Head coach Bruce Erickson enters his 11th season at the helm of the Creighton Bluejays in 2009, having lost the program's all-time leading scorer, Marcy Gans, and record-setting goalkeeper, Kristen Casey, from last year's team. Erickson has guided the Bluejays to eight straight winning seasons, including four trips to the NCAA Tournament in that span, and his expectations for success remain despite the loss of two high-caliber players.

With new faces in prominent places on the pitch, Erickson will look to use a deep roster to put the best scorers in the right position and protect his goalkeepers with a solid back line.

Slated to replace Casey in goal is sophomore Alicia Montgomery. The netminder saw action in five matches last year, posting a 0.49 goals against average. The California native also logged a shutout in her only start as a rookie. Pushing Montgomery for playing time will be freshman Kaitie Jo Swanson. Both keepers have the talent to step in and perform well.

A strong defense will help ease the transition to a new goalkeeper. Eden Hingwing returns after redshirting a season to train with the U-20 Canadian National Team. Her presence as a center back will be welcomed back to the fold. Transfer Kat Wright should step in and contribute immediately after redshirting as a freshman at Arizona last year.

Junior Tara Bailey started every match in the back last year, playing more minutes than any player on the team and her experience will be an asset for the Jays. Junior Claire Zach had an outstanding spring for the Bluejays and could find herself in a starting role as a center back after making two starts last year. Kelly Connolly had a solid rookie campaign last year and figures to compete for a starting role on the outside.

Erin Gunther

On a deep roster, four other Bluejays will vie for time in the back, including sophomore Tessa McKeone. Freshmen Kelsey Crocker, Katie Murphy and Lauren Wong all hope to impress enough to see regular playing time.

Not surprisingly, the Bluejay midfield is also blessed with depth and experience. Seniors Jordan Bruch and Mary Zapapas combine with junior Emily Orbell to lead the way in the middle. Bruch is the most experienced player on the team, having appeared in 58 matches in her first three seasons. Zapapas had a breakout campaign in 2008, her second as a Bluejay. The midfielder was named all-Missouri Valley Conference honorable mention, led the team with five assists and finished second on the team with 13 points. Orbell, the 2007 MVC Freshman of the Year, earned second-team all-MVC honors last year when she had four points and four assists for 12 points.

A pair of returning sophomore starters solidify the midfield following impressive freshman seasons. Beth Fyles used her quickness to jump out to a fast start in her rookie campaign, but was limited to nine starts in 11 matches played due to injury. Erin Gunther will show her versatility after playing a majority of her first season in the back, as she moves to the middle and hopes to excel in an attacking role.

Junior Grace Kwon and sophomores Carey Dahlquist and Rachelle Holt all return after limited playing time, but hope to see their roles increase in the middle this fall.

Newcomers rounding out the congested midfield include Sarah Kendall, Alexa Lind and Laura Nasser. The freshmen are expected to not only battle for reserve roles, but could crack the starting line-up this year.

Bluejay attackers have the unenviable task of replacing the most explosive offensive player in school history. Erickson knows he doesn't have one player to replace Gans' output, but is confident his offense has enough firepower and balance to continue to find the back of the net with regularity.

Senior Kyla Hoskins proved to be Creighton's best player in spring practice and the Jays hope she can continue to use her speed to put pressure on the opposition.

Sophomores Macy Mauer and Annemarie Hengel will also be a part of the attack. Mauer started 17 of 19 matches as a rookie last year and joined Gunther on the MVC All-Freshman Team. Hengel saw her role increase deeper into the season last year and will again aim to create scoring chances.

Emily Orbell

A pair of newcomers are expected to play a prominent role in the attack. Transfer Andrea Zuniga and freshman Brittney Neumann are both outstanding and highly-regarded offensive players. Zuniga, a transfer from Nebraska will have three years of eligibility left after playing one season for the Huskers and redshirting last year to train and play with the U-20 Chilean National Team. The Omaha native led Burke in scoring every year of her prep career. Neumann is another local product, scoring 25 goals at nearby Millard North during her senior season.

With an expanded roster, Erickson expects to utilize different formations throughout the year, which will in turn determine playing time for many of his field players. Getting the best scorers in the right spot to optimize goal-scoring will be a challenge early in the season, but with a more mobile and improved defense, the Bluejays fully expect to once again be in the hunt for a Missouri Valley Conference crown and an appearance in the NCAA postseason.

For the second straight season and the fourth time in five years, Creighton's Morrison Stadium will be the site for the State Farm MVC Women's Soccer Championship. The Bluejays are 15-4-2 at home over the past two seasons and will aim to maintain that home dominance when they host the event with a bid into the NCAA Tournament on the line in November.

History of Billy Bluejay

"Billy Bluejay" is the official mascot of the Creighton University athletics department. The Bluejays were originally depicted by a "birdwatcher's bluejay," but that was changed in 1941 when Joseph P. Murphy, a Creighton alumnus, designed the current version of Billy, one with a more human stance and expression.

Prior to 1924, Creighton teams were referred to as the "Hilltoppers," but that name lost favor because at least six other teams in the country also used the same nickname. The Omaha Bee assisted the University's Athletic Board and Alumni Association in finding a new nickname by asking readers to submit possibilities. After reviewing 200 entries, the Athletic Board decided upon "Bluejays" because of the school's colors, blue and white.

Today, Creighton remains the only NCAA Division I athletics program known officially as the Bluejays.

