The header features the 'DENVER HOCKEY' logo and navigation links for Men's Sports, Women's Sports, Schedules, Blogs, Tickets, Pioneer Store, Pioneer Spirit, Inside Athletics, and Multimedia. A main article highlights 'DU Hockey Individual Game Tickets on Sale Saturday, Sept. 6'. Other sections include 'COACHES CORNER' with George Gwozdecky as Head Coach, 'FACILITIES' featuring Hagness Arena, and a 'MORE HEADLINES' section with recent news items. A 'RECRUITING' section and a 'MEDIA' section with a '2007-08 DU Hockey Media Guide' are also visible.

www.DenverPioneers.com

DenverPioneers.com is the official athletic site of the seven-time University of Denver hockey program. The site features Pioneer Vision, an exclusive video player that offers live video and audio events, interviews and highlights on a subscription basis. DenverPioneers.com also features the Pioneers Team Shop, news, real-time statistics, schedules, scores, photo galleries and ticket information.

Pioneer Radio

The 2008-09 season marks the second year DU hockey will be broadcast on the Mile High Sports Radio Network. KLZ 560 AM will serve as the flagship station for the Pioneers throughout the season, while KCKK 1510 AM and KRKS 990 AM will carry several games each. The Mile High Sports Radio Network features University of Colorado graduate Jay Stickney, who returns for his ninth season calling all the exciting on-ice, play-by-play action. Providing game analysis in the booth for the fourth consecutive season will be former Pioneer alternate captain Nick Larson, who helped DU to back-to-back NCAA National Championships in 2004 and 2005.

ERICH BACHER

Director of Media
Relations
UWSP '92
7th Season

Erich Bacher is in his fourth year as Director of Media Relations and seventh year at the University of Denver. He manages the overall operation of Denver's 17-sport NCAA Division I media relations department and handles all media relations responsibilities for the seven-time NCAA National Champion Pioneer hockey program and nationally-ranked men and women's tennis teams.

The Stevens Point, Wis., native arrived in Denver after a two-year stint as a Venue Press Services Supervisor with the Salt Lake Organizing Committee (SLOC) for the Olympic Winter Games of 2002. Bacher handled all of the facilities and services for over 3,000 written and photographic press at five ice venues and served as the Venue Press Chief for men and women's ice hockey. Prior to his Olympic experience, Bacher was an Assistant to the Associate Director of Athletics at the University of Illinois. He was promoted to the position after working two years in the Illinois sports information office.

Bacher interned at the University of Minnesota media relations office from 1996-97. He was the main contact for baseball, wrestling, men's track and field and cross country. Bacher has worked many NCAA tournaments, international sporting events and was a press officer for the National Hockey League at the 2004 World Cup of Hockey in Helsinki, Finland and Cologne, Germany. Bacher was also a press officer for Team USA at the 1996 Paralympic Games.

He earned a bachelor of science degree in organizational communication from the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point (UWSP) in 1992 and a sports management master's degree from St. Cloud State University in 1996. Bacher is a member of the College Sports Information Director's of America (CoSIDA), Metro Denver Sports Commission and National Sports Marketing Network. He serves on the UWSP Alumni Board of Directors.

Bacher is engaged to Carley Pavelka.

Pioneer Television

The 2008-09 season marks the 15th year DU hockey will be televised on FSN Rocky Mountain. Dan Kelly returns to the Denver broadcast booth this season after being the voice of the Pioneers in 2004. Kelly is joined by former Pioneer Charlie Host, who begins his fourth season on the telecast team as game analyst. Kelly spent the last two years as the play-by-play announcer for the the NHL's Chicago Blackhawks on Comcast Sports Net Chicago after serving as the radio announcer for the St. Louis Blues from 1997-2000 and the television play-by-play announcer for the NHL's Columbus Blue Jackets from 2000-04. Kelly's family is well established in the NHL broadcasting world as his father, the late Dan Kelly, Sr., was the legendary voice of the St. Louis Blues for 21 seasons and his brother, John Kelly, is the current voice of the Blues. Host played for DU from 1993-97, playing his final two years for DU coach George Gwozdecky. Host had served as game analyst for the Pioneers' radio network for five seasons (2000-05).

Interview Policies

All interviews with University of Denver student-athletes and coaches must be arranged through the University of Denver Media Relations Department. The University of Denver is committed to accommodating the needs of the media. Coaches and players are typically available before and after practice on a first-come, first-served basis. No interviews will be granted during a practice session.

Credentials

Media credentials are issued to accredited members of the media only. Please submit requests online at www.DenverPioneers.com/credential or on letterhead via fax or email to be received at least two working days prior to the event. Credentials may be picked up at the Daniel L. Ritchie Center for Sports and Wellness media will call, located inside the loading dock, 90 minutes prior to the start of each contest. Credentials to be mailed should be requested at least two weeks in advance. Credentials issued for the previous academic year are not valid. Individuals must submit the appropriate documentation in order to receive a new credential for the current year. The University of Denver Division of Athletics reserves the right to accept or reject all credential requests.

Photographer Credentials

Photo access at University of Denver athletics events is limited to accredited photographers on assignment by daily newspapers, national publications, wire services, local and national television outlets, and individuals on special assignment. No freelance, private, high school or college photographer, weekly newspapers or journalism students shall be issued photographic credentials unless they officially represent the visiting or host school. Please submit requests online at www.DenverPioneers.com/credential or on letterhead via fax or email to be received at least two working days prior to the event. Credentials issued for the previous academic year are not valid. Individuals must submit the appropriate documentation in order to receive a new credential for the current year. The University of Denver Division of Athletics reserves the right to accept or reject all credential requests.

Camera Procedures

Photographers must work from within the designated areas and not block any spectator's view of the on-ice action. Photographers may shoot from the press box or the Zamboni entrance in the northeast corner. Requests to photograph from any other location in Magness Arena must be made in advance to the University of Denver Media Relations Department. The University of Denver reserves the right to accept or reject all credential requests.

Strobes

Any use of strobe lights at the Ritchie Center for athletic events must be approved by the University of Denver Media Relations Office in advance. Strobe units may not exceed four clusters of strobe lights producing a maximum of 3,200-watt seconds. All strobes must flash at a duration of less than 1/2,000 of a second. All hanging or installed strobes must be placed as close to the playing surface as possible and near the corners but not behind the baskets or the goals. All strobes must be placed at the site and tested 24 hours before the first game during which the strobes will be used. No other strobes, including hand-carried units, are permitted in the arena and no strobes may be placed on or attached to a backboard or goal standard.

Radio

All radio stations wishing to broadcast from Magness Arena should contact the University of Denver Media Relations Office at least one week prior to the event. Space will be provided for the official radio station of the visiting team; others will be accommodated as space permits. Phone lines must be arranged for all stations in advance.

Telephones

The University of Denver has telephones available for media use in Magness Arena. Media members requiring dedicated telephone lines are asked to contact the University of Denver Athletic Media Relations Department in advance.

Game Services

Pre-game media notes, biographical updates, lineups, game programs and season statistics will be available to the working media in the press box at Magness Arena. Shot charts will be provided between each period and complete game packets are available following the game. In-game statistics will be distributed to members of the media.

Post-game Work Areas

The press box will be available following each home game as work area for media. Final statistics and game packets will be available, and telephones will be available for post-game filing.

Post-game Interviews

Post-game interviews will be conducted following a 10-minute cooling-off period. Denver head coach is available in the press box following his post-game radio interview and players are available outside the Pioneer hockey locker room. Media requests for both Denver and opposing coaches and players should be made to hockey SID Erich Bacher. Opponent requests will be forwarded to the visiting SID. The Pioneer hockey locker room is closed to the media.

Parking

A limited number of media parking spaces are available for the 2008-09 season and will be distributed on a first-come, first-served basis. Please request parking when requesting credentials. Media parking for athletic events at the Ritchie Center is in lot 401, which is on the east side of Joy Burns Arena. Easiest access is from Jewell Ave., off University Boulevard.

Directions to the University of Denver

Take I-25 to the South University Boulevard exit. Proceed south to the first stop light (Buchtel Boulevard). Go through the Buchtel Boulevard intersection to the next block south (Jewell Avenue). Take a right on Jewell and proceed west approximately one-half block to the east entrance of the Ritchie Center and Hamilton Gymnasium. Media parking is just east of Joy Burns Arena (the easternmost part of the Ritchie Center) in lot 401.

The University of Denver celebrated 50 years of hockey in the Mile High City when it opened play at Magness Arena on Oct. 15, 1999. DU defeated Union, 4-1, at the Ice Breaker Tournament before 4,906 fans. Magness Arena is one part of the state-of-the-art Daniel L. Ritchie Center for Sports and Wellness, named after the former DU chancellor who stepped down in 2005 after 16 years of excellence to chair the DU Board of Trustees. The arena is named after local cable entrepreneur Bob Magness, who donated $10 million toward the project. Numerous individuals, corporations and foundations contributed to the Ritchie Center, which cost approximately $75 million. Lead donors are recognized on the panels of the Williams Tower, which is located outside the west entrance to the Ritchie Center.

Magness Arena features 6,026 theatre-style seats for hockey, 7,200 seats for basketball and up to 8,000 seats for concerts. When configured for hockey and skating, the ice surface is 85 x 200 feet for North American-rules play. In its short history, Magness Arena has played host to a WBC title fight, a pair of charity tennis matches, numerous concerts featuring the likes of Christina Aguilera, Prince, Sting and The Counting Crows, and of course, a steady diet of sellout hockey games. The DU hockey team played before 19 sell-outs last season at Magness. The Pioneers sport a 115-59-5 (.656) all-time record in nine years of competition at the arena. Magness Arena has been sold out for 76 consecutive regular season DU hockey games since the start of the 2004-05 season.

One of the Finest Facilities in College Hockey

The Pioneers have one of the best collegiate hockey facilities in the country. Evidence of this can be seen here (above) in the team's state-of-the-art locker room. Each student-athlete has his own locker stall which includes built-in hangers, ventilated storage space under the seat and two shelves for gloves, pads and helmets.

Another example of this first-class facility is the players lounge (left). Team members utilize this lounge for various activities including meeting, studying or relaxing between classes. Between the locker room and player's lounge is a training room. This room is used by the training staff during games and practices and allows the players to remain close to the locker room.

2008-09 Denver Pioneers

Talented Pioneers Seek Second Consecutive NCAA Berth

The seven-time NCAA champion Denver Pioneers returned to national prominence last season after missing the NCAA Tournament in 2006 and 2007. Led by the stellar goaltending of Peter Mannino, DU captured its league-leading 15th WCHA playoff championship, advanced to its 19th NCAA Tournament and won 26 games overall. The 2008-09 season presents new challenges for the Pioneers, who are extremely skilled and fast, but the goals remain the same. Become a team, gain home ice for the WCHA playoffs, and advance to the WCHA Final Five and NCAA Tournament. Reclaiming the Gold Pan Trophy from in-state rival Colorado College is also a top priority for the 2008-09 Pioneers.

Senior defenseman J.P. Testwuide (Vail, Colo.) leads the Pioneers into action this season. Testwuide is the first Colorado native to captain Denver in its 60 years of varsity hockey. Testwuide, who is DU's hardest-working and most physical player, has also been DU's most versatile player the past three seasons, having played forward and defense. Most importantly, he is well respected by his teammates.

"We are confident that J.P. will do a tremendous job of leading this team," DU head coach George Gwozdecky said. "J.P. has become a complete college hockey player with his hard work and dedication to this program. He has earned the right to become the first Coloradan to lead this program."

Forwards Rhett Rakhshani (Huntington Beach, Calif.), Tyler Ruegsegger (Lakewood, Colo.) and Tyler Bozak (Regina, Saskatchewan), and defenseman Patrick Mullen (Pittsburgh, Pa.) top the list of 21 returning letterwinners from last year's team, which captured 21 or more wins for the seventh consecutive season and won its 13th Wells Fargo Denver Cup title. Rakhshani and Ruegsegger will serve as alternate captains after gaining valuable international experience with Team USA at the 2008 IIHF World Junior Tournament. The Pioneers also welcome another strong recruiting class led by 2008 NHL first round draft pick Joe Colborne (Calgary, Alberta) and second-round pick Patrick Wiercioch (Maple Ridge, British Columbia). Sophomore Marc Cheverie (Cole Harbour, Nova Scotia) takes over the goaltending reins from Mannino.

"Our players and coaches are anticipating a very exciting season," Gwozdecky said. "Rakhshani, Ruegsegger and Bozak are three of the top forwards in the WCHA and our sophomores gained valuable experience as freshmen last season. We'll be strong on the blueline and I expect sophomore goaltender Marc Cheverie to give us a chance to win every night."

FORWARDS

The Pioneers are deep and talented at forward. Last season, Bozak became the third freshman since 1986-87 to lead the Pioneers in scoring with 34 points on 18 goals and 16 assists. The highly-skilled forward tallied five shorthanded goals and took over the DU offense when leading scorer Brock Trotter departed for the NHL midway through the season. Bozak earned All-WCHA third team and All-WCHA rookie honors for his efforts.

"Tyler is a dynamic two-way forward," Gwozdecky said. "He creates so much offense for his teammates and is one of our team leaders. We expect Tyler to be one of our 'go-to' guys this season."

