The Creighton Soccer program entered a new era in 2003 with the opening of an on-campus soccer facility, the Michael G. Morrison, S.J., Stadium. The Jays moved to the facility after playing home games at Tranquility Park in western Omaha from 1990 through 2002.

The Arena Grass all-weather surface is the first of its kind in the United States and makes the playing surface at the stadium one of the finest in the country. With the downtown Omaha skyline to the south, new Qwest Center OMAHA to the east, the Creighton campus expansion to the west and situated just blocks from the Old Market, the new facility places student-athletes in the middle of it all.

Morrison Stadium's now completed seating capacity is 6,000. Construction on the stadium was completed in 2004 and includes a state-of-the-art video and scoreboard, team souvenir shop, covered chairback seating, luxury suites, enclosed press box, concession stands and team rooms.

Bluejay soccer has enjoyed incredible success at home since its reinception in 1990. The Jays' home record is 119-19-7 for an impressive winning percentage of .845 since 1990. During that span the Jays have never lost more than three matches at home in one season and have ranked among national leaders in attendance.

The main entrance to Morrison Stadium is located on the west side of the facility near 19th and California Streets. The $13 million facility hosted its first match on Aug. 29, 2003 and was officially dedicated on Oct. 15, 2004.

Fans have flocked to Morrison Stadium since its inaugural year in 2003, helping the Bluejays to rank in the top 10 in the NCAA in attendance each of the past two seasons.

Students regularly pack the south bleachers to create a raucous environment for the Bluejays.

ELEVEN AS ONE

"Eleven As One" has become the theme for Creighton men's soccer. Eleven players as one unit will continue to bring success to one of the most respected and successful programs in the nation. Below are the 11 words or phrases which describe what it takes to be a part of the Bluejay men's soccer program. The theme is even represented at Morrison Stadium as there are 11 pillars supporting the facility. Also shown below is a Diadora logo representing the theme.

Head Coach Bob Warming

Overall: 321-158-46 (28th season)

Creighton: 127-42-16 (10th season)

Creighton's all-time winningest soccer coach, Bob Warming has firmly entrenched the Bluejay soccer program among the nation's elite. Thirteen consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament, a 6-2-2 record in the NCAA postseason over the last three campaigns and a brand new on-campus soccer-specific stadium are just some of the most recent successful chapters in Warming's storied career. Entering his 28th season as a collegiate coach, he now ranks 12th among active NCAA coaches with a .655 career winning percentage.

The Bluejays' head coach from 1990-94, Warming enters his fifth season in his second stint with the Bluejays. After resurrecting a dormant Creighton program in 1990 and establishing the Jays as a powerhouse in the 1990s, Warming went on to a successful four-year stint as head coach at Saint Louis University, before returning to Omaha prior to the 2001 season. Since his return, his teams have appeared in four straight NCAA tournaments and with his help, CU has built one of the finest soccer facilities in the nation.

Last year, under Warming's guidance, the Bluejays finished 14-4-2, while advancing to the third round of the NAACs. After receiving a first-round bye, the Jays hosted and defeated Northwestern 3-2 in one of the most exciting home matches in CU history. The Jays traveled to Maryland next, where they shut down one of the nation's most explosive offenses, but were eliminated in penalty kicks following a scoreless tie.

The 2003 Bluejays went 7-1-1 in Missouri Valley Conference play to capture their first regular-season championship since 1996. They ended the season in the NCAA quarterfinals for the fifth time in 12 years. Warming shifted gears from a high-powered offense in 2002, to one of the top defenses – 19th in goals against average – in the nation in 2003, with both formulas producing success for the coach in his nine years at Creighton.

In 2002, Warming guided his squad to the NCAA semifinals in just his second season back in Omaha. The Jays won their record eighth MVC tournament title to earn an automatic bid to the NCAA postseason. The Jays played host to a second-round NCAA match, the first NCAA match at home since 1995. Warming's team snapped Wisconsin-Milwaukee's 19 game winning streak, defeated third-ranked St. John's on the road and romped past sixth-ranked Boston College, 6-2, to advance to the College Cup in Dallas. A hard-fought double-overtime loss to Stanford ended the Jays' season at 18-4-2.

Warming was a finalist for the NSCAA/adas National Coach of the Year for his tutelage in 2002. Perhaps more notable than his team's record in 2002, was where the Jays came from to get there. CU lost in the first-round of the NCAA tournament in 2001, ending 11-9-1. Warming's well-known recruiting ability and motivating skills helped get the Jays back to the College Cup with an impressive and quick turn-around.

Since his return to Omaha in 2001, the Bluejays have continued an astounding feat by having at least one player selected in each MLS Draft. CU is the only college program in the country to have a player selected in every MLS Draft ever held. Warming has also helped bring fans back to the stands, as CU has led the MVC and ranked in the NCAA top-10 in attendance each of the past two seasons.

His 127 career wins at Creighton are the best in school history. His record in nine seasons at the helm is an impressive 127-42-16 (.730), with a home record of 72-10-7 (.848) and an overall Valley record of 43-10-3 (.795). He has guided the Jays to four Missouri Valley Conference regular-season championships, four MVC Tournament championships and has led seven CU squads to the NCAA Tournament.

In his first stint at Creighton, Warming arrived in Omaha in 1989 to resurrect the Bluejays' program, which had taken a four-year absence from competition. He took one year to recruit and get the program in administrative order. In their first season of competition, with a freshman-dominated roster, the Bluejays burst upon the Midwest Region scene with a 12-5-3 mark in 1990.

In its second season of competition under Warming's leadership, Creighton climbed into the national rankings in 1991 after becoming

Career Highlights

- Four-time finalist for NCAA Division I National Coach of the Year (1991, 1992, 1993, 2002)
- Four-time MVC regular season champions (1992, 1993, 1994, 2003)
- Four-time MVC tournament champions (1992, 1993, 1994, 2002)
- Eleven NCAA tournament appearances (1992-1994, 1997-2004)
 - Creighton home record: 72-10-7
 - Led Saint Louis to 1997 College Cup
 - Led Creighton to 2002 College Cup
- No. 1 ranked team in the final 1993 Division I poll
- 1993 Soccer News National Coach of the Year
- 1993 Creighton team (19-0-0) was first regular season undefeated, untied team since 1973
- No. 2 ranked team in final 1992 Division I poll
- No. 1 ranked team in the Midwest Region for 26 consecutive weeks
 - Helped design and develop state-of-the-art soccer facilities at Saint Louis and Creighton
 - Developed "Peanut Galleries" program designed to reach elementary school children
 - Developed "Kicks for Kids" clinic for Snickers

the first visiting team to ever win the University of Virginia Tournament. The following season would prove to be the breakthrough year, as CU became the first team to beat traditional Midwest Region powers SMU and Saint Louis on the road in the same season with back-to-back victories on the same weekend. That feat gave the Bluejays a hold on the Region's No. 1 ranking - for 26 consecutive weeks. The Bluejays went on to claim their first Missouri Valley Conference regular season title, MVC Tournament championship and NCAA Tournament berth.

Under Warming's tutelage, the Jays finished an unbeaten, untied regular season (19-0-0) in 1993, which was the first time that feat had been accomplished in the NCAA since 1973. CU claimed the top seed in the NCAA Tournament and was the No. 1 team in the nation in the final ISAA coaches poll. The explosive success of Creighton's program earned Warming the Soccer News' 1993 National Coach of the Year honor.

Warming reaped the rewards of success with consecutive MVC and Midwest Region Coach of the Year awards in 1992 and 1993. He was a finalist for National Coach of the Year honors from 1991 through 1993.

Warming is not only an architect for soccer success on the field, he has helped design and raise funds for two of the finest facilities in the country. In 2003, the Bluejays played on campus for the first time in the program's history, with the opening of the $13 million Michael G. Morrison, S.J., Stadium. The state-of-the-art facility was completed in 2004 and includes a one-of-a-kind Arena Grass synthetic surface, video replay board, covered grandstand seating, suites and team rooms. In 1999, while at Saint Louis, he helped return the Billikens to an upgraded on-campus facility as well.

Warming's outgoing personality and marketing touch has made the Bluejays a hot ticket in Omaha once again. He developed the "Peanut Galleries" program, tailored to elementary school children, which has since evolved into

"Operation Bluejay."

He is known as a motivator who instills a strong work ethic in his teams. Those qualities have resulted in motivational speaking appearances for such companies as IBM, the Internal Revenue Service and Xerox. Warming believes in the Creighton tradition of community service. During his first stint with the Jays, he served as the 1995 honorary chairman of the Boy Scouts of America for Nebraska and western Iowa and honorary chairman of the 1994 Omaha Children's Crisis Center annual fund raiser.

