THE FLY OVER

▶ Cornell will close out its 2024 home schedule and celebrate its seniors when it welcomes No. 24 Dartmouth to Schoellkopf Field on Saturday, Nov. 16 at 1 p.m.

▶ The game will be broadcast on ESPN+.

QUICK HITS

▶ The Big Red will celebrate the program's 28 seniors while attempting to earn a signature win as it looks to keep its hopes alive for a winning Ivy League season.

▶ Cornell will meet a ranked Dartmouth team eyeing an Ivy League title for the third time in the past five seasons, pulling the upset on the road in 2019 and handing the Big Green their only loss that season.

▶ The Cornell-Dartmouth series is one of the most played in all of college football, dating back to the first-ever meeting between the teams in 1900.

▶ The 106 meetings between the schools makes it the 19th-most played in the Football Championship Subdivision (FCS).

▶ Excepting the 2020 season that was canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Cornell and Dartmouth have met on the gridiron every year since 1919.

THE SERIES

▶ This will be the 107th meeting between Cornell and Dartmouth, with the Big Green holding a 63-42-1 lead in the series.

▶ The two teams first met in 1900, a 23-6 Cornell win.

▶ The two teams have been fairly evenly matched in the last three decades, with 14 of the past 30 meetings being decided by a touchdown or less (Dartmouth leads 18-12 during that stretch).

▶ The Big Green had won 10 straight meetings in the series, prior to 2019, when Cornell spoiled its undefeated season with a 20-17 victory in Hanover, N.H.

A WIN OVER DARTMOUTH WOULD...

▶ make the Big Red 3-3 in Ivy League play for the first time since 2017.

▶ make the Big Red 15-55-2 all-time against ranked opponents and be the first win for Cornell since topping then No. 11/12 Dartmouth 14-7 on Nov. 16, 2019.

▶ give the Big Red three wins in its last five games against the Big Green.

▶ narrow Dartmouth's lead in the all-time series to 63-43-1.

▶ give Cornell a 232-230-15 (.502) all-time record in the month of November.

▶ be the 659th in program history (15th-most in the Football Championship Subdivision).

THE FIFTH-DOWN GAME

▶ The 2024 meeting between the Big Red and Big Green is also the 84th anniversary of the famed Fifth-Down Game.

▶ Played on Nov. 16, 1940 in Hanover, N.H., top-ranked Cornell improved to 6-0 with a 7-3 victory over Dartmouth, scoring on the game's final play.

► After reviewing game film on Monday, Coach Carl Snively and acting athletic director Robert J. Kane wired Dartmouth officials to tell them Cornell scored on an inadvertent fifth down.

► Though there were no rules compelling the outcome to be changed, in an unprecedented act of sportsmanship, the Big Red relinquished claims to the win. The Big Green accepted the forfeit, winning the contest 3-0.

SCOUTING THE ENEMY

► Dartmouth enters the week 7-1 overall and is tied with Harvard atop the Ancient Eight standings at 4-1.

► The Big Green are looking to close out an unbeaten road campaign, bringing a 4-0 record away from home into the contest. They are chasing their first unbeaten road mark since 2021.

► Dartmouth's wins over Penn (20-17), Yale (44-43 in OT) and Columbia (24-21) have come by a total of seven points.

► The Big Green's formula is tried and true, leading the conference in rushing offense (170.1 ypg.) and rushing defense (103.1 ypg.), dominating time of possession (15th nationally at 32:04) while taking care of the football (second nationally in fewest turnovers with five).

► Q Jones sits second in the Ivy League in rushing (643 yards), while Grayson Saunier has reached the end zone seven times on the ground with five touchdown passes as well.

► Saunier splits snaps behind center with Jackson Proctor, who has completed 68 percent of his passes for 998 yards and eight touchdowns.

► Paxton Scott paces the team in receptions (34) and receiving yards (411), with Chris Corbo pulling down six touchdowns receiving.

► Dartmouth sports one of the nation's best place-kickers in Owen Zalc, who has made 13-of-15 field goals, including making 11-of-12 from inside of 50 yards and booting two more beyond 50.

