THE FLY OVER

► Cornell football kicks off the 2024 season when the team travels to upstate foe Colgate for a Saturday matinee on Crown Field at Andy Kerr Stadium in Hamilton, N.Y. The contest will go down on Saturday, September 21 at 1:00 p.m.

► The game will be broadcast on ESPN+. Eric Malanoski will be on the call.

QUICK HITS

► The Raiders enter the contest searching for their first win of the season after dropping the first three contests of the year. Colgate has already faced some formidable foes this year, facing off against #5 Villanova in the Raiders home opener, and facing off against FBS opponent Akron last weekend.

► A win this weekend would mark the third consecutive season-opener victory for the Big Red. Cornell bested Lehigh on the road in 2023 and topped #23 VMI in 2022.

► Should the Big Red grab the win, it would mark the first time a Cornell football coach won their first road game since the 1989 season when Jack Fouts led the Big Red to a 20-9 victory over Bucknell in the season opener.

► Picked to finish seventh in the Ivy League preseason media poll, Cornell seeks to again surpass expectations after turning a last-place preseason selection in 2022 into a sixth-place finish and .500 record, the best record for the Big Red since a 5-5 finish in the 2011 season.

► Cornell will take a different approach to the captainship this season compared to years past. Each week, Cornell will name game captains, rather than having a pair host the duties the whole season.

A LOOK IN THE REARVIEW

► The Big Red finished the 2023 season with a 3-7 overall record (2-5 Ivy) after a hot start.

► In the second game of the season, Cornell grabbed a road win against a Yale team receiving votes in the national polls, 23-21, when then-senior Jackson Kennedy booted in a last-second 37-yard field goal to take just the second Big Red road victory over the Bulldogs this century.

► The Big Red also bested Ivy foe Brown at a time when the Bears' offense led the league in offense. The Big Red defense stifled the Bears, allowing no points until 5:48 remained in the third quarter. Cornell's defense allowed just two scores all game and forced three turnovers, including a 55-yard pick-six.

► Cornell put six student-athletes on All-Ivy teams, accounting for seven spots with Jackson Kennedy earning the nods for second-team punter and place kicker.

► The Big Red returns just six of the 22 starters from last season. Two-time All-Ivy quarterback Jameson Wang is the lone true starter back on the offense.

► Wang is the only returning 2023 All-Ivy honoree after the other five student-athletes graduated.

THE SERIES

► Cornell has a 51-50-3 lead in the series, which began in 1896. The Big Red has won two of the last three meetings.

► The Big Red had lost 10 of 11 games against Colgate before starting a two-game win streak in 2021. The Big Red won 34-20 that year in Ithaca and 34-31 in 2022 in Hamilton. Last year, the Big Red dropped a 35-25 decision on Homecoming against the Raiders.

► Cornell has an 11-11 record against Colgate on the road.

► Cornell has not won more than two games in a row against Colgate since a five-game win streak from 1970-75.

SCOUTING THE ENEMY

- Colgate fell to 0-3 over the weekend with a 31-20 road loss to FBS team Akron.
- Colgate's other losses came at Maine (17-14) and against #5 Villanova (28-3).
- Making his 24th career start this weekend is Raiders' quarterback Michael Brescia. He enters the week with 3,501 career passing yards, 12 touchdowns, and 18 interceptions. The 2021 Patriot League Rookie of the Year has rushed for 1,650 yards and 30 touchdowns. He's rushed for two touchdowns so far this season.
- Junior receiver Treyvon Saunders leads Colgate in catches (16), yards (168), and touchdowns (1) this season after an All-Patriot League first-team season in 2023. Junior Brady Hutchison follows with 9 grabs for 97 yards.
- Colgate returns 2023 All-Patriot League offensive linemen Bardhyl Gashi and Chance Niesner.
- Junior linebacker Cole Kozlowski leads the Raiders with 38 tackles and is coming off a Patriot League Player of the Week nod after clocking 13 stops, including a career-high two sacks, at Akron. Fifth-year All-Patriot linebacker Christian Sweeney ranks second on the team in tackles with 21.
- Senior defensive lineman Andrew Taddeo matches Kozlowski's sack number of two.
- Junior defensive back Asauni Allen has broken up a team-high three passes. Sophomore Justin Lawrence and senior Arthur Hamlin each have an interception.
- Punter Shelby Pruettt has punted 16 times for 742 yards for an average of 46.38 yards. He booted a season-high 66-yarder at Akron and has five punts for 50+ yards this season.
- Sophomore kicker Luke Vogeler is 3-for-4 on field goals through three games. This marks his first season taking over the place-kicking duties.

