DOUG DERRAUGH '91

Fourth Year at Cornell

Cornell '91

Head Women's Hockey Coach

Doug Derraugh has rejuvenated the Cornell women's ice hockey program as he enters his fourth year at the helm for the Big Red. Last season, he helped the Big Red collect 12 wins, which was a program best since the 1999-2000 campaign. Derraugh, a 1991 graduate of Cornell, assumed the role of head coach for the Big Red prior to the 2005-06 season.

The 2007-08 season saw the Big Red reemerge as a formidable ECAC Hockey and Ivy League opponent. Cornell notched a 12-17-1 overall record and held a 9-12-1 conference mark. Derraugh helped the Big Red move up four spots to finish eighth in ECAC Hockey and earn a playoff spot for the first time since 2003-04. Under Derraugh's tutelage, freshman Rebecca Johnston became the first Big Red player to be named ECAC Hockey Rookie of the Year and was the first Cornelian to be named first team all-league. She also earned All-Ivy honors and was Ivy League Rookie of the Year. With 32 points (16-16—32), Johnston joined senior Caeleigh Beerworth (12-18—30) as the first Big Red players to score over 30 points since the 1997-98 campaign.

Bringing a new energy to the team, Derraugh was instrumental in the team's turnaround his first season. The squad tripled its win total from the previous season and scored 12 more goals, allowed 18 fewer, and recorded 34 more points than during the 2004-05 campaign.

Derraugh played in all 119 contests for the Big Red in his four seasons, helping lead Cornell to an NCAA tournament appearance and a second-place finish in the ECAC as a senior co-captain. He led the team in scoring in his final season with 30 goals and 36 assists en route to earning second-team All-Ivy and honorable mention All-ECAC honors. The winner of the team's Nicky Bawlf team MVP and the Ironman Award for determination to overcome injuries, Derraugh's 30 goals are the most ever scored by a senior at Cornell. Overall, he ranks 10th in career scoring for the Big Red with 153 points (66 goals, 87 assists).

After graduation, the former Big Red star spent 13 years playing professionally overseas, seeing action with nine different teams and played in some of the top leagues in Norway, Germany, Austria and Finland. He scored more than 100 points in a season twice and posted 30 or more points 10 times. Derraugh ended his career with 257 goals and 347 assists in 637 professional contests. In his final professional season, Derraugh served as special teams coach for his team.

The native of Arnprior, Ont., graduated from Cornell in 1991 with a degree in biological sciences. He and his wife, Louise, have three children.

DANIELLE BILODEAU '01

Third Year at Cornell

Cornell '01

Assistant Women's Hockey Coach

Danielle Bilodeau '01, a former Cornell women's hockey captain, returns to Lynah Rink for her third season, joining head coach Doug Derraugh '91 on the Big Red coaching staff as an assistant coach. Bilodeau spent the previous four seasons working in a similar position at Ivy League rival Princeton.

While at Princeton, Bilodeau was responsible for assisting with all aspects of the program, from recruiting and scouting to skill development and travel. The Tigers claimed the 2005-06 Ivy League title and helped the program to its first-ever NCAA tournament appearance. The team won a school-record 21 games. She assisted in the development of Andrea Kilbourne '03, a member of the U.S. Olympic Women's Ice Hockey Team that won a silver medal at the 2002 Olympic Winter Games in Salt Lake City, Utah. Nikola Holmes '03 also represented Germany in the 2006 games in Torino, Italy. In Bilodeau's four seasons on the sidelines, Princeton won at least 20 games three times and posted a 77-37-9 record.

An experienced camp clinician, Bilodeau was a head coach at the Princeton camp for three summers, as well as Bowdoin College's clinic in 2004 and 2005. She was also a coach for the Pacific Steelers Showcase in 2005.

Bilodeau played four seasons for the Big Red, earning All-Ivy honors as a sophomore, and serving as team co-captain her senior year. The winner of Cornell's Jeff Stenstrom Memorial Award as a freshman, she was a nominee for the Hockey Humanitarian Award. The Academic All-Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) pick, Bilodeau was a member of the Red Key Athletic Honorary Society and the Student-Athlete Advisory Council (SAAC). After graduating in 2001 with a degree in communication, she played one season for the Beatrice Aeros of the NWHL, helping her team to a league and Ontario Provincial championships while reaching the finals of the Canadian national tournament.