Warming began his coaching career at Berry College in Mt. Berry, Ga. In five seasons there, he guided Berry's Vikings to four NAIA District 25 championships and was named District Coach of the Year three times. Berry was 61-22-2 (.729) under Warming after recording just a 5-11-0 record the year prior to his arrival. His powerhouse Berry squads set 14 school records, and his 1981 team led the nation by averaging 5.06 goals per match. He coached 34 all-district players, two NAIA All-Americans and an NAIA academic athlete of the year.

An impressive run at UNC-Charlotte preceded the Creighton success story. Warming inherited a program that had posted a 6-12-0 record in 1981 and got the 49ers immediately pointed in the right direction the next season with an 11-6-3 mark. Under Warming, UNCC won its first Sun Belt Conference title and climbed into the ISAA Top 25 national rankings for the first time - right in the heart of ACC country. While at Charlotte, Warming became the youngest coach (31 at the time) to post 100 career victories. He was named Sun Belt Conference Coach of the Year three times. His record at UNCC was a solid 68-51-17 (.563).

Prior to his return to Creighton, Warming rebuilt a SLU program that had finished 6-12-0 the year before his arrival. In his first year at the SLU helm, the Billikens advanced to the 1997 Final Four. In four seasons at Saint Louis, Warming's teams won three regular season Conference USA championships, two C-USA postseason tournament titles and advanced to the NCAA tournament each season, while posting a record of 60-17-10 (.747).

Bob and his wife, Cindy, have been married for 29 years and have four children - Emily (21), Bess (18) and twins Audrey and Grant (15).

Kevin Doyle
Assistant Coach
Fifth Season
Bowling Green, 1995

Kevin Doyle, a former Creighton goalkeeper, serves as the Bluejays' Assistant coach primarily responsible for goalkeepers. Doyle, now in his fifth season as an assistant at Creighton, also is actively involved in the recruiting process.

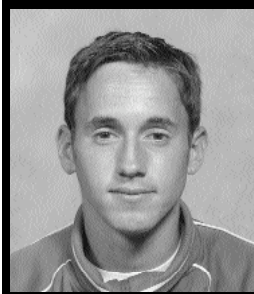

Before his return to Creighton prior to the 2001 season, Doyle served as an assistant coach at Penn State for two seasons. He helped guide the Nittany Lions to a 13-6-2 mark and a second-place finish in the Big Ten Conference Tournament in 2000. Prior to his stint at Penn State, Doyle was an assistant coach at William & Mary for two years.

Doyle received his NSCAA Advanced Diploma in June 1998 and also holds the USSF "A" License. He has served as the goalkeeper coach for Olympic Development Program teams in Georgia, Nebraska and Ohio.

Since Doyle returned to campus in 2001, the Bluejays have had stellar goalkeeping, as evidenced by the deepest keeper corps in school history last year. In 2004, three different goalkeepers started at least three matches for the Bluejays, a first for the program. The depth, which included two freshmen, proved how talented CU's keepers have become.

Doyle was the starting goalkeeper for Warming's first CU squad (1990-93) before his career was cut short by a knee injury. A two-time all-Missouri Valley Conference performer, he was the MVC "Defensive Player of the Year" as a junior and was named to the NSCAA All-Midwest Region squad. Doyle led the Bluejays to a 16-2-1 mark and a No. 1 national ranking as a junior. He ranks among CU leaders in 12 individual records, while holding the school record for saves in a match with 18.

Originally from Katy, Texas, Doyle received his degree in interpersonal communications from Bowling Green in 1995.

Jason Mims
Assistant Coach
Fifth Season
Saint Louis, 1999

Jason Mims enters his fifth season as an assistant at Creighton and his sixth under Head Coach Bob Warming. Mims played for Warming from 1997-99 at Saint Louis and served as a Billiken assistant in 2000. He assists in scouting, recruiting, training the field players and other day-to-day operations.

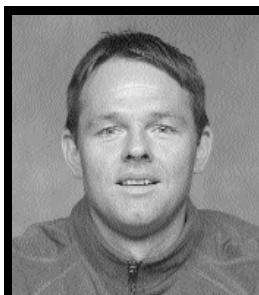

Mims was an all-Conference USA selection and NSCAA all-Midwest Region performer in two of his three seasons at Saint Louis. He led the Billikens in assists as a junior and led the team in goals during his senior campaign. As a sophomore Mims was a contributor on a SLU team which qualified for the College Cup.

"Jason is full of energy and enthusiasm for the game," says Warming. "Those attributes are contagious and his ability to get the most out of our guys every day is something special in a young coach. He always wants to be on the field and will expect the same from everyone on the team."

Under Mims' guidance, the Bluejays' offense has remained a constant positive. In fact, in each of Mims' seasons at CU, the Jays have had a National Player of the Year finalist. With his assistance, the Jays have successfully used several different formations and been able to move players from one slot on the field to another with ease.

Mims played professionally in the A-League for one season after his playing days at Saint Louis. Mims' collegiate career began at Stetson before transferring to SLU prior to his sophomore year. He scored 11 goals and dished out 18 assists in his collegiate career from his midfield position.

Originally from Memphis, Tenn., Mims earned a communication degree from Saint Louis in 1999.

Paul Harvey
Volunteer Assistant Coach
Second Season
Newman University, 2003

Paul Harvey begins his second season as a volunteer assistant on the Creighton coaching staff. The NAIA All-American defender at Newman University (Kan.) joined the Bluejay staff in 2004 after spending the 2003 season as an assistant coach at his alma mater.

A native of Coventry, England, Harvey earned all-America recognition each of his four seasons at Newman. As a freshman, sophomore and senior he earned honorable mention NAIA All-America notice, while he won third-team All-America laurels during his junior campaign in 2001.

Harvey earned all-Region IV accolades for his defensive play while at Newman. He was also twice tabbed the Midlands Collegiate Athletic Conference Defensive Player of the Year along with earning several MCAC Defensive Player of the Week nods. The Jets owned a 14-4-3 record and carried a No. 21 national ranking during his senior season.

The defender not only excelled on the field, he earned Daktronics NAIA All-American Scholar-Athlete notice and graduated Summa Cum Laude with a degree in management from Newman in 2003.

Harvey's wife, Julie, is a teacher in the Millard School District. The couple lived in Troon, Scotland prior to attending Newman University.

Motivation. The 2005 Creighton men's soccer team has it. While an appearance in an astounding 14th consecutive NCAA post-season would seem motivation enough, the Bluejays have even more spurring them on this season. Last year's version of the Bluejays became just the third team in program history to end the year with no trophy to pick up. While the Jays did advance to the third round of the NCAA tournament in 2004, they failed to win either the Missouri Valley Conference regular-season or tournament title. The desire for a championship season, coupled with the goal of a deeper run in the NCAA's will give the Bluejays plenty to shoot for this fall.

The Bluejays lost only three starters from a year ago and bring back several players at key positions, which is why they have been picked to finish first by league coaches in the preseason poll. Head Coach Bob Warming believes the Bluejays' strength will come from their defense this season. While defense will set the tone, CU returns a solid core of attacking players that should have no trouble finding the back of the net. Should they excel at both ends of the field, the Jays will hope to collect more hardware to add to their record six Valley regular-season and eight MVC tournament titles.

Anchoring the Bluejays' solid defense this year will be three-year captain Matt Wieland, the 2003 MVC Defensive Player of the Year. The senior has been in the starting line-up 62 of 64 matches in his career. It's with that knowledge and experience that Warming knows he can rely on the Omaha native to organize and lead his defense.

Matt Wieland, a three-time Bluejay captain, will anchor the CU defense in 2005.

Wieland is not the only experienced player in the back. Juniors Tony Odorisio and Andrew Peterson have both been starters since they arrived on campus. Odorisio earned honorable-mention all-MVC accolades last year and is poised for another solid campaign. Ryan Jung, also a junior, transferred into CU last year and immediately found a role on defense, starting 14 of the 20 matches he appeared in.

Another transfer is expected to make an impact for the CU defense this year. Brian Kallman came to the Jays after playing three full seasons at Jacksonville University. The defender joined the Jays for spring practice and his toughness, savvy and experience will compliment CU's returning starters to make an imposing defensive unit.

A talented group themselves, the Bluejay goalkeepers stand to benefit from such a stingy defense. Sophomores Matt Allen and Zac Gibbens will compete once again for time in net. Both players were impressive in their rookie season last year, combining for a 7-1-1 record and 0.61 goals against average.