THE CLASS OF 2025

CORNELL VS. RANKED FOES

► The Big Red is 7-23 on Schoellkopf Field vs. top 25 teams, with its last win coming on Oct. 28, 2006 when it defeated No. 18 Princeton 14-7 — the team's third top 20 win in two seasons at home.

► Cornell has played a ranked Dartmouth team on nine occasions, sporting a 3-5-1 record in those previous matchups.

► Since 2015, Cornell has played 14 games against ranked opponents, going 2-12.

► The Big Red handed the 2019 Big Green their only loss of the season when it topped No. 11/12 Dartmouth 14-7 in Hanover, N.H.

ALL EYES ON JAMESON WANG

► Wang was named the Phil Steele Ivy League Preseason first team coming off the heels of a season where he ranked atop the Ivy (and 21st nationally) in completion percentage, connecting on 64.8 percent of his throws.

► In his junior season, Wang threw for over 2,400 yards, good for third-most in the conference.

► This year, Wang has become the Ivy's top touchdown passer, accumulating 22 in eight games. His passing efficiency of 144.5 ranks third in the conference, and his completion percentage of .660 ranks second. His 2,167 passing yards rank first in the Ivy.

► The El Segundo, Calif., native has etched his name in the Cornell record books in nearly every major passing category, including passing attempts (986, fourth), pass completions (623, third), passing yards (6,593, third), passing touchdowns (49, third), pass completion percentage (.632, first), and pass efficiency (130.5, second).

► He also ranks top 20 in rushing yards (1,678, 13th), and rushing touchdowns (26, fourth).

BIG RED BY THE NUMBERS

► The Big Red offensive line has held strong this season, allowing just 0.63 sacks per game and 2.75 tackles for loss per game. The sack number is the third-lowest nationally. The TFL mark is fewest in the Ivy and second in the FCS.

► The Big Red has committed the 10th-fewest turnovers in all of FCS, coughing the ball up eight times.

► The Cornell passing attack ranks 12th nationally and is second in the Ivy League at 279.8 yards per game.

LAST TIME DARTMOUTH 30, CORNELL 14

Nov. 11, 2023 Memorial Field Hanover, N.H.

GAME NOTES

- Cornell came up short to Dartmouth, 30-14, in the schools' 106th meeting.
- Dartmouth used the ground and air game to find the endzone four times in the outing.
- Junior Jameson Wang became the program's all-time leader in rushing touchdowns by a quarterback with his 19th career score. It was his seventh rushing score this season.
- Wang is responsible for 15 touchdowns this season, with eight through the air and seven on the ground. He will tie 1962 Gary Wood (17 touchdowns) for 10th on the program's single-season touchdowns list with two more scores.
- Wang now has 1,307 career rushing yards, the 22nd-most in program history.
- Junior linebacker Luke Banbury set a career-high with 11 tackles.
- Senior linebacker Noah Taylor recorded his first sack of the season.
- Senior wide receiver Nicholas Laboy caught five passes for 51 yards. It was his seventh game this season with at least five catches.
- Freshman running back Ean Pope recorded his first career rushing touchdown.
- Two freshmen -- Pope and Samuel Musungu -- have scored touchdowns for the Big Red this season. It's the first time that has happened since 2012.
- Jackson Kennedy punted five times for 220 yards, the second-most punting yards he's had this season.
- Amon Williams blocked Cornell's first punt since Jalyx Hunt's block against Brown in October 2021.
- Cornell lost the time of possession battle for just the third time this season. The Big Red held the ball for 29:10, while the Big Green possessed it for 30:50.
- Cornell gained 16 first downs to Dartmouth's 15. The Big Red has picked up more first downs than its opponent six times this season.

NATIONAL NOTICE

- ▶ For his efforts against Bucknell, Luke Banbury became the second defensive player in Cornell history to earn the National Player of the Week honors (he joins Chris Zingo '93), and the first Big Red to be honored nationally since the 2022 season when Jackson Kennedy was named the FedEx Ground National Special Teams Player of the Week.
- ▶ Banbury became the second player in single-game recorded history at Cornell (since 1995) to tally a forced fumble, a fumble recovery, and a pick-six. In addition to his turnover prowess, the Pittsburgh, Pa., native posted seven tackles including five solo stops. He also tallied three PBUs, the most by a Cornellian since the 2021 season. The fumble recovery, which came on Bucknell's first drive of the game, stopped a Bucknell touchdown after Jeremiah Lewis forced it at the Cornell two-yard line, and Banbury dove on it at the one. The interception came on the subsequent Bucknell drive, which he returned for 26 yards to the house.
- ▶ In addition to the national recognition, Banbury was also named the Ivy League's Defensive Player of the Week.