Think of Omaha as center court: a dynamic and unique destination in the center of the country, full of action. Omaha has this special spirit that fills the city like an arena full of fans whose team just won with a buzzer beater. Excitement for what it has built, what it has accomplished and what's still ahead.

It's a spirit born on the banks of the Missouri River, a city founded in 1854 by land speculators convinced they were at the heart of something new. Soon after, the transcontinental railroad was built and Omaha emerged as a hotbed of activity and new technologies.

There is a great story about Omaha's growth in the early days that really speaks to the pioneering spirit of the city. As Omaha prepared to lay underground cables for telephones, workers were trying to figure out the easiest way to string the lines. Being an inventive bunch, Omahans solved the problem by getting ferrets to help carry the lines through the tunnels. Sounds extraordinary, but it worked. Today, Omaha is at the center of the telecommunications industry. Call for a hotel reservation from anywhere in the U.S. and you are probably calling Omaha. The city is home to the Hyatt, Marriott, Radisson, and Omni reservation centers. That infrastructure is also key to the nation's defense. Offutt Air Force Base, home to STRATCOM, is based here.

A view of the Omaha skyline at night. More than 425,000 people live in Omaha, and about 1.2 million people live within a 50-mile radius.

STRATCOM is the nation's eyes, ears and muscle when it comes to protecting the country.

That spirit is also seen in Omaha's modern day pioneers. Warren Buffett, one of the wealthiest men in the world, is a plainspoken Omaha-born and bred financial pioneer. When Warren speaks, people listen, learn and make money. In fact, as you look at the four Fortune 500 companies that call Omaha home, they are all innovators: Berkshire Hathaway, Union Pacific, ConAgra Foods, and Peter Kiewit Sons'.

It's not just the business community that embodies that spirit; you can also listen to it, touch it, taste it and feel it when you visit Omaha.

Home to the world's largest indoor rainforest, next to the world's largest indoor desert under the world's largest geodesic dome, Omaha's Henry Doorly Zoo is a can't miss when you're in town. Experience what it's like to go underground and see rare creatures that only come out at night, or surround yourself with sharks as you walk through an 850,000-gallon underwater tunnel. Talk about innovative: the zoo just spent $6 million on a research facility allowing it to respond to national and international conservation needs.

Omaha's three Smithsonian-affiliated museums offer a diverse cross section of art. Gaze at a 15,000-pound glass sculpture suspended in the air at the Joslyn Art Museum, hop on board Harry S. Truman's press train at the Durham Heritage Museum, or "pilot" a fighter jet at the Strategic Air and Space Museum, home to some of the most prized and rarely displayed military aircraft. Discover how nature can seem brand new as you walk through over 100 acres of lush and rare fragrance at Lauritzen Gardens: Omaha's Botanical Center.

Omaha is a mecca to music pioneers, as the city is known by many as the nation's premier hot spot for the indie rock scene. It's home to famed Saddle Creek Records and nationally renowned bands such as Bright Eyes, The Faint and Cursive.

Omaha is a city that never forgets its past. The Old Market is the true merging of old and new. The historic warehouse district was preserved and transformed into the city's art, shopping and dining district. Unique shops and restaurants lining cobblestone streets, it's a place to remember where you've been and where you're going.

The new Bob Kerrey Pedestrian Bridge S-curves its way across the Missouri River. This one-of-a-kind structure is the longest pedestrian bridge to link two states.

For the 60th consecutive year, Omaha and Creighton hosted the College World Series at Rosenblatt Stadium in 2009.

President Rev. John P. Schlegel, S.J.

Under the leadership of Creighton President the Rev. John P. Schlegel, S.J., Creighton University is nationally recognized as a premier university in the Midwest and is experiencing a new era of growth.

Fr. Schlegel became Creighton University's 23rd president in August 2000, following nine years as president of the University of San Francisco.

Through his vision, the University is engaged in its most ambitious campus expansion effort in its more than 130-year history. Creighton is becoming a national model showcasing a dynamic faith-based living and learning community in a 21st century urban environment.

In 2005, Fr. Schlegel announced WILLING TO LEAD: THE CAMPAIGN FOR CREIGHTON UNIVERSITY – an ambitious $350 million campaign designed to secure Creighton's place as one of the finest Jesuit, Catholic universities in the United States.

Since he arrived, the University has added more than 40 acres to its campus and invested more than $285 million in new construction, renovation and campus improvement. Already recognized as a leader in science education, the University has renovated many of its science-related facilities and is home to the new state-of-the-art Hixson-Lied Science Building. This integrated science center and the Creighton University Medical Center provide a national model for interdisciplinary health sciences education and research.

Creighton's expanding campus offers a welcoming environment for all students. In the fall of 2006, Creighton opened Opus Hall, one of two new resident town homes offering apartment living for juniors and seniors. Creighton opened the Mike and Josie Harper Center for Student Life and Learning in the fall of 2008. This unique facility serves as a dramatic "front door" to the University, consolidating traditional student support services into one student-friendly location. Add to that the new Michael G. Morrison, S.J., Stadium, which is among the premier college campus soccer facilities in the nation.

Prior to his service at the University of San Francisco, Fr. Schlegel was Creighton University's assistant academic vice president (1978-82), academic dean of Rockhurst College (1982-84), dean of arts and sciences at Marquette University (1984-88), and executive and academic vice president at John Carroll University (1988-91).

