FIRST TOUCH

► Cornell opens its 2024 campaign and 42nd season of women's soccer this afternoon when it travels to Hamilton, N.Y., to face its Central New York rival Colgate at Beyer-Small '76 Field.

SEASON OPENERS

► The Big Red holds an all-time record of 23-12-6 across its previous 41 season openers, which features Cornell logging a 6-2-2 record in its last 10 season-opening matches.

► Following last year's season-opening 2-2 draw with Lehigh, the Big Red is winless in its last two season openers after dropping a road decision to Canisius, 2-1, on Aug. 26, 2022.

► Over its last 22 season openers, Cornell has found the back of the net 18 times. The only campaigns in which the Big Red were held scoreless to begin a season since 2001 was in 2004 (Stony Brook), 2009 (Binghamton), 2015 (Siena), and 2017 (Syracuse).

► This will be the third time Cornell will be facing Colgate in a season opener. The previous two instances came in 1989 (Ithaca) and 1990 (Hamilton), where the Big Red posted victories of 4-1 and 3-0.

NON-LEAGUE DOMINANCE

► Entering this afternoon's match, Cornell is riding an 11-match unbeaten streak against non-conference opponents that dates back to the 2022 season.

► Last year, Cornell went 4-0-4 against non-Ivy League opponents, registering victories over Marist, Syracuse, Colgate, and UAlbany, and playing to draws with Lehigh, Buffalo, Binghamton, and Villanova.

► The last setback in non-league play for Cornell came against Syracuse, 3-0, on Sept. 11, 2022.

► As a conference last season, the Ivy League collected a non-league record of 46-16-18 (.688). The .688 win percentage led the nation, finishing seven points ahead of the SEC (.681). The Ivy League was one of seven Division I conferences with a cumulative non-conference win percentage above .600, joining the SEC, Big Ten (.676), Pac-12 (.659), ACC (.649), Big 12 (.612), and Sun Belt (.610).

KNACK FOR THE NET

► Cornell scored 21 goals last season, marking the most by the program since potting 22 markers during the 2014 campaign.

► The Big Red's 21 goals across its 15 matches computed to a 1.40 goals per match average, ranking as the program's highest average since 2005 (23 goals in 15 matches — 1.53).

► Last year, Cornell scored in 14 of its 15 matches, the program's most contests with at least one goal since 2003, when it logged goals in 14 of its 16 matches.

► The Big Red were held scoreless just once last year, signifying the fewest amount of matches being shut out in a season in program history. The previous record was two, previously done in 1986 and 2003.

THE FINISHING TOUCH

► Cornell has scored at least one goal in 33 of its 47 matches, dating back to the 2021 campaign which served as the first season of competition under current head coach ROB FERGUSON.

► The 70.2 percent of contests with a goal ranks as the highest clip in Cornell program history, surpassing RANDY MAY, the first head coach in program history, who saw his teams score in 68.1 percent of the 282 matches he coached during his 18-year tenure (192 games with a goal).

► As of late, the Big Red has displayed its scoring touch, registering goals in each of its six contests, 16 of its last 17 matches, and 19 of its previous 22 fixtures, dating across its last two seasons.

ANCIENT EIGHT'S SUCCESS

► Last year, the Ivy League excelled on the pitch, registering a combined 68-38-30 record. The conference's cumulative win percentage of .610 paced all of the 31 Division I conferences that sponsored women's soccer last season.

► The Ivy League's .610 win percentage was 20 points higher than the SEC's .591 cumulative win percentage and had a 22-point lead over the Big Ten (.588). Rounding out the Power Five conferences, the Ivy League was ahead of the ACC (.573) by 37 points, Pac-12 (.571) by 39 percentage points, and the Big 12 (.556) by 55-hundredths of a point.

► Five Ancient Eight programs concluded the 2023 campaign with a winning record, all of whom boasted win percentages north of .600 (Brown, Harvard, Columbia, Dartmouth, and Princeton).

