coming Pac-12 Tournament. The No. 3 seed would be the highest Colorado could claim and would achieve that if all four third place teams won on Saturday, among other scenarios. The Buffaloes' 3-1 record against that group would win out (UA 3-2, ASU 2-3, USC 2-4).

Despite dropping three straight for the first time since late in the 2017-18 season, the Buffaloes have won seven of their last 12 and 14 of their last 21. Colorado is 33-13 over its last 46 games.

Colorado is ending the regular season with three road games for the first time since 2013-14, when the Buffaloes faced the same three programs they'll battle during this stretch (at Utah, then at Stanford and California in 2014).

It's the sixth time in 10 seasons the Buffaloes have 10 or more conference wins. CU's Pac-12 best is 11, in 2011-12 (11-7).

Colorado's 21 regular season wins ties for the best in program history, achieved three other times: 1996-97, 2013-14 and 2015-16. Overall, it ties for the seventh-most wins counting postseason (see page 5).

During the Pac-12 schedule, Colorado ranks second in field goal shooting (.452), rebounding margin (+3.9) and rebounding defense (31.4 rpg), third in assists (13.2 apg), 3-pointers made (7.6 3mpg), 3-point percentage (.354), scoring margin (+4.8) and fourth in rebounding (35.3 rpg), scoring (70.3 ppg), assist-to-turnover ratio (1.1) and free throw percentage (.739).

Overall, the Buffaloes are second in the Pac-12 and 30th in the nation in scoring defense at 63.4 points per game. On other Pac-12 charts Colorado is second in 3-pointers made (7.7 3mpg), rebounding margin (+5.7) and rebounding defense (31.4 rpg), third in free throw percentage (.738), 3-point percentage (.361) and rebounding (37.1 rpg), fourth in scoring margin (+7.6) and fifth in scoring (70.9 ppg) and assist-to-turnover ratio (1.0).

All-Pac-12 guard McKinley Wright IV leads the team at 14.0 points and 5.1 assists per game. He is second on the team in steals (33) and third in rebounding at 5.6 per contest.

Wright had 13 points and a career-high 11 rebounds at Stanford, recording his 11th career double-double and sixth this season. It's his fourth of the points-rebounds variety. His six double-doubles are the most for any point guard in the Pac-12 and tied for eighth among all players.

Wright is averaging 15.8 points, 8.0 rebounds and 4.6 assists over the last five outings. Wright had 20 points, seven rebounds and four assists vs. UCLA, logging the 15th 20-point game of his career (fourth this season).

Wright is leading the Pac-12 in assists during conference games at 5.7 a contest and is third in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.9) during that span. He had zero turnovers against his six assists at Oregon State, marking the sixth time during the Pac-12 schedule he has had at least five more assists than turnovers.

Overall on the Pac-12 charts, Wright is third in assists, fourth in minutes (34.4 mpg), fourth in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.7), 12th in free throw percentage (.784) and 16th in scoring and rebounding.

All-Pac-12 forward Tyler Bey leads Colorado at 9.0 rebounds, 1.5 steals and 1.1 blocks per game. He is second on the team in scoring at 13.6 points per game while shooting 52.0 percent from the field.

Bey led Colorado in scoring at Stanford with 17 points while grabbing seven rebounds and a pair of steals. He has made at least five field goals in each of the last five contests, averaging 15.6 points

BOULDER — That's how you protect your home floor.

One week after allowing Oregon State to rally down the stretch and escape from Boulder with a win, the Colorado Buffaloes left no such opening for Utah. The Buffs were hot from the start Sunday and never cooled off, dominating the Utes from beginning to end in a 91-52 win at the CU Events Center.

The 25th-ranked Buffs improved to 13-3 overall and 2-1 in Pac-12 play while the Utes fell to 10-5, 1-2.

"That was as complete a performance by our team as we've had all year," head coach Tad Boyle said. "It just shows you what the ceiling of this team is going to be, and that's what we're going to need as we go through this league. This team took a step forward tonight and I'm really, really proud of them."

The Buffs did indeed put forth a complete effort on both ends of the floor.

Sophomore Evan Battey and junior Tyler Bey each had double-doubles for the Buffs, with Battey finishing with 17 points and 10 rebounds for his second double-double of the season while Bey notched his seventh of the season and 26th of his career with 11 points and 12 rebounds. Point guard McKinley Wright IV flirted with a triple-double before finishing with 16 points, eight assists and seven rebounds and no turnovers, and D'Shawn Schwartz added 14 points and five rebounds.

Defensively, the Buffs throttled the Utes, holding the Pac-12's leading scorer, Timmy Allen, to a season-low seven points on 2-for-11 shooting. Allen entered the game averaging 21.1 points per game, with his previous low 14 points.

Utah did not have a player in double digits, as Riley Battin led the Utes with eight points.

The Buffs dominated in virtually every statistical category. CU shot 38-for-64 from the field (59.4 percent) while holding the Utes to just 19-for-54 shooting (35.2 percent). Colorado held a commanding 43-23 rebounding lead, including 14 offensive rebounds that led to 14 second-chance points, and the Buffs committed just nine turnovers while forcing 13 Utah miscues.

HOW IT HAPPENED: Colorado led from the outset, using a 14-0 run early to push the lead to double digits and extending the edge to as much as 25 before settling for a 22-point cushion at intermission, 44-22. Battey was dominant on the offensive boards in the first half, collecting six offensive rebounds that led to four Colorado baskets.

"Evan Battey was a beast tonight," Boyle said. "I don't know what other adjective I can use for him. He went after every offensive rebound. When he gets the ball in his hands, it's like a vise grip. Nobody's going to take it away from him. He set the tone with our offensive rebound in the first half."

Colorado shot 54.5 percent from the floor in the first half, including 5-for-11 from 3-point range. On the defensive end, the Buffs never let the Utes get untracked, holding the Pac-12's second-leading scoring team to just 33.3 percent shooting (8-for-24). Allen was just 2-for-8 from the field in the half, as Bey and his Buffs teammates harassed him every time he touched the ball.

With a 22-point lead at intermission, the Buffs made sure to put the game away early in the second half. CU built its lead to 30 less than seven minutes in when a Wright 3-pointer gave Colorado a 61-31 cushion, and the Utes were done for the night.

The Buffs' big lead of the game came in the final minute, when a Dallas Walton basket gave Colorado its final points of the night to wrap up the 91-52 win.

All 15 Buffs in uniform played in the game, with 11 scoring at least one point.

Colorado burst from the gate and never looked back in the first half, using a 14-0 run to build a 16-2 lead less than five minutes in. Battey had three baskets and Wright and Shane Gatling each had 3-pointers in the burst.

The Utes finally stopped the run with three unanswered points, but the Buffs answered again and steadily built the lead the rest of the half. Colorado's margin reached as much as 25 when a Schwartz basket gave CU a 42-17 edge with 2:09 left in the half, and CU still led by 22 at intermission, 44-22.

during that span.

Bey has double-doubles in three of the last seven games, most recently at 14-point, 11-rebound effort vs. USC. His five offensive rebounds against the Trojans were his most against a Pac-12 team this season and second-most overall (6 vs. Wyoming). It was his 11th double-double of the season and 30th of his career, good for sole possession of 10th on CU's all-time list.

Bey holds a share of the top rebounding game by a Pac-12 player this season. He had 19 rebounds against Wyoming, the most by a Buffalo since Andre Roberson had 20 against Stanford in Jan. 2013.

On the Pac-12 charts he is first in overall rebounding and defensive boards (7.1 drpg), third in double-doubles, seventh in blocks, eighth in steals and offensive boards (2.0 orgp), 12th in field goal percentage and 17th in scoring.

Junior D'Shawn Schwartz is third on the team in scoring at 10.4 points per game. He leads the Buffaloes with 51 3-point field goals, shooting 38.6 percent from long range.

Schwartz had 14 points at Stanford. He rebounded from a 0 for 8 night at Cal, going 5 of 9, hitting double figures in scoring for the 18th time this season.

Schwartz is 11th in the Pac-12 in 3-point shooting and 12th in 3-pointers made (1.7 3mpg). He has 23 steals with 18 of them coming during the Pac-12 season, tying Bey for the team lead in that category.

Sophomore Evan Battey leads the Buffaloes in offensive rebounds (83) and field goal shooting (.528) while ranking second in overall rebounding (6.1 rpg) and fourth in scoring (8.9 ppg).

Battey's 83 offensive rebounds are 15 more than he had as a freshman (and in six fewer games) and the most by a Buffalo since Wesley Gordon had 100, and Josh Scott had 87, during the 2015-16 campaign (34 games).

Battey had 14 points and 11 rebounds at Oregon, logging his fifth career double-double, and fourth this season. Five of his rebounds were on the offensive end, the fourth time he's hit that mark this season.

On the Pac-12 leaderboard, he is third in offensive rebounds (2.8 orgp), 10th in field goal percentage and 13th in overall rebounding.

Senior Lucas Siewert is fourth on the team in rebounding (4.1 rpg) and fifth in scoring (8.1 ppg). He had 11 points hitting 3 of 9 from 3-point range at California. His nine 3-point attempts were a career-high.

Siewert has seven games with at least three 3-point field goals made, three of those coming in the last six games (12 for 29, .414 during that span).

Siewert is second on the team in 3-pointers made with 49. He is eighth in the Pac-12 in 3-point shooting at 39.7 percent. Siewert leads the Buffaloes in 3-pointers during Pac-12 games (29) and is fourth in scoring at 8.4 points a contest.

Senior guard Shane Gatling is averaging 6.7 points and ranks third on the team with 36 3-point field goals. He had 13 points on 5 of 8 shooting against USC, scoring in double digits for the sixth time this season. His points and field goals made vs. USC are his most in the Pac-12 this season, and most since scoring 20 with seven field goals at Colorado State.

Sophomore guard Eli Parquet is averaging 17.4 minutes played over the last nine games. He played only 25 minutes in the first 10 Pac-12 games combined (includes two DNP's).

ABOUT THE UTES: Utah is 15-14 overall and tied with Oregon State and Washington State for ninth in the Pac-12 at 6-11. The Utes have lost two straight and five of their last six. Traditionally a great home team, Utah has lived up to that billing in 2019-20 going 11-2 at Huntsman with its only losses to Pac-12 co-leaders Oregon and UCLA. Utah is averaging 70.9 points while shooting 45.0 percent from the field. Defensively, the Utes are allowing 70.2 points per game while opponents shoot 44 percent.

Sophomore forward Timmy Allen leads Utah at 17.7 points and 7.3 rebounds per game. Sophomore guard Both Gach is second on the team in scoring, at 10.3 points per game. Freshman guard Rylan Jones averages 9.6 points while leading the Utes in 3-point shooting at 38.6 percent and in assists (125).

SERIES RECORDS: This will be the 53rd meeting between Colorado and Utah with the Buffaloes holding a 29-23 advantage. The home team has won the last five games in the series, including Colorado's 91-52 win in Boulder on Jan. 12. Prior to that, the Utes had reeled off eight-straight wins, the longest stretch by either team in the series that dates back to 1914. Utah has a 16-8 series lead in Salt Lake City and has won the last seven. Colorado's last win at Utah was a 55-48 decision on Feb. 18, 2012.