Fr. Schlegel, a native of Dubuque, Iowa, entered the Society of Jesus in 1963 and was ordained in 1973. He holds B.A. and M.A. degrees from Saint Louis University; a B.D. honors degree in theology from the University of London; and a doctorate in international relations from Oxford University.

He is a member of numerous international, national and local boards of directors, executive committees and associations. Fr. Schlegel is a past member of the board of trustees of Chicago's Loyola University, Xavier University, Loyola University New Orleans, Saint Louis University and Loyola College in Maryland. Fr. Schlegel also is a director of the American International School of Hong Kong.

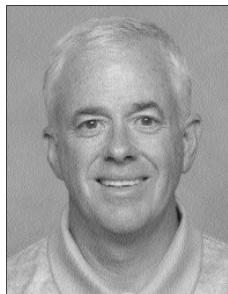

In Omaha, he serves on several boards including Creighton University Medical Center, Creighton Preparatory School, Duchesne Academy and Opera Omaha. He is a member of the board of directors and serves on the Executive Committees of the Greater Omaha Chamber of Commerce, Joslyn Art Museum and Mid-America Council, Boy Scouts of America. In 2007, he became a Distinguished Eagle Scout.

He has held numerous board positions with an array of organizations including St. Mary's Medical Center Foundation, Il Cenacolo, Coro, World Affairs Council of Northern California, the Association of Catholic Colleges and Universities, the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities, where he serves on the executive committee and chairs the public policy committee, and Heythrop College at the University of London.

Fr. Schlegel also has served on accreditation site visits for the North Central Association, and was a consultant to the Organization for Economic Development and Cooperation based in Paris.

In 2004 the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society Lodge 1 in Omaha presented him with the Honored Citizen Award for his outstanding leadership of Creighton University. For his promotion of understanding and respect among all races, religions and cultures, Fr. Schlegel received the Otto Swanson Spirit of Service Award from the National Conference for Community and Justice in May 2003. He was inducted as the Omaha Press Club's 114th "Face on the Barroom Floor" in 2007. In 2008, he received the Tim Rouse Advocate for Women in Leadership Award and was honored by the Nebraska Unicameral for his commitment to diversity.

Director of Athletics Bruce Rasmussen

A 2008 inductee into the Omaha Sports Hall of Fame, Bruce Rasmussen enters his 16th year as director of athletics, and 30th overall at Creighton University.

During his tenure, Creighton has risen to prominence with its success on-and-off the field, impressive new facilities and record-breaking fundraising efforts.

For evidence, look no further than a pair of projects that will change the area athletics scene for years to come. The on-campus Wayne and Eileen Ryan Athletic Center and D.J. Sokol Arena opens this fall and will give Creighton's women's basketball and volleyball teams a top-notch facility to call home. Immediately east of the Ryan Athletic Center will be Creighton's new student recreation center that was named the Rasmussen Center in his honor and will stand as one of the centerpieces on the Creighton campus.

Those projects add to an overhaul in the school's athletic facilities over the past decade, which has also seen Creighton begin play at two of the finest facilities nationwide -- Michael G. Morrison, S.J., Stadium (soccer) and Qwest Center Omaha (men's basketball).

Since Rasmussen assumed the role of Athletics Director, Creighton has won 19 regular-season and 26 conference tournament titles, which have helped lead to 48 postseason appearances. Creighton has also been recognized with the MVC All-Academic Award in four of the past five seasons.

Creighton is the only school in the country that can claim 12 consecutive postseason appearances in both men's soccer and men's basketball.

The Bluejays are the only school in the 103-year history of the Missouri Valley Conference to make 12 straight men's basketball postseasons, while the men's soccer team is one of four schools to appear in each of the past 17 NCAA Tournaments, also a league record for that sport.

The Creighton softball team has made five NCAA Tournament appearances in the last seven years, including three straight MVC titles. The baseball team won an MVC regular-season title in 2005 and MVC Tournament title in 2007 while spending time in the national rankings in three of the past five seasons.

A member of the College World Series of Omaha, Inc., Executive Committee, Rasmussen continues to play a vital role in Creighton and the city of Omaha remaining as host of the College World Series. He was one of six individuals on the CWS Oversight Committee that helped decide the location for the new downtown TD Ameritrade Park Omaha (opening summer 2011), which will help keep the CWS in town for another 25 years.

With Creighton serving as host, the CWS has established new attendance records in six of the past seven years at Rosenblatt Stadium.

Rasmussen was one of four regional winners from the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) to take home a 2004 GeneralSports TURF Systems AD of the Year Award.

In terms of academics, Creighton's reputation as one of the nation's top academic institutions is reflected in the success the Bluejay student-athletes have had in the classroom during Rasmussen's service as athletics director. Creighton's baseball, men's basketball, women's basketball, volleyball, men's and women's cross country, women's soccer and men's and women's tennis teams all have received national awards for their academic success. Bluejay student-athletes consistently own GPAs of 3.25 or above.

Creighton's primary annual athletics fundraising events are the Bluejay Bash and the Bluejay Jamboree. Under Rasmussen's supervision, each of these events continues to raise record-breaking funds for Creighton athletics. Most notably, the 2008 Jamboree generated more than $270,000 through its gourmet dinner, raffle and auction.

Rasmussen accepted the associate athletics director position in 1992 after a 12-year run as the winningest coach in Creighton women's basketball history (196-147), culminating in the program's historic 1991-92 season.

