career double-figure scoring game and second time as CU's leading scorer. Holland also led the way on the boards with six rebounds.

Classmate Josiah Sanders had career highs with 14 points, eight free throws made and nine free throw attempts. After one game, he's nearly a third of the way to his free throws made output in 33 games a year ago when he made 27 of 52.

Ian Inman, making his second career start, scored nine points, dished out three assists and tallied his first collegiate blocked shot.

Fifth-year guard Barrington Hargress had 11 points, hitting 3 of 5 from downtown. The Big 12's best assist-to-turnover player from last season, he continued that trend with four assists against just one turnover. The output marked his 20th game, out of 34 played, with no more than one turnover.

Fifth-year post Noah Feddersen had 10 points, five rebounds and a blocked shot as the 2025-26 Summit League Sixth Man of the Year, made his debut for Colorado and played in his 100th overall career game. Feddersen passed the 500-rebound plateau vs. Abilene Christian (501) and is 163 points away from 1,000 in his career.

Fellow graduate transfer Justin Neely had 14 points, hitting 6 of 8 from the field against Abilene Christian. The nation's second-best rebounder a year ago, he grabbed five in his CU debut; he was one of five Buffs to record at least five rebounds as Colorado handled the Wildcats on the boards by 15 (39-24).

First-year guard Alex Dickeson had nine points, five rebounds and a team-best six assists in his collegiate debut.

DEBUTS: Nine players saw their first action in a Colorado uniform in the season opener, with six playing in their first overall collegiate games. The six college firsts were Alex Dickeson, Goc Malual, Amir Jones, Rider Portela, Eric Jacobsen, Chase Hill. Noah Feddersen, Justin Neely and David Gomez were are the college transfers that played their first game in a CU uniform.

ABOUT THE AZTECS: San Diego State opened its season on Nov. 3 with a 102-78 win over Cal State Fullerton at Steve Fisher Court at Viejas Arena.

Guard Latrell Davis scored a game-high 25 points, hitting 8 of 13 from the field, including 5 of 8 from 3-point range. Forward Tae Simmons recorded a double-double with 14 points and 11 rebounds. Forward Jeremiah Cherry had 15 points, seven rebounds and four blocked shots.

San Diego State is in its first season in the refreshed Pac-12 Conference, joining several other schools from the Mountain West Conference. The Aztecs were 22-11 in 2025-26, finishing second in their last season in the MWC with a 14-6 record.

San Diego State was picked to finish third in the Pac-12 Preseason Media Poll behind only Gonzaga and Utah State.

THE SERIES: This will be the seventh meeting between Colorado and San Diego State and the first in 50 years, with the series tied at three games apiece. The programs last met on Jan. 5, 1976, as the Aztecs defeated Colorado 78-72 in San Diego. All six games came in a five-year span in the 1970s, Colorado's last win was an 85-84 decision in Boulder on Dec. 19, 1974. This will be the first neutral site meeting.

NATIONAL UNIVERSITY BILL WALTON CLASSIC: Colorado and San Diego State are set to meet in the inaugural National University Bill Walton Classic. The Buffs and Aztecs are game one of a double-header with a women's basketball game between San Diego and UC San Diego to follow.

A college and NBA basketball legend, Bill Walton was a Southern California original, laid-back yet larger-than-life. A devoted fan of the Grateful Dead known as the "World's Tallest Deadhead."

The Bill Walton Classic was built for his hometown San Diego, with the purpose of uniting the community, lifting up local programs and honoring a local legend; a tribute to Walton and his lasting impact on San Diego Basketball.

OPENERS: Colorado improved to 89-35 (.718) in all-time season openers and has won its last 11. The Buffaloes are 15-2 under head coach Tad Boyle and 42-5 in overall season openers since 1980-81.

The Buffaloes moved to 100-24 (.806) all-time in home openers, have won their last 19 and 25 of their last 26. Boyle's teams are 17-0 in home openers.

