THE BUFFALOES: Colorado is 11-17 overall and 2-15 in Big 12 Conference play after falling to Kansas, 71-64, on Feb. 24. The Buffaloes have won two of four since snapping a 13-game losing streak, the program's longest since 1985-86.

The Buffaloes are looking for their first true road win, having lost all eight Big 12 road games this season. Colorado is 1-10 away from Boulder this season, that win coming at the Maui Invitational against defending NCAA champion UConn.

Colorado is averaging 70.2 points per game, shooting 44.7 percent from the field, but those numbers have dipped to 66.0 points on 43.0 percent shooting during conference games. The Buffaloes have scored 76 points in each of their two Big 12 wins, their highest total in a league game this season. Colorado had four players score in double figures for just the third time this season (3-0) in the win over Baylor.

Defensively, Colorado is allowing 71.9 points per game overall while opponents are shooting 43.4 percent. During Big 12 games, Colorado is allowing 74.2 points while opponents shoot 45.0 percent.

The Buffaloes rank fourth in the Big 12 in free throw percentage (.755), sixth in defensive rebounds (25.6 drpg), seventh in rebounding defense (32.9 rpg) and eighth in blocked shots (3.9 bpg). During Big 12 games, Colorado is in the top half of the league in free throw percentage (4th, .749), blocked shots (7th, 3.8 bpg), rebounding defense (8th, 33.8 rpg) and defensive rebounds (8th, 23.8 drpg).

Colorado has seen an uptick in its rebounding efforts the last four games. The Buffaloes are averaging 40.0 rebounds in those contests, up 4.9 per game over its season average of 35.1. Colorado had a season-high 52 in the win over UCF and its total of 46 against Kansas is the second best this season.

Colorado, which ranks 14th in the Big 12 in offensive rebounds at 9.1 per game, has vaulted that number up to 12 per outing during that four-game span. The Buffaloes had a season-high 18 offensive boards against Kansas, the team's most since securing 19 against Florida State on Nov. 21, 2023. Colorado nabbed 16 offensive rebounds in the win over UCF.

Julian Hammond III, the most experienced player in terms of games for the Buffaloes (played in his 116th career game vs. Kansas), leads Colorado at 12.8 points and 3.1 assists per game. Hammond also tops the Buffaloes in steals (33), 3-point field goals made (45), free throws made (73) and free throw percentage (.901).

Hammond is second in the Big 12 and ranks 13th in the nation in free throw percentage. He has made 74 of 82 on the season (.902) which includes consecutive made streaks of 21 (between UNC and UCF) and 18 which ended against Cincinnati. He is on pace for the second-best single-season free throw percentage in team history.

Recently, Hammond has picked up his rebounding numbers. He is averaging 4.0 rebounds over the last four games, including five against Baylor. He has 16 total in that span after having just two over the four games before that.

Hammond had a game-high 22 points against Houston, highlighted by a career-best five 3-point field goals. It was his team-best sixth 20-point game of the season.

Andrej Jakimovski, a four-year standout at old Pac-12 rival Washington State, is averaging 10.1 points ranking second on the team in 3-point field goals (43) and rebounding (4.6 rpg) and is third in steals (25).

Jakimovski is averaging 12.5 points and 6.0 rebounds while shooting 47.4 percent from the field (18-38) the last four games. He had 17 points, hitting 5 of 9 from downtown, seven rebounds and five assists against Baylor. It was his 12th double-figure scoring game of the season and led the Buffs for the sixth time.

Jakimovski's five assists against Baylor are his CU best, and tied for this third-best collegiate game overall. He had back-to-back nine assist games as a freshman with Washington State against California and Stanford, Feb. 18 & 20, 2021. His five 3-pointers tied a career high, done twice this season (CSU Fullerton) and five times overall (three with WSU).

Bangot Dak is averaging 8.2 points and 3.9 rebounds per game while shooting 51.4 percent from the field and leading the Buffaloes in blocked shots (40). During conference games, Dak is Colorado's leading shooter (.535), rebounder (4.5 rpg) and shot blocker (31) and ranks second in scoring at 9.4 points per game.

Dak had a team-high 16 points on 7 of 10 shooting in the home game with Kansas. He scored a game and career-high 20 points on 8 for 14 shooting at Iowa State. Dak is averaging 11.2 points, 4.9 rebounds and 1.8 blocks over the last nine games.

Dak just missed a double-double with nine points and a career and team season-high 12 rebounds at TCU. It was his first double-figure rebounding game of his career.

Dak is seventh in the Big 12 in overall blocked shots (1.4 bpg) and fourth in league only games (1.8 bpg). He ranks 95th in the nation in total blocks (40).

Elijah Malone, the 2024 Bevo Francis Award winner as the best small-school player in the nation (Grace College [Ind.] - NAIA) tops the Buffaloes in shooting at 56.7 percent while averaging 7.7 points an outing. Malone is third on the team in blocks (15), fourth in scoring and fifth in rebounding at 3.0 per game.

Trevor Baskin, an NCAA Division II All-American at Colorado Mesa, leads Colorado in rebounding (4.7 rpg), is second in steals (29) and blocks (17), tied for second in assists (53) and third in overall shooting at 50.4 percent.

Javon Ruffin is averaging 5.9 points and is tied for second on the team in assists (53) and fourth in 3-point field goals (23). He led the Buffaloes in scoring for the first time this season with 13 at Utah while matching a personal best with three 3-point field goals.

Freshman Sebastian Rancik is averaging 6.0 points on the season, but since entering the starting lineup against Arizona State he is averaging 8.6 points and 4.6 rebounds per game. Rancik had 10 points and six rebounds in the win over Baylor. He averaged 14.5 points and 8.0 rebounds during the two-game span at Kansas and home vs. UCF. Rancik had a career-night at Kansas leading the Buffaloes with 19 points and nine rebounds, both personal bests.

Sophomore Assane Diop is averaging 3.7 points and is third on the team in rebounding at 4.1 per game. Diop matched his career-best 10 rebounds in the win over UCF, also hitting that mark against Northern Colorado. Diop has made 33 of 40 free throw attempts during the conference season (.825).

Sophomore RJ Smith is averaging 5.4 points and is second on the team in 3-point percentage (.375), while ranking third in 3-pointers made (27), fourth in assists (50) and fifth in steals (18). Smith had 13 points against Baylor recording his fifth career double-figure scoring game and fourth this year. He has blocked a shot in six-straight games with seven overall during that span. He had two blocks in his first 28 career games.

ABOUT THE WILDCATS: Kansas State is 13-15 overall and tied for 10th in the Big 12 at 7-10. The Wildcats have lost their last four, most recently an 80-76 setback at UCF on Feb. 26. Kansas State averages 72.6 points per game on 44.8 percent shooting. The Wildcats are in the top half of the Big 12 in assists, ranking sixth at 15.8 per contest. Defensively, Kansas State allows 70.8 points per game while opponents shoot 43.7 percent.

Senior wing David N'Guessan leads Kansas State at 12.7 points and 7.1 rebounds per game. He leads the Big 12 and ranks 11th in the nation in shooting at 62.8 percent. Junior guard Brendan Hausen averages 11.8 points and is second in the Big 12 in 3-point field goals made (83) and percentage (.397). Junior guard Dug McDaniel leads the Wildcats in assists (131) while averaging 11.1 points per game. Senior wing Coleman Hawkins, who has missed the last two games, averages 10.7 points, 6.7 rebounds and 4.5 assists per game.

Jerome Tang is in his third year as the head coach of Kansas State with a record of 58-40 (.592).

THE SERIES: This will be the 145th meeting between Colorado and Kansas State in a series that dates back to 1934. Kansas State holds a 96-48 all-time lead in the series. Colorado has won the last four meetings, including a nonconference win at Bramlage Coliseum on Nov. 27, 2020. Kansas State holds a 54-12 all-time advantage in Manhattan.

Tad Boyle is 4-0 against Kansas State as a head coach. Bill Self is 20-1 against Colorado as a head coach. Jerome Tang has not faced Colorado as a head coach, although he was 7-6 against the Buffaloes during his 19 years as a Baylor assistant/associate head coach (2003-22).

AGAINST RANKED TEAMS: Taking the latest rankings into account, the Buffaloes are projected to have eight games against ranked opponents this season, which would fall one game short of the most in program history. Colorado played nine games against ranked teams in 1989-90, 1991-92 and 2010-11. Colorado is 1-6 against ranked opponents in 2024-25.

The win over No. 2/2 UConn marks the highest-ranked win away from Boulder in program history. Colorado has two previous wins over No. 2 teams, both coming in Boulder (Feb. 12, 1992 vs. #2 Oklahoma State, 57-53 & Feb. 26, 2022 vs. #2 Arizona, 79-63). Senior Julian Hammond III and redshirt junior Javon Ruffin were both on that team that defeated Arizona. The previous best neutral site win came against No. 4 Washington on Dec. 30, 1953 in Kansas City (Big 7 Holiday Tournament).

Colorado's last win against a defending national champion came against the 1952 NCAA champion Kansas Jayhawks on Jan. 20, 1953, 72-68 in Boulder.

Colorado's 28 wins over ranked Associated Press ranked opponents in the Tad Boyle era is by far the best in team history. In fact Boyle coached teams, with a record of 28-55, have accounted for 39 percent of wins over ranked opponents (72) since 1949-50.

Colorado faced two ranked nonconference opponents on back-to-back days for the first time in 26 years, Nov. 26-27, 1998, when the Buffaloes played No. 4 Kentucky (L, 52-64) and No. 10 Xavier (L, 61-74) in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

TOP 5 RARITY: The game against Houston was Colorado's fourth top 5 ranked opponent this season. It's just the fourth time in the AP rankings era (since 1948-49) the Buffaloes have played four top 5 opponents in one season. The others were 1957-58, 1989-90 and 2001-02.

In 2001-02, Colorado played three games against Kansas teams ranked either No. 1 or No. 2 and once against No. 5 Oklahoma - then coached by current Houston coach Kelvin Sampson. Colorado's first three top 5 battles this year came within the first 12 games of the season.

The most top 5 teams Colorado has faced in one season came in 1989-90 when the Buffaloes had five games against top 5 opponents shared between Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri.