HALL OF FAME FIGURES

- ▶ This year, Cornell honored a class of 11 inductees during halftime of the Homecoming game against Yale.
- ▶ Included in this group was two-time All-American quarterback Jeff Mathews '14, who ended his storied Cornell career as the most prolific quarterback in Ivy League history and one of the top in all of college football. He ranks among the top 20 all-time in career passing yards in the FCS and set the Ivy League's all-time passing record by more than 2,000 yards. Mathews owns 47 Big Red school records and 18 Ivy League marks for passing and total offense. The three-year team captain was named one of 16 finalists for the National Football Foundation's William V. Campbell Trophy which recognizes the top football scholar-athlete in the nation. The three-time All-Ivy selection was a Capital One Academic All-District first-team selection and a two-time finalist for the Bushnell Cup for the Ivy League Offensive Player of the Year, winning in 2011. Mathews also was a two-time member of the Walter Payton Award Watch List as FCS national player of the year. After the season, Mathews became the fifth Cornellian to accept an invitation to the East-West Shrine game, serving as a team captain for the East team, and also accepted an invitation to the NFL Draft Combine before signing a contract with the Atlanta Falcons. Mathews also spent time on the practice squad with the Indianapolis Colts and the Arizona Cardinals before playing four seasons in the CFL, including winning a Grey Cup in 2017 with the Toronto Argonauts.
- ▶ Joining Mathews was special category honoree Bernie DePalma.
- ▶ A legendary figure in Big Red athletics, DePalma served generations of student-athletes and shaped one of the nation's most respected sports medicine departments over 42 years. After arriving at Cornell in 1980 as Head of Physical Therapy and Supervisor of Athletic Training and Rehabilitation and taking over as head athletic trainer three years later, DePalma's expertise provided a significant impact on national athletics legislation. He served on numerous NCAA committees, including the Committee on Competitive Safeguards and Medical Aspects of Sport Safety, which he chaired; the NCAA Special Committee on Student-athlete Welfare, access and equity; and the National Athletic Trainers' task force which developed medical coverage guidelines for all intercollegiate athletic programs. He played an important role in the initial development of the Ivy League's collaboration with the Big Ten on concussion research while developing a return to academics and play protocols in the league and nationwide. DePalma was honored in 2001 by the National Athletic Trainers' Association (NATA) with the Most Distinguished Athletic Trainer Award. That same year he was honored with the Thomas Sheehan Award for character, commitment, and achievement in athletic training by the New York State Athletic Trainers' Association. He presented at numerous national conventions, published dozens of papers and written chapters in textbooks that are used in Athletic Training curriculums, and served on professional committees at the university, state, regional, and national levels as a recognized expert in various topics around health and safety. He has been instrumental in developing and implementing various programs, including strength and conditioning initiatives when he arrived at Cornell, graduate assistant internship programs, and undergraduate athletic training student clinical experiences. One of DePalma's outstanding achievements was his innovative approach to injury prevention and rehabilitation as seen in his many publications and invited national presentations. His enduring commitment to athletic training, dedication to the athlete's health, safety, and welfare, leadership in the profession, and pioneering contributions to sports medicine contributed to his impact on the profession of athletic training.

PHIL STEELE'S PRESEASON ALL-IVY

- ▶ With the release of the Phil Steele Preseason All-Conference lists, Cornell accounted for six spots on the Ivy lists.
- ▶ The four Big Red named to the list is headlined by senior quarterback, Jameson Wang, who was named to the first team.
- ▶ Joining Wang with offensive recognition is Davon Kiser, who wrapped up a second-team honor as a wide receiver. Kiser was also named to the second team on special teams, as the punt returner and kick returner.
- ▶ Senior offense lineman Jackson Bradley also earned a recognition on the second team.
- ▶ On defense, senior linebacker Luke Banbury was named to the second team.