EMPIRE STATE OF MIND

► Six of Cornell's first seven matches will feature the Big Red either playing a contest within the Empire State, with the lone exception being its Sept. 8 contest against Lehigh in Bethlehem, Pa.

► Dating back to Sept. 4, 2022, the Big Red has an 8-4-9 record (.595) in matches that have been played in New York State.

► Across its last 15 matches within New York, Cornell is unbeaten in 13 contests, posting a 7-2-6 record (.667) during the span. The lone setbacks came in Ivy League matchups last year at Berman Field against Harvard (3-1 — Oct. 7) and Brown (2-1 — Oct. 21). Cornell's last loss within New York in a road match was Sept. 24, 2022, at Columbia (1-0).

THIS DAY IN CORNELL WOMEN'S SOCCER HISTORY

AUG.

Cornell is 0-0-0 all-time on Aug. 25

Aug. 25, 2024: Today's match between Cornell and Colgate will signify the first match played on Aug. 25 in Big Red women's soccer history.

LEADERSHIP GROUP

► For the third consecutive season, Cornell will deploy a multi-person leadership team, featuring a trio of captains and a leadership council consisting of two representatives from the junior and sophomore classes.

► Earning spots as captains on this year's team include seniors AVA LADEN, MADDIE LEROY, and CECILY POKIGO. Members of the leadership council include juniors ABIGAIL BISHARA and IZZY SCOTT, and sophomores KAYLA RISTIANTO and ISABEL CHAPMAN.

GEOGRAPHICALLY DIVERSE

► Cornell women's soccer does not generally recruit a specific area of the nation, which is exemplified with the makeup of this year's roster.

► A total of 17 states are represented this season, spanning all four contiguous U.S. time zones. New York leads the way with six players while California is right behind with five. Texas ranks third with three student-athletes.

► Connecticut, Georgia, Illinois, Maryland, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania all have two representatives, while Colorado, Massachusetts, Michigan, North Carolina, South Carolina, Vermont, Virginia, and Washington are represented once.

RISTIANTO REPRESENTS INDONESIA

► This past summer, rising sophomore defender KAYLA RISTIANTO suited up for the Indonesian Women's National Team in a pair of friendlies in Hong Kong.

► The pair of contests between the Asian-based countries were held on July 11 and July 14 at the Hong Kong Football Club Ground, with Hong Kong taking both contests by 3-2 and 4-1 scores, respectively.

► "Very proud of Kayla for earning this opportunity to learn and grow, and incredibly excited for her to continue to shine on this next stage with the Indonesia National Team," said Cornell women's soccer head coach ROB FERGUSON.

EUROPEAN TRIP REWIND

► Upon the conclusion of classes, Cornell took a trip to Europe, where the Big Red participated in three exhibition contests.

► A roster of 30 players and four staff left the United States on May 27, playing a trio of exhibitions against Spanish-based clubs.

► The Big Red claimed a 4-1 victory against its first opponent, Girona FC, which competes in the Preferente Catalana, the fifth tier of Spanish soccer. Cornell's middle match of the trip saw the Big Red play Levante Las Planas of Liga F, the top division of Spanish football before wrapping its trio of contests was a 6-2 victory against Font Santa Fatjó.

► While there was certainly a focus on performance and continuing to improve on the field, the trip was about much more than playing soccer. There was a real focus on 'team' and building relationships, and appreciating the opportunity and experience to dive in to local cultures in Girona, Barcelona, and Sitges, the three places where the team will spend time sightseeing.

► "There is a lot to be gained from a trip like this, both on an individual and team level from a soccer perspective," Ferguson said before embarking on the trip. "The additional training and game opportunities is a huge plus, and the opportunity for players to deal with the challenges of playing abroad, against older and more experienced teams, who have very clear and varied styles of play is a huge growth opportunity."

IVY PRESEASON POLL

► Cornell was picked to finish eighth in this year's Ivy League women's soccer preseason poll, the conference office announced this past Monday (Aug. 19).

