HEAD COACH RICHARD ROKOS

Eight NCAA Championships
15 NCAA West Regional Championships
236 All-Americans
43 Individual National Champions

Richard Rokos and Colorado Skiing. Now entering his 31st season as the University of Colorado's head coach and his 35th overall at the school, you can't think of one without the other, not to mention that the combination has been synonymous with success.

When he was promoted to head coach on July 3, 1990, the process to return a program that was eight years removed from an NCAA title back to national prominence took its first step. Twenty-five seasons, eight national championships, 42 individual champions and 225 All-Americans later, it is once again the premier ski program in the nation.

Rokos, 70, is the 11th and longest tenured head coach in CU ski history, has guided Colorado to eight NCAA titles, claiming the crowns in 1991, 1995, 1998, 1999, 2006, 2011, 2013 and 2015. In addition, his Buffaloes have won individual titles (43 total) in 19 different years. That first team title came in his first season as head coach, a unique accomplishment in any sport, and served as a bookend for the school as it came on the heels of CU's first in football.

Only two coaches in CU history coached their teams longer than Rokos has been at the reins of the ski team: Frank Potts (41 seasons, cross country and track) and Charles Vavra (32 seasons, men's gymnastics). In 2019-20, Rokos surpassed Les Fowler and Mark Simpson, both of whom coached the men's golf team 29 seasons. Rokos' teams have qualified for the NCAA Championships 29 times, the second most by any coach in school history.

He has also coached the Buffs to 14 Rocky Mountain Intercollegiate Ski Association (RMISA) titles, events that also serve as the NCAA West Regional, as well as 11 runner-up finishes.

His skiers, alpine and Nordic, have posted 345 top 10 finishes at the NCAA Championships; that total includes 146 first-team All-Americans, with 42 earning two-time single-year All-American mention, and 93 second-team All-Americans. Academically, the skiers have boasted grade point averages that are always at or near the top of all of CU's 17 varsity sports programs, often in excess of 3.5. His teams have placed 311 student-athletes on the NCAA Skiing All-Academic Team, the equivalent of Academic All-America.

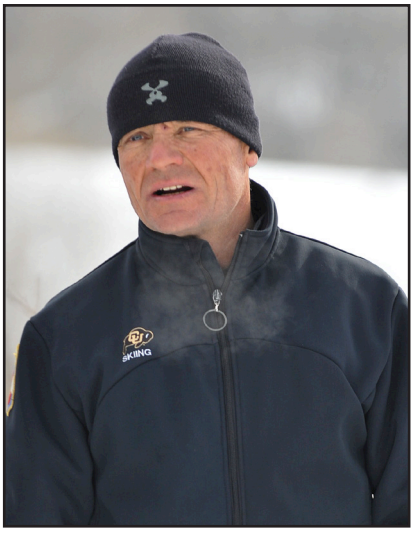

Under Rokos, the Buffaloes have won 73 of 183 meets they have skied in, including the eight NCAA crowns and the 14 RMISA Championships/NCAA West Regionals (1991, 1993, 1994, 1995, 1998, 1999, 2002, 2006, 2008, 2010, 2011, 2013, 2015 and 2017). On 61 other occasions, CU has finished as the runner-up. That's an amazing 75 percent of the time CU has finished in the top two as (the Buffs have just four finishes outside of the top four).

Though he has been notified on nine different occasions that he was the selection for the RMISA coach of the year, the last time for 2015, Rokos declines the honor for personal reasons, mainly that he doesn't believe in the philosophy and that the student-athletes deserve the credit. He has been named the United States Collegiate Ski Coaches Association National Coach of the Year on five occasions, last in 2015.

One of Rokos' greatest accomplishments since taking over the program has been turning what was once essentially an individual sport, pulling divergent skiers—men and women, Nordic and Alpine, into a team event at CU. Prior to his arrival, the two units rarely saw each other prior to the national championships, as they trained and raced separately. But it was his philosophy, to be an educator as well as a coach, to understand the physical and psychological significance of a student-athlete and to introduce harmony and mutual support that has made it a more unified program. Credit Rokos himself for the strong camaraderie because there is very little that he asks of his skiers that he doesn't do himself. That includes 6 a.m. ice hockey games, off-season dryland training, mountain bike rides from Boulder to Winter Park and back, hiking Pikes Peak, playing soccer and rollerblading through Boulder.

Rokos, who also coordinates all alpine aspects of the program, was already very familiar with the CU ski program upon his hiring, as he was promoted from alpine coordinator to the post. He served one season (1989-90) in that role under his predecessor as head coach, Tim LaVallee, and was the head coach of Colorado's Alpine "B" Team for the two years prior to joining the varsity staff (1987-89). With Rokos tutoring the alpine skiers, the 1990 team finished third in both the West Regional and the NCAA championships, with one individual national champion in the latter.

Rokos brought to CU a great amount of racing and coaching experience. He competed in his native home of Czechoslovakia and internationally for 19 years before beginning his coaching career with the Czechoslovakian Junior National Team in 1977. The year prior to joining the junior national team, Rokos graduated from the University of Masaryk with a masters' degree in physical education, his emphasis in his diploma work was the use of ski slopes with artificial surfaces for slalom and giant slalom practice.

In 1969 he earned his bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from the College of Machiner. He has additional course work in Prague (Level II International Coaching License), Colorado State (athletic training) and the University of Colorado (special education).

Leaving the Czech national team in 1980, Rokos went on to coach at several ski schools in Austria before finally coming to the United States to coach at the Grampian Mountain Ski School in Michigan the following year. He then spent four years (1984-87) working with the U.S. Pro Ski Tour before settling down in Boulder.

Dating back to 1995, Rokos has served as the Chief of the U.S. Alpine delegation for the World University Games (WUG) on nine occasions. He has handled what are essentially the head coaching duties for the alpine team in 1995 (Jaca, Spain), 1997 (Mugu, South Korea), 2001 (Zakopane, Poland), 2003 (Tarvisio, Italy), 2005 (Innsbruck, Austria), 2007 (Turin, Italy), 2011 (Erzurum, Turkey), 2013 (Trentino, Italy) and 2015 (Granada, Spain). The U.S. athletes have brought home several medals (gold, silver and bronze) under his direction, including four by CU skiers: gold medals by Thea Grosvold (slalom, 2015), Erika Ghent (combined classification, 2011) and Katie Hartman (Super-G, 2011) and a bronze by Erika Hogan (slalom, 2003). He was also the head coach of the entire U.S. Team in the 1997 event in South Korea.

In 2013, he was inducted into the Colorado Ski & Snowboard Hall of Fame for his accomplishments in his two-plus decades as CU's head coach. He joined several former Buffs in the Hall, in which he was the 200th person enshrined.

In 2006, he earned a "Top of the Rocky Award" as the region's top college coach as selected by the writers and critics of the Rocky Mountain News. The honor made mention of CU being the first-ever shorthanded team to win an NCAA title, recording the biggest second-day comeback in the meet, and Rokos specifically being mentioned by President George W. Bush when the Buffs were one of 12 teams invited to the White House. Rokos was saluted by the president, who called him a "proud American" in reference to his defecting to the States for freedom, which he also privately had mentioned upon meeting him, "There's nothing like freedom."

He was also selected as the 2006 Coach of the Year in the state of Colorado by the Sportswomen of Colorado Hall of Fame.

Rokos was born May 25, 1950 in Brno, Czechoslovakia. He and his wife, the former Helena Konecny, and then-18-month-old daughter Linda, left a communist-bound native homeland in 1980 for Austria where they spent a year preparing their visas, and defected from Czechoslovakia to the United States (Detroit) a year later before calling Colorado their permanent home beginning in 1982. He and Helena are the parents of two grown children Linda, now an alpine instructor at Eldora and Thomas, and one grandchild, Stella, who is also an avid skier.

NORDIC COACH JANA WEINBERGER

The 2021 ski season will be the 18th season Jana Weinberg has been affiliated with the Colorado Buffaloes and it marks her third season in charge of the Nordic team. Weinberger was promoted into the role of head Nordic coach for the Buffaloes on July 31, 2018 after she had served as the assistant Nordic coach at CU for the previous 11 seasons. She was also a two-time NCAA individual champion skier herself at CU from 2003-06.

In her first two seasons as the head Nordic coach, Weinberger has coached six Buffs to a total of nine All-America honors with one individual NCAA Championship (Erik Dengerud in 2019). In the past two seasons, the Buffs have 98 Top 10 performances and eight race victories, including freshman Magnus Boee's three in 2020.

In her 11 seasons as an assistant under Bruce Cranmer, the duo put together the top Nordic program in the country. In her tenure, Colorado finished first or second in the Nordic points standings at the NCAA Championships eight times and in five of those seasons CU won the mythical Nordic national championship (2008, 2010, 2011, 2013 and 2015).

In all, Weinberger has helped guide a total of 19 different skiers to 94 race victories and she coached 10 different Buffs who have won a combined 15 NCAA individual national titles. Additionally, she has seen 22 different Nordic skiers garner a combined 54 first-team All-America honors.

As a skier, Weinberger raced 28 collegiate races, claiming 27 top 10 and 23 top five finishes. As a senior in 2006, she captained the national championship team and herself swept six consecutive races, including winning the individual titles in both the freestyle and classical events at the NCAA Championships. She is a member of the school's Athletic Hall of Fame, having been inducted in the fall of 2019.

She is one of four Nordic athletes in school history that have swept the NCAA Nordic titles in the same year, and she has coached two of the other three. Petra Hyncicova swept the NCAA titles in 2017 and Mads Stroem did so in 2016.

Hyncicova and Stroem excelled under Weinberger's tutelage. Hyncicova, the 2017 national Nordic skier of the year, went on to compete in the 2018 Winter Olympics for her home country, the Czech Republic. Stroem won three total NCAA titles under Weinberger and was an eight-time All-American (seven first-team honors), tying the program record for most All-America honors and first-team accolades in a career.

Of the 15 individual NCAA titles that have been won by Buffs during her coaching tenure, six have been males and three females. Four of the skiers have won multiple national titles (Stroem 3, Maria Grevsgaard 2, Hyncicova 2 and Rune Oedegaard 2).

As a result of Weinberger's performance in 2006, she was awarded the Dick Schoenberger Memorial Award, presented to CU's most outstanding skier each season. When she won a pair of All-America citations in 2004, she became just the sixth women's cross country skier to accomplish that feat and first since former teammate and former assistant coach Mari Storeng in 2001. Weinberger was also the recipient of the Outstanding Nordic Woman award in both 2003 and '04.

Prior to her collegiate career, she skied for the Tartu Ski Club in Estonia. She also competed in basketball and track & field at Estonia Sport Gymnasium.

Born July 27, 1979 in Russia, she was raised in Estonia. The former Jana Rehemaa is the daughter of Udo and Veir Rehemaa. She graduated from the University of Colorado in 2006 with a degree in international affairs. She is married to former CU All-American and her predecessor as the assistant Nordic Coach, Dan Weinberger, and the couple has three children, Klara, Alexander and William.

One of two children of Udo and Veira Rehemaa, her younger borther, Aivar, was a world junior Nordic champion. Her aunt, Rutt Rehemaa, was one of the top female Nordic racers ever in Estonia and later became a famous sports personality while her uncle was her long-time coach before she came to race for Colorado. She had skied for the Tartu Ski Club in Estonia with her first cousin, Katrin Smigun, who won the 2003 NCAA freestyle championship while skiing for the University of Utah.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Austin Caldwell

Assistant Nordic Coach

Austin Caldwell, a former team captain of the Dartmouth Nordic ski team, was named the assistant Nordic coach in August 2018 and enters his third season on the Buffs staff for the 2020 season. Caldwell replaces Jana Weinberger, who was promoted to head Nordic coach after the retirement of long-time Nordic coach Bruce Cranmer.

In Caldwell's two seasons, the Buffs captured one individual NCAA Title (Erik Dengerud in 2019) and six skiers have earned All-America honors, including three first-team honors from three different skiers. In all for his first two seaseons, five Buffs won a total of eight races and overall the Buffs have 98 Top 10 finishes.

Caldwell graduated from Dartmouth with a Bachelor of Arts in History in 2015, where he was a member of the Nordic ski team. He was a captain his last year there and also earned mention on the National Collegiate All-Academic Ski Team.

After graduating from Dartmouth, he went directly into coaching, working at the Putney Ski Club as the youth team coach in 2015-16. During that time, he also worked for Caldwell Sport as a wax technician and Nordic ski stone grinder. For the past two years, he has been the Elite and Post Graduate coach at the Bridger Ski Foundation in Bozeman, Mont.