Rakhshani (14-14--28) and Ruegsegger (10-12--22) are Denver's two most experienced offensive players with 64 and 56 career points, respectively. Rakhshani led DU with eight power-play goals last season and netted a natural hat trick in the last 5:49 of DU's 3-2 comeback win at St. Cloud State. Ruegsegger netted a career-high five points at Alaska Anchorage, but missed 10 games late in the season with an abdominal injury. Gwozdecky expects big seasons from his dynamic junior tandem.

Senior J.P. Testwuide is the first Coloradan to captain the Denver Pioneers.

"Rhett and Tyler know what it takes to be successful in the WCHA," Gwozdecky said. "We will count on their scoring, playmaking ability and leadership this season. Both Rhett and Tyler are looking forward to leading our team on and off the ice."

Sophomores Kyle Ostrow (Calgary, Alberta), Jesse Martin (Edmonton, Alberta), Dustin Jackson (Omaha, Neb.) and Anthony Maiani (Shelby Township, Mich.) will be counted on for increased production on both sides of the ice after solid debut seasons. Ostrow finished fourth on the team in scoring with 23 points, Martin and Jackson added 15 and 13 points, respectively, and Maiani chipped in 15 points and led the team with four-game winning goals.

"Ostrow, Martin, Jackson and Maiani had fine freshmen seasons," Gwozdecky said. "The challenge for them is to use the valuable experience they gained last season and be more consistent as sophomores."

Junior Matt Glasser (Edmonton, Alberta), Brian Gifford (Moorhead, Minn.) and Brandon Vossberg (St. Paul, Minn.) provide experience and depth, while Stephen Cunningham looks for increased playing time. Glasser was named DU's most improved player, and Gifford and Vossberg were regular contributors as well.

Colborne headlines the group of three freshmen forwards. The No. 16 overall draft pick of the Boston Bruins was named the Canadian Junior A Tyler Bozak led DU in scoring last season with 34 points on 18 goals and 16 assists.

Player of the Year after leading Camrose to its second consecutive Alberta Junior Hockey League title and Doyle Cup championship. Colborne netted 90 points in the regular season and a playoff-leading 16 points en route to MVP honors. Nate Dewhurst (Johnston, Iowa) and Luke Salazar (Thornton, Colo.) join the program as skilled and gritty two-way forwards.

"Joe is a very talented player, who will play in many of our offensive situations. I believe he will develop into one of the top forwards in the WCHA," Gwozdecky said. "Dewhurst and Salazar improve our depth and skill up front, and will push our upperclassmen to be better."

DEFENSEMEN

Testwuide and Mullen anchor a young, but talented defensive corps. Both have played forward for the Pioneers in the past, but have found homes on the blueline for their senior seasons. The fearless Testwuide led the Pioneers with 66 penalty minutes and added 2-6--8. Mullen (4-18--22) is DU's top returning scorer on the blueline and is the Pioneers' most skilled defenseman.

"J.P. and Patrick will anchor our blueline corps with their experience and selfless play," Gwozdecky said. "Both players are looking forward to their senior seasons. Although their playing roles are very different, J.P. and Patrick will be expected to mentor our freshmen and sophomore defensemen."

Newcomers John Lee (Moorhead, Minn.) and Wiercioch (Maple Grove, British Columbia) will play immediately, while bruising Cody Brookwell (Calgary, Alberta) also returns.

Sophomores Chris Nutini (Centennial, Colo.), John Ryder (Colorado Springs, Colo.), Jon Cook (Denver, Colo.) and Joey Brehm (Edina, Minn.), and senior Julian Marcuzzi (N. Vancouver, British Columbia) battle for the remaining defensive positions.

"Our defensemen should be one of our strengths this season. Each player understands and is proud of their role. The day-to-day competition in practice will be interesting to watch," Gwozdecky said. "Although we are young, I am confident they will protect our net and get us into transition quickly."

GOALTENDING

Cheverie will start the season as DU's No. 1 goaltender. The sophomore appeared in five games last season, posting a 1-0-0 record with a 1.70 goals against average and .925 saves percentage. Cheverie posted his lone win in his only start with 26 saves in DU's 4-2 win over Bemidji State. Also competing for playing time will be sophomore Lars Paulgaard (Vetvre, Norway), who sat out last season after posting a 30-18-2 record with a 2.54 goals against average and .916 saves percentage for Southern Minnesota of the North American Hockey League in 2006-07. Eddie Guinn (South Burlington, Vt.) will serve as the No. 3 goaltender for the second consecutive year.

"Marc is moving into the role as our No. 1 goaltender," Gwozdecky said. "He learned a great deal from Peter Mannino last season and played well when called upon. Lars will challenge for playing time and we're hoping to develop a goaltender rotation like Wade Dubielewicz and Adam Berkhoel, and Mannino and Glenn Fisher, that has been so successful in the past."

SCHEDULE

The Pioneers play one of the premier schedules in college hockey. DU plays 18 of its 35 games against teams which qualified for the 2008 NCAA Tournament, including four games each against Colorado College, St. Cloud State and Wisconsin. In addition, the Pioneers host Notre Dame in the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame game, Ohio State, Minnesota and Air Force. DU also plays at North Dakota, Minnesota State and Michigan Tech.

"Once again, we are looking forward to playing one of the premier schedules in the country," Gwozdecky said. "We have several ranked teams coming to Magness Arena and a difficult road schedule as well."

Rhett Rakhshani tallied 28 points and led DU with eight power-play goals last season.

15th Season

Head coach George Gwozdecky enters his 15th season behind the bench for the seven-time NCAA National Champion Denver Pioneers. Since Gwozdecky's arrival on the DU campus in 1994, the Pioneers have solidified themselves as a perennial top-10 program. The Pioneers have captured two NCAA national championships, two WCHA regular-season titles and four WCHA playoff titles during Gwozdecky's tenure.

The Thunder Bay, Ontario, native has led the Pioneers to 11 20-win seasons and six seasons with 25 or more wins. Gwozdecky has brought the excitement back to one of college hockey's elite programs.

As the only coach in NCAA history to win a hockey national title as a player, assistant coach and head coach, Gwozdecky has compiled a 323-205-41 (.604) record with the Pioneers. Gwozdecky-coached teams have reached the NCAA Tournament (including the 1992-93 Miami team) in eight of the last 16 years. Denver has also captured 10 Denver Cup titles under Gwozdecky, who currently boasts a 473-329-62 (.583) record in 22 seasons. Gwozdecky sports a 406-299-60 (.570) record coaching Division I programs over 19 seasons, including two Spencer Penrose Awards as the national coach of the year.

Gwozdecky's coaching expertise led the Pioneers back to national prominence with back-to-back NCAA national championships in 2004 and 2005. Entering the 2004 Frozen Four as underdogs, the Pioneers captured a come-from-behind win over Minnesota Duluth and held off a 6-on-3 advantage in the final 78 seconds in a 1-0 victory over Maine in the championship game. The NCAA title was the first for DU since 1969, when Pioneer all-time greats Keith Magnuson and Gerry Powers led the team to its second consecutive national title. Gwozdecky's leadership carried the team to a 27-12-5 record, including his 200th win at Denver against Northeastern on October 18, 2004. For his accomplishments, Gwozdecky finished runner-up for the 2004 Spencer Penrose Award for the national coach of the year for the second time in his career.

In 2005, the Pioneers silenced all the critics by becoming the first WCHA team since 1997 to capture the MacNaughton Cup, Broadmoor Trophy and NCAA National Championship in the same season. Denver's 4-1 victory over North Dakota in the 2005 NCAA title game gave the school its seventh hockey national championship. Gwozdecky was honored as national coach of the year for the second time and WCHA coach of the year for the third time in his illustrious career. Gwozdecky captured his 400th career win on March 18 with Denver's 2-1 overtime decision against North Dakota at the WCHA Final Five.

DU's run at a third consecutive NCAA National Championship ended with a respectable 21-15-3 overall mark in 2005-06. The Pioneers finished second in the WCHA regular season, but were ousted by Minnesota Duluth in the WCHA Playoffs. All-American defenseman Matt Carle became the first DU Pioneer and first player coached by Gwozdecky to capture the Hobey Baker Memorial Award as the nation's top player.

In 2006-07, DU registered its sixth consecutive season with at least 21 wins, while finishing fourth in the WCHA with 13 league victories.

In 2007-08, Gwozdecky guided the Pioneers to their league-leading 15th WCHA playoff title and return trip to the NCAA tournament. DU finished with a 26-14-1 overall mark and 16-11-1 third-place finish in the WCHA. Gwozdecky captured his 450th career win and 300th win at Denver with a 3-1 win over NCAA runner-up Notre Dame on Oct. 19.

The Pioneers returned to the national scene in 2001-02, when Gwozdecky's team was picked to finish fifth in the annual Grand Forks Herald WCHA Coaches' Poll. Instead, his squad rewrote Denver hockey history, opening the season with nine consecutive wins, the best start in school history. Gwozdecky guided Denver to a 32-8-1 record and the Pioneers achieved their first No. 1 ranking in the modern history of the polls. DU also earned its first MacNaughton Cup trophy since the 1985-86 season as the 2001-02 WCHA regular-season champions and captured its first Broadmoor Trophy as WCHA playoff champs since 1999. It was the first time since the 1990-91 season that a WCHA school had won both the MacNaughton Cup and Broadmoor Trophy outright in the same season. The team was the fourth in school history to reach 30 wins in a season. Gwozdecky earned his second WCHA Coach of the Year and was runner-up to Maine's Tim Whitehead for the Spencer Penrose Award.

In 2000-01, Gwozdecky guided a young Pioneer team to a 19-15-4 mark, which was three wins better than the 1999-00 squad.

The Pioneers experienced the greatest turnaround of any team in college hockey in 1998-99. Denver rebounded from a disappointing 11-25-2 record in 1997-98 to finish with an astounding 26-13-2 overall mark, marking the first time in the history of the WCHA that a team won more than 25 games after losing 25 the year before.

Gwozdecky led the 1996-97 Pioneers to a 24-13-4 overall record and an appearance in the NCAA Tournament. Denver entered the tournament winning seven of its last eight games and was one of the hottest teams in the country before losing to the eventual runner-up, Boston University, in the semifinals of the NCAA East Regional on an overtime goal by former Colorado Avalanche forward Chris Drury.

In 1995-96, Gwozdecky led a young Denver team to a 22-14-3 overall record and a 17-12-3 mark in the WCHA, good for a third-place league finish. The Pioneers also captured their fourth consecutive Wells Fargo Denver Cup championship when they upended top-ranked and then-undefeated Colorado College, 3-2, before a capacity crowd of 16,061 at McNichols Sports Arena. It was the largest crowd in Colorado history to witness a college hockey game and will go down as one of the all-time great moments in Pioneer hockey.

After inheriting a team that finished ninth in the WCHA in 1993-94, Gwozdecky guided the Pioneers to the 1995 NCAA Tournament quarterfinals. The 1994-95 squad was picked to finish fifth in the Grand Forks Herald preseason poll, yet Gwozdecky led the team to a second-place regular-season finish in WCHA action. For his efforts, Gwozdecky was honored as the WCHA's Coach of the Year. The team's winning percentage (.619) was the best for the program since 1985-86, and the Pioneers hosted the first round of the WCHA playoffs for the first time since 1987-88.

Gwozdecky came to Denver from Miami (Ohio) where he served as head coach for five seasons. In his first five years as a Division I head coach, the two-time Central Collegiate Hockey Association (CCHA) Coach of the Year posted an 83-94-19 (.468) record. During that time, Miami won the CCHA title for the first time in school history. In 1992-93, Gwozdecky guided the Redskins to their second consecutive CCHA championship berth, the school's first NCAA Tournament bid and their best record ever (27-9-5). Following the 1992-93 season, Gwozdecky won the Spencer Penrose Award as National Coach of the Year for the first time and was named CCHA Coach of the Year for the second consecutive season.

Prior to his appointment at Miami, Gwozdecky served as an assistant coach at Michigan State University following a head coaching stint at the University of Wisconsin-River Falls, an NAIA school. At UW-River Falls, Gwozdecky compiled a three-year mark of 67-30-2 (.687).

Gwozdecky played wing for the University of Wisconsin's 1977 NCAA championship team, coached UW-River Falls to an NAIA title in 1983, and served as an assistant coach for Michigan State's 1986 team that won the NCAA crown.

To add to his distinguished list of accomplishments, Gwozdecky was honored on October 22, 1994, as an inductee into the Wisconsin Hockey Hall of Fame. Gwozdecky was inducted into the Miami University "Cradle of Coaches" Hall of Fame in October of 2006.

A 1978 Wisconsin graduate and four-year letterwinner, Gwozdecky earned his bachelor's degree in physical education. One year later he earned his master's of education from UW-River Falls. He and his wife, Bonnie, have a 15-year-old daughter, Adrienne.

STEVE MILLER

Assistant Coach
Sun Prairie, Wisconsin
St. Mary's (Minn.) '88
15th Season

Steve Miller enters his 15th year at Denver and his 18th season as a member of George Gwozdecky's staff. He serves as the recruiting coordinator in addition to on-ice coaching, video breakdown and game analysis.

