Cornell, in Ted Thoren's 12th season, compiled a ninth straight winning record. In 1971 and '72 the club lost playoff games to Harvard for the league title...In 1971 the Big Red set an all-time mark for season victories (22); the 1969 team was also runnerup in the league, losing to Dartmouth in the final game.

Hamrick won MVP award; Calaguire named club's most improved player and Miknis won Cornell Club of Ithaca "most durable player" award.

Thoren's overall record is 194-160-7, including a 50-56-4 mark in spring recess games prior to the start of the regular season...From 1966 Cornell has won 144 games, lost 101 and tied 5.

The Big Red finished 3-2-1 in the Hurricane Classic for 2nd place behind Miami whom it twice defeated. Miami was ranked No. 3 in the nation at the time. In '72 the team defeated Arizona State, then the No. 1 team in the country, by 3-1 in the Riverside (Calif.) Tournament.

All-Eastern Intercollegiate League selections by the coaches were Hamrick to the 1st team and Battiste to the 2nd...In league games, Hamrick had an 0.71 ERA and a 4-1 record; Battiste batted .283 in the circuit...Hamrick was also named to the NCAA District II all-star 1st team...All-Ivy selections: Hamrick 1st team, Battiste and Calaguire 2nd team.