Allen earned MVC all-Freshman Team accolades last year, posting a team-best 45 saves. He logged a 0.69 GAA and went 4-1-1 with two shutouts in his nine matches played. The Omaha Burke graduate started five matches, including both of the Jays' NCAA contests as a rookie.

Gibbens also proved capable when called upon for net-minding duties. In four matches he made three starts and posted two shutouts while finishing with a perfect 3-0-0 record.

While the Jays will rely on their defense to limit scoring opportunities by the opposition, they return plenty of offensive weapons as well. Seniors Brian Biggerstaff and Vince Odorisio will provide a punch from the midfield. Biggerstaff led the team with eight goals last year and will transition to an attacking midfield role this year after playing up front in 2004. Odorisio is a team leader and the type of player that Warming can't keep off the field. He was second on the team with seven assists, while adding six goals last fall from his outside midfielder slot.

Sophomore Joan Carvajal showed some promise as an attacker at the end of his rookie season last year. His two goals against Northwestern in the second round of the NCAA tournament helped CU prevail 3-2 and perhaps gave CU fans a sneak peek of more to come this fall. Rookie Michael Stillmock, a Creighton Prep product, will also add to the midfield mix.

Providing an offensive spark from the forward slots will be juniors Michael Kraus and Jarod Tarver. Tarver, who started all 20 matches for the Jays last year, tied for second on the team with six goals. Despite all his playing time last year, the junior is expected to be 100 percent healthy this season for the first time in his career.

Kraus appeared in only four matches last season due to a serious foot injury suffered in the preseason. The junior played one match early in the season and then did not return to competition until the postseason, where he earned MVC All-Tournament honors. Kraus led the team in goals, assists and points as a freshman, and his presence back in the CU attack will be recognized by the opposition.

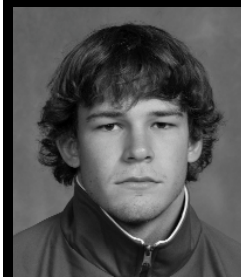

Joining the proven scoring abilities of Kraus and Tarver is sophomore Sam Eid. The tallest CU attacker at 6-foot-3, Eid will provide a nice target in the middle of the CU offense. Tim Bohnenkamp, an MVC All-Freshman team honoree last year, is expected to move into more of an attacking role this year after playing in the midfield as a rookie. Redshirt freshman Trevor Eastman and newcomer Byron Dacy will also look to put up numbers up front.

Creighton once again plays a difficult non-conference schedule to prep for MVC play. The Jays face five opponents who appeared in the NCAA postseason in 2004. For the first time since 1997, the Bluejays will open the season away from home and be tested immediately. The Jays open at the Nike Portland Invitational against NCAA qualifiers Portland and Washington. CU later plays in the Golden Hurricane Classic where it will match up with former MVC affiliate members and NCAA qualifiers Tulsa and SMU.

The Bluejays received seven of the eight first-place votes in the MVC preseason coaches poll, totalling 63 points. Bradley, hosts of the 2005 State Farm MVC Tournament, received the other first-place vote and the Braves are tabbed for a second-place finish with 52 points. Bohnenkamp, Kraus and Wieland were each named to the preseason all-MVC team, while Biggerstaff and Tony Odorisio were named to the preseason honorable-mention team.

* - Missouri Valley Conference match

The spectacular rise of the Missouri Valley Conference continued in 2004-05, and all signs point toward an ongoing resurgence for the nation's second-oldest NCAA Division I conference.

One year shy of its centennial celebration, the Missouri Valley Conference emphasizes the importance of the student-athlete and is aggressive in its approach to provide opportunities for its member institutions. Since its inception in 1907, the Missouri Valley Conference has been regarded as a leader by its peers among today's collegiate athletic conferences.

While the Valley took center stage by hosting the NCAA Final Four in St. Louis in 2005, the overall performance of league teams in virtually every sport continues to raise the national profile of the conference.

Most noteworthy in 2004-05 was the success in the sport of men's basketball. For an amazing seventh consecutive season, the Valley earned multiple berths in the NCAA Tournament. And for only the third time in league history - and the first since 1999 - three conference teams qualified for the Big Dance. Two others qualified for the NIT, marking the first time in Valley history that five men's basketball teams qualified for post-season play.

Led by Wichita State's regular-season and tournament championship and first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance, four Valley volleyball schools won 20 or more matches for the first time since 1996. The Shockers swept their first-round opponent (Nevada) in the NCAA Tournament.

Based in St. Louis since 1985, the league is assertive in its approach to hosting NCAA basketball championship events, operating a revenue-producing in-house television network, bidding out the right to play host to sport championships and landing title sponsorships for those events.

The success of the Valley television package is one of the great stories in the league, in terms of the clearance of the men's basketball tournament title game on national broadcast television, the excellent national and regional coverage for basketball and other sports, and the effective sale of advertising content to a more than 25 companies. The MVC Television Network has blossomed into a revenue-generating vehicle and the Valley's most visible marketing tool.

During the tenure of Doug Elgin, the Valley's ninth commissioner, the Valley has been aggressive in hosting NCAA events in St. Louis. That role came to a spectacular climax in April 2005 as the conference collaborated with local partners to stage the Final Four at the Edward Jones Dome.

This continuing involvement of the MVC in hosting NCAA events represents one of the most concentrated stretches of host opportunities for any university or conference in the 67-year history of the national championship tournament. The 2005 host opportunity was the sixth in eight years for the MVC in St. Louis. The league had previously hosted men's regionals in 1998, 1999, and in 2004; a men's first/second round event in 2002 and the Women's Final Four in 2001. The Valley will host a men's basketball regional in 2007 and a Women's Final Four in 2009. Additionally, Creighton and the Valley will co-host a men's basketball first and second round in 2008 in Omaha.

And while the Missouri Valley Conference has been progressive in pursuing NCAA events, it has continued to be a national leader in the athletic arena. The oldest Division I athletic conference west of the Mississippi River, the Valley has had numerous successes in its storied history, which includes a myriad of accomplishments since the turn of the century.

The seeds for this vision were planted by eight administrators representing five institutions, who met at the Midland Hotel in Kansas City, Mo., on Jan. 12, 1907. The five schools which formed the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association were Washington University of St. Louis, and the state universities of Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska. Two months after the initial meeting, two more schools -- Drake University and Iowa State College -- were admitted.

In the fall of 1907, basketball became the first competitive sport. Today, the Missouri Valley Conference sponsors the following sports: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country and track & field (indoor and outdoor), men's and women's golf, men's and women's soccer, softball, women's swimming and diving, men's and women's tennis, and women's volleyball.

Athletic accomplishments on the men's athletics side include four national basketball championships, 17 trips to the NCAA Final Four, and a 1989 national baseball championship. In 2001, Missouri State added to the Valley women's accomplishments, as the Lady Bears advanced to the Women's Basketball Final Four in St. Louis. Creighton (2004) and MSU (2005) have claimed national championships (WNIT) in women's basketball, while MSU also has a 1992 NCAA Women's Final Four appearance, and Creighton (2003) and Drake (1999) have made semifinal trips to the WNIT postseason tournament.

From its early beginning to its current standing on the map of college athletics, The Valley will always continue to be proactive in its approach.

League members include Bradley University, Creighton University, Drake University, the University of Evansville, Illinois State University, Indiana State University, Missouri State University, the University of Northern Iowa, Southern Illinois University and Wichita State University. Affiliate men's soccer members include Eastern Illinois University, Vanderbilt University, and Western Kentucky University.

1992 NCAA Tournament

Missouri Valley Conference Regular-Season Champions
MVC Tournament Champions
14-3-1 Overall, 4-0-1 MVC

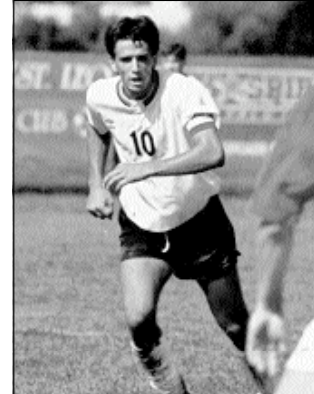

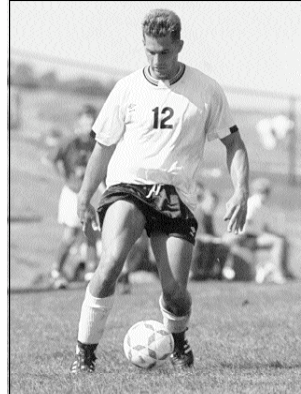

The 1992 Bluejays were ranked as high as No. 2 in the major polls and captured the MVC Player of the Year, Newcomer of the Year, Goalkeeper of the Year, Tournament MVP and Coach of the Year.

