Head Coach & Player Awards and Accolades
2022 - KJ Hunt - All-Summit League Newcomer Team, All-Summit League Honorable Mention
2023 - Tommy Bruner - All-Summit League Newcomer Team, All-Summit League Honorable Mention

2022-23 Season
Denver continued to build in its success in year two under Wulbrun, improving to a 15-17, the most by the program since 2017-18. The Pioneers posted the best start in program history, going 8-1 through nine games. Under Wulbrun's guidance, DU became a tough team to beat at home, posting a 9-5 record in Hamilton Gymnasium, the best home record by a Denver team since 2017-18.

The Crimson and Gold set more accolades with Wulbrun in his second season: Denver posted a six-game winning streak from Nov. 18 to Dec. 4, longest by the team since December of 2016 (six games), notching a 6-1 record in the month of November, which was the most wins by team in a month since December of 2016, recorded back-to-back double-digit win seasons since 2016-18, and scoring 72.7 points per game as a team on the year, the most since 2017-18.

Wulbrun's balanced scoring attack continued to improve in 2022-23, recording the first season in the Pioneers' Division I history to have five players average at least 10.0 points per game for the year.

Wulburn continued to show his skill with point guards with the development of Tommy Bruner. The junior made an impact this season for the Pioneers in his debut year, becoming the first player in Denver's Division I era to average at least 15.5 points and 4.1 assists per game for a single season, resulting in a selection to the All-Summit League Newcomer Team and All-Summit League Honorable Mention. Wulbrun also helped with the development of Touko Tainamo, who posted his best statistics on and off court, earning Summit League All-Academic honors, the first Pioneer to make the team since 2018.

The second-year coach also was able to reunite with his old big man from Stanford, Lukas Kisunas. As a graduate student, the 6-foot-10 forward had his best collegiate season with Wulbrun, posting career highs in points (10.2), rebounds (5.4) and assists (1.3). Kisunas also tied for first in the NCAA in in total number of games with at least 10 points on 80 percent shooting-or-better this year with 10 games.

2021-22 Season
Wulbrun led a resurgence in the Pioneer program in his first season in charge in 2021-22. The first-year head coach led the Pioneers to double-digit wins (11), the most by the program since the 2017-18 season. The nine-win improvement tied the most from one season to the next in the program's DI era (1998-pres.)

That wouldn't be the only milestone Wulbrun hit in his debut coaching season, he guided the Pioneers to seven Summit League wins, matching the total of the three previous seasons combined. Wulbrun also got his team to get it done on the road, picking up four road wins in year one with DU, matching the total of the previous four years combined. The victory at the Kansas City on Jan. 17 snapped a 42-game road losing streak that dated back to Dec. 11, 2018.

He also got the Crimson and Gold to post back-to-back wins for the first time since 2019 and first set of back-to-back road victories since Dec. 10th (at Air Force) and 13th (at South Alabama) back in 2016.

Under Wulbrun's guidance, the Pioneers were a much more competitive team, resulting in multiple sweeps of a Summit League opponent (North Dakota and St. Thomas) for the first time since 2017-18.

On offense, DU showed a level of efficiency not seen in some time, posting the highest scoring output (70.5) since 2017-18, highlighted by the team having the highest field goal percentage (46.0), made 3s (232), three-point percentage (36.8) and assists (397) in years for the program. Denver also dialed it up in league play, averaging 74.4 points per game, its best scoring output in league play since 2016-17.

The rise in play was powered by players all brought in by Wulbrun and his staff, starting with transfer KJ Hunt. Under Wulbrun, Hunt posted career highs in points per game (15.1), rebounds (4.4), assists (3.4), field goal percentage (43.0), free throw percentage (78.8), 3s made (27), total assists (103) and total steals (33). Hunt was selected to the Summit League All-Newcomer Team along with earning honorable mention All-Summit League honors.

Wulbrun also delivered with one of the best freshmen classes in Pioneer history with Tevin Smith, Coban Porter and Touko Tainamo. The trio made a major impact in year one with each have huge moments throughout the season. Smith, DU's highest rated recruit to sign coming out high school ever, showcased his athletic abilities, getting 33 blocks on the season, the most by a Pioneer since Chris Udofia in 2013-14. Smith also made history, becoming the only player in college basketball this season to score at least 23 points and grab 10 rebounds while not missing a shot (7-7 FG, 8-8 FT) in a 63-53 win at Kansas City.