At Bridger, on top of creating training plans, he was in charge of waxing and ski selection for both the elite and junior program skiers and he coached and waxed for national champions and Super Tour winners. He was also the waxing technician for the Ski Tour Canada World Cups in 2016.

Born March 25, 1992, in Peru, Vt., to Severre and Lilly Caldwell. Sverre is the Nordic program director at Stratton Mountain School and has been named the USSA Domestic Coach of the Year four times. His sister, Sophie, is a two-time Olympian and was a five-time All-American Nordic skier at Dartmouth. Aside from skiing, his hobbies including traveling, basketball and board games. His Vermont roots make him a self-proclaimed maple syrup snob

Stefan Hughes

Assistant Alpine Coach

Stefan Hughes, a two-time All-American alpine skier for the Buffaloes from 2007-10, returned to his alma mater as the assistant alpine coach in 2018 and enters his fourth season on the skiing staff.

In Hughes' first three years, eight Buffs have earned earned 13 All-America honors in alpine action at the NCAA Championships, including Ola Johansen earning first-team All-America honors in the GS with a third place finish in 2019 and Mikaela Tommy with a pair of top five and first-team All-America finishes in 2019. Filip Forjtek followed that up with a second place finish in the GS in 2020. Six skiers have won races in the last three seasons a total of 19 times. In all, the alpine skiers racked up 131 top 10 finishes in the past three seasons.

After graduating from CU in 2010 with a Bachelor of Arts in film studies, Hughes spent eight years as a ski coach across the globe.

His first coaching job came right out of college in 2010, when he was a FIS Alpine Ski Racing Coach for the British Junior National Ski Team.

After one season there, he moved back to Colorado to work at the Winter Park Competition Center as a U21 post-graduate coach from 2010-11.

Hughes spent the next four years coaching at the Ski and Snowboard Club in Vail, Colo., before going to work privately in the event production field the year before coming back to CU.

Born June 6, 1986 in Rutland, Vt., Hughes and his wife, the former Lleane Grimditch, have one daughter, Gioia, born last July. The couple had head coach Richard Rokos serve as the officiant at their wedding. Lleane played soccer at the University of Denver from 2003-07 and now owns Whole Pets store in Boulder. His sister-in-law, Lauren Grimditch, was an alpine skier at Colorado from 1990-94 and was a part of Rokos' 1991 national championship team.

He is the son of Chuck and Betty Hughes, and has two older siblings, Tyler and Megan, who were also accomplished skiers.

Ivy Eski

Women's Nordic • 5-8 • Fr. • HS
Anchorage, Alaska (West Anchorage/Team Alaska)

Prior To CU—She has been a member of the Alaska Pacific University Nordic Ski Team for the past seven years and a member of Team Alaska for the last three years. In 2020, she won the Besh Cup, a series of six races throughout the season for U18 skiers in Alaska. In 2019, she placed second in the Besh Cup. She skied at the U.S. National Championships in 2018 at Kincaid Park, participating in both the freestyle spring and 10K freestyle races. From 2018-20, she had eight top 30 finishes in FIS-sanctioned races.

High School—Eski graduated from West Anchorage High School in 2020. West Anchorage won three State Championships in her time there, her freshman through junior seasons, and took third her senior year with a much younger team than previous years. She played third at the Alaska State Championships as a junior and fourth as a senior. She was named the MVP of the ski team as a senior, when she also placed second in REgionals. West Anchorage had the fastest female cross country team in the nation for three years ina row.

In The Classroom—She is interested in majoring in Integrative Physiology at Colorado and would like to be a Physical Therapist. She was a member of the National Honors Society, in the Highly Gifted program and on the Honor Roll every semester in high school.

Personal—Ivy Catherine Eski was born July 4, 2002, in Anchorage, Alaska. Her parents are Wayne and Joey Eski. She has two younger brothers, Ethan and Luca, both also Nordic skiers. Her hobbies include mountain biking, running in the mountains and spending time outside with family and friends. She enjoys reading, listening to music, watching Netflix and getting chai tea and frozen yogurt with friends. She volunteered as a part of the National Honors Society and also volunteered for local kids clubs in Anchorage, coaching mountain biking, downhill skiing and Nordic skiing. She has helped with trail maintenance to keep the trails in Anchorage clean and usable.

Why Colorado?—"I have always thought Colorado, Boulder specifically, was a beautiful place with lots to do. It reminds me of a warmer version of my home in Anchorage with mountains and endless adventures. I wanted to leave Alaska for college, but couldn't live without the mountains, and Colorado seemed like the perfect place for me."

Louis Fausa

Men's Alpine • 5-10 • Fr. • HS
Oslo, Norway (Donski Videregaende Skole/Heming IL)

Prior To CU—Fausa competed for Heming IL out of Oslo. He's competed in 13 continental cup races, including four European Cup and nine Nor-Am Cup starts. He has two top 20 finishes in Nor-Am Cup races, both slalom, taking 15th at Burke Mountain and 16th in Nakiska in 2019. He has competed in National Championships in Norway, Austria and Sweden, with his best performance at the 2019 Norwegain National Championships where he took sixth in the slalom, 11th in the GS, 19thin the downhill and seventh in alpine combined. He was also 18th in the slalom at the 2017 Norwegian Championships in Narvik. Since 2017, he has 32 top 10 finishes in FIS races with six podiums, which include two wins and one second place finish. He won the GS at Oppdal, Norway, in 2019 and the slalom at Raudalen, Norway, in 2020.

High School—Fausa graduated from Donski Videregaende Skole in Baerum, Norway, in 2019.

In The Classroom—Fausa intends to enter the Leeds School of Business and is interested in Business Administration and Management.

Personal—Louis Fausa was born May 4, 2000, in Oslo. His parents are Gunnar and Inger Margrethe Fausa. He has one older sister, Chloe, and a twin sister, Lisette. Chloe skied for the University of Utah, helping the Utes to the 2017 National Championship and was a member of the Norwegian National Team. His hobbies include traveling and playing soccer.

Why Colorado?—"I chose Colorado because it has the perfect combination of a great ski team and recognized business school. I am also excited for all the outdoor activities available and exploring the town of Boulder."

KATIE FLECKENSTEIN & OYVIND HAUGEN

Katie Fleckenstein

Women's Alpine • 5-8 • Fr. • HS
Whistler, British Columbia (Rockridge Secondary/Whistler Ski Club)

Prior To CU—Fleckenstein skied for Whistler Mountain Ski Club, the Green Mountain Valley School and Team X Alpine. She had 25 starts on the Nor-Am Cup from 2017-20, finishing 16 of those races with seven top 20 performances with her best results coming at Kimberely in 2018 when she finished 15th in a Super G, 17th in GS and 17th in Alpine Combined. Her best slalom finish on the Nor-Am circuit is a 16th place finish at Whiteface Mountain in 2018. She participated in the Canadian National Championships in 2016 and '18 and in seven starts, she has six top 20, three top 10 and one podium. She finished third in the downhill in 2016 in Whistler, when she also finished ninth in alpine combined, 12th in Super G, 19th in slalom and 25th in GS. In 2018, she took seventh in GS and 11th in slalom. Her first FIS was in Nakiska in 2015 where she won her first FIS race, a downhill, and followed that up with a second place showing in another downhill the following day. In FIS races, she has 38 top 10 finishes with 14 podium appearances including five wins, five runner-ups and four third place finishes.

High School—Fleckenstein graduated from Rockridge Secondary in West Vancouver, British Columbia, in 2017.

In The Classroom—She is interested in studying Psychology at Colorado. At Rockridge Secondary, she was given Honours with Distinction from 2013-15 and Honours in 2017.

Personal—Katie Fleckenstein was born July 22, 1999, in North Vancouver, Canada. Her parents are Steve and Sheryl Fleckenstein. She has one older sister, Katie, a junior on the CU Ski Team. Her dad was an Olympic sailer and her mom was a professional mountain biker. She wants to study Psychology because she's interested in all aspects of the brain after suffering a traumatic brain injury a couple of years ago. She'd like to work with athletes either training or being a team psychologist once she retires from racing full time. She enjoys biking, hiking, painting, beading, playing the ukulele (she can play Iron Man by Black Sabbath) and exploring. She has volunteered at Whistler Mountain Ski Club when she was out with injuries in the 2016-17 and 2018-19 seasons.

Why Colorado?—"I chose Colorado because I love the mountains and the overall vibe of Boulder!"

Andrea Arnold

5-4 • Senior • 2L

Boulder, Colo. (Middle Park/Winter Park Competition Center)

Career—Arnold finished her career skiing in 39 of a possible 48 races and finishing 30 of them with 24 top 20 and six top 10 performances. A total of 14 of her 24 top 20 finishes came in GS with 10 coming in slalom while her six top 10 finishes are split evenly, three each in giant slalom and slalom. After having a spell of the DNFs as a freshman and suffering through injuries as a sophomore, she finished 21 of 24 races as an upperclassmen with all six top 10 and 19 of her 24 top 20 finishes over the past two seasons.

2020 (Junior)—Arnold finished 10 of 12 races in 2020 with nine of those 10 races coming in the top 20 and six in the top 15. She finished all six slalom races, five in the top 20. Her two top 10 finishes were both in slalom as she took ninth in the slalom for the DU Invitational in Aspen and 10th for the CU Invitational slalom at Eldora. Her top GS runs were the first two of the season, 15th at the DU meet and 14th at the CU meet. At both the CU and DU meets, she finished as one of the top three skiers from CU, scoring in all four races for the team. She was CU's second-best finisher four times and third-best twice, earning her second career letter award. She also earned CU's Academic Student-Athlete of the Month in November just prior to the start of the season.

2019 (Sophomore-RS)—Coming back from a back injury that cost her most of her sophomore season, Arnold wasted little time in showing solid improvement in 2019. Her improvement was evident throughout the season as she culminated her junior season by finishing her career best in both slalom and GS at the RMISA Championships She finished eighth in the GS and 10th in the slalom at the RMISA Championships, her first career top 10 in slalom. She opened the season with a 15th place finish in the RMISA Alpine Qualifier #1 at Eldora, marking her career best finish in GS, and then bettered that with a pair of 10th place finishes, her first two career

Regional Championships. After the end of the collegiate season she won a FIS race at the Western Region Open held at Sun Valley Resort. She took first in the GS on March 26, one day after placing second in another GS race.

Prior to CU—She has been a member of the Winter Park Competition Center since 2004 and has also been a member of the Czech Ski Team since 2015, competing in the Junior World Championships and the Youth Olympic Games. In April of 2016 she finished third in the Super G at Whistler. She was the Colorado Ski Cup winner in both 2013-14 and 2014-15 in the slalom and giant slalom and from 2015-16 she had five first place finishes (three in giant slalom and two in the slalom), along with three second place finishes (two Super G and one slalom) in the Colorado Ski Cup. At the 2015 Junior World Championships in the under 18 category she finished fourth in both the Super G and Alpine Combined. In the 2016 Youth Olympic Games she finished 18th in the Super G.

High School—Arnold graduated from Middle Park High School in Granby, Colo. in June of 2016. She was a member of the honor roll in high school.
In the Classroom—Arnold is majoring in Integrative Physiology at Colorado while also pursuing a minor in Spanish.

Personal—Andrea Arnold was born on Aug. 4, 1998 in Boulder, Colo. She is the only child of Ivana and Landis Arnold. Her father is a marketing manager and mother is a ski coach. Her hobbies include camping, traveling and riding horses. She is trilingual - fluent in Czech, English and Spanish - Czech was her first language as she is a dual citizen (Czech and American). After college, she would like to become a physician's assistant and one of the reasons she chose to attend the University of Colorado was because of its integrative physiology program in addition to the skiing program and being close to home.

ISABELLE FIDJELAND

Isabelle Fidjeland

5-8 • Senior • 2L

Kristiansand, Norway (NTG Gelio/Norwegian Junior National Team)

Career—She was hit by the injury bug and some back luck throughout her career, skiing in just 24 of a possible 52 races in her career. She finished 16 of those 24 races with 12 top 20 and three top 10 finishes. Seven of her 12 top 20s and two of her three top 10s came in slalom action. She missed the first 10 races of her freshman year after injuring her knee being hit by a car on her bike just a few weeks before the start of the collegiate season. She rebounded that season to ski at the NCAA Championships, which she did twice in her career, also as a sophomore but not after being hampered by a FIS points penalty. She then injured her back just prior to the start of her junior season, missing all of 2019 and re-aggravated that injury before the start of the 2020 season. She did rebound to ski at the RMISA Championships in 2020.