WHERE ARE THEY NOW?

- ▶ With the extra year of eligibility allotted by the NCAA for student-athletes who were in college during the COVID-19 Pandemic, Cornell's graduating senior class has looked a little larger than normally usual with athletes flexing an extra season to stay with the Big Red for another season.
- ▶ With the extra years of eligibility, many Big Red graduates have taken their talents to other programs across the country to continue playing football.
- ▶ In the class of 2024 alone, 15 of the 27 graduates went on to continue playing football at another institution, including five joining Power 5 FBS programs.
- ▶ Manny Adebisi played a part in one of the biggest upsets of the season when Vanderbilt defeated then-No. 1 Alabama. Adebisi has appeared in all 10 games this season for the Commodores with one start, specifically as a blocking tight end.
- ▶ Jackson Kennedy (Syracuse), Noah Taylor (Northwestern), Holt Fletcher (Boston College), and Micah Sahakian (Duke) round out the other Big Red's competing at Power 5 institutions.
- ▶ Kennedy saw his first action of the season for Syracuse in a wild win over Virginia Tech, making 3-of-4 PATs and booting a 44-yard field goal and is now 2-for-2 on field goals and 7-of-8 on PATs.
- ▶ Nicholas Laboy '24 has seen some of the most snaps this year as a wide receiver for Delaware, tallying 15 catches for 164 yards and a touchdown in nine contests.
- ▶ Terrance Caldwell has appeared in all 10 games this season for Weber State on the offensive line.
- ▶ Former backup quarterback Luke Duby is the starting quarterback for Division II Black Hills State. Duby has completed 198-of-338 pass attempts for 2,049 yards and 14 touchdowns and has also rushed for a score.

A LOOK IN THE REARVIEW

▶ The Big Red finished the 2023 season with a 3-7 overall record (2-5 Ivy) after a hot start.

▶ In the second game of the season, Cornell grabbed a road win against a Yale team receiving votes in the national polls, 23-21, when then-senior Jackson Kennedy booted in a last-second 37-yard field goal to take just the second Big Red road victory over the Bulldogs this century.

▶ The Big Red also bested Ivy foe Brown at a time when the Bears' offense led the league in offense. The Big Red defense stifled the Bears, allowing no points until 5:48 remained in the third quarter. Cornell's defense allowed just two scores all game and forced three turnovers, including a 55-yard pick-six.

▶ Cornell put six student-athletes on All-Ivy teams, accounting for seven spots with Jackson Kennedy earning the nods for second-team punter and place kicker.

▶ The Big Red returns just six of the 22 starters from last season. Two-time All-Ivy quarterback Jameson Wang is the lone true starter back on the offense.

A LOOK IN THE REARVIEW

▶ This is the 138th year since the start of Cornell football, but it will be the 136th season.

▶ The first official Big Red football team was formed in 1887, and Cornell has sponsored a squad every year since except 1918 during World War I and 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

▶ The Big Red has collected five national titles (1915, 1921, 1922, 1923, 1939), won more than 600 games and has had legendary players and coaches perform on historic Schoellkopf Field.

▶ The Big Red has an overall record of 658-560-34 (.542) in its 136 years of football.

▶ The program's 658 wins rank 16th among all FCS schools.

▶ The Big Red claimed at least a share of the 1915 (Helms Athletic Foundation, Houlgate System, National Championship Foundation and Parke Davis), 1921 (Helms, Houlgate, National Championship Foundation and Parke Davis), 1922 (Helms, Parke Davis), 1923 (Sagarin) and 1939 (Litkenhous, Sagarin) titles.

▶ Cornell is the only Ivy League school to be ranked No. 1 in the weekly Associated Press poll, holding the top ranking for three weeks (10/15-10/29) of the 1940 season.

▶ Names such as Glenn "Pop" Warner and Heisman Trophy finalist and NCAA record breaker Ed Marinaro have suited up for Cornell, while seven College Football Hall of Famers (including Warner, Gil Dobie and Carl Snavelly) and multiple-time Super Bowl winner George Seifert have set the strategy as head coaches.

