

“The combination of a new coaching staff, a new facility, and a great school makes this an exciting time for the volleyball program.

“As head volleyball coach, I am elated to join Creighton. The new coaching staff and I are committed to making Creighton a top-flight volleyball power. The current team and top-tier recruits will build something special.

“Additionally, with respect to home-court advantage, the move to the Civic Auditorium is huge. The Civic provides an awesome atmosphere and a first-class facility.

“I am confident we will have great success there just as our men’s and women’s basketball programs have done. As Creighton volleyball rises to a national level, players, fans and recruits will become aware of what an advantage it is to call the Civic home.

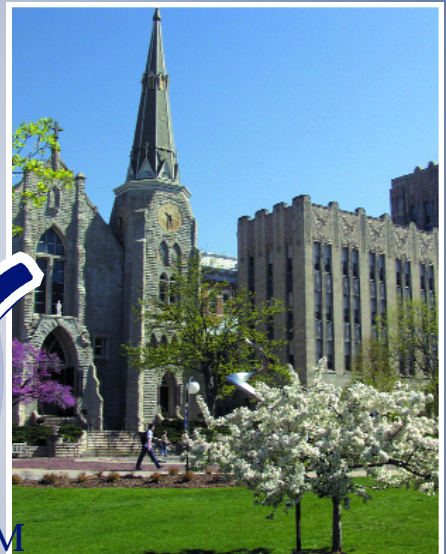

“I truly believe with Creighton’s academic reputation, along with the direction we are taking the program, we can compete for top-tier recruits on a national level. Finally, the wonderful thing about Creighton is that as a school, it sells itself. Creighton’s top academic reputation makes joining our volleyball program the right decision. A student-athlete knows that when she chooses Creighton she will graduate with a degree that will take her far in life.”

New Coach, New Building, New Attitude For Bluejays in 2003

Credit a new coaching staff and a new home arena for the influx of new attitude and goals within the Creighton volleyball program.

Six months after being named as the third head coach in program history, Kirsten Bernthal Booth has made an immediate impact with her young team, incorporating new teaching and motivational methods while looking forward to the return of the Bluejays to the upper division of the Valley in the near future.

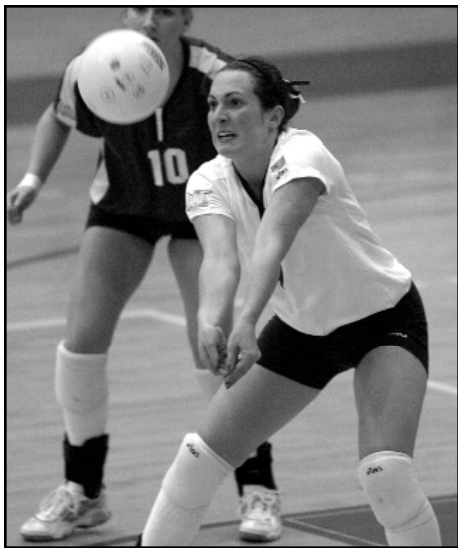

Hosting CU's move will be the long-time home of Bluejay basketball, the Omaha Civic Auditorium. In addition to playing closer to campus, the volleyball program hopes to capture some of the building's magic that has allowed the Creighton basketball teams to go a combined 47-5 in the facility over the last two years.

"The players know coming in this fall that every position is wide open," said Booth. "We had a chance to work with them in the spring, but that only gives you a few weeks of work. The fall will be a testing time and we'll likely have different line-ups for the first couple weeks."

The team's only senior, Jaden Custer returns to the court after starting the past two seasons. After opening last year as the team's setter, Custer started CU's final 12 matches at outside hitter. She ended her junior campaign ranked among the top three on the team in kills, hitting percentage, assists, digs and blocks.

"We'll look for Jaden to bring experience to the court and she's one of the players that has extensive experience starting on the team," said Booth. "She's also a full package player who can play the front and back row."

Junior middle blockers Ashley Williams and Sarah Beulke both return after starting all 26 matches last season. The dynamic duo gives the Bluejays impressive size and mobility along the front line while both also own crucial match experience.

Janeen Piller

Williams picked up all-MVC second-team accolades after pacing the Bluejays in kills and block solos last year. Also a member of the Valley's All-Freshman team in 2001, she has improved each season and will look to make another jump as a junior.

"Ashley's got a huge reach since she's so tall," said Booth. "We're working on her lateral speed and if we can quicken that up we think she can be a dominant blocker for us."

Beulke topped the team in total blocks and was second in kills while also tying for third on the squad in aces.

