What's on Tap:

- The first full weekend of ECAC Hockey play sends Cornell on its first road trip, where it will visit fellow anticipated contenders Quinnipiac on Friday and Princeton on Saturday.
- Both games will face off at 7 p.m. and be streamed online. The game at Quinnipiac will be available for free viewing on ESPN3, while the tilt at Princeton will be broadcast on the Ivy League Network.
- Jason Weinstein will provide play-by-play that can be heard in the Ithaca area on WHCU (870 AM, 95.9 FM) and around the world via the station's website.

About the Big Red:

- Cornell started its season with a bang last weekend, convincingly sweeping a two-game non-league series against Alabama-Huntsville at Lynah Rink. This marks the fourth time in the last six years the Big Red has started 2-0.
- The Big Red never trailed and actually held the lead for 112:16 of the weekend's 120 minutes to breeze to victories of 5-1 on Friday and 3-0 on Saturday.
- UAH came into the weekend with hot special teams play, but Cornell scored four power-play goals and was a perfect 12-for-12 on the penalty kill.
- Freshman goaltender Matthew Galajda played a big role in the weekend, stopping 16 of 16 shots in his first collegiate period en route to a 28-save victory in Game 1, then an 11-save shutout on Saturday.
- Senior forward Trevor Yates has taken the early lead in team scoring with four points on three goals — all on the power play — and one assist. He was named the ECAC Hockey Player of the Week on Tuesday. Sophomore forward Jeff Malott scored twice in the opener.

Power Play Ace:

• Senior forward Trevor Yates' power-play prowess has picked up right where it left off last year. After leading the team with eight goals on the man advantage last year, Yates potted three power-play goals last weekend against Alabama-Huntsville. Despite having only played two games this year, he's still tied for fifth in the country in power-play goals.

A New 'Tender's Turn:

• The Big Red graduated three-year starting goaltender Mitch Gillam '17 after last season, but the team hasn't yet missed a beat with freshman Matthew Galajda taking the reins in the early going this year. Galajda (2-0, 0.50, .975, SO) is the first Big Red freshman goalie to record a shutout within his first two starts since Ben Scrivens '10 did so during the 2006-07 season.

Fresh Faces:

• Eight freshmen made their collegiate debuts during the Big Red's first two games last weekend, including seven on Friday. It marked the first time Cornell had seven freshmen skate in its season opener since 1997.

The Offensive Defense:

• Cornell scored quickly in each of last weekend's games, and both goals came from seemingly unlikely sources — a pair of everyday defensemen that scored a combined three goals last season, juniors Alec McCrea and Matt Nuttle. The last time the Big Red had the first goal scored by a blueliner in each of its first two games was 1995 — Mike Schafer's first year as head coach.

Feel The Draft?:

• Cornell has six players on the roster who have been selected in the NHL Entry Draft, including four from 2014. Junior forward Beau Starrett (Chicago Blackhawks) was selected earliest in that group, having been taken in the third round with the 88th overall pick.

• Classmate Anthony Angello, also a forward, was selected in the fifth round by the Pittsburgh Penguins. Junior forwards Jared Fiegl (Arizona Coyotes) and Dwyer Tschantz (St. Louis Blues) were then picked in the seventh round.

• Two newcomers are also NHL draft picks — forward Morgan Barron (N.Y. Rangers in 2017) and defenseman Matt Cairns (Edmonton Oilers in 2016).

Perennial Contention

Last season marked Cornell's seventh trek to ECAC Hockey's championship weekend over the last 10 years, which is tops among the circuit's 12 teams. Here is a breakdown of recent ECAC Hockey Championship weekend appearances ...

First Ivy League Coach To 400:

- Already the winningest coach in program history and in Ivy League history, Mike Schafer eclipsed another milestone in his career with his 400th victory last January.
- Schafer ranks 10th in victories among active Division I coaches and is Cornell's fifth-winningest coach across all sports — second among current coaches, behind just Dave Eldredge (men's and women's polo).