2020 (Junior-RS)—Fidjeland re-injured her back prior to the start of the 2020 season and missed the first nine races of the season. She did travel to the Utah series and then skied for the first time since 2018 at the RMISA Championships. She finished 14th in the RMISA Qualifier GS race just ahead of the championships and then also took 14th in the GS race that was part of RMISA Championships in Bozeman, scoring for the team. In all, she started three of a possible 12 races, finishing two with two top 20 (both 14th) finishes.

2019 (Junior)—Fidjeland did not see the slopes for the 2019 collegiate season as she injured herself in a race just days before the start of the collegiate season. She did have a ninth place finish in a slalom race in December at Steamboat Springs. She was given the school's Clancy A. Herbst, Jr., Student-Athlete Achievement Award by CU's academic staff for her ability to overcome personal, academic or emotional challenges to succeed both academically and athletically.

2017 (Freshman)—She missed most all of fall training after sustaining a knee injury from being hit by a car while riding her bike in October … Healed in time to earn her first letter as a Buff after competing in the RMISA and NCAA Championships ... At the RMISA Championships she was a pleasant surprise by finishing in 10th place in both the slalom and giant slalom races, helping the Buffs win their 28th RMISA title ... Then at the NCAA Championships, she placed 17th in the giant slalom and 21st in the slalom …. Had moved up 15 spots from her bib seed of 32 in the GS and 11 spots from her 32 bib seed in the slalom; impressive NCAA finishes given her low seeding after not having many qualifying points because of her injury at the start of the year ... At the team's end-of-the-season banquet she was presented with the Lucie Hanusova Award, which has been given every season since 1999 and is given to the team member or members who overcomes adversity and challenges with smiles and enthusiasm.

Prior to CU—She skied for the Hovden Sportsclub for her entire career before Colorado and for the Norwegian National Junior Team from 2014-15 … Battled through two injuries (knee and back) before coming to CU and missed most of the 2015 or 2016 seasons ... From 2012-2014 she won seven races; five were FIS races held in Sweden or Norway (four in the giant slalom, one in the slalom), won the 2014 Norwegian National Senior Championship in the giant slalom and the 2013 Norwegian Junior Championship in the slalom ... In her FIS racing career before coming to CU, she has earned 16 podium finishes, and she also won four medals competing in the national championships ... She entered college with 26.93 FIS points in the giant slalom and 36.19 in the slalom.

High School—She graduated from Norges Toppidrettsgymnas Geilo located in Geilo, Norway in June 2016 ... Was named the Student-Athlete of the Year for 2014-15, as she had the best results in high school.

In The Classroom—She is majoring in strategic communications at Colorado and also pursuing in a minor in Sociology.

Personal—She was born on Dec. 21, 1996 in Kristiansand, Norway to parents Ole Petter and Julika Fidjeland ... Her father is a ski coach and mother is a fashion designer ... Has one older brother, Alexander … Hobbies include training and wind-surfing.

STEF FLECKENSTEIN

Stef Fleckenstein

5-8 • Junior • 2L

Whitsler, British Columbia (Rockridge Secondary/Canadian National Team)

Career—A consistently high finisher that's turned into one of the best women's alpine skiers in the country, Fleckenstein took a solid freshman season and made a significant jump her sophomore campaign. She has competed in all 27 possible races in two seasons, finishing 22 of those races with 21 top 20, 18 top 10 and 10 top five finishes including six podium appearances and one race victory. An All-American and first-team All-RMISA skier, she entered CU better in the GS but has been equally impressive in slalom. Of her 21 top 20s, 11 have been in GS and 10 in slalom, of her 18 top 10s, nine have come in each discipline and in her 10 top five finishes, six have come in GS while her win was a slalom.

2020 (Sophomore)—Fleckenstein took her college results to a whole new level in 2020, turning in one of the best women's alpine seasons in CU history. She finished 11 of a possible 13 races with an astonishing 10 top five performances. Of those 10 top five finishes, six were on the podium and she had one race victory, the slalom race at the DU Invitational in Aspen. She won five runs throughout the season, three in GS and two in slalom, tied for the fourth-most since CU began tracking that stat in 2000. She became just the fifth women's alpine skier in the last two decades to win five or more runs in a season and it's just the fifth time a skier has won multiple runs in both disciplines in the same season, joining teammate Mikaela Tommy (8, 6 GS and 2 SL in 2020), Mia Cullman (5, 3/2 in 2003) and Lucie Zikova (6, 2/4 in 2008 and 8, 2/6 in 2006). She and Tommy are the first teammates to win more than five runs in the same season and both win multiple in both disciplines. She finished second on the RMISA MVP list behind Tommy and was second on the slalom and third on the GS for the RMISA's NCAA Qualification lists and finished the season second on the GS and third on the slalom RMISA Alpine Start Lists. She opened the season in the DU series with a runner-up finish in the GS race to Tommy in the RMISA qualifier race, then took fifth in the GS and won the race as part of the DU meet, taking home the first RMISA Skier of the Week honor as the top performer in the meet. She was also named CU Athlete of the Week for the first set of races. She took third in the GS race in Eldora in the CU meet and after not finishing the slalom race as part of the meet, she took fourth in the slalom qualifier race there. In Utah, she finished fourth in the GS and second in the slalom as part of the meet and then while trying to get her second win, had to hike in the slalom qualifier race, finishing 24th. In Bozeman at the RMISA Championships, she took third in both the GS qualifier race and the race as part of the championships and fourth in the slalom race. She didn't finish the second run of GS at the NCAA Championships after having the fifth-fastest first run before the event was cancelled due to the COVID-19 pandemic. She was named first-team All-RMISA and named to the National Collegiate All-Academic Ski team for maintaining above a 3.5 cumulative GPA and participating in the RMISA Championships.

2019 (Freshman)—Fleckenstein joined the Buffs in the Spring semester just days before the first college race and coming off injuries that didn't allow her to ski competitively until that point. She responded by starting all 14 races on the season and finishing 11 of them, with all 11 finishes coming in the top 20 and eight coming in the top 10, including an eighth place slalom finish at the NCAA Championships that earned her second-team All-America honors. After finishing just one of three races at Eldora to open the season, she finished 10 of the last 11 races of the season. She gradually improved all season and in the four races in Alaska, she had her season best in both disciplines, taking sixth in the slalom as part of the RMISA Championships, matching her season best she initially set at New Mexico, and taking eighth in the GS race, bettering her season best by one spot, which she had done twice. She has finished five of seven GS races with her one eighth, two ninth and one 12th place finishes. She also finished six of seven slalom races, earning top eight finishes in each of her last four , including two sixth place finishes, one at New Mexico and one at the RMISA Championships, and an eighth place finish at the NCAA Championships.

Prior To CU—Fleckenstein has been a member of the Canadian National Team since 2016 and also skied for the British Columbia Ski Team from 2014-16 and the Whistler Ski Club from 2008-13. She has skied at the top levels in the world and has six World Cup starts to her credit with five finishes and she has finished all four downhill races she has participated in at Lake Louise in World Cup action. She's competed in the NorAm Cup series since 2015 and finished second in the downhill point total in both 2017 and 2018. She also took sixth in the standings in slalom in 2016 and in the last three years has finished third, fifth and fourth in the alpine combined point list and has a fourth and two fifths in that time frame for Super G points. She finished ranked fourth overall each of the past two years. She has 12 total podium appearances in NorAm races. In all, she has more than 90 starts in NorAm Cup races with 12 podium appearances and one win, the downhill at Lake Louise in 2016. She has competed at the Canadian National Championships since 2014 and was the Downhill Champion in 2017 and finished second in 2016. At National Championship races, she's 12 finished races in 16 starts with 10 straight top 10 finishes dating back to 2015. In 2017 at Tremblant, she took home 4th in the GS and sixth in the slalom and in 2018 she was fifth in the slalom and eighth in the GS at Red Mountain. She has also competed in races for the European Cup and South American Cup. In all, she has more than 270 starts in FIS sanctioned races with almost 200 finished races. She has 162 top 20, 107 top 10 and 74 top 5 finishes with 52 podiums and 21 race wins.

High School—Fleckenstein graduated from Rockridge Secondary school in West Vancouver, British Columbia, in 2015.

In the Classroom—Fleckenstein is majoring in Communication at Colorado. She was named to the National Collegiate All-Academic ski team for maintaining above a 3.5 grade point average (she maintains well above a 3.5).

Personal—Stefanie Fleckenstein was born September 6, 1997, in Vancouver. Her parents are Steve and Sheryl Fleckenstein and she has one sister, Katie, herself an accomplished alpine skier and now member of the CU Ski Team. Her dad was an Olympic sailer and her mom was a professional mountain biker. She enjoys playing the ukulele, mountain biking, planning in the snow, laughing and beading in her spare time. She claims to be in a band with teammate Mikaela Tommy and that the band is a sensation in Chile and Canada and working towards fame in the United States. She wants to continue her skiing career after Colorado and then become a sports agent.

Why Colorado?—Because it's beautiful and kind of similar to Whistler! I also love the sun and I heard it doesn't rain here.

Olivia Gerrard

5-6 • Junior • VR

Westport, Ct. (Burke Mountain Academy/Ski Club Vail)

Career—Gerrard has started all 24 possible races now through her sophomore campaign and has finished 14 of those 24 races with eight top 20 performances.

2020 (Sophomore)—Gerrard started all 12 races in 2020 and finished seven with three top 20 performances. She opened the season taking 21st and 19th in two GS races in Aspen, the second as part of the DU Invitational. She then hit some bad luck in Eldora, finishing just one of three races, neither as part of the CU Invitational, taking 21st in the slalom qualifier races. In Utah, she took 28th in the GS and 20th in the slalom race as part of the Utah Invitational before not finishing the qualifier race there, and in Bozeman, she took 18th in the GS qualifier and 21st in the GS as part of RMISA Championships before not finishing the slalom race. She was also named to the National Collegiate All-Academic Ski Team for the second straight season.

2019 (Freshman)—Gerrard started all 12 races in 2019 leading into the NCAA Championships and finished seven of them. She finished six of her last eight races, a giant slalom race and slalom race both at Bridger Bowl in Montana while finishing one of two slalom races at the New Mexico Invitational and three of four in Alaska to end the regular season and the RMISA Championships. She had her best GS finish in Alaska, her first top 20 taking 19th at the RMISA Championships. She also had two top 20 slalom finishes in Alaska, giving her three on the season after finishing 12th at New Mexico in one of the two slalom races there. She was also named to the National All-Academic Ski Team.

Prior To CU/High School—Gerrard competed for Burke Mountain Academy from 2011-16, graduating in 2016 before moving to Colorado and skiing for Ski & Snowboard Club Vail from 2016-18. She has 23 NorAm Cup starts to her credit and At Burke, she was third at Regionals and Nationals in 2014 and in 2015, she was fifth overall at Nationals. She was invited to the National Training Group, the development group for the US Ski Team, but declined to stay in school. At SSCV, she traveled and competed in most of the RMISA meets in 2018, earning two top 20 slalom finishes at Red River in the New Mexico Invitational and taking 11th in slalom and 14th in GS at the Denver Invitational at Loveland. In other races, she had seven top 10 finishes in 2018 include a win in a slalom race at Winter Park in February. Since skiing in FIS sanctioned races in 2015, she has started more than 130 races and finished more than 90 of them. She has 25 top 10 finishes with 14 top 5's to her credit including two podium appearances and one win.

In the Classroom—Gerrard is pursuing a double major from the Leeds School of Business in Finance and Marketing and she is part of the honors program and the Dean's Leadership Fellows program. She was named to the National Collegiate All-Academic Ski Team in both 2019 and 2020 for maintaining above a 3.5 GPA and participating in Regionals.

Personal—Olivia Rachel Gerrard was born Feb. 3, 1998, in Norwalk, Ct. She has two sisters, Sofia and Isabelle, and one brother, Campbell. She enjoys soccer, hiking, making neckies and paddle boarding. She competed competitively in soccer and gymnastics until pursuing skiing full time. She moved from Connecticut to Colorado after graduating high school to compete for Ski & Snowboard Club Vail.