HAMMOND CAREER NUMBERS: Senior guard Julian Hammond III is climbing Colorado's career assists and steals leaderboard. He became the 30th player to reach 200 with a pair of assists against Cincinnati. Hammond matched a career-high with seven assists against TCU and in the process jumping into the top 25. He's nine assists away from the top 20.

Career Assists
Rk.	Player	Seasons	Assists

Hammond is also on pace to rank highly on a pair of career shooting percentage lists. He is shooting 83.8 percent (160-191) from the free throw line for his career which currently is the third-best mark in program history. Hammond has made 37.9 percent of his career 3-point field goals (118-311) which is currently 11th.

RETURN HOME TO THE BIG 12: Colorado returns to the Big 12 where it had been a charter member for the 1995-96 season when the old Big Eight Conference and four teams from the dissolved Southwest Conference merged to form the Big 12. The Buffaloes left for the Pac-12 for the 2011-12 season.

In their last Big 12 season in 2010-11, led by then first-year head coach Tad Boyle, the Buffaloes tied for fifth place in the league standings that season at 8-8 advancing to the Big 12 Championship semifinals. Colorado won a then-school record 24 games in 2010-11 (24-14), finishing its season in the NIT semifinals at Madison Square Garden.

BD's BIG DAY: Sophomore forward Bangot Dak had a career-night against Cincinnati with 19 points, eight blocks and eight rebounds. He recorded career highs in points, blocks, 3-point field goals (2) and overall field goal attempts (13) while matching personal bests in rebounds and field goals made (7).

His eight blocks are the third-most in a single game since the stat became official in 1977-78.

ROAD RARITY: Colorado's game at Arizona State on Jan. 4, the 13th of 2024-25, was the latest for the Buffaloes' first true road game in any season in program history. It's the latest in a calendar year since the Buffaloes traveled to play at Colorado College on Jan. 5, 1945, but that was only the fourth game of the season.

Colorado did play three high-level games at the prestigious Maui Invitational away from home. A thrilling 73-72 win over then-No. 2/2 ranked UConn on the tournament's second day (Nov. 26) highlighted the trip for the Buffaloes who eventually fell to No. 5/5 Iowa State 99-71 in the consolation final (fifth place game) on Nov. 27 to round out the event with a 1-2 record.

STEALS AND TURNOVERS: Colorado recorded 15 steals in the win over Bellarmine, the program's most since having 15 against USC on Jan. 10, 2013. The Buffaloes have five games of double-digit steals (12 at OSU, 10 at ASU and 12 in each of the first two games against UNC & Eastern Washington). Colorado had just one game of double-digit steals all of last season (11 vs. Miami, Fla., in Brooklyn, Dec. 10, 2023).

Colorado had a season-low eight turnovers at Kansas.

- 13 of their last 20
- 26 of 34 (26-8)
- 39 of 52 (39-13)
- 62 of 83 (62-21)
- 75 of 98 (75-23)
- 90 of 115 (90-25)
- 102 of 130 (102-28)

In the Tad Boyle era, Colorado is 203-47 at home (.812). The Buffaloes are 516-198 (.723) all-time at the CUEC. The Buffaloes have won at least 10 games at home each of the last 16 seasons.

Colorado was 16-1 at the CU Events Center in 2023-24, tying for the most regular season home wins in a season joining the 2015-16 (16-1) and 2013-14 (16-2) teams at that mark (the 2010-11 team won a school-record 18 home games, which included three postseason NIT victories).

BOYLE MILESTONES: Head coach Tad Boyle, in his 15th season, picked up his 300th win at Colorado during the win over Northern Colorado, the most in program history.

Boyle-led teams own 10 of the 14 20-win seasons in team history, the top five single-season win totals and seven of the top eight. With a record of 309-200 at CU, he owns the second-best winning percentage in team history with at least four seasons coached at .607, trailing Forrest "Frosty" Cox who was 147-89 (.623) from 1936-50.

During Colorado's 13-year stint in the Pac-12 Conference, Boyle won 131 regular season league games, tying with Ernie Kent (Oregon 1998-2010 & Washington State 2014-19) for 17th in conference history.

Boyle owns the most wins at a state of Colorado NCAA Division I institution. He is 365-266 (.578) in his 19th year between Colorado and Northern Colorado (four seasons, 2006-10). Boyle is currently fifth in career wins for a head coach at any Colorado four-year school.

GOLD STANDARD: Colorado is 96-6 in the Tad Boyle era when meeting the program's "Gold Standard" of holding an opponent to 40 percent or less from the field and having a plus-8 rebounding edge. The Buffaloes have met that mark six times this season (6-0) after holding UCF to 34.4 percent from the field and enjoying a plus-23 advantage on the boards (52-29).

COMEBACK WINS: Colorado has had to overcome double-figure deficits in three wins including a rally from 11-down in the win over Pacific. The Buffaloes erased a 17-point deficit in the opener over Eastern Washington.

In the comeback win over Eastern Washington, Colorado trailed 27-10 at the 6:44 mark of the first half but was able to cut the margin to six at halftime thanks to a 10-2 run over the last 3:30 of the period. The Buffaloes then took over in the second half, outscoring the Eagles 51-25.

The 17-point deficit tied for the Buffaloes' eighth-best comeback since 1947. Colorado had overcome a 17-point deficit on three other occasions, with one being another game against Eastern Washington on Dec. 22, 2016. The Buffaloes trailed 19-2 right out of the gate in that contest before fighting back for a 76-68 victory.

IN THE OT: Colorado defeated Northern Colorado in double overtime on Nov. 8, improving to 56-57 (.496) all-time in overtime games. The Buffaloes are 33-23 (.589) in overtime games at the CU Events Center and are winners in their last six OT contests at home. The Buffaloes moved to 10-5 in double overtime games. It was the first double overtime home game since a 112-103 win over South Dakota State on Dec. 15, 2017.

NONCONFERENCE NUMBERS: Colorado is 136-41 (.768) in nonconference regular season games under head coach Tad Boyle including an 89-24 mark (.788) since the beginning of the 2014-15 season.

Colorado is 104-8 (.929) in nonconference home games under Boyle, a record which includes a 7-2 mark in postseason action.

OPENERS: Colorado improved to 87-35 (.713) in all-time season openers and has won its last nine. The Buffaloes are 13-2 under head coach Tad Boyle and 40-5 in overall season openers since 1980-81.

The Buffaloes are 98-24 (.803) all-time in home openers, have won their last 17 and 23 of their last 24. Boyle's teams are 15-0 in home openers.

WALL OF HONOR: A new display at the CU Events Center will honor a select group who's on the court achievements have expanded well beyond their days in Boulder.

The Men's Basketball Wall of Honor will celebrate those former Buffaloes that have achieved at least five years of service in the NBA or competed on the world stage as an Olympic Gold Medalist. The initial 10 legends to be honored are:

- Chauncey Billups (1995-97)
- Alec Burks (2009-11)
- Jim Davis (1961-64)
- Spencer Dinwiddie (2011-14)
- Burdette "Burdie" Haldorson (1951-55)
- Jay Humphries (1980-84)
- Cliff Meely (1968-71)
- Andre Roberson (2010-13)
- Scott Wedman (1971-74)
- Derrick White (2016-17)

The honorees will have their Colorado jersey displayed high above the concourse on the northwest corner of the CU Events Center. Wall of Honor members will be recognized in person with their jerseys officially unveiled at upcoming games.

Haldorson, Meely and Davis were the first Wall of Honor members to be recognized on Jan. 28 during the Arizona State home game. Humphries was celebrated at Colorado's game with Houston on Saturday, Feb. 8. White had his jersey unveiled during the UCF game on Feb. 15. The schedule for the remaining honorees will be announced at a later date.

CLASS OF '25: Colorado has added five nationally acclaimed prospects for the 2025-26 season Colorado head coach Tad Boyle announced on Nov. 13.

Jalin Holland (Los Lunas, New Mexico), Fawaz "Tacko" Ifaola (Lagos, Nigeria), Ian Inman (The Woodlands, Texas), Isaiah Johnson (Valley Village, Calif.) and Josiah Sanders (Denver, Colo.) have signed Financial Aid Agreements to join the Buffaloes next winter, a group that, on signing day, ranked No. 23 in the country by Rivals and No. 32 by 247Sports.

PRESEASON POLL: Colorado was picked to finish 15th in the annual Big 12 Preseason Coaches Poll released Oct. 10. Kansas, which received nine first place votes, was picked to win the league, followed by Houston, Iowa State, Baylor and Arizona to round out the top five.

COLORADO TO THE NBA: Colorado had seven players listed on NBA rosters to begin the 2024-25 season, the fourth most of any Big 12 school, trailing only Arizona (12), Kansas (11) and Baylor (11).

Alec Burks, Miami Heat
Spencer Dinwiddie, Dallas Mavericks
KJ Simpson, Charlotte Hornets
Jabari Walker, Portland Trail Blazers
Derrick White, Boston Celtics
Cody Williams, Utah Jazz

White became Colorado's fourth alum to win an NBA championship doing so with the Celtics this last spring.

The Buffaloes had a historic 2024 NBA Draft, with three selections including two in the first round. Cody Williams became the fourth-highest pick in team history going 10th overall to the Jazz. Tristan da Silva was selected at No. 18 by the Magic. KJ Simpson was selected as the 12th pick of the second round (42nd overall) by Charlotte.

It was the first time in team history Colorado had two first round draft picks and the first time with three in the first two rounds. It was the eighth time in 14 years the Buffaloes have been represented in the draft tying for the ninth-most in the nation over that span.

Colorado's three draft picks in 2024 tied with Kentucky for the second-most. Defending national champion UConn led the way with four.

In addition, Chauncey Billups (Portland) and Jamahl Mosley (Orlando) are in their fourth seasons as NBA head coaches.

6-5 - 185 - Jr. - G
New Orleans, La. (PHPhoenix Prep [Ariz.])

2024-25 (Junior): Tied for second on the team in assists, third in 3-point percentage and fourth in 3-pointers made.

- Led the Buffaloes in scoring for the first time this season with 13 at Utah while matching a personal best with three 3-point field goals.

- Career-high 15 points against Harvard, hitting an efficient 4 of 5 from the field and 4 of 4 from the line.

- Career-high five assists vs. Cal State Fullerton.

- Back-to-back double figure scoring games for the third time and first since freshman season.

2023-24 (Sophomore): Made his season debut vs. Washington, his first game since Feb. 18, 2023 (at Arizona).