20 WINS: Colorado has a 20-win season for the 11th time in program history. Seven of those 20-win seasons have come under head coach Tad Boyle. Colorado's 21 wins are tied for the seventh best mark in team history. The Buffaloes reached 20 in 26 games, tying the 1968-69 team for the quickest to reach 20 in team history.

PAIR 1K: McKinley Wright IV had 13 points at Stanford and in the process moved into 16th on CU's all-time scoring list. He became the 35th Buffalo to reach 1,000 on Dec. 7 at Kansas. Classmate Tyler Bey reached that milestone on Feb. 13 at Oregon and is currently 31st in career scoring at 1,078.

It is the first time since the 2010-11 season Colorado has a pair of 1,000 point scorers on the court at the same time. Current pros Cory Higgins and Alec Burks had combined for 3,292 points by the end of Tad Boyle's first season as head coach.

The Buffaloes had a more recent instance with two 1,000 point scorers reaching that milestone in the same season. In 2013-14, Spencer Dinwiddie had 1,115 points when his season was cut short with a knee injury. Later that season, Askia Booker would reach 1,000-points, finishing his career in 2014-15 as Colorado's sixth all-time leading scorer at 1,740.

DOUBLE-DIGIT COMEBACKS: Colorado has caught a knack for the comeback this season, rallying from double-figure deficits four times for the win.

Colorado rallied from down 16 points in the second half against Stanford, tying for the 10th largest in school history and the third-largest rally from a second-half deficit:

18 (39-57, 14:32)	83-80	OKLAHOMA STATE	Feb. 10, 1999
17 (32-49, 12:24)	67-66	Purdue (Denver)	Dec. 4, 1988
16 (39-55, 14:00)	75-73	Missouri (Kansas City)	Dec. 29, 1969
16 (23-29, 18:15)	81-74	STANFORD	Feb. 8, 2020

Colorado trailed USC by 14 in the first half before the comeback win. The Buffaloes also trailed Dayton by 14 early in the first half before coming back to win in overtime. The Buffaloes trailed by 12 against Clemson early in the second half before rallying to win at the MGM Main Event Tournament in November.

NAISMITH AWARDS: McKinley Wright IV was named one of 10 finalists for the Bob Cousy Point Guard of the Year Award. Tyler Bey was a top 10 finalist for the Karl Malone Power Forward of the Year Award. Both awards are given by the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

In addition, Bey was one of 15 members of the 2020 Midseason Team for the Naismith Men's Defensive Player of the Year.

RIGHT AT HOME: Colorado has won 28 of its last 33, 40 of 48, 61 of 73 and 71 of 84 in the friendly confines of the CU Events Center. In the Tad Boyle era, Colorado is a sparkling 141-27 at the CU Events Center (.839). The Buffaloes are 454-178 (.718) all-time at the CEC. The Buffaloes, who finished 13-3 at home in 2019-20, have won at least 10 games at home each of the last 11 seasons.

SUCCESS ON THE ROAD: Colorado is 8-6 away from Boulder in 2019-20, including a perfect 4-0 mark in neutral site contests. Colorado's recent 33-13 run includes a 12-10 record away from Boulder; 6-9 on the road and 6-1 at neutral sites.

Two of Colorado's top three road wins in the Pac-12 era, in terms of margin of victory, have come this season. Colorado had a 22-point win at Oregon State on Feb. 15 (69-47) and a 21-point margin at USC on Feb. 1 (78-57). The largest margin is a 24-point win at USC on Jan. 26, 2012 (74-50).

RANKED BUFFS: Colorado received votes in both Associated Press and USA Today/Coaches Polls on Mar. 3. The Buffaloes were a season-best No. 16 (AP) and No. 15 (Coaches) the week of Feb. 10.

Colorado's No. 15 ranking in the Feb. 10 coaches vote was its highest in that poll in 51 years, where the Buffaloes reached No. 14 in what then was known as the United Press International (UPI) Poll. Colorado's No. 16 AP ranking that same week was its best since reaching No. 15 on Jan. 6, 2014.

Colorado has been ranked 13 times in 2019-20, the most in school history, passing the 1996-97 team that was ranked for eight weeks in that NCAA Tournament season. The Buffaloes have been ranked 11 times in the Coaches Poll this season, also a program best.

Colorado has made 52 all-time appearances in the AP Poll, with 25 percent of those coming this season. The initial ranking on Nov. 11 (at No. 25) was the earliest for the Buffaloes by calendar date and the earliest by poll number since being listed at No. 10 in the 1969-70 Preseason Poll, back when the season didn't begin until early December.

Colorado was ranked No. 23 in the NCAA Evaluation Tool (NET) ratings, used by the organization to evaluate teams for the Division I championship through games of Mar. 5. The Buffaloes have reached as high as No. 11 in the NET, with the latest date for that ranking on Feb. 17.

AGAINST RANKED TEAMS: Colorado is 2-2 against ranked teams in 2019-20. The Buffaloes are 2-0 as an unranked squad against ranked teams, but 0-2 in games where both teams are ranked.

After playing no ranked teams in 2018-19, Colorado played three in its first 14 games. The Buffaloes are likely done with ranked opponents until postseason play.

In the season series with Oregon, the lower ranked, and home team, had the advantage. The No. 17/18 ranked Ducks took a 68-60 win in Eugene on Feb. 13. In Boulder, it was the unranked Buffaloes that upset No. 4/6 Oregon, 74-65, on Jan. 5. The Ducks are the highest ranked opponent Colorado has defeated since the Buffs took down No. 4 Arizona State, 90-81, on Jan. 4, 2018.

Dayton, ranked No. 13/12 in late December, is the highest ranked opponent CU has defeated away from Boulder since beating No. 6 Missouri at the 1990 Big Eight Tournament in Kansas City (March 9, 1990). The win snapped a four-game overall losing streak against ranked teams. It was the first ranked win away from Boulder since beating #22/21 Texas in Brooklyn Nov 22, 2016 (last game on an NBA floor).

Colorado's 19 wins over ranked opponents in Boyle's 10 seasons is by far the best streak in team history. In fact Boyle coached teams, with a record of 19-33, have accounted for 30 percent of wins over ranked opponents (63) since 1949-50.

WRIGHT CEMENTS SECOND PLACE IN ASSISTS: McKinley Wright IV had two assists at Stanford, moving his career total to 494; second-best in team history. He is just six assists away from 500, a number achieved only by Jay Humphries, CU's all-time leader who dished out 562 from 1980-84.

Colorado Career Assists:

1.	Jay Humphries	1980-84	562
2.	McKinley Wright IV	2017-present	494
3.	Mike Reid	1982-86	446
4.	Jose Winston	1998-01	440
5.	Marcus Hall	2003-06, '07-08	423

Wright has seven points-assists double-doubles, the most in school history. His seven games of double-figure assists is tied with Humphries for the career lead.

1000/750(100) CLUB: With 15 rebounds at Oregon State, Tyler Bey became the seventh player to join the 1,000-point/750-rebound club at Colorado.

Bey is one blocked shot away from becoming the third documented player at CU with 1,000 points, 750 rebounds and 100 blocks. Cliff Meely and Jim Davis played before the stat was kept, but both very likely exceeded that number by plenty.

SEIWERT CLIMBING CAREER LISTS: Senior forward Lucas Siewert is seventh in all-time games at Colorado and will catch current CU Director of Player Development Nate Tomlinson by playing on Saturday. With a minimum of two games remaining on the schedule, and realistically at least three, he is on pace to end up in the Top 5 in team history. He had a 3-pointer at Stanford to become the eighth player to reach 140 in a Colorado career.

WRIGHT PAC-12 PLAYER OF THE WEEK: McKinley Wright IV was named Pac-12 Player of the Week on Jan. 6 after averaging 17.0 points, 9.0 assists and 6.0 rebounds against the Oregon schools. He shot 54.5 percent (12-22) from the field and 77 percent from the free throw line (10-13), picking up his second career Pac-12 Player of the Week honor and the first this season for Colorado.

Wright scored a game-high 21 points, dished out eight assists and pulled down five rebounds in Colorado's 74-65 win over then-No. 4 ranked Oregon on Jan. 2. He had 14 points and 10 assists against the Beavers.

OFFENSIVE HIGHLIGHTS: Colorado scored 59 points in the second half at home against Stanford shooting 70 percent (14 of 20). The Buffaloes made their last two 3-pointers in the first half and all eight in the second for a school record 10 consecutive.

Colorado had 51 first half points in the win over Washington, its most in an opening period since scoring 57 against Northern Arizona on Dec. 21, 2012. The 51 first half points are the most vs. a Pac-12 opponent and most in a league contest since scoring 53 against Texas Tech on March 6, 2010. Colorado averaged just 62 points overall in three losses to Washington last year. The Buffaloes had only 55 in the game in Seattle.

Colorado's 91 points against Utah was its most in a Pac-12 game since scoring 93 against UCLA on Mar. 7, 2019. The 39-point margin was the Buffaloes' largest in a conference games since defeating

Utah 73-33, on Dec. 31, 2011 – the first Pac-12 game for both programs.

Colorado had season-highs in field goals with 38 and field goal shooting at 59.4 percent. The 38 field goals were CU's most in a conference game since hitting 41 in a 105-81 win over Iowa State on Jan. 5, 1991. The 59.4 percentage is the best since CU shot 63.3 percent (31-49) against Northern Colorado on Dec. 13, 2014. It's the best against a conference opponent since shooting 59.6 percent (28-47) against California in an 81-71 win in Boulder on Jan. 27, 2013.

Colorado is 71-4 since the beginning of the 2010-11 season when shooting 50 percent or better.

Colorado tied a school record for 3-pointers made in a game with 17 against Iona. The Buffaloes also had 17 against Oklahoma State on Jan. 30, 2005. The Buffaloes' 60.7 percent performance from 3-point range (17-28) is their best since hitting 61.9 percent (13-21) against Arizona State in the first round of the 2018 Pac-12 Tournament.

Colorado's 26 assists were its most since dishing out 27 in a 92-58 win over Cal State Northridge on Dec. 22, 2009 (32 made baskets).

Colorado's 99 points against Iona a season-high and most since scoring 100 in the 2018-19 opener against Drake. The Buffs' 56.7 field goal percentage (34-60) is their best since shooting 58.6 percent at Air Force on Nov. 24, 2018.

Colorado had seven players score in double figures for the first time since Nov. 16, 2003, a 94-70 win over Jackson State.

MORE DEFENSIVE NUMBERS: Colorado has held 10 opponents under 60 points and four of those under 50 with a perfect 10-0 record in those games. Holding four opponents under 50 points is the most since the 2011-12 Pac-12 Tournament championship team did it five times.

Oregon State's 47 points are the fewest allowed by Colorado in a road game since a 61-47 win at Washington on Mar. 5, 2015.

The 41 points given up to Wyoming are the lowest since Utah had 41 in the first round of the 2012 Pac-12 Tournament (CU won 55-41). Colorado State had just 12 first half points, the fewest for a Colorado opponent since Utah scored 11 on Dec. 31, 2011. Colorado won that game 73-33, the first Pac-12 Conference game for both teams.

