PAC-12 POSTSEASON FACTS: Colorado, 22-9 overall, is in its 13th Pac-12 Tournament, coming in as the No. 3 seed after finishing in sole possession of third place in the final Pac-12 standings at 13-7. The No. 3 seed matches the Buffaloes' highest in the Pac-12 era joining the 2020-21 team. Colorado receives a first round bye for the third time in four seasons and will play the winner of No. 6 Utah and No. 11 Arizona State in a quarterfinal game Thursday.

Colorado holds an overall record of 17-11 in the championship and has won at least one game in 11 of 12 tournaments. The Buffaloes have two Pac-12 Tournament championship game appearances, winning the inaugural Pac-12 Tournament title in 2012, as the No. 6 seed, winning four games in four days in Los Angeles. The Buffaloes were the runner up in 2021.

Colorado is 9-2 in the championship as the higher seeded team and 8-9 as the lower seed. Seven of Colorado's 11 Pac-12 Tournament losses have come to the top two seeds.

The Buffaloes were the last Pac-12 program to walk away from the annual event without a win. Colorado had won eight-straight first round games before falling to Washington State in 2020, just hours before the rest of the Pac-12 Tournament, and NCAA Tournament, was canceled due to the coronavirus pandemic. The Buffaloes followed up that setback with a run to the 2021 championship game and the 2022 semifinals.

Colorado is 30-46 all-time in conference postseason tournaments. The Buffaloes were 4-20 in the Big Eight Tournament between 1977-96 and 9-15 in the Big 12 Championship between 1997-2011.

Head coach Tad Boyle owns nearly two-thirds of Colorado's all-time conference tournament wins. He is 19-12 in conference tournament action, including a 2-1 mark in Colorado's final year of the Big 12.

THE BUFFALOES: Colorado enters the Pac-12 Tournament riding a six-game winning streak after securing a road sweep of Oregon and Oregon State in the final week of the regular season.

Colorado's six-game winning streak during conference play is its most since the 1996-97 team won the first six of the Big 12 schedule. It's the first time the Buffs have won the final six games of the conference regular season since the 1954-55 Final Four team won their last six before heading to the NCAA Tournament.

Colorado's 13 conference wins tie for the second-most in a single-season. The 2020-21 team was 14-6 in Pac-12 play (finished 3rd) and the 1961-62 Big Eight championship team was 13-1.

Colorado's 22 regular season wins is a school record. Four teams had reached 21 during the regular season prior to this year: 1996-97, 2013-14, 2015-16, 2019-20.

Colorado has a winning record in conference play for the ninth time in 13 Pac-12 seasons. CU had nine seasons with winning conference records from 1963-64 through 2010-11 (9 winning, 36 losing, 3 at .500). Boyle has nine, Sox Walseth five and Ricardo Patton four. The third-place finish matches Colorado's best in the Pac-12 (2013-14, '20-21). The Buffaloes have won at least 12 conference games in three of the last four seasons.

Colorado is .500 or better in conference play for the 10th time in head coach Tad Boyle's 14 seasons. It's the ninth conference season in the Boyle era with double-figure wins.

20 WINS: Colorado has 14 20-win seasons in program history, 10 of which have come under head coach Tad Boyle. The Buffaloes have won 20 games by the close of the regular season nine times (1968-69, '96-97, 2012-13, '13-14, '15-16, '19-20, '20-21, '21-22 & '23-24). Boyle coached teams own the top five and seven of the top eight single-season win totals in team history.

Overall, Colorado is one of the top all-around shooting teams in the country, ranking in the top 15 nationally in all three percentage categories: overall field goal, 3-point and free throws. The Buffaloes are fourth in the nation in 3-point percentage (.400), fifth in overall shooting (.499) and 15th from the free throw line (.777).

Colorado is one of only two programs in NCAA Division I in the nation's top 15 of all three categories, joining Indiana State (through games of March 11). Colorado also sports top 40 marks nationally in rebound margin (+8.0, 14th), assists (16.1, 32nd), defensive rebounds (27.4 drpg, 35th), fouls (14.9 fpg, 35th) and scoring (80.6 ppg, 37th).

Colorado leads the Pac-12 in all three shooting categories as well as rebounding defense (29.6 rpg) while ranking second in scoring margin (+8.5) and rebound margin, third in scoring offense, scoring defense (72.1 ppg), 3-point defense (.329) and defensive rebounds and fourth in assists and overall rebounding (37.7 rpg).

During regular season league play, the Buffaloes took top honors in free throw percentage (.770), 3-point shooting (.395), 3-point defense (.334) and rebounds allowed (30.9 rpg)

INDIVIDUALLY SPEAKING: All-America candidate KJ Simpson tops Colorado at 19.6 points, 4.9 assists and 1.7 steals per game while ranking third in rebounding (5.5 rpg). He is Colorado's leader in all shooting made and attempted categories as well as total defensive rebounds with 145. Simpson is averaged 6.1 rebounds during Pac-12 play, ranking 12th on the conference charts.

During Colorado's six-game winning streak he is averaging 23.2 points, 6.0 assists and 5.7 rebounds while shooting 51.2 percent from 3-point range (21-of-41) and 49.5 percent overall.

Simpson has 18 games with 20 or more points this season, the most by a Buffalo since Alec Burks had 24 20-point games in 2010-11. He is the only major conference player averaging 19.0 points, 5.0 rebounds and 4.0 assists per game and is one of five in all of NCAA Division I with those numbers.

Simpson is second among all major conference players in rebounding during conference games (third for all games) for those listed at 6' 2" and under. He leads the Pac-12 in rebounding for all players listed at 6' 5" and under during conference play (second in overall games).

On the Pac-12 charts, Simpson is first in assist-to-turnover ratio (2.3), second in scoring, 3-point percentage (.451) and assists, third in steals, fourth in free throw shooting (.865), sixth in minutes (34.4 mpg), 11th in defensive rebounds (4.7 drpg) and 16th in overall rebounding and shooting (.488).

Simpson has become an 'iron man' of sorts. He led the Pac-12 in minutes played during league games (34.4 mpg). Over the final four games of the regular season he sat for a mere 1:27 of game time. He played 178:33 of 180:00 minutes over those four games including a stretch of 111:38 straight minutes played between the second half of the California game and the first half at Oregon State.

Senior forward Tristan da Silva is second on the team in scoring (16.2 ppg), field goals made (162), 3-pointers (51) and steals (33) while ranking fourth in rebounding (5.4 rpg). During Colorado's six-game run, his points have jumped up to 18.8 points on 47.8 shooting with a team-best 11 steals.

Da Silva had a team-high 22 points on 9-of-17 shooting in the win at Oregon. It was his third-straight 20-point game, seventh of the season and 20th of his career.

He had season-highs with 27 points and 11 rebounds on Senior Day against Stanford. It was his second double-double of the season and fourth of his career. He set career-highs in 3-pointers made and attempted hitting on 5-of-10 beyond the arc.

On the Pac-12 charts, da Silva ranks sixth in free throw percentage (.840), ninth in scoring, 11th in minutes (33.5 mpg), 14th in defensive rebounds (4.4 drpg), 18th in 3-point percentage (.375) and 20th in rebounding.

McDonald's All-American Cody Williams is third on the team in scoring at 13.7 points per game while shooting a team-best 59.0 percent from the field. He had 18 points at UCLA leading the Buffaloes in scoring for the third time. Williams hit his first eight field goal attempts; finished 8-of-9 after missing a desperation 3-point attempt at the buzzer with the Bruins up by the final margin of four.

Williams had 14 points of 5 of 6 shooting at USC. Overall he has made 15 of 19 field goal attempts in his last three games (.789).

Senior J'Vonne Hadley averages 12.3 points per game while ranking second on the team in rebounding (6.2 rpg) and shooting (.568) and third in steals (32).

Hadley picked up his first career Pac-12 Player of the Week honor on March 11 after averaging 17.5 points, 9.5 rebounds and 2.0 assists to lead the Buffaloes in the road sweep of Oregon and Oregon State last week. He shot 63.2 percent from the field (12-of-19) while hitting 5-of-6 from 3-point range and sinking all six of his free throw attempts.

Hadley had 20 points and a career-high 12 rebounds at Oregon, recording his third career double-double (all this season). He was a perfect 4-of-4 from 3-point range, setting personal bests for 3-pointers made and attempted. His four 3-pointers made is the most without a miss since Julian Hammond III went 4-for-4 against Washington on Jan. 9, 2022.

Against Oregon State, Hadley had 15 points, seven rebounds and three assists. He made 4-of-8 from the field and 6-of-6 from the line.

On the overall Pac-12 charts, he is sixth in field goal percentage, seventh in free throw accuracy (.836), ninth in rebounding and minutes (33.8 mpg) and 10th in defensive boards (4.7 drpg).

Senior Eddie Lampkin, Jr., leads the Buffaloes and ranks fifth in the Pac-12 in rebounding at 7.1 per game. He is averaging 10.1 points per game and is third on the team in shooting at 56.7 percent.

Lampkin had 17 points and 11 rebounds at Oregon State to secure his team-best eighth double-double of the season. He has 14 in his career adding in his six at TCU. In all he has 10 double-digit rebounding games for the Buffaloes.

Lampkin had a season-high eight field goals against the Beavers and has made 26 of his last 39 from the field (.667). He has shot 50 percent or better in the last five games and in 23 of 31 games this season. Lampkin led the Buffaloes in scoring for the second time this season and in rebounding for the 16th time.

On the Pac-12 leaderboard, Lampkin is also third in offensive rebounds (2.5 orpg), seventh in field goal percentage and 12th in defensive boards (4.6 drpg).

Junior Julian Hammond III is averaging 7.4 points and is fifth on the team in assists with 44. Hammond is ninth in the Pac-12 in 3-point percentage (.400). He has missed the last five games with a knee injury.

Senior Luke O'Brien is averaging 6.5 points and 3.8 rebounds per game. He is third on the team in blocked shots with 12 and is fourth in steals (21) and fifth in rebounding. O'Brien had 10 points against Oregon State, scoring in double figures for the eighth time this season. All 10 points came in the first half. The 10 points are his most since he scored 10 in the first Oregon State game in Boulder on Jan. 20.

BOYLE MILESTONES: Head coach Tad Boyle, in his 14th season, has 294 wins at Colorado, the most in program history.

Boyle-led teams own 10 of the 14 20-win seasons in team history, the top five single-season win totals and seven of the top eight. With a record of 294-181 at CU, his 61.9 winning percentage is second all-time just behind Forrest "Frosty" Cox at 62.3 from 1936-50.

