THE FREEMAN CENTER

The Freeman Center, opened in 2000, serves as the home of Christopher Newport University's volleyball, basketball, and indoor track & field programs. In addition to the 2,500-seat arena, the building also houses the administrative and coaches' wing of the athletic department and features a practice gym, workout facility, student lounge, and state-of-the-art theater.

HOME OF THE Captains

A four-year public institution, Christopher Newport University enrolls 5,000 students in rigorous academic programs while offering great teaching and small class sizes as well as an emphasis on leadership, civic engagement and honor.

Continually recognized by national publications, Christopher Newport has earned high honors from around the country. U.S. News & World Report ranked CNU as the No. 3 Up-And-Coming Regional University. The Princeton Review also named CNU's residence halls as the top in the nation among public schools, while Kiplinger's selected the university as one of the "Best Values" in the country.

CNU BASKETBALL OFF THE COURT

Aiming to succeed both on and off the court, the Captains are closely connected to the local community and focused in the classroom as well.

The men's basketball team, under the guidance of assistant coach Roland Ross, is in its fourth year of S.L.A.M. (Students-Leaders-Athletes-Mentors), a program that uses basketball as the vehicle for mentorship to local at-risk 5th graders. The team also participates in VICTORY, Kid's First, Food for Thought, Fear2Freedom, and many others.

Along with their community outreach efforts, the Captains have also excelled in the classroom. Six basketball Captains were recognized for achieving over a 3.2 GPA last fall, and every senior to play for Coach K has received their diploma.

COSTA RICA 2014

Last summer, the CNU basketball team traveled to Costa Rica for three exhibition games. While in the Central American country, the Captains not only had the chance to enjoy many exhilarating opportunities for themselves, like white-water rafting, hiking volcanos and surfing the Pacific Ocean, but were also given the chance to experience a rich and vibrant culture. The CNU coaches and players volunteered at a local community center in Costa Rica, and came away with life-long memories and stories to tell for years to come.

PERSONAL

Full Name	John Powers Krikorian
Birthdate	September 14, 1974
Hometown	Auburn, Mass.
Family	Wife, Emily; Daughters, Lillian, Katherine; Son, Jack

John Krikorian recently completed his fifth season leading the Captains of Christopher Newport University. He has continued the program's remarkable success since taking over from C.J. Woollum, and won his 100th game on the CNU sideline in a road win at Penn State Harrisburg on February 21st, 2015.

Krikorian's Captains have won at least 18 games per season, and have now advanced to the Capital Athletic Conference Championship game the last two years. CNU finished 20-8 in 2014-15 after going 19-9 in 2013-2014. Krikorian's squads won the USA South regular-season and tournament championships the last two years of membership, and advanced to the NCAA Tournament in back-to-back seasons.

Christopher Newport was 22-6 in 2013-14 and defeated Rutgers-Newark in the NCAA Tournament for the first post-season win at CNU since 2001. The Captains finished 23-5 overall and 12-0 in the USA South in 2011-12 under Krikorian, going to the NCAA Tournament in just his second season at the helm. He was honored as the USA South Coach of the Year.

Krikorian, who enjoyed a very successful four-year stint at the United States Merchant Marine Academy, became just the fourth men's coach in CNU's history on June 14, 2010. He stepped in and quickly made his mark. The Captains almost immediately took on many of the characteristics of their new head coach. They worked hard, played a scrappy style, and soon started winning plenty of games.

In Krikorian's first year at CNU in 2010-2011, the Captains finished 18-9 overall and 9-3 in the USA South Athletic Conference. A native of Auburn, Massachusetts, "Coach K" compiled a record of 65-42 (.607) at the Merchant Marine Academy, and led the squad to a 24-5 record his last season there in 2009-2010. The Mariners won the Landmark Conference regular-season and post-season championships that year and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. He was named the 2010 Landmark Conference Coach of the Year.

During his tenure at the Merchant Marine Academy, Krikorian transformed the program and put particular focus on defense. He improved one of the lowest-rated scoring defenses in the nation to the #4 scoring defense in the country in his last season.