NONCONFERENCE NUMBERS: Colorado is 147-44 (.770) in nonconference regular season games under head coach Tad Boyle including a 100-27 mark (.787) since the beginning of the 2014-15 season.

Colorado is 113-9 (.926) in nonconference home games under Boyle, a record which includes a 7-2 mark in postseason action.

RIGHT AT HOME: At the CU Events Center, the Buffaloes have won:

- 15 of their last 20 (15-5)
- 28 of 40 (28-12)
- 41 of 54 (41-13)
- 54 of 72 (54-19)
- 77 of 104 (77-27)
- 90 of 118 (90-28)
- 105 of 135 (105-30)
- 117 of 150 (117-33)

In the Tad Boyle era, Colorado is 218-52 at home (.807). The Buffaloes are 531-203 (.723) all-time at the CUEC. The Buffaloes have won at least 10 games at home each of the last 17 seasons.

MILE HIGH HOOPS EXHIBITION RECAP: Colorado defeated North Texas 67-64 in an exhibition game on Oct. 18.

In a physical battle that resulted in 50 total free-throw attempts, the Buffs clung to a three-point lead with 10 seconds to go, but UNT missed a pair of threes as time expired and CU secured the hard-fought win.

The duel gave fans a glimpse of what to expect from Buffs hoops this season, with new additions such as guard Alex Dickeson, a freshman from Adelaide, Australia, who finished with a team-high 15 points, while Justin Neely led the squad in assists and rebounds, with six and nine, respectively.

CU also showed grit on the defensive side, recording seven total blocks, with center Noah Feddersen responsible for three.

Branded the Mile High Hoops Classic, the game was played at the Auraria Event Center on the Metropolitan State University of Denver Campus. The Mile High Hoops Classic was designed to bring the Colorado men's basketball program closer to the Denver community, and the free exhibition will give Mile High City fans a chance to see the Buffaloes in their own backyard.

Colorado Athletics partnered with youth sports organizations in Denver to enable 300 kids to attend the game.

"This was a great test for us this year," Head Coach Tad Boyle said. "On Oct. 18, to play a team like North Texas, with veteran guards, a tough-minded coach and system, and it was a physical game, obviously. Our guys answered the bell down the stretch. These are all about learning opportunities for our team."

"We always expect people from Denver to come to Boulder to support us, and this is really a step in the right direction of taking our program to Denver. I want the Denver community to get to know our team. It was great having the Denver people who didn't have to drive to Boulder. Before we left the gym, there were still a bunch of kids getting autographs from our players that maybe don't get a chance to come up to Boulder for a game. It's a great venue."

BOYLE MILESTONES: Head coach Tad Boyle, in his 17th season, is the winningest men's basketball head coach in program history with a career record of 330-220.

Boyle-led teams own 10 of the 14 20-win seasons in team history, the top five single-season win totals and seven of the top eight. He owns the second-best winning percentage in team history with at least four seasons coached at .600, trailing Forrest "Frosty" Cox who was 147-89 (.623) from 1936-50.

During Colorado's 13-year stint in the Pac-12 Conference, Boyle won 131 regular season league games, tying with Ernie Kent (Oregon 1998-2010 & Washington State 2014-19) for 17th in conference history.

Boyle owns the most wins at a state of Colorado NCAA Division I institution. He is 386-286 (.574) in his 21st year between Colorado and Northern Colorado (four seasons, 2006-10). Boyle is currently fifth in career wins for a head coach at any Colorado four-year school.

GOLD STANDARD: Colorado is 99-6 in the Tad Boyle era when meeting the program's "Gold Standard" of holding an opponent to 40 percent or less from the field and having a plus-8 rebounding edge. The Buffaloes met that mark in the season-opener vs. Abilene Christian holding the Wildcats to 38.6 percent from the field while enjoying an 15-rebound advantage (39-24).