In the program's third year, the Jays made their inaugural appearance in the NCAA tournament by winning the MVC regular-season and tournament titles. The Jays were ranked second in the final ISAA national rankings. They were one of four teams (Virginia, UCLA, North Carolina State) to receive a first round bye in the NCAA Tournament. The Jays were upset in their first NCAA Tournament game by SMU, 1-0, on Nov. 21, in front of a then Bluejay single-match record crowd of 3,860 at Tranquility Park. Creighton Hall of Famer, Brian Kamler, was named the MVC Player of the Year and NSCAA Third Team All-American. Current CU assistant coach, Kevin Doyle, was honored as the conference Goalkeeper of the Year. Joining Doyle and Kamler on the MVC First Team were Keith DeFini, Billy Duranceau and Ira Philson. Paul Lekics was honored as the MVC Freshman of the Year for the Jays and Head Coach Bob Warming was tabbed as the MVC Coach of the Year.

1993 NCAA Tournament

Missouri Valley Conference Regular-Season Champions
MVC Tournament Champions
19-1-0 Overall, 5-0-0 MVC

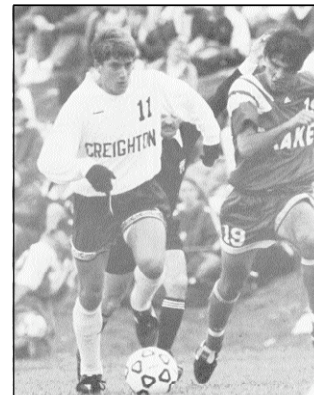

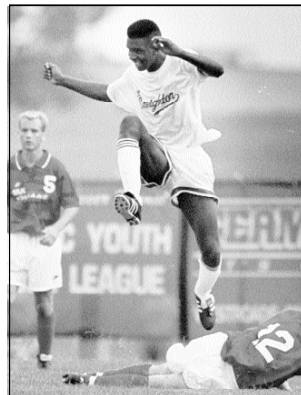

Seniors Keith DeFini (left) and Brian Kamler (right) were both finalists for the Hermann Award and Missouri Athletic Club "National Player of the Year" honors in CU's dominating season of 1993.

The Jays won their second straight MVC regular and post-season titles while becoming the first NCAA team to go unbeaten and untied during the regular season since Howard University accomplished the feat in 1974. CU's 19 victories to begin the season established what is still a school mark for consecutive wins. The Jays were ranked No. 1 in the country in the adidas/ISAA national poll for the final five weeks of the season, becoming the first Creighton team to earn that recognition since the men's basketball team was ranked No. 1 nationally during the 1942-43 season. For the second year in a row, the Bluejays received one of the top four overall seeds in the NCAA Tournament. Seniors Brian Kamler and Keith DeFini were named first-team all-Americans by the NSCAA and were finalists for both the Hermann Award and the Missouri Athletic Club "National Player of the Year" award. For the second year in a row, the Jays were ousted in their opening match of the NCAA Tournament, losing 2-1 to Air Force in sudden death overtime.

1994 NCAA Tournament

Missouri Valley Conference Regular-Season Champions
MVC Tournament Champions
15-5-1 Overall, 5-1-0 MVC

The Jays completed a "three-peat" by clinching their third consecutive MVC regular season and tournament titles. They opened the season with a 10-1-1 mark, before finishing the season with a 15-5-1 record, ranked 22nd in final ISAA poll. Despite losing 10 starters from the 19-1-0 1993 squad, CU began the season 4-0-1 while using five freshman starters, including standouts Johnny Torres, Zion Renfrum and MVC Newcomer of the Year Ross Paule. The 1994 squad became the first Creighton team to win an NCAA Tournament match when it avenged an earlier loss with a 2-1 victory over 16th-ranked Saint Louis on Nov. 20. The Jays then lost a heart-breaking 1-0 match at No. 2 Indiana to conclude their season. Soccer News chose goalkeeper Jay Fitzgerald as a junior all-American, while senior Lance Hill was named first-team all-Midwest. Fitzgerald was also tabbed the MVC Tournament MVP after shutting out Drake in the conference championship match. Paul Lekics and Brent Peterson joined Paule on the MVC First-Team.

Lance Hill (left) was an all-region player and Ross Paule (right) was the MVC Newcomer of the Year in 1994. Both went on to play professionally in the MLS. Hill with the Colorado Rapids, Paule with the Rapids and NY/NJ Metrostars.

1995 NCAA Tournament

Missouri Valley Conference Regular-Season Champions

14-3-1 Overall, 4-0-1 MVC

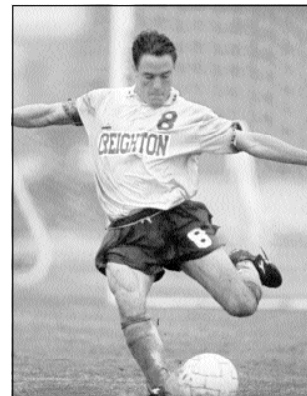

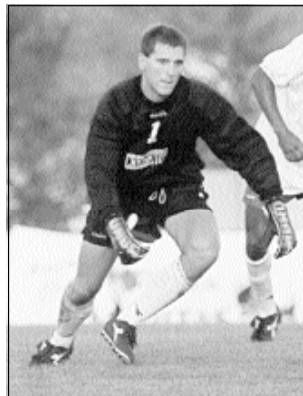

Goalkeeper Jay Fitzgerald (left) was named the MVC Defensive Player of the Year, while Paul Lekics (right) was honored as the conference Player of the Year in CU's 1995 campaign.

The first season of the Bret Simon era proved to be more of the same success for the Bluejays, as they clinched an unprecedented fourth consecutive MVC regular-season title, coupled with the tournament title. After dropping two of their first five matches on the year, the Jays rattled off a 12-match unbeaten streak heading into the NCAA Tournament. One of CU's wins during the streak came against No. 9 Wisconsin, the eventual national champions. The Jays dropped their first round match in dramatic fashion, falling to William & Mary, 2-1, in four overtimes, the longest match in Creighton history at the time. Omaha was once again home to the MVC Player of the Year in Paul Lekics. The Jays also claimed the conference defender of the year in Jay Fitzgerald. Five Bluejays were named first-team all-conference, while Mike Bustos and Richard Mulrooney were honored on the MVC All-Newcomer Team.

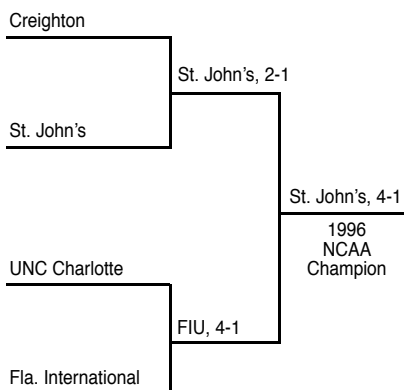

1996 NCAA Tournament • College Cup

Missouri Valley Conference Regular-Season Champions
NCAA College Cup Final Four • Richmond, Va.

Jon Epperson (left) was in net for 11 Bluejay shutouts during their 1996 Final Four run. Richard Mulrooney (right) was a first-team all-MVC player, while setting an MVC and CU single-season record with 16 assists as a sophomore.

In its fifth consecutive NCAA Tournament, Creighton advanced to its first College Cup Final Four Appearance, with three road shutouts over ranked opponents on its way to Richmond, Va. The Jays started the season unbeaten through eight games at 7-0-1, climbing to a No. 2 ranking in the NSCAA Coaches Poll. They were flawless in MVC action, going 5-0-0 for their fifth consecutive conference title, improving their league record to 23-1-2 since 1992. Junior Johnny Torres led the Jays, the MVC and the Midwest Region with 18 goals and 44 points on his way to being recognized as the national player of the year, as named by Soccer America. Torres had a banner year, not only on the pitch, but he earned his U.S. Citizenship, had Oct. 27 proclaimed "Johnny Torres Day" by the Omaha City Council in honor of his soccer skills and community service, was honored by the Children's Miracle Network as a "National Hometown Hero" and was tabbed the top collegiate student-athlete in Nebraska. Goalkeeper Jon Epperson set school records with 11 shutouts and a 0.78 goals against average, while Richard Mulrooney set school and conference records by dishing out 16 assists during the season, including a school-best four assists, Nov. 10 at Eastern Illinois. Four Jays were tabbed first-team all-MVC with Torres and Ross Paule making the all-Midwest team, and Paule bringing home the MVC Player of the Year award. Bret Simon was honored as the MVC "Co-Coach of the Year", in his second season at the helm. The Jays lost their opening match in the Final Four to eventual national champion, St. John's.

