Pac-12 Preseason Poll

The University of Colorado Buffaloes were picked second overall in the Pac-12 Lacrosse Preseason Coaches Poll, as announced by the league's office on Feb. 5.

The Buffs earned 21 points, which included one first-place vote, to finish behind the preseason favorite: Stanford. The Cardinal recorded five first-place votes and 25 points to finish in front of Colorado.

Southern California placed third in the poll with 17 points and Oregon came in fourth (13 points). California was fifth overall (eight points) and Arizona State was selected sixth (six points).

Colorado won the regular season Pac-12 Championship last year with a 9-1 record, but fell in the tournament championship to Stanford, which was 8-2 in league play.

COLORADO NOTES

Last Time Out

- Colorado had a tough battle with in-state rival No. 15 Denver, but fell 9-7 on March 26.
- DU scored the first five goals of the game and held an 8-2 lead at halftime.
- The Buffs had a much better second half and limited DU's offense to just one goal. CU tallied five of its own goals, but it wasn't enough to overcome the Pioneers.
- Charlie Rudy led the Buffs with three goals, her third hat-trick of the season, while Samantha Nemirov and Sadie Grozier each tallied one goal and one assist.
- Julia Lisella recorded 12 saves in the effort.

Last Meeting vs. USC

- USC scored the first four goals of the game on March 16, but the Buffs were able to cut the lead to just one (5-4) with 18 seconds left in the first half.
- But Kaeli Huff scored a goal just 10 seconds later to give the Trojans a two-goal lead at halftime (6-4).
- CU was unable to get much going offensively in the second half and was out-scored 5-1.
- Miranda Stinson led the Buffs with three goals, while Samantha Nemirov and Charlie Rudy each had one goal.

Last Meeting vs. Arizona State

- The Buffs had a strong showing against Arizona State, defeating the Sun Devils handily.
- The Buffs had a 12-3 lead at halftime, thanks in part to six goals by Miranda Stinson.
- The Sun Devils were held scoreless in the second half, while the Buffs tacked on three more goals.
- Besides Stinson's goals, CU got markers from Samantha Nemirov (3), Sophie Castillo (3), Sadie Grozier (1), Blair Sisk (1) and Kate Burnside (1).

School Records

- Miranda Stinson recorded a pair of school records on March 10 against California.
- She scored eight goals in the game, breaking the old school record of seven goals in a game, which had been done four times.
- Six of her eight goals were scored in the first half, which is the record for the most goals scored in a half.
- She scored six goals in a half again just two games later against Arizona State on March 17.

Point Streak

- Samantha Nemirov set the CU point-streak record when she scored a goal and assist against Denver, stretching her streak to 30 games.
- She has scored at least one point in each game this season and scored in all 20 games in 2018.
- She broke the previous record of 29 games, which had been held by Darby Kiernan.

200 Career Points

- CU senior Miranda Stinson looks to become the third Buff in school history to record 200 career points.
- She currently has 189 points (142 goals and 47 assists).

100 Games

- The Buffs played their 100th game in program history on March 8 against Stanford.
- CU came away with the win, downing the Cardinal 20-13.
- It was also the 100th game as a head coach for Ann Elliott Whidden.

Tewaaraton Watch List

- A pair of Buffs have been named to the initial Tewaaraton Watch List: senior Miranda Stinson and junior Julia Lisella.

Pac-12 Honors (March 25)

- Miranda Stinson was named the Pac-12 Offensive Player of the Week for the third time this season after CU defeated Oregon on March 23.
- She recorded six points with a team-best five goals and one assist against in the Ducks. In addition, she also led the Buffs with eight draw controls and five ground balls. Stinson took 12 shots in the game and nine were on goal (75.0%).

Pac-12 Honors (March 11)

- Miranda Stinson earned her second Pac-12 Offensive Player of the Week honor on March 11 after leading the Buffs with 14 points in a pair of wins to open Pac-12 Conference play.
- She started the weekend off with six points, four goals and two assists, in CU's 20-13 upset of No. 15 Stanford on March 8. She also recorded three draw controls, two ground balls and one caused turnover.
- Then two days later on March 10, she broke CU's single-game goals record with eight against California. Six of those came in the first half, which was also a CU record for most goals in a half. Stinson added another three draw controls, one ground ball and one caused turnover. CU won the game 17-11.

Pac-12 Honors (Feb. 18)

- Miranda Stinson was named the Pac-12 Offensive Player of the Week, and Eliza Cahill was named the Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Week for strong performances against Virginia Tech.
- Stinson recorded six points in the win, four goals and two assists, in addition to recording four ground balls, three caused turnovers and three draw controls.
- Cahill led the Buffs with eight draw controls and added three ground balls and one caused turnover. She was key in CU's transition play as the Buffs were 14 of 18 on clears.

Returning All-American

- Julia Lisella is the only returning All-American for the Buffs. She was named to the IWLCA First Team and was tabbed the IWLCA and Inside Lacrosse Goalkeeper of the Year following the 2018 season.