PRESEASON POLLS: Colorado was picked to finish tied for 14th in the annual Big 12 Preseason Coaches Poll and 15th in the league's Media Preseason Poll. The Buffaloes were tied with Kansas State with 34 points in the Coaches Poll. Utah took the bottom spot in both polls.

Arizona was the consensus favorite to repeat its Big 12 title. Both polls had the same teams in the top five with each slotting Houston in second and Kansas in third. The Coaches Poll had Iowa State fourth and Texas Tech in fifth while the Media Poll had those two spots switched with the Red Raiders in fourth and the Cyclones in fifth.

WHITE JOINS STAFF: Former Colorado Buffaloes star and current Boston Celtics guard, Derrick White was named the men's basketball program's first "President of Basketball Strategy," on June 24. White has also agreed to donate $2 million to the men's basketball program.

As President of Basketball Strategy, White will join coach Boyle's staff in helping to lead, mentor, and inspire future Buffaloes. The first person to hold his role in CU history, his specific duties will include offering advice and counsel with respect to NIL, revenue sharing, roster construction, athlete development, and team culture, using his experience from being a part of two of the most successful organizations in sports, the San Antonio Spurs and the Celtics. White will also serve as program ambassador, assist with donor relations, help cultivate new revenue opportunities, and serve as an advisor to the Director of Athletics.

A native of Parker, Colo., White attended the University of Colorado-Colorado Springs before joining the Buffaloes in 2015-16 for his senior season. After an NCAA-mandated redshirt year for transferring (a rule that no longer exists), White had a tremendous 2016-17 season, leading the team in points (615), points per game (18.1), assists (118), steals (42), minutes (1,116), and three-pointers (57). His 49 blocks that year are the CU record for most blocks in a season by a guard.

White was named to the All-Pac-12 Conference First Team, Pac-12 All-Defensive and All-Tournament Teams before being selected by the San Antonio Spurs in the first round of the 2017 NBA Draft with the 29th overall pick.

White is in his 10th NBA season and sixth with the Celtics, with whom he won an NBA Championship in 2024. That same year, White earned a Gold Medal as part of the United States Olympic Basketball Team in Paris, becoming one of just eight players all-time to win an NBA title and an Olympic Gold in the same year.

Throughout his NBA career, White has averaged 13.4 points per game and 13.1 points per game in the playoffs. He is a three-time NBA All-Defensive Team pick (one first team, two second team) and twice has finished in the top 10 voting for NBA Defensive Player of the Year.

2025-26 REVIEW: Colorado was 17-16 overall, finishing the Big 12 Conference season in a tie for 11th place with a 7-11 league record. The Buffaloes were invited back to the College Basketball Crown for the second-straight season, dropping a 90-86 overtime decision to Oklahoma in the quarterfinals.

2026-27 Opponents in Bold

Colorado finished above .500 for the 14th time in 16 seasons under head coach Tad Boyle. The Buffaloes improved five spots from their 2024-25 Big 12 finish, more than doubling their conference win total.

Colorado advanced to postseason play past the conference tournament level for the 14th time in 15 opportunities under Boyle (no postseason in 2020 due to the pandemic). During that time, Colorado has played in six NCAA Tournaments, five NIT events, and one CBI, as well as its back-to-back College Basketball Crown appearances.

BIG 12 POSTSEASON FACTS: Colorado dropped to 11-17 all-time in the Big 12 Championship after falling to Oklahoma State, 92-83 on March 10. It was just the second time in 16 seasons under Tad Boyle in which the Buffaloes didn't win at least one conference tournament game.

Colorado is 34-49 all-time in conference postseason tournaments. The Buffaloes were 4-20 in the Big Eight Tournament between 1977-96. Colorado had a very successful run in 13 Pac-12 Tournament appearances going 19-12 with three championship game appearances and winning it all in 2012.