1997 NCAA Tournament

Missouri Valley Conference Tournament Champions
16-5-1 Overall, 6-1-0 MVC

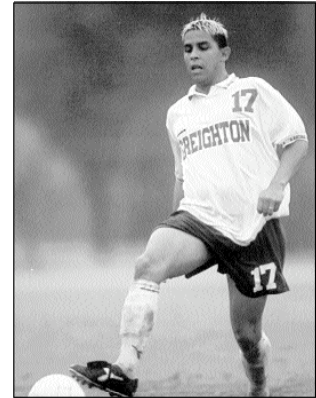

Johnny Torres (left) won the Hermann Trophy and the Missouri Athletic Club award as the National Player of the Year in 1997. Defender David Wright (right) earned his first of three all-region honors as a sophomore.

One year after being honored by Soccer America as the National Player of the Year, Johnny Torres was named Missouri Athletic Club Player of the Year and earned the Hermann Trophy as the National Player of the Year for his stellar efforts during his senior campaign. Torres was also tabbed the MVC Player of the Year and was a first-team all-American after scoring 13 goals and adding 13 assists for 39 points. The Jays avenged a 1993 loss to Air Force in the NCAA Tournament with a 3-2 overtime victory, but were eliminated by Final Four participant, Saint Louis in the second round. They put together an eight game winning streak midway through the season, outscoring the opposition 29-2 during that span. David Wright earned the MVC Defensive Player of the Year while being tabbed a first-team all-Midwest region player. Wright was joined by Richard Mulrooney on the all-region team. Following the season, Ross Paule became the first active Creighton player to be selected in the Major League Soccer draft, as he was a second round pick by the Colorado Rapids.

1998 NCAA Tournament

Missouri Valley Conference Tournament Champions
16-4-2 Overall, 4-1-2 MVC

Steve Bernal (left) and Mike Bustos (right) were both key contributors to the 1998 Bluejay squad, helping Richard Mulrooney become the fourth consecutive CU player to be named the MVC Player of the Year.

Richard Mulrooney was tabbed the MVC Player of the Year as the Jays won their sixth tournament title in seven years, while finishing second in the regular season. The Jays opened the season with a 1-0 win over fourth-ranked Saint Louis in front of 3,045 fans at Tranquility Park. The Jays once again advanced to the third round of the NCAA Tournament with impressive victories over No. 17 Saint Louis 4-1, and defending national champion, No. 6 UCLA, 2-0. CU's season came to an end when Final Four participant, Maryland knocked off the Jays 3-2 on Dec. 5. The Jays also put together their first undefeated season at home since 1990, with a record of 8-0-0 (7-0-1 in 1990). Mulrooney was also named first-team all-America by the NSCAA, before becoming the third overall pick in the MLS draft by the San Jose Clash (now Earthquakes).

1999 NCAA Tournament

At-Large NCAA Bid
11-5-2 Overall, 5-1-1 MVC

Despite not capturing either Missouri Valley Conference title, the 1999 Jays would still claim the MVC Player of the Year in defender David Wright. Wright led a stingy Bluejay defense which allowed just nine goals on the season, led the NCAA in goals against average and posted an impressive 11 shutouts. CU's goals against average was a mere 0.47 for the year, a school record. For his efforts in the back field, Wright was tabbed as a first-team all-American, while goalkeeper Tom Zawislán earned third-team all-America honors. With a 2-0 victory at Vanderbilt on Oct. 15, the Bluejays captured the 200th victory in school history. The blanking of the Commodores was also one of a streak of five consecutive shutouts the Jays recorded, a school record for consecutive shutouts. The Jays lost in the first round of the NCAA Tournament at No. 17 SMU, 2-1, in the Mustangs final season before joining the MVC.

Tom Zawislán (left) tied a school record with 11 shutouts and had a school best 0.51 goals against average for the defense oriented 1999 squad. Peter Henning (right) played a large role in the defensive success.

NCAA College Cup Final Four • Charlotte, N.C.
22-4-0 Overall, 9-2-0 MVC

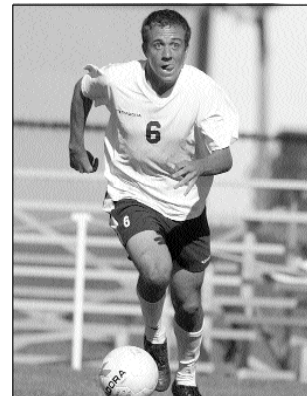

Brian Mullan (left) and Ishmael Mintah (right) helped the 2000 Bluejays to their second appearance in the College Cup. The Jays led the NCAA with 22 wins in 2000 and finished as the national runner-up.

The Jays made a return trip to the NCAA College Cup behind an even balance of offensive playmakers and a stellar defense. They led the NCAA with 22 wins in 2000, also setting a school record for victories. The Jays appeared in their first national championship match, falling 2-0 to Connecticut. They advanced to the final by knocking off two-time defending national champion, Indiana, 2-1, in three overtimes. The Bluejays cruised through the first three rounds of the tournament on the heels of their defense, which recorded three road shutouts of ranked opponents. CU struggled with No. 12 Ohio State to a 1-0 win in the first round, before battling third-ranked San Diego and the fog in a 3-0 victory in round two. With a 3-0 win at Virginia on Dec. 2, CU earned its second trip to the College Cup. The offense was guided by future MLS first-round draft pick, Brian Mullan. The forward scored 18 goals, along with 13 assists to lead the team with 49 points. Sophomore Mike Tranchilla netted 19 goals, the highest single-season total since 1993, and added nine assists for 47 points. Mullan and defender Peter Henning were tabbed first-team all-MVC, with Mullan also earning second-team all-America recognition. Mullan, Tranchilla, Ishmael Mintah and goalkeeper Mike Gabb were each named to the College Cup All-Tournament Team for their efforts in CU's final four run. Gabb set a school record, playing in net for 2,276 minutes and earning 21 wins in his first campaign as a starter.

Mike Tranchilla (left) paced the 2001 Bluejays with 16 goals and 41 points, while being tabbed a first-team all-conference selection. David Wagenfuhr (right) was honored as an all-region player with his team-leading 10 assists.

Despite a down season by Creighton standards, the Jays were one of five teams to earn their 10th consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance. The Bluejays were joined by Virginia, Indiana, UCLA and St. John's as the only five teams in the nation to appear in every NCAA Tournament over the last decade. Junior Mike Tranchilla led the team on offense with 16 goals and 41 points. His four-goal effort against Evansville on Nov. 9 tied a school record and set a Valley record for goals in a tournament game. CU was plagued by injuries all season, including a season-ending injury to 2000 record-setting keeper, Mike Gabb, just four matches into the season. The Jays battled No. 1 SMU to two close matches, falling 4-2 in Dallas on Oct. 14 and then dropping a marathon match in the title bout of the MVC Tournament, 2-1, in four overtimes. CU bowed out in the first round of the NCAA Tournament, losing to Massachusetts, 1-0, in Garden City, N.Y. Tranchilla was a first-team all-MVC pick, along with Rob Appel and first-team all-Midwest midfielder David Wagenfuhr.

Luiz Del Monte (left) was part of CU's explosive offense, while Mike Gabb (right) was in net again leading the Bluejays to their second College Cup in three seasons and third in school history.

All-American forward Mike Tranchilla starred on offense and Mike Gabb starred in goal, as the Bluejays returned to the College Cup for the second time in three seasons. The Jays 15-3-2 mark and MVC Tournament championship earned them a first-round bye and an NCAA Tournament home match for the first time since 1995. CU topped UW-Milwaukee, snapping the Panthers' 19-game winning streak, in the second round and then traveled to the Northeast to eliminate third-ranked St. John's, 1-0, and sixth-ranked Boston College, 6-2, en route to the third College Cup in school history. The Jays battled Stanford into double overtime in the NCAA semifinals, but the Cardinal scored with just two minutes remaining in play to end CU's season with a 2-1 defeat. Defender Joe Wieland - who made two saves in an open CU net against Stanford - and Tranchilla were named to the College Cup All-Tournament team. Tranchilla finished fourth in the MAC Hermann Trophy voting for National Player of the Year, while earning first-team All-America, all-region and all-MVC honors. Tranchilla, the MVC Tournament MVP, closed his career as the all-time MVC leader in goals and points scored. Gabb played every minute in goal for the Bluejays, notching nine shutouts en route to a 0.96 goals against average. Tranchilla, David Wagenfuhr and Mehdi Ballouchy earned first-team all-region honors, while Luiz Del Monte joined Tranchilla and Wagenfuhr on the MVC First-Team.