Turning The Trick:

- After having no hat tricks since 2011, the Big Red had two last year. Mitch Vanderlaan's hat trick Nov. 12 at Yale earned him ECAC Hockey Player of the Week on Nov. 15. He potted a couple more goals Nov. 19 against Princeton to become the first player from Cornell with seven goals in the first seven games of the season since Blake Gallagher did so in 2009-10.
- Jeff Malott then scored his first three collegiate goals in a span of 8 minutes, 44 seconds during the first period to power the Big Red past Princeton on Jan. 13. He was subsequently named ECAC Hockey Rookie of the Week after becoming the first Cornell freshman with a hat trick since current NHLer Matt Moulson on Feb. 7, 2003.

What, Me Worry?:

- Eight of Cornell's 21 victories last season came in games in which the Big Red surrendered the first goal, with the team maintaining a winning record even when it conceded first.
- The Big Red's resilience from an early deficit has become somewhat of a trend, with the team sporting a very respectable 21-20-8 record when yielding the game's first strike over the last two years. That's a stark turnaround from the team's 14-34-5 record when yielding the game's first goal from the previous three seasons (2012-15).

About Quinnipiac:

- The Bobcats are on a three-game winning streak after a two-game sweep Oct. 20-21 at Northeastern. Quinnipiac won the opener, 6-4, despite being outshot by whopping 41-15 margin. Alex Whelan scored in the final minute of overtime the next to give the Bobcats a 3-2 win. It was the fourth time in just five games that Quinnipiac has played into overtime.
- Freshman forward Odeen Tufto (3-5-8, +8) leads the team in scoring and is one of the nation's highest-scoring newcomers. Sophomore forward Alex Whelan (4-1-5) leads the team in goals and shots on goal (25).
- Sophomore Andrew Shortridge (2-0-1, 1.57, .934) and freshman Keith Petruzzelli (1-1, 3.38, .907) have split starts in goal over the Bobcats' last four games. Petruzzelli was a 2017 third-round draft pick of the Detroit Red Wings.

The Series Against Quinnipiac:

- Cornell leads the all-time series against Quinnipiac, 18-16-3, after a 2-1 victory on the road against the Bobcats on Jan. 14. Alex Rauter scored the winning goal at the end of a power play in the second period.
- That victory gave the Big Red a season-series split with the Bobcats, after they secured a 3-1 victory on Nov. 18, 2016 at Lynah Rink. Anthony Angello scored the Big Red's goal in that game.

About Princeton:

- The Tigers opened their season with a 4-2 victory over Holy Cross on Sunday, handing the Crusaders their first loss in six games this year. Sophomore defenseman Derek Topatigh assisted on all three of the Tigers' second-period goals.
- Senior forward Eric Robinson, sophomore forward Jackson Kressey and freshman defenseman Reid Yochim each had a goal and an assist. Preseason All-ECAC Hockey selection Max Véronneau, a junior forward, started the scoring.
- Freshman Ryan Ferland (1-0, 2.00, .950) made 38 saves in his collegiate debut.
- Ron Fogarty is in his fourth season as the head coach at Princeton, helping the squad break through for 15 victories last year after winning just nine in his first two years of rebuilding the program.

The Series Against Princeton:

- Cornell has been dominant against the Tigers, holding a 90-51-8 lead all-time with wins in each of the teams' last five meetings.
- In its last trip to Hobey Baker Rink, the Big Red won behind a natural hat trick from Jeff Malott. His first collegiate goals all came within a span of less than 10 minutes in the first period of Cornell's 5-1 victory on Jan. 13.
- The Tigers took a 2-0 lead after 20 minutes in the teams' first clash last year on Nov. 6, 2016 at Lynah Rink. But the Big Red pulled even on goals by Jared Fiegl and Beau Starrett before Mitch Vanderlaan scored twice in the final seven minutes to cap the comeback.

Up Next:

- Cornell returns to Ithaca for a five-game home stand, starting with an exciting Ivy League weekend Friday, Nov. 10 against Dartmouth and Saturday, Nov. 11 versus Harvard.
- The Big Red then closes out the home stand by hosting Clarkson (Nov. 17), St. Lawrence (Nov. 18) and Niagara (Nov. 21).