Smith also became the first Denver freshman to ever win Summit League Player of the Week award back on Jan. 24. He was the first true freshman to win the award in the league since South Dakota State's David Jenkins did back on Jan. 22, 2018.
Porter came in and provided elite-level shooting to the program immediately. The sharpshooting guard was just one of four players in all the NCAA freshmen class to make at least 70 3s on the year while shooting at least 41.3 percent as of Mar. 5. The Columbia, Mo. native led the Summit League in 3-point percentage for the season at 41.3 percent.

Porter's 71 3s made rank tied for eighth out of all freshmen in the NCAA and set a new freshman record for DU in its DI era (1998-pres.). The freshmen also provided a scoring option off the bench with his 11.4 points per game average being the highest by a DU freshman since Joe Rosga's 12.7 in 2015-16.

Tainamo brought efficient post play not seen by the Pioneers in a while. The Helsinki, Finland native was the first Denver freshman to record at least 20 points and 10 rebounds in a game on Dec. 20 against Western Illinois since Chris Udofia did it back on Jan. 15, 2011.

Tainamo recorded his second double-double of the season against Kansas City on Jan. 27, finishing with 15 points and 15 rebounds, first player since Daniel Amigo (24 points, 16 rebounds) to get at least 15 points and 15 rebounds in a game back on Nov. 25, 2017. His three double-doubles are the most by a Pioneer since Ade Murkey (4) in 2019-20 and most by a DU freshman since Royce O'Neale back in 2011-12.

Previous Coaching History

Wulbrun, who owns nearly three decades of experience as a basketball coach, spent five seasons at Stanford prio to coming to Denver. After serving the first two years as an assistant coach, Wulbrun was elevated to the James C. Gaither Associate Head Coach of Men's Basketball prior to the 2018-19 season.

Working directly with the Cardinal forwards and centers, post play has been one of Wulbrun's specialties for over 30 years. He has developed a plethora of All-Pac-12 performers at Stanford, including Reid Travis and Michael Humphrey, who formed one of the top tandems in the conference,

Josh Sharma, who excelled at his highest level during his senior season, and Oscar da Silva, who has emerged as a player who can work both the low and high post and take his opponents off the dribble. All four players feature heavily in the Cardinal record books.

Wulbrun oversaw Stanford's scheduling, where he has secured home games against some of the top programs in the nation, with both North Carolina (2017) and Kansas (2019), among others, visiting Maples Pavilion. A force in recruiting, Wulbrun has helped Stanford land back-to-back-to-back top-tier recruiting classes, including top-10 classes in 2017 and 2020.

Stanford finished 20-12 overall in 2019-20, and remained solidly in contention for an NCAA Tournament berth throughout a season shortened by the COVID-19 global pandemic. Boasting the nation's No. 16-ranked scoring defense (KenPom No. 7), the Cardinal also shot its highest field goal percentage (.469) since 2003-04 and was led by junior Oscar da Silva (All-Pac-12 first team, 15.7 ppg, 6.4 rpg) and Tyrell Terry (All-Pac-12 honorable mention, 14.6 ppg, 4.5 rpg, 3.2 apg), who emerged as one of the nation's top freshmen.

The 2018-19 team won 15 games, and was led by NBA Draft choice KZ Okpala, who went to the Miami Heat. He joined over 30 players under Wulbrun that have gone on to professional careers, including NBA All-Stars Jason Kidd and Kevin Johnson. He also served as an assistant coach for the gold-medal-winning United States at the Maccabi Games in 2019 in Budapest, Hungary.

In Wulbrun's second season, Stanford won 19 games overall and returned to the postseason for the first time in three years. Stanford finished third in the Pac-12 standings and won 11 conference games in 2017-18, its best finish and most conference wins in 10 years. The '17-18 team posted its highest scoring average (75.9 ppg) in 16 seasons, and led the conference in rebounding (39.1 rpg).

Wulbrun has been a member of Haase's staff each of the last eight seasons at both Stanford and UAB. Wulbrun's relationship with Haase dates back nearly three decades when he first recruited and signed Haase as a member of the California coaching staff.

Over a successful coaching career that spans 30 years (20 years in college and 10 in high school), Wulbrun has helped guide three different collegiate programs – California, Illinois State and UAB – to the NCAA Tournament.

At each stop, Wulbrun has played a key role in bringing in highly-regarded recruiting classes, highlighted by top-10 classes at Stanford in 2017 and 2020, a top-30 class with the Cardinal in 2018 and a top-five class at California that included Haase and Jason Kidd. At UAB, Wulbrun was responsible for landing the top recruiting class in Conference USA. Known for identifying and recruiting international talent, Wulbrun has helped bring in top prospects from Australia, Germany and Lithuania to Stanford.

