STREAKS, STORYLINES & SIDEBARS

- The Cornell football team will attempt to post its first three-game win streak over Harvard in two decades when the Big Red and the Crimson meet on Saturday, Oct. 12 at 1:00 p.m. at Harvard Stadium.
- Alex Vispoli, Ben Altsher and Kevin Gehl will be on the broadcast call on ESPN+.
- Cornell enters the weekend with a 1-2 record after opening the season with a 21-7 win at Marist before dropping contests to preseason Ivy League favorite Yale (27-16) and 4-1 Georgetown (14-8).
- The Big Red defense has been sensational over its last four games dating back to last season, surrendering just five offensive touchdowns, 274.5 yards per game and 101.5 rushing yards on 2.6 yards per carry (154-406) over that stretch.
- Cornell and Harvard both rank among the top 10 teams nationally in rushing defense (Harvard sixth, Cornell 10th) and in the top 25 in total defense (Cornell sixth, Harvard 22nd).
- Harvard's balance on offense will test the Big Red defense, as the Crimson rank 31st in rushing, 32nd in passing and most importantly, third in scoring (42.3 ppg.).
- The Big Red defense, ranked No. 1 nationally in red zone defense, will meet a Harvard team that stands second in red zone offense.
- On offense, senior All-Ivy running back Harold Coles in second in the Ancient Eight and sixth nationally in rushing yards per game (111.0 ypg.).

LOOKING FORWARD, LOOKING BACK

- This year's version of the Big Red returns 14 starters (six offense, eight defense), as well as its punter, placekicker, long-snapper and return specialists from a year ago.
- Cornell went 3-7 in 2018 with a pair of league losses to top-half teams by less than a touchdown (Yale, Columbia).
- The Big Red defeated Harvard for the second straight season for the first time since 1999 and 2000, and hammered previously unbeaten Sacred Heart at home, 43-24.
- Cornell rallied from a double-digit deficit at Brown for a 34-16 victory, the Big Red's first win in Providence, R.I. since 2002 and its first consecutive victories over the Bears since 1993 - before any current member of the team was born.
- Cornell's seven losses came against teams that sported a cumulative 53-21 record, including four to nationally ranked opponents (Colgate, Delaware, Princeton and Dartmouth).
- Colgate reached the national quarterfinals and Delaware earned a spot in the FCS Playoffs, while Princeton went undefeated (10-0) and joined fellow Ivy rival Dartmouth (9-1) in the final top 25 poll.
- Cornell also faced seven of the nation's top 20 defenses, but still had its most successful season running the ball since 2006 (156.1 yards per game).
- Six Big Red players earned All-Ivy honors, with Harold

- Coles (RB) and David Jones (CB) both finding a spot on the second team.
- The Cornell football team was picked to finish seventh in the Ivy League's annual preseason poll.
- For the fourth times in five seasons, the Big Red will look to surpass the prediction from the poll.
- After being picked to place eighth in 2017, the Big Red finished tied for fifth and entered November in the thick of the Ivy race for the first time since 2000.
- The Big Red was chosen to finish eighth in 2016, then started the year 3-0 and took sixth in the final league standings.
- The year before it was eighth in the poll and didn't end there either.
- The 2017 season saw Cornell climb to fifth in the Ivy standings at 3-4 and was in contention for the Ivy title in November for the first time since 2000.
- The team's three Ivy wins were the most since 2011 and tied for the best Ivy record by the program in more than a decade.
- With seven more wins, Cornell would reach 650 all-time (13th all-time in FCS history).
- With four consecutive wins at Schoellkopf Field to end its season, the Big Red would close out 300 all-time victories at the historic facility, the fourth-oldest FCS stadium (opened in 1915). Only Penn's Franklin Field (1895), Harvard Stadium (1903) and the Yale Bowl (1914) are older.

