OPENING TIP: Colorado will begin conference play with three straight and five of its first seven on the road. It will be the first time the Buffaloes have started a conference season with three straight road games since the 1931-32 Rocky Mountain Conference schedule, and just the fourth overall (1926-27; 1912-13). Colorado has played three in a row on the road in league action numerous times, the last to end the 2013-14 season (at Utah, Stanford and California).

ABOUT THE BUFFALOES: Colorado opened the conference season with a 76-60 setback at Utah on Jan. 1, snapping a three-game winning streak. The Buffaloes finished off the nonconference schedule at 10-3, the fifth time in seven seasons under head coach Tad Boyle CU has finished with at least 10 wins prior to the tip-off of the conference slate. Colorado has won 5-of-7 and 7-of-10, a span that includes wins over ranked Xavier and Texas squads.

Colorado is averaging 74.1 points per game while shooting 44 percent from the field. Defensively, Colorado has held the opposition to 67.4 points per game and 39.3 percent shooting. The Buffaloes are fourth in the Pac-12 in 3-point field goal percentage defense (.303) and offensive rebounds (11.5 orpg) while ranking fifth in scoring defense and defensive rebounds (28.3 drpg)

Depth and balance have been a key for Colorado. Three Buffaloes are averaging double-digits in scoring while five more are averaging between five and nine an outing. Four players have at least four rebounds per game while six are in double-digit assists. The Buffaloes are 7-0 this season when four or more players reach double figures in the points column.

Senior Derrick White leads Colorado in scoring at 15.0 points per game while also pacing the Buffaloes in field goal percentage (.519), assists (4.1 apg) and steals (1.1 spg).

White led Colorado in scoring for the seventh time this season with 15 points in his Pac-12 debut at Utah. He also dished out eight assists, a stat in which he's been on a tear recently. White's eight assists were his second most as a Buffalo and he's averaged 6.0 over the last four games.

White has also increased his production from downtown. He has made 48 percent from 3-point range the last six games (13-of-27) while sinking three 3-pointers in four of those outings.

White was named Pac-12 Player of the Week on Dec. 12 after averaging 22.0 points, 4.0 rebounds and 2.5 assists in games against Xavier and BYU. White shot 55.2 percent from the field overall (16-of-29) while hitting 6-of-12 from 3-point range. He was named to the Legends Classic All-Tournament team averaging 18.0 points, 5.5 assists and 5.0 rebounds, shooting 54 percent against Notre Dame and Texas.

White is sixth in assists, 10th in blocks (1.3 bpg) and assist-to-turnover ratio (1.6), 12th in scoring and free throw percentage (.797), 14th in field goal percentage and 15th in 3-point percentage (.413) on the Pac-12 charts.

Xavier Johnson is second on the team in scoring (14.0 ppg) and third in field goal percentage (.489) and rebounding (5.9 rpg). Johnson leads the Buffaloes in free throws made and attempted (54-of-78), hitting 69 percent from the line. He has made 33 of his last 63 field goal attempts (.524).

Johnson had 18 points and seven rebounds in the win over Xavier, hitting 7-of-11 from the field including 3-of-4 from 3-point range. His second 3-pointer against the Musketeers was the 100th of his career.

BOLDER — Colorado coach Tad Boyle called Sunday's 79-69 win over Arizona State a "workmanlike" effort for the Buffs.

In that regard, it was a fitting Senior Day home finale for CU star Josh Scott. The CU senior and four-year starter put forth a microcosm of his career: a workmanlike 15-point, six-rebound, two-assist effort in what will almost certainly be his final appearance in the Coors Events Center.

The win improved the Buffs' record to 21-9 overall and 10-7 in the Pac-12. More importantly, it added another victory to their NCAA Tournament resume. With one more regular season game remaining — Saturday's 7:30 p.m. affair at Utah — and the ensuing week's Pac-12 Tournament, the Buffs continue to build a tournament-worthy body of work.

It also marked just the third time in CU history that the Buffs have reached the 21-win mark in the regular season. The first came in 1996-97; the second in 2013-14.

For Scott and his three fellow seniors — Xavier Talton, Eli Stalzer and Brett Brady — it was an emotional afternoon, played out before 10,325, the second-largest Events Center crowd of the season. Scott in particular spent the last several weeks discussing how his final game at the Events Center would be a difficult moment, and the moment live up to the anticipation.

"I don't think there's one word that would describe it," Scott said. "It was kind of a culmination of four years here with a lot of memories, a lot of struggles and a lot of blood all put into one moment."

"It hit me when my name was announced for the last time. ... I'm just glad we came out with a win, not just for me, but for the other seniors as well."

It wasn't particularly easy. The Sun Devils, still smarting from an 81-46 loss at Utah earlier in the week, put forth one of their better efforts of the Pac-12 season.

But when the opening tip went up, Scott and his teammates went to work. While they had more trouble than maybe expected in shaking the Sun Devils, they were in control for much of the afternoon. Colorado led by 14 midway through the first half, endured an ASU run that gave the Sun Devils a brief lead late in the half, and took a 38-35 edge into the locker room at intermission.

After the half, it was more of the same. The two teams traded runs, with an 8-0 ASU surge tying the game at 45-45 with 14:41 left in the game. Colorado, though, answered with an 8-0 run of its own, sparked by five straight points from Josh Fortune for a 53-45 lead, and the Buffs never trailed again. The Sun Devils managed to close the gap to three two more times down the stretch, but Colorado had an answer each time.

Fortune finished with his second straight solid game, leading CU in scoring with 17 points on 6-of-8 shooting to go with four assists and two rebounds. Tre'Shaun Fletcher added 13 for Colorado, while Dominique Collier contributed nine points and five assists and George King chipped in nine points, four rebounds and a pair of assists.

"It was a great team win," Boyle said. "It wasn't a real pretty win but I think Arizona State had a lot to do with that. Their backs are against the wall a little bit."

Offensively, it was one of the Buffs' most efficient games of the year. CU hit 52 percent of its field goal tries (25 of 48), including an 11-for-21 day from 3-point range. The Buffs also committed just eight turnovers — their second straight game with single digits in that category — and finished with a 35-25 edge on the boards.

Defensively, though, the Buffs did allow ASU to also shoot nearly 50 percent (24 of 50). Tra Holder led the Sun Devils with 16 points and Gerry Blakes added 15 — all coming in the first half.

Now, the Buffs must figure out how to take their show on the road. Their only home loss in a 16-1 season at the Events Center was a 56-54 loss to Utah on a buzzer-beater early in the Pac-12 season.

They'll have a chance to even the score on Saturday.

He averaged 19 points over three-game span which included the Legends Classic and Wofford, putting in a pair of 20-point performances. Johnson matched a career high with a team season-best 27 points against Wofford. He also had a season-high 12 rebounds against the Terriers, logging his seventh career double-double. Johnson had a game-high 23 points in the Legends Classic semifinal against Notre Dame.

