with an open mind and just try to figure out what their strengths are as individuals. Sometimes it's hard to know what a player will look like in another system."

Look for Steinkamp to ramp up the team's attack as well as last year's 62.2-point scoring average.

"We'll try to evaluate the true strengths of our players and play to those strengths," he said. "We want to pick up the pace and play a lot faster than the team has in the last 5-10 years. We want to use defense to pick up some transition baskets.

"Early on, we'll try a couple of different offensive packages and figure out what kind of actions best fit this group. Defensively, we'll go from playing exclusively zone to mixing it up." But there's work to do.

"In the past, we've been kind of a high-turnover, low-assist team," he said. "We really need to turn that around and be a team that can take care of the ball. We've also been a poor rebounding team, but I really think, with the personnel we have, it could be a strength."

The formula is simple, Steinkamp said, although the task is formidable.

"We came up with RED—rebounding, effort and defense," he said. "That's really what we want to hang our hat on. I think we can win a lot of games by being great in those three areas."

Schedule

How well those lessons are learned will be determined quickly as the Dutch tackle a challenging non-conference slate, highlighted by a pre-Christmas trip to the Cruzin' Classic in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where they take on Kalamazoo (Mich.) and Wis.-Whitewater.

"Our non-conference schedule will be a little tougher than the last few years," Steinkamp said. "It's a good balance."

Nationally ranked Wartburg gets the conference favorite nod, with Luther a potential NCAA tourney team as well, Steinkamp said. And the Dutch, tabbed for last in a preseason coaches' poll, have to journey to Decorah for an early conference opener at Luther Nov. 29.

"There are a lot of really good coaches in the league," Steinkamp said. "Every night will be a battle."

Schedule

Steinkamp said this year's squad can set the tone for the future of Central women's basketball.

"We want to get the mindset that we're a developing program where we're getting better every day," he said. "We need to really improve our skills and fundamentals on a daily basis. And we need to establish a defensive identity where it's hard to score on us on a nightly basis. I think the truly great teams at any level have two-way players who can play offensively and defensively. We're going to work hard to develop those two-way players."

It's a lengthy process, yet that doesn't mean the Dutch can't see early dividends.

"I think basketball is different than other sports in that there's so much momentum," Steinkamp said. "We've all seen teams come from different places and make runs late in the season. Our goal is to get better every day and to be playing our best basketball at the end of the year."

Eric Van Kley

Head coach

2009-10 Iowa Conference co-coach of the year

Eric Van Kley took over as Central's head wrestling coach in 2007 and is returning the program to national prominence.

Van Kley, who also became Central's athletics director in 2012, has guided the Dutch to five 10-dual win seasons since 2010. His 2015-16 squad sent four wrestlers to the NCAA Division III Championships for the first time since 1993 and finished 20th, its best national showing since 1993.

Starting with the 2017-18 season, Van Kley is serving a two-year term as president of the National Wrestling Coaches Association. He was previously named president-elect in 2015 and served two years as vice president. He's also in the second year of a four-year term as one of six members of the NCAA Division III Wrestling Committee.

In 2014-15, Van Kley propelled the Dutch into the NCAA Division III rankings for the first time in 20 years. The Dutch have sent at least one wrestler to the NCAA Division III national tournament each of the last seven years. Central wrestlers have also earned NWCA Scholar All-America distinction 12 times in the past three seasons.

Van Kley has compiled a 82-82-1 record, largely against some of the fiercest competition in Division III, despite inheriting a squad that compiled a 3-27-1 record in his first two seasons. He's 59-36 over the past five campaigns.

Van Kley was named the co-winner of the league coach of the year award in 2009-10 after piloting Central to its first winning season since 2000-01. Van Kley piloted the Central Region Coaching Staff of the Year in 2015-16.

A Rock Valley, Iowa native, Van Kley started the wrestling program at the University of Great Falls (Mont.) in 2004 and turned it into an NAIA title contender. He compiled a 28-13 dual meet record over three seasons and wrestlers earned NAIA all-America distinction 13 times with three top-10 national team finishes. In 2006-07 the Argos won the West Region championship and finished sixth at the NAIA national tournament. Van Kley was named the NAIA West Region coach of the year. His 2005-06 team received NAIA Top 10 academic distinction. Van Kley also served as the Great Falls athletics director in 2006-07, overseeing an 11-sport program, and was named the university's staff employee of the year.

Van Kley served three seasons as an assistant wrestling coach at The Dalles High School in Oregon before he spent a year as assistant coach for Division I Millersville University (Pa.) while also serving as Leadership Program Coordinator for the National Wrestling Coaches Association. He worked with a Millersville squad that won the Eastern Regional dual meet title and placed second at the Virginia Duals.