While at Denver, Miller has helped the Pioneers to back-to-back NCAA National Championships in 2004 and 2005, two WCHA regular-season championships and four WCHA Final Five titles. Miller has been responsible for the signing of 11 consecutive nationally-ranked recruiting classes. He has coached and recruited 30 NHL Draft picks, 31 All-WCHA honorees, eight World Junior Championship participants, eight All-Americans, one Hobey Baker Award winner, three WCHA Student-Athletes of the Year, three WCHA Defensive Players of the Year, one Rookie of the Year and two Frozen Four Most Outstanding Players. The Pioneers have averaged over 23 wins in Miller's 14 years, including seven NCAA appearances, two Frozen Four appearances and two national championships. Miller recruited or coached current NHL players Matt Carle (Tampa Bay), Matt Pettinger (Vancouver) and Paul Stastny (Colorado). Carle and Stastny earned NHL all-rookie honors in 2007. Stastny was named an NHL All-Star in 2008. Twelve former Pioneers are currently playing in the American Hockey League.

Prior to his arrival at Denver, Miller assisted Gwozdecky in a similar role at Miami (Ohio) University from 1991 to 1994. Miller was a big part of Miami's first-ever appearance in the NCAA tournament in 1992-93. The Redskins posted a then school-best mark of 27-9-5 and won their first-ever CCHA championship. Miller coached or assisted in the recruitment of former Miami and NHL players Kevyn Adams (Chicago), Dan Boyle (San Jose) and Brian Savage (retired).

Prior to his stint at Miami, Miller served as assistant varsity coach, junior varsity coach and recruiting coordinator at his alma mater, St. Mary's (Minn.) University. He helped St. Mary's capture the 1989 Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (MIAC) playoff championship and reach the quarterfinals of the NCAA championships.

Miller has also gained additional coaching experience working for USA Hockey. He also coached current NHL players Brian Gionta (New Jersey), Mike York (Phoenix) and John-Michael Liles (Colorado). He was the head coach of Team Rocky Mountain at the Select 17 festival in 2000 and led the team to its best-ever finish by winning a silver medal.

The Miller Family

A 1988 graduate of St. Mary's with a bachelor of arts in public administration, Miller played three years of varsity hockey. He earned most inspirational player two years and was named most improved player as a sophomore. Miller helped St. Mary's to its first MIAC championship in 23 years. The team also set a school record for victories in a season (22) that still stands today.

In addition to his on-ice accomplishments, Miller was selected to the MIAC All-Academic team his junior year.

Miller was inducted into the Sun Prairie (Wis.) High School Wall of Success in the summer of 2008.

Miller and his wife, Heidi, reside in Littleton with their daughter, Alexis (8), and sons, Cole (6) and Connor (4).

DEREK LALONDE

Assistant Coach
 Brasher Falls, New York
 Cortland State '95
 3rd Season

Derek Lalonde enters his third season as an assistant coach at DU after spending four seasons at Ferris State under long-time head coach Bob Daniels. Lalonde assists in DU's recruiting and video efforts, while working primarily with DU's goaltenders and defensemen.

Lalonde helped the Pioneers to their league-leading 15th WCHA playoff title and 19th NCAA tournament appearance. The Pioneers went 26-14-1, marking their seventh consecutive season with 21 or more wins. Goaltenders Peter Mannino and Marc Cheverie posted the fifth-best goals against average in DU history at 2.29. Mannino also set the DU all-time shut-outs mark at 15 with six shutouts during his senior campaign.

In Lalonde's first season at DU, standouts Glenn Fisher and Peter Mannino combined to post the sixth-best goals against average in school history at 2.34. The Pioneers also recorded their sixth consecutive season with 21 or more wins, while finishing fourth in the WCHA.

Lalonde helped the Bulldogs to a 76-67-12 record during his four-year tenure. Ferris State captured its first Central Collegiate Hockey Association Championship and CCHA Super 6 Championship appearance during a record-setting 31-10-1 season in 2002-03.

The last three goaltenders Lalonde has coached have signed NHL contracts following graduation. Mannino signed a free agent contract with the New York Islanders in 2008 and Fisher signed with Edmonton in 2007. Ferris State's Mitch O'Keefe signed a free agent contract with Ottawa in 2008. Lalonde also coached All-American Mike Brown at Ferris State in 2002-03.

A native of Brasher Falls, N.Y., Lalonde arrived at FSU after serving two seasons (2000-02) as an assistant coach at Hamilton College in Clinton, N.Y. While at Hamilton, his primary responsibilities included being the Continentals' recruiting coordinator, scheduling, managing practices, supervising training programs and video analysis. Prior to his coaching stint at Hamilton, Lalonde held the same position at Lebanon Valley College in Annville, Pa., from August 1998 through July 2000. He assisted with the establishment of the NCAA Division II-III's men's ice hockey program from its inception and in 1998-99, the team went 19-6-1 in the program's first year of competition.

The Flying Dutchmen also captured the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference (ECAC) Northeast Championship and qualified for the NCAA Division III Tournament in the program's third year of existence. From 1995-98,

DAVID TENZER

Dir. of Hockey Operations

New Rochelle, New York
New York University '84
8th Season

David Tenzer enters his eighth season with the Pioneers. Prior to taking the position as Director of Hockey Operations, Tenzer served as the Pioneers' volunteer assistant coach for two seasons. As the Director of Hockey Operations, Tenzer's primary responsibilities include: video breakdown and analysis, scheduling, team travel, office administration and coordination of the George Gwozdecky Summer Hockey Camp.

Prior to joining Denver, Tenzer served as the head coach of the Colorado State University club hockey team from 1998-2001, where he led the Rams to top-10 finishes nationally in Division II of the American Collegiate Hockey Association in both 1999-2000 and 2000-01.

Tenzer began his coaching career in the youth hockey ranks, serving as head coach for various teams with the Boulder Valley Hockey Association from 1991-96, and 1997-98. During the 1996-97 season, Tenzer served as assistant coach for Team Colorado Bantam AAA, and following the season, was an assistant coach for the Colorado Chicago Showcase team. Tenzer has also served as an assistant coach for the Rocky Mountain District Select 16 team at the USA Hockey National Festivals in 2000 and 2001. In addition, he was the USA Hockey Coaching Coordinator for the State of Colorado from 1999-2001.

Tenzer earned his bachelor's degree in journalism from New York University in 1984. He graduated cum laude from New York University School of Law in 1988 and was admitted to the New York Bar in 1989. Tenzer's law career began with a three-year stint as an associate in the real estate department at Battle Fowler in New York. He was admitted to the Colorado Bar in 1991 and served as a Senior Associate in the business law department at Holme, Roberts and Owen in Boulder, Colo., from 1991-95.

In 1995, Tenzer returned to school and earned his master's degree in sport management from the University of Massachusetts. During that time, he worked in the UMass athletic department and later completed a summer internship for Disney Sports Enterprises, working with the Mighty Ducks of Anaheim and the California Angels.

From October 1996 until April 2000, Tenzer served as a special counsel for Brownstein, Hyatt and Farber in Denver. He served in a similar position at Hogan and Hartson in Boulder from May 2000 until July 2001.

MICHAEL ZUCKER

Volunteer Assistant Coach Colorado '97 · 1st Season

Michael Zucker begins his first season as volunteer assistant coach at the University of Denver. Zucker comes to the Pioneers after serving three seasons as an assistant coach for the Everett Silvertops of the Western Hockey League. Zucker will assist in practice planning, video breakdown and analysis, individual teaching and on-ice skill development for the seven-time NCAA National Champion Pioneers.

Zucker, who begins his 12th year of coaching, spent the last three seasons at Everett under former NHL Head Coach Kevin Constantine for two seasons and John Becanic for one. He helped the Silvertips win two U.S. Division Championships, and the Scotty Munro Trophy for recording the best record (54-15-1-2) in the WHL during the 2006-2007 season. In addition, the Silvertips produced eight NHL draft picks, including first-rounders Peter Mueller (2006), Leland Irving (2006) Zach Hamill (2007) and Kyle Beach (2008). Zucker also coached a Tier 1 Midget AAA team (Northwest Admirals) to a State Championship during his time in the Seattle area.

He earned his master's level coaching certification from USA Hockey in the Spring of 2001 and is now teaching the Level 2, 3, and 4 coaching clinics as part of USA Hockey's Coaching Education Program (CEP).

The Morganville, N.J., native is a 1997 graduate and former club player at the University of Colorado. Zucker earned a bachelor's degree in business administration with an emphasis in information systems in 1997 from CU's Leeds School of Business.

DAVID CARLE

Student Assistant Coach 1st Season

David Carle begins his first season as a student assistant coach for the Pioneers. Carle will assist the Pioneers in skill development, practice, strength and conditioning, and video breakdown and analysis.

Carle was originally recruited by Denver, but retired in July of 2008 after being diagnosed with hypertrophic cardiomyopathy. Carle was a standout defenseman for Shattuck-St. Mary's, helping the Sabres to the national title in 2008.

The Anchorage, Alaska, native was a seventh round draft pick (203rd overall) of the Tampa Bay Lightning in the 2008 NHL Entry Draft. Carle enjoys golfing and fishing, and plans to pursue a degree in business. He graduated from Shattuck-St. Mary's Prep School as an honor roll student in 2008 and is a member of the Hypertrophic Cardiomyopathy Association (HCMA).

Carle, who plans to major in business at Denver, is the brother of former Pioneer and current Tampa Bay Lightning defenseman Matt Carle (24), and Alex (14).

LEE GRESETH

Equipment Manager 9th Season

Lee Greseth begins his ninth season with the Pioneers as the team's equipment manager. Greseth handles the intricate equipment and skate sharpening requests of all Pioneer players and staff. He is responsible for purchasing, inventory and distribution of all equipment throughout the season.

Prior to coming to Denver, Greseth spent three years as hockey equipment manager at the University of North Dakota. Greseth was with the Fighting Sioux during their 1999-2000 NCAA National Championship season.

Before North Dakota, the Rochester, Minn., native spent three years as the equipment manager for the University of Alaska Anchorage hockey program.

As a student, Greseth worked at U.S. International University in San Diego, Calif., and the University of Minnesota as a student hockey equipment manager. He was the hockey equipment manager for Colorado College in 1992-93.

Greseth and his wife, Jennifer, and daughter, Morgan (5), and son, Luke (3), reside in Denver.

AARON LEU

Assistant Athletic Trainer Creighton '94 · 5th Season

Aaron Leu enters his fifth season at the University of Denver and second with the seven-time NCAA National Champion Pioneer hockey team. Leu served as the athletic trainer for volleyball, men's and women's skiing, and men's lacrosse prior to joining the hockey team.

Leu previously served as an assistant athletic trainer at the University of Nebraska at Kearney from 1999-2004, where he worked with the football, women's basketball, and softball teams. Leu worked in Phoenix, Ariz., at the Sports Medicine Institute Physical Therapy Clinic and with at-risk youth at the Arizona Boys Ranch from 1996-99.

He earned his bachelor's degree from Creighton University in exercise science in 1994 and his master's degree from the University of Nebraska at Kearney in 1996. He is a certified athletic trainer with the National Athletic Trainers' Association.

Leu resides in Denver.

MIKE SANDERS

Strength & Conditioning Coach
Neb.-Kearney '96 · 8th Season

Mike Sanders enters his eighth season as head strength and conditioning coach for Denver's 300-plus student athletes after serving two years as an assistant. He oversees all aspects of design and administration of speed, strength, agility and conditioning programs for each of Denver's 17 varsity sport programs.

Prior to his appointment as assistant head strength coach in the fall of 2000, Sanders served in the same capacity for three years at the University of Nebraska-Kearney. While there, he administered the strength and conditioning programs for the football, wrestling, baseball, softball and tennis programs. He also taught strength and cross training classes.

A Nebraska native, Sanders earned his bachelor of arts degree in health and physical education with an emphasis on exercise science in the spring of 1996 from Nebraska-Kearney. He later earned a master of arts in education from the University of Nebraska in December of 1999. Sanders is a certified strength and conditioning specialist by the National Strength and Conditioning Association and strength and conditioning coach certified by the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association.

Sanders and his wife, Julie, and daughter, Grace (1), reside in Littleton.

STEVE PORTENGA

Sport Psychologist
Michigan '93 · 4th Season

Steve Portenga begins his fourth year as Director of Sport Psychology. He provides sport psychology consulting services to all 17 DU NCAA Division I athletic teams, student-athletes and coaches. Portenga teaches performance enhancement skills, facilitates team building and works with coaches to develop a positive team environment.

Portenga has served as a sport psychology consultant to collegiate athletic departments since 1997. He was invited to provide sport psychology services to USA Track & Field, traveling to the Dominican Republic to work with the 2006 NACAC Under-23 Championship Team. In 2004, Portenga received the first Student Practitioner Award presented by the Association for the Advancement of Applied Sport Psychology. Portenga has made numerous national and international presentations on issues such as injury, coaching and team development, and training in sport psychology.

Prior to DU, he was at UC Davis where he did his APA Internship and a Post Doctoral Fellowship in sport psychology. Portenga coached alpine skiing for the Vail Development Team for four years. He then earned an M.S. degree in exercise and sport science from the University of Utah and a Ph.D. in counseling psychology from the University of Missouri-Columbia.