A WIN OVER COLGATE WOULD...

- mark the third straight season opener win for the Big Red.
- be the first win at the Division I level for Coach Swanstrom.
- up Cornell's record in the all-time series to 52-50-3.
- give Cornell a 107-69-5 (.594) all-time record in the month of September.
- mark the third win in the past four matchups, and be the second road win during that stretch.
- reset a current four-game losing streak, which happened for the Big Red for the first time since the beginning of the 2021 season to close out the 2023 slate.
- be the 657th in program history (15th-most in the Football Championship Subdivision).

LAST TIME AGAINST THE RAIDERS

- Fifteen tackles from Noah Taylor and a 100-yard receiving game by Nicholas Laboy were not enough to lift the Big Red over Colgate. The Raiders controlled the fourth quarter, outscoring Cornell 21-8.
- The Big Red held the lead at the end of the first half and played a scoreless third quarter.
- The Raiders responded with back-to-back touchdowns to jump back out in front and secure a lead they never surrendered.
- Laboy's 104-yard receiving was a career-high, marking his first 100-yard performance.
- With his effort, Laboy surpassed 500 career receiving yards (584) and now has four receiving touchdowns with scoring receptions in each of his past two games.
- Senior Noah Taylor made a career-best 15 tackles, moving his all-time total to 99.
- Taylor's 15 tackles were the most by a Big Red player in a single game since Lance Blass '19 also recorded 15 against Dartmouth in 2018.
- Junior wide receiver Luke Malaga had his first career catch, a 21-yarder.
- Junior linebacker Luke Banbury was credited with a career-high seven tackles, while classmate Damon Barnes posted a career-best five stops.
- With 1,090 rushing yards for his career, junior Jameson Wang moved into 29th place on the school's career list, Next up in 28th is former All-Ivy quarterback Ryan Kuhn '06 (1,110).
- Wang also upped his career passing yardage total to 2,674 yards, good for 14th at Cornell.
- His 22 passing touchdowns moved him into a sixth-place tie with Mark Allen '74, four behind Nathan Ford '09 for a top-five mark.
- Wang's second career two-point conversion made him the 16th player in school history with multiple two-point conversions. The school record of four was set by Rick Furbush '71.
- Wang has upped his career scoring total to 94 points and is now one touchdown away from becoming the 24th player in Cornell history to surpass 100 for a career and the first since Harold Coles '20.

HALL OF FAME FIGURES

- Over Homecoming weekend last year, Cornell honored the 2023 Cornell Hall of Fame honorees with an on-field ceremony.
- From football, J.C. Tretter '13 was inducted in the 2023 class. During his time at Cornell, the offensive lineman was named a unanimous All-Ivy First Team selection. At the time, he protected Jeff Matthews' blindside, helping the Big Red to set a new Cornell and Ivy passing record. Tretter's protection also earned him a second-team All-American recognition. He was the 25th pick in the fourth round of the 2013 NFL Draft, where he was selected by the Green Bay Packers. He also spent time with the Cleveland Browns. In the spring of 2020, Tretter was named the President of the NFL Players Association.
- A "special category" inductee alongside Tretter is the former Meakem Smith Director of Athletics & Physical Education, Andy Noel. Noel was the head of Cornell Athletics for 24 years. Under him, the Big Red won 106 Ivy League team titles and 37 national championships. Nearly, 2,300 athletes earned All-Ivy honors, including 850 first-teamers and 400 All-Americans.
- 13 other inductees were honored alongside Tretter and Noel.