The 1992 Western Athletic Conference Coach of the Year, Rasmussen led the 1991-92 Bluejay women to a program-record 28 wins (28-4), the WAC regular-season and tournament championships and a first-round NCAA Tournament victory in the program's first-ever trip to the "Big Dance." With that 28-4 record in 1991-92, Rasmussen completed his college coaching career with a 196-147 record, good for a .571 winning percentage.

After serving as associate athletics director for two years, 1992-94, Rasmussen was named athletics director on Aug. 1, 1994.

Academic and Athletic Success

- Creighton's student-athletes combined for a 3.30 GPA last spring. The student-athletes own a 3.32 cumulative GPA, which tied the school's best mark ever.
- Creighton Athletics ranked first in the MVC and was tied for 23rd nationally with a 94 percent graduation success rate according to the most recent NCAA figures.
- Creighton has won the MVC All-Academic Award in four of the past five seasons.
- The NCAA recently introduced a new tool for the evaluation of the academic quality of participating programs. The Academic Progress Report is intended to gauge the progress student-athletes are making to degree completion and graduation. Creighton had a Valley-best seven teams post multi-year APR scores in the top 10 percent of all squads in their respective sports: men's golf, men's tennis, women's basketball, women's cross country, women's golf, women's soccer and women's volleyball. The rest of the MVC membership had a combined 11 teams honored.
- Eighty-seven of Creighton's 226 student-athletes (38.5 percent) earned a 3.50 GPA or better during the Spring 2009 semester. Nine of these athletes were women's soccer players.
- Creighton had 120 student-athletes make the Dean's List at least once last year, including 68 student-athletes who earned the honor both semesters.
- Fourteen student-athletes (6.2 percent) earned perfect 4.00 GPA's during the Spring 2009 semester.
- One-hundred seventy student-athletes (75.2 percent) earned a 3.00 GPA or better in the Spring 2009 semester, including 20 women's soccer players.
- Ten teams (women's basketball, crew, men's cross country, women's cross country, women's golf, women's soccer, softball, men's tennis, women's tennis and volleyball) had team GPA's of 3.20 or better and every team owns a cumulative GPA of 2.79 or better.
- Creighton owns 30 CoSIDA Academic All-American honors. Last year softball pitcher Tara Oltman and baseball first baseman Darin Ruf were named Academic All-Americans.

Academic Learning Center

Student-athletes' demand for academic support has increased dramatically as they attempt to balance a full academic load with athletics. The recruitment, retention and graduation of student-athletes is vital to the success of collegiate athletics.

Creighton University's Student-Athlete Support Center was a major renovation of existing space in the Creighton Gymnasium, with the goal of enlarging and improving locker rooms and support facilities. In addition to new locker rooms, the 13,000-square-foot Support Center includes The Parker Family Foundation Academic Learning Center, staff offices, an expanded athletic medicine area and additional athletics storage space.

The Parker Family Foundation Academic Learning Center includes staff offices, 20 computer stations, study tables, sound-proof carrels for tutoring and partitions to divide the area into sections for quiet, individual or group study.

The Blue and White Fund was established by former Creighton student-athletes, alumni and friends to support this $1.7 million renovation project.

Kicks for a Cure

April 16 & 17, 2010

Morrison Stadium

Omaha, Neb.

Funds are raised through sponsorships, in-kind donations, and sale of banquet and game tickets to the general public. Grants have been awarded by Kicks for a Cure, A Benefit for Liz's Legacy, to fund cancer research initiatives at UNMC Eppley Cancer Center and Creighton University Hereditary Cancer Center. The research targets cancers affecting women, but is more global in its impact.

The primary purpose of the weekend is to raise awareness for women's cancer education and prevention. It is also an opportunity to generate a broader interest in women's collegiate athletics, and to showcase Omaha as a compassionate, vibrant community where health care, education, commerce and recreation intertwine.

The Missouri Valley Conference enters its 103rd year at the start of the 2009-10 academic year, and the nation's second-oldest NCAA Division I conference continues to be a leader in college athletics.

The Valley continues to lead by example as one of college athletics' most progressive conferences. The Valley emphasizes the importance of the student-athlete and is aggressive in its approach to provide opportunities for its member institutions.

One of the biggest achievements for The Valley is the increasing notoriety of the State Farm Men's Basketball Championship, which continually ranks as one of the nation's top attended championship basketball tournaments. Notably, in March of 2010, the conference will celebrate the tournament's 20th anniversary in St. Louis. Affectionately known as "Arch Madness," the tournament is the second-longest tenured neutral site tournament (trailing only the Big East in New York).

Even though the MVC's spectacular streak of nine seasons with two or more conference teams in the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament ended in 2008, the league continues to be one of the nation's elite. Last year, a league-record seven MVC teams were in the post-season. The Valley has had four or more post-season bids in the same season 15 times, including each of the last six years. Notably, The Valley has had 22 post-season teams in men's basketball over the past four seasons, with three NCAA Sweet 16 trips (Bradley, Southern Illinois and Wichita State). UNI represented the league in the NCAA Tournament, while Bradley - for the second-straight year - reached the championship finals of a post-season tournament, representing the league in the CollegiateInsider.com Tournament.

While the success of men's basketball has received the greatest attention, the overall performance of league teams in virtually every sport continues to raise the national profile of the conference.

Based in St. Louis since 1985, the league is assertive in its approach to hosting NCAA basketball championship events, operating a revenue-producing in-house television network, bidding out the right to host sport championships and landing title sponsorships for those events.