Portenga is also the Acting Director of the newly formed Sport and Performance Psychology Program in the University of Denver's Graduate School of Professional Psychology.

CAREY BENSON

Asst. Student Support Services Director
St. Mary's '99 · 2nd Season

Carey Benson begins her second season as an Assistant Director of Student-Athlete Support Services for the University of Denver. She serves as an academic and life skills advisor for eight Pioneer sport programs in the department.

The Denver native oversees academic studytables for DU athletes, arranges tutoring services, and works on an individual basis with at-risk student-athletes. She is a supplemental advisor to faculty on campus and works with student-athletes on degree planning and major selection. Benson checks all eligibility and degree progress for student-athletes. She also is in charge of the Pioneer Athletics Leaders (PAL) team, Gold Vest competition and NCAA Champs, a life skills program.

Prior to DU, Benson worked at International Management Group (IMG) Academies for six years in Bradenton, Fla., as a mental conditioning consultant. Her primary responsibilities were working with professional, collegiate and elite junior athletes on their athletic performance in the sporting arena and transferable life skills outside of the sporting environment.

Benson received her bachelor of arts degree from St. Mary's (Minn.) in 1999 and her master's of education in counseling psychology and athletic advising from Springfield College (Mass.) in 2000.

SCOTT MORRISON

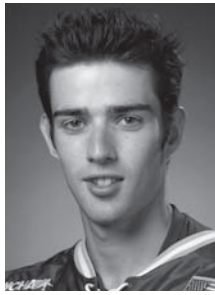

Assistant Equipment Manager
10th Season

Scott Morrison enters his 10th season with the Pioneers as the team's assistant equipment manager. He assists Equipment Manager Lee Greseth with the day-to-day equipment needs of the hockey team.

Morrison joined the Pioneer program during the 1996-97 hockey season when the Pioneers reached the NCAA Tournament that year. DU has have made five NCAA Tournaments appearances, including one NCAA title (2004), during Morrison's 10-year tenure.

Morrison also worked as a race car mechanic with driver Buzz Caulkin and Bradley Motor Sports in 1998-2000, and as an assistant equipment manager under former DU equipment manager David Randolph in 2004-05 with the Milwaukee Admirals of the American Hockey League.

Morrison and his fiancée, Jessica, reside in Castle Rock.

2007-08 Season in Review

MVP Mannino Leads Pioneers Back to NCAA Tournament

2007-08 SEASON HIGHLIGHTS:

- Denver captured its league-leading 15th WCHA playoff championship with a 2-1 win over Minnesota.
- The Pioneers advanced to their 19th NCAA tournament and first since claiming the national title in 2005.
- DU claimed its 13th Wells Fargo Denver Cup crown, while sporting a 26-5-1 mark in the annual holiday tournament.
- The Pioneers finished the season with a 26-14-1 record, marking their seventh consecutive season with 21 or more wins.
- DU hosted the first round of the WCHA playoffs for the fifth consecutive season.
- The Pioneers were ranked in the top 13 in both national polls every week of the season.

Peter Mannino led the Pioneers back to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2005. Mannino set the DU all-time shutout mark at 15 with six shutouts in 2007-08.

NCAA MIDWEST REGIONAL RECAP

Denver's 59th season of varsity hockey ended with a 6-2 loss to Wisconsin at the NCAA Midwest Regional in Madison, Wis. Michael Davies tallied two goals and an assist and Shane Connelly stopped 30 shots to lead the No. 17 Badgers. Dustin Jackson and Tom May scored for DU, and Peter Mannino made 20 saves in his final game as a Pioneer.

FINAL FIVE RECAP

Denver claimed its league-leading 15th WCHA playoff championship with victories over North Dakota (3-1) and Minnesota (2-1) at Xcel Energy Center in St. Paul, Minn. DU advanced to the Final Five after sweeping Minnesota Duluth (6-3, 1-0) in the first round of the WCHA playoffs. Tom May tallied his second career game-winning goal and Peter Mannino (34 saves) held Minnesota to one goal for the fifth time this season. Tyler Bozak also scored for DU and Ryan Flynn tallied the lone goal for Minnesota. Chris Butler joined Mannino and May on the all-tournament team.

PIONEERS CLAIM 13TH WELLS FARGO DENVER CUP CHAMPIONSHIP

The Pioneers defeated Sacred Heart (5-0) and Dartmouth (5-3) to claim their 13th Wells Fargo Denver Cup in 16 years. Peter Mannino posted his record-tying 13th career shutout to highlight the 5-0 win over Sacred Heart, while five different Pioneers scored in the championship win over Dartmouth. Tournament MVP Brock Trotter was joined on the all-tournament team by Chris Butler, Andrew Thomas and Mannino.

NCAA SKILLS CHALLENGE

TEAM NOTES

- DU started the season 17-4 and posted a season-best seven-game winning streak from Dec. 7-Jan. 11.
- The Pioneers limited opponents to two goals or less in 23 of 26 wins and three or more in 13 of 14 losses.
- DU freshman and sophomores accounted for 84% of the team's scoring and 70% of the team's point total.

PLAYER NOTES

- Junior defenseman Chris Butler was named to the RBK/AHCA West All-America second team, becoming DU's 34th hockey All-American.
- Senior goaltender Peter Mannino set the all-time shutouts mark at 15 with six shutouts this season.
- Freshman forward Tyler Bozak (18-16--34) became the second consecutive freshman and third since 1986-87 to lead the team in scoring.

IN THE POLLS

Denver finished No. 9 in the final USA Today/USA Hockey Magazine national poll. DU was ranked in the top 13 in both national polls the entire season. The Pioneers finished No. 15 last season.

M-V-PETE!, M-V-PETE!, M-V-PETE!

All-WCHA third team goaltender Peter Mannino was DU's most valuable player this season. Mannino led the Pioneers with a 25-14-1 record, 2.27 GAA and .917 Sv%. Mannino finished tied for first nationally in shutouts, sixth in minutes (2,301:49), ninth in winning percentage (.638), 20th in goals against average and 24th in saves percentage. He was second in the WCHA in minutes, third in winning percentage, and seventh in goals against average and saves percentage. Mannino was a four-time Red Baron WCHA Defensive Player of the Week (Oct. 16, Nov. 6, Nov. 20, Feb. 12) honoree and finalist for Lowes Senior CLASS Award for accomplishments on and off the ice. Mannino ranks first all-time at Denver in shutouts (15), second in saves percentage (.917), and third in wins (63) and goals against average (2.35).

MAGNESS MAGIC

DU has sold out 76 consecutive regular season games at Magness Arena (6,026). The streak started with a sellout crowd on Oct. 22, 2004, when the Pioneers raised their sixth NCAA National Championship.

Wells Fargo Denver Cup

Pioneers Host Wells Fargo Denver Cup for 17th Year

Now in its 17th year, the Wells Fargo Denver Cup continues its tradition as one of the nation's finest college hockey tournaments. Magness Arena hosts the two-day tournament on Jan. 2-3. This year's holiday tournament features Boston University (Hockey East), Holy Cross (Atlantic Hockey), RPI (ECAC) and 13-time champion and host Denver.

The tournament was founded by former Denver Director of Athletics Jack McDonald in the fall of 1992. McDonald and former Pioneer coach Frank Serratore identified a need for an event for college sports fans in Denver between Christmas and New Year's Day. McDonald and Serratore's visions proved accurate as the tournament has grown to become the premier sporting event in Denver during the holiday season. In 1996, a record opening-round crowd of 10,317 watched Yale beat Air Force, followed by DU's terrific 4-3 overtime win over Maine. In addition, a two-day attendance record of 23,187 was set at the 1999 showcase. In 1995, the championship game set an all-time record for attendance at a college hockey game in the state of Colorado when 16,061 - a sellout crowd - witnessed Denver's 3-2 win over Colorado College in the title game on Dec. 28.

The Wells Fargo Denver Cup has come into its own as one of the premier annual sporting events in the Rocky Mountain region. Media coverage for the Denver Cup, regionally and nationally, has been exceptional.

Denver sports a 26-5-1 record in 16 years of Wells Fargo Denver Cup competition. The Pioneers claimed the first five titles before Miami (Ohio) won the tournament championship in 1997. The Pioneers have won seven of the last eight Denver Cup championships, including a 5-3 title game victory over Dartmouth in 2007. Thirteen Denver players have been selected as the Cup's most valuable players and 47 Pioneers have been named to the all-tournament team.

The WCHA

With a noteworthy past that spans six decades and marks its 57th season overall in 2008-09, three characteristics that continue to define the Western Collegiate Hockey Association are history, tradition and success. From its founding days as the Midwest Collegiate Hockey League (MCHL) from 1951-53, to the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League (WIHL) from 1953-58, then on to the Western Collegiate Hockey Association in 1959, this prestigious athletic conference has developed and maintained a tradition of excellence that truly is second to none.

In fact, no collegiate conference – in any sport – can top the impressive list of national scale accomplishments of the WCHA and its member teams. Since 1951, teams representing the men's WCHA have earned a record 36 NCAA (national) championships, finished as the national runner-up another 27 times, and qualified for a berth in collegiate hockey's national championship round – the NCAA Men's Frozen Four – in 53 of 56 seasons overall. And since its founding in 1999-2000, teams representing the women's WCHA have captured nine consecutive national championships in 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007 and 2008!

In addition to its successes in national championship tournament play over the years, the Western Collegiate Hockey Association owns an enviable reputation for producing outstanding coaches and student-athletes, with hundreds upon hundreds of its alumni moving on to successful professional and Olympic playing careers. On top of the more than 200 men's and women's league alumni who have Olympic experience playing for the likes of the U.S., Canada, Italy, Norway, Austria, Germany, Sweden, Finland, and France, conference-member teams and players have also received additional international exposure on a regular basis since 1951. The WCHA has hosted touring teams from the USSR, Canada, Sweden, Czechoslovakia, Latvia, Germany, Italy, Finland, Norway, Switzerland, England and France. The league has also sent men's WCHA All-Star Teams to Europe in both 1998 (Switzerland) and 2000 (Norway) and hopes to make another overseas trip in the future, while the women's WCHA has also regularly put together all-star teams, with the 2005-06 season bringing WCHA All-Star Team games against the U.S. National Team at both Xcel Energy Center and the Duluth Entertainment & Convention Center.

Just a few of the more than 400 past and present National Hockey Leaguer's who have roots in the men's WCHA include the likes of legendary goaltenders Tony Esposito, Eddio Mio and Glenn 'Chico' Resch, defensemen Keith Magnuson, Lou Nanne and Curt Giles, and forwards Lou Angotti, Bill Masterton, Bill 'Red' Hay, Red Berenson, Glenn Anderson, Mark Johnson, Mike Richter, Brett Hull. The current crop of WCHA stars playing in the NHL include the likes of Chris Chelios, Dany Heatley, Mark Parrish, Jordan Leopold, Curtis Joseph, Jason Blake, Tyler Arnason, Andy Sutton, Bret Hedican, Matt Carle, Joe Pavelski, Zach Parise, Jonathan Toews and Tom Gilbert. In the most recent season of 2007-08, there were 90 WCHA alums who earned playing time in the NHL, four former WCHA standouts – Chris Chelios, Dallas Drake, Brian Rafalski and Mark Hartigan earned Stanley Cups as members of the champion Detroit Red Wings, Jason Blake earned the NHL's prestigious Bill Masterton Memorial Trophy, both Jonathan Toews and Tim Gilbert earned spots on the 2008 NHL All-Rookie Team, and former league standout Tony Granato was named head coach of the Colorado Avalanche, joining fellow WCHA alum and NHL head coach Dave Tippett of the Dallas Stars behind a pro bench.

The 2007-08 season saw both the WCHA men's and women's leagues continue their histories of success. At the conclusion of the season and in the final college hockey polls, the WCHA men's league had seven of its 10 member teams ranked among the nation's best while the women's league had three teams among the top 10, including No. 1 Minnesota Duluth, No. 2 Wisconsin and No. 5 Minnesota. The WCHA also claimed the Commissioners' Cup titles for inter-conference on-ice success in both the men's and women's leagues. The men's member teams went a combined 49-22-10 in non-conference play last winter for a .667 winning percentage. The men's and women's leagues had a record-setting group of 79 players named WCHA Scholar-Athletes, with 24 of those being repeat honorees. The men's WCHA also had 82 student-athletes named to the 2007-08 All-WCHA Academic Team. The men's WCHA had six players earn All-American honors last winter as well as three players earn a position among the Hobey Baker Memorial Award Top 10 Finalists.

WCHA home attendance for men's games surpassed the 1.5 million mark for the sixth straight season in 2007-08. The WCHA has now surpassed the one million mark in home attendance 15 straight seasons.

In terms of exposure, more than 200 WCHA men's games were televised in 2007-08, including all five games live from the 2008 Red Baron™ WCHA Final Five by Fox Sports Net North. All four NCAA regionals, and all three games at the 2008 NCAA Men's Frozen Four in Denver were televised live by ESPN and ESPN 2. In addition the league also webcast all three games live via wcha.cstv.com and wcha.tv from the women's 2008 WCHA FINAL FACE-OFF Championship in Duluth. The title game of the championship was also televised on a tape delay basis by FSN North. This Week in the WCHA, the league's weekly men's radio show, marked it's 12th season in 2007-08.