ALL EYES ON JAMESON WANG

- Wang was named the Phil Steele Ivy League Preseason first team coming off the heels of a season where he ranked atop the Ivy (and 21st nationally) in completion percentage, connecting on 64.8 percent of his throws
- In his junior season, Wang threw for over 2400 yards, good for third-most in the conference.
- The El Segundo, Calif. native has etched his name in the Cornell record books in nearly every major passing category, including passing attempts (677, 6th), pass completions (419, 6th), passing yards (4426, 6th), passing touchdowns (27, 5th), pass completion percentage (61.9%, 2nd), pass efficiency (123.9, 5th), passing yards per game (163.9, 7th).
- He also ranks top-20 in rushing attempts (315, 20th) and rushing touchdowns (20, 7th).

LAST TIME OUT

- • A group of 30 Big Red seniors were honored prior to Saturday's contest, but Cornell dropped a 29-14 decision to Columbia at Schoellkopf Field on Saturday, Nov. 18.
- • Cornell fell to 3-7 (2-5 Ivy) while Columbia tallied its first conference win to improve to 3-7 (1-6 Ivy)
- • Jameson Wang went 32-for-47 in the passing game, amounting 345 yards and a touchdown on the day. He rushed a team-high 12 times including one ending in the end zone, but only net nine yards gained on the ground.
- • Davon Kiser's one rush for 10 yards led the running game for the Big Red. Kiser also led receivers with his first-career 100+-yard game. The sophomore totaled 121 yards on six grabs, including a haul in for 48 yards for the longest of either team on the day.

- ▶ The sophomore totaled 121 yards on six grabs, including a haul in for 48 yards for the longest of either team on the day.
- ▶ Nicholas Laboy finished just shy of triple digits, clocking 99 yards on nine receptions. Doryn Smith and Drew Powell each also tacked on significant receiving yards, tallying 52 and 48 yards, respectively.
- ▶ Wang became the first Big Red quarterback to pass for 300+ yards in at least three games in a single season since Dalton Banks hit the 300 mark thrice during the 2016 season.
- ▶ The 345 yards by Wang marks the most passing yards since Banks passed for 454 against Colgate on Oct. 1, 2016.
- ▶ Wang upped his career-rushing touchdowns to 20, tied for seventh-most in Cornell history.
- ▶ Kiser was the first Big Red receiver to hit more than one 100+ yard receiving game across a single season since Thomas Glover did it three times in 2021.
- ▶ Senior placekicker and punter Jackson Kennedy upped his career point count to 104, finishing his time at Cornell with the 22nd-most points in program history.
- ▶ Kennedy's 41 career PATs rank 17th in Cornell history.
- ▶ His 41-of-42 PATs rank ninth in school history in terms of percentage (97.6 percent).
- ▶ The Big Red held both Lion quarterbacks to 50 percent or worse in completion percentage. The duo of Joe Green and Caden Bell was held to a collective 13-of-29 through the air.

PHIL STEEL'S PRESEASON ALL-IVY

- ▶ With the release of the Phill Steele Preseason All-Conference lists, Cornell accounted for six spots on the Ivy lists.
- ▶ The four Big Red named to the list is headlined by senior quarterback, Jameson Wang, who was named to the first team.
- ▶ Joining Wang with offensive recognition is Davon Kiser, who wrapped up a second-team honor as a wide receiver. Kiser was also named to the second team on special teams, as the punt returner and kick returner.
- ▶ Senior offense lineman Jackson Bradley also earned a recognition on the second team.
- ▶ On defense, senior linebacker Luke Banbury was named to the second team.