▶ When ESPN named its 150 greatest college football coaches of all time as part of the 150th anniversary of college football, Warner was ranked No. 11, Dobie was at No. 75 and Percy Haughton was No. 139.

▶ Marinaro, the runner-up for the 1971 Heisman Trophy, was ranked No. 126 on the list of greatest football players of all time by ESPN in January of 2020.

▶ The Big Red is involved in three of the top 20 most-played rivalries in the FCS.

▶ The Cornell-Penn series ranks fifth in most games played, a total that currently stands at 130.

▶ The 110 meetings between Cornell and Columbia ranks 14th, while the Cornell-Dartmouth rivalries stand 19th with 106 games played.

▶ The Cornell-Dartmouth and Cornell-Penn series were the second-longest uninterrupted active series in the FCS, as the teams met every season since 1919, a span of 101 years — they trailed only the Lafayette-Lehigh series, which had been played every season since 1897.

▶ Cornell was ranked as one of the top 100 football programs of all-time according to the Associated Press in a ranking released in August 2016.

▶ At No. 72, the Big Red ranked ahead of a number of Bowl Championship Subdivision (BCS) schools and second among Football Championship Subdivision (FCS) programs.

▶ Only Penn (No. 66) placed higher among current FCS schools, while other Ivy League teams on the list included Dartmouth (No. 87), Yale (No. 90), Princeton (No. 81) and Columbia (No. 99).

▶ Cornell was involved in one of the most historic games in college football history, the "Fifth Down Game."

▶ Played on Nov. 16, 1940 in Hanover, N.H., the top-ranked Big Red improved to 6-0 with a 7-3 victory over Dartmouth, scoring on the game's final play.

▶ After reviewing game film on Monday, Coach Carl Snavelly and acting athletic director Robert J. Kane wired Dartmouth officials to tell them Cornell scored on an inadvertent fifth down.

▶ Though there were no rules compelling the outcome to be changed, in an unprecedented act of sportsmanship, the Big Red relinquished claims to the win.

▶ It remains the only time a collegiate sporting contest has been decided off the field after the completion of a game.

NEXT UP

▶ The Big Red will close out the 2024 season when it visits Columbia in a battle for the Empire State Bowl on Saturday, Nov. 23 at 12 p.m. at Wien Stadium.

▶ The contest will be broadcast live on ESPN+.

▶ Cornell has a 66-40-3 lead in the all-time series, though the Lions have captured three consecutive victories.

DAN SWANSTROM

FIRST YEAR AS HEAD COACH

Year(s) at Cornell: First Year
College: Rhodes College

DAN SWANSTROM was named The Roger J. Weiss '61 Coach of Cornell Football by DR. NICKI MOORE, the Meakem Smith Director of Athletics and Physical Education in December of 2023. Swanstrom becomes the 28th head coach in school history.

Swanstrom spent five seasons as head coach at crosstown Ithaca College, compiling a 32-11 record and winning at least eight games in all four seasons. The Bombers won three Liberty League titles (2017, 2018 and 2021), claimed the ECAC Scotty Whitelaw Bowl title in his first season, and won the Cortaca game three times in four seasons. He played a part in scheduling the 2021 Cortaca game at MetLife Stadium, resulting in breaking the Division III attendance record (45,161). He was also involved in planning efforts the following year to play the contest at Yankee Stadium, surpassing 40,000 fans. His players earned 43 Academic All-District honors and six were named All-Americans, succeeding in and out of the classroom.

Sandwiched around his head coaching stop with the Bombers were a pair of stints at the University of Pennsylvania, first as quarterbacks coach and recruiting coordinator (2014-16) and later as offensive coordinator (2022-23). Swanstrom was part of the 2015 and 2016 Ivy League championship teams at Penn as an assistant coach. He mentored Alek Torgersen to a pair of first-team All-Ivy nods as the quarterback became Penn's all-time leader in passing touchdowns (52) and total offense (7,937 yards). Torgersen spent time with four NFL teams following his career with the Quakers.

He returned to Philadelphia in 2022 as offensive coordinator, helping the Quakers jump from last to first in the Ancient Eight in total offense over two seasons. Penn set school records for most receptions and longest play from scrimmage in a game and had individuals ranked among the top five nationally in passing and receptions per contest. In his first season back, the Quakers improved by five wins (from 3-5 in 2021 to 8-2 in 2022) and finished second in the final Ivy League standings at 5-2, a year removed from a 1-6 season.