COLORADO NOTES

Scheduling Tough

- Colorado head coach Ann Elliott Whidden does not shy away from scheduling tough opponents and this year's non-conference schedule proves that.
- CU started the season off with games against four straight IWLC top-25 ranked opponents: then-No. 6 Florida, then-No. 14 Virginia Tech, then-No. 6 Stony Brook and then-No. 25 Michigan.
- The Buffs will also face instate rival Denver, which is currently ranked 15th.
- Outside of the non-conference schedule, the Buffs face Stanford and Southern California twice during Pac-12 play. The Trojans are ranked 14th, while the Cardinal is 18th.

Five in a Row

- For the first time in program history, the Buffs faced five straight ranked opponents to start the season.
- CU played four non-conference opponents that were all in the top-25 and started Pac-12 Conference play against No. 15 Stanford.
- The Buffs have never played five straight ranked opponents at any point during the regular season.
- CU went 2-3 in those games.

Kittredge Field Advantage

- Kittredge Field has been the home of the Buffs since their inaugural season in 2014.
- In that time, the Buffs have recorded a 33-9 record there (.786).
- They were 5-2 in 2014, 6-2 in 2015 and 6-1 in 2016.
- In 2017, CU recorded a perfect 7-0 record at Kitt. (They played one home game at the Indoor Practice Facility due to a wild fire and won that for a perfect 8-0 record in Boulder.)
- The Buffs were also 7-0 at Kittredge Field in 2018.
- So far in 2018, CU is 2-5 at home.
- Colorado is 36-11 in Boulder, which includes games played at Folsom Field (1-0), Indoor Practice Facility (1-1) and Prentup Field (1-1).

Season Openers

- The Buffs are 4-2 in season openers.

Home Openers

- Colorado is 4-2 in home openers.
- CU won its very first home game (against Regis) on Feb. 22, defeating the Rangers 13-10. The Buffs also defeated Denver in Boulder to start the 2016 season and in 2017, the Buffs knocked off No. 9 Northwestern.
- In 2018, the Buffs defeated San Diego State, 17-12, on Feb. 25, to open the 2018 season at home.
- Florida defeated the Buffs 16-9 in 2019 to open the season at Kittredge.

Conference Openers

- CU is 4-2 in conference openers combined.
- The Buffaloes did well in MPSF openers, going 2-2.
- CU defeated Stanford 18-16 in 2018 in the first ever Pac-12 game and then won

HEAD COACH ANN ELLIOTT WHIDDEN

Ann Elliott Whidden is in her sixth season as the head coach at Colorado and has compiled a 65-30 record (.684) in that time. She has been recognized twice as the IWLCA West/Midwest Region Coach of the Year (2017 and '18), and was the 2018 Pac-12 Coach of the Year and 2017 MPSF Coach of the Year.

Whidden was hired as CU's first-ever head lacrosse coach on March 26, 2012, just short of two months after the school officially added the program.

In her five years as the leader of the program, the Buffaloes have thrived. Besides an impressive overall record, she has guided the team to a 34-11 mark in conference play, which included a 9-1 record during the inaugural Pac-12 season in 2018. With that mark, the Buffs became the first-ever regular season Pac-12 Lacrosse Champions.

Under Whidden's guidance, the Buffs have shown improvement each year. In the first four years of competition, the Buffs finished in the top four of the MPSF, which included a second place finish in 2018. Then in 2018, CU won the Pac-12 regular season championship.

Under her leadership, several of players have earned numerous honors in the program's short five-year history, including Julia Lisella who was named the 2018 IWLCA Goalkeeper of the Year. Four of her athletes have combined for six IWLCA All-America honors. Sarah Brown and Lisella were the first two players to earn first team honors (2018); Brown was also a second team honoree in 2017. Darby Kiernan was also a two-time All-American, earning second team honors in 2018 and third team honors in 2017. Paige Soenksen was the fourth Buff to record the prestigious award as a member of the third team in 2017.

Additionally, Whidden's athletes have recorded 13 all-region and 25 all-conference honors, in addition to 12 conference all-tournament selections. In five seasons, CU has earned 34 weekly conference awards.

The Buffs broke into the national rankings in 2017 and have been a mainstay in the polls for the last two seasons. In 2017, the Buff finished the season with a school record 16 wins. They advanced to the NCAA for the first time in the program's short history and were ranked as high fourth in all three major polls. CU went on to record a 14-6 mark in 2018 and achieved more success. The Buffs advanced to their second straight NCAA Tournament and won their first NCAA Tournament game with a 23-18 victory against Jacksonville.

The Buffs have been a force at home, recording a 28-5 mark in Boulder. They were undefeated at home in 2017 (8-0) and were 8-1 in 2018. CU recorded 19 straight home wins from 2016-18, which is tied for the fifth in NCAA history. Academically, the Buffs have performed well in the classroom. They have received the IWLCA Team Academic Honor Squad award for the last four years (they were not eligible in their first season). Seven of CU's athletes have been named to the IWLCA Academic Honor Roll for 11 overall selections. Numerous athletes have earned spots on the MPSF and Pac-12 Academic teams as well.