The success of The Valley television package is one of the great stories in the league, in terms of the clearance of the men's basketball tournament title game on national broadcast television, the excellent national and regional coverage for basketball and other sports, and the effective sale of advertising content to more than 25 companies. The MVC Television Network has blossomed into a revenue-generating vehicle and The Valley's most visible marketing tool.

During the tenure of Doug Elgin, The Valley's ninth and longest-tenured commissioner, The Valley has been aggressive in hosting NCAA events in St. Louis. This continuing involvement of the MVC in hosting NCAA events represents one of the most concentrated stretches of host opportunities for any university or conference in the 70-plus year history of the national championship tournament. In 2010, the Missouri Valley will host an NCAA men's basketball regional, while The Valley has hosted three Final Fours this decade (women's events in 2001 and 2009, and the Men's Final Four in 2005). The league had previously hosted men's regionals in 1998, 1999, 2004 and 2007; and a men's first/second round event in 2002. Additionally, Creighton and The Valley co-hosted a men's basketball first and second round in 2008 in Omaha.

And while the MVC has been progressive in pursuing NCAA events, it has continued to be a national leader in the athletic arena. And starting in 1995-96, the conference broke new ground by allowing league members to bid for hosting rights for select team sport championships. By establishing uniform host criteria, the conference is able to assist a host institution in a season-long promotional campaign and provide an avenue where hosts can acquire sponsors and achieve a profit for the event.

The seeds for this vision were planted by eight administrators representing five institutions, who met at the Midland Hotel in Kansas City, Mo., on Jan. 12, 1907. The five schools which formed the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association were Washington University of St. Louis, and the state universities of Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska. Two months after the initial meeting, two more schools -- Drake University and Iowa State College -- were admitted.

In the fall of 1907, basketball became the first competitive sport. Today, the Missouri Valley Conference sponsors the following sports: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country and track & field (indoor and outdoor), men's and women's golf, men's and women's soccer, softball, women's swimming and diving, men's and women's tennis, and women's volleyball.

While The Valley no longer sponsors football (it did from 1907-85), six league members compete in football at the FCS (Football Championship Subdivision) level as Illinois State, Indiana State, Missouri State, Northern Iowa and Southern Illinois play in the nine-member Missouri Valley Football Conference (with North Dakota State, South Dakota State, Western Illinois and Youngstown State). That league competed as the Gateway Conference from 1985-2007. Drake plays non-scholarship football in the Pioneer Football League.

Athletic accomplishments on the men's athletics side include 10 national basketball championships, 16 trips to the NCAA Final Four, a 1989 national baseball championship and 19 College World Series qualifiers. In 2001, Missouri State added to The Valley women's accomplishments, as the Lady Bears advanced to the Women's Basketball Final Four in St. Louis. Creighton (2004) and Missouri State (2005) have claimed national championships (WNIT) in women's basketball, while MSU also has a 1992 NCAA Women's Final Four appearance, and Creighton (2003), Drake (1999) and Illinois State (2009) have made semifinal trips to the WNIT postseason tournament.

Indeed, the inclusion of women's programs under The Valley banner has provided a boost. The Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference -- which began in 1982 -- merged with the Missouri Valley Conference and was unveiled as part of the new conference on July 1, 1992.

And while the inclusion of women's sports under a comprehensive athletic umbrella is a recent development in the league's storied history, over the years, Valley student-athletes and coaches have become household names during the league's illustrious history, both during their collegiate careers and, for some, professional careers.

In fact, The Valley began honoring that tradition in the summer of 1997, when the conference began its athletics Hall of Fame. Hersey Hawkins of Bradley, Larry Bird of Indiana State, Wes Unseld of Louisville, Coach Henry Iba of Oklahoma State, Dave Stallworth of Wichita State, Ed Macauley of Saint Louis, and Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati were members of the initial induction class. Currently, nearly 40 former players, coaches and alumni dot the league's Hall of Fame.

Men's basketball, perhaps, has the league's most storied tradition with the likes of Hall of Famers Bird and Robertson, but The Valley has also produced national-caliber student-athletes in its other sponsored sports. In 2001, Missouri State's Jackie Stiles became the first Valley woman to earn the Honda-Broderick Cup, given to the nation's top female collegiate student-athlete. In the sport of track and field, Indiana State's Holli Hyche captured seven national sprint titles in the early 1990s, Southern Illinois' Darrin Plab won back-to-back NCAA outdoor high jump titles in 1991 and 1992, SIU's Brittany Riley became the World record holder in the weight throw in 2007. And Kylie Hutson of Indiana State swept both the indoor and outdoor pole vault titles in 2009.

In the fall of 1997, Creighton's Johnny Torres was named the collegiate male soccer player of the year for a second-straight year, while SMU's Luchi Gonzalez (2001) and Tulsa's Ryan Pore (2004) have also earned a National Player of the Year honor in men's soccer. Meanwhile league member Wichita State has produced three national collegiate players of the year in baseball, including Joe Carter (1981), Phil Stephenson (1982) and Darren Dreifort (1993).

From its early beginning to its current standing on the map of college athletics, The Valley will always continue to be proactive in its approach.

League members include Bradley, Creighton, Drake, Evansville, Illinois State, Indiana State, Missouri State, Northern Iowa, Southern Illinois, and Wichita State. Eastern Illinois is an affiliate member in men's soccer, while Central Arkansas and Southern Illinois-Edwardsville begin affiliate men's soccer membership in 2010.