Why Colorado—"I chose Colorado because I wanted to surround myself with the best skiers on the circuit. I wanted to continue pushing my skiing and be on a team that would not only push me but push their limits toward a national title. After moving to Vail for my two gap years, I fell in love with the state and couldn't see myself leaving. CU was the perfect fit."

Emma Hammergaard

5-9 • Sophomore • 1L

Gavle, Sweden (Are Skigymasium/Gavle Alpina)

Career—Hammergaard joined the Buffs ahead of the spring 2020 semester and got to work quickly, participating in all 13 races, finishing 11 with 10 top 20 and three top 10 finishes her freshman season.

2020 (Freshman)—Hammergaard competed in all 13 races for the Buffs in her first collegiate season, finishing 11 with 10 top 20 and three top 10 finishes her freshman season. She scored for the team a total of eight times, earning her first varsity letter, and was the Buffs top performer twice, for the slalom race in Park City in a qualifier race and in the GS race at the NCAA Championships. She opened her career with her first top 10 finish, taking eighth in the GS race in Aspen in a qualifier race, and then in consecutive qualifier races near the end of the season, taking eighth in the slalom qualifier in Park City and ninth in the GS qualifier race in Bozeman ahead of RMISA Championships. She also had two 11th place finishes and a total of eight top 15 finishes. Consistent across disciplines, she split her 10 top 20 finishes evenly with five apiece in GS and slalom and her three top 10 finishes included two GS and one slalom. After her eighth place to open the season in Aspen, she took 16th in the GS and 13th in the slalom races there as part of the DU meet and then after not finishing the GS race as part of the CU meet, she took 12th and 11th in the two slalom races as Eldora, the first one counting for the meet. In Utah, she took 11th in the GS race and 15th in the slalom races for the Utah meet before taking eighth in the slalom qualifier race and in Bozeman after her ninth place GS finish, she took 22nd in the GSs as part of the RMISA Championships before not finishing the slalom race. At the NCAA Championships, she was 20th in the GS race before the slalom race was cancelled due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

KAITLYN HARSCH

Kaitlyn Harsch

5-3 • Junior • VR

Eagle-Vail, Colo. (Vail Ski & Snowboard Academy/Ski Bluc Vail)

Career—Harsch has started 23 of 24 possible career races and has finished 19 of those races with 13 top 20 finishes and one top 10 performance. She has finished 17 of her last 19 races dating back to her freshman season.

2020 (Sophomore)—Harsch started all 12 races and finished 11 in her sophomore season, earning eight top 20 and one top 10 finish. She just missed out on lettering, finishing in the top three twice throughout the season while being the Buffs fourth finisher five times. In the Denver series, she finished 14th in the GS qualifier race to open the season and 20th in the GS race as part of the DU Invitational before getting her career best 10th place finish in the slalom race in Aspen. In Eldora, she took 16th in the GS and 14th in the slalom as part of the CU Invitational and didn't finish the slalom qualifier race. In Park City, she took 14th in the GS race and had to hike the slalom race, taking 27th, before finishing 17th in the extra slalom qualifier race. In Bozeman, she was 22nd in the GS qualifier race, 27th in the GS and 17th in the slalom race, the last two as part of the RMISA Championships.

2019 (Freshman)—Harsch started 11 of 12 races in 2019, missing the RMISA Alpine Qualifier #2 giant slalom race in Montana due to illness. She gradually and continually improved throughout her freshman campaign, earning five top 20 finishes, including three to end the season in Alaska at the UAA Invitational and RMISA Championships. It was there in Alaska that she had her career best performances of 16th in slalom at the UAA Invitational and 14th in GS at the RMISA Championships. Her GS finishes improved each race throughout the season, starting with 24th at the CU Invitational, then 17th at the UAA Invitational and 14th at the RMISA Championships. In slalom, she opened the season with a 20th place finish at CU, then had a pair of 21st place finishes at Montana State and New Mexico before taking 19th in the second New Mexico slalom and 14th at the UAA Invitational. She was honored with the team's Laura Sharpe Flood Award, giving to the skier who best exemplifies the spirit, enthusiasm and dedication, both on the mountain and in the classroom.

Prior To CU—Harsch skied for Team Summit from 2005-09 and for Ski Club Vail from 2010-18. She was on the U.S. Ski Team's National Training Group in 2016 and a Junior Team America athlete from 2015-18.. She has 12 NorAm Cup races to her credit and she was third overall for those born in 2001 for the 2018 season. She was first overall in the Jr. Championships in slalom at Beaver Creek in 2017 and first place in duals at Breckenridge in 2017. She was the recipient of the 2017 Berlack/ Astle Memorial Fast Skier Award and the National Junior Champion in slalom, giant slalom and Super G in 2015 for the U14 age group. In 2016, she was sixth in the slalom at the Jr Hahnenkamm in Kizbuehel, Austria and 10th in slalom at the Seven Nations Cup in Hinterreit, Austria, in 2017. She has more than 45 FIS sanctioned races to her credit with 18 top 20, five top 10 and two top five finishes including one podium appearance, a second place in GS at Mount Sunapee Resort. In 2018, Kaitlyn placed 7th at the US Jr Nationals in giant slalom at Sun Valley, ID. She skied at some RMISA sanctioned meets in 2018 as an independent skier with Ski Club Vail at the New Mexico Invitational at Red River and the RMISA Championships in Steamboat Springs.

High School—She graduated a year early from Vail Ski & Snowboard Academy holding above a 4.0 GPA and in the top two percent of her high school class.
In the Classroom—Harsch is enrolled in CU's Leeds Business School and is majoring in Finance. She was awarded the Vail Valley Future Business Woman Scholarship and her goals after college are to become a CEO of a large corporation.

Personal—Kaitlyn Kendall Harsch was born January 1, 2001, in Pueblo, CO to Caleb and Karen Kendall Harsch. She has one sister, Hailey, who is an up and coming ski racer. Her mom skied for the Buffs in 1994-96 and was a three-time All-American and helped lead the Buffs to the 1995 National Championship. Kaitlyn plays the guitar (self-taught) and also enjoys hiking with her dog, Aspen. She has volunteered for Habitat for Humanity Home Build and the Vail Mountain Rescue.

Why Colorado—"Because of the Leeds School of Business and the opportunity to ski D1 for CU."

Vail, Colo. (Vail Ski & Snowboard Academy/Ski Club Vail)

Career—Bervy started all 12 races leading up to the NCAA Championships for the Buffs in his true freshman season, finishing eight of them including five of six slalom races. He has three years of eligibility remaining. His best GS finish in his rookie campaign came out of the gate at the CU Invitational and his slalom improved throughout the season, culminating with his best finish of 24th at the RMISA Championships.

2019 (Freshman)—Bervy started all 12 races in 2019 and finished eight of them, earning a letter in his first season. He finished eight of 10 races as part of collegiate meets, earning DNF's in the two RMISA Alpine Qualifier races, one DQ at New Mexico in a slalom race and a DNF in the GS race in Alaska as part of RMISA Championships. He had his best GS finish out of the gate at Eldora in the CU Invitational, taking 24th. He saved his best slalom finish for the end of the season, taking 24th at the RMISA Championships, improving throughout the season. He scored for the team four times in his eight finishes, recording the third best finish on the team four times, all in slalom races both in Montana and Alaska.

Prior To CU—Bervy has competed for the Ski & Snowboard Club Vail team for the past 11 years and in that time has been coached by some former CU greats including Erika Ghent, Max Lamb, Fletcher McDonald and current assistant coach Stefan Hughes. He was also a member of the National Training Group, a development team for the US Ski Team. He was the U16 giant slalom champion and the U14 national champion in his time at SSCV,

FILIP FOREJTEK

Filip Forejtek

6-4 • Junior • 2L

Ulice, Czech Republic (Masarykovo/Czech Republic National Team)

Career—After struggling through injuries and a case of the DNFs as a freshman, he emerged as the top threat of the men's alpine team midway through his sophomore season and rode the streak all the way to a First-Team All-America honor at the NCAA Championships, coming two-hundredths of a second away from winning an individual NCAA Championship. He's raced in 23 of a possible 27 races with 14 finishes, including 10 in 13 races as a sophomore. He has 13 top 20, nine top 10 and nine top five finishes including six podium appearances.

2020 (Sophomore)—Forejtek emerged as the top threat for the men's alpine team the second half of the season and continued to inch closer and closer to his first college win. He finished 10 of 13 races, all 10 coming in the top 14 with seven top 10 finishes, which were also top five finishes including five podium finishes which include four second-place finishes. He was at his best late in the season, as he missed out on an RMISA Individual Championship and NCAA Individual Championship by a combined three-hundredths of a second. He was second in the slalom race at the RMISA Championships by one-hundredth of a second and then was runner-up in the GS at the NCAA Championships by just two-hundredths of a second after winning the first run. He earned a first-team All-America honor for his second place GS finish and was also named first-team All-RMISA. He was the No. 2 seeded slalom and No. 5 seeded GS skier out of the RMISA for the NCAA Championships and ended up being the No. 3 overall seed from the league. He scored for the team in all nine available races and was the Buffs top finisher eight times, earning his second letter award. He won two runs, the second slalom run at the Utah Invitational and the first run of GS in Bozeman at the NCAA Championships. He opened the season in Aspen with a DNF in the GS qualifier race and then finished 12th in the GS and 14th in the slalom as part of the DU Invitational. He then broke through for his first top five, taking fourth in the GS race at Eldora while finishing 12th in the slalom race for the CU Invitational before taking a DNF in the slalom qualifier race. Then it all clicked, he finished six of the last seven races of the season all in the top four with five podiums and four second-place finishes. He took second in the GS and fourth in the slalom in the Utah Invitational in Park City, while also placing second in the slalom qualifier race there and earning RMISA Skier of the Week honors. In Bozeman, he took a DQ in the GS qualifier after having the third-fastest first run and then took third in the GS and second in the slalom at the RMISA Championships, missing out on the individual slalom league championship by one-hundredth of a second. He took home the CU Athlete of the Week award for his performance in Bozeman. At the NCAA Championships, he had the fastest first run in the GS and finished second by two-hundredths of a second before the event was cancelled the day before the slalom races were to have taken place due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

2019 (Freshman)—Forejtek injured himself in his first collegiate race at Eldora in the RMISA Alpine Qualifier #1 and was unable to come back for the GS race the next day as part of the Colorado Invitational. He did compete at Montana State, earning a 17th place finish in the GS race on Jan. 16 before not finishing the RMISA Alpine Qualifier #2 race the following day. He did not compete in the slalom races at Montana State, one as part of the MSU meet and one a make-up for the canceled race in Eldora for the CU Invitational. He missed both slalom races in New Mexico and came back full strength in Alaska for the UAA Invitational and RMISA Championships, taking second and fourth in two GS races there while not finishing either slalom race. He was the Buffs third qualifier for the NCAA Championships and did not finish his second run in the GS race and took 25th in the slalom race. He did letter by finsihing as a team scorer three times in those four finishes.

Prior To CU—Forejtek competed for the ST Svaty Petr – LO

BOBBY RYAN

Bobby Ryan

5-9 • Junior • 1L

Hurley, N.Y. (Killington Mountain School [Vt.]/Boston College)

Career—Ryan transferred from Boston College and made an immediate impact on the Buffs, earning a letter in his first season. He has finished 10 of 12 races at CU with four top 20 and one top 10 finish and counting his season at Boston College, he has finished 18 of 21 career races with five top 20 finishes including one top 10 performance.

2020 (Sophomore)—Ryan made an immediate impact on the Buffs, finishing 10 of 12 races and earning four top 20 and one top 10 finish. He led the Buffs in one race and was in the top three finishers two other times to earn his first letter at CU. He made his presence felt immediately, taking sixth in the GS race as part of the DU Invitational in Aspen. He also finished 16th in the GS qualifier race there and 23rd in the slalom race. He had a pair of 22nd place finishes in the GS and slalom races as part of the CU Invitational and then finished 17th in the slalom qualifier race at Eldora. In Utah, he had a bit of bad luck, finishing 28th in the GS and then not finish either slalom race in Park City, one qualifier and one as part of the Utah Invitational. In Bozeman, he finished 16th in the GS, his best GS finish in the RMISA and second-best in his career, and then took 22nd in the GS and 27th in the slalom as part of the RMISA Championships.

At Boston College—He participated in nine of 12 regular season races and finished eight of the nine races … His best finish was at the end of the season at the EISA Championships at Bates, taking 15th in the giant slalom … He scored for the team in all eight finishes on the season, accumulating 141 team points for the Eagles, 95 in GS action and 46 in slalom races.