At UAB, Wulbrun was part of a coaching staff that guided the Blazers to 80 wins in the four-year span, including the 2016 Conference USA regular-season championship and the 2015 conference tournament title. In 2015, UAB earned its first NCAA Tournament berth since 2011 and captured the Blazers' first win in the NCAAs since 2005. The Blazers' 26 wins in 2015-16 were a school record. He recruited and helped develop UAB all-conference selections Chris Cokley and William Lee during his time with the Blazers. Lee finished his career as UAB's all-time leader in blocked shots (291) and Cokley completed his career third in UAB history in career scoring with 1,660 points.

Before reuniting with Haase at UAB, Wulbrun served on the staff at Virginia Tech (2011-12), Illinois State (1993-97) and California (1986-93).

A Cypress, California, native, Wulbrun was an assistant coach at California under Lou Campanelli for seven seasons, helping lead the Golden Bears to five postseason appearances. During his time in Berkeley, Wulbrun helped sign Haase out of South Lake Tahoe High School, along with Jason Kidd and Lamond Murray. Wulbrun also coached three-time NBA All-Star Kevin Johnson, who served eight years as the Mayor of Sacramento.

Wulbrun helped lead Illinois State to three postseason appearances, including the 1997 Missouri Valley Conference regular-season and tournament title and berth in the NCAA Tournament in his four seasons with the Redbirds. He was also was active in real estate sales and development in Illinois. He was appointed the Chief Operating Officer of Distinctive Designs, a residential construction company, in 1998.

During his seven successful years in the business world, Wulbrun also served as the head coach of Central Catholic High School in Bloomington, Illinois. He developed Central Catholic into one of the top high school programs in Illinois.

Wulbrun jumped back into collegiate coaching full time in 2011, working with Seth Greenberg at Virginia Tech for one season. He then reunited with Haase on his staff at UAB, when Haase was named the head coach of the Blazers in 2012.

Wulbrun holds a bachelor of arts in communications from Cal State Fullerton (1984). He and his wife Jennie, have been married for 26 years. Jennie is program & events manager for a national non-profit, Positive Coaching Alliance, focused on character development in youth sports. Son Jared, graduated from Purdue Univ, where he was a member of the basketball team. He is now serving as a graduate assistant coach on the basketball staff & pursuing a master's degree in Purdue's Krannert Business School. Daughter Kendall, a graduate of TCU, just completed her Master of Education Policy, Practices and Foundations at Univ. of Colorado & plans to pursue a Ph.D in Education.

Rob Zewe enters his third season as Assistant Coach for the Pioneers in 2023-24.

2022-23
Zewe continued to let his offensive mind shine in 2022-23, resulting in the Pioneers improving to 15-17 on the year, the most wins by the program since 2017-18. With Zewe handling the offensive playcalling, the Crimson and Gold averaged 72.7 points per game as a team this year, the most since 2017-18. Zewe helped in the development of point guard Tommy Bruner, who was selected to the Summit League All-Newcomer Team and Honorable Mention All-Summit League.

2021-22 Season
Zewe made an impact in his coaching debut in 2021-22, helping get the Pioneers to 11 wins on the year, the first time since 2017-18 the program has reached double-digit victories.
DU also record seven Summit League wins, matching the total of the three previous seasons combined, highlighted by picking up four road wins in year one with DU, matching the total of the previous four years combined.

Working with Head Coach Jeff Wulbrun, Zewe helped revitalize an offense that had been stagnant for several seasons, resulting in notable milestones set, including highest scoring output (70.5) since 2017-18, along with having the highest field goal percentage (46.0), made 3s (232), three-point percentage (36.8) and assists (397) in years for the program. Denver also dialed it up in league play, averaging 74.4 points per game, its best scoring output in league play since 2016-17.

Previous Coaching History
Zewe spent the past two seasons at Cal State Fullerton prior to coming to Denver.

As a Titan, Zewe was tasked with helping the coaching staff in development and implementation of recruiting strategies as well as helping with all aspects of opponents scouting including film breakdown and statistical analysis for player/team development purposes. He will also help create and organize creative content for recruiting and brand development purposes. He is also set to aid in the planning and execution of on campus recruiting visits and in the organization and coordination of all Titan Basketball Camps.

In his first year with the program, Zewe and the 2019-20 Titans had their season cut short just prior to the start of the Big West Tournament due to COVID-19. He helped Jackson Rowe and Brandon Kamga claim Second-Team All-Big West honors while Kamga was also named Big West Newcomer of the Year.