His squads showed steady improvement, especially in conference play, as the Mariners went 10-4 and 12-2 the last two seasons in the Landmark Conference.

Krikorian's journey to CNU began with a passion for basketball from an early age, and a tremendous work ethic on the court as an athlete and in the classroom as a student. He earned a bachelor's degree in Systems Engineering in 1996 from the University of Pennsylvania, where he played on the junior varsity basketball team coached by Steve Donahue, who is now the head coach of the varsity program.

HEAD COACH JOHN KRIKORIAN

Krikorian played as a sophomore and junior on the Penn JV squad, and then became a student assistant at Penn during his senior season, his first taste of coaching hoops.

Following his college days, Krikorian spent two years in the business world working for Princeton Consultants, an information management company in Princeton, New Jersey.

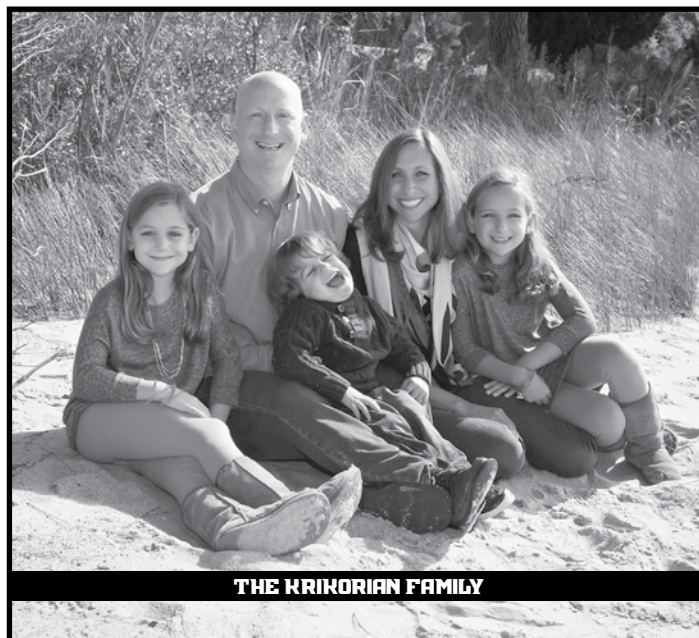

In 1998, Krikorian returned to his passion and accepted the position of graduate assistant basketball coach at West Virginia Wesleyan College. What followed was a steady climb up the ladder of the college coaching ranks.

After one season at West Virginia Wesleyan, "Coach K" made his first stop at the Merchant Marine Academy as an assistant coach under Billy Lange during the 1999-2000 season.

After a season there, he returned to his alma mater for two seasons, working as an assistant at Penn under Fran Dunphy. There he would be a part of one of the nation's biggest turnarounds as the Quakers won 25 games in 2001.

Krikorian then accepted an assistant position at another Division I program, Lafayette College in Easton, PA. There he assisted Fran O'Hanlon from 2002-2004.

His journey then took him to Annapolis, MD, where he spent two years as an assistant at the United States Naval Academy (2004-2006)... re-uniting with head coach Billy Lange. His time at Navy came to an end when he was named the head coach at the U.S. Merchant

THE KRIKORIAN FAMILY

Marine Academy in 2006, beginning his head coaching career with an amazing four-year transformation of the Mariners.

Krikorian's 17-year coaching resume now includes six seasons as an NCAA Division I assistant and nine as a Division III head coach. Krikorian and his wife, Emily, reside in Newport News with their three children...daughters, Lillian Grace and Katherine Rose...and son, Jack.

ASSISTANT COACHES

ASSISTANT COACH
JARREN DYSON
EMORY & HENRY, '10
3RD SEASON AT CNU

Jarren Dyson is back on the CNU sideline for his third year as an assistant coach with the Christopher Newport men's basketball team. Prior to joining the CNU coaching staff, he served as an assistant at Tabb High School for two years and led the Tigers to the state quarterfinals during each of his two seasons on the staff.