Bruce Erickson

Head Coach

11th Season at Creighton

104-82-19

Creighton's all-time winningest women's soccer coach, Bruce Erickson begins his 11th campaign leading the program. Erickson has led the Bluejays to four NCAA Tournament appearances in the last seven seasons as his squads have played in five of the last seven Missouri Valley Conference Tournament championship matches and won four of the last seven MVC postseason titles. The 2002 Missouri Valley Conference Coach of the Year, he is the most tenured leader in Bluejay women's soccer program history, and his 104 victories make him the most successful coach in the program's annals.

Erickson has established the Creighton women's soccer program as one of the top teams in the conference since his arrival prior to the 1999 season. The Bluejays' performance on the field has improved from a seven-win season in 1999 to four straight MVC tournament championship matches between 2002 and 2005 and four NCAA appearances in a six year span (2002, 2004, 2005, 2007). While on-field performance has improved in posting eight straight winning seasons, the Bluejays' facilities have also received significant upgrades. In 2003, the Bluejays opened the $13 million Morrison Stadium, a state-of-the-art, on-campus facility which is considered to be one of the best collegiate soccer venues in the country. The Jays were unbeaten (5-0-1) at home in 2003 and are 39-12-7 (.733) in six years at the venue. Creighton has led the Valley in attendance the past six seasons and will serve as host to the State Farm MVC Tournament for the fourth time in five seasons this November.

After missing the NCAA postseason in 2006, the 2007 team caught fire late in the season, capturing its fourth MVC Tournament title by prevailing over Illinois State in penalty kicks after the championship match ended in a tie. The Jays' season ended with a loss to eventual NCAA Champion USC in the NCAA Tournament, despite being tied with the Trojans at halftime. CU posted an impressive home mark of 7-2-1 in 2007 and Emily Orbell was named the MVC Freshman of the Year. The Jays followed with a solid 12-6-1 campaign in 2008, which included another sparkling home record (8-2-1). The 2008 season was highlighted by Erickson's 100th win at Creighton – a 2-0 triumph over Drake on Sept. 28. Marcy Gans also became the Creighton career scoring leader, finishing with 38 goals and 91 points after the 2008 season.

In 2005, the Bluejays owned a high-powered attack which led the league in offense, matching the highest goal total in the Erickson era with 44 scores. Sophomore Kristine Willrett tied a school record and led the MVC with 12 assists. Creighton was dominant at home, compiling an 8-1-1 record, while winning a second straight MVC postseason title, as tournament host. The 2004 Bluejays were guided by youth, managing to capture the MVC postseason title for the second time in school history after finishing second in the regular-season with a 3-1-3 league record.

Creighton's 2003 season was marked by injuries, but Erickson still guided his team to an 11-6-4 record and a school-record 0.81 goals against average. The Bluejays also appeared in the MVC tournament championship match for the second consecutive season, falling in penalty kicks.

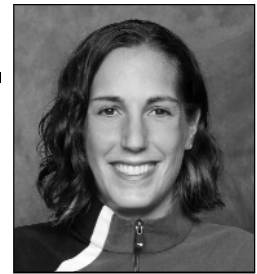

Erickson's 2002 squad won the MVC regular-season title, going unbeaten (6-0-1) in conference play. The Jays then captured the MVC tournament title with a thrilling 1-0 overtime win against Illinois State, advancing to the first NCAA tournament in program history. The 2002 team allowed only three goals in seven MVC matches for a 0.42 goals against average.

Erickson's teams have ranged from offensively gifted to defensively stifling. The Bluejays dished 49 assists in 2001 and established a school record of 50 helpers in 2000. The Jays capitalized on their assists during that two-year run. Their 88 goals over the 2000 and 2001 seasons have been topped only by the 1989-90 teams (92 goals) for the most goals in a two-year span.

In 2002 under Erickson's guidance, Jaimie Thompson became the first goalkeeper in league history to win the MVC Player of the Year award. Regina Moench captured 2001 MVC Freshman of the Year honors and in 2004 Franny Hylok became just the second player in school history to earn all-MVC honors in each of her four seasons at CU.

"Bruce is a tremendous women's soccer coach," Creighton Athletics Director Bruce Rasmussen said. "His experience is matched by few coaches in the country. His administrative background, coupled with his knowledge of the game, make Bruce one of the top women's soccer coaches in the country."

The Jays' success under Erickson extends beyond the playing field, as he has coached 22 MVC first-team scholar-athletes and the Bluejays have won the NSCAA College Team Academic Award each of the past nine seasons. In 2003, Krystle Campa earned CoSIDA Academic All-America honors. On the field, 14 Bluejays have earned first-team all-MVC honors during his tenure.

Ileana Moschos
Assistant Coach
Third Season
Wofford, 1998

Another example of Erickson's eye for talent has been reflected in the hiring of quality assistant coaches. Three of his former Bluejay assistants are currently collegiate head coaches. Heather Cairns (Utah State) and Erika True (Indiana State) both served as assistant coaches under Erickson, while Becky Heiberger (St. Cloud State) was both a player and an assistant for Erickson.

Erickson came to Creighton from Viterbo University in La Crosse, Wis., where he served as head men's soccer coach from 1993-98 and director of athletics from 1995-98. He helped instill a winning soccer tradition at the NAIA school, as the V-Hawks were consistently nationally-ranked during his tenure. The Brooklyn Park, Minn., native also was responsible for starting and coaching the inaugural Viterbo women's soccer team in 1995.