Boyle has 131 Pac-12 regular season wins, tying with Ernie Kent (Oregon 1998-2010 & Washington State 2014-19) for 17th in conference history.

In the regular season finale against Oregon State, Boyle picked up his 350th head coaching win and is now 350-247 (.586) in 18 years between Colorado and Northern Colorado.

Boyle is three wins away from becoming the all-time winningest head coach at any state of Colorado NCAA Division I institution. Jim Williams won 352 games in 26 seasons at Colorado State from 1954-80. Boyle is currently sixth in career wins for a head coach at any Colorado four-year school.

SERIES RECORDS: Colorado has met both possible quarterfinal opponents in Pac-12 Tournament action once with the Buffaloes winning both. No. 6 Colorado defeated No. 11 Utah in the first round of the 2012 Tournament, 53-41, as the Buffaloes began their run of four wins in four days in Los Angeles for the inaugural tournament championship. The No. 8 Buffaloes defeated No. 9 Arizona State, 97-85 in a 2018 first round game.

Colorado split with both Arizona and Utah during the regular season with the home team winning all four games. The Buffaloes won both home games by double-digits. The two road losses went down to the wire with Arizona State holding onto a three-point win and the Utes a five-point advantage.

Overall, Colorado has a 16-12 series lead over Arizona State and has won nine of the last 14. The Buffaloes have a 2-0 advantage on a neutral floor: the 2017 Pac-12 Tournament first round win and in the 2018 Pac-12 China Game in Shanghai.

Colorado owns a 34-27 series lead over Utah. The teams have met just twice on a neutral court: CU's 2012 Pac-12 Tournament first round win and on Dec. 23, 1936, where the Utes claimed a 32-30 decision in a game played in Denver.

SEASON NUMBERS WATCH: KJ Simpson scored 15 points at Oregon State to become the 10th Buffalo to reach 600 points in a single season. He enters the Pac-12 Tournament in ninth with 609, six points shy of seventh place and current NBA star Derrick White.

TURNOVER NUMBERS DROPPING: Turnovers have been a struggle at times for Colorado, averaging nearly 13 per game. However, one factor in Colorado's recent winning streak is a decline in those numbers.

Since a season-high 21 turnovers at USC, the Buffaloes have averaged just 9.6 over the last five games.

Against Utah, the Buffaloes turned it over just four times, matching the fewest in a conference game in team history. The Buffaloes also had four at Iowa State on Jan. 30, 2010.

Colorado had seven turnovers at Oregon State, its second fewest of the season.

FIVE IN DOUBLE-FIGURES: Colorado had five players score in double-figures in the win at Oregon State, hitting that mark for the 11th time this season (11-0 in those games). Colorado's 11 games with five in double-digits is tied for the sixth-most in the nation:

Most Games With 5+ Players Scoring In Double-Digits, 2023-24

SHARP-SHOOTING BUFFS: Colorado shot 55.2 percent from the field against Oregon (32-of-58) marking the 18th time the Buffaloes have shot 50 percent or better from the field this season, the most in one season in team history. Colorado is 16-2 this season, and 110-9 in the Tad Boyle era when shooting at least 50 percent.

Colorado's 55.2 percent at Oregon was its second best in a road Pac-12 game, trailing only a 55.8 percent performance (29-52) in an 80-71 loss at Arizona on Jan. 25, 2018.

The Buffaloes saw a string of six-straight games of shooting at least 50 percent end at Oregon State. It was the most consecutive games hitting at least 50 percent since the first seven games of the 1985-86 season. The Buffs are shooting 52.1 percent during their six-game winning streak (186-of-357).

The Buffaloes shot 52.2 percent at UCLA. It was the first time in the Pac-12 era where Colorado shot 50 percent or better in consecutive games on a conference road trip. In February 2022, the Buffaloes shot 50 percent twice on the same trip, 50 percent at Oregon State (Feb. 15) and 52.2 percent at Stanford (Feb. 19) with a sub-.500 game at California (Feb. 17) in between.

OVERTIME & COMEBACKS: With it's double-overtime win at USC, Colorado improved its record in overtime games to 1-1 this year and 55-57 in its history. The Buffaloes have won their last eight multi-overtime games, dating back to 1991. It was CU's first double-overtime game since a 112-103 win over South Dakota State on Dec. 15, 2017. Colorado's only other overtime game against USC was a 98-84 triple-overtime win on Jan. 29, 2015, at the Galen Center.

Colorado's 16-point deficit was the biggest overcome on record (since 1947) with under 10 minutes remaining and tied for the third-biggest in a second half. Overall it's tied for the 11th-biggest comeback, including the win in Boulder over USC on Jan. 13 (led by 16 in the first half).

SIMPSON AWARD LISTS: Junior guard KJ Simpson was one of 20 late season watch-list members for the 2023-24 John R. Wooden Award the Los Angeles Athletic Club announced on Jan. 30.

Chosen by a poll of national college basketball experts based on their performances during the 2023-24 season thus far, the list comprises of 20 student-athletes who are front-runners for the sport's most prestigious honor, the Wooden Award All America Team and Most Outstanding Player Award.

Simpson is one of 30 NCAA Division I players on the Naismith Trophy Men's Basketball Player of the Year Midseason Team, announced Feb. 15.

Simpson is Colorado's first player to advance to this stage of both awards since Alec Burks in 2010-11.

Simpson is one of 40 on the watch list for the US Basketball Writers Association All-America team and Oscar Robertson Trophy for that organization's Player of the Year honor.

IN THE POLLS: Colorado was ranked in the first two Associated Press regular season polls, with a high of No. 18 on Nov. 20, the program's best since hitting No. 18 on Feb. 7, 2020. Colorado debuted at No. 25 in the first regular season Associated Press Top 25 Men's Basketball Poll released on Nov. 13.

It was just the second time since 1970 the Buffaloes appeared in the first regular season AP Poll. Colorado appeared in the exact same spot, No. 25, on Nov. 11, 2019; a season where the Buffaloes were ranked for a school-record 13 weeks, climbing as high as No. 16.

Overall Colorado has 57 all-time appearances in the AP Poll. Colorado made its lone appearance this season in the USA Today Sports Coaches Top 25 poll on Nov. 20, coming in at No. 21.

AGAINST RANKED TEAMS: Colorado is 1-3 against ranked teams in 2023-24 after falling to No. 8 (AP & Coaches) Arizona on Feb. 10. The Buffaloes ranked win came against then-No. 15 (AP & Coaches) Miami (Fla.) on Dec. 10. It was Colorado's third-straight neutral site win over a ranked nonconference opponent and best since defeating No. 11 Tennessee in Nashville last season.

Colorado fell to No. 20/21 Colorado State on Nov. 29. It was the first time the Rams were ranked in the 131 games of the hardwood edition of the Rocky Mountain Showdown.

Colorado's 26 wins over ranked opponents in the Tad Boyle era is by far the best in team history. In fact Boyle coached teams, with a record of 26-49, have accounted for 37 percent of wins over ranked opponents (70) since 1949-50.

ROLLIN' IN THE 90s: Colorado has hit the 90-point mark nine times in 2023-24, the most in one season in school history (9-0). The Buffaloes had a school all-time best four consecutive games scoring at least 90 during the nonconference schedule. Colorado had just two games of 90-plus points last season and just three in 2021-22.

The Buffs have won 35 games in a row when reaching the 90-point plateau (9-0 this season), last losing on March 7, 2015 at Washington State, 96-91 in overtime. CU is 56-2 under Tad Boyle when scoring 90-plus (5-0 with 100 or more), and has at least one 90-point game in 15 straight seasons.

Colorado's 98 points at Washington tied for the most in a road conference game in the Pac-12 era, matching a 98-94 triple overtime win at USC on Jan. 29, 2015. Overall, it was the most points on the road in a regulation game since a 105-61 win at Saint Mary's on Dec. 6, 2000.

SHARING THE BALL: Colorado had 20 assists against Utah Tech, hitting the 20-assist mark for the seventh time; matching the most in one season since 2010-11.

The Buffaloes tied a season-high with 28 assists against Miami, matching the effort against Grambling State a month earlier and tying for the 19th most in a single game in team history. Colorado's 28 assists against Miami was its most away from home since recording 28 at Texas A&M on Feb. 26, 2002.

1,000-POINT CLUB: Tristan da Silva became the 39th member of Colorado's 1,000-point club after scoring 17 points in the win over Iona. He hit the 1,000-mark on a 3-pointer in the final two minutes of the first half (scored 14 of his 17 in the first period). He had 22 against California, becoming the 20th player in team history to reach 1,300.

KJ Simpson became the 40th member of the 1,000 point-club after scoring 23 at Arizona State on Jan. 6. After his 27-point performance against Cal, he moved into the top 25 on CU's all-time list.

The last time Colorado had two active players in the program's 1,000-point club was at the end of the 2020-21 season in McKinley Wright IV (1,857) and D'Shawn Schwartz (1,026), with Schwartz reaching that milestone during the 2021 NCAA Tournament.

PAC-12 WEEKLY AWARDS: Colorado has been honored four times this season with Pac-12 Weekly Awards. Tristan da Silva was named Player of the Week on Dec. 11, Cody Williams Freshman of the Week on Jan. 22, KJ Simpson earned Player of the Week honors on Feb. 26 and most recently J'Vonne Hadley earned his first career weekly award on March 11.

Da Silva was named Pac-12 Player of the Week after his fantastic effort against Miami. He had 22 points, 10 rebounds, a career-high nine assists and a pair of steals against the Hurricanes. It was his third career double-double and first this season, missing a triple-double by a single assist. He had a season-best nine field goals made which matched the team's season-high. The Pac-12 Player of the Week honor for da Silva is the second of his career and first this year.

Williams earned Pac-12 Freshman of the Week honors after averaging 19.5 points, 4.0 rebounds, 2.0 assists and 1.5 steals to lead the Buffaloes in the home sweep of Oregon and Oregon State. He shot 69.6 from the field including 5 of 7 from 3-point range.

Williams was also honored as Dick Vitale's "Diaper Dandy" of the week, recognizing the nation's best performances in his Dickie V's Stars of the Week.

Simpson earned Pac-12 Player of the Week honors after recording 28 points, four rebounds, three assists and a steal in the win over Utah. He hit 10-of-15 shots from the floor, including 5-of-8 from 3-point range, while going a perfect 3-of-3 from the free throw line. The Player of the Week honor is his first of the season and third of his career.

Hadley averaged 17.5 points, 9.5 rebounds and 2.0 assists to lead the Buffaloes to a road sweep of Oregon and Oregon State. He shot 63.2 percent from the field (12-of-19) while hitting 5-of-6 from 3-point range and sinking all six of his free throw attempts.