An honors graduate of Minnesota State-Mankato, Van Kley was a three-time letterwinner for the NCAA Division II program. He served as captain for the 2000 team which placed sixth at the national meet and was a two-time Scholastic All-America honoree, while receiving the team's Maverick Achievement Award. Van Kley earned a master's degree from Duquesne University (Pa.).

Van Kley is also heavily involved in the U.S. Cadet & Junior National Greco-Roman tournament. He served as head coach of the Iowa team in 2010-11, guiding the squad to a sixth-place finish, after previously serving as an assistant. He's coached in the tourney for seven years, including his time as a team director in Montana.

Van Kley and his wife Sarah are the parents of two sons and a daughter.

Kevin Donahue

Assistant coach

Former all-American Kevin Donahue joined the Central wrestling coaching staff as an assistant coach in 2011.

A 2011 Cornell College graduate, Donahue was a three-time NCAA all-American at 141 pounds. He placed fourth at the NCAA Division III championship meet twice and finished seventh in 2008-09. Donahue was also a two-time Iowa Conference champion. Compiling a 109-41 career record, Donahue ranks 10th on Cornell's career wins leaderboard. He helped the Rams post four top-20 NCAA finishes, including two in the top 10.

A Mechanicsville, Va. native, Donahue received Cornell's Paul K. Scott Senior Male Athlete of the Year Award. He was named the team's 2011 MVP and was a three-time recipient of the squad's Most Dedicated Wrestler Award. He also received the Most Improved Performer Award in 2009.

Donahue also coached at Rob Waller's All-American Wrestling Camp.

Bob Kuennen

Assistant coach

Bob Kuennen joined the Central wrestling coaching staff in 2009.

Kuennen, a 2006 Wartburg College graduate, was named a Scholar All-American by the National Wrestling Coaches Association and was an academic all-Iowa Conference honoree in 2006.

A Fort Atkinson, Iowa native, Kuennen also serves Central as educational talent search coordinator.

Joseph Atwell

Assistant coach

Former Central College wrestler Joseph Atwell joined the Dutch coaching staff as a volunteer assistant in 2014.

A 2013 Central graduate and four-year letterwinner for the Dutch, Atwell was an NCAA Division III national tourney qualifier in 2012 at 157 pounds. He won 87 matches in his Central career, registering at least 19 wins in each of his four seasons.

The Jamaica, Iowa native received the team's outstanding freshman award in 2010, the most outstanding performer award in 2012 and the Lawrence Award for outstanding work ethic in 2013.

Matt Diehl

Assistant coach

Matt Diehl joined the Central wrestling staff as an assistant in 1990. He served as the program's head coach from 1996-2004 and is now a volunteer assistant.

A former all-American for the Dutch, Diehl is a 1987 Central graduate. He received a master's degree in exercise and sport science at the University of Wis.-La Crosse, where he also spent a year as assistant coach.

Prior to returning to Central in 1991, Diehl was head coach at Iowa Falls High School for two years and was a junior high coach in Audubon for one year.

Diehl, an Osceola native, was a two-time NCAA Division III qualifier at 118 pounds, earning all-America honors and winning an Iowa Conference title in 1987, helping the Dutch place eighth in the nation.

Diehl and his wife Cathy are the parents of three sons and a daughter.

Daniel Page

Assistant coach

Former Central College wrestler Daniel Page joined the Dutch coaching staff as a volunteer assistant in 2015.

A 2015 Central graduate and four-year letterwinner for the Dutch, Page finished seventh at the NCAA Division III Championships in 2015 after qualifying in 2013 and 2014. He was named a 2015 NCAA Division III All-American in 2015 and all-Iowa Conference 2013-15.

The Tumwater, Wash. native received the team's outstanding freshman award in 2012, the most outstanding performer award in 2013, 2014 and 2015 and the Lawrence Award for outstanding work ethic in 2014 and 2015

Page was a team co-captain in 2015 and finished his career with a 103-40 record. He is just the 11th Central wrestler of all-time to reach 100 wins and the first since 2003.

Outlook

Early season results likely won't reflect it, but the 2017-18 campaign should represent yet another leap forward for the resurgent Central College wrestling program.

A 10-2 dual mark and an 18th-place effort on the NCAA Division III stage last year were again high-water marks in coach Eric Van Kley's Central successful tenure. That's a long hike from the 0-15-1 season he endured in 2007-08 when he inherited the program, a former national powerhouse. And it's felt like the Dutch have had to make the arduous trek on foot.

The pace of the ascent has finally accelerated, but the squad hasn't reached its destination, Van Kley stressed.

"I think our team definitely understands that just because last year was a special season, by no means was that the ceiling for our program," he said. "We see no reason why our program can't continue to grow and improve as a national contender and I think it will, with the youth and enthusiasm we have in the program and also the recruiting ties we've developed."