After moving from assistant coach to associate head coach for John Margraff's powerful Johns Hopkins teams from 2008-13, Swanstrom took over as offensive coordinator in just his second year on the sidelines. He helped the team to five conference titles, and he coached four Centennial Conference Offensive Players of the Year. His teams were ranked in the top 10 nationally in total offense three times and paced the conference four consecutive years, averaging better than 500 yards in three different seasons. Nearly every offensive team record in school history was broken during his tenure as the offensive coordinator and the total of individual records surpassed 75 during his tenure. The team also had great success, going 48-10.

Swanstrom began his coaching journey as an assistant coach at Stratford HS in Texas (2005) where he mentored former NFL No. 1 overall draft pick Andrew Luck. He parlayed that success into serving two seasons as a graduate assistant coach at the University of Redlands (2006-07). As quarterbacks and wide receivers coach, Swanstrom helped Redlands to the 2007 Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference title.

Swanstrom played his collegiate years at Rhodes College as the team's quarterback, being named a finalist for the Gagliardi Award as one of the 10 Division III football players for national player of the year as a senior. He finished his career as the Lynx's all-time leader on career total offense (8,347 yards) and third in passing touchdowns (55). His 2,634 passing yards as a junior when he was named conference co-Offensive Player of the Year was also a school single-season record. The two-time team captain and three-time all-league pick ranked in the top 10 in conference history in total offense, passing yardage, total offense per game and passing touchdowns. He was inducted into the college's Athletics Hall of Fame in 2019.

GAME 1 COLGATE 41, CORNELL 24

Sep. 21, 2024 Crown Field at Andy Kerr Stadium Hamilton, N.Y.

GAME NOTES

• Cornell football dropped a 41-24 decision to Colgate on Saturday afternoon at Crown Field at Andy Kerr Stadium. After cutting it to a 10-point game late, Colgate tacked on one more score with less than two minutes remaining to add to the Big Red deficit.

• With the loss, Cornell drops to 0-1 (0-0 Ivy) and Colgate improves to 1-3 (0-0 Patriot).

• Senior quarterback Jameson Wang completed 29-of-37 passes for 313 yards and three touchdowns in the season opener. The El Segundo, Calif., native had no negative yardage plays, taking no sacks and tacking on a team-high 41 rushing yards on 10 attempts.

• Sophomore Brendan Lee led the Cornell receiving core with 101 yards on 5 receptions in his first career appearance on offense.

• Wang's favorite target was Samuel Musungu, who had seven grabs for 77 yards and a touchdown

• On defense, Luke Banbury led the charge with eight tackles including 0.5 for loss.

• Trey Harris followed with seven tackles and a pass breakup. Muhammad-Ali Kobo, Braylon Howard, and Damon Barnes all tallied six stops.

• Ben Sahakian had a forced fumble on a strip sack, the first of his career.

• Colgate's quarterback room of Jake Stearney, Michael Brescia, and Zach Osborne all combined for 18-for-29 passing. Stearney led the pack, completing 17-of-27 for 184 yards and a touchdown.

• The favorite target for the Raiders was Brady Hutchison, who caught six passes for 83 yards and was on the receiving end of the touchdown. Treyvon Saunders also caught six balls for 79 yards.

• The Raiders had three players totaling over 70 yards rushing. Chris Gee had 15 carries for 79 yards, and Brescia scampered for 77 yards on 11 attempts for two touchdowns. Marco Maldonado posted 10 rushes for 73 yards and a touchdown.

GAME 2 CORNELL 47, YALE 23

Sep. 28, 2024 Schoellkopf Field Ithaca, N.Y.

GAME NOTES

• On a rainy Saturday afternoon, Cornell football put on a show for a packed Schoellkopf Field, posting a 47-23 victory over the back-to-back Ivy League Champions.

• The Big Red tallied nearly 200 more yards of offense compared to the Bulldogs to improve to 1-1 (1-0 Ivy). Yale fell to 1-1 (0-1 Ivy).