2019-20 Graduating seniors Rowe (France), Davon Clare (Portugal) and Austen Awosika (Austria) each signed professional contracts to play in their respective country's top leagues.
Zewe joined the Titans after spending the 2018-19 season as a graduate assistant coach at Nevada. The Wolf Pack reached the NCAA Tournament, won the Mountain West Championship for the third straight year and tied a school record by winning 29 games.

Prior to Nevada, he was an assistant coach for two years at Indiana University of Pennsylvania. He was responsible for player development, video analysis, scouting reports and recruiting.
The team won back-to-back regular season PSAC Conference Championships and was ranked as high No. 2 in the country. He helped develop two All-Americans in Anthony Glover Jr. and Jacobo Diaz.

Zewe played collegiately at Grove City College and Penn State Behrend and is a native of Pittsburgh, Penn.

M.S. (Business Leadership) .... Azusa Pacific (2013)

The University of Denver men's basketball program tabbed Azusa Pacific's B.J. Porter an assistant coach to round out its staff, head coach Jeff Wulbrun announced on September 5.

"I am so excited to welcome BJ Porter to our coaching staff," Wulbrun said. "In assistant coaches I look for excellent teachers of the game and men who take pride in being mentors and role models to the young people in our program. BJ has all those qualities. He is a man of high character and integrity, and reflects all our core values in his daily life. He has tremendous experience in the college game and has always achieved a high level of success everywhere he's been. He is a proven national recruiter with a great network of contacts and was highly recommended by people I respect in the game. He was an excellent college player and will give our program tremendous energy. I am confident he will immediately connect with our players."

Porter recently completed his fourth season as an assistant coach at Azusa Pacific, the program he played his final two seasons of college basketball for before graduating in 2013. In his first season with the Cougars, APU finished 25-4 and 20-2 in the PacWest, a stretch that included a 20-game winning streak to close out the regular season. In his four years, the Cougars had three 20-win seasons and finished with a 73-29 overall record, including 55-16 in conference play. In his collegiate coaching career as a whole, Porter is 127-94 and 86-43 in league contests.

"My family and I are extremely blessed and honored to be joining Coach Wulbrun at the University of Denver," Porter said. "Working alongside Coach Wulbrun and the rest of the staff is something that I'm really excited about and I look forward to getting on campus and getting right to work. I love the vision and the culture that he has set for the program, and I look forward to helping continue to build it."

Before returning to Azusa Pacific, Porter spent the previous two seasons as a women's basketball assistant at Utah Valley (2018-19) and Pepperdine (2017-18).

During the 2016-17 season, Porter was the head men's basketball coach at the University of Antelope Valley (Lancaster, Calif.). In his season in-charge at UAV, he led the Marauder's to their first ever Cal Pac Conference postseason birth. He helped develop an NAIA All-American, a conference defensive player of the year, two first team all-conference selections and one second team all-conference pick. Porter was also at UAV the season before as an assistant.

Porter began his coaching career in 2014-15 as the head girls basketball coach at Layton Christian Academy, a private high school located in Layton, Utah. Porter lead LCA to a regional championship, despite the program only winning two games over the two years prior to his arrival.

Denver's newest assistant played his first two collegiate seasons at the University of Portland and Weber State before transferring to Azusa Pacific for his final two seasons of eligibility. In just two seasons at APU, Porter made 151 three-pointers, which places him seventh all-time in career three-pointers. In his senior season, he averaged 14.7 points per game, leading the Cougars in minutes played and three-pointers made, while also receiving All-PacWest and all-region honors. After his collegiate career, he spent one season playing professionally in Mexico, with the Mineros de Parral.

Porter is married to Katrina (Oviedo), who played four years of softball at Azusa Pacific, and the couple has one daughter, Tatum, and a son, RJ.

BEFORE DENVER
Graduate Assistant ..... Northwestern (2016-'18)
Assistant Coach ..... Cornell (2018-'22)

EDUCATION
B.A. (Communications) ..... Greenville (2013)

Alex Mumphard enters his first season as Assistant Coach for the Pioneers in 2023-24.

Mumphard joins head coach Jeff Wulbrun's staff after spending the past five seasons at Cornell in the same role.

While with the Big Red, Mumphard has a key member of Brian Earl's staff and joined in June 2018 after spending two seasons as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Greenville University, and the previous two years as a graduate assistant coach at Northwestern.

