GAME DAY STORYLINES

• After finishing the 2017-18 season with its fifth straight 20-win season and fifth consecutive postseason appearance, Colorado State touts a new-look squad for 2018-19. The Rams return seven players from last year's roster, but welcome as many newcomers to the team.

• Colorado State finished nonconference play with a 6-5 record, marking its sixth consecutive season with a non-conference record of .500 or better.

• Among the returning players for Colorado State is sophomore guard Lore Devos, who finished nonconference play fourth in the Mountain West in points per game (15.8). Devos was the only player in the Mountain West to finish nonconference play ranked in the Mountain West's top 10 in scoring, rebounding (ninth - 6.2/game) and assists (10th - 2.8/game).

• Devos accounted for 27.3 percent of Colorado State's offense in nonconference play, a higher percentage of her team's scoring than any other player in the conference accounted for. She did it efficiently, ranking eighth in the league in field goal percentage (.503).

• Among the Rams' newcomers is junior guard Mollie Mounsey, who has been named the 2018-19 Mountain West Preseason Newcomer of the Year. Mounsey is a two-time NJCAA First-Team All-American and led the nation (Division I, II, III, NAIA or NJCAA) in threes (143) in 2016-17 at Seward Country CC.

• Among Mounsey's early highlights at CSU was her performance at BYU, where she knocked down seven three-point field goals, the fifth-most in a single game in program history.

• Mounsey led the Mountain West in three categories through nonconference play. Those included three-point field goals made per game (3.2), defensive rebounds per game (6.0) and minutes played per game (35.7).

• Sophomore guard Grace Colaivalu is also among the returners for the Rams after earning the program's first Mountain West All-Freshman selection since 2013-14 (Ellen Nystrom, Elin Gustavsson) last season.

• Colaivalu finished nonconference played ranked fourth in each of assists per game (5.1) and assist/turnover ratio (2.0). No player in the conference ranked that high in both categories though nonconference play.

• Colorado State's coaching staff has also been retooled heading to the 2018-19 season, as the Rams welcomed Rico Burkett and Kellie Lewis to the staff. With those two additions, CSU has four coaches with NCAA head coaching experience on its staff this season, the most of any women's basketball program in the nation.

RAMS NOTEBOOK

Scouting the Wyoming Cowgirls
- Wyoming currently sits at 17-5 overall and 10-3 in conference play to this point in the season. The Cowgirls, which are third in the current conference standings, have notable wins against Boise State and Fresno State this season.
- Wyoming was projected by league coaches to finish fourth of 11 teams in the Mountain West this season. The Cowgirls were 22-11 with a 13-5 conference record last season.
- Marta Gomez entered the week with a team-high 15.5 points per game. Through Monday, she ranked second nationally in three-point field goal percentage (.495) and 56th in three-point field goals made per game (2.6).
- As a team, Wyoming entered the week ranked third nationally in three-point field goal percentage (.409) and 18th in field goal percentage (.463). The Cowgirls commit the fifth-fewest turnovers per game (11.4) of any team in the NCAA, and are seventh nationally in assist/turnover ratio (1.4).

A Colorado State Win on Wednesday Would...
- Even the all-time Border War series against Wyoming to 51-51.
- Move CSU to 8-4 against Wyoming over the past six seasons.
- Mark the fourth time in the past five seasons that CSU has in a true road game played at Wyoming.

Devos Among Most Impactful Players on Offense in the Mountain West in Nonconference Play
- Sophomore guard Lore Devos finished nonconference play as the No. 4 scorer in the Mountain West and team scoring leader, averaging 15.8 points per game this season.
- No player in the conference accounted for as much of their team's offense as Devos did through the nonconference schedule, as Devos' 15.8 points per game accounted for 27.3 percent of Colorado State's scoring offense (57.8/game), the most of any Mountain West player ranked in the top 10 in the league in scoring. She provided her offense for the Rams efficiently, shooting .503 from the floor, a mark that ranked eighth in the league through nonconference play.
- Devos finished nonconference play with just under a three-percent lead in this statistical category. See below for a breakdown of each of the Mountain West's scoring leaders and how much of their team's offense is accounted for by each of them.