Johnson ranks 20th in scoring and 17th in rebounding on the Pac-12 leaderboard.

George King is third on the team in scoring at 10.8 points per game and second in rebounding at 7.0 per contest. He had 11 points on 4-of-6 from the field and grabbed five rebounds in the Pac-12 opener at Utah.

King recorded his fourth double-double of the season and fifth of his career with 14 points and 12 rebounds at BYU. It was his second straight double-double after his 16-point, 10-rebound effort vs. Xavier. His four double-doubles this season came in a seven-game span and just missed another double-double with 13 points and nine rebounds at Air Force.

King is 11th in defensive rebounds (5.4 drpg) and 14th in overall rebounds on the Pac-12 leaderboard.

Guard Josh Fortune is Colorado's fourth leading scorer at 8.4 points per game. He's second on the team with 17 3-point field goals and fourth in assists with 23. Fortune scored a season-high 15 points in the win over Fort Hays State. He also had 13 points with five rebounds and a season-best four assists in the nonconference finale against Eastern Washington.

Fortune leads the Pac-12 in free throw shooting at 89.7 percent, hitting on 35-of-39 attempts. He had a team season-best streak of 19 consecutive free throws made during the nonconference schedule. That streak included a perfect 10-of-10 game against ULM, the program's best performance without a miss since Askia Booker was 14-of-14 against DePaul on Dec. 22, 2014.

Wesley Gordon tops Colorado in rebounding at 8.2 per game. Gordon is pitching in 7.2 points per game while leading the squad in blocks (24) and ranking third in assists (28). He had a team season-best five blocks at Air Force; he had four in the first half alone which was better than his previous team season-high of three. He's tallied 21 of his blocked shots in the last 10 games and ranks second on CU's all-time list at 180.

Gordon registered his second double-double of the season and 12th of his career with 11 points and 10 rebounds against Eastern Washington. He is averaging 9.0 points over the last four games while hitting 75 percent from the field over that span (12-of-16). Gordon made all three of his field goal attempts at Utah.

On the Pac-12 charts, Gordon is third in offensive rebounding (2.9 orpg), seventh in blocks (1.8 bpg), ninth in overall rebounding and 12th in defensive boards (5.3 drpg).

Dominique Collier returned to the lineup against Air Force after missing the previous nine games with a foot injury. He had nine points against the Falcons hitting 3-of-6 from 3-point range. Collier is averaging 5.8 points over his five games played, hitting 53 percent from 3-point range. He had a team-high 12 points in the opener against Sacramento State, hitting 4-of-6 from deep.

Junior Tory Miller is averaging 5.8 points and 3.2 rebounds a game, ranking sixth on the team in both categories. He had eight points on 80 percent shooting at Utah with a season-best four field goals (4-of-5). Miller ended the nonconference season on an up note, scoring six points and grabbing five rebounds against Eastern Washington. His five rebounds are his most in last seven games that he's dressed for (missed two with an injury). He has made 18 of his last 27 from the field (.667).

Sophomore Thomas Akyazili is second on the team in assists (2.1 apg) while scoring 2.9 points per contest. He made his first 3-pointer of the year at BYU, snapping an 0-for-11 slump. He dished out four assists, recording his third game of the season with four or more. Akyazili dished out a career-best six assists in the season-opener against Sacramento State.

Colorado's freshman class, with a wealth of experience in front of them, have made a good contribution off the bench. As a group they are averaging 9.4 points and 4.4 rebounds per game. Deleon Brown has 30 points in the last four games (7.5 ppg), including a career-best 15 against Fort Hays State. He had just 33 points over his first 10. Bryce Peters matched personal-bests with three rebounds and a pair of assists at Utah. Lucas Siewert scored for the first time in five games with five points at BYU. He's averaging just under two rebounds per game.

TICKETED FOR REDSHIRT: The Buffaloes are planning to redshirt two freshmen. Dallas Walton, a 7-0 forward and Alexander Stratting a 6-7 forward. Walton earned All-Jefferson County Conference first team honors for Arvada (Colo.) West High School in 2015-16. Stratting hails from the Netherlands and played for the Canarias Basketball Academy in Spain last year.

Namon Wright, a 6-5 guard, will sit out the 2016-17 season after transferring from Missouri and will have two years of eligibility remaining. He averaged 8.2 points and 3.8 rebounds and made 79 3-pointers in 61 games with the Tigers.

ABOUT THE SUN DEVILS: Arizona State is 8-7 overall and 1-1 in the Pac-12 after splitting at the Bay Area schools to open league play. The Sun Devils started with a solid 98-93 win at Stanford on Dec. 30 before falling at California, 81-65, two days later. ASU sports the third ranked scoring offense in the Pac-12 at 82.3 points per game, but also give up a league-worst 82.4 points per contest. Five times this season, Arizona State has given up at least 90 points and twice opponents have hit the century mark. The Sun Devils average just under 10 3-pointers made per game, ranking second in the Pac-12 and 14th in the nation.

Senior guard Torian Graham paces the Sun Devils in scoring at 18.3 points per game while shooting 49 percent from the floor. He has a team-best 42 3-point field goals. Junior guard Tra Holder averages 17.1 points and 3.3 assists an outing. Junior guard Shannon Evans II ranks fourth in the Pac-12 in assists while pitching in 15.4 points and 3.5 rebounds. Senior forward Obinna Oleka is sporting the season-double at 13.3 points and 10.2 rebounds per game. Oleka has a Pac-12 best eight double-doubles.

Bobby Hurley is in his second year as the head coach at Arizona State with a record of 23-24. He is in his fourth season as a collegiate head coach with a record of 65-44.

THE SERIES: This will be the 14th meeting between Colorado and Arizona State with the Buffaloes holding a 7-6 edge. The Buffaloes have won the last two, including last year's only meeting, a 79-69 decision on Feb. 28, 2016, in Boulder. Colorado holds a 5-4 edge since joining the Pac-12 for the 2011-12 season. Arizona State has won 5-of-6 meetings in Tempe, including the last three.

Tad Boyle is 5-5 against Arizona State as a head coach. Bobby Hurley is 0-1 against Colorado as a head coach.

RIGHT AT HOME: Colorado has won 15 of its last 16 and 25 of 27 in the friendly confines of the Coors Events Center.

The Buffaloes had a streak of 14-straight home wins against non-league opponents snapped in the loss to Colorado State. When Pac-12 play begins, Colorado will bring an eight-game win streak against league opposition at home, tied for the 12th best run in team history.

In the Tad Boyle era, Colorado is a sparkling 95-16 at the Coors Events Center (.856). The Buffaloes are 408-167 (.710) all-time at the CEC, picking up win No. 400 in style as Colorado defeated No. 9/10 ranked Arizona 75-72 in front of the third-largest crowd in facility history (11,309) on Feb. 24, 2016.