Head coach Tad Boyle owns two-thirds of Colorado's all-time conference tournament wins. He is 23-15 in conference tournament action, which includes 4-3 mark in three Big 12 Tournament appearances.

HARGRESS SEASON MARKS: Guard Barrington Hargress set two Colorado single-season records in 2025-26. He smashed the Buffaloes assist-to-turnover ratio record finishing at 3.6, which also led the Big 12 and ranked 10th in the nation. His 148 assists against just 41 turnovers was well ahead of Colorado's 43-year old standard of 2.8 set by Billy Houston during the 1982-83 season (104a-37to).

Hargress shot 48.1 percent from 3-point range, setting another Colorado single-season record. He made 52 of 108 attempts, passing Levi Knutson's standard of 47.4 percent (81-171) set in 2010-11.

Hargress ended his junior campaign with 148 assists, tying Derrick White for 13th on Colorado's single-season chart.

PROTECTING THE ROCK: Colorado's 10.4 turnovers allowed per game ranked third in the Big 12. The Buffaloes recorded single digits in turnovers 14 times this season. Colorado has a long-standing single-game team goal of allowing 11 turnovers or fewer, a mark hit in 24 of 33 games. In contrast, the 2024-25 team only achieved that feat seven times in 35 games and only once recorded single digits (8 at Kansas, Feb. 24, 2025).

The Buffaloes had a record season in the turnover column allowing only 342. The previous mark for fewest turnovers was 346 in 1979-80, which was a 27-game season (12.8 topg).

On a per-game basis, Colorado's previous best season came in 2015-16 where it's NCAA Tournament team had 375 turnovers during a 34-game season (11.0 topg) making the 2025-26 team the first sub-11 turnover per game team since the statistic started to be tracked full time in 1977-78.

Colorado committed just three turnovers against Kansas, setting a team record for fewest turnovers in a conference game. The previous mark was four, done twice, against Utah on Feb. 24, 2024 and against Iowa State on Jan. 30, 2010. It was the second-fewest in team history, trailing only the two given up at San Jose State on Dec. 19, 1978.

Colorado surrendered just seven turnovers in the win at Utah. In the last 30 seasons (since 1996-97), the Buffaloes have had seven or fewer turnovers in a road conference games a total of 14 times. Three of those have come this season: at Utah, at BYU (7) and at West Virginia (6).

SAME ON THE ASSIST-TO-TURNOVER FRONT: Colorado's season assist-to-turnover ratio of 1.49 is the best since 1977-78 when both statistics began to be tracked full time. The Buffaloes' previous best came 43 years ago, when the 1982-83 squad had a 1.38 mark (531a-383to) in a 28-game season. The 2023-24 NCAA Tournament team, which dished out a school-record 600 dimes, had a 1.28 assist-to-turnover ratio (467 to).

AGAINST RANKED OPPONENTS: Colorado was 0-7 against ranked opponents in 2025-26.

Colorado's 28 wins over ranked Associated Press ranked opponents in the Tad Boyle era is by far the best in team history. In fact Boyle coached teams, with a record of 28-63, have accounted for 39 percent of wins over ranked opponents (72) since 1949-50.

WALL OF HONOR: The Wall of Honor display at the CU Events Center honors a select group who's on the court achievements have expanded well beyond their days in Boulder.

The Men's Basketball Wall of Honor celebrates those former Buffaloes that have achieved at least five years of service in the NBA or competed on the world stage as an Olympic Gold Medalist. The initial 10 legends to be honored are:

- Chauncey Billups (1995-97)
- Alec Burks (2009-11)
- Jim Davis (1961-64)
- Spencer Dinwiddie (2011-14)
- Burdette "Burdie" Haldorson (1951-55)
- Jay Humphries (1980-84)
- Cliff Meely (1968-71)
- Andre Roberson (2010-13)
- Scott Wedman (1971-74)
- Derrick White (2016-17)

The honorees will have their Colorado jersey displayed high above the concourse on the northwest corner of the CU Events Center. Wall of Honor members will be recognized in person with their jerseys officially unveiled at future games.