In his first season, Mumphard helped the Big Red to a three-game improvement overall, the program's first .500 conference season in nine years and a postseason appearance with its first-ever bid to the CIT Tournament. He helped mentor All-Ivy League first-team selection Matt Morgan, who graduated as the No. 2 all-time scorer in conference history with more than 2,300 points. Mumphard's work with Terrance McBride helped him earn All-Ivy honors in 2020 as part of a breakout season. The 2020-21 campaign was wiped out due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Despite being picked seventh in the preseason Ivy League media poll, the Big Red earned the program's second conference tournament bid and posted a 15-11 final record. Four different players earned Ivy League Rookie of the Week honors and senior guard Dean Noll earned second team All-Ivy honors. Cornell ranked No. 1 in the country in adjusted pace in terms of shortest average possession time in Division I during the non-conference season and finished the campaign seventh nationally in assists per game (17.3), 17th in scoring offense (79.2 ppg.) and led the Ancient Eight in defensive rebounds (27.96) and steals (7.9) per game.

Despite the loss of four starters, the 2022-23 team made its second straight conference tournament appearance and posted 17 wins - the most by a Big Red team in 13 years. Cornell opened the season 14-4 with a two-point loss at eventual ACC champion and Final Four participant Miami (Fla.). The Big Red led the Ivy League in 11 categories, including scoring offense (81.7), 3-pointers made (10.7) and attempted (30.4) per game, assists (17.5), assist:turnover ratio (1.41), steals (9.7), effective field goal percentage (.556) and fast break points (15.9). Greg Dolan earned second-team All-Ivy and NABC All-Region honors, while Nazir Williams was an honorable mention pick.

Prior to Cornell, Mumphard spent two years as a graduate assistant coach at Northwestern under head coach Chris Collins. During his time in Evanston, Ill., the Wildcats made the program's first NCAA Tournament, advancing to the second round in 2017. He played a role in the development of All-Big Ten players Bryant McIntosh, the school's career assist leader, and Scottie Lindsey. In addition to his work on the court, he coordinated opponent scouts and film breakdown and opponent exchange and was a liaison between the staff and players. In his first season, Northwestern posted its first winning conference season in 49 years and set a school record for wins in a season. Northwestern also garnered its first Top 25 ranking in seven years. Mumphard earned a Masters in Sports Administration in addition to his coaching, graduating in 2018.

He began his coaching career at his alma mater under the direction of Dr. George Barber. In his second year on the sidelines, Greenville won a conference title with a 12-6 mark in the St Louis intercollegiate Athletic Conference (SLIAC). He coordinated recruiting, was responsible for scheduling, travel and scouting and led individual workouts and in-season weight training. Mumphard also coached the junior varsity team. During his stay, the program earned its first NCCAA Top 25 ranking.

He was named his conference's Player of the Year as a senior and was a First Team All-State selection. As a junior, Bowen averaged 16.5 points per game to go along with 4.2 rebounds per game and 3.4 assists per game. He shot an impressive 48 percent from the field for the season and added 31 triples on the season. He led his team to an 8-2 record in the Continental League. In the state tournament, Bowen scored 27 points in a contest against Rangeview High School. His father Ryan played over a decade in the NBA and is currently an assistant coach with the Denver Nuggets.

COMPETITION VENUE

Hamilton Gymnasium
It is a 20,000 square-foot facility with a seated capacity of 2,300 with standing room only space for an additional 300 spectators. The LED scoreboard and venue audio system were upgraded before the 2015 season, and the bleacher system was replaced ahead of the 2018 season featuring 650 numbered seats with back rests.

LOCKER ROOM

Men's Basketball Locker Room
The men's basketball locker room was redesigned in 2021 and given a much more clean and newer feel. The locker has a general living room area and a locker room area that area connected to the shower and restroom portion of it.

Through 41 years of Division I athletics, The Summit League offers 19 championship sports and has a combined enrollment of nearly 100,000 at nine institutions, including five located in top 60 U.S. metropolitan populations and two land-grant universities. Member institutions include: the University of Denver, University of Missouri-Kansas City, University of North Dakota, North Dakota State University, University of Nebraska Omaha, Oral Roberts University, University of St. Thomas, University of South Dakota and South Dakota State University. The Summit League was previously known as the Mid-Continent Conference before undergoing a rebrand in 2007. The Summit League has produced 15 NCAA National Champions along with more than 130 All-Americans and 100 Academic All-Americans, including numerous student-athletes competing at the highest professional level in their respective sports.