GRAND ACHIEVEMENTS: Xavier Johnson became the 33rd player to score 1,000 points at Colorado on Nov. 14, but two other players are recording unique milestones of their own.

Senior Derrick White reached the 2,000-point mark for his collegiate career during the Colorado State game. White scored 1,912 points in three seasons at UCCS (2012-15). Senior Josh Fortune needs 50 points to reach 1,000 in his collegiate career. Fortune scored 481 points in two years at Providence College (2012-14) and has 469 in 47 games at Colorado.

4 OF A KIND: Colorado sports an unusual occurrence with four fifth-year seniors on its roster, each traveling a different path to get to this point.

Wesley Gordon has taken the most traditional five-year route. He took a redshirt season his true freshman year as Colorado was loaded in the front court led by Andre Roberson currently with Oklahoma City of the NBA. Gordon is among Colorado's all-time leaders in rebounds and blocked shots.

Xavier Johnson played his first three seasons (2012-15) before an Achilles injury derailed his 2015-16 season. Johnson has been a steady performer, averaging double-digits over his three years and joining the 1,000-point club on Nov. 14 against Seattle U.

Josh Fortune is the mid-career transfer. After two years at Providence College, helping the Friars to the 2014 Big East title, Fortune transferred to Colorado and sat out the 2014-15 season. He was a key contributor to Colorado's NCAA Tournament run as a junior ranking third on the team in scoring.

Derrick White will get his one-year shot in Boulder this year. White played his first three years at NCAA Division II UCCS, earning All-America honors. He practiced with the Buffaloes last year as a redshirt.

Additionally, the Buffaloes also have a fourth-year junior in George King, the reigning Pac-12 Most Improved Player of the Year.

BOYLE WINNING PERCENTAGE: Tad Boyle has hovered right around the school's all-time winning percentage lead since the early portion of the 2015-16 season (minimum two seasons), Boyle, who has won 62.5 percent of his games with Colorado (140-84), is just ahead of CU Athletic Hall of Fame coach Forrest "Frosty" Cox who was 147-89 (.623) in 13 seasons between 1936-50. Boyle is 196-150 in his 11th year as a collegiate head coach.

IN THE POLLS: Colorado received votes in the first USA Today Coaches Top 25 polls of the season and the first seven by the Associated Press.

Eight 2016-17 opponents have been or are currently ranked in one of the Top 25 polls including Oregon, UCLA, Arizona and Xavier who have each made a Top 10 appearance this year. Texas was ranked in both polls before dropping out Nov. 28. California had a one-week run at No. 25 in the AP poll. Notre Dame debuted in the Dec. 5 edition of both polls while USC earned its initial ranking on Dec. 12.

AGAINST RANKED TEAMS: Colorado has won two straight and three of its last five against ranked opponents. This is the first season with two wins over ranked teams since 2013-14 (2-6 overall).

The Buffaloes have back-to-back wins against ranked opponents for the first time since winning three straight in February-March 2013: Feb. 7 at #19/19 Oregon (48-47), Feb. 14 vs. #9/9 Arizona (71-58), March 7 vs. #19/25 Oregon (76-53).

With its win over No. 13/14 Xavier, Colorado defeated its highest ranked nonconference opponent since its 75-72 win over No. 6/7 Kansas on Dec. 7, 2013. Colorado claimed a win in its first game against a ranked opponent this season with its 68-54 win over No. 22/21 Texas on Nov. 22. It was Colorado's first win over a ranked opponent away from Boulder since a 76-53 win over No. 19 Oregon on March 7, 2013.

Colorado's 14 wins over ranked opponents in Boyle's six-plus seasons is by far the best streak in team history. In fact Boyle coached teams, with a record of 14-24, have accounted for 24 percent of wins over ranked opponents (58) since 1949-50.

FOR OPENERS: Colorado improved to 90-24 all-time in home openers and has won its last nine, making Boyle a perfect 7-0 in home openers. The Buffaloes have won 14 of their last 15. Colorado is 79-35 (.693) in all-time season openers. The Buffaloes are 5-2 under Boyle. The Buffaloes are 32-5 in overall season openers since the 1980-81 season.

Colorado's 90 points against Sacramento State were its most in a season opener since defeating Cal Poly 97-69 to begin the 2002-03 season. The 37-point margin of victory in a season-opener tied for the largest in team history, matching only a 54-17 win at Denver on Jan. 29, 1903, the second season of the program.

LONG WAIT OVER: Two Colorado seniors made their long-awaited debuts at the Coors Events Center in the season opener.

Xavier Johnson had six points, seven rebounds and a pair of assists, making his return after missing the 2015-16 season due to a torn Achilles tendon in his left leg.

Derrick White had nine points and four assists in his Colorado debut. He sat out last after transferring from UCCS. He was an NCAA Division II All-American for the Mountain Lions averaging 22.0 points, 5.9 rebounds, 3.9 assists and 1.6 steals over his three-year UCCS career.

HIGHLY RANKED TRIO HEADED TO BOULDER: What could be the best men's basketball signing class in the Tad Boyle era at the University of Colorado was made official on Nov. 9 as Evan Battey, Tyler Bey and D'Shawn Schwartz inked their National Letters of Intent to join the Buffaloes for the 2017-18 season.

Rivals.com rates Colorado's class the 16th best in the nation while Scout.com has the Buffaloes at 18th. Scout considers all three signees four-star recruits. Schwartz and Bey are also four-star players according to Rivals.

Highly regarded as the top player in Colorado, Schwartz is a 6-6, 210-pound wing from Colorado Springs. He averaged 19.9 points and 8.5 rebounds as a junior at Sand Creek High School, earning Class 4A All-State Second Team honors. Schwartz is a two-time All-Pikes Peak Athletic Conference First Team pick and back-to-back runner-up for that league's Player of the Year honor.

Bey, a 6-7, 205-pound small forward, is a Las Vegas native attending Middlebrooks Academy in Los Angeles. He's rated as the 27th best small forward in the nation by Scout and third in the state of California. Rivals rates him in their Top 150 as the 114th best overall player.

Battey, a 6-8, 275-pound forward, hails from the Los Angeles area and was an All-Orange County and All-Crestview League selection for Villa Park High School in 2015-16. He averaged 24 points a game for the Spartans and rated as the third best post player in the state of California. ESPN ranks him as California's ninth-best overall prospect.

BUFFS FIFTH IN PRESEASON POLL: Colorado was picked to repeat its 2015-16 Pac-12 Conference finish as the Buffaloes were selected fifth in the annual media preseason poll.

Colorado earned 199 points, 10 shy of fourth place California. The Buffaloes were 10-8 in the 2016 final league standings.

Defending champion Oregon was picked to repeat its title with 320 points and collecting 23 of 27 first place votes. Arizona received the other four first place votes and were second with 298 points followed by UCLA in third (259).

After Colorado, Washington was sixth (167) followed by USC (163), Utah (142), Oregon State (122), Stanford (119), Arizona State (78) and Washington State (30).