• Senior quarterback Jameson Wang completed 18-of-29 passes for 278 and four touchdowns through the air. For the second straight week, Wang took no sacks and only rushed for positive. The El Segundo, Calif., native rushed for 55 yards and a touchdown.

• Sophomore running back Ean Pope rushed for a career-high 72 yards including a game-long scramble of 37 yards that he took to the house.

• Eddy Tillman, Robert Tucker III, and Johntu Reed also took rushes, pushing the Big Red to 197 rushing yards, the most on the ground since tallying 229 yards against Colgate in 2021.

• Brendan Lee again led the Big Red receiving core, posting 99 yards on five receptions for two touchdowns.

• Samuel Musungu followed with 78 yards and a score, with Ryder Kurtz narrowly behind with 74 yards and a score on just two catches.

• Trey Harris and Luke Banbury led defensively with seven tackles each. Banbury also notched a tackle for loss.

• Muhammad-Ali Kobo tallied six stops for the second straight game.

• Parker Woodring scooped his first career fumble after a muffed punt by Yale early in the first quarter.

• Alan Zhao drilled both of his field goal attempts.

• Brogan McCaughey completed 14-of-21 passing for 172 yards and a score after connecting with Ry Yates on his only reception of the day.

• Josh Pitsenberger was the only other Bulldog to find the endzone, tallying two house calls on 18 carries for 68 yards.

• David Pantelis led the Yale receiving core with 86 yards on five grabs. Mason Shipp was next with three catches for 35 yards.

GAME 5 CORNELL 34, BUCKNELL 21

Oct. 19, 2024 Christy Mathewson-Memorial Stadium Lewisburg, Pa.

GAME NOTES

- The Cornell defense put on a clinic for nearly the entire first half, shutting out the Bison for over 22 minutes and forcing a pair of turnovers, en route to a 34-21 victory over Bucknell on Saturday afternoon at Christy Mathewson-Memorial Stadium.
- With the win, Cornell improves to 2-3 (1-1 Ivy) while the Bison fall to 3-4 (1-0 Patriot).
- Senior quarterback Jameson Wang joined a club of one this weekend, becoming the only quarterback in Cornell history to account for 40 touchdown passes and 20 rushing touchdowns in a career.
- Wang completed 32-of-49 passes for 274 yards and three scores through the air. He rushed for 59 yards on 13 attempts.
- Ean Pope led the rushing game with 111 yards on 17 carries. For the first time since the 2022 season, Cornell had a rusher tally over 100 yards with sophomore Ean Pope's 111 yards on 17 carries. Now-senior running back Eddy Tillman was the last Big Red to do so when he posted 130 yards on 13 carries at Brown on October 22. The 111 yards marked a career-high for Pope.
- Johtu Reed rounded out the major contributors in the running core with 15 yards on three carries.
- Two Cornell receivers neared the 100-yard mark with Parker Woodring clocking 95 yards on five catches and a touchdown, Samuel Musungu followed with 94 yards on 14 catches and two house calls.
- Musungu's 14 catches matched the second most in a single game in program history, and the most since 2008.
- Sophomore tight end Ryder Kurtz posted 31 yards on three catches.
- Luke Banbury led the defensive unit with seven stops, while Joey Cheshire and Muhammad-Ali Kobo followed with six tackles a piece. Banbury's haul of an interception, a forced fumble, and a fumble recovery in the same game was last matched by Nick Bombach '96 in 1995 against Harvard when he had a pick, a forced fumble, and recovered two more. He was the first in Cornell history to tally a forced fumble, a fumble recovery, and a pick-six in a single game.
- Bucknell quarterback Michael Hardyway went 21-of-39 passing for 214 yards and two scores.
- Tariq Thomas led the Bison rushing core with 94 yards on nine carries. Micahel Cadden was the next-highest rusher with 16 yards on four carries.

GAME 7 CORNELL 49, PRINCETON 35

Nov. 2, 2024 Princeton Stadium Princeton, N.J.