KIM INSALACO

Third Year at Cornell

Brown '03

Assistant Women's Hockey Coach

Kim Insalaco, a 2006 Olympian, returns to the Big Red coaching staff for her third season. As a forward, she is a veteran of two World Championships, and made her Olympic debut in Torino, Italy in 2006 with Team USA, winning a bronze medal.

As an undergrad, Insalaco played for Brown, where she completed her four-year career in 2003, totaling 127 points with 45 goals and 82 assists. She was a two-time captain for the Bears, and as a junior, she scored the game-winning goal in the ECACHL's championship game and the winner in the national semifinal game against Minnesota. She led Brown to two ECAC championships and competed in two NCAA Frozen Fours.

After graduating from Brown, the Rochester, N.Y. native played two seasons for the Oakville Ice of the National Women's Hockey League in Canada.

Insalaco is engaged to be married in the summer of 2009. She resides in Ithaca.

Dale Grossman, one of the women's ice hockey team faculty advisers, is a senior lecturer in the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, along with lecturer responsibilities in the Johnson Graduate School of Management.

After receiving her bachelor's degree from Cornell University in 1972 and a J.D. degree from Washington College of Law in 1976, Grossman was admitted to practice law in 1977. She joined the Cornell faculty in 1980 after serving three years as the University Judicial Administrator, where she was responsible for the implementation and operation of the campus judicial system. Now with over two decades of faculty experience at Cornell, Grossman teaches courses in communication law, internet law, business law and estate planning. Along with her classroom responsibilities, Grossman is currently the chair of the Academic Integrity Hearing Board for the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences.

Grossman has been named Professor of Merit by the senior class for her excellence in teaching and has also been named a D.C. Burgett Distinguished Adviser. Along with serving the women's ice hockey team, Grossman is the team faculty adviser for men's ice hockey and men's lacrosse.

Ronald E. Ostman, one of the women's ice hockey team faculty advisers, is a professor and former chair of the department of communication in Cornell's College of Agriculture and Life Sciences. He has taught and conducted research at the university since 1979.

Ostman received his bachelor's degree from Bemidji State and a master's and Ph.D. from Minnesota.

An author of several academic books and many scholarly journal articles, Ostman teaches about the content of mass media, the effects of mediated messages on individuals and groups and processes of public opinion and persuasion.

Ostman and his wife, Nancy, the Natural Areas Director of the Cornell Plantations, have two children. Five Cornell degrees (three bachelors, one Ph.D. and one M. Eng.) are held among the four members of his family.

The Cub Club

More than a century after Ezra Cornell wrote to his granddaughter, Eunice, expressing his desire for girls to have the same opportunities as boys, the Cornell women's hockey team is teaching local hockey players how to be champions on and off the ice. Founded in 1995 by Dr. Megan Shull '91, the Cub Club, a joint venture between the Tompkins Girls' Hockey Association (TGHA) and the Cornell women's hockey team, has made a difference in the lives of hundreds of girls in Ithaca.

The Cub Club is a unique mentoring program that pairs TGHA girls, ages 7-12, with Cub Club big sisters from the Cornell women's hockey team. Cub Club privileges include being special guests at Big Red home contests and being stick girl for a day.

The cubs and their big sisters also have fun at Cub Club pizza parties, bowling bashes and on-ice skating events. More important, Cornell women's hockey makes a meaningful difference in the lives of girls in Tompkins County. By spending time with their cub sisters, Cornell players help to teach important lessons about winning and losing gracefully, falling down and getting up, setting, accomplishing and scoring goals, and the meaning of teamwork.

Research confirms that girls who participate in athletics are self-confident, have high self-esteem and work well with others. They do better in school and are more likely than their non-athletic peers to grow up to be leaders in their community.

Also, girls derive significant health benefits from physical exercise, lessening their risk of developing heart disease, breast cancer and osteoporosis later in life. By providing authentic heroes, Cornell women's hockey players are helping to make hockey the coolest sport in town for girls in Ithaca. And most significant, they are impacting the lives of young women for years to come.

The Cub Club has been recognized nationally for making a difference. In 1997, TGHA won the coveted NHL Assist Grant, and the Cub Club was featured in USA Hockey's American Hockey Magazine in the January 2000 issue.