STEALING THE SHOW: Against Washington, Colorado tied a season-high with 12 steals. The Buffaloes have five games this season with double-digit steals, the most since the 2012-13 team had five in 33 games. Colorado had only five games with double-digit steals over the previous three seasons combined. The Buffaloes forced at least 20 turnovers for the fifth time this season.

Colorado had 11 steals at Kansas and 12 vs. Northern Iowa, giving the Buffaloes 23 over two games. The 23 steals over a two-game span are the most since Dec. 21 & 29, 2012, when the Buffaloes had 23 steals against Northern Arizona (13) and Hartford (10).

NELSON JOINS BUFFS THROUGH TEAM IMPACT: Colorado signed 13-year old Nicholas Nelson of Louisville, Colo., to a National Letter of Intent during a Draft Day ceremony Friday afternoon at the CU Events Center.

"Nick," along with his parents Mark and Maureen, and younger brother Xander, joined head coach Tad Boyle and sophomore forward Evan Battey on the podium to sign his official NLI. Boyle presented the recruit with a No. 13 jersey with his name on the back.

Nelson, a seventh grader at Louisville Middle School, joined the Buffaloes through Team IMPACT, a national nonprofit whose mission is to improve the quality of life for children facing serious and chronic illnesses through the power of team.

Nelson was born with a rare genetic condition called Williams Syndrome, which affects about 1 in every 10,000 children worldwide, regardless of gender or background.

Williams Syndrome has a lot of different impacts on Nelson, some of which make things harder for him and some which have become strengths and talents. The family monitors medical concerns closely including ADHD and anxiety issues, which are common to Williams Syndrome.

Activities involving spatial relations, like math, art and catching a baseball are tricky. However, Nelson has a powerful connection with music. He has a keen ear and can be deeply moved by what he hears. He has serious rhythm and can pick up instruments and bust out a recognizable song.

Following the press conference, Nelson and his brother were able to shoot a few shots wearing his new jersey with Battey and Colorado juniors Dallas Walton and Alexander Strating. He also visited his new locker in the Colorado basketball locker room.

As an official member of the team, he will join the Buffaloes for a variety of events throughout the season including team meetings, practices and games.

Headquartered in Boston, Team IMPACT connects children facing serious or chronic illnesses with college athletic teams, forming lifelong bonds and life-changing outcomes. Since 2011, Team IMPACT has matched 2,000 children with more than 700 colleges and universities in 48 states, reaching over 55,000 participating student athletes. Team IMPACT has more than 1,200 teams waiting to be matched with children, ages 5-16, who have been diagnosed with a serious or chronic illness and who could benefit from becoming a member of the team. For more information visit www.teamimpact.org.

HISTORIC START: The Buffaloes started the season 7-0, tying for the fourth best in program history and the best since 1982-83. Colorado is 20-6 over its last 26 games.

*NCAA Final Four

NONCONFERENCE NUMBERS: Colorado is 96-31 (.756) in non-conference regular season games under head coach Tad Boyle including a 49-14 mark (.778) since the beginning of the 2014-15 season.

Colorado was 11-2 in the nonconference schedule, the team's third 11-2 start in the last 10 years, joining the 2013-14 and 2015-16 squads. It's the fourth 11-win nonconference for the Buffs in the Tad Boyle era. Colorado was 11-4 in 2010-11, its final year in the Big 12 Conference.

Colorado is 74-5 in nonconference home games under Boyle, a record which includes a perfect 6-0 mark in postseason action.

PRESEASON TOURNAMENTS: Colorado claimed its eighth pre-season tournament title and second in three years, winning the 2019

MGM Resorts Main Event in Las Vegas by defeating Wyoming (56-41) and Clemson (71-67). It's the second title for a good portion of this year's upperclassmen, who played key roles in the 2017 Paradise Jam championship. Colorado won its fourth title on a neutral court.

Preseason Tournament Titles

2019-20	MGM Main Event, Las Vegas, Nev. (2-0)
2017-18	Paradise Jam, Lynchburg, Va. (3-0; 3 in 3 days)
2012-13	Charleston Classic, Charleston, S.C. (3-0; 3 in 4 days)
2002-03	Pepsi Classic, Charlotte, N.C. (3-0; 3 in 3 days)
1994-95	Mile High Classic, Boulder (2-0)
1993-94	Mile High Classic, Boulder (2-0)
1992-93	Mile High Classic, Boulder (2-0)
1991-92	Mile High Classic, Boulder (2-0)

RETURNING PRODUCTION: Colorado boasts one of the top rosters, in terms of returning production, in the nation.

Colorado returns all five starters, and all eight players that accounted for every start in 2018-19. Additionally, the Buffaloes returning roster accounts for every minute played over the final 19 games of last season.

Percentage of Returning Production:

Scoring – 94.9 percent
Rebounds – 96.2 percent
Assists – 96.0 percent
Steals – 94.5 percent
Minutes – 94.1 percent

Only Mount Saint Mary's and Harvard sport more returning production in scoring, rebounds, assists and minutes. Colorado is fourth in returning steals, behind those two schools along with South Florida.

FOR OPENERS: The Buffaloes improved to 93-24 all-time in home openers and have won their last 12, making Boyle a perfect 10-0 in home openers. The Buffaloes have won 17 of their last 18.

With the win over Arizona State, Colorado improved to 82-35 (.701) in all-time season openers. The Buffaloes are 8-2 under Boyle and 35-5 in overall season openers since the 1980-81 season.

The Buffaloes began with a neutral site game for the first time in four years. It was Colorado's first win in an opener at a neutral site since defeating Kansas in Kansas City on Jan. 3, 1932, but it's a small sample size – it's only the fourth neutral site opener since that '32 contest.

BUFFS PICKED SECOND: Colorado was picked to finish second in the 2019-20 Pac-12 Conference men's basketball race according to the league's Preseason Media Poll.

Colorado tallied 288 points which included nine first-place votes. The Buffaloes nearly claimed the top spot, just being edged out by three points to preseason favorite Oregon, which had 291 points and nine first-place votes.

Colorado's preseason conference poll selection is its best in either the Pac-12 or Big 12 eras. The three-point separation between the Buffaloes and Ducks is the fourth-closest preseason poll vote in league history (1988-89 – tie, 1994-95 – 2 pts, 2012-13 – 1 pt).

Five teams received first place votes, tying for the most in the Pac-12 annals. Defending regular season champion Washington had six and was picked to place third with 273 points. Arizona had a pair of first-place votes and was picked fourth with 263 points. USC picked up the final first-place vote and was selected fifth at 198.

Arizona State, who opens against the Buffaloes in the Pac-12 China game on Nov. 8, was sixth with 187 points. Oregon State was seventh (161), followed by UCLA (148), Utah (131), Stanford (84), Washington State (47) and California (35).

PRESEASON ALL-PAC-12: Juniors Tyler Bey and McKinley Wright IV were named to the Preseason All-Pac-12 First Team by media members who cover the conference.

Bey and Wright were among 10 selected to the Preseason All-Pac-12 First Team, mirroring the number that appear on the final regular season squad. Bey led the Pac-12 with 17 double-doubles in 2018-19, averaging 13.6 points and 9.9 rebounds per game. Wright, who also earned honorable mention to the Pac-12's All-Defensive Team, averaged 13.0 points, 4.8 assists and 1.1 steals as a sophomore.

Both Bey and Wright were 2018-19 All-Pac-12 First Team members as sophomores. Colorado is the first conference team to return two First Team All-Pac-12 performers since California had Patrick Christopher and Jerome Randle in 2009-10.

WRIGHT'S PRESEASON HONORS: Junior guard McKinley Wright IV was named to several prestigious Watch Lists among other honors during the preseason.

On Dec. 5, he was named to the Oscar Robertson Trophy Watch List, awarded by the U.S. Basketball Writers Association to the National Player of the Year.

Wright is among 50 players named to the initial Naismith Watch List. He is just the fourth Buff to be named to this list, joining David Harrison (2003-04 Candidate), Alec Burks (Preseason Top 50 and Top 30 Watch List), and Andre Roberson (2012-13 Preseason Top 50 Watch List).

Wright is the ninth CU player to ever be on a watch list for the Wooden Award.

The Cousy Award, named after Class of 1971 Hall of Famer and former Boston Celtic and Holy Cross guard Bob Cousy, is now in its 17th year recognizes the top point guards in Division I men's college basketball. A national committee of top college basketball personnel determined the watch list of 20 candidates.

In addition to the Naismith, Wooden, Cousy and Pac-12 Media all-league mention, Wright received preseason honors and predictions from several publications:

BUFFS SIGN LOCAL DUO: Dominique Clifford and Luke O'Brien are the next in a long-line of Colorado prep stars staying home. The two all-state guards, signed their National Letters of Intent to attend Colorado and play basketball for the Buffaloes beginning in 2020-21, on Nov. 13, the first day of the NCAA early signing period.

O'Brien is from Littleton, playing in Colorado's big school 5A class at Columbine. Clifford is from Colorado Springs, becoming its own basketball pipeline to Boulder, playing at the 3A level for The Vanguard School. The two have already established a relationship as teammates with the Colorado Miners club program.

A First Team All-State selection in 2018-19, Clifford averaged 18.9 points and 11.3 rebounds as a junior, leading his team to the Colorado Class 3A state championship game.

O'Brien was the JeffCo League's leading scorer at 21.6 points per game as a junior, helping the Rebels to an undefeated conference season. A Class 5A First Team All-State selection as a junior, O'Brien averaged eight rebounds, three assists and nearly two blocks per game, as the Rebels advanced to the second round of the state tournament.

LEAGUE FOE IN A NONCONFERENCE GAME: The matchup between Colorado and Arizona State in Shanghai did not count as a conference contest. The teams are slated to meet only once during the Pac-12 regular season - on Jan. 16 in Tempe - as part of the league's annual 18-game rotation model.

Colorado has played league opponents in nonconference regular season games before, in fact, it was once an annual tradition. The Buffaloes were involved in the Big 7/8 Conference Christmas tournaments for more than 30 years between 1947-78. Colorado would join its Big 7/8 counterparts, and sometimes another outside team, for a three-game tournament in Kansas City each year in late December, prior to the start of the league season.

EXHIBITIONS: Colorado defeated Pomona-Pitzer 87-56 at the CU Events Center on Oct. 26. Big men Evan Battey and Dallas Walton combined for 22 points on 9-for-11 shooting, with Battey also collecting six rebounds. It was the first game for Walton in more than a year, as he sat out all of last season with a torn ACL.

D'Shawn Schwartz led Colorado with 15 points on 7-for-10 shooting, Tyler Bey grabbed six rebounds and McKinley Wright IV dished out six assists.

In the second exhibition Colorado cruised to a 109-42 win over Tsinghua University on Nov. 6 at the Suzhou Sports Center in China. Bey, Walton and Maddox Daniels each had 12 points. Eli Parquet scored 11 off the bench while Battey pitched in 10.

It was the first time since 2007-08, that the Buffaloes played two preseason exhibition games. That year, was also the last time Colorado had utilized exhibition games prior to this recent three-year run.

Colorado has played exhibition games against various collegiate, foreign and traveling teams throughout the years, compiling a 49-6 all-time mark in those contests. The first event ever held at the CU Events Center was on Nov. 8, 1979, where a crowd of 9,679, turned out to see the Russian Nationals defeat the Buffs, 88-73.

