FIRST TOUCH

► The Cornell women's soccer team (3-3-4, 1-1-0 Ivy) hosts Harvard (3-4-2, 1-1-0 Ivy) at Berman Field on Saturday afternoon during Homecoming and Alumnae Weekend before embarking on a three-match road trip, starting at Lafayette (3-3-5, 1-0-2 Patriot) on Tuesday night.

► Cornell's three-match road trip marks the start of a road-heavy finish to the regular season for the Big Red, who will play four of its final five matches away from Ithaca.

LAST TIME OUT

► NEW HAVEN, Conn. (SEPT. 27, 2025) — Junior forward ALANNA COLBERT scored just 58 seconds into the match to lead Cornell to a 1-0 victory over Yale at Reese Stadium last Saturday evening.

► Colbert's early goal supported senior goalkeeper NATALIE MEDUGNO, who made four saves to earn a clean sheet in her season debut for the Big Red and earn Ivy League Defender of the Week honors on Monday afternoon (Sept. 29).

► The victory marked Cornell's first road win since defeating Marist, 2-0, on Aug. 30, 2023, and its first Ivy League road victory since a 1-0 decision at Yale on Oct. 17, 2015. Colbert opened the scoring in the first minute, finishing a through-ball from junior forward EMILY GIBBONS that split two defenders. Her right-footed shot sailed just over sliding goalkeeper Kyla Holmes, who had come out to narrow the angle.

► Yale applied consistent pressure in the second half, outshooting the Big Red, 9-1, and holding a 5-0 edge in corner kicks. Six of the Bulldogs' nine second-half shots came in the final 12-plus minutes, including attempts that forced Medugno to make saves in the 81st and 89th minutes. Senior defender GABY GONZALEZ also blocked a last-second shot by Phebe Ryan to preserve the clean sheet.

► Medugno's composure in those closing moments proved decisive — and ultimately earned her recognition from the Ivy League.

CHASING HISTORY IN IVY PLAY

► Cornell enters Saturday's match having posted one loss or fewer through its first two Ivy League contests for the eighth time in the last 12 seasons, dating back to 2013.

► A victory over Harvard would give the Big Red two wins in its first three Ivy League matches for the first time since 1995, when Cornell opened conference play with a 2-0-1 record. It would mark just the 11th time in program history that Cornell has won at least two of its first three Ivy League matches in a season. All 10 previous occurrences came between 1986 and 1995.

► Even with a draw against the Crimson on Saturday would represent the Big Red's best three-match start to conference play since 2015, when Cornell also opened Ancient Eight play with a 1-1-1 record.

CLEAN SHEET CLUB

► Senior goalkeeper NATALIE MEDUGNO increased her career clean sheet total to 6.5 last Saturday with her four-save clean sheet against Yale at Reese Stadium in New Haven, Conn.

► Medugno's clean sheet in her season debut helped her surpass both MEGHAN CAUZILLO (6, 1997-00) and MEGHAN KENNEDY (6, 2015-18) while entering into a tie with KATRINA MATLIN (6.5, 2003-06) for the ninth-most career clean sheets by a Big Red goalkeeper.

► With her next full clean sheet, Medugno would assume sole possession of eighth place and jumping ahead of KATE ALEXANDER (7, 1992-93).

THANKS FOR THE HELP!

► Senior midfielder MARIANA KESSINGER delivered her third assist of the season against Columbia on Sept. 20, whipping an in-swinging corner kick into the heart of the penalty area where senior defender GABY GONZALEZ connected with a perfectly timed header, opening the scoring in the 12th minute.

► Entering this weekend's action, Kessinger is currently situated in a five-way tie for the fourth-most assists in the Ivy League alongside Princeton's Dylan Jovanovic, Dartmouth's Stephanie Lathrop and Mary Lundregan, and Columbia's Maia Tabion. Only Brown's Joy Okonye (five), Harvard's Elsa Santos López (four), and Princeton's Brooke Birtwistle (four) have more helpers.