Matt Wieland (left) was named the MVC Defensive Player of the Year, combining with goalkeeper Guido Leon (right) for one of the top defenses in the NCAA and the Bluejays' first MVC regular-season title since 1996.

Creighton's stingy defense propelled the Bluejays to their first Missouri Valley Conference regular-season championship since 1996. CU's overall GAA of 0.77 ranked 19th in the NCAA, while goalkeeper Guido Leon's 0.66 GAA ranked 15th in the nation. The Jays led the MVC with a 0.43 goals against average in conference play. Sophomore Matt Wieland was tabbed the MVC Defensive Player of the Year for pacing the defense, while being named to the MVC First-Team and all-region second-team. David Wagenfuhr closed out his career by being named a semifinalist for the MAC Hermann Trophy, earning first-team all-MVC and all-region honors and being tabbed a first-team All-American by College Soccer News. Freshman Michael Kraus became just the third player in CU history to lead the team in goals, assists and points. Shane Havens became the first Academic All-American in CU men's soccer history. The Bluejays moved their home from Tranquility Park in West Omaha to the new Creighton Soccer Field on campus and registered a 7-2-2 home mark, opening the facility in front of 3,483 fans against Butler on Aug. 29. The Jays advanced to the NCAA Quarterfinals and came within 25 minutes of returning to the College Cup, but could not hold a 2-0 second-half lead over sixth-ranked St. John's, falling 3-2 to the Red Storm to end the season.

Julian Nash (left) and Brett Rodriguez (right) were both named First-Team NSCAA/adidas All-Midwest Region and first-team All-Missouri Valley Conference before being drafted into Major League Soccer.

A balanced attack combined with the deepest goalkeeping corps in school history helped guide the Bluejays to their 13th consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance. Seven different Bluejays scored at least three goals and had three assists on the season, led by Julian Nash's nine assists and 21 points. Brian Biggerstaff led the team with eight goals scored, while Nash, Vince Odorisio and Jarod Tarver each found the back of the net six times. Nash was named a semifinalist for the MAC Hermann Trophy, while he and defender Brett Rodriguez were both named to the NSCAA/adidas All-Midwest Region First-Team and first-team All-Missouri Valley Conference. Matt Wieland earned second-team all-region and all-MVC honors and Tony Odorisio was tabbed an honorable-mention pick in The Valley. Newcomers Matt Allen and Tim Bohnenkamp were named to the MVC All-Freshman Team. Allen, along with Zac Gibbens and Andrew Brown, gave the Bluejays a trio of talented goalkeepers. Each player started at least three games and appeared in at least four contests, marking the first time in school history the Jays had used three keepers so prevalently. CU once again topped the MVC and ranked in the NCAA top 10 in attendance. Michael G. Morrison, S.J., Stadium was officially dedicated on Oct. 15.

Attend Bob Warming's Creighton Soccer Academy

Come learn with the best and from the best at the Creighton Soccer Academy.

The Academy has proven to be one of the most advanced, demanding and fun in the country. Players are shown how to improve during the Academy with inspirational demonstrations, challenging soccer drills and top level coaching.

Graduates of the Academy have gone on to play professionally, obtained college scholarships and excelled on their club and high school teams. Creighton has developed many professional players and remains the only collegiate program in the United States to have a player drafted every year into the MLS. No matter what your goals are as a player, the academy staff will help you obtain it. We are confident that our methods for developing players will work for you too! We guarantee that you will improve after following our program.

The exceptional coaching staff brings different styles and perspectives of the game to camp. Our coaches are selected for their ability to teach, demonstrate and relate to campers. Outstanding professional coaches from the United States and overseas, collegiate coaches and outstanding college players have been selected to train players and teams. All-American players provide the demonstrations of technique and tactics. Part of the reason for the popularity of our camp is the staff. On and off the field, quality supervision is offered for all campers. The top high school players play with and against the Creighton players and camp staff in All-Star games that are scheduled each day. The teaching staff is tremendous:

Omaha is a rich cultural city with a dynamic business community. Ranked by Forbes magazine as one of the Top 10 Best Places for Business and Careers, Omaha balances Midwest values with big-city life in the heart of America. It showcases numerous nationally recognized and world-renowned attractions.

A center for information technology, telecommunications, transportation and food processing, Omaha is the center of a metropolitan area of about 734,270, with more than one million people within a 50-mile radius. Omaha is located near the geographic center of the United States, on the west bank of the Missouri River that forms the Nebraska-Iowa border. The metro Omaha area has seen steady growth over the past five decades and is now the 42nd largest city and 61st largest metro area in the nation.

With an outstanding public education system, Omaha was selected as a model of business-education partnerships to kick off America 2000. Nebraska ranks among the top states nationally for ACT and SAT scores. For 127 years, Omaha has been home to Creighton University, which is known as the best comprehensive Jesuit institution in the nation, consistently at the top of U.S. News & World Report annual rankings.

Omaha serves as headquarters for three Forbes 500 companies: #11 Berkshire Hathaway, #71 Union Pacific and #87 ConAgra Foods. More than 20 insurance companies, two dozen direct response/telemarketing centers and a number of other national and international firms also have headquarters in Omaha. The headquarters of STRATCOM, a vital military nerve center located at Offutt Air Force Base, is located in Omaha.

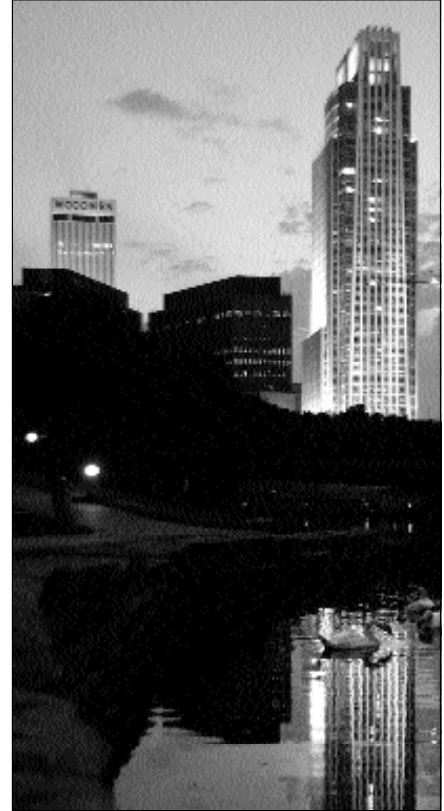

Omaha's unemployment rate has remained well under the national average during the past decade. Still, Omaha has accommodated new growth. During the 1990s, the Omaha metro area added more than 84,000 jobs, an increase of more than 25 percent.

Omaha is a cultural center of the Great Plains, with more than 20 live theaters (three that produce original works), a professional opera company, a regional professional symphony orchestra, a professional children's theater, a children's museum and a youth orchestra. Joslyn Art Museum and the Durham Western Heritage Museum are the two largest of many area art and historical offerings.

The Omaha Henry Doorly Zoo has an international reputation for its breeding programs, and its outstanding "no bars" facility boasts the world's largest indoor rain forest, cat complex and aviary. Its newest additions are a salt water aquarium, the most technically advanced in the country, an IMAX theater, the largest indoor desert in the world and a gorilla complex.

Outstanding sporting events in the area include the annual NCAA College World Series, for which Creighton serves as host, Omaha Ak-Sar-Ben Knights (AHL), Omaha Royals (AAA baseball), the Omaha Lancers (U.S. Hockey League), the Omaha Beef (National Indoor Football League) and a wide variety of collegiate and individual sports.

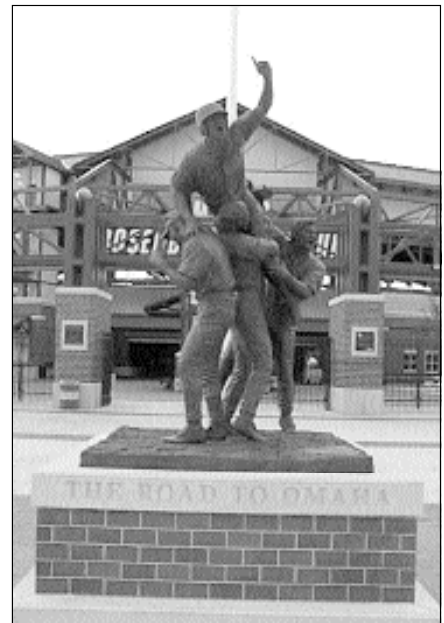

With all the city has to offer, Omaha enjoys a cost of living ranging up to 13 percent below the national average.