COLORADO TO THE NBA: Colorado had four players listed on NBA rosters to begin the 2026-27 season, tied with Iowa State for the fifth most of any Big 12 school, trailing only Arizona (16), Kansas (10), Baylor (9) and Houston (8). A total of 71 players from Big 12 schools were on 2026-27 NBA opening day rosters.

Tristan da Silva, Orlando Magic
Jabari Walker, Philadelphia 76ers
Derrick White, Boston Celtics
Cody Williams, Minnesota Timberwolves

In addition former Buff Jamahl Mosley is in his first season as head coach of the New Orleans Pelicans after five seasons in Orlando. Austin Dufault is in his first season as an assistant coach/vice president of player development for the Denver Nuggets.

- Advanced to the conference tournament finals three times (2024, 2021, 2012) and semifinals seven times (Pac-12: 2024, 2022, 2021, 2019, 2014 & 2012; Big 12: 2011).

- Owns 23 of Colorado's 34 all-time conference tournament coaching wins.

Tad Boyle is in his 17th year as the head coach of the University of Colorado men's basketball program, entering the 2026-27 campaign with a record of 330-220 (.600). He is Colorado's all-time leader in men's basketball coaching wins and is second in win percentage.

Entering his 21st overall season as a collegiate head coach, Boyle has won 58 percent of his games with a record of 386-286.

Boyle owns 10 of Colorado's 14 all-time seasons of 20-plus wins and all six of the Buffaloes' top single-season win totals including a program record 26 in 2023-24. He has guided Colorado to 14 postseason appearances in 15 possible seasons; with no postseason in 2020 due to covid.

Six times, Boyle has led the Buffaloes to the NCAA Tournament, and a seventh was surely in the mix had it not been for the cancelation of the 2020 postseason. In 2024, Colorado advanced past Boise State (First Four) and Florida (First Round), winning multiple games in an NCAA Tournament for just the second time (1955) in program history.

Boyle owns more than half of Colorado's all-time conference tournament wins, with a 23-15 mark in that span (19-11 in the Pac-12, 4-3 in the Big 12). He has led the Buffaloes to three conference tournament championship games and seven semifinals, highlighted by a memorable run of four wins in four days to claim the 2012 Pac-12 Tournament championship.

Twelve former Buffaloes coached by Boyle have made NBA rosters during his time in Boulder. Ten have been selected in the NBA Draft, including a historic 2024 season that saw three Buffaloes selected in the first two rounds, and two in the first round, for the first time in program history.

Colorado has had at least one player taken in eight of the last 16 NBA Drafts — including five first rounders — in Boyle's tenure. The three picks in 2024 were also tied with Kentucky for the second-most from any school. Connecticut led all schools with four.

Twenty-seven former Buffaloes that played in Boyle's program have gone on to professional careers overseas.

The 18th head coach in school history, Boyle has also represented the Buffaloes on a national, and world, stage. Boyle served has head coach of the 2023 USA Basketball Men's U19 World Cup Team and the 2022 FIBA U18 Americas Men's Championship team, winning the Gold Medal in the latter.

Boyle is in his 33rd season coaching at the NCAA Division I level. Prior to his arrival at Colorado, he was the head coach at Northern Colorado for four seasons (2006-10). His coaching experience includes Wichita State (assistant coach, 2000-06), Jacksonville State (assistant coach, 1998-200), Tennessee (director of operations, 1997-98) and Oregon (assistant coach, 1994-97).

BOULDER – The Colorado Buffaloes basketball team powered through the Abilene Christian Wildcats in their season opener at the CU Events Center on Monday night, winning 94-59.

After a hard-fought first half, which saw the Buffs head into the tunnel with a narrow 36-34 lead, Colorado dominated the second period, outscoring ACU 58-25 on its way to securing a 1-0 record.