- Had knee surgery in April 2023 that was supposed to keep him out for the season, but rehab went better than expected and was cleared to play in December right before the conference season.

2022-23 (Redshirt Freshman):

- Missed the final seven games of the season with a knee injury.

- Averaged 11.5 points and 5.5 rebounds while shooting 53 percent on the ASU-

Arizona trip.

- Career and then team-season best 7 of 7 from the line at UCLA.

- Made his first collegiate start vs. Tennessee.

2021-22 (Freshman): Sat out the season as a redshirt in the Colorado basketball program.

Before CU/Personal: A 2021 graduate of PHPhoenix Prep in Arizona where he played his senior season in the "Grind Session" and was named to the All-Star Team from a squad that featured eight future NCAA Division I players.

- Averaged 22.3 points, 8.2 rebounds and 3.2 assists as a junior for Isidore Newman High School in his hometown of New Orleans.

- An All-State selection by the Louisiana State Writers Association, he helped the Greenies to a district title and the semifinals of the Division III state semifinals.

- An Information Science major at Colorado.

- His father, Michael, is a Denver native and a former assistant coach with the Phoenix Suns. Michael played collegiately at Tulsa and in nine seasons in the NBA for six different teams.

- The third of seven children in the Ruffin family, along with brothers Deionte, Zathan and Gabriel and sisters Milaya, Kalea and Neriah.

BOULDER — Colorado overcame a 17-point first-half deficit Monday night to take control in the second half and collect a 76-56 win over Eastern Washington in the Buffaloes' season opener at the CU Events Center.

Colorado improved to 13-2 in season openers under head coach Tad Boyle and 15-0 in home openers in the Boyle era.

But this one didn't come easily. The Buffs were plagued by turnovers and poor shooting early and trailed, 27-10, with just under seven minutes to play in the first half.

But Colorado shaved the deficit to six points, 31-25, at the break, then slowly erased the deficit in the second half. The Buffs took their first lead of the game, 48-47, with just under 10 minutes to play, then cranked up the pressure with a 17-2 run to take control down the stretch and collect the win.

Colorado put four players in double figures, led by 13 points from freshman Sebastian Rancic, who was 4-for-5 from long distance. Javon Ruffin and Trevor Baskin each tallied 12 and Andrej Jakimovski added 11.

Nic McClain led EWU with 16.

The Buffs had 13 turnovers in the first half but just five after the break. After shooting just 33 percent in the first half, CU shot 56 percent after the break to finish the game 27-for-59 (45.8 percent).

Colorado held the Eagles to 36 percent shooting (21-for-58) and the Buffs also held a commanding 45-28 edge on the boards. Jakovski and Elijah Malone each had seven rebounds for CU while Julian Hammond III led CU with four assists.

HOW IT HAPPENED: The Buffs were plagued by turnovers from the outset. Colorado committed six miscues in the first six minutes and with 13:54 to play in the first half, Colorado trailed 14-4.

CU's troubles continued over the next seven minutes. The Buffs hit just five of their first 21 field goal attempts, including an 0-for-8 effort from 3-point range, and with 6:45 remaining in the half, the Eagles held a 27-10 lead.

But the Buffs finally found their footing and began to narrow the gap.

Hammond started a 9-2 CU run with a drive to the hoop, followed by a Ruffin field goal and Baskin free throw.

EWU momentarily stopped the run with a basket inside but Colorado quickly responded with a 3-pointer from Rancic and a free throw from Jakimovski to complete a 9-2 surge.

Colorado continued to chip away at the deficit over the final two minutes. Ruffin hit another bucket in the paint before Jakimovski connected on two free throws to pull the Buffs to within single digits, 31-23.

The Buffs then cut the EWU to six just before halftime. Baskin made a nice hustle play on the baseline to keep a loose ball alive and flipped it back to Hammond, who scored just before the buzzer to send the Buffs into the break trailing 31-25.

Colorado opened the second half with a 6-0 run, getting a Baskin bucket and free throw and a Jakimovski 3-pointer to tie the score at 31-31. But the Eagles answered with a 6-0 run of their own and held onto the lead over the next six minutes.

But the Buffs finally shifted momentum in their favor. After pulling to within 44-40 on a Bangot Dak 3-pointer and Ruffin basket inside, Colorado hit seven straight field goal attempts coming out of a timeout to take the lead.

Rancic started the surge with a free throw before following with a 3-pointer to tie the game at 44-44. EWU temporarily regained the lead before Ruffin scored to tie it again at 44-46.

EWU once again regained the lead with a free throw but Ruffin finally gave CU its first lead of the game, 48-47, with a basket inside.

Colorado then followed with five points in a row to take control. Hammond hit a 3-pointer off a nice feed from Diop and Diop followed with a basket off the glass. That completed a CU 7-0 run and elicited a timeout from EWU with the Buffs holding a 53-47 lead with 8:29 to play.

Defensively, the Buffs were also much better in the second half, holding EWU to just 9-for-28 shooting after the break. The Buffs forced six straight empty Eagles possessions in the decisive stretch.

The Buffs then pushed their run to 12-0 after the timeout. Rancic hit another 3-pointer and Baskin scored off an offensive rebound, and with just under six minutes to play, Colorado was in control with a 58-47 lead.

The Buffs continued to exert their will over the next three minutes. Jakimovski scored in the paint. RJ Smith hit a 3-pointer and Baskin hit a layup to complete a 17-2 Buffs run and give CU a 63-49 lead with 3:43 to play.

The Buffs then maintained control over the final minutes. Another Smith 3-pointer with 2:34 to play gave the Buffs a 17-point lead, 68-51, and Colorado kept the Eagles at bay down the stretch for the season-opening win.

BOULDER — It took two overtime periods, but Colorado finally gave head coach Tad Boyle his 300th victory as the Buffaloes head coach Friday with a 90-88 win over Northern Colorado at the CU Events Center.

The Buffs trailed by six midway through the second half but fought back to take a six-point lead with just more than a minute remaining in regulation.

The Bears, though, rallied to force overtime and the Buffs couldn't get the potential game winner to go down in the final seconds of the first extra period. But the Buffs finally came up with some key defensive stops in the final minute of the second overtime to collect the win.

Elijah Malone led Buff with 27 points. Javon Ruffin and Julian Hammond III each chipped in 12 while Trevor Baskin had nine points and nine rebounds.

The Buffs were once again plagued by turnovers, committing 21 miscues that led to 20 UNC points.

Isaiah Hawthorne led the Bears with 19 points, including two of UNC's 13 3-pointers.

HOW IT HAPPENED: The lead see-sawed over the first eight minutes as the Buffs were plagued by poor shooting.

Colorado took a 12-10 lead at the 13:20 mark on an Andrej Jakimovski offensive rebound and bucket but the Bears regained the edge, 15-12, a minute later on a Jaron Rillie 3-pointer.

CU then jumped back in front, 17-15, on the back of a Sebastian Rancick 3-pointer and an RJ Smith layup with 11:10 to play.

But the Bears rattled off an 8-0 run, aided by a pair of CU turnovers, and Colorado trailed, 23-17, with 7:36 to play in the half.

The Buffs hit just 7 of their first 18 field goal tries, including a 1-for-9 effort from 3-point range while the Bears were 9-for-19 over the same span, including 5-for-10 from long range. The Buffs finally found their shooting range over the final seven minutes of the half.

CU took its first 3-pointer as a Buff to pull CU to within two, 24-22, and the Buffs finally regained the lead with 1:34 to play in the half when an Assane Diop 3-pointer gave Colorado a 30-28 edge.

Both teams then added a bucket in the final minute, with a Felix Kossaras basket with 11 seconds remaining in the half giving CU a 32-30 lead at the break.

Colorado's halftime lead didn't last long. UNC used a 7-0 run to take a 43-37 lead five minutes into the half as the Bears hit six of their first seven shots from the floor.

The Buffs slowly chipped away at the deficit and finally regained the lead, 49-48, on a Ruffin basket off a Baskin offensive rebound midway through the half.

The teams then traded the lead two more times before the Buffs finally took control.

Malone broke a 54-54 tie with 5:58 to play with a pair of free throws for a 56-54 edge, then bumped CU's lead to five with a three-point play to give the Buffs a five-point cushion — their largest of the game to that point.

Malone then added a free throw following a timeout to push Colorado's lead to six, but the Bears stayed within reach, cutting the deficit down to three with just more than two minutes to play.

The Buffs got two more free throws from Malone with 1:16 to play to bump their cushion back to six only to see the Bears rally in the final minute.

The Bears cut the deficit to three with 13 seconds to play and forced a CU turnover after the basket. UNC's Marcell McCreary then grabbed an offensive rebound and swished a trey from the corner with a half-second left on the clock to tie the game and force overtime.

The turnover was CU's 19th, with UNC reaping 18 points off those miscues.

The Buffs again took the lead in the extra period on a Ruffin 3-pointer. But the Bears answered another McCreary 3-pointer to tie the game before Hammond hit one of two free throws to give the Buffs a one-point edge.

Baskin was then fouled and hit both free throws to give Colorado the lead, 89-88, with 1:01 remaining. The Buffs forced another UNC miss to regain possession and called timeout with 40 seconds remaining.

Colorado then missed a pair of UNC misses and grabbed the rebound with 17 seconds remaining. CU had a chance to win the game in the final seconds of the first overtime but an Jakimovski shot drew iron, setting the stage for the second overtime.

The Buffs couldn't get a defensive stop in the second extra period. The Bears hit three 3-pointers to take an 87-85 lead with just more than two minutes remaining.

CU's Hammond hit a driving layup to tie the game again at 87-87 before the Bears hit one of two free throws to take an 88-87 lead. UNC rebounded the missed free throw but the Buffs forced a missed field goal and grabbed the rebound.

Baskin was then fouled and hit both free throws to give Colorado the lead, 89-88, with 1:01 remaining. The Buffs forced another UNC miss to regain possession and called timeout with 40 seconds remaining.

Colorado then missed with 20 seconds remaining but Baskin grabbed the offensive rebound and Hammond was fouled with 15 seconds left. Hammond hit one of two free throws and Colorado led, 90-88, with 14 seconds on the clock.

The Bears then missed a 3-point try with 4 seconds remaining and Colorado took possession with just a single tick remaining to collect the win.