The league's official web site – wcha.cstv.com – was re-designed and updated during the course of the 2007-08 season and reached a record 2.7 million page impressions last season. New to the site in 2007-08 were a full-line of automated statistics, including automated league standings, complete box scores in three different formats, automated team and individual statistics, and team and league schedules. All WCHA men's and women's statistics are completely updated as soon as each game is finalized and the statistical summaries are submitted - usually within 20-30 minutes after each game. In addition, the WCHA took the lead in college hockey in 2007-08 with the addition of WCHA.TV, reachable via wcha.cstv.com. Each week throughout the season, there were new additions of men's and women's game highlights posted – each lasting approx. 5-6 minutes in length and featuring all member teams. In addition, WCHA.TV featured video highlights from the women's WCHA FINAL FACE-OFF championship in Duluth, including the pre- and post-game press conferences, the WCHA men's annual awards banquet, and numerous videos dealing with the history of the league. The league office also did a series of PSAs with each member men's and women's head coaches on the subject of sportsmanship and fan behavior at games. The league's on-line store – the WCHA shop – continues a productive partnership with SportDesigns.com and features a full range of product from all men's and women's member schools, as well as international merchandise, NHL merchandise and historical DVDs available.

Under the leadership and guidance of Commissioner Bruce M. McLeod and Associate Commissioner Sara R. Martin, the Western Collegiate Hockey Association proudly celebrates it's 57th season of men's competition and 10th in women's competition in 2008-09 with prospects for another tremendously competitive campaign being extremely bright.

2007-08 WCHA Men's Season Highlights

The 2007-08 Western Collegiate Hockey Association campaign concluded just 10 days ago and a look back at the league's 56th season of on-ice competition finds another in a long line of successes.

Although the WCHA fell short of adding to its record total of 36 national team championships, conference-member clubs, student-athletes, coaches and alumni once again figured prominently in headlines throughout the course of the year.

For the fourth consecutive season, the University of North Dakota earned a berth in the NCAA Men's Frozen Four, which was played April 10-12 at Pepsi Center (18,007) in Denver, Colo., and hosted by league-member University of Denver. The Fighting Sioux fell to eventual champion Boston College in the first national semi-final as head coach Dave Hakstol became only the third coach ever to lead his first four teams to berths in the Frozen Four. For the UND program, it was their 23rd appearance overall in the national tournament and 18th in the Frozen Four.

The WCHA also placed a Division 1 conference record six teams into this season's NCAA tournament, with North Dakota earning the No. 2 seed for the Midwest Regional in Madison, regular season champion and MacNaughton Cup-winner Colorado College earning the No. 2 seed for the West Regional in Colorado Springs, Colo., 2008 Red Baron™ WCHA Final Five and Broadmoor Trophy-champion University of Denver earning the No. 2 seed in the Midwest Regional, St. Cloud State University earning the No. 2 seed for the East Regional in Albany, N.Y., University of Minnesota earning the No. 3 seed for the Northeast Regional in Worcester, Mass., and University of Wisconsin earning the No. 3 seed for the Midwest Regional.

At the conclusion of the Frozen Four, the WCHA's non-conference record for 2007-08 stood at an impressive 49-22-10 for a .667 winning percentage. Over the past eight seasons, Western Collegiate Hockey Association-member teams are now a collective 397-175-64 vs teams from the five other Division 1 men's conferences over 636 games, for a winning percentage of .675.

In the two final 2007-08 Div. 1 men's college hockey polls, the WCHA was well represented, having seven teams ranked among the nation's top clubs, with two others earning votes. In the final USA Today poll, North Dakota was No. 4, Colorado College was No. 8, Denver was No. 9, Minnesota was No. 12, Wisconsin was No. 13, St. Cloud State was No. 14, and Minnesota State was No. 15.

And in the final Div. 1 Men's Pairwise Rankings, issued by USCHO.com, nine of the WCHA's 10-member teams were ranked among the top 25. North Dakota was No. 3, Colorado College was No. 5, Denver was tied at No. 6, St. Cloud State was No. 8, Minnesota was No. 11, Wisconsin was No. 12, Minnesota State was tied at No. 13, Minnesota Duluth was tied at No. 18, and Michigan Tech was at No. 24.

In home attendance numbers, the WCHA again led the nation after topping the 1.5 million mark for a record sixth straight season. The league and it's member teams drew 1,508,499 fans to 207 games, an average of 7,317 per game. 2007-08 also marked the 15th consecutive season the WCHA has drawn in excess of 1,000,000 fans.

The 2008 Red Baron™ WCHA Final Five, held March 20-22 at Xcel Energy Center in Saint Paul, Minn., and won by the Denver Pioneers for the third time in the past seven seasons – drew a total attendance of 85,855, the third highest total in the 16-year history of this tournament format. Included in the total was a record-setting Thursday night sellout crowd of 19,232. The Final Five was again telecast live across the country by Fox Sports Net North and audiocast live via WCHA.CSTV.com.

The WCHA also captured the 2007-08 Men's Commissioners' Cup, which represents the six NCAA Div. 1 men's ice hockey conferences. The WCHA went 8-1-1 in the Cup series for 17 points, with Minnesota Duluth's 4-1 road victory at UMass-Lowell on Jan. 26 clinching the title.

In terms of individual honors, the 2007-08 season was again productive for the WCHA and it's member teams. Witness the following achievements:

- Six conference players earned All-American honors as released by the American Hockey Coaches' Association on April 11. Named to the West All-American First Team were Colorado College goaltender Richard Bachman, Colorado College defenseman Jack Hillen, and North Dakota forward T.J. Oshie. Named to the West All-American Second Team from the WCHA were Denver defenseman Chris Butler, St. Cloud State forward Ryan Lasch, and Colorado College forward Chad Rau. Colorado College freshman goaltender Richard Bachman became the second straight WCHA player to earn the HCA (Hockey Commissioners' Association) National Rookie of the Year, joining inaugural season (2006-07) winner Andreas Nodl from SCSU.

- Three players from the WCHA were named among the Top 10 finalists for the annual Hobey Baker Memorial Award. Home to a record 13 Hobey winners overall, the WCHA was represented by North Dakota senior goaltender Jean-Philippe Lamoureux, St. Cloud State sophomore forward Ryan Lasch, and North Dakota junior forward T.J. Oshie.

- The 2007-08 season also saw a record-setting group of 79 men's and women's players named WCHA Scholar-Athletes, with 24 of those being repeat honorees. Repeat honorees among the men's players were Colorado College's Jake Gannon and Scott McCulloch, Denver's Zach Blom,

2007-08 HONORS/STANDINGS

Michigan Tech's Ryan Angelow and Mark Malekoff, Minnesota's Evan Kaufmann and Thomas Pohl, and Minnesota State's Joel Hanson. In the first year of the award, 2005-06, there were 47 honorees while in 2006-07 there were 49.

- Two WCHA-member head coaches – Minnesota State's Troy Jutting and North Dakota's Dave Hakstol – were finalists for the AHCA Men's Ice Hockey Division 1 Coach of the Year. Jutting was the WCHA Coach of the Year. The honor eventually went to Michigan coach Gordon 'Red' Berenson, who played in the WCHA for Michigan from 1959-62 and is one of the WCHA's Top 50 Players in 50 Years.

- Two WCHA players – Denver goaltender Peter Mannino and St. Cloud State forward Marty Mjelleli – were finalists for the Lowe's Senior CLASS Award for 2007-08 with both earning Lowe's All-Senior All-America Team honors.

- WCHA member-team student-athletes also earned six national player of the month honors in 2007-08, as awarded by the Hockey Commissioners' Association. North Dakota goaltender Jean-Philippe Lamoureux was the National Player of the Month for Oct., 2007; Wisconsin forward Kyle Turris was the National Rookie of the Month for Oct., 2007; Colorado College goaltender Richard Bachman was the National Rookie of the Month for both Nov., 2007 and Feb., 2008; and Denver forward Tyler Bozak was the National Rookie of the Month for Dec., 2007.

- A total of 82 student-athletes were named to the men's 2007-08 All-WCHA Academic Team, with 45 of those being repeat honorees.

- North Dakota senior captain and forward Rylan Kaip was the WCHA nominee for the second annual Derek Hines Award, issued by the Hockey Commissioners' Association.

- At the annual WCHA Awards Banquet, held in conjunction with the 2008 Red Baron™ WCHA Final Five in Saint Paul, Colorado College freshman goaltender Richard Bachman was named both WCHA Player of the Year and WCHA Rookie of the Year, becoming the first league player since Curtis Joseph in 1989 to earn both of those honors in a single season. Minnesota State senior forward Joel Hanson earned the WCHA Outstanding Student-Athlete of the Year award, CC senior defenseman Jack Hillen was the WCHA Defensive Player of the Year, St. Cloud State sophomore Ryan Lasch was the WCHA Scoring Champion, North Dakota senior goaltender Jean-Philippe Lamoureux was the WCHA Goaltending Champion, and Troy Jutting of Minnesota State was the WCHA Coach of the Year.

- And as of April 15, a total of five former Western Collegiate Hockey Association players had been named to the United States Men's National Team, for the 2008 IIHF World Championship, to be held in Quebec City, Quebec, and Halifax, Nova Scotia, May 2-18.

DU Hockey History

DU Whips Nodaks 6-2, Wins Ice Crown

By Dick Hilker - Denver Post Sports Writer (The Denver Post - Sunday, March 16, 1958)

MINNEAPOLIS - A super-charged University of Denver team routed North Dakota 6-2 Saturday night to win the national championship of collegiate hockey.

The Pioneers, who shook off a 1-0 first period deficit, put out enough human effort to win two ordinary games as they came pounding back with three quick goals in the second period and three more in the third.

Coach Murray Armstrong's crew saved its best all-around performance of the season for its most important game.

Although beaten three times in four Western Intercollegiate Hockey League games by the Nodaks earlier in the season, the razor-sharp Pioneers skated like demons and passed with precision to defeat their old nemesis.

The pressure of a championship game had little effect on the Redshirts. All six DU goals were scored by different players, but if individuals had to be singled out, they would have to be Jim Brown and Murray Massier, the tournament's most valuable player.

A crowd of 7,878 watched the Pioneers win their first NCAA title as they played in their first tournament in the 11-year history of the event.

Denver had trouble getting started in the first period and trailed 1-0. But the Pioneers loosened up the rugged Sioux defenses with some crisp, long passes and scored three goals in 3:40 midway in the second period.

While 3,000 North Dakota fans sat in silent disbelief, Denver pounded in two consolation goals to make it "no contest."

North Dakota's first period goal came on a 40-foot shot by Ed Thomlinson, which deflected off the skate of a Pioneer defender and slid into the net.

Brown opened Denver's middle period by picking up a loose puck in front of the Sioux cage and drilling a 20-footer into the corner of the net with 7:18 gone.

The Murray Massier-Bruce Walker-Walt Dingwell line, which had scored only three goals in Denver's last five games, scored two goals 19 seconds apart to send the Pioneers into a 3-1 lead.

Walker hit the first one as he swept in on North Dakota goalie Bob Peabody and caged a backhand from close range after a double assist from Dingwell and Massier.

Massier's nifty pass found Dingwell in front of the cage; he hit the net on a picture book play. Ed Zemrau also assisted.

Walker's goal gave DU a 2-1 lead at 10:39, then Dingwell hiked the count with his marker at 10:58.

Ron King of North Dakota got open in front of the DU cage to make it 3-2 with 5:21 gone in the last period.

But Massier, a pressure proof 150-pound sophomore, tapped in the killing goal at 7:18 as he poked the bouncing puck past Peabody.

Barry Sharp, one of only three seniors on the Denver team, and Denny Slinn, tacked on the icing to pad out the score.

Schneck, who made 19 saves in the first two periods, was credited with only two in the final round as Denver dominated offensive play.

DU Atop Pinnacle of College Icers

By Dick Hilker - Denver Post Sports Writer (The Denver Post - Monday, March 21, 1960)

BOSTON - University of Denver now stands unmatched as THE hockey power of American colleges.

The Pioneers wound up their third consecutive highly-successful season Saturday night, winning the NCAA Championship with a 5-3 victory over Michigan Tech.

Five years ago, DU's hockey program tottered precariously following years of frustration.

But then came Coach Murray Armstrong, and after one building season, one of the most impressive records in collegiate annuals.

The accomplishments in the last three seasons:

Two national championships, 74 wins against only 19 losses and six ties and 270,000 paid admissions at DU Arena.

The reasons: Good talent, good coaching, good promotion.

"In the overall picture, I had a lot of good material," Armstrong said in summing up the season. "And I think all of the boys played up to their capability."

"There may never be another college team assembled with as much ability and color as this one."

All but six players on this year's squad return next fall including three Western Collegiate Hockey Association All-stars George Kirkwood, Marty Howe and Bill Masterton, one second-team pick, George Konik, and the club's top goal scorer, Jerry Walker.

Seniors John MacMillan, Bruce Walker, Con Collie, Murray MacDonald, Ray Hamlin and Al Barnhill will be hard to replace, but up from the freshman ranks are a half-dozen topnotch prospects.

Chances of the 1960-61 team matching this season's record are slim, however. The Pioneers won the WCHA title by two full games with a 17-4-1 record, had a 3-0-2 mark against Olympic teams and were 27-4-3 for the entire season.