Yet the youthful lineup Van Kley will put on the mat in November will likely not resemble an NCAA power. There could be new faces at all five upper weights, along with the predictable growing pains.

But probe a little deeper and Van Kley's excitement is more understandable. Three national qualifiers return including two all-America honorees, both harboring national title hopes. C.J. Pestano (senior, Torrance, Calif.) was fourth in Division III at 125 pounds last year after placing second in 2016 while Cam Timok (junior, Glen Allen, Va., Hermitage HS) was fifth at 133 pounds and Daniel Radcliffe (sophomore, Lockport, Ill., Lockport Township HS) was a national qualifier at 141 pounds. There's also a deep and talented freshman class and a record 50-man roster, comfortably spread out in the enormous new P.H. Kuyper Gymnasium wrestling center.

"The depth and quality we have will be a huge asset for our lineup," Van Kley said. "More importantly, the day-to-day training these guys will get from each other in the room will be beneficial. We thought we'd be able to bring in a big class with the success we had last year and the excitement around the new wrestling center. Now it's a matter of developing that talent."

The new space, part of the $12-million building expansion, has accelerated the program's surge to the top.

"The new wrestling center was a huge shot in the arm for our program in terms of how we run practice, how we can train, the excitement the guys have and what it means to recruiting," Van Kley said. "It's as nice a wrestling center as there is in Division III and even compared with other levels. I think it's something that when recruits come and see, it's a statement about our commitment to wrestling and the future of Central's program."

It also allows the space needed to bring in large classes each year, with a focus on individual development.

"We see this year's team as the new norm in regard to depth and roster size," Van Kley said.

The Dutch will need to put development on the fast track this year but they'll lean hard on the lower weights for points the first couple of months.

"What's unique about this team is that we may be more of a tournament team at the beginning than a dual team," Van Kley said. "Last year was very balanced, which made for a good dual team. This year we've got some very heavy firepower at the lighter weights. But at the national tournament, we'll be as good or better."

125

There's no mystery at 125 pounds, where Pestano is among the nation's best. He was 32-5 last year with five falls and is 77-15 over three seasons. Pestano claimed three tournament titles last year, including the Division III Central Regional crown. And what Van Kley especially loves is that the two-time team MVP is also the two-time Lawrence Award winner as the team's hardest worker.

"When C.J. is at his best, he can beat anyone in the country," Van Kley said. "His goal is a national title. He was extremely close the last two years, finishing second and fourth, and he's excited to have one more opportunity."

Van Kley said there are keys to taking the next step.

"The biggest thing he needs to do is continue to work on his offense and be more versatile in ways he can score. When things get slowed down, he sometimes wrestles to the level of his opponent rather than stick with his offense."

133

Timok made a boisterous debut after transferring to Central. With a 25-8 mark, he captured three tournament titles before placing second at the regional and fifth nationally. He notched six falls and seven technical falls.

"We're extremely proud of how Cam finished the year," Van Kley said. "People forget he didn't wrestle for two years. But he really made progress and was wrestling his best at regionals and nationals. We see him continuing to build on that this year. He's stronger and he's grown in maturity in all areas.

"He's another guy with high aspirations. He's training to win a national title."

Timok is still developing a veteran's confidence.

"The difference between C.J. (Pestano) and Cam is that last year, Cam was just figuring out that he can wrestle with these guys," Van Kley said. "He got his first taste of success and I hope that makes him that much hungrier this year."

Radcliffe was an instant-impact performer last year, with a 30-10 mark and five falls. He won one tournament crown, then took third at the regional meet to earn his first NCAA trip.

"Daniel had a tremendous freshman year," Van Kley said. "He had taken a couple years off but he got much better as the season progressed. Now he's just got to work on his mat wrestling, both on top and bottom."

But he's not alone as 141 is one of Central's strongest weights. Focused on a banner senior season, Jahleel Vester (Oak Harbor, Wash.) is a three-time letterwinner coming off an 11-10 campaign and a pair of top-two tournament finishes.

"Jahleel is making a very strong commitment to finally getting a spot in the lineup," Van Kley said. "He won some big matches last year. I'm excited to see what opportunities he makes for himself."

Also forcing a look from Van Kley are sophomore Matthew Pool (Tucson, Ariz., Tucson Magnet HS) and junior Tristan Clark (Monroe, Prairie City-Monroe HS).

"They've both shown some positive signs," Van Kley said.

149

Junior Jordan Challen (Jefferson, Greene County HS) returns at 149 following an encouraging 23-12 season and three top-three tournament finishes with one title.

"Jordan had some really big wins last year, most notably against Luther and Coe," Van Kley said. "But he needs to work on consistency. There were too many down matches where he didn't wrestle his best."