- Since halftime of its season-opening loss at San Diego, the Crimson has outscored opponents 127-31.
- Harvard ranks in the top 25 nationally in both total offense (18th, 453.3 ypg.) and total defense (22nd, 336.3 ypg.) and ranks third nationally in scoring offense (42.3 ppg.).
- Quarterback Jake Smith has been dynamic with eight touchdown passes and 737 yards over three games, but it has been a running attack averaging 189.7 yards that has ruled game day.
- Devin Darrington has a team-high 277 yards and four touchdowns, while Aidan Borguet and DeMarkes Stradford also have two rushing touchdowns and are combining to average better than eight yards per carry.
- Jack Cook (13 receptions, 233 yards, two touchdowns) and Cody Chrest (11 receptions, 151 yards, two touchdowns) lead a receiving corps that has 14 players who have already caught a pass this season.
- The defense ranks sixth nationally against the run (74.7 ypg.) with sophomore defensive lineman Truman Jones dominating with 6.0 tackles for loss and 4.0 sacks.
- Head coach Tim Murphy is in his 26th season directing the Harvard program.
- He has won 176 games on the Crimson sidelines (second all-time among Ivy League coaches) with nine conference titles.

THE SERIES

- Cornell and Harvard will be meeting for the 84th time dating back to the first meeting in 1890.
- Harvard leads the all-time series 47-34-2.
- The Crimson owned the early series, capturing the first 10 games (1890-1913), while Cornell 11 won straight from 1986-1996.
- Harvard has won 15 of the last 18 contests, though the Big Red has won two straight — both in Ithaca — and snapped the Crimson's 11-game win streak in the process.

A WIN OVER HARVARD WOULD ...

- make Cornell 2-2 to start the season.
- even the Big Red's Ivy League record at 1-1.
- cut the Crimson's lead in the all-time series to 47-35-2.
- give Cornell a 310-241-14 (.561) record all-time in the month of October.
- be the 644th in program history (13th-most in the Football Championship Subdivision).

- Delonte Harrell ran for a two-point conversion in the third quarter, the Big Red's first successful try since Dalton Banks hit Hayes Nolte with a pass late in an 18-8 loss to Columbia on Nov. 11, 2017.
- It was the first two-point run by a Cornell player since Luke Siwula reached the end zone against Princeton on Oct. 29, 2005.
- The 301 yards Georgetown posted is the lowest by a winning opponent since Columbia compiled 235 at Columbia in 2018 ... and the second straight week Cornell's winning opponent had less than 325 yards.

- Eight different players combined for the team's seven tackles for loss, with no player in on more than one.
- Cornell has allowed 350 yards or fewer in four straight games for the first time since 2017 (Colgate 270, Harvard 223, Bucknell 306, Brown 161).
- For #CFB150 and Homecoming, Cornell wore throwback-inspired white jerseys with the player's names on the back. The Big Red wore white home jerseys numerous years during the 1920s and as late as the 1950s.

finalist and NCAA record breaker Ed Marinaro have suited up for Cornell, while seven College Football Hall of Famers (including Warner, Gil Dobie and Carl Snavely) and multiple-time Super Bowl winner George Seifert have set the strategy as head coaches.

• The Big Red is involved in three of the top 20 most-played rivalries in the FCS.

• The Cornell-Penn series ranks fifth in most games played, a total that will reach 126 this season.

• The 106 meetings between Cornell and Columbia ranks 14th, while the Cornell-Dartmouth rivalries stand 19th with 102 games played.

• Right behind that is the series with Princeton (101 meetings) and Colgate (100 meetings), which sit right outside the top 20.

• The Cornell-Dartmouth and the Cornell-Penn series are the second-longest uninterrupted active series, as the teams have met every season since 1919, a span of 99 years.

• They trail only the Lafayette-Lehigh series, which has been played every year since 1897.

• Cornell was ranked as one of the top 100 football programs of all-time according to the Associated Press in a ranking released in August 2016.

• At No. 72, the Big Red ranked ahead of a number of Bowl Championship Subdivision (BCS) schools and second among Football Championship Subdivision (FCS) programs.