NEXT UP

- ▶ The Big Red kicks off the home slate next weekend when the team returns to Schoellkopf Field to host Ivy foe Yale for Homecoming 2024.

DAN SWANSTROM

FIRST YEAR AS HEAD COACH

Years at Cornell: First Year
College: Rhodes College

DAN SWANSTROM was named The Roger J. Weiss '61 Coach of Cornell Football by DR. NICKI MOORE, the Meakem Smith Director of Athletics and Physical Education in December of 2023. Swanstrom becomes the 28th head coach in school history.

Swanstrom spent five seasons as head coach at crosstown Ithaca College, compiling a 32-11 record and winning at least eight games in all four seasons. The Bombers won three Liberty League titles (2017, 2018 and 2021), claimed the ECAC Scotty Whitelaw Bowl title in his first season, and won the Cortaca game three times in four seasons. He played a part in scheduling the 2021 Cortaca game at MetLife Stadium, resulting in breaking the Division III attendance record (45,161). He was also involved in planning efforts the following year to play the contest at Yankee Stadium, surpassing 40,000 fans. His players earned 43 Academic All-District honors and six were named All-Americans, succeeding in and out of the classroom.

Sandwiched around his head coaching stop with the Bombers were a pair of stints at the University of Pennsylvania, first as quarterbacks coach and recruiting coordinator (2014-16) and later as offensive coordinator (2022-23). Swanstrom was part of the 2015 and 2016 Ivy League championship teams at Penn as an assistant coach. He mentored Alek Torgersen to a pair of first-team All-Ivy nods as the quarterback became Penn's all-time leader in passing touchdowns (52) and total offense (7,937 yards). Torgersen spent time with four NFL teams following his career with the Quakers.

He returned to Philadelphia in 2022 as offensive coordinator, helping the Quakers jump from last to first in the Ancient Eight in total offense over two seasons. Penn set school records for most receptions and longest play from scrimmage in a game and had individuals ranked among the top five nationally in passing and receptions per contest. In his first season back, the Quakers improved by five wins (from 3-5 in 2021 to 8-2 in 2022) and finished second in the final Ivy League standings at 5-2, a year removed from a 1-6 season.

After moving from assistant coach to associate head coach for John Margraff's powerful Johns Hopkins teams from 2008-13, Swanstrom took over as offensive coordinator in just his second year on the sidelines. He helped the team to five conference titles, and he coached four Centennial Conference Offensive Players of the Year. His teams were ranked in the top 10 nationally in total offense three times and paced the conference four consecutive years, averaging better than 500 yards in three different seasons. Nearly every offensive team record in school history was broken during his tenure as the offensive coordinator and the total of individual records surpassed 75 during his tenure. The team also had great success, going 48-10.

Swanstrom began his coaching journey as an assistant coach at Stratford HS in Texas (2005) where he mentored former NFL No. 1 overall draft pick Andrew Luck. He parlayed that success into serving two seasons as a graduate assistant coach at the University of Redlands (2006-07). As quarterbacks and wide receivers coach, Swanstrom helped Redlands to the 2007 Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference title.

Swanstrom played his collegiate years at Rhodes College as the team's quarterback, being named a finalist for the Gagliardi Award as one of the 10 Division III football players for national player of the year as a senior. He finished his career as the Lynx's all-time leader on career total offense (8,347 yards) and third in passing touchdowns (55). His 2,634 passing yards as a junior when he was named conference co-Offensive Player of the Year was also a school single-season record. The two-time team captain and three-time all-league pick ranked in the top 10 in conference history in total offense, passing yardage, total offense per game and passing touchdowns. He was inducted into the college's Athletics Hall of Fame in 2019.