Club—He skied for Killington Mountain School from 2012-18 and prior to that was part of the Belleayre Mountain club from 2006-12 … In all, he has participated in 181 FIS sanctioned races since 2015 and has finished 136 of them with 47 Top 20, 21 Top 10 and 15 Top 5 finishes including eight podiums and two race victories … His first victory came at Sugarloaf in January 2017 in a downhill race and his most recent win was a giant slalom race at Sunday River in March 2019 … He also has 13 starts on the North American Cup circuit and finished in the top 30 three times in downhill action earning six points … He has also competed in the United States and Canadian National Championships and the U.S. Junior National Championships … He has also trained and competed with National Training Group projects.

High School—He graduated from Killington Mountain School in Killington, Vt., in 2017 … He was a recipient of the Fred Coriell Cup, given to one male and female student at KMS who fully embody the mission statement.
In The Classroom—He is majoring in Management at Colorado from the Leeds School of Business. He was on the Dean's List at Boston College.

Personal—Robert John Ryan III was born June 15, 1999, in Kingston, N.Y. … His parents are Robert and Amy Ryan and he has two older sisters, Cailin and Micaela and a younger brother Cian … He would eventually like to start and run his own company after skiing in the World Cup circuit … He has volunteered for fundraisers and community events for his local hospital … He enjoys surfing, biking and traveling in his spare time … He has spent time over the summer in Cape Cod surfing and bartending … He chose Colorado because "of the opportunity to continue to pursue skiing while getting my education. Growing up I never thought I would go out west for college, but heading west seemed like the best option and a large part of choosing Colorado was because of the relationship and respect my coach had for Richard Rokos."

JOEY YOUNG

Joey Young

6-0 • Senior • 3L

Kirchener, Ontario (National Ski Academy/TRCA)

Career—He has skied in all 39 possible races in his CU career and finished 35 of those 39 races, including a run of 23 straight finishes from midway through his freshman season to midway through his junior campaign. In those 35 finishes, 30 have come in the top 20 with 18 top 10 and seven top five finishes including three podiums and two race wins. And elite slalom skier, as both wins, all three podiums and six of his seven top five finishes are in slalom, he's also an accomplished GS skier as his 18 top 10 finishes are split nine apiece in GS and slalom. A two-time All-RMISA performer, he's earned three letters and twice been on the National All-Academic Ski Team.

2020 (Junior)—His junior campaign can essentially be broken into the first and second halves. In the first seven races, he had six top 10, three top five and two podiums with one win, the slalom qualifier race in Eldora. After injuring himself and gutting it out the rest of the season, over the final six races, he finished four with one 11th, two 12th and a 25th place finish. Still the rock of the men's alpine team, he earned first-team All-RMISA honors and was sixth in the final RMISA MVP rankings and the No. 2 slalom and No. 10 GS seeded skier out of the RMISA for the NCAA Championships. He finished as the team's top performer three times and in the top three in all 11 finishes, earning his third letter. He opened the season with a fourth-place finish in the slalom race in Aspen ahead of the DU Invitational and then finished 9th in the slalom and 22nd in the GS as part of the meet, earning CU Athlete of the Week honors. In Eldora, he finished eighth in the GS and then turned it on, taking third in the slalom as part of the CU Invitational and then winning his second career race in the slalom qualifier there and he was named the RMISA Skier of the Week for the two qualifier races in Aspen and Eldora. In Park City, he finished ninth in the first of three races, the GS race, and then didn't finish his first race in 24 tries in the slalom race, injuring himself. Skiing through injury, he finished 12th in the slalom qualifier the next day. In Bozeman, he didn't finish the GS qualifier race and then took 11th in the GS and 12th in the slalom as part of the RMISA Championships. He finished 25th in the GS race at the NCAA Championships before the event was cancelled due to the COVID-19 pandemic. He was named to the National Collegiate All-Academic Ski Team for the second straight season.

2019 (Sophomore)—He picked up where he left off in 2018 and early in 2019 became the most consistent men's alpine skier for the Buffaloes. He is one of just two alpine skiers to finish all 14 races of the season. In those 14 starts, he finished in the top 15 a total of 13 times with eight top 10 and two top five finishes and one podium, which was his first career win in the slalom race as part of the Montana State Invitational at Bridger Bowl. He scored for the team in each of the 12 races that were part of team competition and was the Buffs top finisher seven times, including three of four races in the post season. His win at MSU earned him the CU Athlete of the Week award. He earned second-team All-RMISA and was the Buffs top seed for the NCAA Championships, qualifying 10th while being seeded No. 6 in slalom and No. 15 in GS for the NCAA Championships out of the RMISA. He was given the team's Buddy Werner Memorial Scholarship after the season and earned mention on the National Collegiate All-Academic Ski Team. He narrowly missed two All-America honors, given to the top 10 finishers at the NCAA Championships, with an 11th place finish in the giant slalom and 13th place finish in the slalom.

2018 (Freshman)—Enjoyed a fine rookie season, one in which he scored for the Buffs in six races … In 12 races through the RMISA Championships, he finished 10 of them and was 10th or better five times … Most impressive race of the season was his slalom one at the MSU Invite in the first meet to start the year; there he had a starting position at No. 45, but worked himself into the top 30 with his first run and had a killer second run time of 49.06, the fastest in the field by over a half second that allowed him to finish in fourth place overall for the race … He twice finished 10th in giant slalom races, first at the Utah Invitational and later at the Denver Invitational … At the end-of-the-season banquet he was presented with the Laura Sharpe Flood Award, which has been given each year since 1991 to a skier who best exemplifies the spirit, enthusiasm and dedication, both on the mountain and in the classroom.

Prior to CU—Young raced with the Treble Cone Race Academy (TCRA) from 2014-17 and with the National Ski Academy from 2010-14 ... For the 2016-17 season, he ranked fourth in the world in podium finishes with 18 ... That season, the one prior to his arrival at Colorado, he won six races (four slalom and two giant slalom)

JOEY YOUNG

... His two GS wins in 2016-17 were in FIS races heled at Mammoth Mountain Ski Resort in California while his slalom victories included a national junior race in Pampeago-Tesero, Italy, a pair at Loch Lomond in Canada at the end of January 2017 and one at the Spirit Mountain Recreation Area in Minnesota ... He had a total of 14 victories over the 2015-16 and 2016-17 seasons, but from 2014-17 he recorded 35 total podium finishes (21 slalom and 14 giant slalom) ... Two of his other highlight finishes include a second-place showing in the slalom at Cardrona, New Zealand on Jan. 8, 2017 and a sixth-place showing in the giant slalom in the Aspen/Highlands Spring Series on April 7, 2017.

High School—He graduated from National Ski Academy High School in Collingwood, Ontario.
In the Classroom—He is pursuing a double major in Finance and Accounting out of the Leeds School of Business. He was selected to the 2018 National Collegiate All-Academic Ski Team, which is essentially an Academic All-America honors. He was also an honors student all throughout high school (requires a 3.5 GPA or higher).

Personal—Young was born Dec. 2, 1996 in Kitchener, Ontario, Canada ... His hobbies include hockey, basketball and hanging out with friends ... After college he would like to ski on the World Cup circuit or become a financial advisor ... He is the middle child of Bill and Jane Young, and said he "grew up skiing on a hill that has less elevation than the bed I currently sleep in" .. He came to Colorado to "be on a winning team with the best athletes who push me to become a better skier and person" .. He has a strong hockey connection as his older brother, Billy, plays for Salem State in Boston while his younger, Bobby, plays in the Alberta Junior Hockey League for the Bonnyville Pontiacs.

Seiffer, Germany (Eltreschule/German Junior National Team)

Career—She finished all 11 races in her freshman season and was 10 times in the top 20 with five top 10 and four top five finishes including one podium appearance and skied for the Buffs at the NCAA Championships.

2020 (Freshman)—Dietze steadily improved throughout her freshman season, perhaps peaking in the two-week series of races at Soldier Hollow and Crosscut Mountain and earning first-team All-RMISA honors. In all, she finished all possible 11 races with 10 top 20, five top 10 and four top five finishes including one podium appearance. Equally strong in both disciplines, she had two top five finishes each in classic and freestyle action. She led the Buffs in four races and was top three a total of seven times, easily earning her first letter. She ended the season with a stretch of four straight top five finishes before the NCAA Championships. She opened her career in Steamboat Springs, taking 13th in the freestyle and 11th in the classic race there. Shortly after, she finished 22nd in the classic and 13th in the freestyle races at Maloit Park for the DU Invitational. She then got her legs under her for the RMISA Nordic Qualifier in Aspen, getting her first top 10 finish in seventh in the freestyle race and finishing 12th in the Owl Creek Chase classic race. She then caught fire at Soldier Hollow, finishing fourth in the freestyle race and second in the classic race, just 8.4 seconds behind the race winner and earning the RMISA Skier of the Week honor. She continued her host streak in Bozeman for the RMISA Championships, taking fourth in the freestyle and fifth in the classic. She was 19th in the freestyle race at the NCAA Championships, an event that was cancelled shortly after that race due to the COVID-19 pandemic, cutting out the classic competition. She was also named to the National Collegiate All-Academic Ski Team maintaining above a 3.5 grade point average.

Club—She skied for Pulsschlag Neuhausen Erzgebirge e.V. club team and on the German National Junior and German National B Teams … She has been competing in FIS-sanctioned races since 2015 and competed in 90 total FIS races prior to coming to CU with 77 top 20, 59 top 10 and 32 top five finishes including 23 podium appearances and seven race

Tahoe City, Calif. (North Tahoe/Auburn)

Career—She has skied in 28 of a possible 32 races in her career with seven top 20 finishes, including five in 10 races in 2020.

2020 (Junior)—She improved somewhat in 2020 and finished half of her 10 races in the top 20 after having only three top 20 finishes in her first 22 career races. Three of her five top 20s came in freestyle with the other two in classic action. She opened the season with a 17th place finish in the freestyle and 23rd place finish in the classic race in Steamboat Springs for the CU Invitational, then finished 20th in the classic and 21st in the freestyle at Maloit Park for the DU Invitational. She had her best career weekend in Aspen, taking 14th in the freestyle race and 19th in the 21K classic Owl Creek Chase for RMISA qualifier races. At Soldier Hollow, she was 23rd in the freestyle and 24th in the classic race for the Utah Invitational and then she closed her season out at Crosscut Mountain for the RMISA Championships taking 21st in the freestyle and 18th in the classic, her best classic finish of the season.

2019 (Sophomore)—She raced in six of a possible 10 races in 2019, sitting out the 15K classic race at Montana State due to illness and missing three of four races in Alaska. She finished 26th in both races at the Colorado Invitational to open the season and 24th in the freestyle race at the MSU Invitational. She had her best career freestyle finish and first top 20 in that discipline at New Mexico, also taking 22nd in the classic race. After missing three races in Alaska, she did compete in the final race of the season at the RMISA Championships, taking 32nd in the classic race.

EZRA SMITH

Ezra Smith

5-3 • Junior • 2L

Breckenridge, Colo. (Summit/Summit)

Career—Smith continued a solid freshman season into an even better sophomore season. She has raced and finished all 20 of her career races with 15 top 20, eight top 10 and a pair of top five finishes, which includes one podium appearance. She's a two-time letterwinner.

2020 (Sophomore)—Smith competed in and finished all 10 races leading up to the NCAA Championships and had eight top 20, five top 10 and one top five finish in a stellar season. She finished as the second CU skier twice and third CU skier three times to earn her second letter. She opened the season with a top 10, finishing ninth in the freestyle race at Steamboat Springs, where she also took 15th in the classic race as part of the CU Invitational. At Maloit Park for the DU Invitational, she had one of her better collegiate meets, finishing ninth in the classic and improving to sixth in the freestyle race, earning points for the team in both races. In Aspen at the RMISA Nordic Qualifier races, she was 15th in the freestyle and then took ninth in the 21K classic Owl Creek Chase. She fell ill prior to racing at Soldier Hollow and finished 25th in the freestyle and 23rd in the classic races, her only two finishes outside the top 20. She rebounded the next week in Bozeman at the RMISA Championships, finishing fifth in the freestyle and 14th in the classic race.