BOULDER — Colorado put four players in double figures Sunday and the Buffaloes pulled away from Harvard down the stretch to take an 88-66 win at the CU Events Center.

Tad Boyle's Buffs improved to 4-0 as Colorado won its seventh straight game at home and 20th in the last 21. Harvard dropped to 1-4.

Andrej Jakimovski led CU with 20 points. Elijah Malone scored 16 and added seven rebounds. Javon Ruffin scored 15 and Trevor Baskin added 13 points and seven boards in his first start as a Buff.

Evan Nelson and Chandler Pigge each scored 11 for the Crimson.

Colorado led by 12 at the half and pushed the lead to 17 early in the second period. Harvard managed to cut the deficit to just six midway through the half before the Buffs put the game away with a 21-4 run that gave Colorado a 77-54 cushion with 5:42 to play.

The bigger Buffs finished with a 43-30 edge on the boards while holding Harvard to 37 percent shooting (24-for-65). Colorado is now 93-6 in the Boyle era when hitting the "gold standard" of having at least a plus-eight rebound advantage and holding opponents to 40 percent or less shooting.

Colorado did finish with 13 turnovers, but just five in the second half when the Buffs put the game away.

"A good win against a really, really good program," Boyle said. "I've got a lot of respect for Harvard as an institution, but also (coach) Tommy Amaker and the kind of coach he is, kind of human being he is... We did a much better job in the second half, much better job taking care of the ball. We had three turnovers the first 17 minutes in the second half. They only made two threes in the second half, we had 18 assists and we were pretty efficient offensively. Overall, pretty pleased."

HOW IT HAPPENED: Harvard led early before the Buffs took the lead for good on an Malone bucket inside, the beginning of a 9-0 run that gave the Buffs a 14-6 edge eight minutes into the game.

But the Crimson managed to stay close, cutting the deficit down to three, 18-15, with a 3-pointer at the 8:38 mark, one of five treys Harvard hit in the opening minutes.

Colorado, though, pushed its lead to 10 three minutes later on the heels of a 10-4 run. Malone tallied a three-point play, Jakimovski scored inside, Julian Hammond III drained a 3-pointer and Baskin connected from the lane to give the Buffs a 31-21 edge.

Harvard answered one more time, putting together a 7-0 run to pull back within three, 31-28.

But Colorado finished the half with a 15-6 run to take control. Ruffin hit two treys in the surge and Jakimovski added five points and the Buffs took a 46-34 lead into the break.

The Buffs threatened to blow the game open early in the second half with a quick 5-0 run. Malone hit two free throws and Baskin swished a 3-pointer to give Colorado a 17-point edge, 51-34.

But the Crimson answered with a 14-3 run that included two 3-pointers while the Buffs endured a 1-for-7 shooting stretch. With 11:41 to play, Colorado's lead had dwindled to just six, 56-50.

Colorado's shooting woes contributed to Harvard's brief surge as the Buffs hit just five of their first 21 field goal tries of the half.

But just as quickly as Harvard pulled back within range, the Buffs put the game away with a 21-4 run that saw CU hit seven of eight field goal tries.

Sebastian Rancik started the surge with a drive inside, RJ Smith hit a 3-pointer and Ruffin sank three free throws to give CU a 64-52 lead. Baskin then hit back-to-back baskets inside, Jakimovski and Hammond drained 3-pointers and a Malone dunk gave Colorado a 77-54 cushion with just under six minutes to play.

After giving up six 3-pointers to Harvard in the first half, Colorado held the Crimson to just two after the break.

"We really just took away the threes," Ruffin said. "That was a big emphasis of ours coming into the game. We knew that they shot 31 threes last game, which is a lot. Our goal was to take away as many as possible and we didn't do that in the first half. We also gave them easy offense by just giving them turnovers and free buckets. I think that's what changed in the second half."

After building their 23-point edge, CU then kept the lead at a comfortable level down the stretch for the win.

LAHAINA, Hawai'i — Colorado started fast but couldn't keep pace with Michigan State on Monday, as the Buffaloes dropped a 72-56 decision in the opening round of the Maui Invitational at the Lahaina Civic Center.

Tad Boyle's Buffs suffered their first loss of the season, falling to 4-1 while Michigan State improved to 5-1.

The Buffs got off to a good start, taking an early lead on 3-pointers from Julian Hammond III and Andrej Jakimovski. The Buffs were still tied with the Spartans midway through the first half when Elijah Malone scored inside to knot the score at 21-21.

But the Buffs went cold from that point on and the Spartans closed the half with a 17-4 run to take a 38-25 lead at halftime.

CU then briefly cut the lead back to seven early in the second half on two more 3-pointers from Hammond. But the Spartans then slowly pulled away, building their lead to 17 at the midway point of the half and pushing it to as much as 20 down the stretch.

Hammond led CU with 15 points while Malone added 14 points on 7-for-10 shooting along with five rebounds.

Jase Richardson led MSU with 13 points.

Colorado was dominated inside as the Spartans held a 50-28 edge in points in the paint, including a 22-6 edge in fast break points. CU also shot just 37 percent from the floor (20-for-56) while MSU shot 49 percent (40-for-61) despite hitting just two of 21 3-point tries.

Michigan State also held a commanding 42-29 rebound edge.

"They didn't do anything that we didn't expect," Boyle said. "Unfortunately, we didn't show up. We showed up the first 10 minutes. We played hard, you know, we made shots, but then we lost this game on every front — offensively, defensively, rebounding the ball, all the things that we work on, and they were better than us in every phase of the game."

HOW IT HAPPENED: The Buffs started out on a hot note, hitting their first three shots, including 3-pointers from Hammond and Jakimovski, to take a quick 8-6 edge.

The two teams then traded the lead several times, with Colorado taking a 16-13 edge on a Bangot Dak transition dunk. MSU then jumped ahead with a quick 4-0 surge before the Buffs battled back to tie the game at 21-21 on a Malone basket inside with 9:13 to play in the half.

But then the roof caved in on the Buffs. CU endured a 1-13 shooting slump over the final nine minutes of the half, including an 0-for-7 stretch. That paved the way for a 17-4 MSU run, sending Colorado into the locker room at halftime trailing 38-25.

"We didn't do a good job of adjusting and getting back to what we did in the first 10 minutes of the game," said Buff Trevor Baskin, who finished with nine points and three rebounds.

Along with their shooting slump, the Buffs were also pounded inside. While the Spartans missed all nine of their 3-point attempts in the first half, they still held a decisive 26-10 edge in points in the paint to take their halftime lead.

"We knew they were going to crash the boards, we knew they were going to get out and run on makes and misses," Boyle said. "We knew they wanted to get downhill, get the ball in the paint. We just didn't do anything to stop them."

Colorado started again fast in the second half, getting a Malone bucket and back-to-back 3-pointers from Hammond to cut MSU's lead to seven, 40-33.

But the Buffs then turned the ball over on their next three possessions and couldn't come any closer.

The Spartans then finally found their 3-point shot after missing their first 14 from long distance. MSU hit a pair from beyond the arc, with the second from Frankie Fidler putting Colorado in a 52-37 hole with 12:09 to play.

The Buffs never threatened again as Michigan State built its lead to as much as 20 down the stretch.

LAHAINA, Hawai'i — Colorado had no answer for Iowa State's pressure defense Wednesday and the Buffaloes dropped a 99-71 decision in their final game of the Maui Invitational.

Tad Boyle's Buffs fell to 5-2 while the fifth-ranked Cyclones improved to 5-1. The two teams will meet again Dec. 30 when they open Big 12 play with a 7 p.m. game in Boulder.

Julian Hammond III led CU with 20 points and Andrej Jakimovski scored 18. Trevor Baskin led the Buffs on the boards with eight rebounds. Iowa State put six players in double figures, led by 24 points from Milan Momcilovic.

ISU's defense caused problems throughout the game for CU. The Buffs finished with 18 turnovers that led to 37 Iowa State points, including a 22-6 edge in fast break points.

The Buffs got off to a good start and held a 22-20 lead with nine minutes to play in the first half. But the Cyclones continued to force turnovers and finished the half with a 25-12 surge to take an 11-point edge into the break, 45-34.

But unlike Tuesday's game, when the Buffs overcame an 11-point first-half deficit against No. 2 UConn to get the win, CU had no comeback in the second half. The Cyclones built their lead into the 20s and finally into the 30s as Colorado's turnover woes continued, resulting in a 54-37 scoring edge for ISU in the second half.

Colorado shot just 42 percent from the field (23-for-55) while the Cyclones shot 60 percent (35-for-58). ISU also held a 31-25 edge on the boards, including seven offensive rebounds that produced 14 points.

"I wasn't a math major but I can add, and 51 of their 99 points came off offensive rebounds where we don't box out and the other 37 come off turnovers," Boyle said. "That's 51 of their 99 points that we have a direct result of causing. You put the combination of turnovers and not boxing out and not guarding, this is what you get against a good team and Iowa State's a hell of a program, hell of a team."

HOW IT HAPPENED: Colorado started well, then survived a 1-for-9 shooting stretch to overcome a 15-11 deficit and take a 22-20 lead.

Bangot Dak hit a 3-pointer to pull Colorado within one before RJ Smith hit back-to-back treys to give the Buffs a 20-17 lead. A minute later, an Elijah Malone bucket inside gave CU a 22-20 edge with 8:45 to play in the half.

"When we were strong with the ball and had strong cuts, good things happened for us," Boyle said. "We got good looks and we made some baskets."

But there weren't enough of those moments for the Buffs as the Cyclones controlled the game for the rest of the half with their swarming defense. ISU ripped off a quick 10-0 run as the Colorado committed four turnovers in five possessions before Jakimovski hit two free throws to pull CU within six, 30-24.

ISU, though, continued the onslaught. The Cyclones stretched their run to 15-4, pushing their cushion into double digits, 35-24, on a long 3-pointer thanks to a pair of offensive rebounds.

Colorado did get a pair of Jakimovski 3-pointers in the final two minutes of the half but CU couldn't come up with a defensive stop. By the time the halftime buzzer sounded ISU had a 25-12 run on the board over the final 8 minutes of the period to take a 45-34 lead into the break.

The Buffs committed nine turnovers in the first half leading to 20 points for ISU and the Cyclones also reaped nine second-chance points. Colorado shot just 11-for-26 in the opening half while Iowa State shot 19-for-33.

