2012-13 BIG SOUTH CONFERENCE REGULAR SEASON CHAMPIONS

For Charleston Southern, the 2012-13 season began as one of the most anticipated in school history. It ended as perhaps the best in school history.

Picked to win the Big South's South Division title, the Bucs accomplished just that and embraced the role of favorite en route to claiming the program's first regular season conference championship in 26 years. CSU advanced to national postseason play for only the second time ever, earning a spot in the NIT and giving top-seeded Southern Miss all it could handle before a raucous crowd in Hattiesburg.

Led by eighth-year head coach Barclay Radebaugh and the sophomore backcourt duo of Arlon Harper and Saah Nimley, CSU provided its fans countless highlights throughout the season.

Among them was an eight-game winning streak that included a 7-0 start to Big South play, and ranked as the third longest in program history. Within that stretch, the Bucs erased a 12-point deficit to defeat two-time defending Big South champion UNC Asheville in front of a jam-packed Buc Dome. Three days later, CSU out-dueled Big South North champion High Point behind a brilliant 34-point outing from senior guard Jeremy Sexton, who hit 12-of-13 from the floor and matched a single-game program record with eight three-pointers.

CSU continued to make the Buc Dome one of the best – and most unique – home court advantages around, going 11-3 to up its mark at home over the last three seasons to 35-7. The students and local fan base were particularly energized by visits from local rivals The Citadel and College of Charleston, with both bringing standing-room only crowds. The Bucs delighted one of those sellout crowds with one of their best performances of the year, dominating The Citadel, 101-73, for their fourth straight win in the series.

The Bucs saved one of their most complete games of the campaign for an opportune time, throttling Coastal Carolina to clinch the regular season crown on Sexton and Mathiang Muo's senior day. CSU snapped a seven-game losing streak to the rival Chanticleers in the process, and enjoyed a post-game celebration with the Buc Dome crowd.

HIGHLIGHTS

- 1st NIT appearance in school history
- 1st Big South Conference regular season title in 26 years
- Saah Nimley & Arlon Harper named All-Big South
- 8-game winning streak in December/January - 3rd longest in school history
- Ranked 2nd nationally in made three-pointers per game

2014-15 BIG SOUTH CONFERENCE REGULAR SEASON CHAMPIONS

Led by Big South Coach of the Year Barclay Radebaugh, Big South Player of the Year Saah Nimley and a dynamic senior class, Charleston Southern put together one of the best seasons in school history in 2014-15.

CSU compiled the winningest regular season in the program's 50-year history, going 19-10 overall and 13-5 in Big South Conference play. The Bucs captured their second Big South regular season championship in the last three years, and advanced to the National Invitation Tournament. Radebaugh's squad again made the most of the experience, leading top-seeded Old Dominion at halftime before falling in a tightly contested game.

CSU clinched the Big South title in thrilling fashion, topping co-champion High Point, 97-93, in triple overtime before a standing room-only Buc Dome crowd. Nimley poured in 36 of his 38 points after halftime in that epic bout as he, Arlon Harper, Will Saunders, Cedrick Bowen and Paul Gombwer made their final home game more than memorable.

CSU began the campaign in a big way by knocking off Ole Miss, 66-65, in overtime. Cedrick Bowen earned the number one spot on SportsCenter's Top-10 Plays countdown with a put-back dunk at the buzzer of the extra session. The Bucs led the NCAA Tournament-bound Rebels by 12 points at half-time in delivering their second-ever win over a power conference opponent.

Radebaugh and Nimley spearheaded CSU to the top of a Big South Conference that was as strong as ever before. Seven teams were tied for first place 12 games into league play, and five clubs ended up advancing to national postseason play. CSU posted a pair of five-game winning streaks in conference action to vault its way to the title.

Nimley was the impetus for CSU's success, as the senior point guard rebounded from a serious knee injury to post one of the best seasons in school history. He finished the season ranked 5th nationally in scoring average and made three-pointers per game, averaging 21.4 PPG and a whopping 25.6 PPG in league play. Nimley scored over 20 points 17 times and went over the 30-point mark in seven of CSU's final 14 regular season games. He was the only player in the country to record four consecutive 30-point efforts.

The accolades rolled in for Nimley following the year, highlighted by an Honorable Mention Associated Press All-American selection. Nimley was named a finalist for Lou Henson National Player of the Year honors, and earned a spot on the NABC All-District 3 team for the second time in three years. The Lawrenceville, Ga. native finished his career as CSU's all-time leader in assists and made free throws. Nimley ranks second in CSU history in threes, third in scoring and is the only player in the Big South's 31-year history with over 1,800 points and 500 assists.

Nimley and Arlon Harper finished their careers as the fourth-highest scoring four-year classmate combination in Big South history. Along with Cedrick Bowen and Paul Gombwer, the Bucs' fourth-year seniors, with 70 wins, capped their time at CSU as the second winningest class in program history.