Schoellkopf At 108 Years Young

- Schoellkopf Field has been an indelible mark of Cornell football since it opened in 1915 and this year will be the 108th season at the home field.
- A gift from Willard Straight '01 and the family of Henry (Heinie) Schoellkopf '02 made the construction possible for the current stadium.
- The Big Red's first year on the field was one of its best, going 9-0 and winning the national championship.
- In 1915, General Electric Company completed work on a flood searchlight system for the field, and in 1924 a construction project was completed to bring capacity from 9,000 to 21,500 by adding the famed Crescent.
- In 1947 that capacity was increased to 25,597 and a press box was added.
- In 1971 a gift was made to put artificial turf on the field, and it was resurfaced three times, the last time in 1999.
- A new press box was built in 1986.
- The 2008 season saw installation of FieldTurf synthetic grass to replace the artificial turf.
- In 2016, the West Stands were demolished and the field was moved 15 feet toward the Crescent while replacing the FieldTurf to ready for more construction at the site, lowering the capacity to 21,500 in the process.

Schoellkopf Field Facts

- Schoellkopf Field is the fourth-oldest FCS stadium, opening in 1915. Only Penn's Franklin Field (1895), Harvard Stadium (1903) and the Yale Bowl (1914) are older.
- The playing area before World War I was Percy Field, alongside Fall Creek, the present site of Ithaca HS.

GAME 1 CORNELL 23, LEHIGH 20

Sept. 16, 2023 Goodman Stadium Bethlehem, Pa.

GAME NOTES

- The Roger J. Weiss '61 Head Coach of Cornell Football, Dave Archer '05, directed his team to its second consecutive win in a season opener when it took down Lehigh, 23-20, at Goodman Stadium on Sept. 16, 2023.
- It marked the second season the Big Red opened with a road win.
- The Big Red came out of the huddle with speed and discipline.
- After being forced to punt it away the first drive, Cornell held Lehigh to a three-and-out, returned the punt 21 yards, and after gaining just one first down, Jameson Wang connected with Davon Kiser to secure the first touchdown of the season.
- The Big Red offense had more to come in the first quarter, with Wang connecting with Parker Woodring on a 20-yard pass for a touchdown, giving Cornell a 14-0 lead.
- The Big Red defense continued to dominate through halftime, allowing just two first downs in all of the first half, including forcing Lehigh to zero first downs until 1:19 remained in the second quarter.
- The zero first downs allowed in the first quarter marks the first time the Big Red did not give up a first down throughout an entire quarter since November 5, 2022, when the team held Penn to none in the fourth quarter.
- With 293 passing yards, Wang upped his career total to 2,247, good for 18th at Cornell, and his two touchdown passes give him 20 - the 10th player to hit that mark.
- Sophomore Davon Kiser posted his first career 100-yard receiving game with 141 yards on four catches, the 143rd 100-yard game in school history.
- On the opposite side of the ball, senior Holt Fletcher tallied two interceptions for the Big Red, the most by a single player since the 2018 season.
- Senior Manny Adebli blocked his fifth kick in seven varsity games, moving to No. 2 all-time at Cornell alongside Graham Rihn '09 and one behind Joel Sussman '06 for the school record.
- For special teams, Kennedy drilled an 81-yard punt, the longest since 2001, tying the second-longest kick in school history.

GAME 2 CORNELL 23, YALE 21

Sept. 23, 2023 Yale Bowl New Haven, Conn.