► Harvard, which won the inaugural Ivy League Women's Soccer Tournament title last November, was tabbed the preseason favorite after garnering 10 of 16 first-place votes. The Crimson concluded with a point total of 120, 12 points ahead of Brown (108), which received four first-place votes. Right behind Brown was Princeton with its 103 points and the other two first-place votes.

► Rounding out the eight-team poll ahead of Cornell was Columbia (77 points) in fourth, Dartmouth (57 points) in fifth, Yale (48 points) in sixth, and Penn (41 points) in seventh. Cornell finished in eighth place with its 22 points.

SCOUTING COLGATE

- ▶ Colgate enters its home opener with a 0-2-0 overall record, falling in a pair of matches against Empire State rivals Stony Brook (2-1 — Aug. 15) and St. John's (2-0 — Aug. 18).
- ▶ Junior forward Ana Schremp netted the Raiders' lone tally on the season, potting a 34th-minute goal against Stony Brook. Cara Schmidlein is the only other Colgate player with a point, assisting on Schremp's goal.
- ▶ Senior goalkeeper Alli Popham has started both of Colgate's matches, logging 173:44 minutes of action. Sophomore goalkeeper Ella Poppinga was saddled with the loss during her 6:16 of action in goal against Stony Brook, conceding a goal on the lone shot she faced.

COLGATE'S LAST TIME OUT

- ▶ QUEENS, N.Y. (AUG. 18, 2024) — St. John's registered goals in both halves to down Colgate, 2-0, at Belson Stadium last Sunday.
- ▶ The Red Storm logged the first goal in the fifth minute before tacking on an insurance marker in the 66th minute, converting on a penalty after a Raider handball inside the penalty area.
- ▶ Alli Popham stopped eight shots in the setback for the Raiders, six of which came in the first half.

LAST TIME AGAINST COLGATE

- ▶ ITHACA, N.Y. (SEPT. 26, 2023) — SYDNEY MALAGA's goal in the 84th minute broke a scoreless contest, aiding Cornell to a 1-0 victory over its Central New York rival Colgate at Berman Field.
 - ▶ Malaga's marker, the eighth-latest non-overtime game-winning goal in program history, extended Cornell's home unbeaten streak to 10 matches, signifying the Big Red's longest stretch without a loss on its home turf in program history.
 - ▶ Junior goalkeeper ERICA FOX and sophomore goalkeeper NATALIE MEDUGNO shared time in goal, splitting the clean sheet for the Big Red. Fox made three saves over 84:46 of action, while Medugno did not face a shot during her 5:14 in goal as she was an injury replacement for Fox, who later returned to the match.
 - ▶ Alli Popham made three first-half saves for Colgate before giving way to Emma Hickey, who stopped two Cornell shots in the second half.
- 41 YEARS, 68 MILES, 44 MEETINGS
- ▶ Cornell has won the last three meetings against its Central New York rival despite Colgate maintaining the lead in the series, 22-18-4.
 - ▶ The Big Red is seeking to increase its win streak over Colgate to four matches this afternoon, which would serve as the longest string of consecutive wins over the Raiders since posting seven straight triumphs between the 1986 and 1992 seasons. A tie would also be Cornell's longest unbeaten streak over Colgate since collecting its seven consecutive wins against the Raiders.
 - ▶ Contests between Cornell and Colgate have generally been close, as the last four and eight of the previous nine matches have been decided by one goal or less.

ROB FERGUSON

FIFTH YEAR (FOURTH SEASON) AS HEAD COACH

Years at Cornell: Sixth Year

College: University of Manchester

ROB FERGUSON, who is entering his fifth year as the head coach of the Cornell women's soccer team, was hired as the sixth head coach in program history in February 2020. Prior to his appointment as head coach, Ferguson served as an assistant coach for the Big Red during the 2019 campaign under previous head coach DWIGHT HORNIBROOK.