"Sarah is a great leader on the court," noted Booth. "She's a hard worker and has good agility for a player her size. I think she really could be a good offensive threat for us."

On the outside, sophomore Leah Ratzlaff and junior MaryJane Boldt also return after combining for 41 starts last season.

Ratzlaff started CU's last 17 matches last year and played well down the stretch as she became more accustomed to her role. A gifted player, Ratzlaff needs to cut down on her offensive mistakes and improve her passing to become one of the elite players in the MVC.

"Leah does a lot of great things with the ball," said Booth. "She has a good jump and has one of the highest reaches on the team."

Boldt played mostly on the right side last year and could also see time in the middle. She averaged 1.29 kills and 0.70 digs per game last season while starting all but two matches.

"MaryJane brings great, calming leadership and is a very good team player," said Booth.

Sophomore Liz Hagerman returns and will look to continue her role as the team's starting setter. Hagerman boasts one of the toughest serves on the team and had 15 aces last year. She will likely be challenged by incoming freshman Brittany Coleman for the starting position as the team's setter. Coleman prepped at Beatrice (Neb.) and has all the attributes to be successful at the college level.

"Liz did a nice job setting this spring for us. She brings leadership to the court, has good court instincts and anticipates well," said Booth.

"Brittany is coming in and will vie for the setting position. She makes up for her lack of height in athletic ability and leadership and epitomizes what we're looking for as far as the new direction of Creighton volleyball."

Fellow sophomore Jadee Tanabe also saw time as a setter last year while playing in all 92 games as a serving specialist. Tanabe paced the team with 22 service aces and also dished out 193 assists in a limited role last season. Tanabe will also work towards earning a regular spot in the rotation as a defensive specialist.

Junior Janeen Piller was the lone Creighton player to don the libero jersey last season. Piller led CU in digs in all but three matches as her 330 digs rank fifth in CU single-season history.

"Janeen played libero last year and is the leading candidate for us this fall as well," said Booth. "She's a great leader with very good fundamentals and very solid mentally."

Sophomore Molly Lahr saw action in all but one match while splitting time between serving and defensive specialist roles. Lahr had nine aces and recorded 58 digs on the campaign.

Sophomore Katy Grady returns after being used as a reserve outside hitter last season. Grady showed strong blocking ability while also hitting .122 in her debut season.

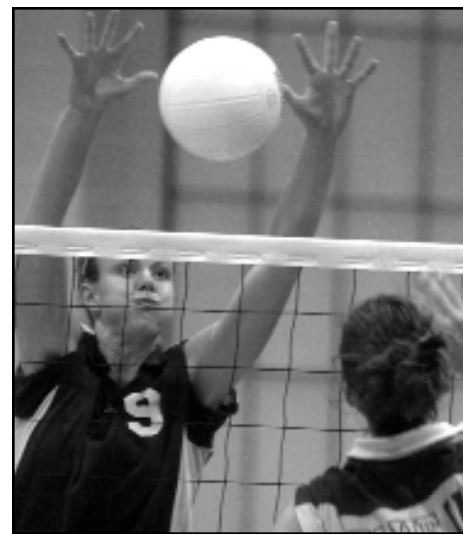

"Katy is a great athlete that we think can develop in the next couple years," said Booth. "I think she has the potential to eventually be a front and back-row player."

Two other true freshmen will join the program with the chance to contribute immediately. Julianne Jackson arrives from Wadsworth, Ill. as a middle blocker while local product Emily Greisch will join the Bluejays after graduating from nearby Omaha Marian High School.

Creighton's schedule includes three matches against NCAA Tournament teams from a year ago, including five-time defending MVC champ Northern Iowa. In addition, CU will play in three-match tournaments hosted by Iowa State, Kansas and Loyola Marymount.

An automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament will be available by winning the Missouri Valley Conference Tournament, held Nov. 28-29 in Springfield, Mo. The top six teams will advance to the league tournament, with the top two seeds earning a first-round bye.

"The coaching staff has set a goal of making the MVC Tournament, which would be a huge jump of where the team finished last year," said Booth. "Last year's team played competitively with a lot of good teams but just didn't know how to win. I believe you can teach people how to win."

Kirsten Bernthal Booth

Native Nebraskan Kirsten Bernthal Booth has been successful at every level and will rely on that experience as she guides Creighton volleyball's return to prominence.

Booth enters her first season as head coach at Creighton with an impressive past, both on and off the court.

On the court, Booth was an all-state setter in high school at Lincoln East and conference MVP in college at Truman State.

Off the court, she earned Academic All-American honors, was named the 1997 Missouri NCAA Woman of the Year, earned her Master's degree, and has been named District Coach of the Year twice in her three seasons on the bench.