2017 PARADISE JAM: While the 2016-17 season is just underway, a piece to the 2017-18 season is already in place. Colorado will be one of eight teams participating in the Paradise Jam, Nov. 17-20, 2017, in St. Thomas, U.S. Virgin Islands. The Buffaloes will play three games in four days against a field that includes Drake, Drexel, Houston, Liberty, Mercer, Quinnipiac, and Wake Forest.

Help Tad Boyle Win $100K For Special Olympics Colorado

Tad Boyle needs your help in his quest to win $100,000 for Special Olympics Colorado.

Boyle is one of 48 NCAA Division I men's basketball coaches participating in the seventh annual "Infiniti Coaches' Charity Challenge." Partnering with the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC), the NCAA and ESPN, the program consists of a four-round online fan vote that helps raise money for each coaches' individual charity.

Special Olympics Colorado provides year-round training and competition in 22 sports for over 20,000 athletes living in the state of Colorado. With the support of more than 9,000 volunteers and the generosity of Colorado citizens, corporations and local businesses, Special Olympics Colorado is able to offer more than 100 events annually to individuals with intellectual disabilities age 2 and up.

Participation with other athletes, Unified partners (typically developing peers), coaches, sponsors and volunteers builds confidence and creates opportunities to participate as productive and respected members of society by increasing public awareness of the athletes' capabilities.

Fans will decide the winner over a four-round, 10-week period, by casting votes on a custom online microsite at www.ESPN.com/Infiniti. Voters can cast their votes for one coach's charity each day.

While there can only be one winner, Infiniti has guaranteed coach Boyle a donation of at least $1,000 to Special Olympics Colorado. The amount of the donation increases the longer he stays in the competition.

The first round of voting runs through Jan. 22, with half of the coaches advancing to a second round, held between Jan. 23 and Feb. 12. From Feb. 13 to Feb. 26, the 16 advancing coaches from round two will compete in a third round where only four coaches advance to the final, fourth round. From Feb. 27 to Mar. 11, fans can vote for one coach per day, with the top vote-getting coach and charity announced on Mar. 12, 2017.

BOULDER – The Colorado Buffaloes shot down Sacramento State 90-53 on Friday night at the Coors Events Center, opening the 2016-17 men's basketball season with an impressive display of long-range shooting and overall balance.

CU, which shot 38.9 percent from 3-point range last season, hit 13 of its 21 3-point attempts (61.9 percent) and finished opening night at 53.3 percent overall from the field (32-of-60).

Dominique Collier (12 points), Josh Fortune (11) and George King (10) reached double figures on a night when 10 of Tad Boyle's 12 players who suited up scored.

Collier, coming off the bench, hit four of his six 3-point attempts while 6-10 freshman Lucas Siewert made all three of his shots from beyond the arc.

HOW IT HAPPENED: The Buffs rolled to a 23-point halftime lead (42-19), shooting 48.3 percent (14-of-29) from the field while holding the Hornets to 20.6 percent (7-of-34).

CU took a 3-0 lead on Derrick White's trey – the first field goal attempt of his Buffs career – and steadily pulled away over the next 8 minutes. White, who sat out last season after transferring from UCCS, finished the half with a team-high seven points and nine for the night.

Boyle said White “was about 70 percent” after suffering a twisted ankle in a midweek practice and Collier also was recovering from a foot injury.

Boyle used 10 players in the first half and nine of them scored. He cleared his bench in the final minutes.

The Buffs opened their first double-figure lead (16-6) on a 3-pointer by Fortune with just under 12:30 to play in the opening half. Fortune's trey was one of seven in the first half by CU, as the Buffs shot 63.6 percent (7-of-11) from behind the arc.

From that point, CU increased its lead to 17 points on two occasions before a layup by White at the first-half buzzer produced the 23-point bulge at intermission.

The Buffs kept up the pressure in the second half, building a 73-36 advantage with 7:47 remaining and coasting to their final margin. The Hornets never led and managed just one early tie.

TURNING POINT: After a 6-6 tie, the Buffs went on an 18-1 run to go up 24-7. CU hit four of its seven first-half treys during that surge, with Collier, Fortune, Tory Miller and DeLeon Brown knocking down the four long-range shots.

CU STANDOUTS: Collier – 12 points (4-of-6 3-pointers); Fortune – 11 points (4-of-5 from the field, 2-of-2 3-pointers); Wes Gordon – 12 rebounds, 7 points; White – 9 points, 4 assists; George King – 10 points; Thomas Akyazili, 8 points, 6 assists.

KEY STATISTICS: The Buffs held the Hornets to seven first-half field goals in 34 attempts (20.6 percent) in building a 23-point halftime lead. Sac State's final shooting percentage was 29.4 percent (20-of-68) CU finished with 20 assists on 32 made field goals and committed only 10 turnovers The Buffs outrebounded the Hornets 47-40 but Boyle wasn't pleased with Sac State's 17 offensive rebounds.

WHAT IT MEANS: The best thing to be gleaned from most openers is a 'W' – and that's what the Buffs took from this one. But that was far from the lone takeaway; Boyle's seventh CU team offered plenty of opening-night upside. It demonstrated depth, athleticism and every bit of the offensive firepower that was expected. As always, though, Boyle's emphasis in the coming weeks will be on ratcheting up his defense and board work.

BOULDER — On a night when the Colorado Buffaloes' shooting deserted them, they were forced to fall back on the principles that head coach Tad Boyle holds sacred above all others: defense and rebounding.

Those came through, and they proved to be just enough to produce a 67-55 win Monday over visiting Seattle in the first round of the Legends Classic.

Colorado improved to 2-0 with the win.

HOW IT HAPPENED: One game after shooting a blistering 13-for-21 from 3-point range in a 90-53 win over Sacramento State, CU hit just 19 of its 53 field goal tries, including a 3-for-18 night from 3-point range.

But while their shots weren't falling, the Buffs still commanded a 55-35 edge on the boards and their defense provided a 36-24 scoring edge in the second half. Wesley Gordon had a 14-rebound, 11-point double-double — the 11th of his career — and Derrick White scored a game-high 15 points to go with six rebounds. Xavier Johnson added 13 points and six rebounds for the Buffs and Josh Fortune finished with 12 points and seven rebounds.

“That was the definition of winning ugly,” head coach Tad Boyle said.

Indeed, the Buffs never seemed to find their offensive groove for any length of time. But after falling behind 33-31 early in the second half, Colorado put together a 16-2 run to take a lead the Buffs would never relinquish. George King started the surge with a 3-pointer — CU's first of the night after an 0-for-9 stretch — to give CU a 47-35 lead with 12:48 to go in the game.

CU's defense also stepped up in that stretch, as the Buffs collected four blocked shots and four steals along with forcing eight straight missed shots by the Redhawks.

