BIG GREEN GAME NOTES

THIS WEEKEND

Dartmouth women's basketball will end its three-game home stretch this weekend when it hosts Yale and Brown. The Big Green and the Bulldogs will be meeting for the second time in 10 days, while the Bears are the last of the Ivy League opponents Dartmouth has yet to meet this season.

LAST TIME OUT

On Saturday, the Green fell to Columbia at Leede Arena, 65-46.

- Mekkena Boyd and Carrington Washburn both ended the game with eight points, while Doreen Ariik collected eight rebounds and two blocks.

- Trailing by 10 after the first quarter, Dartmouth came out fighting in the second, going on a 10-2 run in the first three minutes and ending the half down by just six (32-26).

- Coming back from the break, the Lions ran away with the game, scoring nine points while allowing just two from the Big Green over the first two minutes.

- Dartmouth started the fourth with a 5-0 boost thanks to a jumper by Jimena Abejon and Emma Koch's second trey of the afternoon. The Big Green found some momentum, outscoring the visitors in the final 10 minutes, 10-6.

SCOUTING THE BULLDOGS

Since last meeting in New Haven, Yale played just one game against Princeton, losing by a score of 61-49 and snapping its five-game winning streak that went back to Jan. 8. The Bulldogs and the Tigers kept it really close though and were knotted at 36 heading to the final quarter. That was where Princeton turned it on though, outscoring Yale 25-9 in the final seven minutes to pull out the win.

Even with the loss, the Bulldogs are still looking good in the Ivy League standings as they sit in third place.

ALL-TIME VERSUS YALE

In a series that goes back to 1974, it is the Green that leads with a 54-34 record. The Bulldogs hold a slight 23-21 record since 2000, and a bigger 20-4 mark since 2010.

The game between these two teams at the end of January was pretty close and one of Dartmouth's most competitive of the conference season, considering the Bulldogs had beat the Quakers the day before.

SCOUTING THE BEARS

Brown has struggled during conference play and enters the weekend with an 0-6 record, much like Dartmouth. The Bears were on a two-game winning streak back in December, but once Ivy action began, it has been L's ever since. There have been some close games, though. On Jan. 17, Brown fell by just two points to Yale (L, 69-67). The Bears lost to Columbia by eight on Jan. 22 (L, 60-52) and, a week later, dropped their game to Cornell by six (61-55).

ALL-TIME VERSUS BROWN

In 89 games dating back to 1978, Dartmouth leads the all-time series, 60-29. Since 2000, the Big Green have held a 29-14 advantage.

LEADING THE WAY

The underclassmen continue to shine, as demonstrated by the fact that the top five scorers are all in their first seasons of competition. Mia Curtis remains ahead of the pack with 136 points. The sophomore has seen the most playing time with 438 minutes and has started all but two of the 18 games the team has played. Boyd and Washburn remain tied with 107 points.

Ariik leads with 86 rebounds, while Washburn isn't far behind with 76. Boyd has a team-leading 31 assists and 21 steals.

WHAT'S NEXT?

After two weeks at home, the Big Green will head out for just one game. Having just faced the Bears, Dartmouth and Brown will meet again three days later, this time in Providence, on Tuesday, Feb. 8, in a game rescheduled from Jan. 8.

Hanover, N.H.

Adrienne Shibles, just the fifth Big Green head coach in the program's 48-year varsity history, came to New Hampshire in May of 2021 from Bowdoin College.

Since taking over the Bowdoin program prior to the 2008-09 season, she led the squad to a record of 281-67 (.807) and qualified for the NCAA Tournament 11 times, reaching the Sweet Sixteen eight times (including five of the last six seasons) and the Final Four twice.

Shibles was named the Coach of the Year in the state of Maine four times, in the region three times, by the NESCAC twice and once by the Women's Basketball Coaches Association for all of Division III. In 2019, she also served as a coach for the Team USA U16 squad, and in March was pegged to be that squad's head coach in the summer of 2021.

During the 2018-19 campaign, Shibles became the winningest coach in Bowdoin women's basketball history. After guiding the team to its second-straight NCAA Championship Game appearance to conclude that season, she was named the WBCA Division III Coach of the Year.