Her coaching philosophy focuses on two main areas, the first of which is the development of the person. She wants every player in the program to leave it as a better person, regardless of her talents. This is done by holding players to a high standard, treating people with respect and courtesy, honesty and developing a good work ethic in volleyball, the classroom and life.

The second phase of that philosophy is that the path to get to your destination is more important than the destination itself. Cutting corners will not get it done. Instead, a team that works hard all season long --on and off the court-- treats people with respect, takes care of things in the classroom and focuses on being a team above being an individual will almost always feel good about where it finished at the end of the season.

Her coaching philosophies have proven to be successful during three seasons as a head coach at Kirkwood Community College in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. While at Kirkwood, Booth went a combined 112-41, winning at least 36 matches each season.

Her first team went 37-12 and reached the NJCAA finals before falling to St. Clair College. For these efforts in her debut season, she was named the District C Coach of the Year.

In her second season, her team went 36-18, finished fourth at the NJCAA Tournament, and she was honored as the American Volleyball Coaches Association NJCAA Midwest Coach of the Year, while also repeating her District C Coach of the Year laurels as well.

Last year's club won 39 matches and had seven players earn All-Academic honors from the Iowa Community College Athletic Conference. In addition to her coaching responsibilities, she served as the school's human resource coordinator, where she was in charge of staff development and wellness for all faculty and staff at Kirkwood.

Booth served as a volunteer coach with the University of Iowa in the fall of 1997, helping to run drills and scout opponents. The following spring, she served as interim head coach while running practice and doing other assorted administrative tasks. She later earned her Master's degree in higher education administration with an emphasis in athletic administration from Iowa in 2000.

As an undergrad, Booth's teams at Truman State went 101-54 with her running the offense at setter. She was named the Mid-America

Assistant Coaches

Paul Giesselmann Assistant Coach First Season

Paul Giesselmann was hired March 6 to serve as an assistant coach with the Creighton Volleyball program.

Giesselmann spent eight seasons as head coach at the College of St. Mary's in Omaha, amassing an overall record of 227-80 before leaving in 2001 to spend time with his family.

While at CSM, Giesselmann had five teams win 30 or more matches and was named Midland Collegiate Athletic Conference Coach of the Year each of his last seven seasons. In addition, he was also named Tachikara Regional Coach of the Year four times (1996, '99, '00, '01) and picked up 2000 NAIA National Coach of the Year accolades.

He won the Omaha Sportscasters Recognition Award in both 1996 and 2000. In 1999, the Omaha World-Herald named him as the Nebraska State College Women's Coach of the Year.

His teams won AVCA national team academic awards all eight years and had 11 All-American Scholar-Athletes. He also coached 12 All-Americans, 21 all-region selections and 33 all-MCAC picks. His student-athletes were honored as Regional Player of the Year three times and Conference Player of the Year on five occasions. His squads also won the MCAC Tournament his final seven seasons and were regular-season champs the final six campaigns. The program reached its highest-ever national ranking in 2000 when they were ranked second.

Prior to going to CSM, Giesselmann was as assistant coach at the University of Nebraska-Omaha in 1993-94. He also was a head volleyball coach at Duchesne Academy of the Sacred Heart (1992-93) and at Winside HS (1988-92) in both volleyball and basketball.

Giesselmann and his wife, Dr. Paige Groppe, have twin seven-year-old boys, Hunter and Garret.

Angie Oxley Assistant Coach First Season

A four-year starter at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, Angie Oxley returns to her home state to begin her first season as a graduate assistant coach at Creighton.

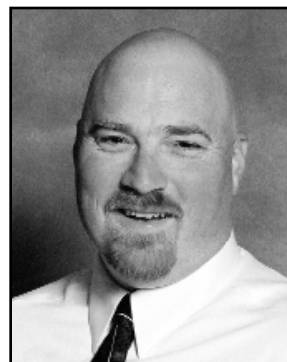

While at NU, Oxley won three Big 12 titles, was named 1997 Big 12 Freshman of the Year and chosen as the University's female student-athlete of the year in 2001 after leading the Cornhuskers to a 34-0 mark and national title in the fall of 2000 as a senior. She closed her career as the school's all-time digs leader with 1,086.

In the classroom, Oxley was a Chancellor's Scholar and four-time Highest Honors Distinction Medal honoree. She also was a four-year academic all-Big 12 selection, a recipient of an NCAA Postgraduate scholarship and one of 10 finalists for the 2001 NCAA Woman of the Year. She was also a member of the Mortar Board Honor Society, Pi Lambda Theta Honor Society, Golden Key, 2000 Homecoming Royalty Court and the Dean's List.