Qwest Center OMAHA is home to Creighton men's basketball, the 2006 NCAA Women's Volleyball Championships and will host the first-and-second rounds of the 2008 NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament.

For the 57th consecutive year, Omaha will serve as host city for the NCAA College World Series at Rosenblatt Stadium, June 16-26, 2006.

Location

Creighton is located in Omaha, Neb., population 409,416 with a combined metropolitan population of 1.1 million people in eight counties.

Creighton History

Founded in 1878, Creighton University is a private co-educational university in the United States, founded by the Society of Jesus and one of 28 member institutions of the Association of Jesuit Colleges and Universities.

In 2005 Creighton was ranked No. 1 among Midwestern colleges by U.S. News & World Report.

Creighton Today

The Creighton of today is nationally recognized as the leading comprehensive university in the Midwest. Creighton is synonymous with student centered education and the setting for significant undergraduate student research. As one of 28 universities in America designed in the Jesuit tradition of academic excellence and service to others, Creighton believes in humanistic education through service, reflection and learning. We also seek to create an inclusive, diverse community at the University. Today, Creighton offers more than 50 majors in the undergraduate divisions of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration and the School of Nursing, plus six prestigious professional schools: Medicine, Dentistry, Law, Pharmacy and Health professions.

The 2004 freshman academic profile places Creighton among the top six private universities in the Midwest, and among the top 10 Catholic universities in the nation. And U.S. News & World Report lists Creighton as a "best value" one of the schools where students get the best return on their tuition investment. Creighton has also been cited as outstanding by other publications, including Money, Kiplinger's Personal Finance and Peterson's Best 311 Colleges, Princeton Review, Inc., also recently ranked Creighton among the nation's top colleges and universities.

Student Life at Creighton

- Ten nationally recognized social fraternities and sororities.
- More than 180 active student clubs and organizations.
- With free high-speed Internet access in each of the eight residence halls, apartment living for juniors and seniors, and a special hall for graduate and married students.
- Creighton is a wireless campus, accommodating the more than 95% of students with mobile computing devices.
- As a Jesuit institution, Creighton makes service a core part of the educational mission. Creighton students, faculty and staff serve all over the U.S. and around the world, in 90 countries and on seven continents. Programs of service include educational outreach, medical and dental assistance, pro bono legal work and more.
- Creighton welcomes students of all religious beliefs and the University encourages students to participate in faith retreats, faith sharing opportunities and multi-faith services for more than 30 religions.

Student Snapshot

Creighton students come from every state and more than 65 countries. Of our 6,723 students, 3,888 are enrolled as undergraduates, and 2,835 are in the graduate, law, medical, dental, pharmacy and health professions programs.

The Creighton Campus

At Creighton, we are committed to having the best campus around. The 108-acre campus is located within walking distance of downtown Omaha and many recreational, cultural and entertainment opportunities. To date, Creighton has invested more than $175 million in on-campus improvements and constructed three new buildings, including Michael G. Morrison, S.J., Stadium, which distinguishes Omaha as the exclusive host of the region's only athletic facility designed exclusively for soccer. The stadium hosts high school, club and international soccer events and a variety of Omaha community events. The Hixson-Lied Science Building and the renovated Riggs Science Building and Criss Health Sciences Building are the centerpiece of a $56 million initiative providing Creighton's undergraduate and health professions a leading edge approach to teaching and research. The Davis Square Town homes are the new upperclassmen town homes that are located on the east side of campus.

At the center of the campus is the historic St. John's Church, the California Street Mall, the Lied Education Center for the Arts, a modern student center and physical fitness facility.

The Creighton Hixson-Lied Science Building opened in the spring of 2003.

Community Service & Outreach

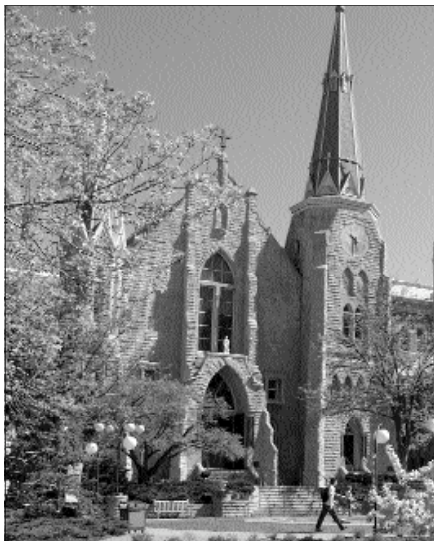

At Creighton, students have the opportunity to live the Jesuit Mission - to become a part of the Jesuit belief of the value and dignity of the individual. With an emphasis on service and social justice, the Creighton education will give students the foundation for a life well lived. Last year, Creighton faculty, staff and students volunteered in 60 agencies in the greater Omaha area, providing service in more than 100 programs supported by the University and Medical Center.

Faculty

- A total of 1,526 faculty members.
- Student-to-faculty ratio of 13:1.
- At Creighton, the faculty is conducting internationally recognized work in many areas, including hereditary cancer, osteoporosis, hearing impairment, bone metabolism, regional economics and more.

History of Billy Bluejay

"Billy Bluejay" is the official mascot of the Creighton University athletics department. The Bluejays were originally depicted by a "birdwatcher's bluejay," but that was changed in 1941 when Joseph P. Murphy, a Creighton alumnus, designed the current version of Billy, one with a more human stance and expression.

Prior to 1924, Creighton teams were referred to as the "Hilltoppers," but that name lost favor because at least six other teams in the country also used the same nickname. The Omaha Bee assisted the University's Athletic Board and Alumni Association in finding a new nickname by asking readers to submit possibilities. After reviewing 200 entries, the Athletic Board decided upon "Bluejays" because of the school's colors, blue and white.

Today, Creighton remains the only NCAA Division I athletics program known officially as the Bluejays.

Academic and Athletic Success

- Creighton's student-athletes combined for a 3.33 GPA last spring. The student-athletes also own a 3.25 cumulative GPA.
- The NCAA recently introduced a new tool for the evaluation of the academic quality of participating programs. The Academic Progress Report is intended to gauge the progress student-athletes are making to degree completion and graduation. Seven CU teams scored a perfect 1,000, with the other seven considerably above the 925 cut off. Creighton's composite score of 987 tied for seventh among all Division I programs nationally.
- An impressive 103 of Creighton's 235 student-athletes (43.8 percent) earned a 3.50 GPA or better during the Spring 2005 semester. Six of these athletes were men's soccer players.
- Creighton had 131 student-athletes make the Dean's List at least once last year, including 76 student-athletes who earned the honor both semesters.
- Twenty-seven student-athletes (11.5 percent) earned perfect 4.00 GPA's during the Spring 2005 semester.
- One-hundred sixty-six student-athletes (70.6 percent) earned a 3.00 GPA or better in the Spring 2005 semester.
- Seven teams (women's basketball, men's cross country, women's cross country, women's golf, men's tennis, women's tennis and volleyball) had team GPA's of 3.40 or better while five others were higher than 3.00.
- Brian Biggerstaff, Andrew Brown, Brett Rodriguez and Matt Wieland were each named to the CoSIDA Academic All-District VII Team (at least 3.20 GPA) in 2004.
- Creighton owns 22 CoSIDA Academic All-American honors. In 2005, Christine Fukumoto (softball) became the first CU player to earn first-team accolades since Heidi Geier in 1999.

Academic Learning Center

Student-athletes' demand for academic support has increased dramatically as they attempt to balance a full academic load with athletics. The recruitment, retention and graduation of student-athletes is vital to the success of collegiate athletics.

Creighton University's Student-Athlete Support Center was a major renovation of existing space in the Creighton Gymnasium, with the goal of enlarging and improving locker rooms and support facilities. In addition to new locker rooms, the 13,000-square-foot Support Center includes The Parker Family Foundation Academic Learning Center, staff offices, an expanded athletic medicine area and additional athletics storage space.

The Parker Family Foundation Academic Learning Center includes staff offices, 20 computer stations, study tables, sound-proof carrels for tutoring and partitions to divide the area into sections for quiet, individual or group study.

The Blue and White Fund was established by former Creighton student-athletes, alumni and friends to support this $1.7 million renovation project, which was completed in the fall of 1998.

Creighton
UNIVERSITY

University President Rev. John P. Schlegel, S.J.