It's only the second time three different Colorado players have been conference player of the week in the same season. David Harrison, Stephane Pelle and Blair Wilson earned separate Big 12 Conference weekly honors in 2002-03.

FINAL PAC-12 STANDINGS: Colorado finished the Pac-12 era with the fourth best overall conference record a full 15 games ahead of fifth place (cumulative numbers don't add to same due to several 2020 games cancelled due to COVID-19). WS-Winning Seasons

SIMPSON'S STRONG OPENING WEEK: Junior KJ Simpson had impressive opening league week averaging 27.5 points, 6.0 rebounds, 4.5 assists and 2.0 steals against the Washington schools.

Simpson had a career-high 34 points, hitting 10 of 18 from the field and 13 of 14 from the line, against Washington State. It was his fourth career 30-point game and second this season (30 vs CSU). Simpson scored the most points by a Buffalo since Derrick White had 35 at Arizona State on Jan. 5, 2017. Most by a CU player in the CU Events Center since Alec Burks had 36 vs. Missouri on Jan. 8, 2011. The 34 points tie for the fourth-most in the Pac-12 this season.

Against Washington, Simpson had a game-high 21 points, 10 rebounds, seven assists - with just one turnover - and three steals. It was his second career double-double and matched his personal-best in rebounds (both figures vs. Tennessee last season).

DA SILVA'S PERFECT GAME: Tristan da Silva had a game-high 22 points in the win over Pepperdine, sporting a "perfect game" in the process. He was 5 of 5 from the field, including 2 of 2 from beyond the arc, and 10 of 10 from the free throw line. He's the only Colorado player since 1951-52 with at least five field goals and 10 free throws without a miss. Since the 1996-97 season, da Silva is the only Pac-12 player with those numbers and only one of 12 nationally. Da Silva had a 6 for 6 game from the field against Oregon State in 2020-21, but went 3 for 4 from the line finishing with 15 points.

GOLD STANDARD: Colorado is 90-6 in the Tad Boyle era when meeting the program's "Gold Standard" of holding an opponent to 40 percent or less from the field and having a plus-8 rebounding edge. The Buffaloes are 6-0 this season hitting those marks, most recently at Oregon State, holding the Beavers to 37.5 percent from the field while holding a plus-14 advantage on the boards (43-29).

RIGHT AT HOME: Colorado finished the home regular season with a 16-1 record at the CU Events Center, tying for the most regular season home wins in a season joining the 2015-16 (16-1) and 2013-14 (16-2) teams at that mark (the 2010-11 team won a school-record 18 home games, which included three postseason NIT victories).

Colorado started 13-0 at home for the first time in team history after defeating Arizona State on Feb. 8, eclipsing previous best of 12-straight to begin a season last achieved by the 1968-69 Big Eight Championship team which won all 12 of its games in that title season. Although the run came to an end against No. 8/8 Arizona two nights later, the 13-game home winning streak was the program's best since a 14-game span over two seasons from Feb. 17, 2010 to Jan. 15, 2011. Colorado's win over USC on Jan. 13 was the 500th at the facility in program history.

At the CU Events Center, the Buffaloes have won:

- 16 of 17 in 2023-24 (16-1)
- 29 of their last 35 (29-6)
- 52 of 65 (52-13)
- 65 of 81 (65-16)
- 80 of 98 (80-18)
- 92 of 113 (92-21)
- 113 of 138 (113-25)

In the Tad Boyle era, Colorado is 193-40 at home (.828). The Buffaloes are 506-191 (.726) all-time at the CUEC. The Buffaloes have won at least 10 games at home each of the last 15 seasons.

NONCONFERENCE NUMBERS: Colorado is 127-39 (.765) in nonconference regular season games under head coach Tad Boyle including an 80-22 mark (.784) since the beginning of the 2014-15 season.

Colorado is 96-8 (.923) in nonconference home games under Boyle, a record which includes a 7-2 mark in postseason action.

DA SILVA HONORS: Preseason honors for senior Tristan da Silva:

- One of 50 watch-list members for the Naismith Trophy and Wooden Award for National Player of the Year honors.
- One of 20 watch-list members for the 2024 Karl Malone Award, given to the nation's top power forward by the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame.

- Preseason All-America Fourth Team by Blue Ribbon Yearbook.

- Preseason All-Pac-12 by The Almanac and that publication's 56th best player in the nation.

- Preseason Media All-Pac-12 Team.

- NCAA.com's top small forward and listed as one of the top 10 seniors in the nation overall.

Da Silva was a 2022-23 All-Pac-12 Conference First Team selection as a junior, leading Colorado at 15.9 points per game on just under 50 percent shooting. He led the Buffaloes with 54 3-point field goals and 44 steals while ranking second on the team in rebounding with 168.

Fans are encouraged to participate in Fan Voting for the Karl Malone Award at hoophallawards.com.

SIMPSON & WILLIAMS ALSO HONORED: Along with senior Tristan da Silva, junior KJ Simpson and freshman Cody Williams received recognition on the Preseason Pac-12 All-Conference teams. Simpson was named to the media's 10-member All-Pac-12 First Team. Williams earned honorable mention, receiving at least five votes from the media panel.

Simpson was named to The Almanac's Preseason All-Pac-12 Second Team and ranked as the 91st best player in the nation. Williams came in at No. 92 on The Almanac's Top 100 List.

HONORING BURDETTE "BURDIE" HALDORSON: Colorado is wearing a patch with the initials "BH" on their jerseys this season to honor Former All-American and CU Athletics Hall of Famer Burdette "Burdie" Haldorson who passed away on Oct. 13 at the age of 89.

As a senior in 1954-55, Haldorson led the Buffaloes to a 19-6 record, 11-1 in conference play and the Big Seven title by averaging 21.0 points and 13.8 rebounds per game (upping his averages from 16.7 and 9.0, respectively, from his junior season). He was a first-team All-Big Seven performer for the second straight year and was named a first-team All-American. CU eventually went on to finish third in the nation, losing in the Final Four to eventual champion San Francisco and the legendary Bill Russell. The Buffs defeated Iowa in the then-third place game to match the '42 team for the school's still highest finish ever in the NCAA tournament.

OPENERS: Colorado improved to 86-35 (.711) in all-time season openers and has won its last eight. The Buffaloes are 12-2 under head coach Tad Boyle and 39-5 in overall season openers since 1980-81.

The Buffaloes are 97-24 (.802) all-time in home openers, have won their last 16 and 22 of their last 23. Boyle's teams are 13-0 in home openers.

PRESEASON POLL: Colorado was picked to finish fifth in the annual Pac-12 Preseason Media Poll released Oct. 11. Arizona, which received 18 first place votes, was picked to win the league, followed by USC, UCLA, Oregon, Colorado and Arizona State.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — Colorado's KJ Simpson scored 23 points and the No. 18 Buffaloes survived a tough shooting night Monday to take a 64-59 win over scrappy Richmond in the Sunshine Slam semifinals.

Tad Boyle's Buffs, who jumped seven spots in the AP poll released Monday, improved to 4-0 while Richmond fell to 2-2.

The Buffs will next face Florida State in Tuesday's championship game at 2 p.m. (CBSSN) at Ocean Center.

Monday's game, CU's first away from home this season, wasn't decided until the final minutes.

Colorado led for the majority of the game, jumping out to a quick 6-0 lead and taking a 28-25 edge into intermission. But the Spiders wouldn't go away and took their second lead of the game, 44-42, with nine minutes to play.

The Buffs, though, responded with a quick 6-0 run to regain control. Richmond managed to cut the deficit to one point again before the Buffs finally put the game away. A Tristan da Silva basket with just more than a minute to play bumped CU's edge to five and following a pair of defensive stops, Simpson, da Silva and J'Vonne Hadley each hit two free throws to give Colorado a nine-point edge, 62-53, with 32 seconds remaining.

Simpson had three rebounds and a pair of assists to go with his 23 points, bolstered by a 9-for-10 effort from the free throw line. Da Silva added 15 points and eight rebounds while Hadley had six points and six boards.

Jordan King led Richmond with 23 points.

Colorado entered the game as the nation's leading 3-point shooting team (51.7 percent) and the sixth-best field goal shooting team (55.7 percent). But the Buffs struggled to find their shooting eye all night, finishing just 20-for-47 from the floor. They did, however, hit 21 of their 25 free throw tries while also holding a 32-26 rebound edge.

Richmond hit 23 of its 51 field goal tries but was just 5-for-20 from long range. HOW IT HAPPENED: Colorado led 28-25 at the break and pushed the cushion to seven early in the second half on four Simpson free throws.

But the Buffs could never shake the Spiders. Richmond stayed within range and finally took its second lead of the game, 44-42, when King hit two of three free throws at the 9:07 mark.

Colorado answered with a 6-0 run, getting a Simpson 3-pointer and a Cody Williams layup in transition for a 48-44 lead.

But Richmond stayed within striking range and with just more than four minutes to play, cut Colorado's lead to one on a long King 2-pointer.

Colorado then pushed its lead back to five on a pair of free throws from Simpson and Hadley before Richmond narrowed the gap to three one more time.

CU's defense then stepped up. Eddie Lampkin Jr. forced a turnover, then found da Silva underneath with a beautiful pass. Da Silva rammed it home and Colorado had a 58-53 lead with 1:29 to play.

Colorado then recorded back-to-back stops and the Spiders had to foul. Simpson, da Silva and Hadley all hit free throws in the final 1:03 to keep the Spiders at bay and give Colorado the win.

Colorado jumped out to a quick 6-0 lead, sparked by a pair of buckets from Tristan da Silva.

But the Spiders answered with an 8-0 run to take their only lead of the half. Colorado endured a three-minute scoring drought that covered five straight empty possessions, including two turnovers.

CU finally ended the drought on a Lampkin bucket, then regained the lead when RJ Smith drained a long 3-pointer to give Colorado an 11-8 lead.

Richmond did manage to tie the game again at 13-13 before the Buffs took the lead on a Simpson 3-pointer. The Buffs then used a 6-0 run to take their biggest lead of the half, 22-15, on the heels of a Cody Williams steal and basket, two free throws from Julian Hammond III and a Lampkin basket inside.

But Richmond once again battled back to close the gap to two and Colorado led by just three, 28-25, at the break.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — Colorado overcame a 10-point second-half deficit Tuesday to force overtime but the No. 18 Buffaloes came up short in the extra period, falling 77-71 to Florida State in the Sunshine Slam championship game.