While at the helm of the V-Hawk men's squad, Erickson compiled an overall record of 69-46-6 (.595), which included five winning campaigns. He led Viterbo to three Midwest Classic Conference championships and one NAIA district title. He also earned league "Coach of the Year" four times and was named both league and NAIA District "Coach of the Year" in 1993.

Erickson has served as a high school girls' staff coach for the Olympic Development Programs in both Wisconsin and Minnesota and holds a NSCAA advanced national diploma as well as a NSCAA goalkeeping diploma.

Before his coaching career at Viterbo, Erickson was a four-year starting goalkeeper for the V-Hawks from 1986 to 1990. He was an all-conference goalkeeper and earned NLCAA All-America honors in 1986. Erickson still holds the all-time goals against average record at the school, with a 0.87 GAA during his collegiate career.

Erickson received a bachelor of science degree in industrial psychology from Viterbo in December 1990. He has three children, Emma (13), Olivia (10) and Noah (8).

Ileana Moschos is back for her third season as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Creighton. Moschos, who was a world-class goalkeeper for the Greek Women's National Team from 2002-04, brings a decade of coaching experience to head coach Bruce Erickson's staff.

"We are excited to have Ileana as a part of our program," said Erickson. "She adds a wealth of knowledge and experience to our program and has been a fantastic fit with our players and staff. We look forward to the continued use of her many talents, including her recruiting and player development successes."

Bluejay goalkeepers have posted 14 shutouts over the past two seasons, while Kristen Casey was named an all-conference goalkeeper and earned MVC All-Tournament Team recognition in 2007.

A coach at the collegiate level since 1998, Moschos has had a hand in six different programs. Along with her time at Florida State in 2006, she has served as an assistant coach at Iowa State, North Texas, Sacramento State, Wyoming and Davidson. In her time at North Texas, Moschos coached in the Olympic Development Program in Dallas from 2002-04. She remains involved with the ODP in Nebraska, coaching the '92 and '94 age groups.

At Florida State, Moschos helped get the Seminoles to the College Cup in 2006. She coached Seminoles' goalkeeper Ali Mims, as she set an FSU season record for goals against average (0.65), along with 11 shutouts. FSU's goalkeepers logged a 0.67 GAA for the season.

Moschos served as an assistant coach at Iowa State in 2005 where she was part of the Big 12 Coaching Staff of the Year after the Cyclones earned a program-best second-place finish in the Big 12 and advanced to the NCAA Tournament. The 2005 recruiting class at ISU ranked 26th in the nation and second in the Big 12. Under her tutelage, Iowa State goalkeeper Joanna Haig earned Big 12 All-Newcomer Team honors in 2004 and was named Big 12 Defensive Player of the Week twice. Haig went on to play for the U-20 US Women's National Team at the FIFA World Championships and received All-Big 12 Second-Team accolades.

A graduate of Wofford College, Moschos was a member of the Greek national team when it hosted the 2004 Athens Summer Olympics. She was named the Most Valuable Goalkeeper for the WPSL in 2002 while playing for the California Storm. In 2001, she was a Northern California Regional Pool member and selected to the Bay Area CyberRays training camp, as she was invited to the first-ever WUSA combine and draft.

In her collegiate career at Wofford, Moschos was named to the All-Southern Conference Tournament Team in 1997, as she captained the team in the school's inaugural SoCon season. She was also an NSCAA All-South selection and was named the team MVP in 1996.

Moschos has received her premier, advanced national and national diplomas from the NSCAA. She has been an NSCAA licensed goalkeeping coach since 2000. In 1998, she received her undergraduate degree from Wofford in business economics. In 2000 she earned a master's degree from the University of Wyoming in physical and health education and kinesiology.

Ivonne Valentin

Volunteer Assistant Coach

Fourth Season

Creighton, 2007

Matt Howe returns to the Creighton women's soccer staff as an assistant coach this fall, where he's in his fourth season aiding in all aspects of the program including a heavy involvement with the attack. He joined the Bluejay program following four seasons at North Dakota State. In addition to his role with the Bluejays, Howe is also the Director of Coaching for the Nebraska State Soccer Association.

"Matt's experience as both a high level player and a coach at the Division I level has paid dividends for our program," said head coach Bruce Erickson. "While his experience as a player was on the attack, he is knowledgeable in all areas of the game and is looked to contribute as such."

At North Dakota State, Howe served as both a graduate assistant and full-time assistant coach after earning his masters in sports pedagogy. He aided in recruiting, academics, community relations, game analysis, travel and implementing training sessions with the Bison. Along with his NDSU duties, Howe was the Director of Coaching for the North Dakota Youth Soccer Association.

Prior to his time in Fargo, he served as the head coach of both the men's and women's soccer programs at Bacone (Okla.) College and worked with the Oklahoma Olympic Development Program in his home state. He helped transition the teams at Bacone from junior college status into an NAIA program, while also working with the Tulsa Nationals Girls Program.

The Broken Arrow, Okla., native owns the USSF National 'A' License and National Youth License. He is a 1996 graduate of Oral Roberts with a degree in health exercise science.

Former Bluejay standout defender Ivonne Valentin is back for her fourth season on the Creighton bench following an all-conference playing career with the Bluejays.

"Ivonne's transformation from player to coach has been exciting to watch," said head coach Bruce Erickson. "The energy she brings to our team, coupled with her interest in becoming the best coach she can be has allowed her to progress rapidly."