The Buffs never found their rhythm in the second half. Iowa State's defense continued to cause problems for CU while the Cyclones continued to roll on the offensive end. ISU slowly built its lead over the first 10 minutes of the half, finally opening up a 25-point edge, 75-52, with nine minutes to play.

Iowa State then built its edge to as much as 33 in the final minutes as the Buffs never threatened to close the gap.

BOULDER — Colorado overcame a 10-point second half deficit and took control with a 29-8 surge Monday as the Buffaloes collected a 75-66 win over Pacific at the CU Events Center.

Tad Boyle's Buffs improved to 6-2 while Pacific dropped to 5-5. CU's Trevor Baskin flirted with a triple-double, finishing with 13 points, 10 rebounds and seven assists. Andrej Jakimovski led CU with 17 points, RJ Smith had eight points and seven boards and Bangot Dak had seven points, six assists and four blocks.

Elias Ralph led Pacific with 24 points.

The Buffs fell behind by 11 in the first half, thanks to a 15-0 Pacific run that saw the Tigers hit six straight shots while the Buffaloes missed 10 in a row. CU managed to briefly cut the deficit to four but trailed by nine at the break, 38-29, after the Tigers finished the half with a 5-0 run.

Colorado shot just 10-for-31 in the first half while the Tigers were 14-for-29. Pacific also held a 24-8 edge in the paint in the opening 20 minutes.

But the Buffs finally found their defense while also revving up their offense following the break. After Pacific took a 48-38 lead, the Buffs put together a 15-2 run to take their first lead since early in the game, 53-50, with 11 minutes to play.

Pacific managed to keep it close over the next four minutes before CU finally took firm control, using a 10-0 run to take a 67-56 lead, part of the decisive 29-8 run.

Colorado then held the Tigers at bay over the final minutes for the win.

CU finished shooting just 42 percent (25-for-59) from the floor but the Buffs did hit nine of their 21 3-point tries. After their hot first half, the Tigers finished just 23-for-63 from the floor, including a 9-for-37 effort in the second half.

Pacific did have a 41-40 edge on the boards, including 14 offensive rebounds, and also had a 38-30 edge in the paint.

HOW IT HAPPENED: Colorado trailed by nine at the break, 38-29, after a poor first half from both ends of the floor.

But the CU defense finally kicked in after halftime. The Buffs got two buckets from Elijah Malone and a Jakimovski 3-pointer to start the half before cutting the deficit to five, 43-38, on a pair of Assane Diop free throws.

Pacific momentarily pushed its lead back to 10 with a quick 5-0 run but the Buffs then put together a 15-2 run to take their first lead since early in the game.

Smith started the run with a 3-pointer, followed by a Dak block on the defensive end that led to a Harrison Carrington dunk.

CU's 5-0 burst sparked a Pacific timeout and a Tigers bucket after the break, but the Buffs then continued their run. Malone scored inside, Jakimovski converted a three-point play and another Smith 3-pointer at the 11:22 mark gave Colorado a 51-50 lead, CU's first since an 8-7 edge in the first half.

Smith scored again after a Pacific miss to give the Buffs a three-point cushion and the two teams traded buckets on the next six possessions, leaving CU with a 57-56 edge with 7:40 to play.

The Buffs then took control with a 9-0 surge, fueled by Baskin. The grad transfer tallied a transition dunk and three free throws, then notched his seventh assist of the night with a pass inside to Malone. Dak completed the run with a dunk to give CU an 10-point edge, 66-56, with five minutes to play.

Dak then added a free throw after a timeout to give Colorado its biggest lead of the game, 67-56, as CU's turnaround run hit 29-8.

Pacific's Elijah Fisher finally stopped the run with a three-point play but the Buffs kept the Tigers at bay over the final two minutes to collect the win.

Colorado opened the game on a hot note as the Buffs hit their first three shots, including 3-pointers from Jakimovski and Julian Hammond III, to take an early 8-4 lead.

But things went south for Colorado in a hurry. The Buffs went cold on offense, missing their next 10 shots, and were equally inefficient on defense. That opened the door for a 15-0 Pacific run that included a 6-for-8 stretch from the floor for the Tigers, giving Pacific a 19-8 lead with 12:55 still to play in the first half.

Sebastian Rancik finally ended Colorado's nearly six-minute scoring drought with a 3-pointer but that didn't immediately cure the Buffs' woes. Pacific built its cushion back to 11 before finally began to chip away at the deficit.

Colorado pulled to within five on a pair of Hammond free throws, then cut the Pacific lead to four, 33-29, on a Jakimovski 3-pointer with 3 minutes left in the half.

But the Buffs again went cold, coming up empty on six straight possessions to end the half while Pacific went on a 5-0 run in the final three minutes to take a 38-29 lead into the break.

TEMPE, Ariz. — A first half offensive explosion by Arizona State along with some Colorado shooting woes led to an 81-61 decision in favor of the Sun Devils Saturday afternoon at Desert Financial Arena.

Colorado trailed by double digits early in the game and could not mount a comeback to capture its first Big 12 Conference win of the season, falling to 9-4 (0-2) on the year while ASU improves to 10-3 (1-1).

Trailing by as much as 23 in the first half, the Buffaloes went on a 10-0 run in the final 2:35 minutes of the period to cut the deficit to 13 with another 20 minutes to play.

Graduate transfer Trevor Baskin scored a season-high 23 points on 9 of 14 from the floor with 10 rebounds, four steals, two assists, and a block. It marks his second double-double as a Buff and 24th of his collegiate career. It's also the first time he has logged 20 or more points in his time at CU.

The Buffs got a hefty 40 points from their bench. Javon Ruffin, Sebastian Rancik, and Harrison Carrington combined for 17 of those points, in addition to Baskin's 23.

Arizona State's BJ Freeman posted a season-high 19 points in the win.

The difference was a season-low field goal percentage (34.8%) and three-point field goal percentage (12.5%) by the Buffaloes, with the combination of the Sun Devils shooting 51.9% from the field and 46.4% from beyond the arc.

"They just had whatever they wanted," head coach Tad Boyle stated. "They'd beat us inside, they'd beat us outside. They got whatever they wanted. And we just didn't. We didn't dictate at all with our defense. We were on our heels. It felt like the whole night, both offensively and defensively."

HOW IT HAPPENED: The Buffaloes trailed 40-17 late in the first half before going on a 10-0 run in the final minutes to cut the Arizona State lead to 13 at the break.

Colorado shot just 34.3 percent in the first half (12 for 35) while Arizona State shot over 50 percent as a unit and over 40 percent from three.

Andrej Jakimovski and Baskin combined for the Buffs 10 points through the first eight minutes of the second half while the team continued to struggle to knock shots down, going 3-for-16 to start the half.

Sun Devil Jay Quaintance entered double-digit scoring figures thanks to a jumper with nine minutes left in the game, giving ASU a 25-point lead, their largest of the night.

Arizona State would go on to hover around a 20-point lead the rest of the way, continuing to be more efficient from the field than Colorado.

"When we hold people under 40% field goal percentage and we out rebound them by eight or more, we're not undefeated," Boyle said. "It doesn't guarantee you're going to win the game...you got to be able to score the ball at some point and make open shots. So that was really disappointing we didn't."

ORLANDO, Fla. — Colorado got a career-night from senior guard Julian Hammond III and shot over 50 percent as a team, but a season-high 22 turnovers allowed UCF to squeak out a 75-74 Big 12 Conference win over the Buffaloes Wednesday night at Addition Financial Arena.

Colorado, 9-5 overall, drops its third-straight to fall to 0-3 in conference play for the first time since 2016-17. UCF improves to 11-3, 2-1 in the Big 12.

Hammond, shaking off a scoreless performance at Arizona State, scored a career-high 26 points on 8 of 14 from the field and 8 of 9 from the line. Andrej Jakimovski had 16 points hitting 4 of 5 3-point attempts. Bangot Dak pitched in 10 points while RJ Smith grabbed career-high eight rebounds.

Jordan Ivy-Curry led UCF with 22 points.

Colorado, coming off a season low 34.8 percent at Arizona State, hit 52.2 percent from the field. The Buffaloes made 7 of 13 from 3-point range against UCF, compared to just 3 of 24 at ASU. Colorado also held UCF to 39 percent shooting and had a plus-5 advantage on the boards (33-28).

The Knights cashed in off Colorado miscues, scoring 24 points off turnovers compared to 10 Colorado points off 12 UCF turnovers.

Despite the turnovers, the Buffaloes had several shots at the end to put the game in their favor. Tied at 74-74, Jakimovski missed on a drive to the basket with 42 seconds left. Dak got the offensive board, but his put-back bounced out. UCF's Dallan Coleman got the rebound and was fouled by Trevor Baskin in the backcourt — his fifth foul of the game.

Coleman missed the first free throw attempt but made the second to give the Knights the one-point lead. After a timeout, Hammond got a slightly off-balanced look from the top of the key as the clock wound down but missed and UCF got the ball as it bounced out, off of Colorado, with just four seconds left.

The Knights had trouble getting the ball in and were called for a five-second count which gave the Buffaloes the ball back. Elijah Malone got the ball in the paint of the inbound, but his attempt at a layup from the left side was blocked by Keyshawn Hall. Darius Johnson snagged the rebound and vaulted the ball into the air as time ran out on the Buffaloes.

HOW IT HAPPENED: Leading 37-34 at the half, Colorado had a great start to the second period hitting its first six and seven of its first eight shots. Jakimovski hit a pair of 3-point shots that put him over 1,000 points for his collegiate career and gave CU a 53-44 lead at the 15:05 mark. A Dak 3-pointer gave the Buffs their largest lead at 56-46 with 14:16 remaining.

Although the Buffs continued to hit shots, empty possessions allowed UCF to storm back. Fourteen of Colorado's 22 turnovers came in the second half with eight coming during a five-minute span which fueled a 14-2 UCF run that kept the game tight down the stretch.

Ivy-Curry tied the game at 58, hitting a pair of free throws after Assane Diop was called for a flagrant foul against Johnson. Hall gave UCF the lead on the ensuing possession, but Hammond countered with a paint bucket on the other end to tie the game at 60. It would remain a two-possession contest the rest of the way.

UCF took a 71-67 lead with 5:15 left thanks to five-straight points by Johnson. But Hammond stayed aggressive attacking the paint. He scored the games' next seven points — four-straight free throws and a traditional 3-point play as Colorado led 74-71 with 3:01 left.

