Craig Douma

Head coach

Named the Central men's basketball coach in 2012, Craig Douma (DOW-muh) has piloted the Dutch to two NCAA Division III tournament appearances.

His teams have captured two league tournament titles and one conference championship. Douma's 2015-16 squad became the first in conference history to win three straight road games in taking the league tournament championship as a No. 5 seed. It gave Central a conference record 11th NCAA tourney appearance overall. The Dutch were picked for last place in the league for the 2013-14 campaign, but he piloted the squad to a surprising championship, the program's 17th, and rolled to a 21-8 season.

Leading his team to an 8-3 mark in the conference tournament, the Dutch have played in four title games in his nine seasons. The team has posted a 109-112 (.493) record since his arrival. His players have been selected to the all-conference team 15 times, including Adam Flinn and Caden Mauck in 2020-21.

As a high school coach, Douma won eight conference titles and compiled a lofty 268-78 (.774) record over 15 seasons. At Carroll, he piloted state tournament squads in 2007, 2009 and 2010 and reached the substate round five times in six seasons. His teams claimed conference titles in 2007, 2008, 2010 and 2011 and he was the Class 3A Southwest District coach of the year in 2006-07. He reached the substate round five times in six years. In nine years at South O'Brien, Douma's squads were league champs in 2001, 2002, 2003 and 2004. He was the Class 2A Northwest District coach of the year in 2000-01.

Before becoming a high school coach, Douma spent the 1996-97 season as assistant coach at Northwestern. Douma is also known for working with thousands of young players through the Central Shooting Academy. He's helped lead the program each summer since 1998.

As a player, Douma is the third-leading scorer in Northwestern history with 2,276 points and is a member of the Red Raider Hall of Fame. He also received the Red Raider Coach of the Year Award following Central's 2013-14 championship season. Douma played in three NAIA Division II national tournaments, helping the Red Raiders finish second in 1992 and reach the final eight in 1994. The Nebraska-Iowa Athletic Conference player of the year in 1994, Douma was a second-team all-America pick in 1993 before earning first-team recognition in 1994, when he also served as Northwestern's team captain.

A Maurice-Orange City High School graduate, Douma was inducted into the Iowa High School Athletic Association players' hall of fame in 2009.

Obinna Agomo

Assistant coach

Obinna Agomo was named assistant men's basketball coach at Central in 2017.

During his four seasons at Central, he's helped the team advance to the conference tournament final in 2018 while coaching eight all-conference performers.

Agomo joined the Dutch staff after spending two seasons coaching with the Lisle (Ill.) High School boys' program. He also worked with the Chicago Bulls Youth Academy in Lisle.

A team captain at Greenville, Agomo was an all-St. Louis Intercollegiate Athletic Conference second-team selection. He was also an all-SLIAC defensive team pick in 2010 and 2011.

A four-year international career sent Agomo around the world, playing in 10 different countries on five different continents. Drafted 24th by the London Lightning of the National Basketball League of Canada in 2012, Agomo played for the Nigerian national team in 2013 and earned all-star recognition in Kosovo.

Agomo earned a bachelors degree in sports management from Greenville in 2011 and completed his masters degree in coaching from Greenville in 2018.

Jack Johnson

Assistant coach

Jack Johnson joined the Central men's basketball coaching staff in 2020.

Johnson coaches the junior varsity team and assists with the varsity squad.

A 2018 Buena Vista University graduate, Johnson served as assistant boys basketball coach at Garner-Hayfield-Ventura High School the previous two seasons, helping the varsity squad post a 28-12 mark. He piloted the junior varsity squad to a 33-7 record. He also served as a high school business teacher there.

Johnson is a Van Meter, Iowa native.

Outlook

Even with the return of four starters, there will be a different look to the Central College men's basketball team this year.

Coach Craig Douma is confident his club can improve on last year's 3-4 record in a 2020-21 season abbreviated by the global pandemic. That club surged at the finish, scoring an upset first-round conference tournament road victory to reach the league semifinals.

But the offensive heart of that team has graduated. Adam Flinn, who hit the game-winner in that league tournament win, averaged 20.6 points a game and the Dutch playing style will be reimagined without a ball-dominant point guard.

Yet Central's prospects received a boost when 6-foot-5 forward Caden Mauck (5th-year, Kansas City, Mo., Blue Springs South HS), a four-year regular and 2021 second-team American Rivers all-conference pick, opted to take the extra year of eligibility the NCAA granted all players last season due to the pandemic.

Central gets a further lift with the healthy return of 6-5 forward Keaton Rodgers (junior, Peoria, Ariz., Sandra Day O'Connor HS), who appeared in just three games last year before being sidelined by injury.

Douma said the offense will come from multiple directions this year.

"We've got to be really balanced," he said. "You want five guys in double figures and it truly will be a different guy every night. That's a whole different thing than we've had the last couple of years when we knew Adam (Flinn) was getting 20 a game. We don't necessarily have that but we have guys that can create their own shots but it will be a big-time team effort. Sharing the basketball will be very important."

And Douma sees the potential for a stronger defensive club.

"Fundamentally, our defense and our length on the floor are substantially different this year," he said. "I think we understand things more and are going to be better defensively. It's a mindset and rebounding is also a mindset. You've got to take pride and get it done every single possession."

Those areas, in fact, are critical, he said.

"Defense and rebounding will determine the success of this basketball team," Douma said. "We can score but we may, at times, have a tough time offensively so we cannot ever let down defensively. And the better defense we play, the better we're going to score, too."

Douma is still sorting out lineup decisions but envisions a deep rotation.