#21 Evan Battey, 6-8, 262, So., F, View Park, Calif. (Villa Park)

Season:

- Fifth career double-double, and fourth this season, with 14 points and 11 rebounds at Oregon.

- Leads CU in offensive rebounds and field goal percentage and is second in total rebounding.

- On the Pac-12 leaderboard, he is third in offensive rebounds (2.8 orgp), 10th in field goal percentage and 13th in overall rebounding.

- One of two student-athlete representatives to serve on the Pac-12 Conference's Mental Health Task Force.

Career:

- Third on the team in field goal percentage (.484) and fourth in rebounding (4.4 rpg) as a freshman.

- First career double-double with 12 points and 10 rebounds vs. Norfolk State.

- Second on the team with 68 offensive rebounds a mark that ranked 11th on the Pac-12 charts (1.9 orgp).

- Sat out the 2017-18 season as an NCAA-mandated academic redshirt (did not meet the initial eligibility requirement of graduating from high school within four years).

- Full participant in team activities, although he suffered a stroke in December 2017 which kept him from working out on the court in the spring.

- Co-winner, along with George King, of the inaugural Tebo Family P.A.S.S. Award, recognizing the virtues of Perseverance, Attitude, Selflessness and Success.

- One of two winners of the 2018 Clancy A. Herbst, Jr., Student-Athlete Achievement Award, given to those who overcome personal, academic and/or emotional challenges or difficulties to succeed both academically and athletically.

- Played with USA East Coast for a four-game tour of Italy in Aug. 2018.

- A 2017 graduate of Villa Park High School in the Los Angeles area.

- An All-Orange County and All-Crestview League selection as a junior in 2015-16, averaging 24 points a game for the Spartans including a 44-point effort, second-best in a single game in school history.

- ESPN had him rated as the No. 17 post player in the nation and 11th best player overall in the state of California.

- Did not play basketball in 2016-17 as the California high school governing body determined he had exhausted his eight semesters of eligibility. He repeated the ninth grade and despite not playing in one of those years, the CIF had determined his eligibility clock had run out.

- Remained with the Villa Park team for the 2016-17 season, serving as a player-coach for the team's big men and junior varsity. He was part of the Spartans' team that placed second at the CIF Division III state championships.

- Recognized by the Orange County Athletic Directors Association with its 2017 Athlete of Character Award.

- Played his freshman and sophomore seasons at the Los Angeles Center for Enriched Studies, earning All-Western League honors both years.

- Averaged 11 points and 11 rebounds as a freshman and 20 points and 14 rebounds as a sophomore, helping the Unicorns to consecutive Division IV titles.

- Played AAU ball with the Dream Vision club program out of Los Angeles.

- Majoring in Broadcast Journalism. Honorable mention to the 2018-19 Pac-12 All-Academic Team.

- His grandfather, Earl Battey, was a four-time Major League Baseball All-Star and three-time Gold Glove winner at catcher for the Minnesota Twins during his 13-year career where he also played for the Chicago White Sox and Washington Senators.

- Also related to Ed Sanders, heavyweight boxer who won a Gold Medal at the 1952 Helsinki Olympics.

SHANGHAI — Colorado built a big lead early, then fought off an Arizona State comeback in the second half Saturday (Friday night in Colorado) and the Buffaloes collected an 81-71 win in the season opener for both teams in the Pac-12 China Game.

Tad Boyle's Buffs led by 13 at halftime and built the margin to 17 early in the second half before ASU put together a 30-13 run to tie the game at 59-59 midway through the half.

The Buffs, though, regrouped and regained the lead as CU veterans McKinley Wright IV and Tyler Bey took over down the stretch. CU put together an 8-3 run to take a five-point lead, 67-62, with just under eight minutes to play, with Wright scoring six of the eight.

ASU never came closer than four again.

Bey finished with 15 points and 12 rebounds for his 20th career double-double, Wright had 17 points, seven rebounds and five assists, and Evan Battey had 11 points and nine rebounds. D'Shawn Schwartz scored 15 points, 13 in the first half, and Maddox Daniels chipped in eight points in his CU debut.

Colorado finished with a 48-36 edge on the boards.

Remy Martin led ASU with 23 points.

HOW IT HAPPENED: Colorado threatened to blow the game open early in the second half when the Buffs scored the first four points after intermission to take a 46-29 lead.

But CU went cold from the floor and ASU took advantage of five Colorado turnovers to fight back and tie the game at 59-59.

The Buffs, though, didn't panic. Wright gave the Buffs the lead with a drive to the bucket, then scored again after an ASU turnover. The Sun Devils pulled back to within one on a Martin 3-pointer, but Battey then grabbed an offensive rebound and scored before Wright drained a jumper from the top of the key for a 67-62 lead with just under eight minutes to play.

Colorado then kept the Sun Devils at bay, hitting eight of nine field goal tries in one key stretch. Two Bey free throws with 4:24 left pushed CU's lead to eight, 74-66, and Bey then delivered a thunderous dunk off a feed from Wright with under four minutes to play to keep the cushion at seven.

Battey then hit two free throws with 1:47 remaining to give Colorado a 10-point cushion and salt the game away.

Bey and Battey were both hampered with two fouls in the first half and played just a combined 15 minutes. But Bey had 11 points and eight rebounds in the second half while Battey recorded eight points and seven rebounds after intermission.

After a back-and-forth first few minutes, the Buffs slowly took control in the first half. Colorado put together a 10-0 run to erase a two-point Sun Devils edge and take a 23-15 lead with 10:54 to go. CU then slowly pushed the lead to as much as 14 before the end of the half.

Lucas Siewert started the run with a 3-pointer before Wright closed it with a floater in the lane. The Buffs then built the lead to 11 on a Wright 3-point play with 4:44 remaining, then pushed the margin to 14 with just more than a minute to play. Schwartz hit seven straight points for the Buffs in the stretch, closing the surge with a 3-pointer to put Colorado up 40-26.

The Buffs took a 42-29 lead into halftime. Schwartz led the Buffs with 13 in the first half, Wright added nine points and five rebounds and Siewert had five points and six rebounds.

ASU then rallied to tie the game at 59-59, but Colorado regained control, with Wright, Bey and Battey taking over. Colorado rebuilt its lead to as much as 10 down the stretch.

BOULDER — When their shots weren't falling, Tad Boyle's 25 No. Colorado Buffaloes had to lean on their defense Saturday night.

That defense finally led to an 18-0 second-half offensive run, which the Buffs used to break open a tight game and claim a 71-53 win over San Diego at the CU Events Center.

Colorado improved to 2-0 with the win while the Toreros fell to 2-3.

Colorado's Tyler Bey recorded his second straight double-double and 11th in his last 16 games (21st career) with 14 points and 10 rebounds. Lucas Siewert came off the bench to score 11 points and add five rebounds, and D'Shawn Schwartz had 15 points — 13 in the second half — and three rebounds. McKinley Wright added 11 point, six boards and five assists for the Buffs.

Joe Calcaterra and Noel Coleman each had 10 points for San Diego.

With 10:47 left in the game, Colorado led by just four, 46-42. But Siewert started CU's 18-0 run with a 3-pointer, then added another two minutes later as the Buffs blew the game open. Defensively, Colorado came up with 10 straight stops to fuel the run.

"It was a workmanlike effort, if you will," Boyle said. "Maybe in some respects an ugly win — but when you win by 18 at home and you have a little sense of disappointment, or we didn't play as well as we're capable of playing, I think that's a sign of progress to some degree."

HOW IT HAPPENED: The Buffs struggled early, especially on the offensive end. CU shot just 11-for-32 in the first half and led by only three, 30-27, at intermission. Colorado also finished the night with 15 turnovers and hit just 14 of 21 free throw attempts.

The Buffs finally found some offensive consistency early in the second half when Schwartz scored 11 points in the first seven minutes, including a 3-pointer at the 13:04 mark that pushed CU's lead to nine, 46-37.

But the Toreros fought back one more time, closing the gap to four, 46-42, on a Calcaterra 3-pointer with 10:47 to play.

That's when CU's defense finally kicked in for an extended stretch and the offense followed suit. Colorado produced 10 straight stops on the defensive end, including eight missed shots by the Toreros, and the Buffs turned those stops into their 18-0 run and a 64-42 lead with 5:24 remaining.

"We live by defense, period," Bey said. "We didn't have it in the first half and we picked it up in the second."

Siewert started the run with a 3-pointer, which was followed by a Bey basket and a big Bey block on the defensive end that set up another Siewert try. Bey added two free throws. Evan Battey drained a long 3-pointer, Schwartz drove the lane for a bucket and Shane Gatling wrapped up the run with a pair of free throws.

James Jean-Marie finally ended the CU run with a basket at the 4:30 mark, but by then, Colorado's lead was still 20 points and the game was over for all intents and purposes.

Siewert was again outstanding in his role off the bench, shooting 4-for-7 from the field, including 3-for-5 from long distance, to collect his 11 points along with five rebounds.

The first half featured seven lead changes, with both teams putting together 7-0 runs over the last 10 minutes. The Buffs erased a 22-18 deficit with seven straight points, sparked by five points from Siewert.

San Diego tied the game at 27-27 with just over a minute to go before a Maddox Daniels 3-pointer with 40 seconds on the clock sent CU into the locker room at intermission with a three-point edge.

LAS VEGAS — Colorado's Tyler Bey recorded his third double-double of the season and the Buffaloes survived a difficult first half Sunday to take a 56-41 win over Wyoming in the opening round of the MGM Main Event at T-Mobile Arena.

Now 4-0, Tad Boyle's No. 23 Buffs will face Clemson in the championship game Tuesday at 9:30 p.m. Wyoming dropped to 3-4.

Bey finished with a career-high 19 rebounds and 11 points for his 22nd career double-double, and came within shooting distance of a triple-double, as he finished with six assists. Evan Battey added 13 rebounds and nine points while D'Shawn Schwartz finished as CU's leading scorer with 12 points.

The Buffs overcame a horrendous shooting first half that saw them hit just six of their 26 field goal tries, including 1-for-9 from 3-point range, to enter the locker room tied at 15-15 at intermission. CU also finished just 9-for-20 from the free throw line for the game.

But Schwartz sparked CU with seven points in a 13-0 Colorado run to open the second half and the Cowboys never came closer than four again.

The Buffs finished with a commanding 41-25 edge on the boards, including 13 offensive boards they converted into 11 second-chance points. Colorado also held Wyoming to just 31.9 percent shooting for the game (15-for-47) and forced 19 Wyoming turnovers, which CU converted into 11 points.

CU improved its shooting in the second half, hitting 15 of its 30 attempts to finish 21-for-56.

"There's going to be some nights when the ball's not going in," Boyle said. "That's why defense and rebounding travels. You can always be good and solid on that end of the floor and you have to do that to stay in games."

HOW IT HAPPENED: After playing just six minutes because of two quick fouls in the first half, Schwartz made up for lost time in a hurry in the opening minutes of the second.

The CU junior started the period with a blocked shot on the defensive end, followed by a jumper to give the Buffs a lead they would never relinquish. He then drew an offensive foul, sank two free throws on the ensuing possession, assisted on a Bey basket and finished his run with a 3-pointer. Daylen Kountz and McKinley Wright IV then wrapped up the 13-0 surge with baskets and Colorado had a 28-15 lead four minutes into the half.