Tad Boyle's Buffs fell to 4-1 overall while the Seminoles improved to 4-1.

Cold shooting doomed the Buffs, as CU shot just 35 percent from the floor (25-for-72), including 5-for-20 from 3-point range. Colorado also committed 20 turnovers, which the Seminoles converted into 19 points.

The Seminoles shot 47 percent for the game (25-for-57), but were 15-for-28 in the second half and overtime, including 4-for-4 in the extra period.

Cody Williams led CU with 17 points on 6-for-10 shooting. Colorado's two leading scorers for the young season, KJ Simpson and Tristan da Silva, both suffered poor shooting nights. Simpson finished with 15 points on 5-for-22 shooting (1-for-6 from long range) while da Silva had eight points on 2-for-9 shooting.

FSU had four players in double figures, led by Jalen Warley with 19.

In a game that featured nine lead changes and 13 ties, Colorado held a 30-27 edge at the break. FSU used a 20-7 run early in the second half to take a 10-point lead, but Colorado quickly put together a 10-0 run to tie the game.

The Buffs fell behind again but used an 8-0 surge to regain the lead, only to go scoreless over the last 2-48 of regulation as FSU rallied to force overtime.

Florida State then scored the first nine minutes of the extra period to take control for good.

"We gave one away," a disappointed Boyle said after the game. "We were not very good. We knew Florida State was going to pressure, but when you have 20 turnovers against anybody, it's going to be hard to win. ... When something like this happens, it's hard to blame anyone but the coach. I've got to do a better job."

HOW IT HAPPENED: Colorado led 30-27 at the half but a cold start and some hot Seminole shooting from long range resulted in FSU taking a 10-point lead early in the second half. Florida State opened the period with a 20-7 run that included four 3-pointers and CU trailed, 47-37, less than seven minutes into the half.

But the Buffs rallied. Colorado put together a 10-0 run, capped by a Simpson 3-pointer, to tie the game at 47-47.

FSU then regained the lead, taking a 55-49 edge before Colorado staged another rally. J'Vonne Hadley sparked an 8-0 run with a pair of baskets and two da Silva free throws gave CU a 57-55 edge with 4:24 to play in regulation.

CU then took a 60-57 lead on a 3-pointer from Julian Hammond III before the Seminoles tied it with 1:15 on the clock — and that's how regulation play ended, with both teams coming up empty on offensive possessions in the final minute.

Florida State then took control early in the overtime, scoring the first nine points of the period and a CU rally in the final minute came up short.

"Our guys battled, our guys competed," Boyle said. "It's not a toughness factor, it's not a competitiveness factor, it's not not being ready to play. It was just simply taking care of the basketball and taking great shots and the ability to finish and we weren't good enough with that tonight."

Shooting woes hounded the Buffs for nearly the entire game. CU was just 4-for-17 from the floor to open the first half and while the Seminoles were also having a tough time finding the bucket, FSU finally put together a 6-0 run to take an 18-12 lead with 7 minutes to play in the half.

But the Buffs finally found their shooting eye coming out of a timeout. Williams hit a bucket from the lane to start a 9-0 run that included a pair of Simpson buckets (both off feeds from da Silva), a Williams free throw and two charity tosses from da Silva.

With four minutes to go in the half, Colorado held a 21-18 lead, and they extended the margin to 23-19 on a Luke O'Brien dunk at the 3:31 mark.

Florida State rallied to tie the game at 27-27 before Hammond III drained a 3-pointer just before the halftime buzzer to give Colorado a 30-27 lead at the break.

FORT COLLINS — Colorado staged a furious second half rally Wednesday but the Buffaloes came up just short against No. 20 Colorado State, dropping an 88-83 decision at Moby Arena.

Tad Boyle's Buffs fell to 5-2 while the Rams improved to 7-0.

The Buffs trailed by 15 at the half but cut the deficit to five early in the second half and were still within five in the final minutes, thanks to 21 second-half points from freshman Cody Williams and 20 second-half points from KJ Simpson.

But the Buffs could never completely close the gap as the Rams had an answer on the offensive end at every critical moment and held CU at bay down the stretch.

Colorado ended up shooting 54.5 percent from the floor (30-for-55), including a 20-for-29 second half (69 percent). The Buffs also had a 34-21 edge on the boards. But the Rams were 27-for-53 from the floor, including 9-for-22 from 3-point range, and they converted 15 Colorado turnovers into 17 points.

Simpson finished as the game's leading scorer with 30 points. Williams tallied 21 and Tristan da Silva scored 11.

Isaiah Stevens led five Rams in double figures with 20 points and he had 11 assists — five more than the entire Colorado team.

Defensively, Colorado failed to string together three stops in a row even once the entire game.

"Disappointing," Boyle said. "The second half we fought our tails off but we weren't good enough defensively all night long. We never strung together stops and that puts a lot of pressure on your offense. Our offense was good enough in the second half but not in the first half because they were the aggressors. Colorado State is good but that was really disappointing because that was a winnable game. It was a great college basketball atmosphere and we didn't do our part."

HOW IT HAPPENED: Colorado trailed by 15 at the break, 41-26, after committing nine turnovers in the first half and shooting just 10-for-26 from the field, including 0-for-5 from long range.

The Rams, meanwhile, were 14-for-28 in the first period, including 7-for-14 from beyond the arc.

But the Buffs burst from the gate in the second half with a 22-12 surge to cut CSU's lead to 53-48 with 13:18 still to play. Williams fueled the surge with 10 points after a scoreless first half and Simpson added seven in the run.

"We switched some things offensively in the second half to get the ball moving side to side," Boyle said. "We have some success with it there."

But CSU pushed its lead back to double digits, building its cushion to 64-52 on four free throws from Stevens. Two of those came after a technical on Boyle, who was vehemently protesting a pair of questionable calls against Colorado.

But the Buffs didn't go away quietly. Luke O'Brien and Julian Hammond III hit buckets inside to cut the deficit to eight and a Williams basket with 6:13 to play shaved the CSU lead to six, 68-62, with 6:13 to play. Colorado then managed to stay within striking range over the next six minutes but could not come closer than five as the Buffs could not come up with steady defensive stops.

The Buffs pulled within five with just under a minute to play on a Williams drive but the Rams answered with a dunk to break CU's full-court press and a free throw to clinch the win.

Colorado started slowly but took a 10-9 lead seven minutes in when da Silva scored off a lob from Hammond.

But the Rams responded with a 10-0 run to take control and the Buffs had no answer. CU did manage to pull within five, 21-16, on a Simpson drive to the bucket but Colorado State reserve Joe Palmer drained a pair of long 3-pointers to push CU's deficit to nine, 27-18.

The Buffs shaved the deficit back to six when a Hammond basket with 2:41 left in the half cut CSU's cushion to 28-22.

But Colorado State closed the half on a 13-4 surge in the final 1:41, aided by a pair of Colorado turnovers down the stretch. Colorado's ninth miscue of the half came with just 2 seconds on the clock, leading to a CSU layup and 41-26 lead at the break.

BOULDER — Colorado built a big early lead Sunday and never let up as the Buffaloes rebounded from a loss to Colorado State to post a 91-66 win over Pepperdine at the CU Events Center.

Tad Boyle's Buffs improved to 6-2 overall — 5-0 at home — while the Waves dropped to 4-6.

Colorado put four players in double figures, with Tristan da Silva leading the Buffs with 22 points on 5-for-5 shooting. CU freshman Cody Williams had his second straight 20-point performance, finishing with 21 on 9-for-13 shooting. KJ Simpson tallied 15 points and four assists and Julian Hammond III added 10 points and four assists.

CU never trailed, jumping out to a 17-9 lead less than four minutes in, then using an 11-0 run to push the cushion into double digits. A J'Vonne Hadley bucket at the 8:02 mark pushed Colorado's lead to 38-18 and the Waves never cut the deficit below 20 again.

The Buffs dominated the stat sheet, shooting 57 percent (31-for-54) from the floor, including 7-for-13 from long range. CU held the Waves to just under 38 percent from the floor (24-for-64) and the Buffs had a 41-29 edge on the boards.

Colorado also finished with a 48-22 edge in the paint and the Buffs finished with 22 assists.

Houston Mallette led Pepperdine with 15 points while the Waves' leading scorer, Michael Ajayi, had just 13 points on 4-for-18 shooting.

"I challenged a couple of our guys I met with after the Colorado State game," Boyle said. "We had a team a couple years ago that didn't lose back-to-back games until late January, maybe February ... I think this team can be that kind of team in terms of their resolve and learning from the things that we don't do well and taking that into the next game. I thought we bounced back emotionally, we bounced back with the way we played and had some really efficient offensive performances tonight and some really good defensive performances."

HOW IT HAPPENED: Colorado led from the outset, taking a 17-12 lead less than six minutes in after a pair of offensive rebounds and buckets from Williams.

CU then put the game away over the next seven minutes as Hammond sparked a 23-6 surge to give the Buffs a 22-point lead. Hammond had seven points and three assists in the run, including a beautiful alley-op pass to Williams for a thunderous dunk. Williams also had seven points in the run and with 7:19 to play in the half, Colorado held a 40-18 lead.

In his last four games, Williams has shot 68 percent from the floor (28-for-41) while averaging almost 18 points per game.

"We wanted to come out and be the aggressor," said Williams. "Our defense kind of dictated the game. We came out aggressive on offense, moving the ball. Just coming out with that intensity, that energy to start the game off really gets us going fast."

The Buffs didn't let up in the final minutes of the half. CU pushed its cushion to 29 points over the ensuing five minutes as da Silva caught fire. The Colorado senior had nine points over a five-minute stretch and his 3-pointer with 2:14 on the clock gave the Buffs a 29-point edge, 49-20.

The Waves did manage to cut the deficit down to 24 by halftime, but Colorado still held a comfortable 52-28 edge at the break.

The Buffs had an outstanding first half on the offensive end, shooting almost 63 percent (20-for-32), including 5-for-7 from 3-point range.

They also had a solid showing on the defensive end, holding Pepperdine leading scorer Ajayi to just 5 points on 2-for-13 shooting.

Colorado continued to dominate in the second half. The Buffs opened the period with a 10-0 run with Williams scoring five in the burst, then built their cushion to 34 when a Williams bucket gave Colorado a 64-30 edge less than two minutes into the half.

Pepperdine never mounted anything resembling a threat for the rest of the game as the Buffs kept their lead in the 20s for the remainder of the contest.

BOULDER — Colorado had six players in double-figure scoring Friday and the Buffaloes rolled to a 90-68 win over Northern Colorado at the CU Events Center.