• Only Penn (No. 66) placed higher among current FCS schools, while other Ivy League teams on the list included Dartmouth (No. 87), Yale (No. 90), Princeton (No. 81) and Columbia (No. 99).

• Cornell was involved in one of the most historic games in college football history, the "Fifth Down Game."

• Played on Nov. 16, 1940 in Hanover, N.H., the top-ranked Big Red improved to 6-0 with a 7-3 victory over Dartmouth, scoring on the game's final play.

• After reviewing game film on Monday, Coach Carl Snavely and acting athletic director Robert J. Kane wired Dartmouth officials to tell them Cornell scored on an inadvertent fifth down.

• Though there were no rules compelling the outcome to be changed, in an unprecedented act of sportsmanship, the Big Red relinquished claims to the win.

• The Big Green accepted the forfeit, winning the contest 3-0.

• It remains the only time a collegiate sporting contest has been decided off the field after the completion of a game.

CORNELL FOOTBALL AT 132 YEARS

• This is the 133rd year since the start of Cornell football, but it will be the 132nd season.

• The first official Big Red football team was formed in 1887, and Cornell has sponsored a squad every year since except 1918 during World War I.

• The Big Red has an overall record of 643-530-34 (.547) in its 132 years of football.

• The program's 643 wins rank 13th among all FCS schools.

• Over the years, Cornell has taken on 91 different opponents, with its most frequent opponent being Penn (125 meetings).

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

• Cornell holds claim to five national titles in its storied football history.

• The Big Red claimed at least a share of the 1915 (Helms Athletic Foundation, Houlgate System, National Championship Foundation and Parke Davis), 1921 (Helms, Houlgate, National Championship Foundation and Parke Davis), 1922 (Helms, Parke Davis), 1923 (Sagarin) and 1939 (Litkenhous, Sagarin) titles.

• All five teams went undefeated and dominated their opponents.

• The 1915 team was 9-0 and outscored its opponents 287-50 with four shutouts.

• The 1921, 1922 and 1923 squads each went 8-0 and outscored their opponents 392-21, 339-27 and 320-33, respectively.

• The teams allowed more than one touchdown in a game just once during that 24-game span while scoring 40 or more points 14 times.

• The 1939 team was 8-0 and defeated Syracuse, Penn State and Ohio State.

DEFYING PRESEASON EXPECTATIONS

• The Cornell football team was picked to finish seventh in the Ivy League's annual preseason poll.

• For the fifth time in the last six seasons, the Big Red will look to surpass the prediction from the poll.

• After being picked to place eighth in 2017, the Big Red finished tied for fifth and entered November in the thick of the Ivy race for the first time since 2000.

• The Big Red was chosen to finish eighth in 2016, then started the year 3-0 and took sixth in the final league standings.

• The year before it was eighth in the poll and didn't end there either.

BIG RED CAPTAINS

- When the Cornell football team took the field for the first time in 2019, the Big Red had two captains lead them out of the locker room.
- First-time captains George L. Holm III and Jelani Taylor were elected in a vote of their teammates at the start of fall camp.

FOOTBALL GETS NCAA RECOGNITION (AGAIN)

- Football has been publicly recognized by the NCAA for its Academic Progress Report (APR) score being in the top 10 percent nationally in 13 of the 14 seasons since 2004-05, when the scores were first tabulated.
- Cornell's score of 987 (out of 1,000) this past year was tied for the fourth-highest in school history (the seven highest scores in program history have come over the last seven years - 987, 987, 986, 991, 988, 992, 987), but was just outside the top 10 percent.
- The 992 APR score this year is also the 25th-highest among all Division I football schools.
- The APR measures semester-by-semester records for every individual team in Division I with regard to each team members' continuing eligibility, retention and progress toward graduation.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS

- Cornell football had two players named to the 2018 CoSIDA Academic All-District 1 team.
- Harold Coles '20 (3.48 GPA, Applied Economics & Management) and Jelani Taylor '20 (3.85 GPA, Hotel Administration) were both selected to represent the Big Red.
- Cornell's 10 members on the District 2 team over the last three years are the most of any school.
- The Big Red has had 13 football players earn a total of 18 appearances on the CoSIDA Academic All-America team dating back to 1977.