He'll get a push from freshman Colin Baldwin (San Diego, Calif., Mira Mesa HS).

"He's showing a lot of potential," Van Kley said.

157

There's an opening at 157 pounds because last year's starter, Jeremy Vester (junior, Oak Harbor, Wash.), is jumping to 165 pounds. So sophomore Collin Groleau (Peru, Ill., LaSalle-Peru Township HS) will get the first look. He was 17-9 in primarily at-large opportunities as a rookie.

"Collin's a guy we see a lot of potential in," Van Kley said. "He had a really strong freshman season."

He'll get a challenge from freshman Blake Alegret-Proper (Tucson, Ariz., Marana HS), an Arizona state high school finalist.

Vester received the team's most improved performer award last year after recording a 22-9 mark with three top-two tournament finishes. He's a steady 34-16 over his first two seasons.

"I thought Jeremy Vester showed a lot of improvement last year," Van Kley said. "He got some big wins but he needs to be more consistent. But moving up a weight class will allow him to continue to lift and maintain his explosiveness. He's an unbelievable athlete who maintains excellent conditioning."

Freshman Chance Benadum (Dos Palos, Calif.), a California high school state qualifier, could help at 165 or 174.

174

An opening at 174 pounds allows Nathan Fritz (sophomore, Sigourney) to settle in at his natural weight class. He jumped to 184 to fill a hole as a rookie and responded with a capable 20-12 mark and seven falls last year.

"Nathan's a proven winner back at his preferred weight," Van Kley said.

It's a crowded class, however. Junior Jeremy Scheurmann (Jefferson, Greene County HS) was an NWCA Scholar All-American and posted a 13-6 record with five falls.

"Jeremy's shown some good things," Van Kley said.

Junior Lane Rumelhart (Guthrie Center) made significant strides after taking some hits as a freshman, rebounding to 12-11 as a sophomore.

"Lane has put in a tremendous amount of work in the off-season," Van Kley said.

Sophomore Christian Warner (Mesa, Ariz., Red Mountain HS), meanwhile, made a 7-13 debut.

"We feel good about the depth and talent we see at that weight," Van Kley said.

184

While Central is unproven at the upper weights, Van Kley is oozing enthusiasm and the wealth of young talent at 184 pounds is among the reasons why. There's perhaps even more potential than at 174.

Wayne Sommerlot (freshman, Pocahontas), a former state high school placemaker, transferred from the U.S. Naval Academy, and is eyeing a starting position. But he'll have to hold off yet another heralded recruit, Gavin Babcock (freshman, Altoona, Southeast Polk HS), a former state finalist, as well as Arizona state champion Michael Escobedo (freshman, Tucson, Ariz.)

"They're probably all going to see some time," Van Kley said. "We're excited about each of them."

Yet there's more. Sophomore John Ghibelin (Mount Morris, Ill., Oregon HS) is back after an injury-limited freshman season, along with sophomore Tanner Zimmerman (Indianola), who was 9-11.

"We've got four or five guys we hope can get the job done for us," Van Kley said.

"Even though we graduated a lot, (174 and 184) are weights we hope are the future of Central wrestling. This is the kind of depth we haven't had at these weights before."

197

It will take time for the 197-pound class to take shape. Sophomore Duncan Lee (Newton) has earned the early favorite tag. He was 11-13 as a rookie.

"Duncan did a good job in the opportunities he had last year and really put in a great off-season," Van Kley said. "He's worked hard to become stronger and mentally tougher."

Sophomore Joseph McIntyre (Hoffman Estates, Ill., Saint Viator HS) moves up a class after a 5-11 freshman season at 174. There's a decent chance someone in the crowded 184-pound field will jump as well.

285

Patience is needed at 285 pounds as well as the Dutch try to develop an answer. For now, it's wide open.

Junior Christopher Murino (Homer Glen, Ill., Lockport Township HS) is making a bid. He was 7-14 as a backup last year. Sophomore Holden Miller (Yelm, Wash.) is also contending.

They'll both be challenged by freshman Cody Wonderlich (Pleasant Hill, Southeast Polk HS), but not until his rookie season with the Central football team is completed in mid-November.

"They all have the opportunity to earn the spot," Van Kley said.

While Van Kley is confident that progress will come, competing in the Iowa Conference—arguably Division III's deepest—doesn't allow a young squad to ease into the season. Five league schools placed in the top-30 in the nation in March. Central was third in the league last year, its best showing since 1995 and Van Kley remains hopeful the Dutch won't slip from that perch.

"It's going to be interesting in the conference," he said. "There's more parity and more depth each year and night-in, night-out you're going up against a great lineup. But our goal is to finish in the top half, which should put us in the top 20 in the country."