Tad Boyle's Buffs improved to 8-2 with their third straight win while the Bears fell to 4-6.

One of Boyle's main goals all week had been to make sure the Buffs didn't experience a letdown in the wake of last Sunday's big 90-63 win over No. 15 Miami.

Colorado put those worries to rest in a hurry. The Buffs used a 21-5 surge over the final nine minutes of the first half to take a 48-27 lead at the break, then opened the second half with a 22-7 run to put the game away.

Guard KJ Simpson led CU in scoring with 21 points to go with five steals, five rebounds and four assists. Eddie Lampkin Jr. recorded his second double-double of the season with 10 points and 10 rebounds to go with six assists. J'Vonne Hadley tallied 15 points and six assists. Luke O'Brien scored 14. Tristan da Silva added 12 and Julian Hammond III chipped in 10.

Saint Thomas led UNC with 27 points, but he shot just 10-for-22. Colorado finished with 23 assists, the Buffs' sixth game this season with at least 20 assists. CU shot 49 percent from the floor (35-for-71) and held a 43-32 edge on the boards.

Defensively, the Buffs held UNC to 42 percent shooting (25-for-60) and also forced 15 Bears turnovers, which Colorado converted into 28 points. CU hit the 90-point barrier for the fifth time this season and Colorado improved to 95-8 in home non-conference games in the Boyle era.

"Overall — you get 23 assists and six guys in double figures, that's good," Boyle said. "Our team is starting to come together."

HOW IT HAPPENED: Colorado led behind in the opening minutes but took the lead four minutes in when a Hadley bucket gave the Buffs an 8-7 edge.

CU never trailed again. After missing their first two shots of the game, the Buffs hit their next 11 in a row to take a 24-15 edge with 11:33 on a Simpson basket before the Bears momentarily closed the gap, shaving Colorado's lead to five, 27-22, on back-to-back baskets inside.

But the Buffs then took control for good, outscoring the Bears 21-5 over the final nine minutes of the half to take a 48-27 lead into the break.

Da Silva had five points early in the run to push CU's lead into double digits. Simpson then added back-to-back baskets, including a steal and breakaway dunk, before nailing a long 3-pointer to give the Buffs a 20-point edge, 45-25, and CU took a 21-point cushion into halftime, 48-27.

"These games can be trap games if you feel too comfortable after beating a really good team like Miami," Simpson said. "That's why we wanted to set the tone with our defense."

The Buffs dominated nearly every statistical category in the opening 20 minutes. CU had 13 assists in the half — including four from big man Lampkin — and the Buffs defense forced 10 UNC turnovers which the Buffs converted into 19 points.

CU shot 56 percent from the floor in the half (20-for-36) while enjoying a 28-18 edge in points in the paint.

Colorado made sure the Bears harbored no thoughts of a comeback in the second half. The Buffs outscored UNC 22-7 over the first six minutes of the period to take a 36-point lead, 70-34, with Simpson recording another steal and dunk in the surge and O'Brien adding a pair of 3-pointers.

The Bears never threatened to slice the margin under 20 again. Simpson continues to make his case as being one of the best point guards in the country. Friday was his sixth game with at least 20 points and he now has three times as many assists (44) than turnovers (14) to go with his 20 steals.

BOULDER — Colorado's KJ Simpson scored a career-high 34 points Sunday and the Buffaloes fought off a second-half Washington State rally to collect a 74-67 win over the Cougars at the CU Events Center.

Tad Boyle's Buffs, once again without Tristan da Silva and Cody Williams (injuries), improved to 11-2 overall and 2-0 in Pac-12 play with their sixth straight win. WSU dropped to 9-4, 0-2.

The win gave CU its first 2-0 start in conference play 2014-15. Simpson shot 10-for-18 from the floor and 13-for-14 from the free throw line for his 34 points. J'Vonne Hadley added 12 points, four rebounds and three assists. Eddie Lampkin Jr. chipped in 10 points.

Andrej Jakimovski led WSU with 19 points. Colorado led by 10 at the half and pushed its lead to 12 early in the second period. But the Cougars slowly chipped away at CU's lead and with 3:24 to play, Colorado's cushion had been shaved to just one, 65-64.

But the Buffs responded with big plays in the final two minutes. Simpson had six points in a 9-0 Colorado run while Hadley had a big block on the defensive end and a huge 3-pointer with just under a minute to play to put the game away.

Colorado shot 50 percent from the floor (24-for-48) while the Cougars were right behind at 28-for-58. But the Buffs hit 22 of 26 free throws while the Cougars hit six of their eight charity tries. CU also had a 22-15 edge in points off turnovers and the Buffs won the rebound battle, 30-28.

"Another hard-fought league win," Boyle said after the game. "It was not easy for us. Washington State, I like their team a lot. They have good personnel. A quality win against a quality team."

HOW IT HAPPENED: The Buffs led by 10 at intermission, 39-29, and briefly pushed the cushion to 12 with a bucket to open the second half.

But the Cougars fought back with a 9-2 run to shave CU's lead to five, then cut the lead to two with six buckets in seven possessions. With 12:22 still to play, Colorado's lead had been cut to 48-46.

The Buffs regained control minutes later when CU's defense forced four straight empty WSU possessions while Colorado scored six in a row. Luke O'Brien hit a free throw. Simpson delivered a second-chance bucket after a Hadley offensive rebound and Lampkin converted a three-point play to give Colorado an eight-point lead, 64-56, with 5:33 left on the clock.

But the Cougars answered on time with a free throw and a 3-pointer from Jakimovski, his fourth try of the game. With 4:05 left, Colorado's lead was back down to two, 64-62, and 30 seconds later the Cougars cut Colorado's edge to just one, 65-64, with a pair of free throws.

But every time the Cougars threatened to take the lead, the Buffs and Simpson had an answer.

"I talked to KJ early in the season about the fact that it's going to be important for him to recognize night to night what he has to do to help the team win," Boyle said. "There's nights it might be getting 8 to 10 to 12 assists. Friday (against Washington) he had 10 rebounds. Tonight we needed him to score and he went and got 34. He has solidified himself as one of the great point guards in Colorado basketball history."

Simpson certainly fit the bill against the Cougars.

With 2:01 to play, he delivered a bucket off the glass — his 29th and 30th points of the game — to give CU a 67-64 lead. He then hit two free throws after Hadley had a big block on the defensive end, and seconds later Hadley delivered a dagger 3-pointer to give the Buffs a 72-64 lead with less than a minute to play, basically clinching the win for Colorado.

The 3-pointer was Hadley's second of the game and just his third in his two years with the Buffs.

Colorado took control early with a 9-0 run after an opening bucket from WSU, with Simpson scoring five points in the surge.

The Cougars briefly cut the Colorado lead to five but the Buffs responded with an 8-2 burst to push their cushion to double digits. Julian Hammond III drained a long 3-pointer to start the run and Hadley added a corner trey to give the Buffs a 23-12 edge with 9 minutes to play in the first half.

But WSU didn't go away quietly. Jakimovski nailed three straight 3-pointers for the Cougars and with 3:24 to play in the half, Colorado's lead had been narrowed to four, 29-25.

Simpson, though, responded with a personal 6-0 run. The junior point guard hit three free throws, then recorded a steal and layup to bump Colorado's lead back to nine, 34-25. Colorado then closed the half with a Harrison Carrington bucket and free throw to take a 10-point edge into the break, 39-29.

TUCSON, Ariz. — Colorado fell behind early Thursday and the shorthanded Buffaloes never recovered, dropping a 97-50 decision to 10th-ranked Arizona at the McKale Center.

Tad Boyle's Buffs, still without standouts Tristan da Silva (ankle) and Cody Williams (wrist), saw their six-game win streak come to an end and fell to 11-3 overall and 2-1 in Pac-12 play. The Wildcats bounced back from a weekend loss to Stanford to improve to 11-3, 2-1.

This one got away from the Buffaloes early. Arizona used a 13-0 run to build a 23-6 lead six minutes in and three minutes later CU's deficit hit 20 when the 'Cats assumed a 31-11 lead. Arizona took a 50-23 edge into the break and the Buffs never mounted a serious threat in the second half as Arizona steadily built its lead, pushing it to 50 in the final seconds.

Javon Ruffin scored 11 for Colorado and KJ Simpson added 10 as the Buffs shot just 36 percent from the floor (20-for-55). Simpson, CU's leading scorer this season, shot 5-for-17 and had a career-high eight turnovers.

Pelle Larsson led four Wildcats in double figures with 18.

Arizona shot 56 percent (40-for-71), including 11-for-20 from 3-point range. Colorado hit just four of its 15 attempts from beyond the arc and the Buffaloes were dominated on the boards, 45-25, the first time this year Colorado has lost the rebound battle.

The Buffs also finished with 18 turnovers that led to 25 Arizona points, with the Wildcats cashing in 24 points on fast breaks.

"It was not our night in any facet of the game," Boyle said. "We had some really good looks offensively early that didn't go in and in our heads got down. Our key was to keep these guys out of transition and we didn't do a good job of that. We got our tails kicked on the glass and we obviously weren't very good offensively."

HOW IT HAPPENED: Turnovers and poor shooting hit Colorado hard in the first half.

After pulling to within 10-6 early, the Buffs came up empty on their next seven possessions, enabling the 'Cats to put together a 13-0 run.

Ruffin momentarily halted the surge with a 3-pointer, but the Wildcats answered with a 10-4 burst to push their cushion to 33-13 at the midway point of the half.

The Buffs didn't help their own cause, committing nine turnovers in the first half that led to 16 Arizona points, many coming in transition. Arizona tallied 14 fast break points in the half and Colorado trailed, 50-23, at the break.

Colorado's woes continued in the second half. Arizona quickly built its lead to 30 in the opening minutes and the Buffs never managed to make anything resembling a serious run for the remainder of the game. Arizona steadily built its lead, even with reserves in the game, and CU's deficit hit 50 in the final seconds.

BERKELEY, Calif. — Colorado's defense collapsed Wednesday as the Buffaloes let a 19-point lead in the second half slip away, allowing Cal to take an 82-78 win at Haas Pavilion.

Tad Boyle's Buffs dropped their third straight game to fall to 11-5 overall and 2-3 in Pac-12 play while Cal improved to 6-10, 2-3.

The Buffs led by 20 late in the first half and held a 50-31 lead early in the second period. But the Bears got hot from 3-point range, draining nine treys in the second half, and the Buffs never came up with an answer on the defensive end.

Colorado still had a chance to get the win in the final seconds. After Cal hit one of two free throws to take an 80-78 lead with 12 seconds remaining, CU's Tristan da Silva had an open 3-pointer from the wing. But his shot drew iron, the Bears rebounded and hit two more free throws to finish the scoring.