23rd Season As Head Coach
30th Season Overall at Cornell • Cornell '86

When Mike Schafer returned to his alma mater as the 12th head coach in Cornell men's hockey history in the summer of 1995, his goal was to return the Big Red program to a position of national prominence. Now entering his 23rd season behind the Cornell bench in 2017-18, he has clearly accomplished that objective by guiding the Big Red to the NCAA tournament 10 times, including a berth in the NCAA Frozen Four in 2002-03, the program's first since 1980.

Schafer is Cornell Hockey's second-longest tenured coach, while his 414-242-89 record has him as the winningest coach in Cornell men's hockey history. He picked up his 231st career victory on Jan. 27, 2007, a 2-1 victory against Colgate at Lynah Rink, to become the program's all-time wins leader. Schafer reached the 400-win milestone in 2017, a mark previously reached by only 43 coaches in all of college hockey.

Coming hand-in-hand with Cornell's success on the national scene, the Big Red has been one of the top programs in ECAC Hockey during Schafer's tenure. Cornell has claimed five ECAC Hockey tournament titles, the most all-time in league history, and staking a claim to three regular-season crowns. He has a career 270-148-68 record in ECAC Hockey regular-season play and a 58-29-2 mark in the ECAC Hockey playoffs.

His peers have taken notice of his accomplishments, awarding him the ECAC Hockey Coach of the Year award three times during his career. He is also a three-time finalist for the Spencer T. Penrose Award, presented to the national coach of the year. He has also regularly had the Big Red ranked among the nation's elite over the past decade, including reaching as high as third in both the USCHO.com and the USA Today/USA Hockey polls in 2008-09 and fourth in both polls in 2012-13. Cornell has also held the top spot in the polls during the 2002-03 and 2004-05 seasons.

Schafer guided the Big Red to the ECAC Hockey tournament title in 1995-96 and 1996-97, becoming the first Cornell coach to win ECAC Hockey tournament titles in his first two seasons. His five tournament titles surpassed the legendary Ned Harkness for the most in program history. In 2002-03, he led the Big Red to the NCAA Frozen Four, setting a school record with 30 wins, going one better than the undefeated, untied 29-0-0 national championship squad of 1969-70. Cornell's 2002-03 ECAC Hockey mark of 19-2-1 was Cornell's best mark since the 1969-70 team went 21-0 in league play.

Schafer entered this season with a .614 career winning percentage after guiding the 2016-17 Big Red back to the NCAA championships with an at-large bid after advancing to the ECAC Hockey championship game. Additionally, his 414 career victories rank in the Top 10 among active Division I coaches. Most recently, the Big Red has advanced to at least the ECAC Hockey Championship semifinals a league-best nine times over the last 13 seasons. The Big Red has finished the season ranked in the USCHO.com poll in seven of the last nine seasons.

During Schafer's tenure, Cornell players have earned numerous ECAC Hockey awards, including a pair of Player of the Year honors, four Ken Dryden Awards for the league's top goaltender, four Defenseman of the Year awards, seven Defensive Forwards of the Year and four Rookies of the Year. Additionally, three players have earned ESPN The Magazine/CoSIDA Academic All-America honors a total of four times.

Ben Syer

Sixth Season as Associate Head Coach; Seventh Season at Cornell Western Ontario '98

Syer has completed six seasons with Cornell men's hockey team, including five seasons as the associate head coach. Syer joined the program in June 2011 as an assistant coach, taking over the lead role in recruiting as well as coaching the defense. He helped guide the Big Red to a 19-9-7 record and an appearance in the NCAA regional finals in his first season on East Hill, with the team ranking 11th in the country with a 2.26 goals-against average. After the season, he was promoted to Associate Head Coach.

In the six years Syer has been with the Big Red, the team has finished in the top 20 nationally in team defense five times — as high as seventh in 2014-15. Most recently, Syer's deft management of the Big Red's injury-riddled blue line helped the team rank 10th in the country in team defense last year, backstop-ping the team to the ECAC Hockey championship game and an at-large bid to the NCAA championships.

Syer previously served as Associate Head Coach during his 12 seasons at Quinnipiac under head coach Rand Pecknold. During that run, the Bobcats posted a 242-168-46 record with one NCAA tournament appearance (2002) and nine 20-win seasons. Quinnipiac won the 2005 Atlantic Hockey regular season title and the 1999 MAAC regular season and 2002 MAAC tournament championship crowns during his tenure.