Most recently, Oxley served as a membership services intern with the NCAA, helping to assist with NCAA legislation and interpretations, eligibility issues and certification reports.

Oxley's previous experience on the sideline includes experience as an instructor with JAK Volleyball camps, which helps to teach fundamentals to coaches and participants while also coordinating camps across Nebraska, Colorado and Iowa.

Steve Bymers Volunteer Coach First Season

Another newcomer to the Bluejay coaching staff is volunteer coach Steve Bymers.

Bymers has spent the previous two seasons as an assistant at nearby Dana College where he helped with practice, recruiting and statistics.

A fixture on the club circuit, Bymers has coached 11 teams to top-30 finishes in the last six years, including a national title in the USAV Men's Division in 1997. In 2001 he helped start the Nebraska Elite Volleyball program, which has sent 14 teams to the national tournament in its first three seasons.

Bymers and his wife, Kim, reside in Blair and are parents of Garrett (11), Jordyn (8) and Grant (4).

2002 Recap

Nobody thought it was going to be easy replacing six graduated seniors from Creighton's 2001 team, and in the end, they were right.

Creighton's 2002 team started the season as one of the league's youngest, and season-ending injuries to a pair of seniors only accelerated the development of a strong group of underclassmen that saw six freshmen and four sophomores see the majority of the floor time.

The season opened with a challenging schedule, as six of the first nine opponents got top-25 votes at some point during the season. Creighton often played even with its competition, including a memorable night in September when they were just one point away from taking a 2-0 lead into the intermission at #7 Northern Iowa.

The Bluejays followed up that strong effort by returning home to defeat Evansville on Hawaiian Night. In that match, CU held strong while surviving two match points to the Purple Aces before a three-point rally gave them the fifth game, 19-17.

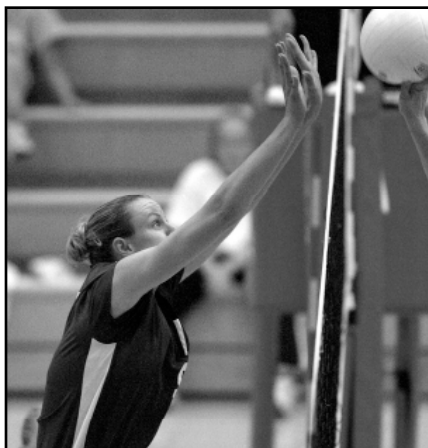

Despite a difficult October, the 2002 team will be remembered for one that never gave up and fought to the bitter end while playing its best ball of the season in the last three matches.

First came a 3-0 sweep at Indiana State, the team's fifth straight win in Terre Haute that saw CU hit a season-best .333 as a team. The win also lifted Creighton out of sole possession of last place in the MVC.

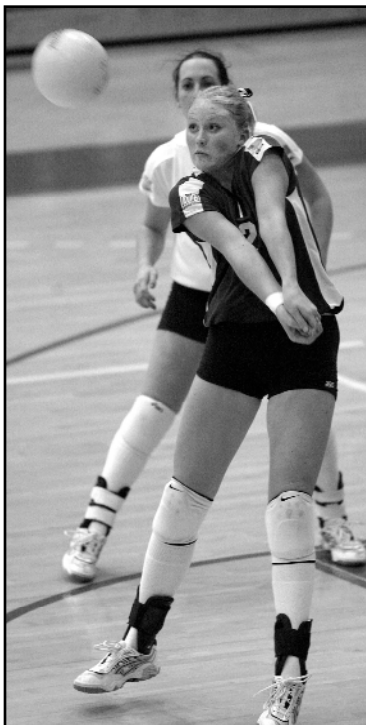

Already eliminated from MVC Tournament consideration, Creighton closed the year with a homestand vs. Drake and UMKC. Creighton played rock solid early and claimed a 2-0 lead at the break on Drake, only to fall in five games.

Rather than get down, the Jays got even. CU played a spirited Senior Day match vs. UMKC, downing the Kangaroos in four games to end the season with a 3-23 mark.

Creighton seniors Jodi Bjoin, Lyndsay Olsen and Emisha Haney had a bittersweet ending in their final year. Haney missed the entire season with knee trouble, while Bjoin was sidelined with an ACL injury nine matches into the season. Olsen was then lost for Creighton's final dozen matches with an injury setback of her own.

Ashley Williams

Jaden Custer

Stepping up was the team's lone upperclassman, Jaden Custer. Custer began the year being the Bluejay setter, only to move back to outside hitter with 12 matches to play. Custer did a little bit of everything, leading the way in assists, ranking second in digs and ending third on the team in kills.