In 2018, CU was solid on offense and defense. The Buffs were 26th in scoring offense (14.00) and held their opponents to 9.90 goals per game, which was 17th in the NCAA. In conference play, CU's 14.00 goals per game ranked second. Defensively, CU ranked second in save percentage (.482).

The Buffs won the inaugural regular season Pac-12 Championship with a 9-1 record. Their only loss in league play was in overtime at Southern California 7). CU earned the top-seed in the Pac-12 Tournament, defeating Oregon 16-6 the second round. The Buffs fell in the championship game to Stanford, after defeating the Cardinal twice during the regular season. CU's season continued as the Buffs earned an at-large bid to their second NCAA Tournament. The Buffs defeated Jacksonville 23-18 in the first round, which was CU's first ever tournament win, before Florida defeated the Buffs in the second round, 13-9.

CU was again strong defensively in 2017, as well as offensively. The Buffs finished the campaign ranked third nationally in scoring defense (8.10) and were sixth in scoring margin (+6.35) and turnovers per game (13.95). The 16-4 mark the season gave CU a .800 win percentage, which was tied for the eighth best the NCAA.

The Buffs also recorded their first wins against ranked opponents during the campaign, which included a huge 11-10 overtime win against No. 9 Northwestern on Feb. 12 to open the season. CU went on to defeat three other ranked teams: No. 16 UMass (11-7), No. 14 Denver (14-3) and No. 6 Penn State (16-11).

The 2016 season was another big step in the right direction. CU won a then-school-record 13 games, going 13-5 overall and finishing third in the MPSF with a 7-2 conference mark. The Buffs reached the semifinals of the conference tournament, defeating Oregon 11-3 in the first round. All five losses during the season came to teams ranked in the top 10 nationally and the Buffaloes received votes in both the IWLCA and the Inside Lacrosse top-20 polls several times during the year.

Defense was again an emphasis for the Buffs, who ranked second in the MPSF and seventh nationally in scoring defense (7.00). They also were second in the MPSF and eighth in the nation in scoring margin (+5.61 goals per game). Offensively, CU ranked third in the MPSF and 14th in the country in scoring (12.61) and the team's .722 winning percentage was the 14th-best in the country.

Despite the excellent season on both ends of the field, CU was left out of the 26-team NCAA Tournament field. The Buffs faced six teams during the year that were selected to the post-season, including James Madison, which they defeated 15-14 in overtime on March 3.

Five Buffs were selected All-MPSF at the end of the season. Marie Moore, Darby Kiernan and Sarah Brown were first-team selections, while Johnna Fusco and Paige Soenksen were named to the second team. Moore and Brown were both second team all-region picks by the IWLCA.

In 2015, Colorado earned a No. 4 seed at the MPSF Tournament and defeated San Diego State 15-6 to advance to the semifinals for a second straight year. The Buffs dominated at home, posting a 6-2 record at Kittredge Field.

Prior to joining Colorado, Whidden was a major force at powerhouse Northwestern. After an astounding collegiate career, she returned to her alma mater as an assistant coach ahead of the 2009 season. Prior to the start of the 2012 season, she became the first to ever be promoted to the associate level. As a player and aide under Kelly Amonte Hiller, who is considered to be one of the nation's top coaches and recruiters, Whidden and Northwestern appeared in the NCAA title game seven times, winning six titles, including three as a player and three as a member of the staff.

After graduating from Northwestern with a bachelor's degree in radio, television and film in 2007, Whidden served as the head coach of the Wildcat Elite Club and the Wildcat Developmental Team for Amonte Sports. She also spent one season as an assistant coach for New Trier High School, helping the Trevians to the 2008 state championship.

She was also actively involved in Amonte Sports since her playing days at Northwestern, serving as a camp counselor as well as heading the development of New Wave lacrosse clinics for the organization and WomensLax.com, coordinating youth and high school clinics across the country. She also utilized her major, doing extensive work in video production for Amonte.

Primarily a defender during her collegiate career, she played in 72 games, including starts in 63 of a possible 64 her sophomore through senior years, all NCAA championship seasons. As a senior and team captain in 2007, she was an Inside Lacrosse third-team All-America selection when she was a key member of a defensive unit that allowed a NCAA-low 6.1 goals per game, with opponents scoring in double figures only twice. She played an important role on Northwestern's 2005, 2006 and 2007 national championship teams, scoring 14 goals, causing 44 turnovers and scooping up 101 ground balls. She earned four varsity letters and was a three-time Academic All-Big Ten team member.

Whidden was a four-year letter-winner in lacrosse at Ohio's Shaker Heights High, where she set a school record with 278 ground balls. She had 115 goals, 50 assists, 114 caused turnovers and 99 draw controls in her prep career. Whidden was a two-time All-America and first-team all-state selection, helping lead the Raiders to two state championships and four consecutive seasons of undefeated conference play. As a senior, she was the team captain and was named the Northeast Ohio Defender of the Year. Whidden also played goalie for the Ohio Flames ice hockey club team, which finished second at nationals in 2002, and lettered one year as a goalie on OSHH's field hockey team.

Ann Elliott Whidden married Nick Whidden in 2017. The couple resides in Boulder.