"We really started to play well against the Olympic teams," Armstrong said. "We got our defense working right and our record against those clubs gave us a big lift. From then on we played good hockey."

The redshirts were not at their superb best in Saturday night's championship game; yet they were the better team in the tension-filled third period.

"I don't think we made a mistake in the last period," Armstrong said, "the boys really skated hard."

Denver trailed 3-2 after two stanzas but tied it up quickly on a sizzling shot by Konik and took the lead with only 1:03 to play on a rebound goal by MacMillan. MacMillan added another tally in the final seconds after the Tech goalie had been removed.

SCRAPING THE ICE - A fan located MacMillan Sunday to give him the game-winning puck. A Tech player threw it in the stands in disgust after MacMillan scored ... The Toronto Maple Leafs are interested in signing MacMillan for next season ... Armstrong gave his tournament championship plaque to George Congrave, a former DU player who was seriously injured in practice two years ago. He would have been a senior on this year's team ... Only half of the squad members returned to Denver Sunday...The others took advantage of spring vacation to either go home to Canada or to Florida ... The tournament held at the Boston Arena was a financial success ... 12,406 fans paid $31,197 - a record for the meet.

At the bottom of the pile, Denver goaltender George Kirkwood makes another save on Michigan Tech. The Pioneers defeated the Huskies 5-3 to capture the school's second national title.

DU Breezes to Hockey Title

By Jim Graham - Denver Post Sports Writer (The Denver Post - Sunday, March 19, 1961)

DENVER - Denver's "dream team" turned the 14th NCAA hockey championship finale into a nightmare for St. Lawrence Saturday night by lambasting the Larries 12-2 at DU Arena.

A deliriously happy crowd of 5,363 watched the Pioneers capture their second straight national title with their finest game of the season.

The triumph marked the Pioneers 30th win in 32 starts overall, and their 25th in a row without a defeat.

They have lost only one game over their last 52 starts over a two-season span.

Heading a host of Pioneer heroes was their all-America center and the tournament's most valuable player, captain Bill Masterton, who scored three goals and two assists.

Defenseman Grant Munro and wing Trent Beatty, both all-tournament choices, tallied two goals and two assists apiece.

Other Pioneers scoring goals in the Denver fusillade were Jerry Walker, all-tournament selection, Jerry Duffus, George Konik, Ken Williamson and Terry Lomnes.

The victory marked the third national championship in four years for Coach Murray Armstrong who has dubbed this "the finest college hockey team I have ever seen."

The Pioneers won their previous titles in 1958 in Minneapolis, and last year in Boston.

A total of 19,826 fans watched the four games in the three-day tournament, a mark surpassed only by the 22,950 who saw the 1958 tourney in Minneapolis.

Walker's goal and three assists firmly established him as the top western college scorer of all time with 85 points. Masterton equaled the former mark of 80 held jointly by Minnesota's John Mayasich and Colorado College's Bill (Red) Hay, now a Chicago Black Hawk star.

Rounding out their Denver careers was the fabulous "Senior Six," composed of Masterton, Konik, Munro, Marty Howe and Paul Josephson.

The Pioneers had 18 assists for a total of 30 points in the contest.

The elated Armstrong, surrounded by well wishers in the dressing room, said "with a bunch of boys like this, you can't miss."

He said he rated the triumph on a par with the thrill he received in tying the Russians 4-4 in Colorado Springs in 1959.

Herb Gallagher, Northeastern University coach and head of the NCAA Hockey Rules Committee said "I've seen a lot of college and amateur teams in my time, but never one that could match this Denver outfit."

The game opened at a furious tempo with seven goals scored in the opening stanza and the crowd roared its approval at the swiftness of action.

St. Lawrence startled DU supporters by taking a 1-0 lead at 1:29 when John Mason's shot from eight feet out caught the left corner of the net.

Masterton hit the right hand corner of the Larries' cage on a six-footer to equalize for Denver at the 3:19 mark.

Beatty sent Denver into the lead at 7:21 when he rebounded Masterton's shot after a similar long shot by Munro.

Walker notched his 56th goal of the season at 12:09 on a pass from Beatty for the third Denver goal of the stanza. But the Larries came right back to narrow the margin to 3-2 when Buster Dower converted all-America Terry Slater's pass on a two-on-one situation at 13:14.

Jerry Duffus blasted home a 50-footer at the 14:51 mark and Masterton grabbed hold of a Munro shot sliding past the St. Lawrence net, whirled and fired the puck past the Larries' goalie for the fifth score at 15:49.

The Pioneers exploded for four more goals in the second period with a quarter of the DU icers breaking into the scoring.

Beatty tallied his second goal of the evening at 5:33 and moments later Munro made it 7-2 when he added another marker at 6:57.

Two penalties to the Larries star defenseman Arlin Parker cost the Saints a pair of goals when Konik scored at 11:36 and Williamson ripped home another marker at 17:47.

The Pioneers added three more goals in the final stanza to complete the rout with Masterton scoring at 10:46, Munro at 12:15, and Lomnes adding the final goal at 16:57.

The period had an added fillip for the fans in the awarding of the second penalty shot in as many weeks to a visiting team.

Konik tripped the Saints' Rollie Anderson at the 5:13 mark. Anderson roared in on Kirkwood on the penalty attempt. But the Pioneer goalie niftily turned the shot aside to the roar of the fans.

DU Sextet Wins NCAA Title

By Dick Connor - Denver Post Sports Writer (The Denver Post - Sunday, March 17, 1968)

DULUTH, Minn. - The University of Denver hockey team survived one of its bitterest battles to capture one of its finest honors here Saturday night, smashing four goals in the final period to beat North Dakota 4-0 and win the fourth NCAA national championship in DU history.

DU's other titles, all under Coach Murray Armstrong, were in 1958, 1960 and 1961, while finishing second twice and third once in seven appearances.

But the victory, Denver's 22nd straight to complete a 28-5-1 season, came like extracting ore from a stubborn vein.

While a crowd of 5,453 sent sound waves rolling through Duluth Arena, the two Western Collegiate Hockey Association teams slammed at each other in one of the season's most bristling defensive duels.

Then just when it appeared things were headed for a possible sudden-death showdown, Denver's Bob Trembecky crashed the Sioux defense for two goals in the third period. It was like removing the key log in a big river jam as the Pioneers, a bit shaky early, took on a vicious smoothness that left no doubts they were now back in the throne room after a seven-year absence.

Goalie Gerry Powers was brilliant in recording the first shutout in NCAA tournament history and earning the meet's most valuable player honors. He vacuumed up everything the Sioux could hurl at him and he and Mike Curran, his North Dakota counterpart, rewarded the near sellout with a tremendous show as each made one fantastic save after another.

The goalies and both defenses packed a season's worth of thrills into the fast but scoreless first two periods.

Denver opened on much the same uncertain and off-key note that featured Pioneer play against Boston College in Thursday's 4-1 semifinal win. Passing was off, DU overskated the puck, and was caught offside to break up timing. But as the game wore on the Pioneers smoothed things out and by the end of the second period, while the Sioux rooters were pleading just above him, Curran was under tremendous pressure.

Terry Abram, John Markis, Terry Ogden and the rest of the Sioux defense hurled back DU sorties at one end of the ice while Dale Zeman, Keith Magnuson, Rich Blanche, Randy Ward, Tim Gould and Ed Hamilton were battering Sioux attackers at the other.

There were frequent spots where two and three hockey sticks just slithered across the ice - with their owners prone following a vicious check. It was no place for the faint-hearted.

Curran and Powers, meanwhile, treated the tournament's first good crowd to superb work in the nets, each meeting and mastering breakaways as well as halting the rapid-fire rebound attempts the Sioux and Pioneers got off on the rare times they could muscle through the other's defense.

DU was outshot and outskated for one of the few times this season in the first 20 minutes when the Sioux bombed Powers for 12 shots on goal while Curran saved six. Both clubs survived penalties in both periods, with North Dakota once escaping a 25-second stretch late in the first period while they were two men down.

All three of Denver's explosive scoring lines figured in the scoring in Denver's march to the crown. Jim Shires rapped home a pair of goals for the Tom Miller line to lead Thursday's win over BC, and then the other two took care of the scoreboard Saturday.

It was Denver's fourth win in five meetings with the Sioux this year.

DU Captures NCAA Ice Crown

By Dick Connor - Denver Post Sports Writer (The Denver Post - Sunday, March 16, 1969)

COLORADO SPRINGS - The University of Denver's irresistible force cracked the immovable object, and the Pioneers captured their fifth NCAA hockey championship with a pressurized 4-3 victory over Cornell here Saturday night.

Third period goals by Bob Trembecky and Tom Miller shattered a tense bitter duel in which Cornell goalie Ken Dryden and Denver's Gerry Powers frustrated the shooters.

Cornell, however, showed they can skate with anyone, as the Big Red turned this 22nd national championship into one of the tightest duels in NCAA hockey history. Cornell twice overcame one-goal leads to tie DU at 1-1 and 2-2.

They struck back late in the third period on a goal by Gordon Lowe, the hero of Friday's win over Michigan Tech. It came with 1:20 left in the game and created a finish that had a record throng of 4,625 on its feet and roaring the entire last 80 seconds.

With DU ahead 4-2 and just nursing the margin with a magnificent defense, a double penalty created an opening. It sent off both Denver's Dale Zeman and Cornell's Daniel Lodboa for roughing, leaving both teams with four men and a goalie on the ice.

Lowe's long slapshot from the left point sailed past Powers 57 seconds later to make it 4-3. Then with 32 seconds left and Denver having to contend with a faceoff to the right of its own net, Cornell's Coach Ned Harkness pulled Dryden and sent in an extra attacker.

This had the effect of leaving Denver a man short for that hectic closing minute. But the Pioneers successfully defended their title and a long clearing pass almost found the open Cornell net 10 seconds from the close.

Powers was mobbed as his happy teammates started to celebrate the Pioneers' fifth title in Coach Murray Armstrong's 13 years on the Hilltop. DU beat North Dakota 4-0 a year ago and also won in 1958, 1960 and 1961.

Cornell, in the tournament for the third straight year, took the 1967 title.

All-American Keith Magnuson and George Morrison touched off another wild roar from the fans when they treated Armstrong to a ride around the rink to a rolling wave of applause.

It was a sparkling team effort on both sides with Denver featuring many of the same architects of its 1968 win. Powers, voted to the all-tournament first team for the second straight year, refused to yield to Cornell's desperate comeback efforts.

Magnuson wrapped up a brilliant college career by leading Denver defense that smothered many Cornell sorties, and Trembecky, who scored the first two goals in the 1968 championship game, delivered the tie-breaker to put DU ahead 3-2 Saturday after scoring twice in Thursday's 9-2 conquest of Harvard.

The clubs finished a swift first period deadlocked at 1-1 after DU seized an early lead on a goal by Tom Gilmore with just 2:41 played and Cornell struck back with a power play score by Lodboa at the midway point.

The Pioneers came out storming and slashed into Cornell to dominate the opening 10 minutes and force Dryden into a half dozen pressure stops from close range.

DU did a good job of forechecking the Cornell wide men to force defensemen to bring the puck up the middle and squeeze them there. It took away the wings the Big Red had used to advantage in Friday's 4-3 overtime conquest of Michigan Tech.

Gilmore scored when he deflected a long shot by Lynn Powis. It first caromed off a Cornell defenseman and then into the nets on the ice off Dryden's glove to touch off the crowd.

But DU's continuing control ended on a call by Referee Andy Gambucci, who whistled Gilmore for tripping behind his own net.

Where DU had failed to capitalize on an early Cornell penalty, the Big Red wasn't about to let the chance slip away. Lodboa tied things when he ricocheted a shot in off the right pipe with 13.9 played.

Cornell again used a defensive lapse by Denver to battle back into a 2-2 tie in a second period that, if anything, was even faster than the first.

Powers and Dryden both met sustained pressure. The Cornell goalkeeper finally succumbed to an overwhelming barrage with DU on the power play midway in the period. Morrison on the left corner of the crease poked home a rebound - his 40th goal of the year - from Tom Miller's three-footer on the right.

Just moments earlier, first Bill Pettinger and then George Morrison had poured shots in on the Big Red goalie from eyeball-to-eyeball range, and Keith Magnuson had forced him in to a kick save on a hard slap from the right point.

But the Big Red, which had dominated stretches of the period, particularly at the start, then caught DU defenseman Ed Hamilton sprawled at mid-ice and sent a two-on-one sweep in on Powers. Brian Cornell, leading scorer for the team all year, was just eight feet in front when he lashed a shot home off a fine feed by Peter Tufford. The goal came with 12:28 played.

Fantastic Finish

By Mike Chambers - Denver Post Sports Writer (The Denver Post - Sunday, April 11, 2004)

BOSTON - It's been 35 years and, for some, too long to remember since collegiate hockey in Denver felt so fine.

With a glorious, yet outdated history in a sport that recently has been dominated in Denver with a capital "A," the Pioneers, on Saturday night, beautifully connected the past to the present with a monumental update against top-ranked Maine in the NCAA championship game.

The Black Bears' 10-game winning streak is history, and DU traditionalist and current crop of young followers feel a Mile High.