Percentage of Team's Scoring Offense Per Game (in order of MW scoring leaders, nonconference only)
Candice White – 17.2 points per game, 23.6 percent of Fresno State's offense (72.8/game)
Marta Gomez – 16.2 points per game, 22.0 percent of Wyoming's offense (73.8/game)
Jaisa Nunn – 16.0 points per game, 20.2 percent of New Mexico's offense (79.4/game)

Terae Briggs – 15.6 points per game, 24.4 percent of Nevada's offense (64.0/game)
Sophia Ramos – 15.5 points per game, 22.6 percent of San Diego State's offense (68.5/game)
Aisia Robertson – 14.9 points per game, 18.8 percent of New Mexico's offense (79.4/game)
Shannon Dufficy – 14.2 points per game, 22.5 percent of Utah State's offense (63.2/game)
Naje Murray – 13.6 points per game, 19.9 percent of San Diego State's offense (68.5/game)
Jayla Everett – 13.0 points per game, 16.4 percent of New Mexico's offense (79.4/game)

Rams Continue Tradition of Strong Defensive Play
- Since taking over the program prior to the 2012-13 season, head coach Ryun Williams has made strong defense a cornerstone of his vision for the program's success. Over the past five years, CSU's defense has ranked among the nation's elite.
- Over the past five seasons, Colorado State has ranked no lower than 15th in the nation in field goal percentage defense. The Rams have ranked as high as second in the nation.
- See below for a breakdown of the Rams' national field goal percentage defense ranks over the past few years of Williams' tenure.

Colorado State's NCAA Rank in Field Goal Percentage Defense Under Ryun Williams (As of Jan. 5)
2018-19 – 20th (.354)
2017-18 – Fourth (.339)
2016-17 – Sixth (.339)
2015-16 – Second (.330)
2014-15 – 15th (.354)

Is 71 a Magic Number for the Rams?
- Under seventh-year coach Ryun Williams, the Colorado State women's basketball team has scored 71 points or more in a single game 59 times. When scoring at least 71 points in Williams' tenure, Colorado State is 59-1, with no losses in regulation.
- Colorado State has scored 71 points or more three times this season, and is 3-0 in those games. When scoring at least 71 points in a game last season, Colorado State was 6-0.
- The only loss ever suffered by CSU with a 71-point-plus offensive performance under Williams was on Nov. 29, 2014, an 87-81 double-overtime defeat at Colorado.

Rams Improving Play in Frontcourt
• One trend to track for the Rams during their conference schedule has been the improvement in production from their frontcourt. Performances from Tatum Neubert and Liah Davis have highlighted an increase in offensive production from that group.
• Neubert has scored in double figures in each of the Rams' five contests from Jan. 26 through Feb. 9. Among those performances was a 12-point, 11-rebound double-double to propel the Rams past Air Force on Jan. 30.
• Davis posted career highs in points (21), rebounds (nine) and steals (three) in the first of two Border War games this season against Wyoming. Davis is one of three Rams to score 20 or more points in a game this season, along with sophomore guard Lore Devos and junior guard Mollie Mounsey.

Lore Devos Named Mountain West Player of the Week on Dec. 24
• Following her performance in Colorado State's win over Denver on Dec. 21, sophomore guard Lore Devos was named Mountain West Player of the Week. The conference announced its weekly accolade on Monday, Dec. 24.
• This marks the first weekly conference honor of Devos' collegiate career, and is the first for a CSU player during the 2018-19 season. The Kortrijk, Belgium native registered the first double-double by a Ram in 2018-19, tallying 21 points, 10 rebounds, eight assists and six steals in Friday's 84-79 victory over the Pioneers.
• Devos shot 9-for-15 (.600) en route to her 21-point performance, her fourth of the season with 20 points or more. Her 10 rebounds, eight assists and six steals were all career highs. Additionally, Devos' six steals were the second-most in a single game by any player in the Mountain West to that point in the season.
• The sophomore's outing helped Colorado State score 84 points, a single-game team high for the season. CSU's .500 field goal percentage and .423 three-point field goal percentage against the Pioneers were also single-game team highs to that point.

Mollie Mounsey Named Mountain West Preseason Newcomer of the Year
• Junior guard Mollie Mounsey of the Colorado State women's basketball team was named the 2018-19 Mountain West Preseason Newcomer of the Year on Thursday, Nov. 1.
• Among the credentials for Mounsey in her junior college career were NJCAA First-Team All-America honors in each of her freshman and sophomore seasons. In 2016-17, Mounsey made 143 three-point field goals, the most of any women's basketball player in the nation among all Division I, II, III, NAIA or NJCAA schools.
• Mounsey, who joins the Rams from Seward County Community College, is the second CSU player to receive a superlative award from the Mountain West in the preseason in the past three seasons. Former CSU great Ellen Nystrom was named MW Preseason Player of the Year prior to the Rams' 2016-17 campaign.

CSU Coaching Staff Among the Nation's Most Experienced
• Entering this season, Colorado State women's basketball has four coaches on its staff with NCAA head coaching experience. No other women's basketball program in the nation has more than three.
• Along with current CSU head coach Ryun Williams, each of Kellie Lewis (Florida Atlantic), Rico Burkett (Wayne State) and Chad Lavin (South Dakota, Wyoming) have been head coaches at an NCAA institution in their careers.
• No other school has as many coaches with NCAA head coaching experience. Baylor, Texas Tech and UNCW each have three coaches on their respective staffs with NCAA head coaching experience.