A 2010 graduate of Emory & Henry, Dyson was a four-year starter for the Wasps and served as a captain for two seasons. During his decorated career, he set a program record for most consecutive free throws made to start a season. He also ranks fourth all-time in school history in assists.

A native of Yorktown, Dyson was a standout member of the Tabb High School basketball team. During his time with the Tigers, he earned second-team All-State honors after leading Tabb to a state quarterfinal berth in 2006.

ASSISTANT COACH
TYLER GRAHAM
SOUTH CAROLINA, '13
1ST SEASON AT CNU

Tyler joined the staff for his first season as a part-time assistant coach while also finishing up a Master of Education Degree in Sport Leadership from Virginia Commonwealth University.

Last year, while working toward his master's degree, Graham was an assistant basketball coach and athletics intern at Saint Gertrude High School in Richmond, Va.

Prior to enrolling in graduate school, Tyler interned with the Women's Basketball Program at Marist College in Poughkeepsie, N.Y. under the tutelage of Brian Giorgis. That experience completed Graham's requirement to graduate from the University of South Carolina with a degree in Sport Management and a minor in coaching.

ASSISTANT COACH
ROLAND ROSS
CHRISTOPHER NEWPORT, '89
32ND SEASON AT CNU

Roland Ross returns to the CNU sideline in 2015-2016 for his 32nd season and has the distinction of being the only individual with ties to all four CNU men's basketball coaches in history.

Ross played four seasons as a student at CNU for Bev Vaughan and Glenn Russell. He then began his coaching career with Russell and stayed on staff as C.J. Woollum took over the program, in what became a 26-year partnership that produced 17 NCAA Tournament teams, and 13 conference champions.