Sophomores Ashley Williams, Sarah Beulke, MaryJane Hyde and Janeen Piller give Creighton a solid nucleus to build around for the future.

Williams earned second-team all-MVC honors after pacing the Jays in kills and hitting percentage while also ranking second in aces and blocks.

Beulke led Creighton in blocks and was second in kills, while Hyde started all but two matches as the team's right side hitter and averaged 1.29 kills per game.

Piller, who served as the team's libero in every game of the season, was a force in the back row, averaging 3.59 digs per game while leading the team on a regular basis.

Another reason for hope for the future was the development of six freshmen who saw considerable action. Leah Ratzlaff made a run at all-Newcomer honors in the MVC after replacing Bjoin as starting outside hitter.

Reserves Katy Grady and Lisa McEwan each saw spot duty in the front row, while Molly Lahr saw time in the back row. Grady had 41 kills and 29 blocks on the year, while McEwan was good for 16 kills and 19 digs. Lahr served up nine aces and had 58 digs in limited action over 63 games.

Helping to turn around the season late was the play of freshmen setters Liz Hagerman and Jadee Tanabe, who shared time as the team switched to a 6-2 offense midway through the season. Both boast lethal serves and accurate passing ability that bode well for the future.

With 10 players and a wealth of experience returning for the future, the 2002 season will be looked upon as a building block for the future that should help pave the way for upcoming success for Creighton volleyball.

Creighton Volleyball Head Coach History

Ben Guiliano

Ben Guiliano helped lay the groundwork for Creighton volleyball as the man in charge when Creighton reinstated volleyball prior to the 1994 season. Guiliano guided the Bluejays from 1994-96 and posted a 25-58 (.301) winning percentage in that time.

Howard Wallace

Howard Wallace took over prior to the 1997 season and led the Bluejays to four Missouri Valley Conference Tournament appearances in his six years on the job. In 1997, Wallace was named the MVC's Co-Coach of the Year after guiding the Jays to a third place finish in league play. He resigned December 10, 2002 with a 68-94 record in six seasons on the Bluejay bench.

Kirsten Bernthal Booth

With her appointment on February 3, 2003, Kirsten Bernthal Booth became the program's third head coach.

Missouri Valley Conference

The Missouri Valley Conference continues to lead by example as one of college athletics' most progressive conferences. Now in its 97th year of existence, the Missouri Valley Conference emphasizes the importance of the student-athlete and is aggressive in its approach to provide opportunities for its member institutions.

Since its inception in 1907, the Missouri Valley Conference has been regarded as a leader by its peers among today's collegiate athletic conferences.

Based in St. Louis since 1985, the league is assertive in its approach to playing host to NCAA basketball championship events, producing a revenue-producing in-house television network, bidding out the right to play host to sport championships and landing title sponsorships for those events.

In the next six years, the Missouri Valley Conference will host a total of four NCAA basketball events -- more than any other city. In fact, the Valley will have hosted eight NCAA basketball events in a 12-year span, including three Final Fours, by April of 2009.

And while the Missouri Valley Conference has been progressive in pursuing NCAA events, it has continued to be a national leader in the athletic arena. The oldest conference west of the Mississippi River, the Valley has had numerous successes in its storied history, which includes a myriad of accomplishments since the turn of the century.

Last year alone, the league had a combined seven postseason teams in men's and women's basketball, with Creighton's women's team reaching the semifinals of the WNIT. In volleyball, UNI earned its third Sweet 16 trip in the past four years; in men's soccer, Creighton secured a Final Four trip to the College Cup -- the Valley's third semifinal team in the past three years; Southwest Missouri State made its first trip to the College Baseball World Series; while Wichita State's men's golf team had the league's highest NCAA finish since 1995 and second-best since 1974.

Arguably the 2002-03 season might go down as one of the most successful in conference annals, as in addition to the aforementioned, the league had two softball teams qualify for the NCAA tournament for the first time in league history, and Southern Illinois' nationally ranked team finished two wins away from the College World Series. In addition, the Valley had NCAA team qualifiers in women's golf, women's tennis, women's soccer, and men's tennis; plus countless individual qualifiers in cross country, track & field, and swimming & diving.

The seeds for this vision were planted by eight administrators representing five institutions, who met at the Midland Hotel in Kansas City, Mo., on Jan. 12, 1907. The five schools that formed the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association were Washington University of St. Louis, and the state universities of Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska. Two months after the initial meeting, two more schools -- Drake University and Iowa State College -- were admitted.