GAME NOTES

- Cornell raced out to a 28-0 lead early in the second quarter and cruised to a 49-35 victory over Princeton at Princeton Stadium.
- Senior quarterback Jameson Wang accounted for three touchdowns (one rushing, three passing) and six different Big Red players reached the end zone in the win.
- Sophomore wide receiver Samuel Musungu caught eight passes for 165 yards and a highlight-reel touchdown, as well as an 82-yard grab that went down as the sixth-longest pass play in school history.
- Hunter Sloan had two of the defense's six sacks, and the Big Red unit was stout against the run, allowing just 86 rushing yards on 32 attempts.
- Ryder Kurtz tied a school single-game record for touchdown catches by a tight end with a pair of first quarter scores.
- Wang ended the day by completing 23-of-30 passes for 262 yards and three touchdowns while rushing for 31 more and an 8-yard score to get the visitors on the board.
- The 49 points in an Ivy road win were the third-most in school history and the highest total since registering a 52-13 victory at Penn to open the 1979 campaign.
- Cornell led by as many as 35 points, going up 49-14 enterign the fourth quarter.
- The Big Red offensive line did not allow a sack for the fourth time this season and for the third time in Ivy contests
- Running backs Ean Pope, Eddy Tillman and Robert Tucker III each scored touchdowns on the ground.
- The Tigers scored three of their touchdowns in the fourth quarter, including the last one with 14 seconds to play, to narrow the final margin.
- Princeton quarterback Blaine Hipa completed 26 of his 40 pass attempts for 257 yards and three touchdowns.

GAME 8 PENN 67, CORNELL 49

Nov. 9, 2024 Schoellkopf Field Ithaca, N.Y.

GAME NOTES

- In a game that featured nearly 1,200 yards of offense and a complete rewrite of both record books, Penn outscored Cornell 67-49 at Schoellkopf Field.
- Senior Jameson Wang threw for a career-high 401 yards and tied a school record with five touchdown passes, three going to sophomore Samuel Musungu to match that single-game mark as well.
- Musungu was one catch shy of a school record and finished with 14 for 148 yards.
- Wang accounted for six total touchdowns (five passing, one rushing), breaking the school mark en route to 449 yards of offense (No. 9 all-time) in the contest.
- While Cornell's numbers were exceptional, Penn's were video game-like.
- Liam O'Brien completed 22-of-30 passes for 341 yards and six touchdowns and ran for another to account for seven scores.
- Three of his touchdowns were thrown to Jared Richardson, who caught nine passes for 141 yards.
- Malachi Hosley ran for 192 yards and two scores, his second consecutive huge game against the Big Red.
- Penn totaled 33 first downs and 627 yards.
- Three big interceptions by the defense were the difference in a game that saw the visitors score on each of their final 10 possessions, the last six reaching the end zone.
- There were only two punts - one apiece - in the game.
- Plenty of other players had standout efforts on offense for the Big Red, with Ryder Kurtz posting his first career 100-yard receiving game (101 yards on four catches) and Robert Tucker III scoring twice, including on a 74-yard run on a fake punt that was the longest Big Red rush since 2019.

Schoellkopf At 108 Years Young

- Schoellkopf Field has been an indelible mark of Cornell football since it opened in 1915 and this year will be the 108th season at the home field.
- A gift from Willard Straight '01 and the family of Henry (Heinie) Schoellkopf '02 made the construction possible for the current stadium.
- The Big Red's first year on the field was one of its best, going 9-0 and winning the national championship.
- In 1915, General Electric Company completed work on a flood searchlight system for the field, and in 1924 a construction project was completed to bring capacity from 9,000 to 21,500 by adding the famed Crescent.
- In 1947 that capacity was increased to 25,597 and a press box was added.
- In 1971 a gift was made to put artificial turf on the field, and it was resurfaced three times, the last time in 1999.
- A new press box was built in 1986.
- The 2008 season saw installation of FieldTurf synthetic grass to replace the artificial turf.
- In 2016, the West Stands were demolished and the field was moved 15 feet toward the Crescent while replacing the FieldTurf to ready for more construction at the site, lowering the capacity to 21,500 in the process.

Schoellkopf Field Facts

- Schoellkopf Field is the fourth-oldest FCS stadium, opening in 1915. Only Penn's Franklin Field (1895), Harvard Stadium (1903) and the Yale Bowl (1914) are older.
- The playing area before World War I was Percy Field, alongside Fall Creek, the present site of Ithaca HS.