Each year, approximately 3,000 student-athletes continue to raise the bar and help The Summit League reach exceptional success both in competition and in the classroom. Within the past eight years alone, The Summit League has produced two national postseason team tournament champions in women's basketball, an NCAA semifinal appearance in men's soccer, a Men's College World Series appearance, a trio of Sweet 16 appearances across men's and women's basketball and eight individual NCAA Champions. That level of success also carries into the classroom. A total of 30 Summit League teams achieved perfect NCAA Academic Progress Rate scores in the most recently released figures, while 23 other teams garnered NCAA Public Recognition Awards for top academic progress rates.

The Summit League also produces the highest quality in competition. In 2022-23, former Summit League student-athletes also competed in the NBA, in MLB, on the PGA Tour, on the LPGA Tour and in Major League Soccer (MLS).

THE SUMMIT LEAGUE

HISTORY

Since its inception in 1982, The Summit League has recorded several transcendent moments that resonate on the national stage. While known as the Mid-Continent Conference, the league's first two decades produced a pair of appearances in the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament's "Sweet 16" and the Women's College World Series as well as three individual NCAA Track and Field Champions.

Since rebranding as The Summit League, those transcendent moments have continued to increase. In June of 2023, Oral Roberts became the first Summit League baseball team to advance to the Men's College World Series in Omaha. The Golden Eagles won their first game in Omaha, defeating TCU 6-5 in the opening game of the tournament thanks to a three-run homer by Blaze Brothers (pictured) in the top of the ninth.

In March of 2022, the No. 10 seed South Dakota women's basketball team advanced to the program's first "Sweet 16", marking the second women's team from the league to achieve that feat in the NCAA Tournament. The South Dakota State women's basketball team also put together an impressive postseason run, capturing the 2022 WNIT title by winning six consecutive home games.

In March of 2021, the Oral Roberts men's basketball team captured the nation's attention by becoming just the second No. 15 seed in NCAA Tournament history to reach the "Sweet 16". Led by the nation's leading scorer, Max Abmas, the Golden Eagles knocked off No. 2 seed Ohio State and No. 7 seed Florida before coming up just two points shy from being the first league team to make the Elite 8, falling to No. 3 seed Arkansas.

Also in March of 2021, Summit League women's basketball produced a pair of NCAA Women's Tournament qualifiers for the second time in three seasons as South Dakota won its second straight tournament title and South Dakota State earned an at-large bid.

During the pandemic-shortened 2019-20 academic year, a pair of Summit League athletes etched their names in the NCAA record books. South Dakota's Chris Nilsen, a three-time NCAA National Champion pole vaulter, set the NCAA indoor mark with a clearance of 19-05.5". On the links, Denver freshman Anna Zanusso joined four other female golfers in equaling an NCAA record with a single-round score of 61 (-11) during round two of the Westbrook Invitational, an event she would go on to win.

The South Dakota women's basketball team became just the third Summit League squad to go undefeated in league play and win the tournament title as the Coyotes finished with the league's highest-national ranking ever, finishing at No. 11 in the final USA Today Coaches' Poll. The Coyotes, who finished 17th in the Associated Press poll with a 30-2 overall record, were led by senior Ciara Duffy who became the league's first player to be named the ESPNW Mid-Major Player of the Year and Becky Hammon Mid-Major Player of the Year.

In the spring of 2019, South Dakota State became the first women's basketball member to advance to the NCAA Tournament's "Sweet 16" while Nilsen claimed his third national championship and the league's 15th overall at the NCAA Indoor Track and Field Championship.

In the fall of 2016, Denver became the first Summit League team to reach an NCAA Final Four when its men's soccer team advanced to the College Cup semifinal round. The season prior, South Dakota won The Summit League's first national postseason team tournament title by claiming the 2016 WNIT crown in women's basketball.

Oral Roberts gave The Summit League its initial NCAA Baseball regional crown and Super Regional appearance in 2006 and three years later, North Dakota State became the league's first softball team to achieve the same feat.

The 2008-09 season also saw South Dakota State's women's basketball team carry a national ranking throughout a majority of the year and cap its season with an NCAA Tournament first-round victory. In the spring of 2014, North Dakota State gained the national spotlight with a victory over Oklahoma in the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament Round of 64. A year later, the Bison softball team finished in the Top 25, one of six league teams to achieve a national ranking in their respective sport that year.

Throughout its history, The Summit League has produced 15 individual NCAA Championships, five Olympic medalists and dozens of All-Americans in the sports of track and field and swimming and diving. Several professional athletes and draft choices have come directly from The Summit League, including three Major League Baseball first-round picks, a pair of NBA first-round choices, and two WNBA selections. In addition, Summit Leaguers compete in the MLS and on the PGA and LPGA Tours. Former Summit Leaguer Kevin Duckworth was a two-time NBA All-Star during his professional career.