Under the leadership of Creighton President the Rev. John P. Schlegel, S.J., Creighton University is nationally recognized as the leading comprehensive university in the Midwest and within the Jesuit network of universities.

Fr. Schlegel became Creighton University's 23rd president in August 2000, following nine years as president of the University of San Francisco.

Fr. Schlegel is leading Creighton into a new era of growth and prosperity. Through his vision, the University is embarking on its most ambitious campus expansion in its 125-year history. Creighton

University will become a national model showcasing a dynamic faith-based living and learning community in a 21st century urban environment.

Fr. Schlegel has initiated changes that have enhanced the already nationally recognized academic quality of Creighton and the beauty of the campus. During his tenure several new construction projects have taken place or are in progress. Creighton renovated and is expanding its Integrated Science Center, which includes the new Hixson-Lied Science Building and totally renovated Rigge Science and Criss Medical buildings. Creighton's Science Center and the Creighton University Medical Center provide a national model for interdisciplinary health sciences education and research.

The newly built, beautiful red brick Junior-Senior Town Homes anchor Creighton's eastward expansion that is taking shape nearby Omaha's dynamic downtown and riverfront redevelopment. Creighton's campus expansion to the east and west will provide Omaha with a park-like setting, offering green spaces, pathways and plazas. Add to that Creighton's new soccer stadium, which is among the premier college campus soccer facilities in the nation.

Prior to his service at the University of San Francisco, Fr. Schlegel was Creighton University's assistant academic vice president (1978-82), academic dean of Rockhurst College (1982-84), dean of arts and sciences at Marquette University (1984-88), and executive and academic vice president at John Carroll University (1988-91).

Fr. Schlegel, a native of Dubuque, Iowa, entered the Society of Jesus in 1963 and was ordained in 1973. He holds B.A. and M.A. degrees from Saint Louis University; a B.D. honors degree in theology from the University of London; and a doctorate in international relations from Oxford University.

He is a member of numerous international, national and local boards of directors, executive committees and associations. Fr. Schlegel is a past member of the board of trustees of Chicago's Loyola University, Xavier University, Loyola University of the South, St. Louis University and Loyola College in Maryland. Fr. Schlegel also is a director of the American International School of Hong Kong.

In Omaha, he serves on several boards including Creighton University Medical Center, Creighton Preparatory School, Duchesne Academy and Opera Omaha. He is a member of the board of directors and serves on the Executive Committees of the Greater Omaha Chamber of Commerce, Joslyn Art Museum and Mid-America Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Previously, he has held numerous board positions with an array of organizations including St. Mary's Medical Center Foundation, Il Cenacolo, Coro, World Affairs Council of Northern California, the Association of Catholic Colleges and Universities, the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities, where he served as chair of the National Student Aid Task Force, and Heythrop College at the University of London. He also has served on accreditation site visits for the North Central Association, and was a consultant to the Organization for Economic Development and Cooperation based in Paris.

In May of 2004 the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society Lodge 1 in Omaha presented him with the 2004 Honored Citizen Award for his outstanding leadership of Creighton University. For his promotion of understanding and respect among all races, religions and cultures, Fr. Schlegel received the Otto Swanson Spirit of Service Award from the National Conference for Community and Justice in May 2003. Fr. Schlegel also received the first Champion of Greatness Award from Special Olympics Nebraska.

He enjoys opera, classical music, gourmet cooking, racket sports, and the outdoors.

Director of Athletics Bruce Rasmussen

Bruce Rasmussen is in his 12th year as director of Athletics, and 26th overall at Creighton University. During his tenure, Creighton has risen to prominence with its success on-and-off the field, impressive new facilities and record-breaking fundraising efforts.

The men's soccer team is one of a handful of schools to appear in each of the last 13 NCAA Tournaments, while the men's basketball team is just the third team in the 98-year history of the Missouri Valley Conference to reach the postseason in eight straight campaigns. Combined, Creighton is the only school in the country that can claim eight consecutive postseason appearances in men's soccer and men's basketball. In addition, the Creighton softball team has made three consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances and was ranked as high as 19th in the nation last year, while the baseball team won its first regular-season MVC title.

Four Creighton teams moved to new facilities in 2003-04. The men's basketball team moved to play into the $291 million, Qwest Center OMAHA™. In their new confines, the Jays averaged an MVC-best 12,016 fans per game and attracted nine of the top 10 home crowds in school history. Morrison Stadium opened as one of the premier soccer venues in the country. Located on the east edge of the Creighton campus, the complex includes 6,000 seats and will serve as the home for the 2005 State Farm Missouri Valley Conference Women's Soccer Tournament. Additionally, the Creighton volleyball team found a new home at the venerable Omaha Civic Auditorium.

Rasmussen also has continued to make outstanding hires at every opportunity. Kirsten Bernthal Booth helped the volleyball team improve by nine wins in her first season, while Ed Servais has earned MVC Coach of the Year honors in each of his first two seasons. Another recent hire, women's basketball's Jim Flanery, matched the league record with 48 wins in his first two seasons while taking the team to back-to-back WNIT Final Four berths.

Last year Rasmussen was one of four regional winners from the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) to take home a GeneralSports TURF Systems AD of the Year Award.

In terms of academics, Creighton's reputation as one of the nation's top academic institutions is reflected in the success the Bluejay student-athletes have had in the classroom during Rasmussen's service as athletics director. Creighton's baseball, men's basketball, women's basketball, volleyball, men's and women's cross country, women's soccer and men's and women's tennis teams all have received national awards for their academic success. Last year, Bluejay student-athletes had an average GPA of 3.33, an all-time high.

Creighton's primary annual fund-raising events are the Bluejay Bash and the Bluejay Jamboree. Under Rasmussen's supervision, each of these events continues to raise record-breaking funds for Creighton athletics. The successful fund-raising efforts have allowed Creighton to enhance its facilities under Rasmussen's leadership. In 1998, the $1.7 million Student-Athlete Support Center renovation project was completed in the Old Gymnasium, resulting in seven new team locker rooms, an expanded athletic training facility, new offices and storage space and an academic learning center. Other major facility projects have included the new baseball/softball complex with the Kitty Gaughan Pavilion and Morrison Stadium.

The 1992 Western Athletic Conference Coach of the Year, Rasmussen led the 1991-92 Bluejay women to a program-record 28 wins (28-4), the WAC regular-season and tournament championships and a first-round NCAA Tournament victory in the program's first-ever trip to the "Big Dance." With that 28-4 record in 1991-92, Rasmussen completed his college coaching career with a 196-147 record, good for a .571 winning percentage.

After serving as associate athletics director for two years, 1992-94, Rasmussen was named athletics director on Aug. 1, 1994.

A 1971 graduate of Northern Iowa, Rasmussen came to Creighton from Bettendorf (Iowa) High School, where he put together a three-year girl's basketball coaching record of 64-15. His 1978-79 club posted a mark of 27-2 and finished second at the state tournament. Rasmussen also coached at Maxwell (Iowa) High School, with a four-year record of 66-26, and Murray (Iowa) High School, with a two-year ledger of 31-13.

A native of Webster City, Iowa, Rasmussen and his wife, Jill, have five children: Megan (20), David (18), John (14), Katy (10) and Grace (7).

Assistant Sports Information Director
2500 California Plaza
Omaha, NE 68178

Credentials may also be requested by contacting Simms at (402) 280-2433 or via e-mail at rsimms@creighton.edu. Credentials may be picked up at the main entrance to Morrison Stadium on the west side of the facility.

Designated media parking is available south of Morrison Stadium off of Cass Street.

Press Box and Game Day Media Services

Seating is available for working media in the press box, located at the north end of the second level concourse. Media guides and updated statistics from both schools will be available in the press box. Following the match, a final box score will be made available to media outlets in attendance. A final box score and game summary will be faxed to requested media outlets not in attendance.

Interviews

During the week, all player interviews should be coordinated through the Sports Information Office at (402) 280-2433. Interviews with head coach Bob Warming may be arranged by calling the men's soccer office at (402) 280-5785 on weekday mornings. Media planning to attend practice should call ahead to the sports information office to confirm practice time.

Game-day player interviews, prior to the game, are not permitted. At home and on the road, Warming and requested players will be made available on the field after the match following a 10-minute cooling off period.

Photo Policy

Only accredited photographers on assignment will be issued credentials. Photographers may pick up a copy of the game roster in the press box or upon entering the stadium. Photographers are permitted on field level at both the north and south end of the field and are to remain behind the photographer's line on the turf behind each goal. Photographers are also permitted on field level on the east side of the stadium, however they are NOT allowed on the west side field level where the team benches are located.

Directions to Morrison Stadium