"I see us going around nine or 10 players," he said. "I think we have the ability to do that this year, which is nice. You're seeing it in practice, there's no drop-off. When we have our team split in half, it's a battle."

One thing that will remain consistent is Central's rapid pace.

"We want to play up-tempo," Douma said. "We want to play off our defense and really play fast, especially off missed baskets. We've got to create easier shot opportunities for ourselves so we're emphasizing the transition side of basketball."

Guards

Drew Edwards (junior, Eden Prairie, Minn.) was the team's defensive player of the year last season and his role as point guard will receive more emphasis in Flinn's absence. He averaged 5.0 points, 3.3 rebounds and 3.2 assists as a part-time starter last year.

"We really liked what he did last year," Douma said. "He's a hard-nosed, tough defensive type of guy who really takes care of the ball and gets the team into what we want them to do. He's what you want in a point guard, kind of a coach on the floor."

A 6-4 sophomore, Kaleb Brand (Mount Vernon) will also spend time at point guard after a short season with the junior varsity.

"Wheat's great about Kaleb is he takes care of the ball so well," Douma said. "He's really good defensively because of his length."

Jake Anderson (senior, Iowa City, West HS), at 6-0, is a three-time letterwinner.

"He's just a headsy, fundamental player that can run a team," Douma said.

Also back is 5-9 senior Ajani Rodriguez (Algonquin, Ill., Harry D. Jacobs HS).

Douma is looking at several players at off guard and small forward, which are largely interchangeable in the Dutch offense. Brand is an option as are 6-2 junior transfer Jalen Wilmington (Chicago, Ill., Crete Monee) and 6-3 sophomore Noah Erickson (Mount Vernon).

"We're excited about Jalen's athleticism and what he brings on both ends of the floor," Douma said. "Noah has some length. He's a very defensive-minded guy and shoots pretty well."

Nick McColgan (senior, Western Springs, Ill., Lyons Township HS), at 5-11, is a three-time letterwinner, seeing action off the bench.

"He's a very good shooter, a good catch-and-shoot guy," Douma said. "He's a very smart player who understands the game very well."

Last year's Most Improved Player Award winner, 6-3 sophomore Sam Beatty (Mount Pleasant), started at small forward last year, averaging 12.1 points and 3.9 rebounds, with an 18-point outing at Buena Vista March 11. He shot a solid 52.5% from the floor.

"We'd really love to have Sam step up his leadership," Douma said. "We're excited about what he can do. He's developed his outside shot a lot more but he's still a very explosive player who can use his athleticism to get to the basket. He has a good defensive mindset, too. He's a good defensive player and he wants to be a great one."

Defense and effort come in abundance with 6-1 senior Kade Terrell (Montrose, Colo.), a two-time team Hustle Award winner. He averaged 3.1 points off the bench last year.

"He can play both the two and the three position," Douma said. "He's kind of a three-and-D-type guy. Defensively, it's more his hustle. He brings energy to the floor and having that little shot to the arm is what we need sometimes.

Also at the wing is 6-2 Nolan Brand (sophomore, Mount Vernon), up from the junior varsity.

Power forward/center

Mauck can play either the four or five position. A team co-captain last year, he averaged 11.9 points and 8.4 rebounds. He's posted 15 career double-doubles, twice scoring 28 points.

"Caden is just a very fundamental player," Douma said. "He's very good around the basket and has been shooting the ball very well in the preseason. We're excited about what that can translate to during the season.

"He's never really had a fully healthy season. We're hoping we can keep him healthy this year."

"After a promising freshman season, 6-5 sophomore Kole Tupa (Center Point, Center Point-Urbana HS) will primarily play at forward but could even play off guard. He averaged 8.4 points and 4.6 rebounds, shooting a team-best 54.3% from the field. Tupa was the team's Newcomer of the Year Award recipient.

"Kole got valuable playing time last year as a freshman," Douma said. "He's a coach's son and brings a high basketball IQ. He's a hustler. He's got guard-type skills yet he's got great post skills as well. He's got a good inside-outside game."

Having Rodgers back is a lift. He averaged 8.3 points in a little over two games last year after scoring 6.5 as a freshman. He'll spend most of his time in the post.

"He could play some four, too," Douma said. "He's a very versatile player. He's a very athletic, strong kid. I think he's really stepped up his leadership skills. He does a good job of using his enthusiasm and has learned how to channel it the right way."

Also at power forward is 6-4 junior Brandon Annegers (Stronghurst, Ill., West Central HS), another player with junior varsity experience.

Douma is excited about the potential of a true post, 6-10 sophomore Josh Van Gorp (Pella, Pella Christian HS). He appeared in all seven games in a limited role last year.

"He got a great opportunity to at least get his feet wet at the varsity level as a freshman," Douma said. "We think he'll be even better this year. He's bigger and stronger and moves pretty well for a big man. He's a guy we know can help impact the game on both ends of the floor. We see it in practice right now. It's hard to slow him down."

Having a bigger post won't alter Central's up-tempo style.

"We're still going to play fast," Douma said. "Josh can run the floor."

The schedule

The talent level is rising in the American Rivers, Douma said, particularly with the high number of fifth-year players this year.

"It's easy to say this but I do think, top to bottom, the league is the best it's ever been," he said. "There won't be a night off. There's going to be more and more parity."

The non-conference slate concludes with a Dec. 29-30 trek to the Hope College (Mich.) RDV Tournament at Orlando, Florida. The Dutch will take on traditional Division III power Hope along with North Central College (Ill.).

"We're excited about the opportunity to go to Florida and play two really good teams," Douma said. "Hope and North Central will give us real true tests going into the rest of the conference season. They will challenge us big-time. We'll have to play well but it's also a fun opportunity for the players to see Orlando."