► Kessinger is tied with Lathrop, Lundregan, and Tabion for the fifth-best assists per game average in the Ivy League (0.30), trailing Okonye (0.45), Santos López (0.44), Birtwistle (0.36), and Jovanovic (0.33).

► One more assist would make Kessinger the ninth different Cornell player since 2003 to register four assists in a season, marking the 11th such occurrence during the span. The most recent Cornell player to achieve the milestone was REAGAN PAUWELS, who recorded six assists in 2023, matching totals by DONNA EBERHARDT (1988), AMY SNOW (1991 and 1992), REBECCA D'ALEO (1993), LORI PENNY (1993), and DEMPSEY BANKS (2013). The Cornell single-season assists record remains in a four-way tie between LAURIE COLLIER (1986), JENNIFER SMITH (1987), JENNIFER DALY (1994), and AMY FINKELSTEIN (1994).

FRESHMAN IN FOCUS

► Freshman goalkeeper SAMANTHA QUESHEY has made quite an impact in her first collegiate season with the Big Red. After starting the season opener at Boston College (Aug. 22), Qureshey became just the eighth freshman goalkeeper in program history to start a season opener, joining LISA BRIGHAM (1982), KATE THOMPSON (1983), KATE ALEXANDER (1992), KATIE THOMAS (2001), JODI PALMER (2007), NICOLE SHULMAN (2019), and ERICA FOX (2021).

► Her clean sheet over the Eagles placed her among exclusive company, becoming the fifth Big Red freshman goalkeeper to post a shutout in a season opener, joining Thompson (1983), Alexander (1992), Thomas (2001), and Fox (2021).

► After posting a clean sheet over Binghamton on Sept. 14, Qureshey became the fifth Cornell rookie to register at least three solo shutouts in a season while becoming the first to do so since Alexander (six) in 1992. Brigham (three in 1982), Thompson (nine in 1983), and SHERRIE CHOCOLA (five in 1984) are the other keepers with three-plus shutouts in their freshman campaigns.

► Through the completion of Wednesday's matches, Qureshey is one of 25 freshmen Division I goalkeepers with at least three clean sheets this season, and one of two Ivy League first-year keepers matching the criteria (Dartmouth's Paige Knoth — three).

► Entering this weekend, Qureshey leads all Ivy League goalkeepers in save percentage (.750 — 22-of-33), ahead of Yale's Kyla Holmes by 19 points (.731 — 36-of-57). Qureshey's 1.222 goals-against average is tied with Harvard's Rhiannon Stewart and Columbia's Samantha Mahoney for second in the Ancient Eight, only behind Brown's Bella Schopp (1.218) by four-thousandths of a point.

KNOT AGAIN...

- Cornell's four draws are tied with 41 other Division I programs for the 31st-highest total through the completion of Wednesday's matches.
- A total of 30 programs have more draws than the Big Red, highlighted by Drexel (2-2-8) having the most ties in Division I, followed by Cal Poly (4-1-7), Hofstra (3-1-7), and Stephen F. Austin (4-2-7).
- The Big Red's total, which is the highest among all Ivy League programs, is tied for the third-most in a single season in program history, alongside the 2002 (8-5-4), 2015 (9-4-4), and 2024 (3-9-4) squads. With its next tie, it would match the 2022 team (4-7-5) for second and the 4-5-6 mark during the 2023 campaign remains the single-season record.