Eddie Lampkin Jr. led four Buffs in double figures with a career-high 22 points and 11 rebounds. Da Silva added 20, Cody Williams scored 16 in his return to the lineup after missing seven games with an injury and KJ Simpson chipped in 12.

Jaylon Tyson led Cal with 30 points, 23 coming in the second half. CU shot a respectable 49 percent from the floor (29-for-59) while the Bears shot just 40 percent (26-for-65). But Cal also hit 14 of its 30 3-point attempts, including a 9-for-15 effort from long range in the second half.

The Buffs did hold a 39-35 edge on the boards and a 42-18 edge in the paint, but Colorado had no answer for the Bears' offense down the stretch as Cal hit 13 of its last 17 field goal attempts.

The Buffs thus ended up 0-3 on their road trip, with two of the losses — to ASU and Cal — coming down to the final seconds.

HOW IT HAPPENED: Colorado dominated the first half, leading by as much as 20 and taking a 40-26 lead into the break.

The Buffs then built their lead to 19 early in the second half when a da Silva 3-pointer gave the Buffs a 50-31 lead less than three minutes in.

At that point, the Buffs looked firmly in control and ready to salvage a win out of their road trip.

But the Buffs defense that had been terrific in the first half suddenly took a break and the Bears staged a furious rally. Cal outscored Colorado 32-12 over the next 12 minutes to finally take a 63-62 lead with 5:38 to play, the Bears' first lead of the game.

Colorado had no answer for the Bears' long-range shooting in the surge as Cal hit seven 3-pointers in the run. Tyson had three treys in the rally and also delivered a drive and dunk to give the Bears their 63-62 edge.

The two teams then traded the lead six times over the next three minutes before a Jalen Cone 3-pointer gave Cal a 73-70 lead with 2:33 to play. The Bears then extended the lead with two free throws with 1:27 to play.

Williams finally ended a two-minute Buffs scoring drought with a layup and free throw at the 1:12 mark. That pulled CU to within 75-73, only to see the Buffs give up another Tyson dunk with 48 seconds left to push CU's deficit back to four.

Da Silva then drained a 3-pointer with 30 seconds left to cut Cal's lead back to one before Tyson hit a pair of free throws with 24 seconds left to give the Bears a 79-76 lead.

Williams then scored again for Colorado to narrow the deficit to one, 79-78, with 12 seconds left and the Buffs had one more chance after Cal hit one of two free throws. But da Silva's 3-point attempt with 4 seconds left drew him and the Bears added two more free throws with 1.9 seconds to seal the 82-78 win.

The Buffs started the game with a 10-0 run to take control and built their lead to as much as 20 before taking a 40-26 edge into the break.

Lampkin had six points in CU's opening surge and continued to be a force the rest of the half, tallying 15 points and five rebounds in the first 20 minutes.

After CU's opening surge, the Bears briefly managed to shave the Buffs' lead to seven before Colorado responded with a 7-0 run for a 20-6 lead. CU had two steal and breakaway buckets in the run, one each from Simpson and Luke O'Brien.

The Buffs then steadily built their lead despite Simpson playing just nine minutes because of two fouls.

A 6-0 run — all from Williams — pushed Colorado's cushion to 35-17 with 4:37 to play in the half and the Buffs built their lead to 20 when a da Silva 3-pointer gave Colorado a 40-20 lead with 2 minutes left in the half.

Cal then hit two 3-pointers in the final minute, but the Buffs still took a comfortable 40-26 lead into the break.

BOULDER — Colorado overcame a 16-point first half deficit and the Buffaloes rallied in the second half Saturday to take a 68-58 win over Southern California in front of a crowd of 10,005 at the CU Events Center.

Tad Boyle's Buffs ended a three-game losing streak to improve to 12-5 overall and 3-3 in Pac-12 play while also improving to 10-4 at home. The Trojans, playing without their top two scorers, dropped to 8-9, 2-4.

J'Vonne Hadley led the Buffs with 15 points, nine rebounds and three assists. Cody Williams scored 13 and Tristan da Silva and Eddie Lampkin Jr. each scored 12, with Lampkin adding seven rebounds.

Oziah Sellers led USC with 18. Colorado trailed by as much as 16 in the first half and the Trojans led 37-24 at the break. But the Buffs burst from the gate after intermission with a 12-2 run and finally took the lead midway through the half. CU then built a five-point lead and maintained that edge until the final minutes, when the Buffs managed to push their cushion to double digits.

Colorado shot just 31 percent in the first half (9-for-29) while the Trojans hit 15 of their 32 shots.

The Buffs kicked in their defense in the second half and the offense prospered as a result. CU held the Trojans to just 24 percent shooting in the second period (7-for-29) while forcing 10 turnovers and the Buffs converted those miscues into 12 points. Colorado also shot 56 percent after the break (18-for-32).

The Buffs did lose the rebound battle, 40-36, but the big difference came in the transition game. Colorado outscored USC 21-3 in fast break points, with the Buffs tallying 17 of those in the second half.

HOW IT HAPPENED: After a rough, disjointed first half that saw the Buffs trail 37-24 at the break, Colorado found its footing after intermission.

CU opened the half with a 12-2 run, hitting six of its first seven field goals. Hadley had six points in the surge and da Silva, Lampkin and KJ Simpson all added baskets as CU pulled to within 39-36.

USC momentarily pushed its lead back to five but the Buffs kept up

BOULDER — Colorado put six players in double figures Saturday and the Buffaloes took control early and never let up, rolling to a 90-57 win over Oregon State at the CU Events Center.

Tad Boyle's Buffs won their third in a row to improve to 14-5 overall and 5-3 in Pac-12 play while also improving to 12-0 at home — CU's best home start since the 1968-69 Buffs had a 12-0 home record.

Oregon State lost its fifth in a row to fall to 9-9, 1-6.

Tristan da Silva led CU with 19 points. Eddie Lampkin Jr. added 17, Cody Williams scored 16, KJ Simpson tallied 13 and Luke O'Brien and Assane Diop each chipped in 10 for Colorado (a career high for freshman Diop). Lampkin led CU with eight rebounds while Simpson and da Silva each grabbed seven. Julian Hammond III had five assists and Simpson dished out four.

Tyler Bilodeau led OSU with 18 as CU held the Beavers' leading scorer, Jordan Pope, to just 10 points — seven under his season average.

The Buffs were in control of this one from the outset. Colorado built a 20-point edge midway through the first half, pushed the margin to 45-23 at the break and extended the cushion to 33 early in the second half. Oregon State never came closer than 23 after intermission and CU led by as much as 37 in the final minutes.

The Buffaloes dominated nearly every statistical category. CU shot 52.5 percent from the floor (32-61) while holding the Beavers to 20-for-60 shooting, and Colorado also had a 41-31 edge on the boards.

CU is now 89-6 all-time under Boyle (5-0 this season) while hitting the "gold standard" — holding an opponent to 40 percent or less shooting and having at least a plus-8 margin in rebounds.

Colorado also had a 52-32 edge in the paint and the Buffs finished with 19 assists and just eight turnovers, matching their season low in that department.

"We challenged them at halftime to come out and not to do what we've done all year, which is kind of let teams back in," Boyle said. "We did that. Six guys in double figures, 19 assists, eight turnovers — a lot of good things. Just a workmanlike effort by our guys."

HOW IT HAPPENED: Colorado assumed control early on both ends of the floor, taking a 15-4 lead less than seven minutes in and stretching the cushion to 26-6 midway through the half.

The Buffs were efficient on the offensive end, hitting eight of 13 field goal tries in a 19-2 run over a seven-minute stretch. Da Silva scored four in a row to start the surge, Williams added a dunk and Simpson scored six in the run to give CU a 20-point lead, 26-6, at the 9:12 mark.

Defensively, the Buffs held OSU scoreless for five minutes in the run, forcing nine consecutive empty possessions.

While OSU's Bilodeau did finish with 18 points, 12 of those came in the second half, long after the game had been decided. Pope, meanwhile, shot just 3-for-11 for the game and had only one 3-pointer.

"KJ did a terrific job on Pope and I thought Tristan defensively on Bilodeau was phenomenal," Boyle said. "Those two defensive efforts were great."

The Buffs kept the pressure on until halftime, stretching their lead to 22 in the final minutes of the half. Williams, who shot 6-for-10 from the floor, had two 3-pointers in the final five minutes while Simpson and da Silva both added buckets in the final minute to send Colorado into the break with a 45-23 lead.

Da Silva led CU with 11 points in the first half and Williams chipped in 10. Colorado shot 17-for-34 in the opening 20 minutes and the Buffs had 11 assists on those 17 baskets while OSU shot just 10 for 29.

Colorado then made sure the Beavers didn't have a comeback in their pocket in the second half. The Buffs opened the half with a 14-3 run to build a 33-point cushion, 59-26, and CU's lead never dipped below 23 against the rest of the game.

"Every game matters," da Silva said after the game. "We can't be lachardaisical with certain opponents. We have to make sure that we dig in every single time that we step on the floor, whether it's from one half to another or from one game to another."

The Buffs pulled without regular starter J'Yonne Hadley, who missed the game with an injury, but 11 Buffs did see action. Along with his career-best 10 points, Diop also had a career-high four rebounds and two assists.

Now the Buffs turn their attention to an upcoming three-game road trip that will see CU play the Washington schools and Utah.

"We just went on a three-game road trip and came back 0-for-3," Boyle said. "Now we have another opportunity with a three-game road trip. It's not going to be easy and we just have to show what we can do."

SEATTLE — Colorado's J'Vonne Hadley led five Buffaloes in double figures with 24 points Wednesday and Eddie Lampkin Jr. tallied his sixth double-double of the season as CU collected a 98-81 win over Washington at Alaska Airlines Arena.

Da Boyle's Buffs found their fourth in a row and collected their first true road win of the season to improve to 15-5 overall and 6-3 in Pac-12 play. Washington fell to 11-9, 3-6.

Hadley shot 8-for-10 from the floor and 7-for-8 from the free throw line to give him his best point total as a Buff. Lampkin scored 14 points and grabbed 10 rebounds and KJ Simpson had a terrific all-around night, finishing with 16 points, eight rebounds and eight assists. Cody Williams added 19 points on 7-for-10 shooting and Tristan da Silva chipped in 10 points.

Keion Brooks led Washington with 22.

The Buffs took control in the first half led by nine at intermission, then extended their lead to as much as 21 after the break and Washington never really threatened down the stretch.