In the fall of 1907, basketball became the first competitive sport. Today, the Missouri Valley Conference sponsors the following sports: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country and track (indoor and outdoor), men's and women's golf, men's and women's soccer, softball, women's swimming and diving, men's and women's tennis, and women's volleyball.

From its early beginning to its current standing on the map of college athletics, The Valley will always continue to be proactive in its approach.

League members include Bradley University, Creighton University, Drake University, the University of Evansville, Illinois State University, Indiana State University, the University of Northern Iowa, Southern Illinois University, Southwest Missouri State University, and Wichita State University. Affiliate members include Drury University (women's soccer) and Eastern Illinois University, Southern Methodist University, the University of Tulsa, Vanderbilt University, and Western Kentucky University (men's soccer).

Volleyball Terminology

- Ace: A serve that results directly in a point.
- Antenna: The red and white striped pole attached to the net. It extends 32 inches above the net and indicates out of bounds along the sideline.
- Assist: Passing or setting the ball to a teammate who attacks the ball for a kill.
- Block: An attempt by a front row player to intercept the ball near the net. (Block Solo: When only one player blocks the ball; Block Assist: When two or more players go up to block the ball). Statistically, a block is only credited when it ends a point following an attack error.
- Blocking Error: A violation that consists of touching the net, crossing the center line, blocking a set or any other violation which pertains to illegal blocking.
- Defensive Specialist: A player who only plays in the backcourt.
- Dig: Successfully passing a hard-driven spike.
- Dink: A one-handed soft hit into the opponent's court using the fingertips.
- Error: Any spiking attempt which results as a point or a side-out for the opponent.
- Free Ball: Returning the ball to the opponent's court without the intent to get a kill.
- Hitting Efficiency: A hitting statistic derived from total kills minus total attack errors, divided by total attempts.
- Illegal Contact: By a ruling of the official, the ball comes to rest at contact (also called a lift, throw or carry).
- Kill: An attack that directly results in a point.
- Libero: A back row player who may not serve or attempt to block but can be substituted freely during a game. The libero's uniform top must contrast the color of her teammates' uniforms.
- Middle Blocker: Plays in the middle of the net when in the front row and moves laterally to blocking assignments.
- Net Height: Seven feet, four and one-eighth inches.
- Outside Hitter: Plays at the ends of the net when in the front row.
- Receiving Error: Used only when the opponent is serving and the official rules that the ball has been illegally received. This includes a poor pass off a received serve to a teammate. It must result in the end of a point following a service ace.
- Red/Yellow Card: A yellow card is given to a player or coach as a warning of misconduct. Two yellow cards or flagrant misconduct result in a red card and subsequent ejection from the match.
- Rotation: Players must always maintain their initial rotational order throughout the entire match. But once the ball is served, they are allowed to move within the front or back lines.
- Service Error: When a serve is hit into the net, hit long or hit wide. Also called when the server commits a foot fault, is in the wrong rotation order or any other service violation.
- Shank: A grossly misdirected forearm pass that cannot be recovered.
- Ten Foot/Three Meter Line: A line extended across the court to signify the point which back row players cannot cross in order to attack the ball.

Student-athletes' demand for academic support has increased dramatically as they attempt to balance a full academic load with athletics. The recruitment, retention and graduation of student-athletes is vital to the success of collegiate athletics.

Creighton University's Student-Athlete Support Center was a major renovation of existing space in the Creighton Gymnasium, with the goal of enlarging and improving locker rooms and support facilities. In addition to new locker rooms, the 13,000-square-foot Support Center includes The Parker Family Foundation Academic Learning Center, staff offices, an expanded athletic medicine area and additional athletics storage space.

The Parker Family Foundation Academic Learning Center includes staff offices, 20 computer stations, study tables, sound-proof carrels for tutoring and partitions to divide the area into sections for quiet, individual or group study.

The Blue and White Fund was established by former Creighton student-athletes, alumni and friends to support this $1.7 million renovation project, which was completed in the fall of 1998.

History of Billy Bluejay

"Billy Bluejay" is the official mascot of the Creighton University athletics department. The Bluejays were originally depicted by a "birdwatcher's bluejay," but that was changed in 1941 when Joseph P. Murphy, a Creighton alumnus, designed the current version of Billy, one with a more human stance and expression.

Prior to 1924, Creighton teams were referred to as the "Hilltoppers," but that name lost favor because at least six other teams in the country also used the same nickname. The Omaha Bee assisted the University's Athletic Board and Alumni Association in finding a new nickname by asking readers to submit possibilities. After reviewing 200 entries, the Athletic Board decided upon "Bluejays" because of the school's colors, blue and white.