The Redhawks, though, wouldn't go away and slowly chipped away at the lead. A Brendan Westendorf 3-pointer and free throw with 5:40 to go cut CU's edge to 54-51, and it took a White free throw and back-to-back 3-pointers from Fortune to give the Buffs some breathing room down the stretch. Fortune's second 3-pointer gave the Buffs a 61-53 lead with just 2:50 to go and they held the Seahawks at bay in the final minutes.

While the Buffs were no doubt cold offensively, their defense produced the same effect on the Redhawks. Seattle hit just 19 of its 63 field goal attempts, including a 6-for-32 effort from 3-point range.

The scoring difference came at the free throw line. Colorado shot 41 free throws and needed every attempt, as the Buffs hit just 26 of those tries. White, a career 83 percent free throw shooter at UC-Colorado Springs, was an uncharacteristic 3-for-8 from the line.

Colorado's shooting wasn't the only sore spot for the Buffs. One game after committing just 10 turnovers against Sacramento State, the Buffs had 19 mis-cues, which the Redhawks converted into 13 points.

TURNING POINT: After the Redhawks opened the second half with a bucket to take a 33-31 lead, the Buffs went on a 16-2 run, started by a George King 3-pointer. CU never trailed again.

CU STANDOUTS: Gordon had his 11th career double-double, a 14-rebound, 11-point effort that included six offensive boards. ... White had 15 points, six rebounds, two assists, a block and a steal. ... Fortune had 12 points and seven rebounds. ... onson had 13 points and six rebounds.

KEY STATISTICS: The Buffs had a dominating 55-35 edge on the boards, which included 19 offensive rebounds that produced 16 second-chance points. ... Colorado also shot 41 free throws compared to Seattle's 14, and the Buffs hit 26 of those free throws.

WHAT IT MEANS: The Buffs improved to 2-0, but more importantly, learned that Boyle's insistence on rebounding and defense is something that will pay dividends when the shots aren't falling.

BROOKLYN, N.Y. – Down by 15 points at halftime, the Colorado Buffaloes gamely battled back but couldn't overtake Notre Dame, losing 89-83 on Monday night in the semifinals of the Legends Classic at the Barclays Center.

CU, losing for the first time this season (3-1), closed to within four points twice in the final minute. Notre Dame (4-0) held off the Buffs by making 12 consecutive free throws in the final 1:33 and finished 27-of-29 for the game.

Xavier Johnson led the Buffs with 23 points, with Derrick White adding 20. The Irish had four players in double figures, headed by Bonzie Colson's 22 and Matt Farrell's 20.

HOW IT HAPPENED: CU didn't have an early defensive answer for Notre Dame's high-powered offense, and losing Wesley Gordon to a pair of quick fouls only exacerbated the Buffs' problems.

En route to hitting half of their 12 3-point attempts and shooting 54.5 percent from the field overall in the first half, the Fighting Irish opened their first double-digit lead (24-13) on a 3-pointer by V.J. Beachem. It was part of a 9-0 run that earned Notre Dame a 28-14 advantage.

The Buffs pulled to within 10 (38-28) on a 3-point play by White and two free throws by Deleon Brown with 4:02 left before the break. But the rest of the half belonged to the Irish. A 10-2 run opened their largest lead (48-30) of the game and by intermission they were still up 50-35.

Johnson and White had 9 first-half points each for the Buffs, who made only two of their eight 3-point attempts and shot 37.1 percent overall from the floor. CU finished at 42 percent from the field and 31.8 percent from beyond the arc.

The Buffs needed an explosive second-half start and at least got a glimmer of one. Finally back on the floor after only 3 first-half minutes, Gordon scored the first points of the final, and White followed with a trey. The Buffs were back to within 10 (50-40), but they needed to match that start on the defensive end.

Easier said than done. . . . A 6-0 run pushed Notre Dame's lead to 56-40 and CU's goal of at least reducing its deficit to single digits halfway through the half was looking grim. But the Buffs weren't done.

At the 10-minute mark Steve Vasturia used a head fake at the free throw line to blow by his defender and score a layup that gave the Irish a 66-51 lead.

The Buffs answered quickly, getting back-to-back 3-pointers from freshman Bryce Peters and Johnson to creep to within 9 points (66-57) – their first single-digit deficit since 21-14.

The Irish responded with 5 quick points, the last 3 on a conventional three-point play by Beachem, who dunked on a baseline drive and was fouled. Notre Dame led 71-57 – and CU returned to catch-up mode.

This time the Buffs appeared serious about it. An 8-0 spurt – a field goal and two free throws by Johnson, a jumper from the left wing and two foul shots by Peters – pulled them to within 71-65 with 4:19 remaining.

CU finally got the deficit to 4 (81-77) on a 3-pointer from the left corner by George King with 45.5 seconds left and closed to 4 (85-81) once more on another basket by King. But the Irish stayed steady at the free throw line and closed it out.

TURNING POINT: After battling back from a 15-point halftime deficit to pull to within 4 points in the final minute the Buffs couldn't get over the hump, held off by 12 consecutive free throws by the Irish in the final 1:33.

KEY STATISTIC: The Irish shot 50 percent from beyond the arc and 54.5 percent from the field overall in the first half, digging a 15-point halftime hole for the Buffs.

WHAT IT MEANS: CU discovered what it takes to compete with and defeat a talented, tested team like Notre Dame. That would be 40 minutes – not 20 – of focus and intensity.

BROOKLYN, N.Y. -- Tad Boyle's Colorado Buffaloes bounced back from their first loss of the season in fine fashion.

One day after falling to Notre Dame, 89-83, in the Legends Classic semifinals at the Barclays Center, the Buffs rebounded Tuesday to knock off No. 22 Texas, 68-54, to improve to 4-1.

Once again, the Buffs received excellent performances from junior George King and senior Derrick White. King turned in his second-straight double-double with 12 points and 13 rebounds, coming on the heels of his 17-point, 13-rebound effort against the Irish. White followed up a 20-point, nine-assist, five-rebound effort Monday to log 16 points, five rebounds, two blocks, two assists and two steals in Tuesday's win.

The Buffs held the Longhorns to 36.8 percent shooting (21-for-57) while carving out a 43-32 rebounding edge. The Buffs also shot 44 percent from the floor (29-for-66) a had 13 turnovers.

HOW IT HAPPENED: After leading by as much as 11 in the first half and by 12 with just under eight minutes to play, Colorado withstood a late Texas surge to come away with the win.

The Buffs led by nine at the half, 33-24, and pushed the cushion to 12 on a King 3-pointer with 7:53 to go, 52-40.

Texas, though, wouldn't go away. The Longhorns employed a full-court press and slowly chipped away at the CU lead, putting together and 11-2 run to cut CU's lead to 54-51 with 5:12 still to go on a pair of Jarret Allen free throws.