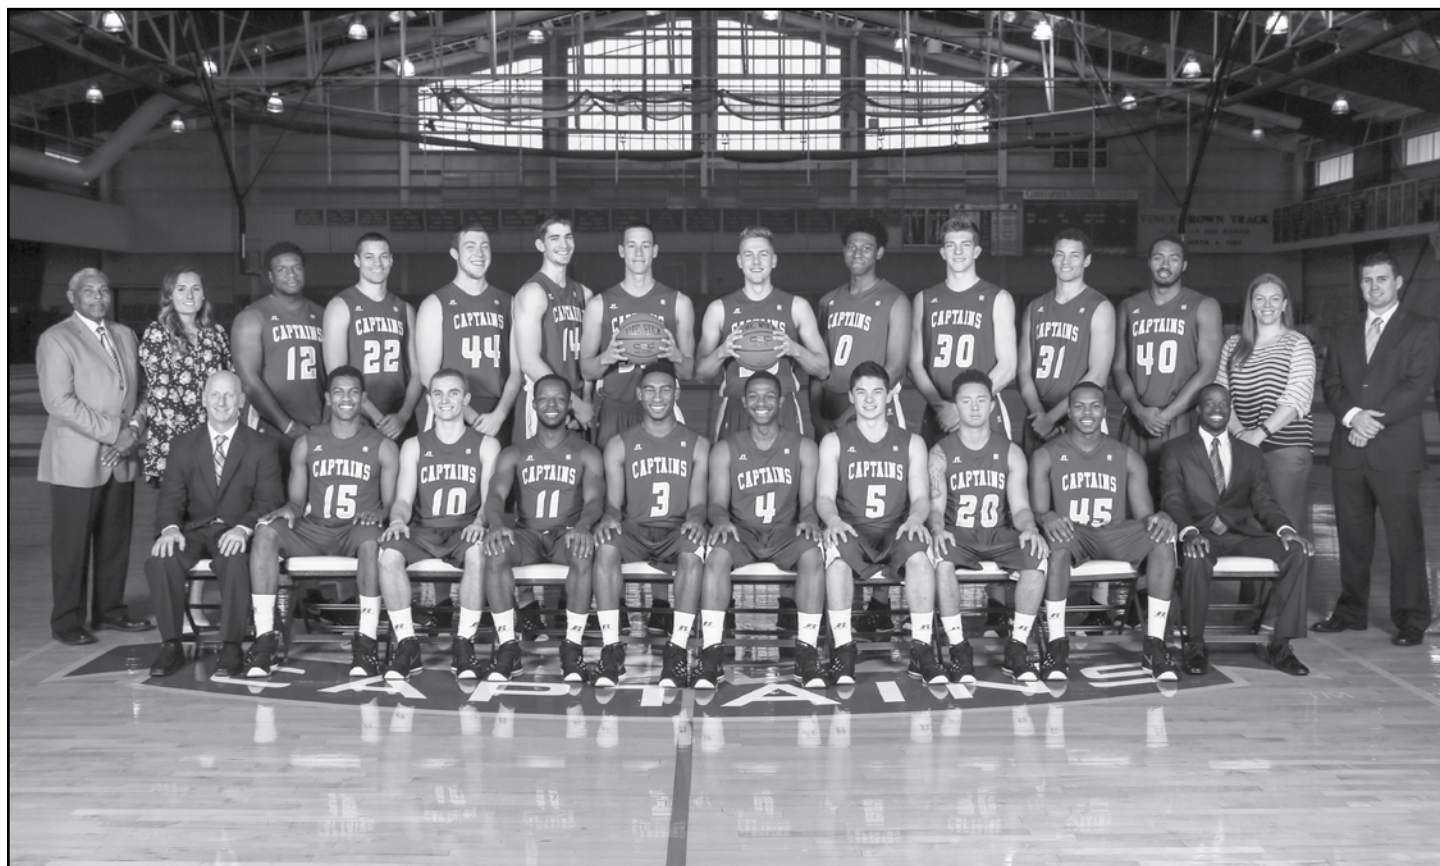

Ross has been at the forefront of bringing some of the best talent in Division III to Christopher Newport. He has recruited and coached nine All-Americans as well as 11 players who have gone on to play professionally. During his 31 seasons on the bench, CNU teams have posted an overall record of 627 wins and 289 losses.

Ross also serves as CNU athletics' Director of Community Outreach. He has organized dozens of student-athlete efforts to improve the lives of thousands in the local community.

Earlier this year, Ross was honored as the first recipient of the C.J. Woollum Distinguished Service Award.

2015-16 SEASON PREVIEW

As the Christopher Newport University men's basketball program heads into the 2015-16 season, head coach John Krikorian sat down to discuss his squad, look back at last season, and look ahead to the upcoming campaign.

Q) As you prepare for another new season, your sixth season at the helm, how would you characterize the state of the program heading into 2015-16?

A) I believe this program has taken steps forward each of the last five years and I expect that to continue. We have an experienced group of young men who have their priorities in order. We've seen a tremendous amount of growth in each of our returners and it appears this group really cares about each other. They are excellent citizens and ambassadors of Christopher Newport University and we are really looking forward to our journey together this season.

Q) This is your biggest returning group ever...it must be a tremendous advantage to start pre-season camp with so much experience?

A) Absolutely. All 15 potential returners are back, and they've all gotten stronger and improved their skills. They are leading our drills and leading each other. I have no idea exactly how that will translate in terms of results, but it has allowed us to move forward in our season preparation more quickly than any season I can remember.

Q) Losing a senior like Mike Cherry will leave a hole in your lineup...who can you look to fill the void?

A) Mike was not only one of the greatest scorers in CNU history, he was the captain of our defense, and one of our hardest workers. However, we do have several excellent returning guards who will look to increase their role at both ends of the court. Juniors Kevin Regimbal and Rayshard Brown have a lot of experience, and I anticipate that sophomores Logan Miller, Aaron McFarland, and Marcus Carter, along with Freshman Tyler Femi will all contribute in their own way to help fill that void.

Q) What will be the biggest challenge for this squad to improve upon over last season?

A) As always, we must strive to be a more consistent defensive and rebounding team. We finished second in the conference in a number of key statistical areas last season, and we need to be first. I'm also hoping we can be a little more efficient on offense in terms of execution, especially in late game situations. Often that comes with experience, so I am optimistic we can take a step forward with so many returning players.

Q) Marcus Carter had an amazing freshman campaign...how does he avoid a sophomore slump?