The Cowboys made a run at the Buffs after CU's quick start, putting together a 10-2 burst that helped cut CU's lead back to four, 36-32.

But the Buffs never let the Cowboys come any closer, slowly rebuilding the margin back to double digits. Bey hit a pair of free throws to bump the margin back to eight with 7:30 to play before Wright drained a 3-pointer to push the lead to 11, 49-36, with 6:26 to go.

Battey followed Wright's trey with a bucket inside and a free throw to extend the margin to 14 and Wyoming never cut the lead into single digits again.

Battey's 13 rebounds were one away from his career high while Bey had a career-high six assists along with his career best 19 rebounds. Last week, he also had a career high in steals (six) in a win over UC Irvine.

The Buffs endured a brutal first half, finishing with more turnovers (eight) than baskets (six) as they entered the locker room tied at 15-15. But while they shot just 6-for-26 in the first half, the Cowboys weren't much better, hitting six of their 23 attempts. Colorado was 1-for-9 from 3-point range, but the one came from Shane Gatling just before the end of the half to tie the game.

Meanwhile, their defense and rebounding kept them in the game. "We could have been down 30-15 at halftime if we didn't guard," Boyle said. "That's a sign of maturity. The frustrations — we didn't fix them in the first 20 minutes — but they didn't affect us on the other end of the court. That's a sign of progress."

LAS VEGAS — McKinley Wright had a steal and two free throws in the final 10 seconds Tuesday night to lead Colorado to a 71-67 win over Clemson in the MGM Main Event championship game at T-Mobile Arena.

The No. 21 Buffs (5-0) rallied from a 12-point deficit in the second half and led by six with 2:36 to play. But the Tigers closed the gap to two, 69-67, with 1:45 to go. After the two teams traded misses, Wright finally came up with his steal with 10 seconds on the clock and was fouled with six remaining.

He calmly hit both free throws for his ninth and 10th points of the night to seal the win.

Tyler Bey, named the tournament's MVP, had his fourth double-double of the season for the Buffs (23rd career), finishing with 18 points and 11 rebounds. D'Shawn Schwartz had 12 points and five rebounds, Evan Battey had 11 points and three rebounds and Wright finished with 10 points and six boards.

Aamir Simms led Clemson (5-2) with 24 points.

The Buffs shot just 20-for-51 from the floor (39.2 percent), including only 7-for-22 from 3-point range. But they also hit 24 consecutive free throws after missing their first one of the night. Colorado had entered the game hitting just 60 percent of its free throws.

HOW IT HAPPENED: The Buffs trailed by three at the half, 36-33, then saw Clemson extend its lead to 12 with an early 14-3 run for a 50-38 lead.

But Battey fueled a comeback, hitting the first four points of a 9-0 burst, which also included a Shane Gatling 3-pointer and a Wright bucket, his first of the night after missing his first seven shots. Clemson momentarily halted the run with a Simms 3-pointer, but the Buffs then put seven unanswered points on the board to take their first lead of the game, 54-53, with 7:57 remaining.

Bey started the run with a dunk, followed by another Battey offensive rebound and putback and free throw. Wright then capped the run with a steal and dunk.

Clemson then regained the lead and pushed its edge to three at four different junctures over the ensuing three minutes before Colorado finally took control with a 9-0 run.

Wright started the surge with a layup off a feed from Bey, followed by a Schwartz 3-pointer and two free throws each from Wright and Bey that turned a 63-60 deficit into a 69-63 lead.

Clemson then cut the lead down to two with a free throw and Newman 3-pointer with 1:45 remaining. Colorado then missed two shots and Clemson one over the next minute, with the Tigers then taking a timeout with the Buffs still leading, 69-67, with 22.4 on the clock.

That set the stage for Wright's steal from Al-Amir Dawes and the ensuing free throws.

Colorado had trouble connecting from the floor in the first half as Clemson carved out a 10-point lead, 27-17, with 6:07 left in the half.

But the Buffs compensated for their problems from the floor by hitting 13 straight free throws that included an 8-0 run that pulled Colorado back within two, 27-25. Bey had four free throws in the surge and Daylen Kountz and D'Shawn each had a pair.

Clemson then pushed the lead back to five before CU finally ended a 7:16 field goal drought with a Lucas Siewert 3-pointer. Maddox Daniels pulled the Buffs to within one, 34-33, with a 3-pointer with 49 seconds left in the half, but Clemson got a Curran Scott jumper with 21 seconds remaining to take a 36-33 edge into intermission.

Bey had 10 points and three rebounds in the first half while Colorado's Wright had a rare scoreless half.

BOULDER — What some saw as a warm-up for the Colorado Buffaloes ahead of Saturday's game at Kansas came perilously close Wednesday to burning a hole in CU's national ranking.

But the No. 20 Buffs righted themselves just in time, outscoring visiting Loyola Marymount 15-3 down the stretch to come away with a 76-64 win at the CU Events Center. The Buffs improved to 7-0 while LMU dropped to 3-5.

The Buffs trailed at halftime, 34-30, and the Lions maintained their edge for much of the second half. Colorado didn't regain the lead for good until a D'Shawn Schwartz 3-pointer broke a 61-61 tie and started a 7-0 run with 2:38 left in the game. Schwartz capped the run with a pair of free throws at the 1:23 mark and the Buffs then held the Lions at bay over the final minute.

Schwartz and McKinley Wright IV shared scoring honors for CU with 16 points each while Tyler Bey had 13 points and nine rebounds. Wright also had six rebounds and five assists while Evan Battey had eight points and eight rebounds, including some big offensive rebounds and putbacks at critical moments.

LMU's Eli Scott led all scorers with 31 points.

"Tip of my cap to Loyola Marymount," head coach Tad Boyle said after the game. "I thought they came in here and played a heck of a game. We knew it wasn't gonna be easy, and it wasn't. I think sometimes you expect so much of yourself and your team that you forget that they have good players too."

The Buffs were definitely not at their best, committing 18 turnovers that led to 24 LMU points. But CU did win the rebounding battle, 39-30, and the Buffs also hit 25 of their 33 free throw attempts. That was enough to make up for Loyola's 51.9 percent shooting night (27-for-52), the best by any CU opponent this year.

HOW IT HAPPENED: Colorado trailed by four at intermission, 34-30, then saw the Lions push their lead to eight in the opening minutes with two quick buckets. With 14:02 to play, the Buffs still trailed by seven, 49-42, and had committed 17 turnovers.

But from that point on, the Buffs began taking better care of the ball while also ratcheting up their defense a notch. They slowly chipped away at the lead, getting five straight points from a Schwartz 3-pointer and a Bey jumper, and finally regained the edge, 51-50, on a Lucas Siewert 3-pointer with 9:27 remaining.

After Lucas Siewert's 3-pointer, the lead changed hands five more times before Schwartz put Colorado ahead for good with his trey at the 2:38 mark to start the decisive run.

Colorado struggled from the field for much of the evening. The Buffs hit just 38.5 percent of their shots in the first half, including a stretch when they missed 10 in a row that allowed the Lions to take an eight-point lead. But they did shoot better in the second half — 12-for-27 — and more importantly, took care of the ball. After committing their 17th turnover of the game six minutes into the second half, they had just one more miscue the rest of the game.

After Schwartz's 3-pointer gave CU the lead, the Buffs then got a Bey rebound following an LMU missed free throw and Wright hit two free throws to push Colorado's edge to 66-61. On LMU's next possession, Bey came up with a big block on Scott and Schwartz drew a foul when CU gained possession. Schwartz then hit two free throws to push the Buffs' cushion to 68-61 with 1:23 remaining.

"A win is a win," Wright said. "We're one of the only undefeated teams in the country and we're excited about that. I'm confident in my guys and I know they're confident in me and we're only going to get better."

LAWRENCE, Kan. — Colorado's offense never got untracked and Kansas dominated inside Saturday as the No. 20 Buffaloes fell from the unbeaten ranks with 72-58 loss at Allen Fieldhouse.

Colorado fell to 7-1 while No. 2 Kansas improved to 7-1.

The Buffs never led in the game. Kansas jumped out to a quick 6-0 lead and though the Buffs managed to cut the deficit to one with 14 minutes to go in the half, the Jayhawks used a 9-0 run to regain control and take a 12-point lead at intermission, 34-22.

CU then managed to stay within striking range until midway through the second half, when Kansas finally started to pull away for good, increasing its lead to as much as 23.

The Buffs had just one player in double figures, with Evan Battey scoring 14 points and grabbing seven rebounds. Tyler Bey had five points and nine rebounds and McKinley Wright IV had eight points and seven rebounds.

Ochai Agbaji, one of three Jayhawks in double figures, led Kansas with 20 points.

The Buffs shot just 18-for-60 from the field (30 percent), including an ice-cold 7-for-34 from 3-point range. Kansas shot 27-for-51 (52.9 percent) and hit six of its 13 3-point tries. KU also had a 39-36 rebounding edge and a dominating 38-22 edge in points in the paint.

The Buffs finished with 17 turnovers but also forced 21 Kansas turnovers. "We had a lot of good looks that didn't go in," CU coach Tad Boyle said. "You have to make those shots ... But I was really proud of our guys' fight and their toughness and competitiveness. But we couldn't make shots tonight."

HOW IT HAPPENED: The Buffs did manage to keep it close early, pulling to within 10-9 on back-to-back 3-pointers from Lucas Siewert with 14 minutes to go in the first half.

But the Jayhawks answered with a 9-0 run to take control and Colorado never came closer than seven again, with Kansas pushing the cushion to 12 at the half.

The Jayhawks' defense collapsed in the paint all night, double-teaming CU's big men at every opportunity and forcing to CU to shoot from the outside. The Buffs did get some open looks but they couldn't connect, going 1-for-11 from the field in a key first-half stretch.

Battey was the only consistent shooter for the Buffs, hitting five of his eight field goal tries, including a couple putbacks off of his four offensive rebounds. The only other Buff to hit at least half of his shots was Eli Parquet, who was 2-for-4 from the floor.

The rest of the Buffs combined to shoot 11-for-48.

Bey, who entered the game as CU's leading scorer at 14.0 points per game, was limited to just three field goal attempts as the Jayhawks made sure to surround him every time he touched the ball inside.

Battey played well against Kansas big man Udoka Azubuike, who finished with 12 points and six rebounds, both under his season average.

Agbaji led the most damage offensively for Kansas, hitting all four of his 3-point attempts in the second half as Kansas pulled away down the stretch. While CU held Kansas to 0-for-6 shooting from long range in the first half, the Jayhawks were 6-for-7 from beyond the arc after intermission.

CU did close the deficit to 12 with just more than eight minutes to play when a Wright 3-pointer cut Kansas' lead to 54-42. But the Jayhawks then opened up the cushion, building their lead into the 20s over the final minutes.

Colorado's 34 3-point attempts were 10 more than the Buffs' previous season high.

Schwartz then took charge in the overtime, scoring eight of Colorado's 12 points in the five-minute extra period. He hit a 3-pointer with 3:18 to play that gave the Buffs a 71-68 lead, then drove to the basket for a layup with 27 seconds remaining for a 75-74 lead. Then, after Crutcher gave Dayton its final lead of the night, the Buffs delivered the game-winner.

