PREMIER AMERICA CREDIT UNION & CSUN

Dear Matadors,

Welcome to another exciting season of CSUN Men's Basketball! First and foremost, it's a privilege to be the Valley's team and to represent this amazing University. Our commitment is continuing to build a program that will compete for Big West Championships each season.

We enjoyed bringing a fast and up-tempo style to the court last season and we are poised to have an even more exciting brand of basketball in 2024-25.

Last season, we recorded our most wins in 16 seasons and produced the Matadors' first Big West tournament win in 10 seasons. We are looking to build on that success this year with a skilled group that will give maximum effort each night.

We are excited to return three seniors from last year's team, all of which were pivotal pieces to our success on the floor. Keonte Jones, a Preseason All-Big West honoree, was our top rebounder last year while Mahmoud Fofana and Jordan Brinson were big contributors and starters that will give us veteran experience.

Among our newcomers, we've added difference makers on the floor such as Division I transfers Marcus Adams, Jr., Scotty Washington, PJ Fuller II, Tyler Beard, Judson Martindale along with familiar face, Festus Ndumanya, who has chosen to complete his career where he started here at CSUN. We've also added forward Grady Lewis to help shore up the middle for us along with junior sharpshooter Jalen Barbee and talented freshmen Noah Williams and Sabien Cain.

As always, our greatest strength will be playing in front of enthusiastic and passionate Matador fans each game. We look forward to playing three non-conference games along with the always challenging Big West schedule.

Thank you for your attendance at tonight's game. We value your continued support to our program.

By Nick Bocanegra

In all respects, CSUN's first season under head coach Andy Newman was a tremendous success.

From the team's first winning season in 15 years, the team's most overall wins in 16 years, the program's first Big West tournament game victory in 10 years and unforgettable upsets of UCLA and defending Big West champion UC Santa Barbara, the Matadors' 2023-24 season was filled with many amazing highs and thrilling moments.

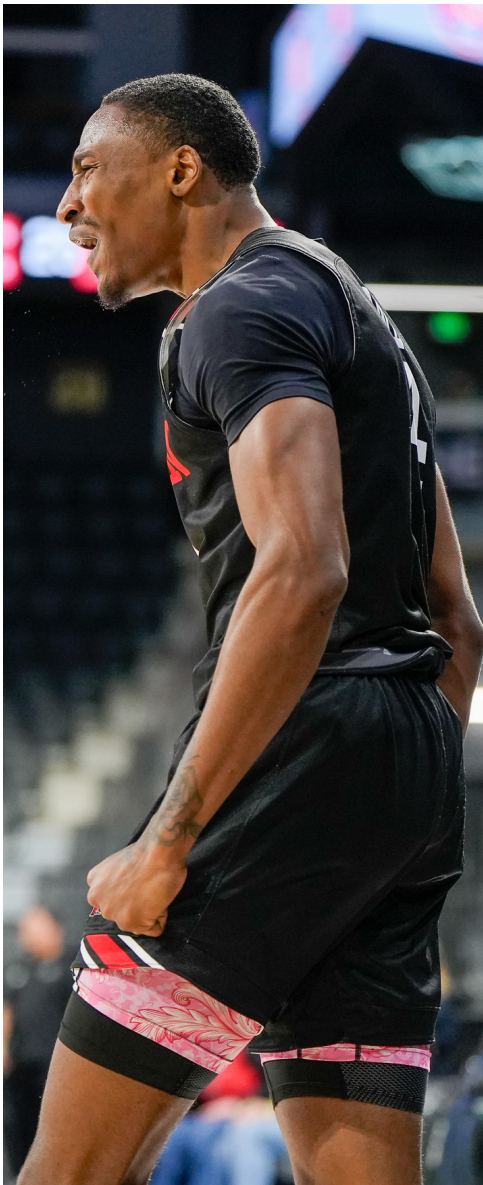

The Matadors though are not satisfied.

CSUN is back for more in 2024-25, with a retooled roster featuring an array of talented and versatile student-athletes ready to take the Matadors to the next level.

Fifteen total newcomers make up the Matadors this season including nine transfers and a handful of freshmen.

Three Matadors have returned looking to build on the successful building blocks established last season, featuring leading rebounder and explosive scorer Keonte Jones. The 6-6 forward averaged 6.9 rebounds to go with 11.4 points. Jones also added a team-high 55 steals and 50 blocks for CSUN as he garnered Preseason All-Big West honors this season.

Other top returners include forward Mahmoud Fofana, who averaged 5.6 rebounds and 5.1 points, along with Jordan Brinson, who totaled 8.2 points and 4.8 rebounds per game. Both were starters last season before suffering season-ending injuries during conference play.

With the departures of two all-conference honorees – De'Sean Allen-Eikens and Dionte Bostick – the Matadors have added several veterans in their place.

Division I transfers in Scotty Washington, Marcus Adams Jr., PJ Fuller II and Judson Martindale will bring the Matadors instant offense while forward Grady Lewis, another transfer, brings size and rebounding ability under the basket, and fifth-year guard Tyler Beard supplies veteran experience at point guard.

CSUN also welcomes back senior forward Festus Ndumanya to give the Matadors added depth in the middle. Matador fans might remember Ndymanya as a key piece of the Matadors' 2019-20 team that finished second in the Big West standings.

"I think we'll be much more balanced, scoring both at the rim and from beyond the arc," said Newman about the makeup of his team offensively. "The ability to score in both of those ways will make us more dimensional and dynamic and lot harder to guard."

The Matadors have a road heavy schedule to begin the season with seven of their first eight games played away from Premier America Credit Union Arena. CSUN travels to New York to begin the season against St. Bonaventure and Le Moyne before playing Thanksgiving week in Montana against tough foes in Utah Tech, Denver, Montana and Montana State.

The team will also have a marquee game against USC at the Galen Center in mid-December that can only help CSUN as the team prepares for the rigors of Big West play.

This Matador team is ready for the challenge.

Under the leadership of Newman, CSUN is ready for even more this season as it establishes itself further as a contender for a Big West crown.

"I'm really looking forward to year two here at CSUN and keeping this team moving forward in the right direction," said Newman.

Will Carter joined CSUN Athletics in May 2019 as the Learfield General Manager for Matador Sports Properties. Since Carter's arrival, corporate partnerships revenue have increased 63%. In March of 2022, Carter was a key contributor in securing the (Premier America Credit Union) largest campus-wide partnership in CSUN's history. This partnership includes naming rights of Premier America Credit Union Arena.

Carter comes to CSUN after spending nearly four years as the Learfield GM at CSU Bakersfield. Will also supervised the respective broadcast talent and worked closely with Learfield operations/productions staff to ensure the highest quality in programming and production.

Prior to that, he spent the better part of 11 years (2004-15) working in various capacities in professional football, including six years in af2 (Arena Football 2 League). Carter was the General Manager of the af2's Albany Panthers from 2010-15 and has also worked with the South Georgia Wildcats, Macon Knights and Tulsa Talons. He was named SIFL (Southern Indoor Football League) Executive of the Year in 2011 and 2012.

A two-sport collegiate athlete in football and baseball, Carter is a 2004 graduate of Kentucky Wesleyan College where he earned his bachelor's degree in Fitness and Sports Management while earning a minor in Business Administration.