Quinnipiac reached the MAAC tournament semifinals in each of the first four years of Syer's tenure, including three straight MAAC finals appearances. Included in that span were the 2002 MAAC tournament title and the first NCAA appearance in program history. The Bobcats also won the MAAC regular-season title in Syer's first year at Quinnipiac.

Sean Flanagan

Second Season As Assistant Coach St. Lawrence '10

Flanagan helped guide the Big Red back to the NCAA championships for the first time in five years after a couple stops following a four-year playing career at St. Lawrence. His most recent experience was at UMass-Lowell, where he served as the River Hawks' director of hockey operations for the 2015-16 season. Prior to that, Flanagan was the assistant coach at Hobart from 2012-15. Working under former Cornell assistant coach Mark Taylor with the Statesmen, Flanagan helped build a team that won the ECAC West title in 2015 and 2016 to reach the NCAA tournament. Hobart was the No. 1 seed in the NCAA's East Region last year.

No stranger to ECAC Hockey, Flanagan played 121 career games with St. Lawrence up to the 2010-11 season. He racked up 12 goals and 40 assists for 52 points, helping the Saints advance to the league's championship weekend twice over his four years. He served as an assistant captain during his senior season, then went on to play professionally with the Las Vegas Wranglers and Quad City Mallards in the ECHL.

Flanagan graduated from St. Lawrence with a bachelor of arts degree in history with a minor in sports studies and exercise sciences in 2010. He also earned a master of education degree from St. Lawrence in 2011.

Joe Palmer

Second Season As Director of Hockey Operations; Third Season at Cornell; Ohio State '13

Palmer has completed two seasons on the men's hockey staff, one in his current role and one as a volunteer assistant coach during for 2015-16 season.

Palmer is the founder and primary instructor of Syracuse-based Palmer Goalie Systems, where he provides personal instruction and video analysis to more than 30 area goaltenders who compete at the AAA, prep school, junior and college levels. He also serves as goaltending consultant with Mountain Hockey Instruction and Syracuse Empire Junior Stars, and he serves as a talent evaluator for USA Hockey Festival Central New York tryout camp.

He was a two-time gold medalist with the United States at the IIHF Under-18 World Championship, and was later named to the U.S. team at the Under-20 World Championship in 2008. Palmer played for two seasons in the prestigious National Team Development Program. He was selected in the fourth round of the 2006 NHL Entry Draft by the Chicago Blackhawks, then went on to start 71 games for Ohio State over three seasons. He was a three-time Big 10 All-Academic Team selection and earned CCHA All-Rookie Team honorable mention in 2007.

Game 1: Cornell 5, Ala.-Huntsville 1

Friday, October 27
at Ithaca, N.Y.

- Matthew Galajda made 28 stops in his collegiate debut, including six stops during an elongated stretch of penalty kill time spanning the first intermission.
- Jeff Malott scored twice in the third period, when the Big Red yielded just three shots on goal to the visitors in effectively protecting the lead.
- The Big Red was not only shorthanded for a stretch of 5 minutes, 2 seconds, but within that span it faced a two-man disadvantage for a whopping 3:18.
- After the kills, Cornell expanded on an early one-goal lead with strikes with two minutes of each other from Trevor Yates and Morgan Barron to take a commanding 3-0 lead.
- The Big Red's four-goal margin of victory was the program's largest to start a season since a 7-1 thumping of Army to kick off the 2004-05 campaign.
- A total of seven freshmen made their collegiate debuts — four forwards, two defensemen and Galajda in goal.

Game 2: Cornell 3, Ala.-Huntsville 0

Saturday, October 28
at Ithaca, N.Y.

- Trevor Yates set up Matt Nuttle's goal in the game's first four minutes, then scored two of his own on the power play in the second and third periods.
- Matthew Galajda made 11 saves for his first collegiate shutout in just his second start, and the Big Red defense blocked 17 shots to minimize UAH's scoring chances.
- Yanni Kaldis had primary assists on both of Yates' goals. The Big Red power play produced four goals over the weekend series.
- Cornell capped a perfect 12-for-12 weekend on the penalty kill against a UAH power play that entered the weekend firing at a nearly 30 percent success rate.