Hall countered that aggression with three free throws to tie the game for the eighth and final time at 74 with a minute left setting up the closing sequence.

Colorado scored the first six points of the game. Hammond, more than ready to shed his slump from ASU, scored three points in that early run. UCF missed its first 10 shots, including six 3-point attempts.

Ivy-Curry scored seven straight out of the first media timeout to give UCF the lead. Jakimovski quickly took back the lead with a 3-pointer and an RJ Smith steal and dunk gave the Buffaloes an 11-7 advantage.

UCF then went on an 8-0 run. Johnson got three shots at the line, Moustapha Thiam hit a hook shot and Ivy-Curry nailed his second 3-pointer of the game giving him 10 points early and UCF a 15-11 advantage.

Colorado regained the lead with a 6-0 run of its own. Baskin had a steal and layup and Hammond hit a 3-pointer as CU led 17-15 with 10:44 left in the first half.

The teams traded baskets as the lead changed hand four times and tied three others late in the first half. Jakimovski hit his second 3-pointer to give CU a 24-21 lead, but Hall responded with one for UCF.

Dak gave Colorado a little breathing room with five in a row, including a free throw that gave Colorado its largest first half lead at 35-28 with 3:06 left.

UCF scored four points from the line to cut CU's lead to three. Hammond hit a pair of foul shots but Johnson had a late basket to counter as Colorado led 37-34 at the break.

BOULDER — A sluggish start offensively for Colorado was too much to handle against Cincinnati, leading to a 68-62 Bearcats win Wednesday night in the CU Events Center.

The Buffs have now dropped their fifth straight contest, falling to 9-7 overall and 0-5 in the Big 12. It's the first time Colorado has lost five consecutive games since the final five games of the 2019-20 season.

"I sound like a broken record here the last five games, but really, really disappointing, and we drop our third game at home," head coach Tad Boyle said. "We lost one in this building the entire season last year, and now we've lost three and all winnable games that we weren't good enough to win. And I told the team I feel like this is the poorest coached team in America. That's how I feel, because the stuff that we talk about in practice, the stuff we talk about in huddles, it doesn't translate to the games, for whatever reason which is really frustrating."

Bangot Dak had an impressive night for the Buffs, posting a career-highs with 19 points and eight blocked shots. It's the third most blocks ever by a CU player in a single game.

Dak also matched personal bests in field goals made, hitting 7 of 11, and eight rebounds, as the sophomore led the charge for the Buffaloes on both ends of the court.

Trevor Baskin notched eight points, six rebounds, and two steals on the night. Freshman Sebastian Rancik added nine points on 3-for-6 shooting.

Simas Lukosius led Cincinnati with 16 points, including going 3-for-8 from the three-point line.

Similar to the last game against West Virginia, CU lost the battle for points off turnovers, with the Bearcats outscoring the Buffs 18-11 in that category. Colorado had 15 turnovers while Cincinnati had 10.

It was an off-night shooting from the floor for Colorado, going 23-for-56 (41.1%) overall but a season-low 3-for-13 (23.1%) from the three-point line, tying the lowest number of three-pointers made this season as a unit.

"All I want are great shots for our team, and I can't make the shots for them, but we got to get great shots and in order to win games down the stretch, you have to have players that make plays, or I got to do a better job of crafting some stuff offensively for them, and have more sound defensively," Boyle stated. "And when you break down in this league, you're going to pay for it, and that's what our guys were doing."

HOW IT HAPPENED: It was a slow start for both sides, with Cincinnati opening the scoring with a bucket from the inside, earning an and-one. The Bearcats climbed up to a 6-0 lead after a three-pointer from Dan Skillings. Hammond struck first for the Buffs, nailing three free throw attempts after being fouled on the perimeter.

After a layup from Dak at the 15:11 mark in the first half, Colorado went on to shoot 1-for-14 from the floor before catching a rhythm again but not before Cincinnati was able to build a double-digit lead. The Bearcats went 5-12 (41.7%) from three-point land in the first half.

A tip-in dunk from Dak at the 1:46 mark followed up by a made free throw with a minute remaining brought CU within seven points at the break, 34-27.

Four turnovers early in the second half by the Buffs led to Cincinnati rebuilding their lead back to double digits. Back-to-back buckets inside the paint from Harrison Carrington cut the Cincinnati lead to 44-36 with 12:34 remaining in the game.

Baskin assisted Dak on an impressive alley-oop dunk. It brought the CU deficit to just three points with 8:54 remaining in the contest. The Bearcats responded back with a three-pointer the next possession.

After recording his eighth block of the game, Dak knocked down a jumper with 5:07 remaining, cutting Cincinnati's lead to 50-49. Baskin then grabbed the first lead of the night for Colorado with a bucket in the paint.

Trailing 57-53 with 2:41 left to go, Andrej Jakimovski had three free throws, but missed them all. Cincinnati got a three-pointer from Lukosius to extend its lead to 60-53 with under two minutes remaining and kept it a two possession game the rest of the way.

STILLWATER, Okla. — Turnovers and foul trouble plagued Colorado against Oklahoma State on Saturday, as the Buffaloes dropped their sixth straight game 83-73 at the Gallagher-Iba Arena.

Colorado (9-8, 0-6) battled Oklahoma State (10-7, 2-4), but a common theme of turnovers and 3-point shooting woes, along with a season-high 29 fouls committed, did the Buffaloes in.

Colorado found itself within two possessions in both the first and second half

Oklahoma State didn't shoot lights out from the field as a team but shot a season-high 31 of 42 from the free-throw line. Five different players made at least four free throws.

"It's really hard when you put a team at the line 42 times," head coach Tad Boyle said. "Forty-two free throws for them and 25 for us, it's not a good advantage."

Sophomore Bangot Dak led the team in scoring for the second straight game with 15 points shooting 6 of 8 from the field and 3 of 3 from the free throw line to go with five rebounds and a block.

Two other Buffs scored in double-digits. Sebastian Rancik had 11 on 3 of 5 from the floor and 1 of 2 from three as well as 10 from senior point guard Julian Hammond III.

Avery Marchelus and Bryce Thompson led the Cowboys in points with each putting up 14 on 4 of 10 from the field. Thompson would go 7 of 9 from the charity stripe, along with Marchelus going 2 of 5 from 3-point range.

Despite a few 3-point makes late Colorado shot just 5 of 22 (22.7%) and was out rebounded 36-23 by Oklahoma State.

"I thought they were the more aggressive team and that really shows up in the rebounding column, and they out rebounded us in a big way 36 to 23 that's minus 13," Boyle said. "We knew the only chance we had to win this game is two ways. One was to take care of the basketball, against their pressure, which we knew was coming, and then the second thing was keep them off the offensive glass, because they averaged 13 offensive rebounds a game, and they got their average, they got their 13, and they scored 22 points off of those. So nobody to blame but ourselves. But give Oklahoma State credit, they were the tougher team, the more aggressive team, the better team tonight. We knew what we had to do to win this game. We didn't get it done."

HOW IT HAPPENED After going down 3-0 just over a minute into the game, Colorado would go on a quick 6-0 run to take the lead behind a basket by Andrej Jakimovski and free throws by Hammond and Dak.

The next 6:22 Oklahoma State was unable to make a field goal but stayed in the game making six free throws to keep the game close 10-9 with 13:06 in the first half.

Like the Cowboys, Colorado struggled to make shots but were able to keep the game close making six free throws of their own before Jakimovski made the only 3-pointer in the first half to cut the lead to 24-21 with 8:16 in the half.

Immediately Oklahoma State went on a 6-0 run to push the lead to 10 with 5:51 left in the half. Despite Colorado making four of its next five shots the lead still stayed at nine points with Oklahoma State continuing to get to the free-throw line.

Colorado turned the ball over 10 times and allowed the Cowboys to shoot 21-26 from the free throw line in the first half. Colorado shot 12-12 from the line themselves and 9-14 from inside the arc but went 1-9 on 3-point attempts.

"When we get good shots, we're pretty damn good," Boyle said on the turnovers. "The problem is we turn it over before we get good shots. Dead last in the league in that category [turnovers], and Oklahoma State knew it. That's why they pressed us, why they doubled our ball screens, and we've got to be able to handle it better."

Foul trouble hurt the Buffs with three - Harrison Carrington, Elijah Malone, and Javon Ruffin with three fouls each in the first half. They weren't the only Buffs who committed fouls early with three other players with two fouls apiece.

Down 10 points to start the second half, Colorado opened on a 5-0 run behind a basket by Hammond and an and-1 by Dak. Following a basket by Oklahoma State, Ruffin made his ninth three-pointer of the season to cut the lead to 45-41 the closest it would be for the rest of the game.

Turnovers and fouls continued to plague the Buffs who ended with 16 turnovers and 29 fouls committed. A late flurry by the bench who scored 39 points kept the Cowboy lead hovering around 10 points before the clock ran out and ended 83-73.

TUCSON, Ariz. – An efficient second-half shooting performance from Arizona was too much for Colorado to handle, leading to a Wildcats 78-63 win Saturday afternoon in the McKale Center.

The Buffs dropped their eighth consecutive game, falling to 9-10 on the season and 0-8 in the Big 12. It's the first time Colorado has dropped eight games in a row since losing its last 12 of the 2008-09 season.

"I'm proud of our guys for not losing their fight, and that's what it's going to take to win a game in this league," head coach Tad Boyle said. "And eventually I think we will, but I thought our game plan was good coming in here."

After a close first half, Colorado was unable to find a rhythm from the floor in the second period, shooting just 12-for-27 (44.4%) as a unit while Arizona shot 17-for-30 (56.7%) from the field.

Colorado lost the turnover battle 15-10, with the Wildcats capitalizing on it, outscoring the Buffaloes 19-10 off those miscues. Arizona also outscored Colorado 36-24 on points in the paint.

Julian Hammond III led CU with 19 points, including going 4 for 6 from downtown. He also had a team-high four assists.

Javon Ruffin chipped in 12 points and two assists on 5 for 9 shooting overall. Anthony Dell'Orso led Arizona with 20 points, nailing 6 of 9 from the 3-point line.

DECISIVE MOMENT: After a Hammond 3-pointer with 8:33 left in the second half pulled the Buffaloes to within six at 52-46, the Wildcats drilled back-to-back 3-pointers from Dell'Orso and Henri Veesaar. It gave Arizona a double-digit lead that the Buffaloes could not catch up with the rest of the way.