Today, Creighton remains the only NCAA Division I athletics program known officially as the Bluejays.

President Rev. John P. Schlegel, S.J.

The Rev. John P. Schlegel, S.J., became Creighton University's 23rd president in August, 2000, following nine years as president of the University of San Francisco.

Fr. Schlegel has described his decision to return to Creighton as "based, in part, on a desire to 'go home' to an institution that introduced me to higher education administration."

Since coming to Creighton in 2000, Fr. Schlegel has initiated changes that have enhanced the already nationally recognized academic quality of Creighton and the beauty of the campus.

In the early months of his administration at Creighton, the President approved the construction of Creighton's new Hixson-Lied Science Building, which opened in 2003. He also initiated the planning for an on-campus soccer stadium for Creighton's nationally ranked soccer programs, and committed the University to an eastwardly expanded campus that complements the dynamic redevelopment of downtown Omaha.

Prior to his service at the University of San Francisco, Fr. Schlegel was Creighton University's assistant academic vice president (1978-82), academic dean of Rockhurst College (1982-84), dean of arts and sciences at Marquette University (1984-88), and executive and academic vice president at John Carroll University (1988-91).

Fr. Schlegel was born and raised in Dubuque, Iowa, with three sisters and two brothers. He entered the Wisconsin Province of the Society of Jesus in 1963 and was ordained in 1973.

He holds A.B. and M.A. degrees from Saint Louis University; a B.D. (honors) degree in theology from the University of London, and a doctorate in international relations from Oxford University.

He is a member of the boards of trustees at Loyola University Chicago and Xavier University, foundation board at St. Mary's Medical Center Foundation, board of directors of Il Cenacolo, board of trustees of the World Affairs Council, and board of directors of the Association of Catholic Colleges and Universities.

He has served on the executive committee of the Association of Independent California Colleges and Universities, executive committee of the Western College Association, board of governors of the Commonwealth Club of California, board of directors of Coro Foundation, a director of the American International School of Hong Kong, a member of the advisory council at the California Academy of Sciences.

He is a former member of the board of trustees at Loyola College Maryland, Loyola University of the South, Saint Louis University, Cleveland's Saint Ignatius High, Beaumont School, and Heythrop College, University of London, board of directors of the Golden Gate Chapter of the American Red Cross, and the chairman of the Korean-American Friendship Society of Northern California. He has served as a member of the Missouri Council on the Humanities and the Milwaukee County Arts Committee. He also has served on accreditation site visits for the North Central Association and the Western Association of Schools and Colleges, as well as a consultant to the Organization for Economic Development and Cooperation based in Paris.

He enjoys opera, classical music, racket sports, and the outdoors.

Bruce Rasmussen

Leading Bluejay Athletics to unprecedented heights in the new millenium is Bruce Rasmussen, now in his 24th year at Creighton University and his 10th as director of athletics.

During Rasmussen's tenure leading the Creighton athletic department, Bluejay athletics has enjoyed tremendous success in all areas -- individual and team competition, academic accomplishments, record-breaking fund-raising efforts and facility enhancement.

In 2002-03 Creighton advanced to the NCAA Tournament in men's soccer, women's soccer, men's basketball and softball while the women's basketball team also earned a trip to the WNIT Final Four.

Six straight home sellouts helped the CU men's basketball team go 17-0 at home, as the team returned to the national rankings for the first time since 1975. CU finished the year 29-5, made a fifth straight NCAA Tournament and were the only team nationally to have a second-team All-American both on the court and the academic side.

The Creighton men's soccer team made its third College Cup appearance since 1996 (1996, 2000 and 2002) while capturing the MVC Tournament title along the way. The Jays are one of five programs nationally with 11 consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances.

The 2001-02 academic year marked the school's best finish in the MVC all-sport standings since rejoining the league 25 years earlier. Six of CU's 13 league-affiliated sports finished in third place or better, including MVC titles in both men's basketball and women's basketball.

Other competitive highlights include the Creighton men's basketball team's rise on the national scene, which has resulted in five-straight NCAA Tournament appearances; the women's basketball team's trip to the 2002 NCAA Tournament; the softball team's 1998 and 1999 Valley championships and trip to the NCAA Tournament in 1999 and 2003; the baseball team's NCAA Regional appearances in 1999 and 2000; a women's soccer regular-season championship and NCAA berth in 2002; and berths in the MVC Tournament in four of the last six years for the volleyball team, which completed its ninth intercollegiate season last November.