"Wow," DU coach George Gwozdecky said. "It's a great story."

Before the largest hockey crowd in FleetCenter history (18,597), DU got a goal from sophomore Gabe Gauthier midway through the first period and sensational goaltending from Adam Berkhoel (24 saves) to topple Maine 1-0 in what might be its biggest victory ever.

The Pioneers (27-12-5) are national champions for the sixth time, but first since 1969.

"We're very proud," said Gwozdecky, whose team withstood a 6-on-3 disadvantage in the final minute to preserve its lead. "The way the game finished, I thought was pretty symbolic of the way our season has been. We haven't made it easy."

DU went 5-0 since being eliminated from the first round of the Western Collegiate Hockey Association playoffs. The Pioneers allowed just five goals during that span, which included upsets over WCHA champion North Dakota (1-0) and league runner-up Minnesota Duluth (5-3). The Pioneers, who stood seventh in the 10-team WCHA in January, went 13-2-2 in their final 17 games.

"Looking back when it was darkest for us back in January, this team was led by our captain, Ryan Caldwell," Gwozdecky said. "He showed great, great leadership, great character and we persevered and battled back in January and February, and again tonight in that last minute and a half."

Berkhoel, a senior, was named Most Outstanding Player of the tournament, and he was joined on the all-tournament team by Caldwell, a senior defenseman, and DU senior forward Connor James.

James, who returned to the lineup in Thursday's Frozen Four semifinal after missing nearly five weeks with a broken leg, assisted on Gauthier's team-leading 18th goal 12:26 into the first period.

After James outworked a defender to gain control of the puck in the corner, he found Gauthier at the top of the crease. Gauthier, who had no defender near him, found an opening through Jimmy Howard's legs and wristed the puck past the All-American goalie. Howard, the ringleader to the NCAA's top-rated defense, led the country in goals-against average (1.19) and saves percentage (.957) coming into the game.

"Words can't describe how I'm feeling," said James, who figured his collegiate career was over after fracturing his right fibula on March 5. "We have every piece of the puzzle, every type of player, and we are a close-knit team. I'm pretty pumped up right now. It's the most exciting thing to happen to me."

DU's tally came 7:21 following Maine's disallowed goal. The Black Bears, after seemingly capitalizing on the first penalty of the game, had what looked like an honest goal by Derek Damon waved off because another Maine player had a skate in the crease.

"Anytime something like that happens it usually shifts the momentum," Maine coach Tim Whitehead said. "I haven't seen the replay so I can't comment, but there are lots of swings in momentum in the game. Not too many when the score is 1-0."

The unforgiving rule was abandoned by the NHL a few years ago.

"That was the turning point of the game, and they deserved that goal," Berkhoel said. "I'm not saying I want to give them the championship... but I really feel that they weren't obstructing me and scored a legitimate goal that I didn't read very well."

The Pioneers, who were 20-3 when leading after two periods, made it interesting in the waning minutes. Junior defenseman Matt Laatsch and Gauthier took penalties with 2:09 left in the game and 35 seconds later to allow Maine to finish the period on a 5-on-3 power play. The Black Bears pulled Howard for a sixth attacker with 1:18 left, doubling their arsenal compared to DU.

"Your best penalty killer is your goalie, Caldwell said. "It was fun hanging on behind him and letting him go."

Some errant Bears' passes, terrific Berkhoel saves and a few gutsy blocked shots by DU forwards, preserved the lead and led to a wild celebration, fitting for a team that wasn't expected to be here.

"To see a group of guys come so far over a long season is just amazing to me," Caldwell said.

Maine (33-8-3) also lost in the 2002 title game to Minnesota. "Obviously, it hurts a lot to have been here twice over the last three years and come up one goal short each time," Whitehead said. "But it was a tremendous win for Denver. They showed a lot of courage and a lot of heart to even get this far and to win it in a great game."

Prodigies on Ice Repeat DU's Feat

By Mike Chambers - Denver Post Sports Writer (The Denver Post - Sunday, April 10, 2005)

COLUMBUS, Ohio - Back-to-back, baby!

Freshmen goalie Peter Mannino and classmate Paul Stastny watched the University of Denver capture the 2004 NCAA hockey championship as wide-eyed signed recruits.

Saturday, the rookies signed, sealed and delivered the Pioneers to their second consecutive national title and seventh in program history by spearheading a 4-1 victory over North Dakota in the finale of the Frozen Four.

Mannino had a career-high 44 saves before a Value City Arena crowd of 17,155. And Stastny, a second-line center, had two goals and one assist.

The son of former NHL Hall of Famer Peter Stastny notched the game-winner midway through the second period and gave the Pioneers a two-goal cushion 8:19 into the third.

"Our freshmen stepped up tonight and just really played well," said DU senior wing Luke Fulghum of Colorado Springs. "This is such an unbelievable feeling. I cannot put into words how special this moment feels right now."

Mannino and Stastny made the all-Frozen Four team along with DU defensemen Brett Skinner and Matt Carle and center Gabe Gauthier, who added an empty-net goal to finish as the NCAA Tournament's leading scorer with five goals and 11 points in four games.

Mannino followed former DU goalie Adam Berkhoel as Most Outstanding Player.

"Seeing Berkhoel do this last year gave me a goal," said Mannino, who is 18-4-1 in his young career. "I dreamed about it. I set goals real high, especially after seeing how well our team was playing at mid-season."

DU finished 32-9-2 and on a nine-game winning streak. The Pioneers, who began defense of their crown 5-5, have won eight consecutive NCAA Tournament games and are now tied with North Dakota (25-15-5) with the country's second most titles. Michigan leads with nine.

"We're kind of like Tiger Woods of golf right now," said Fulghum, who had two goals in Thursday's Frozen Four semifinal win over Colorado College. "We're really getting it done. They had a lot of doubts about us last year, and we snuck up on them. But this year, everyone wanted a shot at us and we still got it done."

"Knowing the kind of player I was, I marvel at most players," Gwozdecky joked. "But kidding aside, this freshman class that Steve Miller and Seth Appert put together a few years ago in my mind is the best freshman class in our 11 years at Denver and perhaps the most effective freshmen class that I've ever had the opportunity to coach."

Denver led 1-0 early and 2-1 going into the second period. The seven-time NCAA champion finished the season 26-1-1 when scoring first and 30-0-1 when tied or leading after two periods.

Jeff Drummond also scored for DU. He followed a Kevin Ulanski shot from beside the net that caromed off Sioux defenseman Matt Smaby's skate and hammered the loose puck in to make it 1-0 6:15 into the game.

North Dakota tied it at 9:52 on the power play. Travis Zajac redirected a Nick Fuher shot through Mannino's legs. But at 10:08 of the second period, Stastny, skating between the circles on the power play, made it 2-1 with a roofed-redirect of Ulanski's slap shot from the point.

Stastny made it 3-1 with 11:41 to go in regulation with a one-timer from the right circle and Gauthier produced his team-leading 26th goal in the final minute.

Mannino made 23 saves in the third period.

"Manno' looks older than me and he's so mature," said DU senior and captain Matt Laatsch. "He's our on-ice leader and he calms guys down and is an opposing force back there. Stastny, same type of deal. He plays like senior and he has a great touch for the puck and knack for the net. Both those guys are future NHLers."

DU improved to 7-2 in NCAA title games and 25-13 in all national tournament contests. The Pioneers are 4-1 against the Sioux on the national stage. The teams also played for the 1958, 1963 and 1968 NCAA championships.

DU has won every time but 1963.

The MacNaughton Cup

Dating back more than 90 years to its original purchase in 1913, handcrafted of pure silver, standing three-feet high, and weighing more than 40 pounds, the MacNaughton Cup is the shining symbol of the Western Collegiate Hockey Association, and of its long-time standing as one of college hockey's premier conferences.

The MacNaughton Cup is awarded annually to the winner of the regular season championship, and as a traveling trophy, is on display throughout the course of each season at the home of the previous year's winner.

The MacNaughton Cup has gone to the WCHA's regular season winner on all but seven occasions since 1951. In 1962, 1963, 1964 and 1965, the Cup was presented to the league playoff winner. In 1982, 1983 and 1984, the trophy left the league with MacNaughton Cup custodian Michigan Tech and went to the champion of the CCHA.

Since the league's founding in 1951, nine different member schools have won the MacNaughton Cup, while Colorado College (1994, 1995 and 1996) and North Dakota (1997 co-, 1998 and 1999) are the only schools to have won the trophy three straight times. The Pioneers rank second in the WCHA with 12 MacNaughton Cups and third with 11 regular-season championships.

The Broadmoor Trophy

One of the Western Collegiate Hockey Association's two major championship trophies is the statuette and highly sought-after Broadmoor Trophy, which has been awarded annually since 1985 to the winner of the conference's postseason playoff championship tournament.

The Broadmoor Trophy itself dates to 1981 when it was first presented to the conference by the world-renowned Broadmoor Hotel and Resort Complex in Colorado Springs, Colo.

For the first three seasons of its partnership with the WCHA (1981-1984) – and due to the departure of league member and MacNaughton Cup (regular season championship trophy) custodian Michigan Tech to the CCHA – the Broadmoor Trophy was presented to the Association's regular season champion.

But when the Huskies returned to the WCHA fold in 1984 – with the MacNaughton Cup in hand – the Broadmoor Trophy became, and has remained since, the symbol of the league's postseason tournament championship.

Long an ardent supporter of college hockey, the Broadmoor Hotel included the former Broadmoor World Arena, which hosted the NCAA Ice Hockey Championship a total of 11 times between 1948 and 1969.

Denver leads all WCHA schools with 15 playoff championships after defeating Minnesota 2-1 in the 2008 WCHA Final Five title contest.

- Senior captain Paul Comrie named All-American.
- Oct. 15 - Pioneers play their first game in the new Magness Arena. Freshman Aaron MacKenzie nets the first Denver goal ever scored at Magness, helping lead the Pioneers to the championship in the Ice Breaker Tournament.

2000

- Feb. 27 - Pioneers defeat Bemidji State, 7-1, to post the 1,000th victory in Pioneer hockey history.
- March 4 - Goaltender Steve Wagner plays in his record-breaking 121st game as a Pioneer, eclipsing the mark held previously by Ron Grahame.
- Dec. 30 - Pioneers regain the Denver Cup with victories over Air Force and Providence.
- Pioneers post an 11-game unbeaten streak from November 17, 2000 to January 13, 2001, going 9-0-2 in that stretch.

- Jan. 19 - Pioneers set record with the largest crowd ever for a hockey game at Magness Arena (seating capacity 6,028 for hockey) with 6,188.
- Jan. 26 and 28 - Denver netminders Adam Berkhoel and Wade Dubielewicz team up to post the first-ever back-to-back shutouts in Pioneer history, blanking Alabama-Huntsville 4-0 (Jan. 26) and 3-0 (Jan. 28).
- March 3 - Goalie Wade Dubielewicz earns the WCHA Goaltending Title after posting a 2.24 goals against average in WCHA-only action.

- Nov. 24 - Denver defeats Vermont 4-1 to extend its school best nine-game winning streak to start the season.
- March 9 - The Pioneers rout Michigan Tech 8-1 and advance to the WCHA Final Five Championship in St. Paul, Minn.
- March 16 - Denver defeats Minnesota 5-2 to win their unprecedented 13th Broadmoor Trophy in the WCHA Playoff Championship in St. Paul, Minn. It marks the first time since 1990-91 that a WCHA team has won the MacNaughton Cup and Broadmoor Trophy in the same season.
- Head Coach George Gwozdecky is named WCHA Coach of the Year and is runner-up to Maine's Tim Whitehead for the Spencer Penrose Award for national coach of the year.
- Goalie Wade Dubielewicz is named first-team All-WCHA and second-team All-American. He also set single-season Denver records in goals against average (1.72) and saves percentage (.943). His career 2.14 goals against average is also tops in the Denver record books.

2003

- Oct. 12 - The No. 3 Pioneers open the season by winning the Nebraska-Omaha Stampede Tournament Championship. Luke Fulghum's game-winning goal gives Denver a 3-2 victory over Nebraska-Omaha in the championship game. Connor James, Aaron MacKenzie, Wade Dubielewicz and Fulghum are named to the All-Tournament team.
- Dec. 27-28 - No. 8 Denver defeats No. 13 Miami (6-0) and No. 4 New Hampshire (4-0) to capture its ninth Wells Fargo Denver Cup Championship. Connor James, Aaron MacKenzie, Jussi Halme, Kevin Doell (MVP) and Adam Berkhoel are named to the All-Tournament team.
- Aaron MacKenzie earns WCHA Co-Defensive Player of the Year and All-WCHA First-Team honors. Seniors Wade Dubielewicz (second team) and Kevin Doell (third team) are also All-WCHA selections.
- Aaron MacKenzie is named the University of Denver's Male Athlete of the Year.