Ferguson's most recent campaign in 2023 saw Cornell register an overall record of 4-5-6 and an 0-5-2 mark in Ivy League action. The Big Red had its most offensive production in a season since 2015, as the Big Red recorded 21 goals and 58 points. REAGAN PAUWELS was named a Second Team All-Ivy selection for a second consecutive season while MIA GONZALEZ (forward) and CECILY POKIGO (defender) earned Honorable Mention All-Ivy honors. The trio of Big Red players marked the first time Cornell has had at least three players earn All-Ivy honors in consecutive seasons since 2014 and 2015.

Cornell also opened the 2023 campaign unbeaten over its first six matches of the season (2-0-4), marking the fifth time in program history that the Big Red had not lost any of its first six matches of a season (1986, 1991, 2005, 2015, 2023). The Big Red also went 2-0-3 in its first five home games to register a program-record 11-game home unbeaten streak that dated back to 2022 (5-0-6).

During the 2022 season, Cornell had a 4-7-5 overall record and a 2-3-2 ledger in Ivy League play. Both of Cornell's conference victories — the most by the Big Red since 2016 — came in the program's final two matches of the season against Princeton and Dartmouth. The victory over Princeton was Cornell's first since 1995, snapping a 25-match losing streak to the Tigers.

The consecutive victories over Princeton and Dartmouth marked the first time Cornell had registered back-to-back wins in Ivy League contests since the final conference fixture in 2014 and the first league bout in 2015.

Cornell had a 3-1-3 record on its home turf at Berman Field in 2022, featuring the Big Red going unbeaten across its final six matches (3-0-3). The Big Red also had a trio of All-Ivy award winners, including Pauwels and Pokigo earning Second Team All-Ivy honors.

Ferguson's first year as Cornell's head coach did not see the Big Red play in any contests with the cancelation of all matches due to the COVID-19 pandemic. In his second year at the helm, Ferguson's first year of competition as head coach saw Cornell have an overall record of 3-11-2 and a 1-6-0 Ivy League mark. The lone league victory was the Big Red's first over an Ancient Eight opponent since defeating Columbia in 2016.

In his first overall season on East Hill as an assistant coach on Hornibook's staff in 2019, Ferguson guided the Big Red to four consecutive victories to start the season — including three straight clean sheets over Siena, Bucknell, and St. Bonaventure. Cornell ultimately finished the season with a 4-10-1 record after the rigors of one some of the strongest Ivy League competition seen in recent years. Ferguson helped get the Big Red's impact freshman class acclimated to collegiate competition, a group that included 2019 All-Ivy League honorable mention selection ASHLEY DURIK.

Ferguson joined the Big Red following a very successful stint as the director of coaching with the WNY Flash Academy. He helped turn the program into a player development leader in Western New York, expanding the program's footprint from 15 teams to 34 teams, and moving them into national recognition in Elite Clubs National League (ECNL).

Under Ferguson's leadership at the Flash, their 03G ECNL and 02G ECNL advanced into the Elite 8 in June 2018, and the club had their first US Youth National Team Camp call-up.

Before joining the WNY Flash Academy, Ferguson was the head coach of both the men's and women's soccer programs at Huston-Tillotson University, an NAIA institution based in Austin, Texas. Prior to that, he served as the executive director of business for the Lonestar Soccer Club for eight years, spanning from 2008 to 2015.

One of the largest and most successful youth soccer clubs in the country, Ferguson coached the Lonestar 96B Red, 93G Red, 94G Red and 95G Red, helping advance the 95G Red to the USYSNC Region III Championships in 2013 and 2014.

Previous stops for Ferguson included a stint as the head coach with Albion Hurricanes FC in Houston, where he guided the AHFC 94G Blue to the USYSNC Regionals for the first time in their history. Before that, he was the director of coaching for FC Arsenal for three years in Bastrop, Texas, and was a regional manager for Britannia Soccer/ProExcel, based in Seattle.

Ferguson is a graduate of the University of Manchester, where he received a bachelor of arts degree in sports studies and business management. He lives with his wife, Kelsey, their two children, Maxwell and Mirann, and their two dogs, Bonsai and Charlie.