THE FINISHING TOUCH

- Junior forward SYDNEY ALLEN has built a reputation as one of Cornell's most reliable clutch performers. She delivered again in the Big Red's home-opening win over Colgate on Aug. 24, netting her fourth career goal and game-winning goal.
- Another decisive strike would cement Allen into Cornell's record book, creating a five-way tie for 10th on the program's all-time list for game-winners alongside DINA GROSSMAN (1988–91), AMY DUESING (1991–94), JEN TIDSBURY (1991–94), and EMILY KNIGHT (2000–03). At the top stands LAURIE COLLIER (1984–87), who owns the program standard with 11.
- The finishing touch provided by Allen has fueled a broader offensive trend under head coach ROB FERGUSON. Since being named head coach, the Big Red has scored in 48 of the 72 matches (66.7 percent) coached by Ferguson, standing as the second-highest rate in program history, only behind RANDY MAY's 67.7 percent mark set between 1982-99. Ferguson is one of four Cornell coaches to see their teams score in at least 60 percent of matches played — a group featuring May, BERHANE ANDERBERHAN (66.0 percent, 2000–05), and PATRICK FARMER (62.2 percent, 2012–16).

A GLANCE AT WHAT'S BACK

- Cornell brings back a strong returning group in 2025, with 18 players who saw action last fall. The Big Red also return four of its top six scorers and half of the team's offensive production (17 of 34 points: six goals, five assists).
- Leading the way is junior forward SYDNEY ALLEN, the Big Red's top returning scorer after tying LAKEN GALLMAN for the team lead in goals (3) and finishing with six points. She is joined by senior midfielders ABIGAIL BISHARA and TANUM NELSON, and junior forward ALANNA COLBERT, each of whom added a goal and an assist last season.
- Bishara, a Second Team All-Ivy selection in 2024, is one of 13 all-conference honorees returning across the Ivy League this fall — with all eight programs represented.
- Cornell's 18 returners are tied with Columbia and Penn for the second-most in the Ivy League, trailing only Brown (19). The Big Red is also one of four Ivy programs bringing back at least half of last year's scoring output, alongside Brown (64.4 percent), Penn (64.1 percent), and Princeton (56.3 percent).
- In goal, seniors NATALIE MEDUGNO and HANNAH GRIMES return as experienced options. Medugno made 11 appearances (10 starts) in 2024, compiling a 2-4-4 record, while Grimes saw her first collegiate action against Pepperdine, playing the final 9:27 of the contest.
- The Big Red also regains senior forward SYDNEY MALAGA, who missed the 2024 campaign due to injury. In 2023, Malaga finished in a four-way tie with LAKEN GALLMAN, MIA GONZALEZ, and AVA LADEN for the team lead in goals (three), which included scoring the game-winning goal against Colgate (Sept. 26, 2023).

IVY PRESEASON POLL

- When the Ivy League preseason poll was released on Aug. 18, Cornell found itself projected to finish eighth in the eight-team conference. Reigning Ivy League Tournament champion Princeton claimed the top spot with nine of 16 first-place votes, while Brown followed closely with six first-place votes and Harvard captured the remaining first-place vote. Columbia, Yale, Dartmouth, and Penn all finished ahead of the Big Red in the preseason rankings.
- The stakes are clear for the Big Red's pursuit of reaching the Ivy League Tournament for the first time in program history, as the top four-finishing teams from the regular season will advance to the 2025 Ivy League Women's Soccer Tournament, which the regular-season champion will host the three-game slate, with semifinal matches being played on Nov. 6, and the championship on Nov. 9.

ROB FERGUSON

SIXTH YEAR AS HEAD COACH (FIFTH SEASON)

Season at Cornell: Seventh Season
College: University of Manchester

ROB FERGUSON, who is entering his sixth year as the head coach of the Cornell women's soccer team, was hired as the sixth head coach in program history in February 2020. Prior to his appointment as head coach, Ferguson served as an assistant coach for the Big Red during the 2019 campaign under previous head coach DWIGHT HORNIBROOK.

His most recent season in 2024 saw Cornell have an overall record of 3-9-4 and a 2-5-0 mark in Ivy League action, matching the most conference wins by the Big Red under Ferguson (2-3-2 in 2022). The Big Red had two Second Team All-Ivy honorees in junior midfielder ABIGAIL BISHARA and senior defender LILY ELLINGSON.