The Summit League announced the formation of its Hall of Fame during its 35th anniversary season in 2016-17. The inaugural class celebrated eight decorated individuals who combined for 17 league Player or Coach of the Year awards, eight All-America honors, an Olympic Gold medal, and a World Series title. The latest class, inducted in 2020, included former IUPUI student-athletes George Hill (Men's Basketball) and Chen NI (Women's Swimming and Diving), former North Dakota State golfer Amy Olson, former Oral Roberts track and field standout Jack Whitt and Oakland Coach Pete Hovland (Swimming and Diving).

DID YOU KNOW...

> The Summit League had six players drafted in the 2023 Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft, including four in the top nine rounds. Omaha's Mike Boeve was the highest selection, going No. 54 in the second round to the Milwaukee Brewers.

> In 2020, South Dakota's Ciara Duffy became the first Summit League player to be named the ESPNW Mid-Major Player of the Year and Becky Hammon Mid-Major Player of the Year. Duffy led the Coyotes to the league's highest national ranking ever as USD finished at No. 11 in the final USA Today Coaches' poll.

> North Dakota State's Payton Otterdahl became only the second man in NCAA history to sweep national titles when he won the 2019 NCAA Indoor Track & Field shot put and weight throw titles. His efforts helped the Bison tie for ninth on the men's side, which equals the best team finish by a league team at the national meet. In total, the Summit League sent a league-record 12 student-athletes to compete at the 2019 NCAA Indoor Track & Field Championship.

> South Dakota's Chris Nilsen became the first freshman in league history to win a national championship when he claimed the 2017 NCAA Indoor Track & Field pole vault title. He collected his second national pole vault title at the outdoor championship in 2018 and repeated as the outdoor champion in 2019. He is the only Summit League student-athlete with three NCAA individual championships and went on to win the silver medal at the 2020 Tokyo Olympics.

> In the fall of 2018, two Summit League volleyball teams advanced to the NCAA Tournament during the same season for the first time in league history and, in 2019, two Summit League women's basketball teams advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1994.

> In 2016, Denver men's soccer became the first league team to reach an NCAA Final Four in any sport and achieved the highest national ranking at that time (No. 3) of any men's sport in Summit League history. The 2019 Pios' would earn the league's first No. 1 national ranking in any sport.

THE EARLY YEARS

Basketball started at the University of Denver on Jan. 16, 1904, when the Pioneers handed the Denver Athletic Club a 48-16 defeat. The first few years of the sport at Denver featured a handful of games each season against mostly amateur competition.

In 1913, Denver became a member of the Rocky Mountain Faculty Athletic Conference. The league featured two divisions, with the Pioneers competing against Colorado State, Wyoming, Northern Colorado, Colorado College and Western State in the Eastern Division (dubbed the Colorado-Wyoming Collegiate League by newspapers at the time). Montana State, Utah State, Utah and Brigham Young made up the league's Western Division.

Denver captured Eastern Division titles in 1915 and 1916. Beginning with the 1925 season, the two divisional winners met to determine a conference champion in a contest that continued until 1937. The Pioneers won the Eastern Division crown in 1937 behind All-American Jim Babcock, but lost two of three to Montana State for the conference title.

THE SKYLINE YEARS

The Pioneers, along with Wyoming, Colorado State, Utah, Utah State and Brigham Young, pulled out of the Rocky Mountain Conference and added Colorado to form the Mountain States Conference in 1937. The league, which later became known as the Skyline Conference, lost Colorado in 1947 and admitted New Mexico and Montana in 1950.

The golden era of Denver basketball came right after World War II. Between 1947-50, the Pioneers won 18 games three times and posted two second-place finishes in the Skyline Conference.

Under the direction of Ellison Ketchum in 1947-48, Denver posted an 18-11 mark. The following year, Hoyt Brawner assumed control of the Pioneers' coaching reins from Ketchum midway through the season and led Denver to a 18-15 record. That same season, Vince Boryla became the first and only Pioneer to earn consensus All-America honors.

In his first full season at the helm of the program in 1949-50, Brawner's Pioneers shook off a 3-7 start by winning 15 of their last 21 games to finish with an 18-13 record. The season's highlight was a 45-33 win over Wyoming before 7,236 fans at the Denver Arena - the largest crowd to witness a basketball game in school history.

The 1956-57 team posted a marginal 11-12 record but was significant thanks to the individual play of Dick Brott. Brott, Denver's all-time leading rebounder, recorded one of the most amazing single-season efforts in Pioneer history by averaging 19.2 points and 18.5 boards.