WHAT IT MEANS: Boyle and the Buffs drop their eighth contest in a row, still looking to crack through in the win column in Big 12 play.

HOW IT HAPPENED: Arizona came out of the gates with a 9-3 run, forcing a Colorado timeout at the 17:18 mark. Back-to-back scores from CU freshman Sebastian Rancik and RJ Smith brought the Buffaloes deficit to just two, 14-12, with 12 minutes left in the first half.

A shot beyond the arc from Andrej Jakimovski brought him to eight points on the afternoon with just under eight minutes to go, with the Buffs trailing by four. He would score again on the next CU possession, reaching double-digit points in the score column. Hammond captured the first lead for Colorado with a mid-range jumper at the 3:54 mark, giving his team a 26-25 advantage. A pair of Caleb Love 3-pointers propelled Arizona back into the lead headed to break up 33-31.

Five points out of the break from Dell'Orso pushed the Wildcats lead to 40-35, at the first media timeout of the second half. The Buffs responded quickly with buckets from Hammond and Malone to tie the game up.

A near three-minute scoring drought for the Buffs opened the door for Arizona to build an eight-point lead, forcing a timeout with 10:15 left in the game.

Colorado struggled to nail shots consistently like Arizona over the final 10 minutes, with Dell'Orso drilling another four 3-pointers.

BOULDER – Colorado overcame a slow start, battled back, but fell just short to Arizona State, 70-68, Tuesday night at the CU Events Center.

Colorado falls to 9-11 on the year and 0-9 in the Big 12 Conference. It's the ninth-consecutive loss for the Buffaloes, their longest streak since 2008-09.

Trevor Baskin led the Buffs with 19 points on 7 for 11 shooting with four rebounds and four steals. Baskin also led CU in scoring with 23 points in the last match-up with Arizona State earlier in the month.

Julian Hammond III and Bangot Dak each chipped in 13 points for Colorado. Dak had a team-high six rebounds while shooting an efficient 5-for-8 from the floor.

Adam Miller led Arizona State with 18 points and six assists, going 4-for-5 from the 3-point line.

Colorado trailed nearly the entire game, but had four looks to either tie the game or take the lead in the final minute. Freshman Sebastian Rancik had a chance to tie the game after fouling on a 3-point play, but made just two of the attempts. Rancik had a second 3-point look just rim out from the baseline that would have given the Buffaloes the lead with :04 left.

Andrej Jakimovski had one final desperation shot from half court at the buzzer that sailed just off the side.

"Well, I'm not sure I've ever felt as bad for a group of guys as I do for this group that was in the locker room because they are, as BD [Bangot Dak] and Trevor [Baskin] said, they're trying," head coach Tad Boyle said. "They really are. Now, we're not playing smart enough, we're not playing tough enough, we're not playing consistent enough. And that's my job. If you can do it once, you should be able to do it twice. If you do it twice, you should be able to do it three times. And look, the shots sometimes aren't going to go in. That's part of it. But this team, this program, I should say, this program, has set a standard of defending at a high level and rebounding at a high level consistently throughout the 14 years we've been here. This team is nowhere near good enough defensively or rebounding the basketball to win a game like tonight."

HOW IT HAPPENED: The Sun Devils opened the scoring with a shot from deep to go up 3-0 early on. Buffs got on the board via tip-in layup from Dak. ASU then gained an 11-2 lead over Colorado after another pair of 3-pointers with 14 minutes remaining in the half.

A Harrison Carrington dunk along the baseline cut ASU's lead to 14-9 at 9:43 mark in the first half. Arizona State responded with their fourth 3-pointer on the night followed up with a steal and score to go up double-digits.

Javon Ruffin drilled the first shot from deep for the Buffs at 7:33, cutting the ASU deficit to 21-15. Forcing a couple of turnovers, the Buffs found themselves trailing by just two after a Baskin layup and a Jakimovski 3-pointer with five minutes to go in the half.

Arizona State ended the half shooting 7-for-9 from the field, giving them a 33-26 edge headed into the break.

Hammond and Rancik led the charge for the Buffs coming out of the second half, scoring 14 of the team's 17 points in the first few minutes, tying the game at 43 with 11:59 remaining in the contest. An Arizona State technical foul led to two free throws awarded to Colorado, giving the Buffs their first lead of the night, 47-45.

With under four minutes to go, both teams traded buckets back-and-forth, with ASU clinging on to a five-point lead. Dak brought Colorado within two points after a mesmerizing dunk at the 2:38 minute mark. Rancik tied the game at 64 the next possession with a layup.

A score inside the paint with an and-one pushed the Arizona State lead back to three, 67-64, with just under a minute and a half to go. With 20 seconds to go in the game, Rancik was fouled from deep, sending him to the line for three shots with the potential to tie the game but was not able to sink the first attempt. Trailing by one with 16 seconds on the clock, ASU traveled to give CU one last possession. Another Rancik 3-pointer from the corner came up short, leading to the Arizona State win.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah – Colorado made a valiant comeback from a double-digit deficit only to fall at Utah Wednesday night at the Huntsman Center.

Colorado, 9-13 overall, drops its 11th-straight game and is 0-11 in league play for the first time since 1985-86. Utah is 13-9, 5-6.

Javon Ruffin led Colorado with 13 points on 4 of 9 shooting and three assists. Bangot Dak had 11 points, four rebounds, three steals and three blocked shots.

Assane Diop finished with 11 points hitting 5 of 6 from the line.

Gabe Madsen led Utah with 17 points hitting 4 of 7 from downtown.

"I'm proud of our guys for fighting back in this game," Colorado head coach Tad Boyle said. "We clawed our way back in the second half and we were right there, but we just weren't able to sustain anything to get over the hump. They made plays down the stretch and we didn't."

Colorado shot just 38.2 percent from the field, but 50 percent in the second half. Utah held a sizeable lead in both rebounds, a 39-31 advantage, and free throws. The Utes went to the line 35 times, and while they made only 18, it was a considerable margin over CU's 10 for 13 night.

The Buffaloes trailed by 11 points early in the second half but had it down to a two-point game with just under eight minutes remaining. Colorado kept pace with Utah over the next four minutes, and when Trevor Baskin got a put back off a Ruffin miss it was 55-52 with 3:58 left. Baskin had a chance to cut it to two but missed the foul shot.

Madsen took countered with a basket to spark a 10-0 run to put the game away.

BOULDER – Colorado head coach Tad Boyle has preached the importance of defense and rebounding; it's been a pillar of his program over the past 15 years.

Saturday afternoon, the Buffaloes went against one of the elite teams in the country in those two categories, one of which proved to be the difference in the ball game.

No. 5 ranked Houston used a dominant performance on the glass to defeat the Buffaloes 69-59 at the CU Events Center.

Colorado falls to 9-14 overall and 0-12 in the Big 12 Conference. The Buffaloes have lost their last 12, their longest losing streak since the end of the 2008-09 season. Houston, 19-4 overall, maintains at least a share of the Big 12 lead at 11-1.

Julian Hammond III led all scorers with 22 points which included a career-high five 3-point field goals. He was Colorado's only player in double figures, Sebastian Rancik and Bangot Dak each had six points.

J'Wan Roberts led Houston with 20 points on 9 of 11 shooting.

All season, and especially during conference play, turnovers and inconsistent rebounding have hurt the Buffaloes. On Saturday, Colorado had 12 turnovers, tying for its lowest figure in Big 12 play, but Houston had a 38-26 edge on the boards. The Cougars had 15 offensive rebounds which led to 18 second-chance points, compared to just seven second-chance points for the Buffaloes.

Houston also had a 42-20 advantage inside the paint. The Cougars shot 48.2 percent from the field, including 60 percent in the second half. Colorado shot 41.3 percent from the floor.

Houston quickly pushed a four-point halftime lead to nine when Roberts scored right out of the break and Terrance Arceneaux and LJ Cryer hit back-to-back 3-pointers to give the Cougars a 39-30 lead. Hammond made back-to-back 3-pointers of his own to cut the margin to three at 39-36 with 14:44 left.

Hammond, who entered the game having hit just 1 of 10 from deep over the last three games, was 5 for 7 on his career-best day from long range.

Every time Colorado got close, it was Roberts that had the answer. He scored seven of Houston's next nine points as the Cougars once again led by nine.

Still, that didn't keep the Buffaloes from battling. Hammond and Dak hit consecutive 3-pointers to trim Houston's advantage to 48-45 with 8:49 remaining.

Arceneaux and Milos Uzan led a small 7-2 run to get Houston's lead back to 54-47. Colorado kept the pressure on Houston, getting to the foul line. Hammond, the second-best free throw shooter in the Big 12, made a pair of freebies. On the ensuing possession, Hammond got the steal, found Andrej Jakimovski who was fouled by Joseph Tugler on a 3-point attempt in transition. Jakimovski made all three free throws, making it a one-possession game at 54-52 Houston with 5:49 left.

The fifth-ranked Cougars kept answering the call. Arceneaux stopped Colorado's run with a contested layup. Mylik Wilson got a steal on the next possession and went coast-to-coast for a dunk and a 58-52 lead.

Colorado stayed right with Houston. Hammond responded on another drive to the basket. Rancik aggressively drove the lane resulting in a thundering dunk with 3:45 left and the game was still a four-point contest at 60-58.

Roberts once again took over. He scored five points including back-to-back jumpers in the paint in Houston's decisive 7-0 run in the final two minutes, putting the lead in double-digits and out of reach at 67-56 with 1:12 left.

Houston opened the game with a 9-0 run as the Buffaloes missed their first five shots.

Elijah Malone got the Buffaloes on the board with a three-point play. A Uzan 3-pointer and Rancik basket gave Houston a 14-3 lead at the 13:43 mark.

Colorado ramped up its intensity, scoring 11 straight to tie the game at 14-14. Javon Ruffin hit a deep 3-pointer and RJ Smith nailed a deep ball off a Dak offensive rebound. Felix Kossaras then scored five-straight points, joining the mini-3-point barrage then scoring on a slashing layup on a Dak assist to tie the game.

The Buffaloes could never get over that hump. Houston settled down to score the next seven, and kept Colorado at arm's length, eventually taking a 31-27 lead into halftime.