2004

- Oct. 18 - George Gwozdecky becomes only the second coach in DU history to compile 200 wins with the Pioneers after his team defeats Northeastern 6-3.
- Dec. 15 - DU hockey legend Keith Magnuson dies in a car accident outside Toronto.
- March 5 - The Pioneers cap a nine-game unbeaten streak with a 3-2 win against Colorado College, winning the Gold Pan from their state rival for the first time in five years.
- March 26 - Three defensemen - Ryan Caldwell, Matt Laatsch and Brett Skinner - score all the goals in a 3-2 victory against Miami of Ohio in the first game of the West Regional. It is DU's first win in the NCAA tournament since 1997.
- March 27 - The Pioneers win the West Regional with a thrilling 1-0 win against North Dakota. Luke Fulghum scores DU's goal by re-directing a Max Bull shot with 2:29 remaining, and Adam Berkhoel makes 33 saves as DU advances to the Frozen Four for the first time since 1986.
- April 8 - DU uses four third-period goals to rally for a 5-3 win against WCHA rival Minnesota Duluth in the national semifinals. DU advances to the national championship game for the first time since 1973.
- April 10 - The Pioneers win their first national championship in 35 years with a 1-0 win against Maine. Adam Berkhoel, who was named the Most Outstanding Player of the Frozen Four, stops all 24 shots to earn his seventh shutout of the season, matching DU's single-season record.
- April 12 - Head coach George Gwozdecky earns his second Spencer Penrose Award as National Coach of the Year.
- June 4 - Adam Berkhoel becomes the first Pioneer to earn USA Hockey College Player of the Year.
- July 21 - Crimson & Gold: The Denver Pioneers' Magical Run to the 2004 National Championship book by author Pat Rooney is released at Tattered Cover in Denver.

Luke Fulghum's game-winning goal in Denver's 1-0 win over top-ranked North Dakota in Colorado Springs vaulted the 2004-05 Pioneers to the Frozen Four.

2005

- Oct. 9 - The Pioneers open their 56th season of varsity hockey with a 5-2 loss against Minnesota at the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame game at Xcel Center in St. Paul, Minn.
- Jan. 2 - Goaltender Peter Mannino earns his first career shutout with 37 saves and forward Paul Stastny earns Most Valuable Player honors after leading Denver to its 11th Wells Fargo Denver Cup championship with a 4-0 win over Northeastern.
- March 4 - The Pioneers claim a share of the WCHA regular-season championship with a 5-0 win over top-ranked Colorado College. Peter Mannino records his fourth shutout of the season with 31 saves as Denver retains possession of the Gold Pan for the second consecutive season.
- March 17 - Head coach George Gwozdecky claims his third WCHA Coach of the Year, while Paul Stastny (Rookie of the Year), Matt Carle (first-team All-WCHA) and Brett Skinner (first-team All-WCHA) are also honored by the league.
- March 18 - Head coach George Gwozdecky captures his 400th career win and Gabe Gauthier scores both Pioneer goals, including the game-winner in overtime, as Denver defeats North Dakota, 2-1, in the semifinals of the Red Baron WCHA Final Five.
- March 19 - Luke Fulghum scores the game-winning goal and Peter Mannino stops all 25 shots for his fifth shutout of the season as Denver defeats Colorado College, 1-0, in the championship game of the Red Baron WCHA Final Five. Denver's 14th playoff title tops all WCHA schools.
- April 7 - Denver tallies six power-play goals in a 6-2 win over Colorado College in the semifinals at the NCAA Frozen Four. The win vaults Denver into the national championship game against North Dakota.
- April 9 - Paul Stastny scores two goals and Peter Mannino makes a career-high 44 saves as the Pioneers defeat North Dakota, 4-1, for its seventh NCAA National Championship. Mannino claims Frozen Four Most Outstanding Player honors, while Matt Carle, Gabe Gauthier, Brett Skinner and Stastny earn all-tournament accolades.

- March 2 - DU secures the Gold Pan Trophy for the third consecutive season with its six consecutive win over in-state rival Colorado College.
- March 3 - Paul Stastny becomes first DU Pioneer to win the WCHA Scoring Title since Dave Shields in 1989-90.
- March 16 - Matt Carle becomes first player in WCHA history to be named Player of the Year and Defensive Player of the Year in the same season. Paul Stastny joins Carle on the All-WCHA first team.
- April 6 - Matt Carle earns second consecutive consensus All-America honor, while Paul Stastny nets his first All-America award.
- April 7 - Matt Carle becomes the first DU player to earn the prestigious Hobey Baker Memorial Award as the nation's top player.
- April 7 - Matt Carle becomes the second DU player to earn USA Hockey's College Player of the Year award.

2007

- Jan. 19 - Goaltender Glenn Fisher ends Minnesota's 21-game home unbeaten streak with a sterling 31-save shutout effort in DU's 1-0 win.
- Feb. 23 - The Pioneers defeat North Dakota 4-3 in overtime to record their sixth consecutive 21-win season and fourth consecutive 13-win WCHA season.

Matt Carle became the first Pioneer and just the fifth defenseman to earn the Hobey Baker Memorial Award in 2006.

2008

- Feb. 29 - Goaltender Peter Mannino breaks Gerry Powers' career shutouts mark with his 14th career shutout in Denver's 1-0 win at Michigan Tech.
- March 22 - Denver defeats Minnesota 2-1 for its WCHA-leading 15th WCHA playoff championship at Xcel Energy Center in St. Paul, Minn.
- March 29 - The Pioneers advance to their 19th NCAA Tournament and first since 2005, but drop a 6-2 decision to Wisconsin at the NCAA Midwest Regional at Kohl Center in Madison, Wis. The Pioneers end their season with a 26-14-1 record, marking their seventh consecutive season with 21 or more wins.

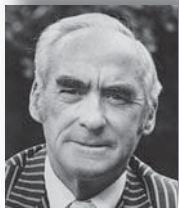

Vern Turner (1949-51)
15-24-1 (.367)

Vern Turner was the first coach to lead a varsity hockey program at Denver. Turner was born in Staner, Ontario. He began his playing career at the age of 12 in 1911 and played 23 years as a goalie. His playing days included seasons with the Duluth Hornets, where he was named an all-star goalie from 1913 to 1926. Prior to his appointment as head coach at Denver, he served as the rink manager and advisory coach. Before coming to Denver, Turner was manager of the Broadmoor Ice Palace in Colorado Springs, Colo., for seven years. At the Broadmoor, he was responsible for putting the Ice Palace on the map. Turner also organized hockey leagues for grade school, high school and college students.

Neil Celley (1951-56)
81-43-6 (.646)

Neil Celley was the youngest mentor in the game when he assumed the head coaching job in Denver at the age of 24. A native of Eveleth, Minn., Celley won all-state honors at Eveleth High School before starring at the University of Michigan for four years (1947-51). He earned NCAA all-tournament team honors in 1950-51 when the Wolverines defeated Brown 7-1 for their first national title. Celley led all Michigan scorers that season, earning All-American accolades and the team's most valuable player award. In a strange quirk of fate, he notched a hat trick against Denver during the 1951 regular season and coached some of those same Pioneers to victory over his alma mater the following year. Celley was also a member of the 1948 U.S. Olympic team that competed in St. Moritz, Switzerland.

Murray Armstrong (1956-77)
460-215-31 (.674)

One of the greatest coaches to teach the college game, "The Chief" led the Pioneers to 11 NCAA Frozen Four appearances, including five national championships and three second-place finishes. Guiding his teams to eight WCHA titles, the Pioneers surpassed Armstrong's minimum expectation level of a .500 winning percentage 18 of 21 seasons. He played in the NHL for the Toronto Maple Leafs, New York Americans, and Detroit Red Wings from 1936-46. From 1947-56, he coached the Regina Pats at the Canadian Junior A level before arriving in Denver. Among the many highlights of Armstrong's coaching career are the first national title in 1958, the historic 4-4 tie with the Russian National Team in 1959, the 1960-61 squad which posted an incredible 30-1-1 record, the 1959-60 tie and victory over the eventual gold-medal U.S. Olympic Team, and the dramatic 4-3 upset win over Cornell for the 1969 NCAA championship. Twice honored as WCHA Coach of the Year (1960-61, 67-68), he also copped the Spencer Penrose Award as the NCAA Division I Coach of the Year in 1961. Armstrong's contributions to the game did not go unnoticed by the National Hockey League - in 1977 he was awarded the Lester Patrick Trophy for "outstanding service to hockey in the United States." One of the finest tributes paid to Armstrong upon his retirement came from longtime-Denver sportswriter Dick Connor, who said, "He has been to college hockey what only a handful ever are to other sports--a John Wooden to basketball, for instance, a Woody Hayes or Bear Bryant to football. An era ends. We won't see another like him." On August 3, 1990, a life-size bronze sculpture of Armstrong was unveiled in conjunction with the Pioneer Hockey 40th Reunion. Sculpted by former Pioneer hockey player Steve Landis ('67), the statue is now featured in the Ritchie Center's west concourse. Today, Armstrong resides with his wife, Freda, in Venice, Fla.

Marshall Johnston (1977-81)
89-63-7 (.582)

Marshall Johnston guided the Pioneers for four seasons before becoming an assistant coach with the NHL's New Jersey Devils in 1981. Johnston played right wing under Murray Armstrong as a student at the University from 1959-63. He captained the Pioneer squad in 1962-63 that captured a WCHA title and placed second in the NCAA Tournament. Johnston played on the 1964 Canadian Olympic squad and captained

Canada's 1968 bronze-medal team. Following his Olympic years, Johnston played professionally in the Minnesota North Stars organization (1968-70) and for the California Seals (1971-73). He became the Seals' head coach in 1974 before returning to Denver again in 1975 to assist his former mentor, Murray Armstrong. When Armstrong retired after the '76-77 campaign, Johnston was named head coach. He led the Pioneers to a 33-6-1 mark and a ninth WCHA championship, earning him '77-78 WCHA Coach of the Year honors. The 33 victories and .846 winning percentage were the second highest in school history, but the team was denied a trip to the NCAA Frozen Four due to a mandatory one-year probation issued by the NCAA. Johnston was the general manager of the National Hockey League's Ottawa Senators three seasons ago and was most recently the Director of Player Evaluation for the Chicago Blackhawks.

Ralph Backstrom (1981-90)
182-174-14 (.511)

Ralph Backstrom coached the Pioneers to six winning seasons during his nine-year tenure. Backstrom came to Denver after an outstanding professional career in the NHL (six Stanley Cup championships with the Montreal Canadiens) and the WHA. He was an assistant coach at Denver for three seasons (1977-80) and for the NHL's Los Angeles Kings (1980-81) before assuming the head job at DU. Backstrom's finest year was 1985-86 when he coached the Pioneers to the WCHA regular season and playoff championships, and an NCAA Frozen Four appearance in Providence, R.I. The team's 34 wins marked the most victories in a season by a Pioneer team. Backstrom earned WCHA Coach of the Year honors and garnered the Spencer Penrose Award as the NCAA Division I ice hockey coach of the year. He was the head coach of the International Hockey League's Phoenix Roadrunners in the early 1990s before serving as president of Roller Hockey International, a roller-hockey league he founded. He currently resides in Denver and scouts for the St. Louis Blues and owns the Colorado Eagles of the Central Hockey League.

Frank Serratore (1990-94)

Frank Serratore helped bring a struggling program back to respectability on and off the ice. Taking over a program that was outdated in many respects compared to other top Division I programs, Frank took the program into the 21st century. He made great improvements to the hockey facilities, upgrading the DU Arena appearance and the locker room, while adding a first-class weight room and players' lounge. He strengthened the relationship with alumni by tapping into the Pioneers' rich hockey tradition. He was responsible for the erection of the Murray Armstrong statue that used to sit outside of the DU Arena, as well as for the photo plaques of all the Pioneers' All-Americans, Olympians and professional players that decorated the walls around the lobby of the arena. The greatest success of the Serratore era was fan support. In his first season, home attendance had dipped to a low 70-percent capacity level. When his tenure ended, attendance was up to a 93-percent capacity level, one of the top marks in the nation for Division I hockey. Although his record didn't show it, Serratore began the process of returning Denver to national prominence. He recruited two players currently in the NHL and presently serves as the head hockey coach at the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Since the beginning of University of Denver hockey in 1949, 34 individuals have been recognized with 41 All-American honors. From that group of 34, seven players earned All-America status twice. The first were Marty Howe and Bill Masterton in 1960 and 1961, as they led the Pioneers to back-to-back national titles. The others who received the prestigious honor twice were Wayne Smith (1965, 1966), Jim Wiste (1967, 1968), Keith Magnuson (1968, 1969), George Morrison (1969, 1970) and 2006 Hobey Baker Award winner Matt Carle (2005, 2006).

The first Denver player to receive the honor was defenseman Eddie Miller in 1952. Six Pioneers have earned All-American honors since 2002. Goaltender Wade Dubielewicz (2002), defensemen Ryan Caldwell (2004), Matt Carle (2005, 2006), Brett Skinner (2005) and Chris Butler (2008), and forwards Gabe Gauthier (2005) and Paul Stastny (2006) have earned All-American status under head coach George Gwozdecky. Dubielewicz was named second-team All-America after posting a 20-4 record with a 1.72 goals against average and .943 saves percentage in 2001-02, and Caldwell was named a first-team JOFA All-American in 2004 after scoring 15 goals to lead Denver to its first NCAA title since 1969. Carle, Skinner and Gauthier were named CCM West All-Americans after helping the Pioneers to back-to-back NCAA national championships in 2005. Carle and Paul Stastny earned RBK West All-America honors in 2006.