The Papillion, Neb., native remains involved with the program for the eighth straight season. As a player, Valentin helped lead the most successful four-year span in school history from 2002-05. As a rookie in 2002 she was named to the Missouri Valley Conference All-Freshman team when the Bluejays captured their first MVC regular-season and tournament championships and appeared in the NCAA Tournament for the first time. The Jays also secured MVC tournament titles and advanced to the NCAA postseason in 2004 and 2005, as she earned first-team and second-team all-MVC honors, respectively, in those seasons.

As a junior she earned second-team NSCAA All-Central Region honors and was tabbed third-team all-region as a senior captain, making her one of only two players in school history to twice earn all-region accolades. She also earned MVC All-Tournament honors in 2004 and 2005.

She has worked at Bluejay soccer camps since 2002 and has worked with the Nebraska State Soccer Association and club teams in the Omaha area since concluding her playing career. Valentin has trained and competed with the Puerto Rican National Team since graduating from CU.

Valentin earned her undergraduate degree in communication studies from Creighton in the spring of 2007.

2002 NCAA Tournament

Missouri Valley Conference Regular-Season Champions
Missouri Valley Conference Tournament Champions
12-8-2 Overall, 6-0-1 MVC

The historic 2002 team captured the first Missouri Valley Conference regular-season title in program history with an undefeated 6-0-1 Valley slate, while a thrilling overtime championship win gave the Bluejays their first MVC Tournament title, resulting in the first NCAA Tournament appearance in program history. CU was led by MVC Player of the Year, Jaimie Thompson - the first goalkeeper in league history to earn the honor. Thompson posted a 0.32 goals against average in conference play, while she was joined by Franny Hylok and Lulu Quigley on the MVC First-Team. Quigley, who led the team with seven assists, was also tabbed to the NSCAA All-Central Region Third Team. Kelan Brill, who scored the game-winning goal with 19 seconds remaining in the first overtime of the MVC Tournament title match, was named the tournament MVP. Lindsey Martinson, Regina Moench and Lauren Noll joined Brill on the all-tournament team. Bruce Erickson was named the MVC Coach of the Year, as the Bluejays led the league in goals (31), assists (30) and points (92).

2005 NCAA Tournament

Missouri Valley Conference Tournament Champions
12-6-3 Overall, 4-2-0 MVC

Morrison Stadium served as host to the MVC Tournament for the first time and the Bluejays celebrated on their home pitch as they edged Drake 1-0 in the championship match to win their second straight tournament title. CU posted its highest winning percentage under Bruce Erickson, once again leading the MVC with 44 goals scored. The Jays were dominant at home, posting an 8-1-1 mark in Omaha, including a stretch of five straight home shutouts. The Jays out-scored opponents 25-5 at Morrison Stadium. Lissa Waid and Emily Munn earned first-team all-MVC honors, Ivonne Valentin and Kristine Willrett were tabbed to the MVC second-team. Willrett tied the school record and led the Valley with 12 assists. Marcy Gans and Sam Russell earned MVC honorable mention honors, while Gans was joined by Lindsay Vaught on the all-freshman team. Gans, who led the team with eight goals and 22 points, was named the tournament MVP and was joined by Valentin, Katy Peetz and Gretta Arvesen on the MVC All-Tournament Team.

2004 NCAA Tournament

Missouri Valley Conference Tournament Champions
9-8-4 Overall, 3-1-3 MVC

The Bluejays upset Drake 3-1 in the MVC Tournament Championship match to earn the Valley's automatic NCAA Tournament bid, handing the regular-season champion Bulldogs (7-0-0 MVC) their only home loss of the year and snapping their 12-match unbeaten streak. A balanced Bluejay offense led the league with 37 goals and 106 points, as just four players had at least 11 points on the year, but 10 players recorded at least five points. Chelsea Mackenzie led the team and MVC with eight assists. Defender Ivonne Valentin was the only Bluejay to earn MVC First-Team honors, while Emily Munn and Franny Hylok earned second-team accolades. Valentin was a second-team NSCAA All-Central Region performer. Goalkeeper Valerie Zimmerer started the final 12 contests after making her collegiate debut in CU's 10th match. Zimmerer, Valentin, Tristan Moser-Bleil and Katie Brennan (MVP) were named to the MVC All-Tournament Team. After opening a new on-campus facility in 2003, Michael G. Morrison, S.J., Stadium was officially dedicated following a 4-0 win over Northern Iowa on Oct. 15.

2007 NCAA Tournament

Missouri Valley Conference Tournament Champions
11-8-2 Overall, 3-2-1 MVC

The Bluejays again won the MVC Tournament title to advance to their fourth NCAA Tournament in six years. CU tied the MVC Tournament title match with just 3:37 remaining in regulation and then topped Illinois State, 4-3, in penalty kicks to earn the championship. Sam Russell and Marcy Gans earned first-team all-MVC honors, while Gans was named tournament MVP and earned MVC All-Tournament accolades for the third straight year. MVC Freshman of the Year Emily Orbell also earned second-team all-MVC honors. Tara Bailey and Kristen Casey garnered honorable mention all-MVC notice. Gans tallied a hat trick in the MVC Tournament semifinals and scored five of her team and conference-leading 13 goals in the MVC postseason. Kyla Hoskins, Eden Hingwing and Kristen Casey joined Gans on the MVC All-Tournament Team. The Jays went 7-2-1 at home, logging six of their seven shutouts at Morrison Stadium and posting a 0.49 GAA at home.