2019 (Freshman)—Smith finished all 10 starts in 2019 and was impressive, improving at each meet along the way until Alaska, where she wasn't at 100 percent. Her 10th place finish was in the 10K classic race at the CU Invitational when CU put four of its five skiers in the top 10. She took 15th in the 5K freestyle race at the Montana State meet, improving two spots from the CU Invitational freestyle race the week before. She also has a 14th place classic finish at the MSU meet. After the week off, she was even more impressive at New Mexico, hitting the podium for the first time in third place, helping the Buffs to a 1-2-3 finish in the classic race, and she followed that up with an eighth place finish in the freestyle race the next day, both the best finish in each discipline in her young career. In Alaska, she finished 15th and 21st in the two classic races and 21st and 22nd in the two freestyle races.

Prior To CU—Smith skied for Team Summit and on top of being a double state champion her freshman year in 2015 at Summit, she went on to become the U-16 Junior National Champion in skate Tahoe that same season. She attended the Scandinavian Cup races in both 2016 and 2017. She has skied in more than 50 FIS sanctioned races since 2015 and has skied at the U.S. National Championships since 2016 with her best finish being 18th in the 10K freestyle race in 2017 at Soldier Hollow. In her 50 plus FIS starts, she has 15 top 20 and two top 10 finishes.

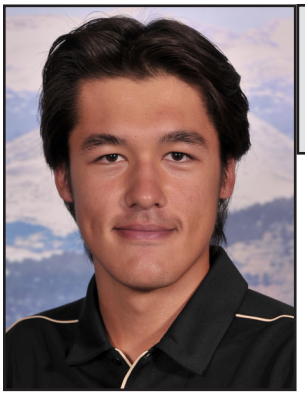

High School—Smith graduated from Summit High School in Breckenridge, Coo., in 2018. She won the 2015 freestyle and classical high school state championships and was given the Xfinity Award as the top female high school performance of the year.
In the Classroom—She is majoring in Art Practices at Colorado.

Personal—Smith was born April 12, 2000, in Idaho Falls, Idaho, to Todd and Debra Smith. She has two sisters, Jazlyn and Tai-Lee, and one brother, Broc. She also competed competitively in mountain biking and attended the 2017 World Championships.

Magnus Boee

5-11 • Sophomore • 1L

Oslo, Norway (Norges Toppidrettsgymnas Geilo/South Korean National Team)

Career—It's hard to imagine a better start to a collegiate career, as Boee finishing in the top five in each of his first six college races, earning five podiums including three wins and two runner-up finishes. In all he finished all 11 races and finished outside the top 10 just once and had seven top five finishes including five podiums and three wins. He's already in the top 10 for career wins by men's Nordic skiers in a tie for ninth place.

2020 (Freshman)—Boee immediately established himself as one of the nation's top skiers in his first season, finishing the season as an All-American and first-team All-RMISA performer. He finished second in the RMISA MVP race and was the No. 2 qualifier for the NCAA Championships out of the RMISA, and he was the top seeded skier in classic races from the league for the Championship. He competed in all 11 races with 10 top 10 and seven top five finishes including five podium appearances and three race wins. He became the 10th men's Nordic skier to win three or more races in a season and produced the 17th season among those 10 skiers of winning three or more races, including just the second freshman to accomplish the feat behind Rune Oedegaard's five wins in 2012. He was the Buffs top finisher in seven races and second in two others, easily earning his first letter. His best race was perhaps the 10K Classic race at the DU Invitational, which he won by over a minute, believed to be the largest margin of victory in a 10K race in recent memory. That performance propelled him to the freestyle win and meet sweep, which for the DU Invitational was a pursuit race, so he had over a minute's head start and held on for the win. His other win was the Owl Creek Chase, a 21K classic race from Aspen to Snowmass now over 50 years old. He won that race by 48.1 seconds. He opened the season by finishing fifth in the freestyle race at Steamboat Springs and followed that up with a second place finish in the classic race. After winning both races at Maloit Park for the DU Invitational, he took second in the freestyle race in Aspen ahead of the Owl Creek Chase, which by winning the next day gave him three wins in the span of four races. He then hit some bad luck at Soldier Hollow and finished 30th in the freestyle race. Suffering from illness, once he knew he wasn't going to be in the mix, he slowed up and saved energy for the next day, which paid off in his eighth place finish the next day in the classic race. At the RMISA Championships he was getting back into shape as ht took 10th in the freestyle and fifth in the classic race. He seemed to be back for the NCAA Championships where he finished eighth in the freestyle race, earning a second-team All-America nod. He was one of the favorites for the classic race, but the NCAA cancelled the championship shortly after the conclusion of the freestyle race

Wyatt Gebhardt

5-6 • Junior • 1L

Steamboat Springs, Colo. (Steamboat Springs/SSWSC)

Career—Gebhardt finished all 20 races he's skied in through two seasons and has 14 top 20 finishes which includes eight top 10 performances and one top five finish.

2020 (Sophomore)—Gebhardt continued his solid skiing into his sophomore season, especially at the start of the season were he opened with a top 10 finish and six straight top 20 finishes before suffering from illness down the stretch. He finished all 10 races with six top 20 and one top 10 finish. That top 10 came straight out of the gate when he took seventh place in the freestyle race at Steamboat Springs in the CU Invitational. He took 18th in the classic race the next day. At the DU Invitational, he finished 15th in the classic race and 19th in the freestyle race at Maloit Park and then had solid races in Aspen in the RMISA Noridc qualifier races, taking 13th in the freestyle race and 17th in the Owl Creek Chase, a 21K race from Aspen to Snowmass. He then fell ill, and struggled a bit down the stretch finishing 25th and 29th in races at Soldier Hollow as part of the Utah Invitational and 26th and 25th in the races in Bozeman as part of the RMISA Championships.

2019 (Freshman)—Gebhardt had four top 10 finishes his freshman season, three in freestyle and one in classic. He opened his career with an impressive sixth place finish in the 10K freestyle race at the Colorado Invitational in his hometown of Steamboat Springs. He followed that up a week later with a ninth place finish in the 10K freesytle race at Crosscut Mountain during the Montana State Invitational. In classic races, he opened with a 19th place finish in the CU Invitational and improved four spots to 15th at the MSU Invitational. He had his two best finishes of the season at New Mexico, earning his first top 10 in classic action with a sixth place finish and then earned his first career top 5 finish, taking fourth in the freestyle race. He added two more top 15 freestyle finishes in Alaska, giving him eight top 20 finishes in 10 races as a freshman with four in top 10 and one in the top five. He lettered by scoring for the team a total of five times, all in the first six races of the season.

Prior To CU—Gebhardt has skied for the Steamboat Springs Winter Sports Club since 2004. He took second at Junior Nationals in the freestyle sprint in 2018 and was the top qualifier for the junior national team. He has competed at the US National Championships since 2016, taking 37th in the 15K freestyle race at Soldier Hollow in 2017. He had three top 20 finishes in the Junior World Ski Championships, also at Soldier Hollow in 2017, including a ninth place finish in the 4x5K mixed relay. He's also has 15 US Super Tour starts to his credit with two top 30 finishes, a 27th place in the 10K freestyle at Craftsburty in 2018 and a 30th place in the 1.3K freestyle sprint finals at Rendezvous this past December. He has competed in 54 FIS sanctioned races with 18 top 20 finishes and seven top 10s to his credit. He has two top 5 finishes; a fourth place finish at Maloit Park in the 10K Classic race as part of last year's Denver Invitational, and his one podium is a third place finish in a juniors 30K classical race at Craftsbury in 2018.

High School—Gebhardt graduated from Steamboat Springs High School in 2018.

In the Classroom—Gebhardt is majoring in Environmental Science at Colorado and his goals after college are to work on ways to improve the planet.

Personal—Gebhardt was born August 29, 1999, in Greeley, Colo. His parents are Wade and Tiffany Gebhardt and he has one sister, Waverly. He enjoys hunting, fishing, backpacking, backcountry skiing and mountain biking in his spare time.

Why Colorado—Colorado has everything I was interested in and I was able to expand my interests and hobbies."

Ryan Jackson

5-5 • Senior • 1L

Barrie, Ontario (Barrie Central/Barrie XC)

Career—Jackson began his CU career with just one season of eligibility, and he didn't waste any of it as he participated in nine of 11 races with seven top 20, five top 10 and two top finishes, which included one podium appearance.

2020 (Senior)—Jackson took advantage of his only season of eligibility by finishing all nine of his races with seven top 20, five top 10 and two top five finishes, which included one podium appearance. A stronger classic skier, both of his top five and four of his five top 10 finishes came in classic. He finished 15th to open his career in the freestyle race in Steamboat Springs and then took fourth in the classic race as part of the CU Invitational. At the DU meet at Maloit Park, he was seventh in the classic and 10th in the freestyle race. He missed the RMISA Nordic Qualifier races traveling back home to Canada to participate in races there. He came back and slowly got back into it, finishing 22nd in the freestyle race at the Utah Invitational at Soldier Hollow and then taking 12th in the classic race. By the RMISA Championships, he was back and had his best meet, taking ninth in the classic race, his season best, and following that up with his first podium by taking second in the classic race by just a half-second. He took 23rd in the freestyle race at the NCAA Championships and was one of the favorites to win the classic race before it was cancelled due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

TYLER TERRANOVA

Tyler Terranova

5-11 • Senior • VR

Steamboat Springs, Colo. (Steamboat Springs/SSWSC)

Career—He has completed in 30 of a possible 32 career races and has three top 20 finishes. He was given the team's Lucie Hanusova Memorial Award as a sophomore, given to those that overcome adversity with smiles and enthusiasm.

2020 (Junior)—Terranova finished all 10 races in his junior season, earning two top 20 finishes on the season. He opened the season with a 22nd place freestyle and 28th place classic performance in Steamboat Springs at the CU Invitational and followed that up with a 26th place classic and 24th place freestyle finish at the DU Invitational in Maloit Park. He had his best career set of races at the RMISA Nordic Qualifiers in Aspen, taking 17th in the freestyle race before finishing 20th in the Owl Creek Chase, a 21K race from Aspen to Snowmass. Those were his two top 20 finishes of the season and second and third of his career. He took 33rd in the freestyle and 31st in the classic races at Soldier Hollow for the Utah Invitational and then closed his season out with a 29th place freestyle and 24th place classic finish at the RMISA Championships in Bozeman.

2019 (Sophomore)—He competed in eight of 10 races in 2019 leading up to the NCAA Championships. Early in the season, he improved each race, from his initial 43rd place finish in the first race of the season down to a 33rd place finish in the 20K classic race at Montana State and then a 22nd and 24th place finish at the New Mexico Invitational. He was sick for the first set of races in Alaska at the UAA Invitational, but bounced back to compete in the RMISA Championships, although not 100 percent, taking 28th in freestyle and 35th in the classic race. He earned the team's Lucie Hanusova Award for overcoming adversity with smiles and enthusiasm. He was also named the CU Academic Student-Athlete of the Month in January.

2020 (Senior)—Baangman earned second-team All-RMISA honors, earning a mention on the first or second team for the third straight season despite her overall performance being down a touch in 2020 due to fall injuries she sustained. She finished all 11 possible races with nine top 10 finishes and four top five finishes with one podium appearance. Her podium came in the RMISA Championships classic race, proving she was getting back to form at the right time. Unfortunately, the classic race at the NCAA Championships was canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic. She led the Buffs twice throughout the season and was the second finisher for CU seven times and also scored for the team in third once, easily earning her third letter. In Steamboat Springs to open the season at the CU Invitational, she finished seventh in the freestyle and fifth in the classic race, and followed that up with two more fifth place finishes in the DU Invitational in both the classic and freestyle races. At the RMISA Nordic Qualifier race in Aspen, she finished eighth in the freestyle and seventh in the classic race. She finished 10th in both races at the Utah Invitational and then after struggled a bit to a 14th place finish in the freestyle race at RMISA Championships, she rebounded with her best performance and first podium of the season in the classic race, taking third. She was 21st in the NCAA freestyle race with the championships canceled shortly after the race concluded.

2019 (Sophomore)—A first-team All-American in the classic race at the NCAA Championships hitting the podium in third place, she was also named the RMISA Women's Nordic MVP. She picked up right where she left off as a freshman, earning podium appearances in each of the three races shes finished in the first two meets of 2019 and in seven of her 12 finishes this season, including a win in the 15K classic race at Montana State. She earned two podiums at the CU Invitational, third place in the 5K freestyle and second in the 10K classic race. She took second in the classic race at the New Mexico Invitational and then took 11th in the freestyle race. She earned two more podiums in classic races in Alaska at the UAA Invitational and RMISA Championships, where she also took sixth in both freestyle races. She was named first-team All-RMISA, was the CU Athlete of the Week for the CU Invitational and the RMISA Skier of the Week for the RMISA Championships. She was the Buffs top qualifier for the NCAA Championships, earning the No. 3 qualification spot and No. 2 seed in classic and No. 9 seed in freestyle out of the RMISA.