Something About Season Openers for Devos
• Sophomore guard Lore Devos paced the Rams with 23 points on 10-for-16 shooting in their win over Eastern New Mexico on Nov. 6. That season-opening performance mirrored her debut in 2017-18.
• In the Rams' 2017-18 opener, Devos poured in a team-high 25 points on exactly the same 10-for-16 shooting from the floor. That remains Devos' career high, and is the most points scored by a player in their first game during the Ryun Williams era.
• Devos' two collegiate season openers remain her two best scoring outings to this point in her career.

Newcomers' Exhibition Play a Sign of Things to Come?
• Colorado State cruised to a pair of exhibition victories prior to the 2018-19 season, and the impact of a pair of their newcomers was one reason why.
• Mountain West Preseason Newcomer of the Year and junior guard Mollie Mounsey posted a 21.0 points per game average in the Rams' two exhibitions, a team high. Mounsey shot 10-for-14 (.714) from beyond the three-point arc over those two games.
• Senior forward Tatum Neubert was one of three Rams to average double-digit points in those two exhibitions, joining Mounsey and sophomore guard Lore Devos (17.5/game) with 13.5 points per game. More notably, Neubert averaged a double-double over those two games, averaging exactly 10 rebounds per game.

Rams Make Fifth Consecutive Postseason Appearance in 2017-18
• Among the many accomplishments of the 2017-18 Colorado State women's basketball team was its fifth consecutive postseason appearance. The Rams received an at-large bid to the Postseason WNIT, and advanced to the second round for the second straight season.
• Colorado State defeated Western Illinois, 67-64, last season, and took down Saint Mary's, 80-68, in overtime in the opening round two years ago for its most recent postseason victories. Before those two WNIT wins, CSU had not won in the postseason since 2003.
• CSU will be looking to make its sixth consecutive postseason berth in 2018-19. The Rams have only had one longer streak of consecutive postseason appearances, reaching the NCAA Tournament or the WNIT in seven consecutive seasons from 1998-04.

Rams Win 20 Games for Fifth Straight Season
- Colorado State women's basketball went 21-12 in 2017-18, clinching its fifth straight season with at least 20 wins under now-seventh-year head coach Ryun Williams.
- Outside of those five seasons, Colorado State has only won 20 games or more in nine other seasons. That gives Williams 35.7 percent of the 20-plus-win seasons in program history.
- Former CSU head coaches Greg Williams, Tom Collen and Chris Denker combined for the only stretch with more consecutive seasons of 20 victories or more from 1995-2003. Ann Matlock coached the only other CSU team with 20 wins or more in 1981-82.

Williams Ranks Among CSU, Mountain West Coaching Greats
- Colorado State head coach Ryun Williams enters his seventh season at the helm of the program in 2018-19. Williams has won 136 games in his tenure to this point, making him the winningest coach in program history.
- In addition to that, Williams has won 81 conference games, by far the most in program history. Former CSU head coach Tom Collen is the closest with 56 conference wins.
- Williams also ranks as the third-winningest coach in Mountain West history in terms of win percentage in conference games (76.4 percent, 81-25). The only coaches with better records in conference play are former Utah head coach Elaine Elliott (.793, 130-34), as well as former Fresno State head coach and current TCU head coach Reagan Pebley (.778, 28-8).
- Ryun Williams' seventh season as CSU basketball coach makes him one of the two longest-tenured head coaches in program history. Greg Williams also served as head coach for seven seasons from 1990-97.

Dropping Knowledge
- Colorado State head coach Ryun Williams is one of 32 voters for the USA TODAY Sports Women's Basketball Coaches Poll. The panel, which is chosen by the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA), votes weekly throughout the regular season.
- The voters are chosen based upon the 32 conferences that receive an automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament. Each conference has one representative, and the names of the voters are published along with each week's poll.
- Williams is in his second season as a voter after completing his first year voting in the coaches' poll in 2017-18.

Newcomers in the Lineup for the Rams
- Among the storylines for Colorado State women's basketball this season will be the integration of seven newcomers into the 2018-19 lineup. The seven newcomers will mesh with the return of six letterwinners, along with one redshirt.
- Of those newcomers, two are graduate transfers and are eligible to contribute immediately. Those players are guard Roichelle Marble (Wisconsin) and forward Tatum Neubert (LSU/Oregon).
- Also among the newcomers are junior guard Mollie Mounsey (Seward County CC), a two-time NJCAA First-Team All-American, and freshman guard/forward Taylor Mole (Australia), who joins the Rams with international playing experience.
- Jamie Bonnarens (Cameron), Megan Jacobs (Utah) and Tori Williams (Utah) will redshirt per NCAA transfer rules before playing for the Rams next season.