GAME NOTES

- For only the second time this century, Cornell football earned the right to sing Cornell Victorious at the Yale Bowl after defeating the Bulldogs, 23-21, on Sept. 23, 2023.
- It marked the first time since the 2016 season the Big Red started 2-0.
- The Big Red showed true grit in the face of adversity. Cornell trailed 14-0 at the end of the first quarter, until the Big Red dominated the latter half of the game and scored 20 consecutive points to go out in front.
- A late conversion on fourth-and-20 for the Bulldogs resulted in a touchdown with 3:14 remaining in the game.
- The Big Red stayed calm under pressure, marching down the field to set Jackson Kennedy up for a field goal try, which he drilled as the clock hit zero, securing the win.
- Junior quarterback Jameson Wang was sensational, completing 26-of-36 passes for 197 yards and a touchdown and running for 34 more and a score. He directed the offense to 371 yards and 38:41 in time of possession, executing the game plan effectively and efficiently.
- Sophomore running back Gannon Carothers piled up 95 rushing yards on nine carries as the Big Red ran for 174 yards on the ground as a team.
- Kennedy, the reigning Ivy League Special Teams Player of the Week, was again a difference maker. He was 3-for-3 on field goals, nailed both PAT kicks, averaged 59.8 yards on kickoffs with two touchbacks and had two punts that yielded zero return yards while placing one inside the 20.
- Rasean Thomas added six tackles and Holt Fletcher was credited with five, with both recording tackles for loss and Thomas adding a pass breakup to his sack.
- The Cornell defense held the reigning Ivy League Player of the Year, Nolan Grooms, to his second-lowest completion percentage of his collegiate career (38.9%).
- The defense held Yale to just 301 yards, over 60 yards less than what the Bulldogs put up against #5 Holy Cross
- The win over Yale is only the fourth since 2000, and the first since the 2016 season.

GAME 3 COLGATE 35, CORNELL 25

Sept. 30, 2023 Schoellkopf Field Ithaca, N.Y.

GAME NOTES

- Fifteen tackles from Noah Taylor and a 100-yard receiving game by Nicholas Laboy was not enough to lift the Big Red over Colgate. The Raiders controlled the fourth quarter, outscoring Cornell 21-8.
- The Big Red held the lead at the end of the first half, and played a scoreless third quarter.
- The raiders responded with back-to-back touchdowns to jump back out in front and secure a lead they never surrendered.
- Laboy's 104 yards receiving was a career-high, marking his first 100-yard performance.
- With his effort, Laboy surpassed 500 career receiving yards (584) and now has four receiving touchdowns with scoring receptions in each of his past two games.
- Senior Noah Taylor made a career-best 15 tackles, moving his all-time total to 99.
- Taylor's 15 tackles were the most by a Big Red player in a single game since Lance Blass '19 also recorded 15 against Dartmouth in 2018.
- Junior wide receiver Luke Malaga had his first career catch, a 21-yarder.
- Junior linebacker Luke Banbury was credited with a career-high seven tackles, while classmate Damon Barnes posted a career-best five stops.
- With 1,090 rushing yards for his career, junior Jameson Wang moved into 29th place on the school's career list, Next up in 28th is former All-Ivy quarterback Ryan Kuhn '06 (1,110).
- Wang also upped his career passing yardage total to 2,674 yards, good for 14th at Cornell.
- His 22 passing touchdowns moved him into a sixth-place tie with Mark Allen '74, four behind Nathan Ford '09 for a top five mark.
- Wang's second career two-point conversion made him the 16th player in school history with multiple two-point conversions. The school record of four was set by Rick Furbush '71.
- Wang has upped his career scoring total to 94 points and is now one touchdown away from becoming the 24th player in Cornell history to surpass 100 for a career and the first since Harold Coles '20.

GAME 4 HARVARD 41, CORNELL 23

Oct. 6, 2023 Harvard Stadium Cambridge, Mass.