2018 (Freshman)—A first-team All-RMISA selection, she finished second in the 2018 RMISA MVP point standings with 213 … She finished 10 of the 11 races she competed in and in seven of those she placed fourth or better … Had two race victories on the season, both in 5K classic races at the MSU and Utah Invites … Posted a total of four podium finishes – three in the classic and one in freestyle … Collected both RMISA Skier of the Week honors and CU Athlete of the Week honors after her performance at the Utah Invitational where she won the 5K classic race and placed third in the 15K freestyle skate, which was her best freestyle finish of the season … Prior to the start of the NCAA circuit, Baangman won the 10K classic US Super Tour race on Dec. 3 when she was up at the Rendezvous Ski trails racing with the Buffs … After the season she was presented with CU's Spencer Nelson Award given in honor of the former CU skier to a Buff who overcame adversity and demonstrated a strong work ethic.

Prior to CU—Baangman was on the Sweden U23 National team from 2016-17 and on its Junior National Team from 2013-14 Had competed in seven World Cup races in Sweden prior to coming to CU and her best

SONDRE BOLLUM

Sondre Bollum

6-0 • 2018-20 • 3L

Gjovik, Norway (Norges Toppidrettsgymnas/Gjovik Skiklubb)

Career—A three-time All-American and two-time All-RMISA selection, Bollum was one of the top skiers in the country during his three seasons with the Buffs. He skied in 33 of a possible 37 races in his CU career, finishing 32 of those 33 races with 29 top 20, 17 top 10 and three top five finishes including one podium. He earned three letters and was named to the National Collegiate All-Academic Ski Team all three seasons.

2020 (Senior)—A little hampered at the start of the 2020 season, he improved throughout and was performing perhaps the best of his career late in the season. He finished all 11 races for the Buffs with 10 top 20 and four top 10 finishes, including each of the last three races. He had one top five, which was his first career podium, taking second at the RMISA Championships in the freestyle race. He earned second-team All-America honors with a sixth-place finish in the freestyle race and was named second-team All-RMISA. He led the Buffs in three races and was a team scorer in 10 of 11 races, easily earning his third letter. He opened the season with a 12th place freestyle and 21st place classic finishes in Steamboat Springs at the CU Invitational and then moved up to finish 12th in the classic and seventh in the freestyle race at the DU Invitational, where he actually had the fourth-fastest time in the field but it was a pursuit race. He did have the highest jump from the classic finish in the entire field for the pursuit race. At the RMISA Nordic Qualifiers, he took 11th in both races, the second being the famous Owl Creek Chase, a 21K race from Aspen to Snowmass. At Soldier Hollow, he finished 16th in the freestyle and 12th in the classic races. He was at his best in the postseason, finishing second in the freestyle race at the RMISA Championships, his first career podium and just 22.8 seconds away from his first win, and he took sixth in the classic race the next day. At the NCAA Championships, he finished sixth earning a second-team All-America honor before the championship was cancelled shortly after the freestyle race due to the COVID-19 pandemic. He earned his third straight mention on the National Collegiate All-Academic Ski Team for maintaining above a 3.5 cumulative grade point average and participating in Regionals.

2020 (Senior)—Despite suffering injuries that kept her off the snow prior to the start of the college season, Lervik posted a successful senior season in which she started off with a bang, finishing the top top four of the first four races spanning two meets. She participated in nine of 11 possible races, missing two due to illness, and she had nine top 20 finishes, not finishing lower than 17th, with five top 10 and four top five finishes including three podium appearances. She was the Buffs top finisher each of the first four races of the season before her illness and then again in the final race at NCAA Championships. In the other four races, she was the third CU finisher, easily earning her fourth letter. She took fourth in the 5K freestyle and third in the 15K classic race at Steamboat Springs for the CU Invitational and then took third in the classic and second in the freestyle race at Maloit Park for the DU Invitational. Then during a break, she got sick and missed the RMISA Nordic Qualifier races in Aspen, the first two races she missed in her career. She rebounded and looked to be close to full strength by the end of the season. She was 17th in the freestyle and 14th in the classic in Soldier Hollow for the Utah Invitational and then improved to 12th in the freestyle and ninth in the classic in Bozeman for the RMISA Championships. She took 11th in the freestyle race at the NCAA Championships and was primed for a podium or better in the classic race there but it was cancelled due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

2019 (Junior)—Lervik picked up where she left off at the end of a very successful sophomore campaign and finished all 12 races in 2019 with seven top 10 and four top five finishes including two podiums and a race win, the classic race at the New Mexico Invitational, where she also hit the podium in the freestyle race in third place. She was fourth at the classic race at Montana State and she has improved throughout the early part of the season, taking 10th to open the season in the 5K freestyle race at the CU Invitational, improving to eighth for the

Andrew Potyk

6-0 • 2017-20 • 3L

Spokane, Wash. (Joel E. Ferris/Spokane Nordic)

Career—Potyk skied in 39 of a possible 41 races in his career, finishing 39 of those races with 25 top 10 and two top 10 performances. He was having his best season as a senior before falling ill prior to the RMISA Championships and having it cut short. He was named to the National Collegiate All-Academic Ski Team for all four years, becoming the 13th skier in CU history to earn that honor four times and he's the fourth men's Nordic skier in CU history to win the award all four years and first since Rune Oedegaard in 2012-15.

Three-Time Letterwinner

2020 (Senior)—Potyk had his best overall season as a senior and it was nothing if not consistent. He skied in eight races, finishing between 14th and 19th place in all eight with two 17th place and three 18th place performances. He opened the season taking 17th in the freestyle and 15th in the classic race in Steamboat Springs at the CU Invitational, than then took 18th in both races at Maloit Park as part of the DU Invitational. He kept that momentum going, finishing 18th in the freestyle race in Aspen before earning his season best finish of 14th at the Owl Creek Chase, another qualifier race that started in Aspen and finished in Snowmass. At Soldier Hollow, he took 19th in the freestyle race and 17th in the classic race and that's where his career abruptly came to an end, as he fell ill and wasn't able to race at the RMISA Championships in Bozeman. He was named to the National Collegiate All-Academic Ski Team for the fourth straight season.

2019 (Junior)—Potyk skied in all 10 races and finished in the top 20 three times, twice in freestyle and once in classic. His top 10 freestyle finish came with his career best 10th place finish at the RMISA Championships. He finished 20th in the 10K freestyle race to open the season at the CU Invitational and then at the MSU Invitational the following week, he earned a 16th place finish in the classic race, the third best performance of his career behind a ninth and 14th place finish in 2018.

2018 (Sophomore)—On the season he competed in and finished all 12 races through the RMISA Championships/NCAA Western Regional … He scored points for the Buffs in both races at the Montana State Invitational, where he placed 15th in the 10K classic race and 14th in the 10K freestyle skate … He also scored for CU at the Denver Invitational when he placed 19th in the 10K classic race … In all he posted nine top 20 finishes in his 12 races and his best result was a ninth place showing in the 10K classic race at the Utah Invitation, which was the first top 10 finish of his career.

2017 (Freshman)—He had a strong finish to his first season on the collegiate circuit, recording top 20 finishes in three of his final four races ... His top freestyle finish came in the 20K skate at the Alaska Anchorage, when he placed 17th ... He also had his top classic finish at the same meet, finishing 18th in the 10K race at Kincaid Park in Anchorage ... On the season he competed in and finished all 10 races through the RMISA Championships/NCAA Western Regional ... At the Junior Nationals held in March in Lake Placid right after the end of his NCAA season, he finished fourth in the U20 10K freestyle race to earn All-America honors and also finished 11th in the 15K classic race.

Prior to CU—Potyk has been a member of the Pacific Northwest Junior National Team since 2015 and he earned All-America honors in the 15K freestyle race at the 2016 Junior Nationals ... In 2016 at those Junior Nationals held at Telemark, Wisc., he had three top 20 finishes; placing 10th in the 15K freestyle race, 14th in the 3K skate relay and 17th in the 10K classic race ... He was also a member of the Spokane Nordic Ski Association coached by George Bryant, whom he skied with for seven years.

High School—Potyk graduated from Joel E. Ferris High School in Spokane, Wash. in June of 2016 as the Valedictorian of his class … He played soccer (midfielder and goalkeeper) under coach Erik

Kaunianen, Finland (Kuusamon Lukio/Grifik)

Career—Takki came to CU with two years of eligibility and in those two years, he participated in 24 of a possible 25 races and finished 16 of them, including 11 of 13 in 2020 and the last eight of his career. In his 16 finishes, he had 13 top 20, five top 10 and one top five performance.

2020 (Senior)—Takki finished 11 of 13 races, including each of the last eight of the season, becoming a consistent team contributor and being rewarded by making the trip to NCAA Championships for the Buffs. He finished the season with nine top 20 performances in those 11 finishes and had three top 10 finishes. He opened the season with an eighth place finish in the GS qualifier race in Aspen and then took 17th in the GS race and didn't finish the slalom race as part of the DU Invitational. In Eldora, he took 11th in the GS race as part of the CU Invitational and didn't finish the first slalom race, but took seventh in the slalom qualifier there. In Park City, he took 17th in the GS and 24th in the slalom as part of the Utah Invitational and finished 17th in the slalom qualifier. In Bozeman, he took seventh in the GS qualifier before finishing 15th in both the GS and slalom as part of the RMISA Championships. At the NCAA Championships, he finished 27th in the GS race before the event was cancelled due to the COVID-19 pandemic. He also earned mention on the National Collegiate All-Academic Ski Team for the second straight season.

2019 (Freshman)—Takki had a case of the DNFs early in his freshman campaign, but when he did finish, he finished extremely well. He took eighth place in the GS race at Eldora in the CU Invitational and followed that up with a fifth place showing in the GS race at the Montana State Invitational. He broke a streak of four straight races not finished after a DQ in the first slalom race at New Mexico by coming in 23rd in the second slalom race there at Red River and ended his season with a run of four finishes in the last five races, including three of four in Alaska where he posted his best slalom result, taking 17th at the RMISA Championships. He finished six of 12 races with four coming in the top 20, two in the top 10 and one in the top five. Three of his four top 20s were in GS and both top 10s came in that discipline, as well. He finished first on the team in the GS race at Montana State and was second three other times, earning his first letter. He was also named to the National Collegaite All-Acadmic Ski Team.

Prior To CU—Takki has skied at the most elite levels in the world and has one World Cup start, a slalom race in Levi in 2017, and four European Cup starts, all slalom and all at Levi in 2015 and 2017. He has skied at the Finnish National Championships from 2012-18 and also participated in the 2015 Swedish National Championships and in the Italian and Austrian National Championships in 2018. In those races, he has compiled seven top 10 finihes with four in the top five including three podiums. He was the Finnish National Champion in the slalom in 2017, taking second overall, and finished third in the GS at that same championship. He took second in the GS in the Austrian National Championships at Sankt Johann-Alpendorf. His first top 5 finish at a National Championship was fifth in the Super Combined in 2015 at Yllas. He has more than 300 starts in FIS sanctioned races in his career and has finished 120 of those races with 92 in the top 20, 61 in the top 10 and 27 in the top five including 13 podium appearances and one race victory, a slalom race in 2015 at Tahko, Finland.

High School—Takki attended Kuusamon Lukio in Kuusamo, Finland, and Gymnasiet Grankulla Samskola in Kauniainen, Finland, graduating in 2016. He also attended the Hanken School of Economics for one year.

In the Classroom—Takki is majoring in Finance out of the Leeds School of Business at Colorado. He earned mention on the National Collegiate All-Academic Ski Team for maintaining a 3.5 cumulative GPA and participating in the NCAA Regional Championships in both 2019 and 2020.

Personal—Teddy Tuukka Takki was born Feb. 24, 1996, in Kauniainen, Finland, to Tero and Kristiina Takki. He has one brother, Jimmy. He enjoys playing soccer in his spare time. He's a "Swedish speaking Finn," and he and his brother are the only ones in their family that speak Swedish.

Why Colorado—"Seems like the place to be."