In addition, Creighton and Omaha have remained host of the College World Series while smashing new attendance records in 2003 at Rosenblatt Stadium.

In terms of academics, Creighton's reputation as one of the nation's top academic institutions is reflected in the success the Bluejay student-athletes have had in the classroom during Rasmussen's service as athletics director. Creighton's baseball, men's basketball, women's basketball, volleyball, men's and women's cross country, women's soccer and men's and women's tennis teams all have received national awards for their academic success.

Creighton's primary annual fund-raising events are the Bluejay Bash, the Bluejay Golf Marathon and the Bluejay Jamboree. Under Rasmussen's supervision, each of these events continues to raise record-breaking funds for Creighton athletics. Most notably, the 2002 Jamboree generated more than $200,000 through its gourmet dinner, raffle and auction.

The successful fund-raising efforts have allowed Creighton to enhance its facilities under Rasmussen's leadership. In 1998, the $1.7 million Student-Athlete Support Center renovation project was completed in the Old Gymnasium, resulting in seven new team locker rooms, an expanded athletic training facility, new offices and storage space and an academic learning center. The centerpiece of the project is The Parker Family Foundation Academic Learning Center, which houses the athletic department's academic support team and features 20 computer stations and private study areas.

This fall CU opens a new soccer field just blocks from campus that when completed, will rank among the finest in the country.

Another major facility project was completed last summer, as the home of the Bluejay baseball and softball teams, the Creighton Sports Complex, was completed. That project includes a two-story clubhouse with offices, locker rooms and batting cages. New playing surfaces with updated drainage systems for both fields had been added prior to the 2000 season.

In the fall of 2003, the Creighton men's basketball program will move to a new 15,800-seat arena one mile from the CU campus. That venue also has been selected to host the 2006 NCAA Volleyball Final Four.

Rasmussen accepted the associate athletics director position in 1992 after a 12-year run as the winningest coach in Creighton women's basketball history (196-147), culminating in the program's historic 1991-92 season.

The 1992 Western Athletic Conference Coach of the Year, Rasmussen led the 1991-92 Bluejay women to a program-record 28 wins (28-4), the WAC regular-season and tournament championships and a first-round NCAA Tournament victory in the program's first-ever trip to the "Big Dance." With that 28-4 record in 1991-92, Rasmussen completed his college coaching career with a 196-147 record, good for a .571 winning percentage.

Omaha, Nebraska

Omaha is a rich cultural city with a dynamic business community. Ranked by Forbes magazine as one of the Top 10 Best Places for Business and Careers in its May 26, 2003 issue, Omaha balances Midwest values with big-city life in the heart of America. It showcases numerous nationally recognized and world-renowned attractions.

A center for information technology, telecommunications, transportation and food processing, Omaha is the center of a metropolitan area of about 734,270, with more than one million people within a 50-mile radius. Omaha is located near the geographic center of the largest city and 61st largest metro area in the nation.

With an outstanding public education system, Omaha was selected as a model of business-education partnerships to kick off America 2000. Nebraska ranks among the top states nationally for ACT and SAT scores. The Omaha area is home to Creighton University, which is known as the best comprehensive Jesuit institution in the nation, consistently at the top of U.S. News & World Report annual rankings.

Omaha serves as headquarters for three Forbes 500 companies: #11 Berkshire Hathaway, #71 Union Pacific and #87 ConAgra Foods. More than 20 insurance companies, two dozen direct response/telemarketing centers and a number of other national and international firms also have headquarters in Omaha. The headquarters of STRATCOM, a vital military nerve center located at Offutt Air Force Base, is located in Omaha.

Omaha's unemployment rate has remained well under the national average during the past decade. Still, Omaha has accommodated new growth. During the 1990s, the Omaha metro area added more than 84,000 jobs, an increase of more than 25 percent.

Omaha is a cultural center of the Great Plains, with more than 20 live theaters (three that produce original works), a professional opera company, a regional professional symphony orchestra, a professional children's theater, a children's museum and a youth orchestra. Joslyn Art Museum and the Durham Western Heritage Museum are the two largest of many area art and historical offerings.

The Omaha Henry Doorly Zoo has an international reputation for its breeding programs, and its outstanding "no bars" facility boasts the world's largest indoor rain forest, cat complex and aviary. Its newest additions are a salt water aquarium, the most technically advanced in the country, an IMAX theater and the largest indoor desert in the world.

Outstanding sporting events in the area include the annual NCAA College World Series, for which Creighton serves as host, Omaha Royals (AAA baseball), the River City Lancers (U.S. Hockey League), the Omaha Beef (National Indoor Football League) and a wide variety of collegiate and individual sports.