In October 2001, the TGHA helped to bring the U.S. women's national team to Lynah Rink for an exhibition against an all-star squad from the ECAC-North. Former Big Red players Jenel Bode, Brooke Bestwick and Erinn Perushek were named to the ECAC-North team.

"I want to have girls educated in the University as well as boys, so that they may have the same opportunity to become wise and useful to society that boys have."

2008-09 Season Outlook

General Information

The Big Red women's ice hockey team has high hopes for the 2008-09 season. Cornell will look to continue to build on its success from last year, and the Big Red was picked to finish fifth in ECAC Hockey in the coaches' preseason poll. With 15 veterans returning to the lineup, Cornell will also add eight freshmen and a junior transfer to its roster. The team will be led by tri-captains senior Steph Ulrich, junior Kelly McGinty and sophomore Amber Overguard. Cornell also returns its leading scorer, sophomore Rebecca Johnston, who totaled 32 points on 16 goals and 16 assists to be named both ECAC Hockey and the Ivy League's Rookie of the Year.

Meet The Coaches

The Big Red will once again be led by head coach Doug Derrough '91, who begins his fourth season at the helm. After playing professional hockey for 13 years, Derrough brings playing experience as well as a broad knowledge of the game to the locker room. A former Big Red standout for the men's program, he has a clear understanding of what it takes to play hockey for Cornell while handling a rigorous academic schedule. Derrough will once again be joined by assistant coaches Danielle Bilodeau '01 and Olympic medalist Kim Insalaco (Brown '03).

Meet The Big Red

Goaltenders

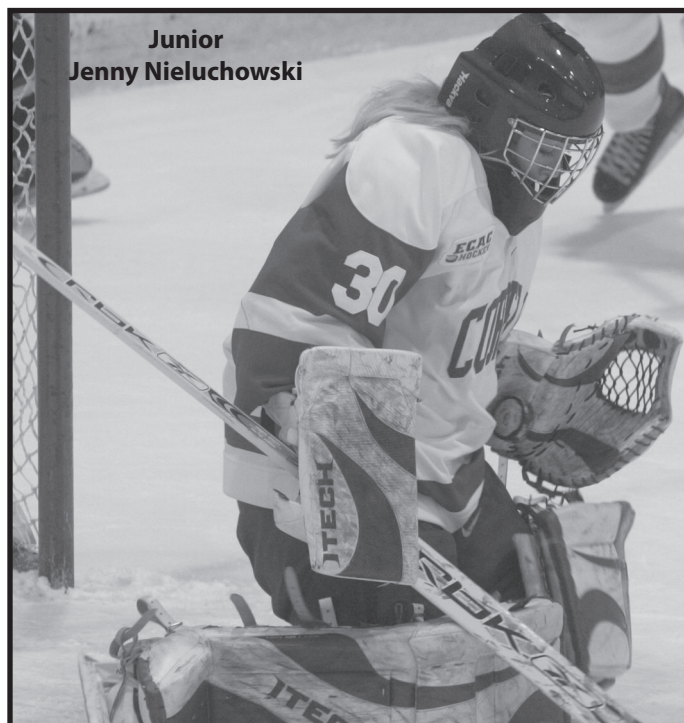

The Big Red returns junior goaltender Jenny Niesluchowski, sophomores Kayla Strong and Katie Wilson, and adds freshman Amanda Mazzotta. All four have what it takes to earn the starting job and will be looking to log time in between the pipes.

Niesluchowski brings two years of experience to the crease, playing in 37 career games. As a sophomore, she earned seven of Cornell's wins, while posting two shutouts. With hard work and dedication, Niesluchowski enhanced her athletic ability during the offseason. She is known as a quick goaltender with good reflexes. Her greatest asset to the team is the ability to make impossible and acrobatic saves when they are needed the most.

Strong played in nine games for Cornell last season, posting a 4-2-1 record before missing the rest of the year due to injury. In her sophomore season, she is back at full strength and will look to make an impact for Big Red between the pipes early. Strong is an aggressive goaltender who is very quick and motivated. Wilson saw action in five games for the Big Red as a rookie. She brings a technically sound game to Cornell and is very focused in the net.

Mazzotta played goalie for Team Ontario, helping win gold at the Canada Winter Games in 2007, and she was named team MVP. She was also a member of the U18 Canadian National team that won the silver medal at the IIHF World Women's Hockey Championships. Mazzotta is an athletic and strong goalie with exceptional reaction skills and great focus.