A) When the most talented players are the hardest workers, a team can maximize it's potential. We have been very fortunate as a program to have had that recently with Tra Benefield and Mike Cherry, and Marcus Carter is no different. While the sophomore slump can be real, its impact can usually be negated with hard work and humility. Marcus has both.

MARCUS CARTER

KEVIN REGIMBAL

Q) How will seniors Hunter Wetherell and Connor Laframboise take over the leadership of the squad?

A) Hunter and Connor have been with us for four years, and have never wavered in their commitment to the standards of our program. Their impact both on and off the court has been excellent, and I believe they will thrive in their roles as seniors. Additionally, I believe our junior class will assist and complement them. In essence, we have eight guys I feel have senior leadership maturity, which should really help Hunter and Connor put their stamp on this program.

Q) With three newcomers, and so many returners, how do the new guys work their way into the rotation?

A) In an established program, it should be difficult for newcomers to step in right away. Tyler, Quad, and Nate have really impressed us with their talent, work ethic, and willingness to learn. Once the speed of the college game slows down for them, they will all contribute in their own way this season.

Q) It looks like the CAC could be a bit less balanced this year with three or four really good teams at the top....do you think there's a clear line?

A) I have to disagree with you. I think the CAC may be as balanced as it has been in recent years. I can see several teams that have been building over the last couple of years taking significant steps forward. And I expect the teams at the top of the league to once again be competitive nationally.

Q) Your non-conference schedule looks to be very tough as usual, would it be fair to say there's no cupcake to be seen?

A) Absolutely correct. We will play five ODAC teams, including three of the top four pre-season favorites. And Pitt-Greensburg, Scranton, and Stevenson are all NCAA caliber teams this season. This level of competition should help us prepare to play at a high level every night, which is a must in the CAC.

2014-15 SEASON REVIEW

The Christopher Newport University men's basketball team posted another successful season in 2013-14, finishing with a record of 19-9 overall and a 9-7 mark in the first year of membership in the Capital Athletic Conference. CNU advanced to the CAC Championship Game following two post-season wins at Salisbury and Wesley, but fell at Mary Washington in the title game to conclude the season.

The Captains were led by a fantastic senior in Tre Benefield, who paced the squad by averaging 17.8 points and 7.4 rebounds per game. Benefield either led the squad or tied for the lead in scoring in 16 of 28 games, and finished his career as the fifth all-time scorer in CNU men's basketball history.

In addition to Benefield, Christopher Newport had a solid mix of veterans and young players. Fellow senior Luc Atangana and junior Mike Cherry were complemented by a strong sophomore class that included Evan Thorpe, Connor Laframboise, and Hunter Wetherell. CNU also saw the rise of two freshmen, Tim Daly and Rayshard Brown, who steadily improved as the year progressed.

The season included two outstanding non-conference wins, as the Captains beat Randolph-Macon for the second straight year (84-83 in Ashland) and ended a long losing streak against Virginia Wesleyan with an 83-80 overtime win in Norfolk. The triumph was the first ever for CNU at the Batten Center.

CNU opened the year with three straight wins, and then following a loss to Emory embarked on a seven-game winning streak. The Captains found themselves with a 10-1 record through 11 games, with five of the victories coming on the road.

Following a rough span in January that saw CNU lose three straight and four out of six, the Captains bounced back and got on track in time for the post-season. Christopher Newport won three of its final four games in February to finish the regular season with a 17-8 record and a #5 seed in the CAC post-season tournament.

Benefield, who was named team Captain by Coach John Krikorian, was named to the National Team of the Week by D3hoops.com following a 30-point performance at Virginia Wesleyan. Benefield was the 28th player in CNU history to go over the 1,000-point mark, and concluded his career with 1,794 points in 106 games (16.9 point per game average for his career). He finished fifth on the all-time scoring list (27 points behind Conley Taylor for fourth place all-time). Benefield had been named pre-season All-American by d3hoops.com.

Junior guard Mike Cherry became the 29th player in CNU history to reach 1,000 points for his career on January 25th at Frostburg State. Cherry has scored 1,151 points in 84 games as a Captain (13.7 per game) and is 18th on the scoring list, 50 points behind Terry Gray for 17th place all-time.