Colorado never allowed Texas to completely close the gap. Buckets from Josh Fortune and Wesley Gordon bumped CU's lead back up to seven, then after a Texas basket, Colorado put together a 7-0 run to ice the game. Fortune hit two free throws and a White 3-pointer with 2:39 remaining pushed CU's lead back to double-digits, 63-53, and the Longhorns never took it back to single digits again.

The Buffs took a 33-24 lead into the locker room at intermission after King had a seven-point, 10-rebound first half.

Following a Fortune 3-pointer at the 16:30 mark of the first half that gave the Buffs a 7-4 lead, CU extended the margin to 12-7 before the Longhorns battled back to tie the game at 12-12.

CU, however, responded with an 8-0 run and never relinquished the lead. White started the drive with a baseline drive before Xavier Johnson grabbed a loose ball under the basket and scored. Thomas Akyazili then had a pair of coast-to-coast layups, giving CU a 20-12 lead and forcing Texas to call time out.

Colorado extended the margin to as much as 11, going up 31-20 on a King three-point play and again at 33-22 on a King bucket before the Longhorns closed the gap with a basket at the buzzer to make the halftime count 33-24.

TURNING POINT: Just after Texas had closed CU's lead to 54-51 with an 11-2 run, the Buffs got back-to-back buckets from Fortune and Wesley Gordon to create a 7-point cushion with 3:29 to go.

CU STANDOUTS: Derrick White had a solid all-around game on both ends of the floor, finishing with 16 points, five rebounds, two blocks, two assists and two steals. ... King's second straight double-double was the third of his career, as he finished the Legends Classic with 29 points and 26 rebounds in two games. ... Fortune had 11 points, three rebounds and an assist.

KEY STATISTICS: For the fourth time in five games this season, the Buffs had a commanding rebounding edge, 43-32.

WHAT IT MEANS: The Buffs return home after a 1-1 performance in the Legends Classic with a much better idea of how they stack up against NCAA Tournament-caliber teams and what they need to improve on.

BOULDER – A sub-par night offensively and from the free throw line, plus a stifling Colorado State defense, made Wednesday night a miserable one for the Colorado Buffaloes at the Coors Events Center.

The Rams rolled over the Buffs 72-58, handing CU its second loss of the season (5-2) and snapping a 12-game winning streak at the CEC.

CSU (6-1) made 17 of its first 18 free throw attempts, finishing 26-of-33, while CU was 17-of-31 from the foul line (54.8 percent) and only 19-of-59 (a season-low 32.2 percent) from the field.

Derrick White led the Buffs with 17 points and Wesley Gordon added 11 points, nine rebounds and three blocked shots. CSU had four players in double figures, topped by Emmanuel Omgobo's 15.

HOW IT HAPPENED: The Buffs led by as many as six points on two occasions in the first half, the last being 17-11 on a baseline drive and basket by Thomas Akayzili.

But the Rams didn't roll over. Instead, behind nine points by Omgobo, they reeled off an 11-2 run and finally overtook the Buffs 24-21 on Omgobo's only third trey of the season. CU would trail the rest of the night.

CSU's lead grew to 30-25 – its largest of the first half – on two free throws by 6-11 freshman Nico Carvacho with :58 seconds left before intermission.

Tory Miller brought the Buffs to within 30-27 with 17.9 seconds left in the half on a lay-in. But he missed a free throw that would have given him a 3-point and pulled CU to within a basket at the half.

Instead, the Buffs trailed 30-27, and they could point to 2-of-7 free throw shooting and disjointed offensive play (11-of-25 from the field, 44 percent) compounded by nine turnovers (14 for the night) as the main culprits.

Tad Boyle called his team's 14 missed free throws "a big factor tonight. It started in the first half and it bled over to the second half. That could have gotten us back into the game, maybe tied the score or got us a lead."

The Rams regained their five-point advantage (32-27) on a driving layup by Carvacho to open the second half. And Carvacho wasn't done. With the shot clock dwindling to 2 seconds, he drained a 3-pointer that preceded another trey by Omgobo and a layup by Prentiss Nixon.

Suddenly, CSU was up 40-31 with 15:57 remaining. And CU had one second-half field goal – a stuff by Xavier Johnson – and a pair of free throws. The Rams were on a 10-4 run and weren't slowing down – or at that point being slowed down.

Over the next 5:30 CU outscored the visitors 9-2 and crept to within 42-40 on a conventional 3-point play by Akayzili, who was fouled on a layup.

But by the half's halfway point, the Rams maintained a 46-40 lead and the Buffs were still struggling at the free throw line.

There was time enough for CU to pull it together, but a spark was needed. Gordon tried to provide it with a put-back (48-44) but he missed a free throw and yet another 3-point play opportunity slipped away.

The Rams increased their lead to seven points – 56-49 – on a pair of free throws by junior college transfer Che Bob with 4:35 remaining. White connected on a pair of foul shots 15 seconds later, reducing the Buffs' deficit to 56-51.

But Bob hit one of two free throws – his miss was CSU's first of the night after hitting 18 in a row – for another six-point Rams lead (57-51). The Buffs had 3:53 to make their comeback and avoid their first homecourt loss of the season.

A 3-pointer from the left wing by Wesley Paige with just over 3 minutes to play, one of two free throws by Bob and a layup by Devocio Butler pushed CSU's lead to 12 points – 63-51.

The Rams would push their lead to 16 with 1:08 remaining, and the night was all but over for the Buffs.

Portland

PORTLAND – The Colorado Buffaloes rediscovered their offensive abilities and ratcheted up their defense in the second half here Saturday night and downed Portland 76-63 at the Chiles Center.

Shaking off the ill effects of a 72-58 home loss to rival Colorado State on Wednesday night, the Buffs (6-2) rallied from a 30-28 halftime deficit by outscoring the Pilots (4-3) 48-33 in the second half.

Four CU players scored in double figures, including Xavier Johnson (19), Josh Fortune (14), Derrick White (13) and George King (12).

Portland was led by Jazz Johnson (18) and Alec Wintering (17).

After hitting only 32 percent from the field against CSU, the Buffs shot just 37 percent in the first half Saturday night and missed all seven of their treys. From 3-point range against the Rams, the Buffs hit only 16 percent.

A shooting about face was needed – and CU got it in Saturday night's second half. The Buffs shot 50 percent from the field (14-of-28) and hit five of their dozen 3-point attempts (42 percent).

HOW IT HAPPENED: CU opened by hitting just three of its first dozen shots, including 0-of-3 from long range – a continuation of the offensive problems the Buffs suffered in their home loss four nights earlier to CSU.

And their accuracy didn't get much better; they finished the first 0-of-7 from beyond the arc and hitting just 37 percent (11-of-30) from the field.

Still, they trailed only 30-28 at intermission but closing to that margin required a 7-0 run that helped bring them back from a 20-13 deficit and pulled them to within two.

That run was fueled by three free throws by Johnson and baskets by Fortune and King. A Tory Miller put-back in the final minute produced CU's two-point deficit at the break.