Defense

The Cornell defense will have a new look this season. Senior Steph Ulrich is the sole upperclassman in the defensive ranks, but the Big Red also returns sophomores Amber Moore, Amber Overguard and Sam Wauer who all made an immediate impact and logged substantial ice time in their rookie campaigns. Cornell also adds freshmen Ashley Duffy, Jess Martino, Jenna Paulson and Amanda Young.

Ulrich will serve as a captain for the Big Red this season and will look the lead Cornell on and off the ice. In three years at the Big Red blueline, she has played in 81 career games and will look to share her playing experience with the underclassmen.

Moore brings great size and strength to the Cornell defense. She has a powerful slap shot and is able to play at both ends of the ice. Moore is able to join the rush and help the Cornell offense and defense. Wauer is a very poised defenseman with a great shot. As a rookie she played in all 30 games for Cornell, with eight points, including two goals and six assists.

Duffy played five seasons at Benilde-St. Margaret's, where she was all-conference three times and was named to the Twin Cities' All-Metro second team in 2008. Duffy is a gifted skater with a long, smooth stride. She shows great offensive instincts and strength in defensive play.

Martino played four seasons at Buckingham Browne and Nichols and one season at Cushing Academy after graduation. She was a three-time all-league team member, and participated in the national development program for four years. Martino has exceptional puck handling skills and good hockey sense to create time, space and offensive opportunities for her teammates.

Paulson helped lead the Toronto Aeros to a Provincial Women's Hockey League Championship in 2007. She is a powerful, athletic presence on the blue line, with long reach, and exceptional technical defensive skills.

Young was the top scoring defenseman in the Alberta Major Midget Female Hockey League last season. She was a member of the gold medal team at the Alberta provincials tournament, and led her team to a silver medal at the Canadian Western tournament where she was named the tournament's best defenseman and was named a first-team all-star. Young is a fluid, and explosive skater with superb vision. She's also a tenacious one on one defender who prides herself on shutting down the opponent's top forward.

Forwards

Cornell will return the most experience and depth at the forward position this season. The Big Red returns 10 veterans and adds four newcomers, including a junior transfer from the University of New Hampshire

Senior Emma Chipman played in all 30 games for the Big Red last season. Her controlled and disciplined demeanor allows her to play maximum minutes for Cornell. She is joined by classmate Brienne Gilbert, who played 22 games for the Big Red. She is a strong athlete and skater who is aggressive on the puck.

Juniors Laura Danforth and Liz Zorn return to the ice for Cornell for their third seasons. Danforth is a high-energy player with quick feet. She can be utilized in all situations and always plays hard during every second of her shift. Zorn was fourth on the team last season with 24 points, and is a solid team player, who has great strength. Her good hockey sense earned her a spot playing on both the power play and penalty kill. Classmates Melanie Jue and Kelly McGinty will move up to play forward for Cornell this season. McGinty came to East Hill as a forward, but moved back to defense early in her rookie campaign. Jue led the Big Red in scoring among defensemen last season with 11 points. She is an aggressive and enthusiastic player with a great love of the game.

Junior
Liz Zorn

McGinty played in all 30 games for the Big Red last season and is a very disciplined player, with only eight penalty minutes last season. She has good puck handling skills and will help the Big Red defensively as well.

Sophomore Katie Bredece played in 22 games as a rookie and totaled two goals and two assists. She is a skilled skater with a good touch around the net. Hayley Hughes will return to play center for Cornell and is very skilled in the face-off circle. She is a good passer who has an ability to see the ice well, and is a smart player who is very responsible defensively. Rebecca Johnston had an impressive rookie campaign last season, and as a member of the Canadian national team, brings extensive international playing experience to the ice for Cornell. Johnston and teammate Caeleigh Beerworth '08 became the first players to record over 30 points in a season since the 1997-98 campaign. She is an explosive and dangerous player that will look to once again lead the Big Red offense this season. Rounding out the Big Red veterans is Karlee Overguard. Overguard finished her rookie campaign with 21 points on six goals and 15 assists. She is a skilled player with an accurate shot and great puck skills.