BOULDER — Tad Boyle collected his 200th win at Colorado in resounding fashion, as his Buffaloes ran away with a 99-54 win over Iona.

The win — Colorado's final non-conference tuneup before opening Pac-12 play Thursday at home against No. 6 Oregon — improved the Buffs to 11-2 while Iona fell to 2-5.

Boyle, already the second-winningest coach in CU men's hoops history, saw his record improve to 200-125 in his 10th season. He trails only Russell "Sox" Walthelt (261-245) on CU's all-time list.

His 200th win was never in doubt. The Buffs led from the start, scoring the first eight points of the game and pushing their lead to as much as 18 in the first half before settling for a 35-19 halftime edge. Colorado then quickly bumped the cushion to 30 with a 17-3 run to open the second half and led by as much as 47 down the stretch.

The Buffs finished with seven players in double-digit scoring and Evan Battey and McKinley Wright IV both finished with double-doubles. Battey had 12 points and 12 rebounds for his second career double-double while Wright had 13 points and 10 assists for his second straight and seventh career double-double.

Colorado's D'Shawn Schwartz just missed a double-double, as he finished with a team-high 14 points and nine rebounds (tying his career high). Lucas Siewert added 12 points, Tyler Bey had 11 and Maddox Daniels and Daylen Kountz each chipped in 10.

CU also tied the school record for 3-pointers in a game with 17 (set vs. Oklahoma State in 2005) and finished with 26 assists, the most in the Boyle era and most since CU had 27 vs. Northridge in 2009.

E.J. Crawford led Iona with 14 points, as the Gaels struggled from the floor all game, hitting just 30 percent of their field goal tries (18-for-60). CU shot 56.7 percent from the floor (34-for-60) and also held a commanding 47-24 edge in rebounds.

HOW IT HAPPENED: The Buffs led by 16 at intermission, 35-19, then put the game away with a 17-3 run to start the second half. A Schwartz 3-pointer less than five minutes into the half pushed CU's lead to 52-22 and the Gaels never threatened again, as the Buffs steadily built their lead the rest of the game.

Schwartz finished the game 4-for-6 from 3-point range and is 15-for-26 from long distance over his last five games.

Wright found plenty of open teammates, with his 10 assists just one short of his career high. He also had just one turnover, while the Buffs finished with 15 turnovers for the game.

Colorado also played well on the defensive end, limiting Iona to 17.2 percent shooting in the first half (5-for-29) and 30 percent for the game (18-for-60). Battey played a big role on that end, helping hold Iona's Tajuan Agee to just nine points, eight points under his season average.

After pushing their lead to 30 with the quick run to start the second half, Colorado continued to build the cushion. CU's biggest lead was a 47-point edge, 93-46, with just under four minutes to play on a Daniels 3-pointer.

Along with his 10 assists, Wright was an efficient 5-for-7 from the field, including 3-for-4 from 3-point range.

Colorado led from the outset, slowly building its margin into double digits and pushing the cushion to as much as 18 before taking a 35-19 lead into halftime. CU's defense frustrated Iona for the entire half, as the Gaels finished just 5-for-29 from the floor, including 2-for-15 from 3-point range.

The Buffs scored the first eight points of the game and pushed their lead into double digits, 15-5, on a Kountz bucket underneath off a nice pass from Wright with just under 12 minutes left in the half.

Colorado then extended its cushion to 18 points with a 10-0 run late in the half. Schwartz started the run with a 3-pointer, Battey added two free throws, Siewert drained a long try and Kountz wrapped it up with another drive to the bucket to give Colorado a 33-15 edge with 2:25 remaining.

The Gaels, who went 6-30 without a field goal, added two in the final two minutes to cut CU's lead to 35-19 by intermission.

BOULDER — Point guard McKinley Wright IV sparked a decisive 10-2 Colorado run down the stretch and the Buffaloes collected a 74-65 win Thursday over No. 4 Oregon at a sold-out CU Events Center.

The Buffs improved to 12-2 (1-0 Pac-12) with their fifth straight win while Oregon dropped to 11-3, 0-1 this season and 0-9 all-time in Boulder.

The Buffs led by as much as 15 early in the second half before the Ducks cut the deficit to four, 57-53, with 4:34 to play.

But Wright then sparked a 7-0 run with a 3-pointer, an assist and a floater from the lane to push CU's lead to 11, 64-53, with just under three minutes to play.

Oregon stopped the run momentarily with a Payton Pritchard basket, but Wright then found D'Shawn Schwartz open in the corner for a 3-pointer and 67-55 lead with 1:23 to play.

The Buffs then held on in the final minutes for the win, hitting just enough of their free throws — including six from Wright in the last 52 seconds — to keep the Ducks at bay.

Wright led the Buffs with 21 points, 11 in the final 4:10 of the game, along with eight assists and five rebounds. Tyler Bey collected his sixth double-double of the season and first since Nov. 30 with 15 points and 14 rebounds and Schwartz added 13 points.

Pritchard led Oregon with 21 points.

Defensively, the Buffs were outstanding. Oregon entered the game as the Pac-12's leading team in shooting percentage (49.7 percent) and 3-point shooting (41.7). But Colorado held Oregon to just 44.6 percent from the floor (25-for-56), including just 3-for-18 from 3-point range.

The Buffs, meanwhile, shot 25-for-57 from the floor, held a 36-34 rebounding edge and committed just eight turnovers while forcing 13 Oregon miscues. Colorado held a 13-6 edge in points off those turnovers.

HOW IT HAPPENED: Colorado led by six at intermission, 28-22, and quickly pushed the margin to 15 just five minutes into the second half, as Wright had a beautiful pair of assists to spark a 9-0 run. The first went to Bey, who cashed in a layup and ensuing free throw, and the second to Schwartz, who drained a long three from just in front of the CU bench.

Lucas Siewert then capped the run with another 3-pointer and Colorado led, 41-26, with 14:51 to play.

But the Ducks didn't go away quietly. After enduring a particularly rough first half shooting, they finally began to find the basket and answered with a run of their own, using a 10-0 surge that ultimately shaved CU's lead down to four, 51-47, with 8:35 to play.

Colorado then briefly pushed its lead back to eight on a pair of Evan Battey free throws three minutes later, only to see the Ducks pull back to within four again, 57-53, on a pair of technical foul free throws.

But the technical also seemed to spark the Buffs as Wright engineered the game's decisive run. He came down the floor on CU's ensuing possession and buried a 3-pointer from the top of the key with 4:10 to go, then found Schwartz wide open under the bucket on CU's next possession for a layup after CU's defense forced a turnover.

Then, following a missed Oregon 3-pointer, Wright hit a floater from the lane to give Colorado an 11-point cushion, 64-53, with just 2:32 remaining.

The Buffs then put the game away with 1:23 remaining when Wright found Schwartz open again for a 3-pointer from just in front of the CU bench for a 67-55 lead. The Buffs managed to make it closer than necessary by missing some free throws in the final minute, but Wright hit all six of his to lock up the win.

Bey was also outstanding. After seven straight games without double-digit rebounds, he came up big against the Ducks.

After falling behind early, the Buffs battled back and finally took the lead midway through the first half on an Evan Battey bucket inside, 13-12.

BOULDER — That's how you protect your home floor.

One week after allowing Oregon State to rally down the stretch and escape from Boulder with a win, the Colorado Buffaloes left no such opening for Utah. The Buffs were hot from the start Sunday and never cooled off, dominating the Utes from beginning to end in a 91-52 win at the CU Events Center.

The 25th-ranked Buffs improved to 13-3 overall and 2-1 in Pac-12 play while the Utes fell to 10-5, 1-2.

"That was a complete performance by our team as we've had all year," head coach Tad Boyle said. "It just shows you what the ceiling of this team is going to be, and that's what we're going to need as we go through this league. This team took a step forward tonight and I'm really, really proud of them."

The Buffs did indeed put forth a complete effort on both ends of the floor. Sophomore Evan Battey and junior Tyler Bey each had double-doubles for the Buffs, with Battey finishing with 17 points and 10 rebounds for his second double-double of the season while Bey notched his seventh of the season and 26th of his career with 11 points and 12 rebounds. Point guard McKinley Wright IV flirted with a triple-double before finishing with 16 points, eight assists and seven rebounds and no turnovers, and D'Shawn Schwartz added 14 points and five rebounds.

Defensively, the Buffs throttled the Utes, holding the Pac-12's leading scorer, Timmy Allen, to a season-low seven points on 2-7-11 shooting. Allen entered the game averaging 21.1 points per game, with his previous low 14 points.

Utah did not have a player in double digits, as Riley Battin led the Utes with eight points.

The Buffs dominated in virtually every statistical category. CU shot 38-for-64 from the field (59.4 percent) while holding the Utes to just 19-for-54 shooting (35.2 percent). Colorado led a commanding 43-23 rebounding lead, including 14 offensive rebounds that led to 14 second-chance points, and the Buffs committed just nine turnovers before forcing 13 Utah miscues.

HOW IT HAPPENED: Colorado led from the outset, using a 14-0 run early to push the lead to double digits and extending the edge to as much as 25 before settling for a 22-point cushion at intermission, 44-22. Battey was dominant on the offensive boards in the first half, collecting six offensive rebounds that led to four Colorado baskets.

"Evan Battey was a beast tonight," Boyle said. "I don't know what other adjective I can use for him. He went after every offensive rebound. When he gets the ball in his hands, it's like a vise grip. Nobody's going to take it away from him. He set the tone with our offensive rebound in the first half."

Colorado shot 54.5 percent from the floor in the first half, including 5-for-11 from 3-point range. On the defensive end, the Buffs never let the Utes get untracked, holding the Pac-12's second-leading scoring team to just 33.3 percent shooting (8-for-24). Allen was just 2-for-8 from the field in the half, as Bey and his Buffs teammates harassed him every time he touched the ball.

With a 22-point lead at intermission, the Buffs made sure to put the game away early in the second half. CU built its lead to 30 less than seven minutes in when a Wright 3-pointer gave Colorado a 61-31 cushion, and the Utes were done for the night.

The Buffs' big lead of the game came in the final minute, when a Dallas Walton basket gave Colorado its final points of the night to wrap up the 91-52 win.

All 15 Buffs in uniform played in the game, with 11 scoring at least one point.

Colorado burst from the gate and never looked back in the first half, using a 14-0 run to build a 16-2 lead less than five minutes in. Battey had three baskets and Wright and Shane Gatling each had 3-pointers in the burst.

The Utes finally stopped the run with three unanswered points, but the Buffs answered again and steadily built the lead the rest of the half. Colorado's margin reached as much as 25 when a Schwartz basket gave CU a 42-17 edge with 2:09 left in the half, and CU still led by 22 at intermission, 44-22.

TEMPE, Ariz. — Coaches love to say defense travels.

Tad Boyle's No. 20 Colorado Buffaloes backed that saying up Thursday night by throttling Arizona State in the second half to collect a 68-61 win over the Sun Devils at Desert Financial Arena.