MIKAELA TOMMY

Mikaela Tommy

5-5 • 2019-20 • 2L

Wakefield, Quebec (Philemon Wright/Edleweiss/Canadian National Team)

Career—In two seemingly short seasons, Tommy established herself not only as one of the best skiers in the nation during her time, but one of the best women's alpine skiers in CU history. She participated in 23 of a possible 27 career races, finishing 18 of them. She never finished outside the top 20, finished outside the top 10 once (16th after hiking in a slalom race) and outside the top five just twice with 13 podium appearances and eight race victories. One of the top 30 GS racers in the world rankings, she finished 10 of 12 GS races, never finishing outside the top five with nine podium appearances and eight wins. She finished her career second in women's alpine wins behind Lucie Zikova, who won 16 races from 2005-08. She is CU's leader in GS wins for women's alpine, having three more than any skier in program history. She set the CU mark with four consecutive GS wins and has the two longest streaks in CU history, four during the 2020 season and three during the 2019 season. She also won 13 runs in her two seasons, second on CU's career chart behind 20 from Zikova. She finished as a two-time first-team All-American, RMISA MVP and two-time first-team All-RMISA selection.

2020 (Senior)—Tommy not only picked up where she left off in 2020, the argument can be made that she even picked up her college racing performance in her final of two years of eligibility. She finished 10 of a possible 13 races with nine podium appearances, the first nine races of the season, which included five wins and a pair of runner-up performances. In seven GS starts, she finished six with five wins and a second place. In heartbreaking fashion, her ski fell off in her final college race, the GS race at the NCAA Championships, a race she was one of if not the favorite to win. She was named the RMISA Women's Alpine MVP and first-team All-RMISA. She was the top GS qualifier out of the RMISA for the NCAA Championships and No. 5 on the slalom list. She was also the start list points leader for GS and fifth for slalom in the 2020 season. She matched the CU record set by Lucie Zikova by winning eight runs during the season, as she took six GS runs and two slalom runs during the season. Along with teammate Stef Fleckenstein, the two became the third and fourth skiers and the fourth and fifth instance of women's alpine skiers winning multiple runs in both disciplines in a season. She mirrored what Zikova accomplished in 2006 when she won six slalom runs and two GS. She opened the season with two straight GS wins, first a qualifier and then as part of the DU Invitational in Aspen. She didn't finish the slalom race there but had the fastest first run in the field. At Eldora, she won the GS race and took third and second in the two slalom races, the first as part of the CU Invitational and second a qualifier race. She was named the RMISA Skier of the Week and CU's Athlete of the Week for the CU meet. In Utah, she again won the GS and took third in the slalom for the Utah Invitational before not finishing the extra qualifier slalom race, and she was again named CU's Athlete of the Week. In Bozeman, she took second in the first GS race, a qualifier race, and then won the RMISA Individual Championship the next day before finishing 16th in the slalom race, her first career finish outside the top 10 after she had to hike to stay in the race. She picked up her third CU Athlete of the Week award for the races in Bozeman. She had the seventh-fastest first run and was on pace for another podium appearance before her misstep. She didn't finish the GS race at the NCAA Championships, her first DNF in a GS race in her career. The next day, the NCAA cancelled the championship due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

2019 (Freshman)—A two-time first-team All-American and first-team All-RMISA performer, Tommy missed the first two races of the season, both GS races in Eldora, and then after not finishing her first career race in the slalom race at Eldora, she turned it on, winning both of her first three giant slalom races of her career; two at Montana State, one as the RMISA Alpine Qualifier #2 and the other as part of the Montana State Invitational, and one in Alaska at the UAA Invitational. At MSU, she then finished 10th in the slalom race, having moved up six spots from starting 16th after the first run and the second run being canceled. She then missed the New Mexico Invitational skiing on the World Cup and returned to the Buffs for two meets in Alaska. There she won her third straight GS race in the UAA Invitational and took home two top 10 and one top five slalom finishes, seventh as part of the UAA Invitational and fifth as part of the RMISA Championships. She became the first women's alpine skier in CU histoty to win three straight GS races, which happened to be the first three of her career. She was the first skier since Tove Pashkowski to win her first career GS race and Pashkowski also won her first two career GS races that season. Tommy joins Pashkowski and Caroline Gedde-Dahl as skiers under coach Richard Rokos who have won back-to-back GS races spanning the last 29 seasons. Tommy has won five GS runs (two runs per race) this season, which as a team constitutes the most GS run wins under Rokos. Pashkowski won four GS runs in 2000, the previous best for the Buffs. Tommy also became just the fifth known skier to win both runs within one GS race, which she accomplished in the second race at MSU as part of the RMISA Alpine Qualifier #2. Erika Ghent was the last skier to accomplish that feat in 2012 at the CU Invitational. Pashkowski (2000), Mia Cullman (2003) and Katie Hartman (2010) are the only other known instances of that happening in CU history with data available back to 2000. Tommy was the No. 2 NCAA Qualifier out of the RMISA and the top seed in GS and No. 11 seed in slalom out of the league for the NCAA Championships, where she finished fourth in the GS and third in the slalom to earn two first-team All-America honors. She earned the team's Outstanding Women's Apline Award and was honored as CU's Female Freshman of the Year at the annual CUSPY Awards. She also earned a spot on the National Collegiate All-Academic Ski Team for maintaining above a 3.5 GPA.

Prior To CU—Tommy has skied at the highest levels including World Championships and in World Cup races. She skied at the World Championships in Schladming in 2013, Vail/Beaver Creek in 2015 and St. Moritz in 2017. In six races, she finished two, finishing 22nd in both the Giant Slalom at Vail/Beaver Creek in 2015 and in the Super G in St. Moritz in 2017. She has 45 World Cup races to her credit with 11 finishes, including her three best finishes prior to the start of the 2019 collegiate season. All in GS action, she took 26th in Killington in November and 19th in Chouchevel and 18th in Semmering in December. With those three results, she earned 30 points and ranks 29th in the World Cup Standings. She also earned four points for a 27th place finish in 2017 at Squaw Valley in a GS race. She competed at the Junior World Championships from 2012-16, highlighted by a fourth place finish in the GS at Hafjell, Norway, in 2015. She has skied in continental cup races since 2012 and she has won three NorAm Cup Championships in her career, including the GS in 2013 and 2018 and the alpine combined in 2014. In the overall NorAm Cup standings for all disciplines, she finished in the top 11 five times, including second in 2015 when she was second in both alpine combined and Super G and third in GS; and she took third in 2018, adding a third place alpine combined placement to her GS championship. She has competed both on the NorAm Cup and European Cup circuits. She has over 120 starts in NorAm Cup races with 56 top 10 finishes, 37 top 5 finishes with 27 podium appearance and 10 race wins. Her 10 wins include seven in giant slalom, one in Super G, one in super combined and one in alpine combined. In European Cup action, she has 17 race starts with 10 finishes and three top 10s including a fifth place in the GS at Zinal in 2016. She has competed at the Canadian National Championships since 2012 and has finished 10 of 14 races having never finished lower than eighth. She hit the podium twice, taking second in the Super G in Nakiska in 2015 and third in the GS in Whistler in 2014. She also competed in the 2015 US National Championships, taking fifth in both the Downhill and Super G, and the 2018 in New Zealand. Overall in FIS sanctioned races, she has over 350 starts with over 200 finishes. She has 124 top 10 and 83 top 5 finishes including 49 podium appearances and 19 race wins.

High School—Tommy graduated from Philemon Wright High School in 2012.
In the Classroom—Tommy is majoring in Environmental Design at Colorado.

Personal—Mikaela Tommy was born May 10, 1995 in Ottawa, Canada. Her parents are Michael and Gabrielle and she has two siblings, Duncan and Reese. Her dad was a two-time Olympian (1984, '88) in alpine skiing and his two brothers, her uncles, were also Olympians. Another uncle, Horst Bulau, was a World Cup winning ski jumper. She enjoys painting, play sports, the ukulele and having fun in her spare time.

Why Colorado—"I love Colorado for skiing!"

Notes

Western Intercollegiate - Only one GS race, one clip says CU in it and finsihed second, the other one doesn't mention CU. Individual results are only race winners ... Utah Invitational - Meet was delayed a day due to weather, and officially Utah's first ski invitational in history. Only winner's are known ... CU/WSC Meet - Took place in Gunnisson and co-hosted by CU and Western State. Top five in downhill known, Genn and Nichols tied for third. Top three for alpine combined ... DU meet - top 5 XC, SL winners, DH top 2, J winners.

Notes

Full results packet for Wyoming, Western State, Utah, AIAW Championships and NCAA Championships ... Women's Wyoming relay took place, but Hoem CU's only skier for the meet, men's relay also happened but only two Buffs in attendance ... Women's Utah Buffs did not compete in alpine events, no relay event held ... Men's & Women's RMISA Championships missing slalom race (has D3 slalom race, not D1) ... No NCAA results packet, seems to be full results for GS, but not slalom, assuming others DNF'd.

RMISA CHAMPIONSHIPS

The Rocky Mountain Intercollegiate Ski Association is the official association for college and university NCAA skiing teams in the Rocky Mountain region. It is comprised of nine institutions, seven NCAA members and three associate members, from six states stretching from Alaska to Colorado. Member schools in 2019-20 are Alaska Anchorage, Alaska Fairbanks, Colorado, Colorado Mountain College, Denver, Montana State, Utah, Westminster College and Wyoming.

Since the introduction of the NCAA Skiing National Championship in 1954, schools from the RMISA have captured 59 of the 67 team titles, or 88.1 percent.

NCAA CHAMPIONSHIPS

The NCAA first sponsored a men's national championship in skiing in 1954, though national title meets (National Intercollegiate Championships) were held as early as 1946, the same year CU's program began. Women's programs came into being in the late 1970s, with then CU head coach and eventual AD Bill Marolt at the forefront of making it a reality. CU has competed in each of the last 41 NCAA Championships and in 52 of 55 overall. One of those three occasions where CU didn't qualify (1964), several team members had competed in the Winter Olympics, and in 1967, CU sent only a few skiers to Maine for financial reasons. The old AIAW sponsored women's titles between 1977-82; in 1983, the NCAA absorbed the AIAW but combined the men's and women's competition, as was the case in rifle and fencing. Here's an in-depth look at the NCAA Championship history of the Buffaloes.

NCAA SCORING FORMAT

The latest scoring format was adopted in 2014, where a maximum 30 skiers can score for their teams. The weighted 40-point base still rewards the top eight skiers in the field with varying additional points over the skier behind them. Scoring is as follows: 40-37-34-31-29-27-25-23-22-21-20-19-18-17-16-15-14-13-12-11-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1; the west has used this format the last three years, the east still uses the old 50-point format that allowed 39 skiers to score for their teams. Unlike from 1997-2009, no scores are thrown out for those teams that qualified a full 12-skier team or one shy with 11; so to tabulate the final standings, all scores have counted since 2010. The 2020 Championship was cancelled after Day Two due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Here's a day-by-day look at the NCAA Championships since 1991, also charting where the eventual winner was after each day (assorted scoring formats):

A day-by-day look at the NCAA Championships under the current scoring format:

SKI TEAM AWARDS

Award Descriptions

Dick Schoenberger Memorial
The outstanding skier each year is presented the Dick Schoenberger Memorial Award. Schenberger was a close friend and supporter of the ski team until his death in 1963. He hosted the team at his ranch, the C Lazy U near Winter Park during the season.

Buddy Werner Memorial
The one name synonymous with competitive skiing in America is Buddy Werner, the gritty competitor from Steamboat Springs, Werner was America's first international skiing star. He was killed in an avalanche near St. Moritz, Switzerland, on April 12, 1964. Because of the standard Werner set for young athletes, a scholarship was set up in his name in 1973 to benefit a deserviing member of the ski team.

Laura Sharpe Flood Award
Each year the skier who best exemplifies the spirit, enthusiasm and dedication, both on the mountain and in the classroom, receives this award. She tragically lost her life April 3, 1989, training at Eldora. Her biggest asset to the teaem were her dedication and commitment, according to former coach Tim LaVallee.

Spencer Nelson Award
Given in the spirit of the former CU skier who lost his life just prior to his sophomore season at CU in August 2011, this award is presented annually by Spencer's parents, Peter Nelson and Peggy Smith. It is given to the skier(s) who overcome adversity and demonstrate a strong work ethic.

Lucie Hanusova Award
Given to the skeir with the best ability to overcome adversity and challenges with smiles and enthusiasm. Hanusova passed away in May 2003 in a snowmobiling accident in Yellowstone National Park.