Both teams shot well from the field, with the Buffs hitting 55 percent of their attempts (33-for-60) while Washington shot 54 percent (33-for-61). But the big difference came at the free throw line, where CU hit 26 of its 28 attempts while the Huskies were just 10-for-18 from the stripe.

Colorado also held a dominant 38-22 edge on the boards, including 11 offensive rebounds that the Buffs converted into 15 second-chance points.

"I thought our guys really came together tonight," Boyle said. "I told them for the last two days that now is the time to go get a road win — and they went out and did it. They played with great toughness, overcame some adversity early and were really dialed in."

HOW IT HAPPENED: The Buffs took a nine-point lead into the break, 50-41, and quickly built their edge into double digits early in the second half.

Da Silva opened the half with a short jumper for the Buffs, then added a three-point play on CU's next trip down the floor to give Colorado a 55-41 lead less than two minutes into the half. Washington then managed to narrow the deficit back to 10 before the Buffs took firm control for good with a 10-0 run.

Luke O'Brien started the surge with a bucket inside before Hadley scored four in a row to give CU a 67-51 edge.

Hadley missed the final few minutes of the first half after taking a vicious shot to the face. CU personnel evaluated him closely at halftime. But Hadley said he was fine and returned in the second half to play a key role in the victory.

Washington called a timeout after CU's quick 6-0 burst but the Buffs kept the pressure on after the break. Julian Hammond III hit two free throws with 11:08 to play and Lampkin followed with a bucket a minute later to give Colorado a 71-51 lead at midpoint of the half.

Washington then answered with a quick 6-0 run but Lampkin stopped the run with a tip-in and Colorado then maintained a comfortable lead down the stretch to collect the win.

After a slow start, neither team managed to string together defensive stops in the first half. Colorado took a four-point lead with 11:36 to play on a da Silva bucket and free throw after a behind-the-back pass from Lampkin but UW came back to momentarily take a 19-18 edge.

But the Buffs rallied to regain a 21-19 lead on three free throws from Simpson, then pushed their edge to five, 27-22, on a Williams 3-pointer.

The Huskies never led again.

The Buffs finally extended their cushion to seven on a Williams drive to the hoop with 4:13 to play, then took a nine-point lead on another Williams basket, fueled by an Assane Diop steal and assist.

UW then cut the margin back to six on a Moses Wood 3-pointer. CU, though, took its lead back to nine after a 3-pointer from Bangot Dak at the buzzer off a drive-and-dish from Williams, sending the Buffs into the break with a 50-41 edge.

SALT LAKE CITY — A late Colorado rally came up just short Saturday and the shorthanded Buffaloes dropped a 73-68 decision to Utah at the Huntsman Center.

Tad Boyle's Buffs, playing without starter Cody Williams and key reserve Luke O'Brien (both injured), fell to 15-7 overall and 6-5 in Pac-12 play while the Utes improved to 15-7, 6-5.

The Buffs trailed by as much as 13 in the second half before narrowing the deficit to three in the final minutes. But that was as close as they could come as CU fell to 1-6 on the road this season.

KJ Simpson led the Buffs with 25 points, J'Vonne Hadley added 15, Eddie Lampkin Jr. had an 11-point, 10-rebound double-double and Tristan da Silva scored 10.

Gabe Madsen led Utah with 21. Colorado, one of the shot shooting teams in the nation, shot just 25-for-66 (38 percent), CU's second-worst outing in Pac-12 play. Utah, meanwhile, shot 26-for-56, including a 14-for-27 mark in the decisive second half.

CU did have a 43-34 edge on the boards but the Utes outscored Colorado 21-7 in fast-break points, one of the big differences in the game.

"Disappointing," Boyle said "We didn't have the same defensive intensity for the first 32 minutes that we had down the stretch. We had some good looks offensively but they didn't go in and we had some guys who were frustrated on offense and they let that affect their defense. It was a five-point game because our guys are competitive and they play hard. I love them for that. But we have to play better on both sides."

HOW IT HAPPENED: The two teams were tied 31-31 at intermission, but the Utes slowly pulled away in the opening minutes of the second half when Colorado's offense went cold.

A 6-0 Utah burst pushed Colorado's deficit to 10 at the 12:32 mark before the Utes extended their edge to 13 when a Hunter Erickson 3-pointer left the Buffs trailing 55-42.

Colorado missed nine field goal attempts in a row in the stretch before Julian Hammond III ended the drought with a 3-pointer.

But the Buffs didn't go away quietly after the Utes built their big lead. CU put together a 6-0 run following a timeout, getting a Simpson steal and dunk, a Hammond offensive rebound and basket and another putback from Lampkin.

With 6:27 still to play, Colorado trailed by just seven, 55-48.

The Utes then rebuilt their lead to double digits, 62-50, with four minutes to play before the Buffs staged one more rally by forcing three Utah turnovers. Hadley hit two free throws, Simpson scored inside and da Silva hit a free throw to pull CU to within 62-55 with 2:12 still to play. Simpson then sandwiched a pair of treys around a Utah basket and with 1:02 remaining, Colorado had whittled the gap to 66-63.

That, though, was as close as the Buffs could come in the final seconds as the Utes hit their free throws to hold on for the win.

"We had some good looks and they didn't go in, especially coming out of halftime," Boyle said. "I keep talking to the guys about the fact that you have to figure out a way to win games on nights like that and this team hasn't figured that out yet."

After falling behind early in the opening minutes, CU battled back to take a 16-15 lead nine minutes into the game when Hadley scored four points and da Silva added a bucket in a 6-0 Colorado run.

The two teams then traded the lead five more times over the next 11 minutes. Colorado led by three, 27-24, after Simpson put together a personal 5-0 run before the Utes rallied to regain a 31-29 edge.

Hadley then finished the first half scoring with his basket inside to knot the score at 31-31 at the break.

BOULDER — Colorado's J'Vonne Hadley recorded his first career double-double and the Buffaloes held off Arizona State down the stretch Thursday to collect an 82-70 win at the CU Events Center, giving the Buffs a program-record 13-0 home mark.

Tad Boyle's Buffs improved to 16-7 overall and 7-5 in Pac-12 play. The Sun Devils lost their fifth in a row to fall to 11-12, 5-7.

Hadley finished with 19 points and 11 rebounds, including a huge 3-pointer in the final minutes. KJ Simpson had 17 points and eight assists, Tristan da Silva scored 15 and Cody Williams tallied 11.

Frankie Collins led ASU with 18.

The Buffs led by as much as 18 in the first half, by nine at intermission and by 16 early in the second half. But the Sun Devils refused to go away and cut Colorado's edge to just five, 73-68, with 2:13 to play.

But Hadley, who had a three-point play a minute earlier, drained a long 3-pointer just before the shot clock buzzer to put the Buffs back up by eight, 76-68, with 1:35 to play.

Colorado then hit six free throws in the final 1:28 to salt away the win.

The Buffs shot 24-for-51 (47.1 percent) while ASU was 27-for-61 (44.3 percent) from the floor. Colorado also held a 37-29 edge on the boards.

But the big difference came at the free throw line. CU hit 26 of its 29 attempts from the stripe while ASU shot 9-for-14.

LOS ANGELES — Colorado fought back from a 14-point deficit to tie the game in the final minutes Thursday, but the Buffaloes could never take the lead and dropped a 64-60 decision to UCLA at Pauley Pavilion.

Tad Boyle's Buffs fell to 16-9 overall and 7-7 in Pac-12 play while the Bruins won their sixth in a row to improve to 14-11, 9-5.

Colorado trailed by nine at intermission and by 14 just minutes into the second half.

But the Buffs slowly chipped away at the lead, finally tying the game at 51-51 with 6:50 to play and again at 54-54 with less than five minutes to play.

That, though, was as close as Colorado could come. CU did have a chance to tie the game again in the final seconds but a drive to the rim came up empty and the Buffs lost to the Bruins for the sixth straight time.

Cody Williams led the Buffs with 18 points on 8-for-9 shooting. Tristan da Silva added 16 points and Eddie Lampkin Jr. chipped in 12. KJ Simpson finished with a season-low four points — just his second game this year in single digits — but he also led the Buffs with seven rebounds and five assists.

Sebastian Mack led UCLA with 19.

Colorado shot 52 percent from the floor (24-for-46) while holding the Bruins to 44 percent shooting (24-for-54). The Buffs also fought the Bruins to a 29-29 tie on the boards.

But the difference came in the turnover department. CU committed 14 miscues that the Bruins converted into 19 points, including nine in the first half that resulted in 15 UCLA points.

"Our guys fought their tails off," Boyle said. "They battled, they competed. There's nothing to hang our heads about after a game like this and that's all I can ask of our team. I don't say this very often after losses but I'm proud of the way this team competed, fought back and got back in the game. The one thing we have to do is take better care of the basketball."

HOW IT HAPPENED: The Buffs trailed by nine at the half, 38-29, and the Bruins quickly bumped their cushion to 14 with a quick 5-0 run to start the second half.

But Colorado didn't quit. The Buffs slowly chipped away at the lead, putting together a 9-1 run to pull within 46-41 with 12 minutes to play. J'Vonne Hadley had five points in the surge and Williams and Lampkin each added buckets.

The Bruins then pushed their lead back to seven before Colorado crafted a 10-3 run to tie the game at 51-51 with 6:50 to play. Williams had five points in the burst, including a 3-pointer, and a da Silva dunk off a nice feed from Simpson tied the game.

Colorado shot just 10 free throws in the game — tying a season low — and made six. The Bruins hit 12 of their 18 opportunities from the line.

The Buffs then tied the game again at 54-54 on a da Silva 3-pointer and were still within two, 58-56, when Lampkin hit a pair of free throws with 3:19 remaining.

But the Bruins responded with five in a row before CU got a Lampkin bucket inside, then a defensive stop. That gave Colorado possession with 1:16 to play and a five point deficit, 63-58.

Williams then banked his eighth basket of the night off the glass to cut UCLA's lead to 63-60 and the Buffs recorded another defensive stop on the opposite end to take possession.

CU then called timeout with 17 seconds remaining.

But the Buffs couldn't get a clean shot out of the break. A late da Silva drive at the bucket came up short and a scramble for the ball after the shot resulted in a held ball, giving UCLA possession with just 3 seconds remaining.

The Bruins then hit a free throw with 2 seconds left to clinch the win.

Colorado jumped out to an early 8-5 lead on a pair of baskets from da Silva.

But the Bruins answered with a 7-0 run, thanks to a pair of CU turnovers, and the Buffs never led again.

Turnovers continued to plague the Buffs the rest of the period, and they finished the half with nine, leading to 15 UCLA points.