Schoellkopf At 104 Years Young

- Schoellkopf Field has been an indelible mark of Cornell football since it opened in 1915 and this year will be the 104th season at the home field.
- A gift from Willard Straight '01 and the family of Henry (Heinie) Schoellkopf '02 made the construction possible for the current stadium.
- The Big Red's first year on the field was one of its best, going 9-0 and winning the national championship.
- In 1915, General Electric Company completed work on a flood searchlight system for the field, and in 1924 a construction project was completed to bring capacity from 9,000 to 21,500 by adding the famed Crescent.
- In 1947 that capacity was increased to 25,597 and a press box was added.
- In 1971 a gift was made to put artificial turf on the field, and it was resurfaced three times, the last time in 1999.
- A new press box was built in 1986.
- The 2008 season saw installation of FieldTurf synthetic grass to replace the artificial turf.
- In 2016, the West Stands were demolished and the field was moved 15 feet toward the Crescent while replacing the FieldTurf to ready for more construction at the site, lowering the capacity to 21,500 in the process.

Schoellkopf Field Facts

- Schoellkopf Field is the fourth-oldest FCS stadium, opening in 1915. Only Penn's Franklin Field (1895), Harvard Stadium (1903) and the Yale Bowl (1914) are older.
- The playing area before World War I was Percy Field, alongside Fall Creek, the present site of Ithaca HS.
- The Big Red's all-time record at Schoellkopf Field is 296-189-15 (.607).

2019 1-2 (0-1 Ivy)

GAME 1 CORNELL 21, MARIST 7
 Sept. 21, 2019 Tenney Stadium Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

GAME NOTES

- Marist was limited to two rushing yards, including none in five cracks inside the 1 yard line with goal to go, and Cornell opened its 2019 season with a defensive-minded 21-7 victory at Tenney Stadium.
- The Big Red defense held Marist to 220 yards of offense and eight first downs while controlling the ball for 40:06 as Cornell won its first season opener since 2016 and by its largest margin since topping Bucknell 45-13 - exactly six years to the date in head coach David Archer's coaching debut.
- Only some first-game miscues allowed Marist to stay in the game, especially after Cornell jumped out to a 14-0 lead early in the second quarter.
- The Big Red turned the ball over three times and gave up a short field on numerous occasions, but the defense bailed them out a number of times.
- Senior captain Jelani Taylor had a team-best six tackles and a tackle for loss, while David Jones had five stops, 1.5 tackles for a loss, three pass breakups and an interception to lead the way.
- Nathaniel Weber, a senior making his first collegiate start, notched five tackles and 1.5 sacks in the win.
- The offense piled up 419 yards, including 263 on the ground, and moved the chains 21 times while grinding it out on a humid first day out, converting all three fourth down attempts in much the same way the defense stopped all four of Marist's.
- Harold Coles recorded his sixth career 100-yard rushing game with 127 yards and a touchdown on 16 carries, while Mike Catanese added 79 yards and two scores.
- He also completed 15-of-20 passes for 130 yards.
- John Fitzgerald led eight receivers with at least a catch with a pair of receptions for 46 yards.
- Coles moved into the school's top 20 in career rushing and ended the day with 1,360 career yards.
- Cornell is 10-3 when out-rushing its opponent under head coach David Archer '05.
- David Jones' eighth career interception moves him within one of reaching the top 10 in school history.
- Cornell last had 40 minutes in time of possession in 2017 when it defeated Brown 34-7 with 40:19 holding the ball.
- The two rushing yards allowed is the fewest by a Big Red defense in a game since allowing Yale zero (on 28 carries) on Sept. 27, 2008.

GAME 2 YALE 27, CORNELL 16
 Sept. 28, 2019 The Yale Bowl New Haven, Conn.