Colorado improved to 14-3 overall and 3-1 in Pac-12 play while the Sun Devils fell to 10-7, 1-3. The victory ended a six-game losing streak for the Buffs on ASU's home floor, as CU held Arizona State to just 34.3 percent shooting for the game (12-for-70), including just 12-for-40 in the decisive second half.

Colorado struggled on the offensive end early and trailed by nine just a few minutes into the game, but came back to tie it up, 28-28, by halftime. CU then took control early in the second half, using an 11-0 run to take a 44-32 lead with 10:35 remaining and the Sun Devils never came closer than five again.

Junior Tyler Bey had an outstanding second half for the Buffs, scoring 16 of his 19 points after intermission to go with eight rebounds and five assists. Lucas Siewert added 14 points on 4-for-6 shooting from 3-point range, McKinley Wright had 11 points and five rebounds and Shane Gatling had 10 points. Evan Battey led the Buffs on the boards with nine rebounds, and also scored five points.

Point guard Remy Martin led ASU with 25 points, but he shot just 9-for-23, including only 4-for-14 in the second half.

CU did not shoot particularly well, finishing just 21-for-52, but the Buffs were 12-for-25 in the second half (48 percent). While ASU won the rebound battle, 42-40, including a 17-8 edge on the offensive boards, the Buffs didn't allow the Sun Devils to convert many of those second chances. Colorado actually had a 10-8 edge in second-chance points.

"It was the epitome of winning ugly, which sometimes you have to do on the road," Boyle said. "I couldn't be more proud of our guys to not get their heads down when we struggled early offensively, especially in the first half. It was a great, great win."

HOW IT HAPPENED: ASU threatened to blow the game open early, jumping out to a 12-3 lead just five minutes into the contest.

But Siewert hit back-to-back 3-pointers in the next two minutes to pull Colorado back within striking range. ASU then pushed its lead back to seven, but 3-pointers from Bey and Siewert fueled an 8-0 run that gave Colorado its first lead of the game, 18-17, with 6:36 left in the half.

The two teams then traded the lead seven more times before halftime, with a Wright bucket in the final minute sending the two teams into the locker room at intermission tied at 28-28.

Led by Bey, the Buffs finally assumed control in the second half. The CU junior started an 11-0 run with a bucket inside to end a 4-21 Colorado scoring drought, and collected a steal and assist on a Daylen Kountz basket a minute later. Gatling then stretched the run to 9-0 with a 3-pointer off a beautiful feed from Bey in the post and Battey capped the surge with a pair of free throws at the 10:35 mark to stretch Colorado's edge to 44-32.

Bey also had two steals and two blocked shots to go with his 19 points, eight rebounds and five assists.

At the same time the Buffs were putting their offense together, their defense was outstanding. At the end of CU's decisive 11-0 run, Arizona State was just 2-for-20 from the floor in the second half.

The Sun Devils did have a run in their pocket after Colorado's surge, cutting CU's lead to just five, 49-44, with just more than seven minutes to play on a Rob Edwards 3-pointer.

But the Buffs quickly gathered themselves and pushed the lead back to 13, 62-49, with two minutes to go, then held the Sun Devils at bay down the stretch.

BOULDER — No Tyler Bey proved to be no problem for the Colorado Buffaloes on their home floor Thursday night.

With their leading rebounder on the bench with an injury, the Buffs had three players record double-doubles and closed the game with a 24-6 run to collect a 78-56 win over Washington State in front of 7,864 at the CU Events Center.

The 23rd-ranked Buffs improved to 15-4 overall and 4-2 in Pac-12 play while WSU dropped to 12-8, 3-4.

Colorado had four players in double-digit scoring, led by senior Lucas Siewert, who had 16 points and 10 rebounds in his first start of the season. Siewert started in place of Bey, who sat out the game with a hand injury and thus missed the first game of his career, a stretch of 86 games that included 75 straight starts.

Evan Battey had 12 points and 10 rebounds and McKinley Wright had 10 points and 10 assists to complete the Buffs' triple double-double. D'Shawn Schwartz added 13 points for Colorado. It was the first time since a Dec. 1, 2018, win over CSU that the Buffs had three double-doubles, which is also the last time Siewert had a double-double.

CJ Elleby led WSU with 15 points.

CU led by just four midway through the second half before assuming control with a 12-1 run for a 66-51 lead. WSU briefly cut the margin back to 13 but the Buffs quickly built their cushion into the 20s in the final minutes.

Colorado held WSU to just 22-for-59 shooting from the floor, including just 8-for-28 (28.6 percent) in the second half. The Buffs shot 26-for-57 for the game and also had a 45-28 edge on the boards.

HOW IT HAPPENED: The Buffs endured a rough first half that included 10 turnovers to take a 38-33 lead at intermission, then pushed the margin to 11 early in the second half. Buckets from Schwartz, Shane Gatling, Wright and Battey sparked a 10-1 surge that pushed Colorado's edge to 47-36 just four minutes into the half.

But the Cougars had one more comeback in their pocket and they cut CU's lead to four, 54-50, with 12:12 remaining on an Isaac Bonton 3-pointer.

That, though, was as close as WSU could come. Wright started a 12-1 run with a short jumper and Siewert followed with a 3-pointer. The Cougars got an Elleby free throw to momentarily halt the surge, but CU then answered with a Maddox Daniels 3-pointer and two Battey free throws to take a commanding 66-51 edge with just 6:49 remaining. The Buffs held WSU without a field goal for seven minutes in the stretch that included an 0-for-6 effort from the floor and Elleby had just six points in the second half.

The Buffs also dominated the boards in the second half, holding a 27-15 rebound edge. Siewert's 10 rebounds were a season high and came on the heels of a team-leading seven rebounds against Arizona last Saturday.

The Buffs also fixed some turnover issues at halftime. After committing 10 in the first half — including three by Wright in the first eight minutes — the Buffs had just four in the second half and Wright did not have another after his first three.

Colorado started slowly, as the Cougars took advantage of some early Buffs turnovers to build a 10-5 lead less than five minutes in.

CU finally took the lead midway through the first half, 18-17, on a pair of Battey free throws that finished a 6-0 run. The two teams then traded the lead four times before Colorado finally took control with a 10-2 surge for a 35-28 lead with 1:38 to play in the half. Dallas Walton had an offensive rebound and bucket in the run and D'Shawn Schwartz added a 3-pointer before Wright hit a layup, then found Battey wide open underneath for a bucket to cap the run.

Colorado then had a chance to push the lead to eight late in the half, but a turnover following a timeout led to a three-point play by WSU's Noah Williams and it took two Wright free throws with 1.4 on the clock to give the Buffs a 38-33 lead at the half.

LOS ANGELES — Colorado bounced back from a disappointing defeat in a big way Saturday, rolling to a 78-57 win over Southern California at the Galen Center.

On the heels of a loss Thursday at UCLA, the win provided the 20th-ranked Buffaloes with a critical road trip split as they improved to 17-5 overall and 6-3 in Pac-12 play while USC fell to 17-5, 6-3.

The win pulled the Buffs back into a tie with the Trojans for second in the Pac-12 standings, just a half-game behind Oregon (18-5, 7-3), which lost to Stanford on Saturday.

The Buffs put forth a balanced effort to collect the win, putting four players in double-digit scoring. Tyler Bey led CU with 16 points and seven rebounds while McKinley Wright IV, D'Shawn Schwartz and Lucas Siewert all finished with 12 points. Wright also had eight assists, six rebounds and four steals; Schwartz had four rebounds and Evan Battey had nine points and four rebounds.

The Buffs also received excellent efforts off the bench from Dallas Walton (five points and three rebounds) and Eli Parquet (five points and five rebounds in a career-high 26 minutes), and starter Shane Gatling had seven points, three assists and just one turnover.

Isaiah Mobley led USC with 12 points.

CU finished with a 33-27 edge on the boards and held USC to just 37.9 percent shooting (22-for-58) while Colorado shot 27-for-52 (51.9 percent). The Buffs also limited USC to just 10 second-chance points and six fast break points — a far cry from the combined 40 they gave up to UCLA in those two categories just two nights earlier.

"Again, this team responds," coach Tad Boyle said. "This team has heart, determination - we just need to find more consistency ... When we play with this kind of energy, enthusiasm, attentiveness and toughness, good things can happen."

HOW IT HAPPENED: The Buffs dominated the contest almost from the beginning, using a 13-3 run in the first half to take a 33-24 lead at halftime, then putting together a 13-0 run early in the second half to assume control for good.

The Buffs were solid on both ends of the floor in both big runs. Battey had five straight points in the first half, including his third 3-pointer of the season, while Colorado's defense was holding USC to a 1-for-9 stretch from the floor.

For the game, CU held USC's big three — Nick Rakocovic, Onyeka Okongwu and Jonah Mathews — to just 28 points on 10-for-31 shooting. The three had been averaging more than 41 points per game combined.

The Buffs put the Trojans away for good with a 13-0 run over a six-minute stretch early in the second half. Wright started the surge with a drive to the hoop, Walton hit a 3-pointer from the top and Schwartz then scored six in a row, starting with a ferocious dunk off a feed from Wright after a steal.

Walton then hit two free throws with 11:32 remaining in the game to give CU a 22-point cushion, 50-28, and the Trojans never came closer than 18 again.

Defensively, the Buffs held the Trojans scoreless for 6:30 in the run, and Colorado built the lead to as much as 27 over the final seven minutes. The 21-point final margin of victory was CU's second-largest for a road game in Pac-12 play, surpassed only by a 24-point win at USC (74-50) in 2012.

After falling behind 6-0 early, Colorado caught fire midway through the first half, putting together a 13-3 run that turned a 14-13 deficit into a 26-17 lead. Parquet started the surge with a 3-pointer, Battey added five straight points with a 3-pointer and a turnaround jumper and Schwartz capped the run with three-point play with just more than seven minutes to play.

CU temporarily bumped the lead to 12 with just more than a minute to go on a Bey 3-pointer before the Trojans answered with a Mathews trey to send CU into the locker room at intermission with a 33-24 lead.

BOULDER — It may not have been pretty, but the end result for the Colorado Buffaloes here Thursday was what they needed — a 71-65 win over Cal at the CU Events Center.

The victory, sparked by Tyler Bey's 21-point, 10-rebound double-double, improved the 24th ranked Buffs to 18-5 overall and 7-3 in Pac-12 play, while the Bears — who have yet to win away from home this year — fell to 10-12, 4-5.

The win also lifted the Buffs into a tie with Oregon atop the Pac-12 standings. The Buffs led for more than half the game, but could never put the Bears away until the end. Colorado actually trailed by one, 46-45, with 8:04 to play before finally taking the lead for good down the stretch, thanks to 3-pointers from Bey, Shane Gatling and McKinley Wright IV.

Along with Bey's eighth double-double of the season (27th career), the Buffs also got 17 points, six rebounds and four assists from Wright, and 14 points, four assists and three rebounds from D'Shawn Schwartz. Gatling added eight points and four assists.

Matt Bradley led the Bears with 17 points.

Cal finished the game shooting 55.6 percent from the floor (25-for-45) — the best shooting percentage by a CU opponent this season. The Buffs were 24-for-50, including 13-for-22 in the second half. CU held a comfortable 32-23 edge on the boards and hit 16 of 24 free throws while the Bears were 8-for-17 from the line.