Colorado did manage to close UCLA's cushion to two when a Williams bucket pulled CU to within 18-16, only to see the Bruins deliver another 7-0 run two minutes later to stretch their edge to 30-20.

The Buffs then cut the gap to five on a da Silva 3-pointer with 4:04 left in the half, but UCLA responded again and took a 38-29 edge into the break.

BOULDER — Colorado put four players in double figures and the Buffaloes' men's basketball team hammered out an 88-78 win over Cal on Wednesday at the CU Events Center.

Tad Boyle's Buffs won their third in a row to improve to 15-1 at home, 19-9 overall and 10-7 in Pac-12 play. The Bears dropped to 13-16, 9-9.

KJ Simpson led the Buffs with 27 points — 18 in the second half — and added seven rebounds and eight assists. Tristan da Silva tallied 22 points, seven rebounds and six assists; J'Vonne Hadley scored 13 and Eddie Lampkin Jr. chipped in 12.

Jaylon Tyson led Cal with 25 points. The Buffs took the lead less than four minutes into the game and never trailed, but there were still some tense moments. Colorado had a 14-point lead at the half thanks to 18 points from da Silva, only to see the Bears shave that deficit to just five midway through the second half.

But Simpson then took control to help the Buffs push their lead back to double digits and the Bears never threatened down the stretch.

The Buffs shot 50% from the floor (29-for-58) and hit 23 of their 29 free throw attempts. CU held the Bears to 42 percent shooting (19-for-69), including just 9-for-31 from long range.

Colorado also held a 40-31 edge on the boards and the Buffs' strategy of trying to push the pace all night paid off with a 22-8 edge in fast break points.

CU also collected the win without the services of starter Cody Williams and key reserve Julian Hammond III, both of whom were out with injuries.

"Cal's a heck of a team but I thought our guys looked in as the second half wore on," Boyle said. "I thought the pace of the game was key. We're playing at altitude, we're in good shape and it takes its toll. Tristan was phenomenal in the first half and I can't say enough about KJ in that second half."

HOW IT HAPPENED: The Buffs led by 14 at the half, 45-31, thanks in large part to 18 points from da Silva.

"Tristan was terrific tonight and we need him to be, especially with being short-handed," Boyle said. "The guys that are playing in that rotation are so critical."

But the Bears stormed back in the opening minutes of the second half, hitting 10 of their first 13 field goal attempts to close the gap to five, 58-53, with 12:56 still to play.

Colorado, though, weathered the storm as guard Simpson took charge. Simpson hit two free throws with 9:04 to play to give CU a 67-59 lead, then stole the Cal inbound pass and dished to Javon Ruffin, who buried a 3-pointer to put the Buffs up by 11.

Cal momentarily cut the deficit back to eight on three free throws before the Buffs answered again with a 9-2 run to take firm control. Simpson had six points in the surge, including a layup with 4:41 to play that gave Colorado an 83-68 lead.

CU played just seven players, with Simpson logging all 40 minutes and da Silva and Hadley each playing 39. But the Buffs did get quality minutes from reserves Ruffin and Assane Diop, with Ruffin hitting two key 3-pointers in the second half and Diop finishing with a career-best seven rebounds.

After the Buffs pushed their lead to 15, the Bears never came closer than nine again.

The victory kept the Buffs in the hunt for a top-four conference finish and the first-round Pac-12 tourney bye that goes with it.

CU is also still squarely in the hunt for an NCAA Tournament berth, currently hovering in the "bubble" range.

While the Bears kept it relatively close for much of the game, Colorado used an 8-0 run in the opening minutes to erase a 6-2 Cal lead and the Buffs never trailed again.

The Bears managed to stay within striking range for the first 10 minutes by knocking down five 3-pointers, pulling to within 23-19 with 9:29 remaining in the half.

But the Buffs put together a 10-0 run to take control. Da Silva sparked the surge with seven points before a Luke O'Brien 3-pointer gave Colorado a 33-19 lead. Colorado then pushed its edge to 15 points minutes later on a Hadley three-point play before increasing the cushion to 16 when two da Silva free throws gave the Buffs a 43-27 lead.

The Bears did cut the lead with a basket in the final minute but the Buffs still took a comfortable 14-point edge, 45-31, into the break.

BOULDER — Colorado's Tristan da Silva celebrated Senior Night with a 27-point, 11-rebound double-double Sunday to lead the Buffaloes men's basketball team to an 81-71 win over Stanford at the CU Events Center.

Tad Boyle's Buffs won their fourth straight game to improve to 20-9 overall and 11-7 in Pac-12 play. Stanford lost its sixth straight game to fall to 12-17, 7-12.

Colorado also improved to 16-1 at home this season as the Buffs clinched their 10th 20-win season in Boyle's 14 years in Boulder.

Along with da Silva's second double-double of the season, KJ Simpson added 22 points and seven assists for the Buffs, J'Vonne Hadley scored 15 and Eddie Lampkin Jr. chipped in 11.

Maxime Raynaud led Stanford with 26 points and 12 rebounds.

Colorado trailed at the midway point of the first half but used a 23-6 run to take control and the Buffs led by seven at the half, 44-37. Stanford briefly cut the lead to just three early in the second half but Colorado quickly responded to push the lead into double digits and led by as much as 20 down the stretch.

The victory moved the Buffs into a tie for third with Oregon in the Pac-12 standings, with the top four in the league earning a first-round bye in the conference tournament. The win also guaranteed the Buffs a winning conference record, Boyle's ninth winning conference mark in 13 Pac-12 seasons.

The Buffs were once again without the services of starter Cody Williams and key reserve Julian Hammond III (injuries), but the Buffs had more than enough firepower to dispatch the Cardinal.

Colorado shot 53 percent from the floor (33-for-62), including 11-for-25 from long range. CU also had a 38-27 edge on the boards and tallied 13 second-chance points.

Stanford shot 25-for-57 (44 percent), but the Buffs limited the Cardinal to just 11-for-29 shooting in the second half, including a dismal 3-for-18 effort from long range.

Da Silva finished 11-for-18 from the floor (5-for-10 from beyond the arc) while Simpson shot 8-for-17, including a 5-for-9 night from long range.

"KJ and Tristan were phenomenal," Boyle said. "Our guys believe in each other. They've overcome the injuries. It's next man up ... That's what makes me most proud of this team, is all of the injuries that we have overcome. It hasn't gotten us down. We haven't made excuses, we just keep chugging along and we've won 20 games. That says a lot for all the adversity that we've had to fight you know as a group, players and coaches."

CORVALLIS, Ore. — Colorado put all five starters in double figures Saturday and the Buffaloes' men's basketball team collected its program-record 22nd regular season victory, a 73-57 win over Oregon State at Gill Coliseum.

Tad Boyle's Buffs won their sixth straight to improve to 22-9 overall and wrap up their Pac-12 season at 13-7. OSU fell to 13-18, 5-15.

The win also marked CU's first six-game winning streak to end a regular season since the 1954-55 season and the first six-game conference winning streak since 1996-97.

Eddie Lampkin led Colorado with 17 points and 11 rebounds for his eighth double-double of the season. KJ Simpson added 15 points and seven assists. J'Vonne Hadley tallied 15 points and seven rebounds, Tristan da Silva scored 12 and Luke O'Brien chipped in 10.

Dexter Akanno led the Beavers with 15 points.

The Buffs took command early and never let up, using an early 7-0 run to grab a lead they never relinquished. CU held a 14-point edge at the break, 41-27, and extended the margin to as much as 22 in the second half as the Beavers never managed to cut the deficit to single digits again.

The Buffs were once again without the services of Cody Williams (ankle) and Julian Hammond III (knee) but they had more than enough weapons to take care of the Beavers.

Colorado shot 47.5% from the floor (29-for-61) while holding the Beavers to 37.5% shooting (21-for-56). CU also held a commanding 43-29 edge on the boards, including 15 offensive rebounds that produced 21 second-chance points.

Colorado is now 90-6 in the Boyle era when it hits the "gold standard" of holding an opponent to 40 percent shooting or less and also having at least a plus-8 rebound margin.

"Just a great win," Boyle said "I'm so proud of this team for what they've overcome this year. To win 22 games, which is more regular season games than any team in Colorado history, says a lot about this group and all we've had to overcome to do it. This team just has a toughness, a competitiveness about them and they're coming together at the right time."

The Buffs will now turn their attention to next week's Pac-12 tournament in Las Vegas. They open play Thursday at T-Mobile Arena as the third seed in a 9:30 p.m. (MT) game against the winner of the No. 6 and No. 11 seeds.

"Hopefully we're playing three games in three days and competing for a championship on Saturday night in Las Vegas," Boyle said. "But we've got to take care of business on Thursday between now and then and get our bodies right, our minds, everything right. There's no doubt in my mind, this team will be ready to go when we tip it off."

HOW IT HAPPENED: After Oregon State scored first, the Buffs answered with a 7-0 run and Colorado never trailed again.

The Beavers did manage to keep it close for the first eight minutes, cutting CU's lead to 14-10 before the Buffs answered with an 11-2 run to take firm control. O'Brien hit a pair of buckets, including a 3-pointer from the top of the key, and a da Silva dunk gave the Buffs a 25-12 lead with 8:22 to play in the half.

That was enough to spark an Oregon State timeout and the Beavers came out of the break to cut Colorado's cushion in half with an 11-4 run.

But the Buffs slowly rebuilt their edge. Simpson drained a long 3-pointer, then hit O'Brien in the corner for another trey to build Colorado's lead back to 12.

Hadley then connected on a pair of free throws with :01 on the clock to send the Buffs into the halftime break with a 14-point edge, 41-27.

The Buffs shot 17-for-36 in the opening half with nine assists.

"We were really sharing the ball," Boyle said. "Great offense. That's all you can ask for as a coach and guys are playing unselfishly."

Colorado then steadily built its lead in the second half. The Buffs used an 11-0 run to take a 52-30 lead, getting a 3-pointer from Simpson and a da Silva steal and dunk to push Colorado's lead to 22 less than three minutes into the half.

Oregon State then made a brief run, slicing Colorado's lead to 15 with a quick 7-0 run. But the Buffs answered with a Hadley 3-pointer off a Simpson offensive rebound, a Lampkin basket inside and another Hadley bucket to push CU's lead back to 20, 61-41, with 11:21 to play.

Lampkin had an excellent game on both ends of the floor.

"Eddie was dialed in tonight," Boyle said. "When Eddie's dialed in mentally like that, he is so good."

Colorado then held the Beavers at bay down the stretch as they never came closer than 12 over the final minutes.