Christopher Newport again was especially tough in 2013-14 in the friendly confines of the Freeman Center, where they were 10-3 for the season. CNU is now 49-9 (.845) at home over the last four seasons.

Head Coach John Krikorian recorded his fourth straight winning season since taking over the Captains. Krikorian has now posted season records of 18-9, 23-5, 22-6, and 19-9. His career mark at CNU is now 82-29 for a winning percentage of .739.

The success of the 2013-14 Captains will hopefully continue the upward surge of the program as CNU heads into the 2014-15 campaign.

CAPITAL ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

Formed in 1989, this 10-member coalition of four-year, co-educational institutions promotes intercollegiate athletic competition among schools located in close geographic proximity that have similar educational and athletic philosophies. The Capital Athletic Conference (CAC) strives to develop a harmony of good feeling and a spirit of competitive sportsmanship, fellowship, and uniformity of practice among member institutions. Conference members are required to operate their intercollegiate athletic programs under the highest ethical standards and to maintain a program consistent with the overall educational philosophy of the member institutions.

Charter members were: The Catholic University of America, Gallaudet University, Mary Washington College, Marymount University, St. Mary's College of Maryland, and York College of Pennsylvania.

Since its inception, the CAC accepted Salisbury's membership in 1993, while Wesley joined in January, 2006. Recently, the conference has seen continued growth with Frostburg State joining in 2010 before the latest additions in 2013. Christopher Newport, Penn State Harrisburg, and Southern Virginia all accepted membership and began competing in the CAC for the first time during the 2013-14 athletic year.

The first president of the conference was Bill Finney of Marymount University. In June 1993, Richard C. Cook was appointed as the first commissioner. In January 2008, Tom Byrnes was selected to serve as the first full-time commissioner with the dual role of conference sports information director.

In 1991-92, the first Conference All-Sports Award, given annually to the Conference institution that accumulates the most points toward the "total" athletic program, was awarded to Mary Washington College. In June 2007, the Board of Directors added a "Men's Commissioner's Award" and a "Women's Commissioner's Award" to promote the best men's and women's programs in the conference in addition to the overall best program. In December 2007, the all-sports honor was re-named the "Richard C. Cook All-Sports Award" in recognition of the 15 years of service by the retiring commissioner.

Throughout the years, the Conference has produced hundreds of All-American athletes and has had many teams and individuals participate in NCAA Championship events.

CHRISTOPHER NEWPORT UNIVERSITY

Christopher Newport University is a young institution, but our formidable reputation is growing fast thanks to our commitment to the principles of liberal learning and our dedication to the ideals of scholarship, leadership and service. CNU is now listed 18th among all regional universities in the South and seventh among public regional universities in the South by U.S. News and World Report.

Academic programs at CNU encompass more than 80 areas of study, from biology to business administration and political science to the performing arts, offering you a broad choice of paths to choose from on your educational journey. Our 5,000 students are taught by distinguished professors in small classes, take advantage of world-class amenities, and participate in our many student activities, volunteer organizations and athletics. With so many options and opportunities, the horizon is wide open.

Here on our 260-acre campus in Newport News, Virginia, you'll find boundless energy and magnificent facilities few schools can rival -- including a new library, an arts center designed by the firm of internationally renowned architect I.M. Pei and best-in-class residence halls students tell us they miss when they leave. The adventure continues with some of the nation's most significant historic sites -- as well as some of its most beautiful beaches -- within easy reach of campus.

1. LOCATION

CNU's 260-acre campus is located in the heart of one the nation's most historic - and beautiful - areas and sits just a short drive from Williamsburg and Virginia Beach.

CNU ADMINISTRATION

PRESIDENT

Paul S. Tribble, Jr.

Under President Paul S. Tribble's leadership, Christopher Newport University has become a university of choice for high-ability students from throughout Virginia and beyond. Since his appointment as University President on Jan. 2, 1996, applications have risen by more than 700 percent and the campus has been transformed by nearly $1 billion in capital construction.