"Not the prettiest win," CU coach Tad Boyle said. "It reminded me of wins we had in November and December, when we weren't very good but we found a way to win the game. We've certainly gotten better since then. The sign of a somber locker room after a league win tells us that we have pretty high expectations of ourselves."

HOW IT HAPPENED: The Buffs were indeed not at their best, allowing Cal to tie its first six shots of the night as the Bears jumped out to a 15-11 lead. After a stretch that saw the Buffs miss seven straight field goal tries, they finally found the bottom of the net and managed to take a 28-28 tie into the locker room at intermission.

While the Buffs were just 11-for-28 from the floor in the first half, the Bears were 12-for-19.

"Our first-half defense was terrible," Wright said. "That's an area we have to be more locked in."

EUGENE, Ore. — Colorado played well enough to win for 35 minutes Thursday, but couldn't hold the lead down the stretch as Oregon rallied for a 68-60 win over the Buffaloes at Matthew Knight Arena.

The loss allowed the Ducks to pull into a tie with Colorado for the Pac-12 lead, as CU dropped to 19-6 overall and 8-4 in Pac-12 play while Oregon improved to 19-6, 8-4.

Colorado led by as much as 14 in the first half, thanks to a 20-0 run, and still had a nine-point cushion at intermission. But the Ducks whittled away at the lead in the second half by taking advantage of some costly CU turnovers, and outscored Colorado 15-2 over the last five minutes of the game for the win.

Evan Battey finished with a 14-point, 11-rebound double-double for the Buffs, his fourth of the year. D'Shawn Schwartz added 14 points and five rebounds, Shane Gatling chipped in 11 points and McKinley Wright IV had eight points, five assists and four rebounds.

Will Richardson led Oregon with 21 points and nine rebounds and Peyton Pritchard had a 15-point, 11-rebound double-double for the Ducks.

The big difference in the game was turnovers. Colorado committed 18 miscues in the game — CU's most in Pac-12 play this year — including nine in the second half. The Ducks had just 10 turnovers and only two in the second half, leading to a 16-5 edge in points off turnovers.

Both teams shot just under 40 percent for the game, with CU shooting 23-for-59 and the Ducks 24-for-61. But Colorado was just 9-for-30 from the floor in the second half while Oregon was 14-for-30, with five 3-pointers after intermission.

CU won the rebound battle, 38-35, but the Ducks were better at making their offensive rebounds count, collecting a 20-14 edge in second-chance points.

Colorado also shot just six free throws — a season low — and connected on four while the Ducks were 12-for-16 from the line.

HOW IT HAPPENED: After a slow start against Oregon's matchup zone, the Buffs trailed, 16-10, less than nine minutes into the game.

But midway through the half, the Buffs ramped up their offense and dialed in on defense, putting together a 20-0 run to take a 30-16 lead with 3:48 to play. Wright scored the first five points of the run with a 3-pointer and step-back 2-point bucket, and Lucas Siewert, Gatling and Schwartz also added 3-pointers.

CU's defense, meanwhile, held the Ducks scoreless for almost eight minutes in the stretch, as the Ducks missed 11 consecutive field goal tries. Oregon finally ended the drought on a Chris Duarte bucket and free throw, but Colorado still took a 35-26 lead into intermission.

CU held Pritchard to just seven points in the first half and Richardson to only four, as Oregon shot just 32.3 percent from the field.

But Oregon's defense began to take its toll after halftime. The Buffs struggled to find open shots and had three shot clock violations in the second half, along with several possessions that ended in last-second attempts from long range.

At the same time, the Ducks slowly found their shooting eyes. Colorado still led by nine, 49-40, at the 12:14 mark after 3-pointers from Schwartz and Siewert, but the Ducks put together a 9-2 run to close the gap to two, 51-49, with just under 10 minutes to play.

CU then managed to push the lead back to five after a pair of Battey baskets, and still led 58-53 with under five minutes to play after a Schwartz 3-point play.

But Pritchard hit a 3-pointer with 4:38 to go, the beginning of an Oregon 15-2 run to close the game. Richardson's 21 points were more than double his season average, with 17 coming in the second half while Pritchard had eight points, eight rebounds and six assists in the second half.

CU, meanwhile, struggled offensively, especially in the final five minutes. Colorado missed seven straight shots in a 12-0 Oregon run, part of the 15-2 Oregon closing surge, and Wright and Tyler Bey were both held scoreless after intermission. Bey finished with four points and eight rebounds.

BOULDER — A second-half drought doomed Colorado here Saturday, as the Buffaloes couldn't protect a nine-point lead and UCLA took a 70-63 win before a sold-out crowd of 11,214 at the CU Events Center.

The No. 18/17 Buffaloes fell to 21-7 overall and 10-5 in Pac-12 play while UCLA improved to 17-11 and 10-5.

The Buffs held a 50-41 lead with 12:34 to play, but the Bruins put together a 20-3 run over the next nine minutes to take a 61-53 edge and the Buffs never recovered. CU went more than seven minutes without scoring and nearly 10 minutes without a field goal in the stretch, and while the Buffs did manage to pull back within three in the final two minutes, it was as close as they could come.

McKinley Wright IV led CU with 20 points, seven rebounds and four assists. Tyler Bey added 13 points and six rebounds and Evan Battey had 11 points and seven rebounds.

Cody Riley led UCLA with 16 points and Tyger Campbell had 15.

The Buffs held the Bruins to 40 percent shooting in the first half, but allowed UCLA to shoot 56.3 percent after intermission (18-for-32). Colorado also dominated the paint in the first half, outscoring the Bruins 20-8, but UCLA had a 28-16 edge in the paint in the second half.

"Credit to UCLA, they deserved to win this game," an obviously disappointed CU coach Tad Boyle said. "They were the tougher team. In the second half they made down the stretch that needed to be made and we didn't."

The Buffs did win the rebound battle, 35-31, but they also finished with 10 turnovers to UCLA's seven, and the Bruins did not have a turnover in the second half.

HOW IT HAPPENED: After struggling early, Colorado led by three at the half and pushed the margin to nine soon after intermission. A Shane Gatling 3-pointer gave CU a 41-32 lead with 16:11 to play, and the Buffs maintained their edge over the next four minutes, taking a 50-41 lead after a Wright layup with 12:34 on the clock.

But that proved to be the beginning of the end for the Buffs. Following a timeout, the Bruins started a 14-0 run, part of the decisive 20-3 surge. The Buffs missed their next 10 field goal tries after Wright's layup, and added three turnovers as well.

The Bruins, meanwhile, hit their first four shots for a 9-0 run, then five of seven after two misses.

The Buffs finally ended their field goal drought with back-to-back buckets from Wright and Bey to cut the UCLA lead to four, 61-57, with 1:58 to play before the Bruins got two Tyger Campbell free throws. Wright then drained a pair of 3-pointers, sandwiched around a UCLA try, to pull the Buffs within three, 66-63, with 46.9 seconds to play.

But the Bruins got a Riley bucket coming out of a timeout and CU missed on its next trip down the floor, forcing the Buffs to foul and Chris Smith hit two free throws to close out the game.

The Buffs finished with just 10 free throw attempts — less than half of their season average per game — and made eight. UCLA was 6-for-11 from the line.

The Buffs started slowly while the Bruins hit five of their first seven field goal tries and held an 11-6 lead five minutes in.

But Colorado slowly chipped away at the lead, then used a 9-0 run to take a 23-17 lead with 5:07 left in the half. Dallas Walton started the run with a 3-pointer from the top of the key, Battey added four in the run and Gatling had a beautiful drive under the bucket and reverse layup. Colorado then pushed the lead to 25-18 on a pair of Wright free throws.

Defensively, the Buffs recorded five consecutive stops in the run and held the Bruins without a field goal for 5:25.

But the Bruins finally ended the drought, closing CU's lead to 29-26 by half-time.

BERKELEY, Calif. — Nothing went right for Colorado here Thursday, as the cold-shooting Buffaloes fell behind by 12 at the half and never recovered in a 76-62 loss to California at Haas Pavilion.

The Buffaloes' second straight defeat — only their second two-game losing streak of the season and first in Pac-12 play — dropped CU to 21-8 overall and 10-6 in Pac-12 play. Cal improved to 12-16, 6-9.

Just one week ago, the Buffs were alone atop the Pac-12 standings. Now, after losses to UCLA and Cal, Colorado is in danger of slipping out of the league's top four and losing the first round conference tournament bye that goes with that finish.

McKinley Wright IV led the Buffs with 18 points, six rebounds and four assists, Tyler Bey added 13 points and five rebounds and Lucas Siewert scored 11. Cal's Matt Bradley finished with a career-high tying 26 points that included a 5-for-7 night from 3-point range, and the 76 points were Cal's season high in Pac-12 play.

The Buffs struggled all night from the floor. CU entered the game as the league's best 3-point shooting team in Pac-12 play, but finished just 6-for-29 from beyond the arc (20.7 percent), including a dismal 3-for-20 in the second half. Cal — one of the league's worst-shooting teams — shot 46.3 percent from the floor (25-for-54), including 9-for-20 from 3-point range.

Colorado committed just 11 turnovers in the game, but those led to a 21-5 Cal edge in points off turnovers.

HOW IT HAPPENED: After a slow start to open the game, the Buffs actually rallied to go ahead in the first half, coming back from an early 15-8 deficit to take a 23-21 lead with 8:45 to play in the half. Evan Battey hit a 3-pointer from the top of the key and Siewert had a pair of treys in a 15-6 CU run, with Siewert's second 3-pointer giving the Buffs their first lead of the game.

But the Buffs didn't have much time to enjoy their lead. Bradley — who had 17 points in the first half — answered Siewert's 3-pointer with one of his own, the beginning of a 17-3 Cal run to close the half. Bradley added two more 3-pointers in the surge, and also hit two free throws after a technical foul on Tad Boyle, who was protesting an offensive foul call on Wright. The foul, Wright's second of the half, brought him to the bench with 4:29 remaining in the half, and the Buffs trailed 38-26 at intermission.

The Buffs hurt themselves in Cal's closing run, fouling Bradley on a made 3-pointer, giving him a free throw for a four-point play. According to Boyle, it was the 13th time this year the Buffs have fouled a 3-point shooter.

The Bears entered the game as the Pac-12's lowest scoring team in conference play (59.3 points per game) and with the second-worst shooting percentage and 3-point percentage. But they finished 46.3 percent from the floor overall and 45.0 percent from 3-point range — their second good shooting performance against CU this season.

The Buffs did manage to cut the 12-point halftime deficit down to seven midway through the second half when a Maddox Daniels 3-pointer pulled CU to within 47-40 with 11:32 to play.

But the Bears quickly answered with a 9-0 run to push their lead back to 16 and Colorado never cut the deficit back to single digits again.

While Wright and Bey did combine to shoot a combined 13-for-21 from the floor, their other four leaders in minutes played — Siewert, Evan Battey, Shane Gatling and D'Shawn Schwartz — shot just 8-for-32, with Schwartz enduring an 0-for-8 night.

The Buffs attempted just nine free throws and made six, the fourth time in the last five games they have attempted 10 or fewer free throws. After averaging more than 22 free throws a game for the first 24 games of the year, they have averaged just 11 tries per game over the last five.