Jazz Johnson opened the second-half scoring with a trey, increasing the Pilots' lead to 33-28. But the Buffs were finally about to regain their shooting touches.

Two-point baskets by King and White, followed by an "XJ" trey gave CU a 34-33 lead – its first since 10-8 – and the Buffs wouldn't relinquish it.

Of their next four field goals, two were treys – Bryce Peters, Fortune – that pushed the Buffs ahead 43-37. The Pilots stayed within four to six points until a Fortune 3-pointer capped a 15-4 run and opened CU's largest lead of the night at 14 points (66-52). The Pilots got no closer than nine points the rest of the way.

Wesley Gordon grabbed 10 rebounds but was only 2-of-5 from the field. He didn't score his first points until 10:26 remained, but his conventional three-point play – he was fouled on a put-back – gave CU a 50-45 advantage at a critical second-half juncture.

TURNING POINT: Trailing 30-28 at the half, the Buffs put together a 15-4 second-half run and pulled away. CU hit five 3-pointers in the second half after going 0-for-7 from beyond the arc in the first half.

KEY STATISTICS: The Buffs shot only 43 percent from the field for the game, but hit half of their second-half field goal attempts (14-of-28) . . . They outrebounded the Pilots 38-28 and held them to 38 percent shooting in the second half (40 percent for the game).

WHAT IT MEANS: A bounce-back game was needed after the disappointing home loss to the Rams, and the Buffs managed to get it in their first true road game of the season. It should give them momentum and a shot of confidence as they head into the final two games of a crucial non-conference stretch.

PROVO, Utah – Suffering from frigid shooting and being beat on the boards, Colorado succumbed to Brigham Young 79-71 at the Marriott Center.

The Buffaloes (7-3) scored only one field goal in the final 8:52, shot only 38.7 percent from the field (24-of-62) for the night and hit just 7 of their 29 3-point attempts. Making matters worse, BYU (7-3) outrebounded Colorado 46-31.

After battling back from a 10-point second-half deficit to take a 61-58 lead on Thomas Akyazili's 3-pointer, the Buffs didn't get another field goal until Derrick White hit a trey with 44 seconds to play.

White, who sat out almost 8 minutes in the second half with four fouls, led CU with 21 points – 16 of them in the first half. Xavier Johnson added 17 points and George King recorded his fourth double-double in seven games – 14 points and 12 rebounds.

But beyond that threesome, the Buffs suffered. Josh Fortune went 0-for-8 from the field, including 0-for-6 from long range. Wesley Gordon took only three shots, making one, made one of two free throws and added five rebounds.

BYU had four players in double figures, topped by Nick Emery's 22. Yoeli Childs had a double-double – 11 points, 12 rebounds.

HOW IT HAPPENED: The Buffs led once (3-2) in the first half and trailed 40-38 at halftime. But they might have felt OK about that deficit; they trailed by as many as eight points twice before White put them on his shoulders.

The 6-5 senior scored 12 of CU's final 14 first-half points, bringing the Buffs to within 34-33 with a pair of free throws with 2:46 before the break. Exactly 2 minutes later, his second 3-pointer of the half produced a 38-38 tie, but a put-back by Eric Mika gave BYU its 40-38 halftime lead.

White led all scorers with 16 first-half points and was the only CU player in double figures. While he was 2-of-4 beyond the arc, his teammates went 2-of-12.

The Cougars, meanwhile, hit half of their 10 first-half trey attempts, with Emery canning three of those in four tries. They had the same number of field goal attempts (33) as the Buffs but made one more (16).

BYU continued its accurate long-range shooting to open the second half, getting a pair of treys from TJ Haws after a short jumper from the 6-10 Mika. After Haws' second trey, Mika added a pair of free throws and Childs a jumper to complete a 7-0 run and send the Cougars up by double digits (52-42).

To compound the Buffs' problems, White was whistled for his third foul with 16:54 to play and went to the bench. But CU's offense was stagnant without him – and he quickly returned.

But not for long. Just over 2 minutes later, he picked up his fourth personal foul and sat down with 14:06 remaining without having scored a second-half point.

Who would the Buffs turn to offensively?

"XJ" scored the next 10 points in a 10-1 run, pulling CU to within 53-52 with 12:06 left. During that stretch he hit a 3-pointer, added three more on a conventional 3-point play, a pair of free throws and a short jumper.

But Johnson joined White on the bench after being inadvertently elbowed in the face by Haws. Another Buff needed to step up, and it was King, whose two free throws gave CU a 54-53 lead – its first since 3-2.

The Buffs got a 3-pointer from Thomas Akyazili to go up 61-58, but a trey by Haws tied the score at 61-61. And one of two free throws by Wesley Gordon, Haws added a 3-point play to give BYU a 64-62 lead with 7:41 to play.

The Cougars completed an 8-0 run with a layup by Emery, sending their lead to 69-62. That was when White checked back in, and 5:45 remained. It didn't help.

BYU increased its lead to nine points (73-64) and CU, able only to convert free throws until White's 3-pointer with 44 seconds to play, couldn't catch up.

Fort Hays State	22	49	71
Colorado	39	42	81

BOULDER — Minutes after an 81-71 win over visiting Fort Hays State on Saturday, Colorado head coach Tad Boyle didn't sugarcoat his feelings.

"This coaching staff has been here for seven years and this team has two things going for it right now," Boyle said. "Number one they own the most disappointing loss in that seven-year span, the Colorado State game a few weeks ago. Now they can also add that they own the most disappointing win, which is the Fort Hays State game here today."

Boyle was clearly frustrated with the Buffs' second-half effort. After bumping a 17-point halftime lead up to 21 early in the second half, the Buffs then went into early vacation mode. Fort Hays cut the deficit back to single digits twice, including down to nine, 76-67, with just under three minutes left to play before the Buffs held on down the stretch.

Not that the Buffs were ever truly in danger of losing to the Division II Tigers. But instead of putting the game away when they had the chance, they allowed Fort Hays to stay close, thanks in great part to a 29-point second half from sharpshooter Rob Davis.

"We have to dictate defensively," Boyle said. "If we can't dictate against Fort Hays, I don't know how we're going to dictate against Utah or Arizona State or Arizona or anybody in the Pac-12."

HOW IT HAPPENED: The Buffs threatened to blow the game open early, jumping out to an 18-2 lead in the first eight minutes. George King scored the first five points for CU and Derrick White hit six straight free throws in the early run.

But the Tigers then managed to keep the gap from expanding much more and Colorado led by 17 at the half, 39-22. King and Josh Fortune both had seven points in the opening half while Xavier Johnson and White had six apiece.

Davis, meanwhile, struggled for Fort Hays in the opening 20 minutes, going 0-for-4 from the field, a big part of Fort Hays' 7-for-32 shooting woes in the half.