GAME NOTES

- The Big Red appeared on ESPN2 for the first time in program history, falling to the Crimson, 41-23.
- The promotion from ESPN to ESPN2 marked the first time Cornell has appeared on one of the two primary ESPN networks since 1990.
- Senior Manny Adebisi's two blocked kicks give him a school record for blocks in a career with seven, surpassing the previous mark of six by Joel Sussman '05.
- Adebisi blocked two kicks in the contest, both PAT attempts, to become the first player in school history to block multiple kicks in multiple games during a career. He also blocked two kicks at Princeton on Oct. 29, 2022.
- Freshman Samuel Musungu caught a 12-yard touchdown pass in the fourth quarter, the first of his career. He became the first Big Red freshman to catch a touchdown pass since Eric Gallman II at Delaware to kick off the 2017 campaign.
- With 1,115 rushing yards for his career, Jameson Wang moved into 28th place on the school's career list. Next up in 27th is former Big Red fullback Moose Miller '51 (1,138)
- Wang has upped his career scoring total to 106 points after becoming the 24th player in Cornell history to surpass 100 for a career and the first since Harold Coles '20.
- Senior place-kicker Jackson Kennedy is 15-of-20 on field goals over the past two seasons. His .750 field goal percentage is second among all Big Red kickers with at least 15 career made field goals (Nickolas Null '20 at .762 is first).
- Matt Robbert's five catches give him 51 for his career, making him the 55th player in school history to record 50 career catches.
- The 15 penalty yards surrendered are the fewest in a game by the Big Red since being whistled just once for 7 yards at Penn in 2017.

GAME 5 BUCKNELL 21, CORNELL 13

Oct. 14, 2023 Schoellkopf Field Ithaca, N.Y.

GAME NOTES

- The Big Red dropped one in the rain, falling to 2-3 on the season with a 21-13 loss to Bucknell.
- The teams did plenty of feeling each other out in the first half with the Bison taking a 7-6 lead into the locker room despite a pair of Kennedy field goals, the second a 35-yarder to close out the half.
- Cornell took the ball to begin the second half and went 61 yards on five plays to take its first lead since 3-0.
- A pair of 24-yard gainers through the air from Wang to Laboy and then Robbert highlighted the drive, with Wang going the final 11 yards himself for the touchdown.
- Bucknell answered two drives later with a 73-yard drive that ate up 5:03 off the clock and ended with Baker's 1-yard score.
- Cornell would punt on the ensuing drive, with the Bison again marching downfield, this time for 75 yards and a touchdown that pushed the lead to 21-13.
- The Bison picked up a pair of third-and-longs, the second a pinpoint connection from Semptimpelther to Eric Weatherly for 36 yards on a third-and-12.
- Needing a touchdown and a two-point conversion to knot the score, the Big Red was forced to punt after a three-and-out.
- After the defense got a big stop, Bucknell turned the home team over on downs and ran out the clock to claim the victory.

GAME 6 CORNELL 36, BROWN 14

Oct. 21, 2023 Schoellkopf Field Ithaca, N.Y.

GAME NOTES

- The Big Red righted the ship with a 36-14 win over Brown at Schoellkopf Field.
- The win marked the largest margin of victory for the Big Red since the 2019 season.
- For the first time since 2017, the Carnelian and White tallied three interceptions in a single contest. Cornell (3-3, 2-1 Ivy) pulled back to .500 with the victory and moved into a four-way tie for the Ivy League lead with Harvard, Penn and Dartmouth. Brown fell to 3-3 overall and 1-2 in the league
- Cornell led 20-0 at halftime and continued to build on its lead in the third quarter. The Big Red went ahead 33-0 until 5:48 remained in the third quarter when Jake Willcox connected with Solomon Miller for a 61-yard touchdown.
- Brown doubled-down before the end of the third quarter when Willcox found Graham Walker on a 43-yard pass to cut the Cornell lead to 19, but Jackson Kennedy all but secured the win for the Big Red with his third field goal of the day and 13th of the season.
- For the second time in program history, a pair of brothers caught an interception. Paul and Jeremiah Lewis each caught a pick. Paul accounted for a pick-six, while Jeremiah picked off a deep endzone shot by Willcox.
- The last time the Big Red held the ball in an Ivy game for more than the 39:47 against Brown was in 2017, also at home against the Bears, when it was at 40:20 for the contest.

GAME 8 PENN 23, CORNELL 8

Nov. 4, 2023 Franklin Field Philadelphia, Pa.