"I asked our players in the locker room after the game what the difference they thought was defensively, first half, second half, and the bottom line is they said we imposed our will," Head Coach Tad Boyle said. "We were disruptive defensively in the second half."

The Buffs' second-half charge was led by sophomore guard Jalin Holland, who scored 12 points in the period. He finished the game with a career-high 18 points while also leading the team in rebounds with six.

"Jalin Holland was really efficient and aggressive, especially after picking up two fouls early," Boyle said.

Besides Holland, four other Buffaloes put up double-digit scoring figures: sophomore guard Josiah Sanders added 14 points; sixth-year forward Justin Neely also had 14; fifth-year guard Barrington Hargress chipped in 11; and fifth-year center Noah Feddersen started his CU career with 10.

Feddersen, who transferred to Colorado from North Dakota State, made two highlight-reel dunks off alley-oops from freshman guard Alex Dickeson, from Adelaide, Australia, as the new faces came out ready to make an impact.

Colorado was dominant on both ends of the court in the second half, shooting 75.9% from the floor while holding the Wildcats to just 31.3% from the floor. The Buffs also were excellent on the glass, out-rebounding ACU 39-24 on the night.

HOW IT HAPPENED: At the start, both teams attacked the rim, with Feddersen dominating the paint, scoring four points and recording one rebound in the first five minutes. The Buffaloes held a thin 10-9 lead at the first media timeout.

With 13 minutes left in the half, freshman Goc Malual, one of Colorado's new additions from Australia, made a highlight-reel leaping block on Abilene Christian guard Evan Boisdur. Hargress got the rebound and passed it to Dickeson, who sank the fast-break three. Hargress then hit a three of his own, capping the Buffs' 8-0 run and forcing ACU to call its first timeout, with CU leading 18-9.

Colorado kept the pressure up offensively, with Dickeson finding Feddersen for a sensational alley-oop which electrified the crowd before the second media timeout and extended CU lead to 10 at 28-18.

Sophomore guard Ian Inman got into the action with four minutes to go in the opening period, hitting a three-point shot to maintain the home team's 10-point cushion at 31-21.

ACU went on an offensive run late in the first, grabbing its first lead of the game on a fast-break layup by forward Willan Marie-Anais. With seven seconds left in the period, Hargress hit an off-balance three-point buzzer-beater as CU seized the lead right back, 36-34.

At halftime, Hargress led the Buffaloes with eight points. Colorado shot 45% from the field, while Abilene Christian shot 48%. The Buffs dominated the paint, recording 20 total rebounds, while the Wildcats managed only 10. CU's nine turnovers kept the Wildcats in the game through the first stanza, leading to nine ACU points.

Colorado's offense recovered its rhythm to start the second half. Baskets by Sanders, Hargress, and Holland extended the Buffs' lead to 47-37 in the first five minutes.

The offensive outburst continued after the first media timeout, with Holland hitting a corner three and Hargress connecting with Neely on a layup off a full-court assist to give the Buffaloes a 15-point lead, their largest of the game.

After that, Holland hit his third three of the contest, and Neely followed with his first. Colorado's three-point storm put the home team up 63-45 with 11 minutes remaining.

CU also impressed in the paint, with Dickeson again finding Feddersen on a fast-break alley-oop and hitting a hook shot near the basket right after, extending the Buff lead to 72-47 with eight minutes left.

Colorado kept scoring in nearly every opportunity at the basket. Dickeson scored four straight points for the Buffs, off a driving layup and two made free throws, while Inman swished his first three of the game, extending the Buff lead to a comfortable 86-55, with three minutes left.

CU kept pulling away in the waning minutes and sealed the 94-59 win, the Buffs' 11th straight season-opening victory. Under Boyle, the Buffaloes are now 15-2 in season openers and 42-5 since 1980-81.