Colorado then opened the second half much like the first, threatening to blow the game open. Fortune hit a 3-pointer in the first minute and Johnson followed with a free throw to bump CU's cushion to 21, 43-22.

But almost as soon as the Buffs built their big lead of the game, Davis caught fire and very nearly shot the Tigers back into the game by himself. The Fort Hays senior scored eight points in a 10-0 Fort Hays run and with 14:46 to go in the game, the Tigers had cut CU's lead down to eight, 47-39.

The Buffs, though, never let the Tigers get closer than eight. They quickly pushed the lead back to double digits, putting together a 12-2 run spurred by a pair of 3-pointers and two free throws from freshman Deleon Brown.

The Tigers then made one more run at the Buffs, narrowing the gap to nine, 76-67, with 2:55 to go, but Fortune and Tory Miller both hit a pair of free throws in the final two minutes to keep the Tigers at bay.

Johnson, Fortune and Brown finished with 15 points each for the Buffs while Wesley Gordon led CU with seven rebounds. Colorado also had a mere 40-36 rebounding edge on the Tigers, another statistic that left Boyle scratching his head.

TURNING POINT: After Fort Hays had pulled to within eight with 14:46 still to go in the game, the Buffs went on a 12-2 run to rebuild a comfortable cushion and the Tigers never pulled closer than nine again.

WHAT IT MEANS: While the Buffs have shown they can play well in spurts, consistency is still a huge issue with this team. With just two more non-conference games to go before the Pac-12 season, they need to figure out how to put together a full 40 minutes.

BOULDER — Tad Boyle's Colorado Buffaloes hoped to finish their non-conference season with a wire-to-wire consistent effort.

Instead, the Buffs had to battle back from a big early deficit, then hold on down the stretch to come away with a 76-68 win over visiting Eastern Washington on Thursday at the Coors Events Center.

The Buffs received 17 points from Derrick White and an 11-point, 10-rebound double-double from Wesley Gordon to improve to 10-3. Bogdan Bliznyuk led all scorers with 25 points for the Eagles, who were playing their third road game in five days.

HOW IT HAPPENED: If the Eagles were tired from their road trip, they didn't show it, jumping out to a 19-2 lead on the strength of a 17-1 run that included 15 straight points from Bliznyuk.

The Buffs didn't help their cause in that stretch, missing their first eight field goal attempts. Freshman Deleon Brown finally ended the drought with a 3-pointer with 12:18 to go in the half and Colorado then slowly chipped away at the deficit, closing the gap to 35-32 by halftime. The Buffs got a big boost from their bench in the comeback, with the reserves scoring 16 of CU's first half points as well as contributing some key defensive stops.

"The way you chip away is not by trading baskets, you have to get stops," Boyle said. "The stops hopefully can lead to some transition baskets, which it did, especially in the second half. We know the only way to get back in this thing is to get some stops."

Colorado finally took the lead for the first time early in the second half. An 8-0 run, sparked by a pair of Josh Fortune 3-pointers, gave CU a 40-37 lead at the 17:16 mark, but the Eagles didn't go away. A pair of Jacob Wiley buckets helped EWU regain the edge, and the lead see-sawed for the next five minutes.

With just under nine minutes to play, Colorado finally began to take control when White helped spark a 17-3 run that turned a 55-53 deficit into a 70-58 lead.

Xavier Johnson started the roll with three of four free throws to give CU a 56-55 lead, followed by two Tory Miller buckets, both on assists from White. White then added a driving layup with just over six minutes to go before dishing a beautiful feed to Johnson for a fast-break layup. A White free throw, followed by a layup at the four-minute mark stretched CU's lead to 70-58.

Along with his 17 points, White finished with a game-high seven assists, four blocks and five rebounds.

Defensively, the Buffs did a much better job on Bliznyuk in the second half. After the EWU standout hit eight of 12 field goal tries in the first half, he went just 1-for-8 after intermission.

After CU built its 12-point edge, Eastern Washington managed to cut the lead back to single digits with under three minutes to go, then cut it to four with 1:03 to go. The Buffs, though, managed to hold the Eagles at bay for the win, with a Gordon dunk with 46 seconds remaining putting the lead back to six and White finishing the scoring with a pair of free throws.

"We did a much better job offensively in the second half of not settling for jump shots," Boyle said. "One of the reasons we fell down 19-2 is we settled for jump shots, the jump shots weren't going in, we weren't getting offensive rebounds, we were on our heels."

TURNING POINT: The 17-3 Colorado run in the second half gave the Buffs a double-digit lead. The CU offense finally hit its stride in the transition game and the defense forced six empty EWU possessions in the stretch.

WHAT IT MEANS: The Buffs take a 10-3 record into the holiday break and Pac-12 play.

SALT LAKE CITY — For about nine minutes Sunday, the Colorado Buffaloes looked ready to open the Pac-12 season on a high note at Utah.

But that note turned sour in a hurry. A 20-14 CU lead with just more than 11 minutes to play turned into a seven-point deficit by halftime, and when the dust had settled, the Utes had collected their sixth straight win over Colorado, a 76-60 decision in the conference opener for both teams.

Sunday's game was the first of three straight on the road for the Buffs, who dropped to 10-4 overall while the Utes improved to 10-3.

Derrick White led CU with 15 points and George King chipped in 11, but the Utes had four players in double figures, led by Lorenzo Bonam with 15.

CU dropped to 10-4 overall (0-1 Pac-12 play) while Utah improved to 10-3, 1-0.

HOW IT HAPPENED: Early on, the Buffs looked ready to end Utah's five-game win streak in the series. White and Xavier Johnson scored five points each in the first four minutes as Colorado jumped out to a 10-2 lead, leading to a Utah timeout.

The Utes then rallied to knot the score at 14-14, but a quick 6-0 Colorado run put the Buffs back on top, 20-14, capped by a Thomas Akyazili steal and layup.

But that was the last spark the Buffs had to show. The Utes then went on a 13-2 run to take a 27-22 lead and finished the half outscoring Colorado 22-9 over the last 11 minutes to take a 36-29 lead into halftime.

"It just stopped," Colorado coach Tad Boyle said. "We stopped moving the ball offensively. We thought, 'OK, we can make one pass, it's going to be this easy the rest of the game.' Well guess what, you have to get the ball moved side to side, we have to play inside out, we have to give their defense a chance to make a mistake, but we had no patience on offense."

The Buffs also compounded their woes by turning the ball over. After taking advantage of six Utah turnovers in the early going, the Buffs returned the favor, committing 10 turnovers in the first half which the Utes happily converted into 14 points.

"They have 14 points of their 36 at halftime off our turnovers," Boyle said. "You put a lot of pressure on your defense when you turn it over that much."

The Buffs also lost their shooting touch over the last 11 minutes of the half. After hitting five of their first six shots, CU converted on just seven of its final 23 field goal attempts.

Any hopes Colorado harbored of a comeback in the second half were dashed in a hurry