Tribble has overseen significant improvements in the academic programs offered at CNU and is committed to providing a high-quality liberal arts education that stimulates intellectual inquiry and fosters social and civic engagement. His visionary leadership has moved CNU into the ranks of the finest preeminent liberal arts colleges in the nation.

Since his first day as President, Tribble has made himself accessible to students, faculty and the local community. His office's open door policy invites all students to bring their stories of success and their concerns directly to him. To express his unrivaled passion for CNU academics and athletics, Tribble frequently converses with students around campus and cheers on CNU's sports teams from the bleachers.

Tribble earned his bachelor of arts degree from Hampden-Sydney College and his law degree from Washington and Lee University. He served as a commonwealth's attorney of Essex County from 1974 to 1976. He represented the commonwealth of Virginia in the U.S. House of Representatives from 1977 to 1983 and in the U.S. Senate from 1983 to 1989.

He was a member of the United States Delegation to the United Nations in 1988 and a teaching fellow at the Institute of Politics, John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University in 1989.

He is married to Rosemary Dunaway Tribble and has two children, Mary Katherine Tribble Peters and Paul S. Tribble III.

He also works closely with the office of alumni relations to create engagement opportunities for CNU's athletic programs and oversees the university's athletic communications department and trademarks licensing program.

In addition to his other duties, McMullin has sport oversight for men's and women's basketball, baseball, tennis, track & field, cross country, men's lacrosse, golf, and sailing.

Prior to his time at CNU, McMullin spent three years with ISP Sports at the University of Cincinnati to grow revenue by building relations with corporate sponsors of UC athletics. He later moved on to Villanova University to assist ISP Sports with their corporate sponsorship program.

A 2004 graduate of the University of Richmond, McMullin is a native of Blacksburg, Virginia and resides in Newport News with his wife, Lynn, and their daughter, Caroline.

EDUCATING TOMORROW'S LEADERS

When former U.S. Senator Paul Tribble became president of Christopher Newport University in 1996, he challenged his new colleagues to build a great university for America. "We are not interested in incremental progress. We are in the business of dramatic transformation. Everything we do will be done at the highest levels of excellence, and with the help of a lot of wonderful people, CNU will become one of America's pre-eminent public liberal arts and sciences universities."

Few schools have come so far so quickly. Since President Tribble's arrival, the number of admission applications and the academic profile of the incoming freshman class have soared. This year CNU received nearly 8,000 applications for a freshman class of 1,200.

CNU offers great teaching and small classes. Hundreds of full-time faculty, drawn from the most respected graduate programs in the country, have been added, and there are no large sections or teaching assistants.

More than $1 billion in capital construction has been completed, and CNU has built a spectacularly beautiful campus with world-class facilities. "Our job is to instruct and inspire, and nothing does that more powerfully than great architecture," Tribble says. "We want our students to have great dreams for their lives and for this country."

The reach and reputation of CNU is spreading. Kiplinger's and The Princeton Review include the University among the best values in higher education. U.S. News & World Report ranks CNU among the top public regional universities in the South and as a school to watch for making "the most promising and innovative changes in the areas of academics, faculty, student life, campus and facilities." Christopher Newport is also the only public institution in the nation to earn a perfect "A" from the American Council of Trustees and Alumni for the strength of its curriculum.

Christopher Newport is not a place for spectators. The academics are demanding, and students are expected to actively engage, both in class and outside of the classroom. There are more than 200 officially recognized clubs, organizations and activities from which to choose. That's a remarkable number for a school of 5,000 students.

In all things, the University emphasizes the importance of leadership, honor and civic engagement. The study of leadership is available to all students, and nearly 25 percent of CNU's students participate in the President's Leadership Program. This program combines rigorous academic courses that lead to a minor in leadership studies with community service, foreign study, outdoor adventure, and speakers who have led lives of success and significance.

"We want our students to become good citizens and leaders who possess a passion for engagement, a commitment to excellence and a powerful sense of their responsibility for making the world a better place. We want our students to lead, serve, love and set the world on fire."