BOULDER – The Colorado Buffaloes snapped their 13-game losing streak Saturday afternoon at home over UCF, taking down the Knights by a score of 76-63 for their first Big 12 Conference win of the season.

With the win, the Buffs move to 10-15 overall and 1-13 in Big 12 play. The UCF Knights fall to 13-12 overall and 4-10 in conference games. Both teams split the season series, 1-1.

"I'm happy for these guys, everybody in that locker room, what we've been through over the last month and a half," head coach Tad Boyle said. "Just battling, fighting, and scratching and clawing while just coming up short. And these guys have stuck together. They haven't lost their belief in each other or themselves, which is a testament to them. So it's nice to see them rewarded and really rewarded in a game where we were far from our best."

Andrej Jakimovski led all Colorado scorers with 15 points on 3 for 6 shooting from beyond the arc, along with seven rebounds. Assane Diop contributed a season-high 10 rebounds and six points off the bench for the Buffs.

"I thought his (Jakimovski) defensive effort on (Keyshawn) Hall was terrific," Boyle stated. "He had to work for everything he got, and he really battled him all night."

Hall led UCF with 19 points on 6 for 14 shooting while also grabbing nine rebounds.

The Buffs held the Knights to a 34% (21-61) shooting percentage, while shooting 42% (25-59) from the floor as a unit themselves.

All nine Buffaloes who saw the floor on Saturday logged at least one point in the contest. Eight of the nine scored at least six points.

Colorado was a dominant force on the glass, nabbing a season-high 52 rebounds as a team. Their previous high was 45 rebounds collected in each of the first two games of the season. UCF had just 29 total rebounds in the contest.

DECISIVE MOMENT: A 13-5 run by the Buffs in the first eight minutes of the second half got them a double-digit lead for the first time in the contest, a lead UCF would not be able to catch up with. Ten quick points in the paint and a Jakimovski 3-pointer propelled the second-half offense for Colorado.

HOW IT HAPPENED: Bangot Dak started the game off with a tough bucket down low that drew an and-one foul. Dak missed the following free throw. Keyshawn Hall hit a 3-pointer and a layup to give the Knights a 7-6 lead over CU at the 16-minute mark in the first half. RJ Smith drilled the first shot from distance for the Buffs, giving them an 11-9 lead with just over 13 minutes left in the period.

Back-to-back Javon Ruffin 3-pointers gave CU their biggest lead at the time, 22-16, with 8:48 remaining in the first half. Multiple turnovers led to a four-minute scoreless drought from the Buffs, opening the door to an 8-0 UCF run, giving the Knights a 29-27 advantage with three minutes left in the half. A 7-2 run in the final 1:30 of the half gave Colorado a one-possession lead, 38-36 headed into the break.

Colorado started the second half with a 9-3 run thanks to five quick points from Jakimovski, including his second 3-pointer of the afternoon. The Buffs gained their first double-digit lead of the day with 12:16 remaining, after a Ruffin layup in the paint to put CU up 51-41. The Knights managed to cut the deficit to five, 55-50, with just under eight minutes left, but another Jakimovski shot from deep put the Buffs back up by eight.

An Elijah Malone bucket at the 4:35 mark put Colorado up by 11, 64-53, their largest lead of the day. One free throw made by Malone followed up with a miss, but a tip-in layup from Sebastian Rancic gave CU a three-point swing. The 14-point Colorado lead was too much for UCF to catch up to in the final three minutes, giving the Buffs their first Big 12 win of the season.

AMES, Iowa – Colorado trailed by double-digits within the first seven minutes, which proved to be too much against a blistering Iowa offense Tuesday night, with the Buffaloes falling by a score of 79-65 at Hilton Coliseum.

The Buffs fall to 10-16 overall and 1-14 in Big 12 play. Iowa State sweeps the season series over Colorado and improves to 21-6 overall and 11-4 in conference.

"They were the better team tonight," head coach Tad Boyle said. "They deserved to win, and I was really proud of our guys the last 10 minutes. If we would have played the first 30 minutes like we played the last 10 in terms of our aggressiveness and toughness and handling their pressure, attacking their pressure, and guarding them, I think it would have been a different game, but we didn't, and they deserve the credit."

Sophomore Bangot Dak led Colorado with a career-high 20 points on 8 for 14 shooting from the floor and four rebounds. His previous high was 19 points earlier this season against Cincinnati.

Harrison Carrington put up a career-high 11 points while going an efficient 4 for 5 overall shooting. Freshman Felix Kossaras led the Buffs with five rebounds in just 15 minutes of game action.

"I still want to see improvement for this team, this year, and I think we saw that with both Harrison and Felix tonight, who didn't play against Central Florida, and tonight they they got their chance," Boyle stated. "I thought they played really well, especially in the second half. We've got 11 guys I feel really comfortable with in that rotation, and it's hard to play all 11 every night, but those two kids showed great character tonight, with with being resilient and being ready when their number was called."

Dishon Jackson led the Cyclones with 13 points on 3 for 4 shooting along with three rebounds.

Early shooting struggles for the Buffs in the first half (11% 3FG) were the x-factor in this one, allowing Iowa State to start the game with a pair of 10-0 runs after CU managed to put up just five points in between those stretches.

The Cyclones' entire eight-man rotation logged at least one bucket in the first 20 minutes of play, en route to outscoring the Buffs 45-28.

Colorado had committed the same amount of turnovers as Iowa State (14), but it was the Cyclones who capitalized, earning 18 points off turnovers in comparison to CU's 10 points.

The Buffs shot 59% (13-22) from the free-throw line on the night, their second-lowest shooting percentage of the season.

HOW IT HAPPENED: Dak scored the first points of the game via a free throw line after getting fouled on the way up to the rim. The Cyclones would score the next seven points to go up 7-2 at the first media break with 15:58 remaining in the half. An Iowa State 3-pointer out of the break made it a 10-0 run.

Julian Hammond III nailed a deep 3-pointer of his own to bring the CU deficit to five, but the Buffs got themselves in foul trouble early on. ISU entered the bonus with 12 minutes left in the first half, which led to their second 10-0 run of the game, putting them up 20-5.

The Cyclones ended the half shooting 6 for 11 (55%) from beyond the arc, putting up 45 points of offense. The Buffs got a Hammond floater to hit for their final basket of the first half, putting up 28 as a team.

Both teams went to the free-throw line multiple times early on in the half, but the Cyclones built their lead to 20 over the Buffs after a Nate Heise 3-pointer with 13:10 remaining in the contest. Colorado responded with a Dak three and Harrison Carrington bucket down low.

Iowa State gained a 24-point advantage over the Buffs at the 10-minute mark thanks to a Joshua Jefferson shot from deep. Dak would go on to capture a career-high in points, but it wouldn't be enough for Colorado to catch up to Iowa State.

BOULDER – In front of a packed house inside the CU Events Center Monday night, Colorado kept it close with Kansas throughout the game but could not pull off the win in the final minutes, as the Jayhawks held on to a 71-64 victory over the Buffaloes.

The Buffs fall to 11-17 overall on the season and 2-15 in Big 12 play. Kansas improves to 19-9 overall and 10-7 in conference play.

“Our guys battled tonight,” head coach Tad Boyle said. “There’s no doubt about it. You don’t out rebound KU by 15 if you don’t come to battle. And that was one of the keys of the game...our guys battled, and they played hard, and I don’t fault our effort. I don’t fault our toughness. We just have to be more consistent in various parts of the game, not just one on any given night.”

Bangot Dak led the Buffs on the offensive side of the ball tonight, putting up 16 points on 7 for 10 shooting along with five rebounds. Dak was a force in the paint, slamming it home four separate times.

Julian Hammond III chipped in 11 points while shooting 2 for 5 from beyond the arc. He also led the Buffs on the night with three assists.

Hunter Dickinson led the Jayhawks with a season high 32 points and 13 rebounds on 13 for 18 shooting from the floor.

Neither team could find their footing shooting from deep in this one, which led to a plethora of points scored in the paint. Combined, the two teams scored 74 points down low (38 KU; 36 CU).

Colorado shot 26-68 (38%) as a unit on the court, while Kansas shot 26-53 (49%) overall from the floor.

Despite the loss, Colorado outrebounded Kansas 46-31 overall, along with 18 offensive boards to Kansas’ five offensive rebounds.

The Buffs also had more second-chance points (16-1) and bench points (20-6) than the Jayhawks.

HOW IT HAPPENED: Dickinson claimed the first bucket of the game for Kansas, while Dak answered for the Buffs on the other end. After four KU points, Dak scored the Buffs’ second bucket of the contest. An 8-0 run in the next 1:54 of game play by the Jayhawks put them up 14-4 with 15:51 left in the first half.

Colorado cut the deficit back to seven with just under 11 minutes to go, but a deep 3-pointer from David Coit made it a 26-16 KU advantage with 9:19 left in the period. Back-to-back Dak dunks for CU forced a Kansas timeout at 8:40 with the Jayhawks still holding the lead, 26-20.

The second Andrej Jakimovski three of the game cut the Jayhawks’ lead to four, 32-28, with 2:14 left in the half. A Javon Ruffin layup as time expired in the first half made it a 37-32 game headed into the break.

Sebastian Rancik registered the first basket of the second half to bring the Buffs within three points. Hammond tied the game at 37 at the 16:41 mark with a nifty euro-step move while getting fouled in the process, converting the following free throw. Hammond gave CU its first lead of the game, 39-38, the next possession with another score down low. Kansas responded with a quick score before heading into the media timeout at 15:06, retaking the lead 40-39.

Buffs’ Felix Kossaras knotted the game up at 43 with 12:45 on a tough driving layup that was goaltended. A three-minute scoring drought for the Buffs put Kansas up 51-46 with under 10 minutes left, until a deep 3-pointer from Hammond made it a one-possession game once again.

Both squads continued to trade buckets down low with KU clinging on to a 59-55 lead with five minutes to go. A stellar Dak put-back dunk at the rim made it a one-score game. The Jayhawks went to the line for three free throws the next possession, sinking all three, building the lead back up to five. A Hammond corner three was the response from CU, continuing to keep it close down the stretch.

A 5-0 run from Kansas under four minutes had the Buffs trailing 67-60 with just over a minute of game action left. Another Dickinson bucket for KU put the game out of reach for the Buffs, as they would fall by a score of 71-64.