GAME NOTES

- Heading into the final quarter tied at 10-10, Cornell felt like it had the momentum to topple preseason Ivy League favorite Yale on the road for the first time in a decade.
- The final 15 minutes, however, belonged to the opportunistic Bulldogs in a 27-16 victory over the Big Red at the Yale Bowl.
- Yale took advantage of four Big Red turnovers, including a touchdown return for an interception, and scored its final touchdown on an on-sides kickoff return touchdown in the final minutes to balloon the final score.
- Despite that, Cornell out-gained the Bulldogs (339-327) and had its chances to win the game before Yale took control.
- The defense forced one turnover, limited a powerful Yale rushing attack to 3.3 yards per carry and stopped the home team on 9-of-14 third downs, along with a fourth down stop.
- Junior Kenan Clarke had his first career interception in the fourth quarter to keep Cornell alive, while David Jones, Jelani Taylor and Jake Watkins each had a team-best seven tackles.
- Senior Mo Bradford had a pair of tackles for loss, including a half-sack, and broke up a pass.
- On offense, senior Harold Coles tied a career high with 141 rushing yards on 17 carries, while sophomore Delonte Harrell caught six passes for 134 yards and two touchdowns, the first of his career.
- Richie Kenney completed 14-of-28 passes for 210 yards and the two scores, including an 89-yard strike to Harrell in the third quarter to put the visitors into the lead.
- In all, seven different receivers combined for the 14 catches.
- Nickolas Null made his first appearance of the season at punter, averaging 48.0 yards on four kicks with a long of 56 and two pinned inside the 20 and another at the 21.
- Garrett Patla's first career field goal late in the second quarter sent the game into the break tied at 3-3.
- Zane Dudek had 91 yards on 24 carries and Kurt Rawlings was 15-of-21 for 181 yards and a touchdown for the Bulldogs.
- Both Dathan Hickey and Rodney Thomas II had a pair of interceptions to lead the defense, with Micah Awodiran collecting a game-high 10 tackles.

GAME 3 GEORGETOWN 14, CORNELL 8
 Oct. 5, 2019 Schoellkopf Field Ithaca, N.Y.

GAME NOTES

- Harold Coles' rushing touchdown to close out the third quarter helped the Cornell football team draw even against a tough Georgetown squad, but the Hoyas pulled back ahead for good on a touchdown with 5:43 on the clock to spoil the Big Red's Homecoming game with a 14-8 victory at Schoellkopf Field.
- Once again, the Cornell defense turned in a staunch effort, holding Georgetown to 117 yards on the ground and 301 overall.
- Freshman linebacker Jake Stebbins led the way with 10 tackles and a sack.
- The Big Red defense also had a hand in setting up the team's scoring drive by pinning the Hoyas deep in their own territory before forcing a punt and a short field for the offense.
- Two plays later, Coles' 20-yard rush up the middle was followed by a Mike Catanese completion to John Fitzgerald, setting up Cornell in the red zone.
- Two Catanese keepers – the second on fourth down – were needed to get one yard and set up first-and-goal from the 5, then Coles rumbled in with zeroes on the game clock to cut Cornell's deficit to 8-6.
- Delonte Harrell took a pitch and beat everyone to the right pylon for the two-point conversion, knotting the teams at 8-8 heading into the final 15 minutes.
- Neither team got out of its own territory for the first half of the fourth quarter, but a 23-yard punt return by Joshua Tomas set up Georgetown at its own 47 with 6:29 to play.
- Three plays later from the Cornell 39, Gunther Johnson unfurled a deep pass up the middle to a wide-open Cameron Crayton – but the ball was underthrown.
- Crayton slowed down and the ball went just beyond the fingertips of a retreating defender, then he scampered into the end zone for the game-deciding score.
- Coles led the Big Red rushing attack with 65 yards and a touchdown on 10 carries.
- Catanese ended his day 15-of-22 passing for 112 yards, hitting seven different receivers.
- Senior punter Nickolas Null averaged 42.9 yards on eight punts with three downed inside the 20.
- Six different defensive players had at least five tackles, the defense had seven tackles for loss and three sacks and caused a turnover.