Bowdoin had a record of 27-2, won the NESCAC Championship and had hosting rights for an NCAA Division III Sectional when the remainder of the 2019-20 season was canceled due to COVID-19.

Shibles' players have enjoyed numerous accolades with two national players of the year, six All-Americans, 13 all-region performers and 23 All-NESCAC honors — 14 on the first team — during her tenure. She also had the conference Player of the Year three times, Defensive Player of the Year four times and Rookie of the Year on two other occasions.

Prior to taking over at the helm of the Bowdoin program, Shibles was the Dean of Athletics and co-curricular programs at Gould Academy in Bethel, Maine for three years. The athletic program she oversaw at the selective college preparatory school was comprised of 40 teams, including nationally competitive squads.

Shibles took over at Gould after spending nine years as the head women's basketball coach and associate professor of physical education at Swarthmore (1996-2005). She inherited a program at the bottom of the Centennial Conference and built it into a conference champion in five years, guiding the squad to the second round of the NCAA Tournament while being named the WBCA District 4 Coach of the Year. Shibles coached a pair of league Players of the Year and two Kodak All-Americans, then finished her stint with the most career wins in Garnet history, posting a record of 138-96 (.590).

Shibles graduated from Bates in 1991 with a degree in history and American studies. A two-time captain of the Bobcats women's basketball team, she scored over 1,000 points in her career. Shibles went on to get her master's in exercise and sports studies from Smith in 1996, serving as a graduate assistant coach for both the Smith soccer team and the Elms College basketball program.

COACHING STAFF

Asst. Coach Megan Phelps
Bowdoin '15

Megan Phelps was named an assistant coach in May of 2021. Like Shibles, Phelps is coming from Bowdoin, where she served as an assistant since the 2017-18 season. The Polar Bears went 87-7 over the following three seasons, making two trips to the NCAA Championship. Phelps served as interim head coach for the fall semester of 2020 and was responsible for overseeing all aspects of the program.

Before arriving in Maine, Phelps was an assistant coach at Regis in Weston, Massachusetts, from 2015-17. The Pride had a 46-11 record over two campaigns, including two conference championships. Phelps graduated from Bowdoin in 2015 with a degree in government and legal studies. In 2019, she was named a WBCA 30 Under 30 recipient. She completed her master's in communications at Regis in 2017.

Asst. Coach Sarah Assante
St. Joseph's '15

Sarah Assante was hired as an assistant coach in June of 2021. Assante spent two years as an assistant coach at Washington and Lee University, where she helped coach the Generals to an 18-8 overall record in 2019-20 and a 15-3 mark in the ODAC, earning the team the No. 2 seed for the conference championship. That season also included a program-record 10-game winning streak as the team won all but one of its 14 games that ended the regular season. Before that, Assante was an assistant at Regis for the 2017-18 and 2018-19 seasons, while also serving as the assistant strength and conditioning coach during her second year. A 2015 graduate of Saint Joseph's, Assante was a four-year member of the basketball team and served as captain for her final two seasons. She graduated with a degree in business administration and accounting before getting her master's in organizational and professional communication from Regis in 2019.

Asst. Coach Meredith Mesaris
Scranton '15

Meredith Mesaris was named a volunteer assistant coach in June of 2021.

She arrives in Hanover after spending five seasons as an assistant coach at Williams (2016-21). While there, she helped the Ephs to a 58-45 record, seeing the team make it to the NESCAC quarterfinals three times before advancing all the way to the NCAA Division III Sweet Sixteen in 2019-20. Before Williams, Mesaris was the assistant coach at Hendrix College in Conway, Arkansas, contributing to the Warriors 19-7 overall record and third-place finish in the Southern Athletic Association. She helped coach both SAA Player of the Year Sara Dylsin and Women's Basketball Coaches Association All-America Honorable Mention Caitlin Kriesel-Bigler. A two-time WBCA All-American and 2015 CoSIDA Academic All-American herself, Mesaris was the leading scorer for the Scranton Lady Royals all three seasons she played there. She graduated magna cum laude in 2015 with a degree in management and a minor in coaching.