Cornell opened the 2024 campaign without a loss in its first three matches, highlighted by a 2-1 victory over Syracuse (Sept. 1, 2024), the second consecutive year the Big Red defeated its Central New York rival. It marked the 12th instance in program history and the first time since 2014 and 2015 that it did not lose any of its first three matches in back-to-back years.

The 2023 campaign saw Cornell go 4-5-6 overall and 0-5-2 in Ivy League action. The Big Red had its highest offensive production in a season since 2015, as the Big Red recorded 21 goals and 58 points. REAGAN PAUWELS was named a Second Team All-Ivy selection for a second consecutive season while MIA GONZALEZ (forward) and CECILY POKIGO (defender) earned Honorable Mention All-Ivy honors. The trio of Big Red players marked the first time Cornell has had at least three players earn All-Ivy honors in consecutive seasons since 2014 and 2015.

Cornell also opened the 2023 campaign unbeaten over its first six matches of the season (2-0-4), marking the fifth time in program history that the Big Red had not lost any of its first six matches of a season (1986, 1991, 2005, 2015, 2023). The Big Red also went 2-0-3 in its first five home games to register a program-record 11-game home unbeaten streak that dated back to 2022 (5-0-6).

Posting a 4-7-5 record with a 2-3-2 Ivy League ledger in 2022, both of Cornell's conference victories — the most in a season since 2016 — came in the program's final two matches of the season. It was the first time Cornell had won consecutive Ivy League matches since the last match in 2014 and the first fixture in 2015. The Big Red had a 3-1-3 record on Berman Field, which included going unbeaten in its final six matches (3-0-3). The Big Red also had a trio of All-Ivy award winners, including Pauwels and Pokigo receiving Second Team All-Ivy honors.

After Ferguson's first year as head coach in 2020 was canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Cornell had a 3-11-2 mark in 2021, including a 1-6-0 Ivy League record. The Big Red recorded its first conference win at home against Columbia, its first Ancient Eight win since 2016.

In his first season on East Hill as an assistant coach on Hornibook's staff in 2019, Ferguson guided the Big Red to four consecutive victories to start the season — including three straight clean sheets over Siena, Bucknell, and St. Bonaventure. Cornell ultimately finished the season with a 4-10-1 record after the rigors of one some of the strongest Ivy League competition seen in recent years. Ferguson helped get the Big Red's impact freshman class acclimated to collegiate competition, a group that included 2019 All-Ivy League honorable mention selection Ashley Durik.

Ferguson joined the Big Red following a very successful stint as the director of coaching with the WNY Flash Academy. He helped turn the program into a player development leader in Western New York, expanding the program's footprint from 15 teams to 34 teams, and moving them into national recognition in Elite Clubs National League (ECNL).

Under Ferguson's leadership at the Flash, their 03G ECNL and 02G ECNL advanced into the Elite 8 in June 2018, and the club had their first US Youth National Team Camp call-up.

Before joining the WNY Flash Academy, Ferguson was the head coach of both the men's and women's soccer programs at Huston-Tillotson University, an NAIA institution based in Austin, Texas. Prior to that, he served as the executive director of business for the Lonestar Soccer Club for eight years, spanning from 2008 to 2015.

One of the largest and most successful youth soccer clubs in the country, Ferguson coached the Lonestar 96B Red, 93G Red, 94G Red and 95G Red, helping advance the 95G Red to the USYSNC Region III Championships in 2013 and 2014.

Previous stops for Ferguson included a stint as the head coach with Albion Hurricanes FC in Houston, where he guided the AHFC 94G Blue to the USYSNC Regionals for the first time in their history. Before that, he was the director of coaching for FC Arsenal for three years in Bastrop, Texas, and was a regional manager for Britannia Soccer/ProExcel, based in Seattle.

Ferguson is a graduate of the University of Manchester, where he received a bachelor of arts degree in sports studies and business management. He lives with his wife, Kelsey, their two children, Maxwell and Mirann, and their two dogs, Bonsai and Charlie.