Rams Return Mountain West All-Freshman Selection
- Among the returners for Colorado State in 2018-19 is sophomore guard Grace Colaivalu, who was named to the Mountain West All-Freshman Team last season.
- Upon receiving that distinction last season, Colaivalu became the first Ram to earn an all-conference freshman team selection since 2013-14 and the third all-time. The only other two Rams to be named to the MW All-Freshman Team were Ellen Nystrom and Elin Gustavsson, each in 2013-14.

RYUN WILLIAMS
Head Coach • Seventh Season • South Dakota (1992)

A two-time Mountain West Coach of the Year and the winningest coach in program history, Ryun Williams enters his seventh season at the helm of the Colorado State women's basketball program in 2018-19.

Under Williams' guidance, the CSU women's basketball team has enjoyed one of its most successful stretches in program history. In addition to his program-best 136 wins, Williams is one of only three coaches in program history to win 100 games or more at CSU, while his 81 conference wins are by far the most in program history. Williams' conference winning percentage of .764 (81-25 record) is the best by any CSU head coach and is third-best in Mountain West history.

With a 21-12 record in 2017-18, Colorado State qualified for the WNIT to reach the postseason for the fifth consecutive year. The Rams won in the postseason for the second straight season, defeating Western Illinois in the opening round of WNIT action on Wednesday, March 15, 2018. Williams' team, which also registered its fifth-straight campaign with 20 or more wins, was the nation's 18th-youngest when measured by percentage of underclassmen (53.3 percent).

In 2016-17, CSU won its fourth straight outright regular-season Mountain West championship, becoming the first women's or men's basketball team in conference history to win as many consecutively. The Rams reached their fourth consecutive postseason tournament in 2016-17, and defeated Saint Mary's in round one of the WNIT for the program's first postseason win since 2003. The Rams clinched a program record for consecutive home wins in 2016-17, picking up their 22nd straight victory at Moby Arena with a victory over Seattle on Dec. 18, 2016.

Williams coached the Rams to an NCAA Tournament appearance and national ranking in 2015-16, which were each firsts for the program since 2002. CSU's NCAA Tournament bid in 2015-16 also marked the program's third consecutive postseason appearance, building upon selections to the WNIT in 2013-14 as well as in 2014-15. The Rams finished 31-2 (.939) in 2015-16, marking the second-highest single-season wins total in school history, as well as the most wins in a single season by any school in Mountain West history.

Additionally, Williams' 2015-16 squad finished Mountain West play with a perfect 18-0 record, marking only the third time in league history that a team has run the table in conference play and the only time a MW school has gone undefeated since the conference transitioned to an 18-game league schedule.

The Rams won a program-record 28 straight games in 2015-16, shattering the previous school record of 19 consecutive victories. CSU entered 2016-17 with 15 straight wins at Moby Arena, then the third-longest winning stretch at home in school history, as well as with a program-best 12 straight wins in true road contests. The Rams were undefeated at home for the entirety of the 2015-16 season, a feat that had only been accomplished previously by the Rams during the 1998-99 season.

Williams earned his second MW Coach of the Year award in 2015-16, while Ellen Nystrom was named MW Player of the Year that same season. Nystrom was Williams' second MW Player of Year, joining Gritt Ryder, who earned the award in 2014-15. Nystrom was named MW Player of the Year again in 2016-17, becoming the first repeat winner of the award since 2005-06 (Kim Smith, Utah).

The Rams went 11-19 (.367) in Williams' first season, but quickly turned into a perennial contender, winning back-to-back Mountain West Championships with a 25-8 (.758) record in 2013-14 and a 23-8 (.741) mark in 2014-15. The improvement from Williams' first to second seasons ranked as the third-best turnaround in the country in 2013-14, and is the best in program history. Following the team's strides in his second season, Williams was awarded with the 2014 Russell Athletic/WBCA NCAA Division I Regional Coach of the Year award.

Tasked with repairing what had been nearly a decade of sub-par results, Williams brought eight new faces to the Rams' 2013-14 roster in his second season at the helm. That season, the Rams recorded win streaks of eight and 10 games, as well as a stretch of 17 wins in 18 games. CSU skyrocketed to the top of the 2013-14 Mountain West standings and won its first regular season championship in 12 years.

The Rams, who were picked to finish seventh in 2013-14 Mountain West preseason poll, more than doubled their win total from the previous season to produce their best record in 13 years as well as the third-most victories in program history.

The team earned a program-record 10 all-conference awards between six players, and Williams earned his first MW Coach of the Year honor. The Rams also received their first postseason invitation in 10 years with its first of two trips to the WNIT under Williams.

A native of Gillette, Wyo., Williams earned his associate's degree from Sheridan in 1990, his bachelor's degree from South Dakota in 1992 and his master's degree from South Dakota in 1997. Williams and his wife, Lyndy, have two daughters, Natalie and Emily.