GAME NOTES

- Two breakout rushes by Penn helped power the Quakers to a 23-8 victory over the Big Red in Philadelphia, Pa.
- All three touchdowns Penn scored came off the run game, two of which came on gains over 65+ yards, including the longest single offensive play in Quaker history, a 96-yard rush.
- Despite the loss, Jameson Wang etched his name in the Cornell record books by completing the most passes since Jeff Mathews threw for 33 completions at Penn nearly a decade ago on Nov. 23, 2013, also at Penn.
- Cornell was shut out the entire first half, but came out of half time hungry when the team stormed downfield and Wang connected with Doryn Smith for a five-yard passing touchdown.
- The Big Red held off the scoreboard the remaining 26:11 of play, while Penn added one more score to put the game away.
- Wide receiver Doryn Smith set career highs in catches (10) and yards (93). He scored his second career touchdown
- Wide receiver Davon Kiser matched his career high with nine receptions.
- With 325 passing yards and 54 rushing yards, quarterback Jameson Wang accounted for a career-high 379 yards of total offense. It was Wang's fourth career game with more than 300 yards passing.
- Wang now has 3,928 career passing yards, the sixth most in program history.
- Wang's 1,276 yards rushing rank 23rd in program history.
- Wang moved into sixth place in program history in total offensive yards (4,925), passing Chad Levitt (4,657 yards) and Ed Marinaro (4,715 yards).
- Wang is tied for 13th place in Big Red history with 43 touchdowns.
- Linebacker Noah Taylor led the Big Red with 10 tackles. He's had at least that many in a game twice this season.
- Linebacker Luke Banbury recorded his first sack of the season and the third of his career.

GAME 10 COLUMBIA 29, CORNELL 14

Nov. 18, 2023 Schoellkopf Field Ithaca, N.Y.

GAME NOTES

- A group of 30 Big Red seniors were honored prior to Saturday's contest, but Cornell dropped a 29-14 decision to Columbia at Schoellkopf Field on Saturday, Nov. 18.
- Cornell fell to 3-7 (2-5 Ivy) while Columbia tallied its first conference win to improve to 3-7 (1-6 Ivy).
- Jameson Wang went 32-for-47 in the passing game, amounting 345 yards and a touchdown on the day. He rushed a team-high 12 times including one ending in the end zone, but only net nine yards gained on the ground.
- Wang became the first Big Red quarterback to pass for 300+ yards in at least three games in a single season since Dalton Banks hit the 300 mark thrice during the 2016 season.
- The 345 yards by Wang marks the most passing yards since Banks passed for 454 against Colgate on Oct. 1, 2016.
- Wang upped his career-rushing touchdowns to 20, tied for seventh-most in Cornell history.
- Davon Kiser's one rush for 10 yards led the running game for the Big Red. Kiser also led receivers with his first-career 100+ yard game. The sophomore totaled 121 yards on six grabs, including a haul in for 48 yards for the longest of either team on the day.
- The sophomore totaled 121 yards on six grabs, including a haul in for 48 yards for the longest of either team on the day.
- Kiser was the first Big Red receiver to hit more than one 100+ yard receiving game across a single season since Thomas Glover did it three times in 2021.
- Nicholas Laboy finished just shy of triple digits, clocking 99 yards on nine receptions. Doryn Smith and Drew Powell each also tacked on significant receiving yards, tallying 52 and 48 yards, respectively.
- Senior placekicker and punter Jackson Kennedy upped his career point count to 104, finishing his time at Cornell with the 22nd-most points in program history.
- Kennedy's 41 career PATs rank 17th in Cornell history.
- His 41-of-42 PATs rank ninth in school history in terms of percentage (97.6 percent).
- The Big Red held both Lion quarterbacks to 50 percent or worse in completion percentage. The duo of Joe Green and Caden Bell was held to a collective 13-of-29 through the air.