Stephanie Holmes brings two years of collegiate experience to the Big Red after playing at the University of New Hampshire the last two seasons. She played on both the power-play and penalty kill unit for UNH, who advanced to the Frozen Four last season and was ranked second in the nation. Holmes is an experienced gritty competitor who can score goals.

Chelsea Karpenko brings natural leadership ability to the Big Red. She was captain for Team Manitoba last season, and an assistant for the U18 Canadian National Team. She helped Team Manitoba to win a silver medal at the Canada Winter Games and a bronze at the Canadian Nationals in 2007. Karpenko joined Johnston in helping the U22 Canadian National Team win a three-game exhibition series against the USA. She has excellent stick skills, and exceptional finishing ability combined with an intense and passionate competitive drive.

Kendice Ogilvie served as assistant captain for Team Alberta in 2008 and helped her team win a silver medal at the Western Canada championships. She was part of the Red Deer Chiefs league championship team in 2008 and was named the top forward on Alberta last season. Ogilvie is a power forward with very strong hands and the ability to get shots on net in tight spaces with little time.

As a member of Team Ontario, Catherine White helped her team to the gold medal at the Canadian Winter Games, With the U18 Canadian National Team, she scored the first goal in the first ever ice hockey exhibition series against the USA. White also won the gold medal at the U18 Nationals, and was a member of the silver medal winning team at the 2008 IIHF World Women's U18 Championship. She combines soft hands and exceptional play-making ability with her outstanding skating stride to make her a dangerous offensive threat everytime she hits the ice.

Schedule

ECAC Hockey is one of the toughest leagues in the country. Every conference game the Big Red plays is against one of the best teams in the country. Cornell will see home-and-home action against Brown, Clarkson, Colgate, Dartmouth, Harvard, Princeton, Quinnipiac, Rensselaer, St. Lawrence, Union, and Yale. Non-conference games this season will pit the Big Red against Vermont Robert Morris, Niagara and Providence. Under the leadership and experience of coaches Derragh, Bilodeau, and Insalaco, Cornell's veterans coupled with its nine impressive newcomers, will look to have a successful 2008-09 campaign.

At Cornell

Junior (2007-08): Chipman played in all 30 of the Big Red's games as a junior, spending time playing center and wing. In Cornell's 3-0 win over Union on Jan. 12, she scored the Big Red's second goal of the game. Chipman also assisted on Brittany Forgues' power-play goal against St. Lawrence on Feb. 9. Freshman (2007-08): Johnston became the first Cornell player to be named ECAC Hockey Rookie of the Year and to the ECAC Hockey first team. She also received first-team All-Ivy honors and was named Ivy League Rookie of the Year, as well as the Big Red's Rookie of the Year. In an impressive freshman campaign, Johnson led Cornell in both goals (16) and points (32). Along with teammate Caeleigh Beerworth '08, Johnston became the first Big Red player to earn over 30 points in a season since the 1997-98 campaign. In her first collegiate game, Johnston tallied an assist and scored the game-winning goal to lift Cornell past Vermont, 3-0. Johnston recorded 10 multi-point games, including a one-goal three-assist performance against Princeton in a 7-4 victory. She scored a point in 18 games, and ended the season averaging 1.23 points per game. Johnston is a member of the Canadian national team, and helped Canada capture the gold medal at the Four Nations Cup and the silver medal at the 2008 International Ice Hockey Federation's World Women's Championships in Harbin, China, in April. Over the summer, she joined up with teammate Chelsea Karpenko to help the Canadian Under-22 team defeat the United States in a three-game series. Johnston scored a goal and added three assists in the three contests.

Prior to Cornell

Johnston is a two-year member of the under-22 Canadian national team. After tallying eight goals and five assists in five games for the gold medal-winning Ontario team at the Canada Games, Johnston was added as an alternate forward to Canada's national women's team. In 2006, Johnston was named Sudbury's Amateur Athlete of the Year. She is a five-time medalist in track and field at the Ontario Federation of School Athletic Association championships. She is a nationally ranked junior sprinter after winning the bronze medal at the Canadian junior track and field championships last year. Johnston also participated in soccer and basketball, and is a four-time Knights scholar.

Personal

Rebecca Anne Johnston is the daughter of Colleen and Robert Johnston. She has two sisters and three brothers. Her older sister Sarah played hockey for Cornell, and her brother Jacob played one season on the men's team. Johnston is a student in the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences.