Brawner's 1958-59 squad recovered from a slow start to make the school's first appearance in the National Invitation Tournament. The Pioneers rallied from a 3-5 start by winning 11 of their last 16 to finish with a 14-10 record. Denver's stay at the NIT was short-lived however, as New York University handed the Pioneers a 90-81 defeat in the tourney's first round.

In 1961, New Mexico, Wyoming, Brigham Young and Utah withdrew from the Skyline Conference. One year later, the league officially dissolved. That same season, Brawner stepped down as coach after 12 seasons and 163 victories.

THE INDEPENDENT YEARS

Following the disbanding of the Skyline Conference, the Pioneers competed as a Division I independent, starting with the 1962-63 season. Denver did not make any postseason appearances between 1962 and 1979 but several individual stars made the period memorable.

Harry Hollines, unquestionably the greatest scorer in Denver history, began his Pioneer career by averaging 25.4 points as a sophomore in 1965-66. The following season, Hollines averaged 24.8 points per game and received All-America honors from the Helms Athletic Foundation. Hollines capped his Denver career by averaging 25.0 points per contest and earned Helms Foundation All-America recognition for the second consecutive year.

The 1970-71 Pioneer squad recorded a 17-9 mark and won 13 consecutive games at one point during the season. The team's top player was Dave Bustion, who averaged 19.5 points and 12.1 rebounds per contest. For his efforts, Bustion was named to the Helms Athletic Foundation and TV Guide All-America teams. Teammate Bill Jones was also a TV Guide All-American.

The Pioneers struggled the following season with an 11-15 record, but Bustion improved his numbers from the previous season. He averaged 20.3 points and 12.8 rebounds per game in his final season at Denver.

Denver again posted a 17-9 mark in 1972-73 behind the one-two punch of Joe Wallace and John Johnson. Wallace averaged 23.1 points and 9.4 rebounds, while Johnson averaged 21.1 points and 12.5 rebounds per contest. Without Wallace, the Pioneers dropped to 11-15 in 1973-74, but Johnson averaged 23.4 points and 10.8 rebounds.

The Pioneers ended their first NCAA Division I run in 1978-79 with a 15-12 mark under the direction of coach Ben Jobe. Matt Teahan ended the era in style by torching Nebraska Wesleyan for a school-record 61 points on 27-of-47 shooting from the field in a 113-96 victory at Denver Fieldhouse. Teahan also broke the school's single-season scoring record by piling up a whopping 659 points.

NAIA/NCAA DIVISION II YEARS

It didn't take long for the Pioneers to become a force at the NAIA level. Denver averaged 22.4 wins in its first five years in the NAIA and qualified for the NAIA National Tournament in 1984, losing a first-round contest to Waynesburg (Pa.).

One of the major reasons for the Pioneers' success in the early 1980s was head coach Floyd Theard. Theard led Denver to a 107-38 record in five years at the school - his .738 career winning percentage is the best in school history - and recorded four 20-win seasons including a 28-4 mark in 1983-84, the best record in the modern era of Denver basketball.

Theard also presided over the start of one of the most amazing streaks in college basketball history. On Feb. 12, 1980, the Pioneers began an impressive 79-game home winning streak that stretched over five seasons. The streak, which ended on Jan. 8, 1985, is one of the 10 best in college basketball.

Theard coached Denver to 72 of the 79 wins during that streak. His bright coaching career was tragically cut short when he died of a massive heart attack following the 1984-85 season at the age of 40.

Assistant coach Dick Peth was chosen to fill the void left by Theard and he continued the Pioneers' winning ways. In 12 seasons at Denver, Peth's teams never recorded a losing record, won 18 or more games seven times, and made three trips to the NCAA Division II Tournament. Peth ended his Denver career with a school-record 221 wins and a .642 winning percentage.

Peth's best season came in 1991-92 when the Pioneers won 26 games against only six defeats and fell one game short of the NCAA Division II quarterfinals. That team featured four players who averaged double-digits in scoring - Alex Sund, Kelly Lively, Tony Simms and Mark Ziegler. Lively, a transfer from Nebraska, also set a school single-season record with 93 blocked shots.

BACK TO DIVISION I

The Pioneers officially returned to the NCAA Division I ranks in the 1998-99 season and turned in a 10-17 record under coach Marty Fletcher. That mark is tied for 10th-best among the 23 programs that made their NCAA Division I debuts in the 1990s. Among the 1998-99 season highlights were victories over Front Range rivals Wyoming - a team that qualified for the National Invitation Tournament - and Air Force. The Pioneers also posted a win over Sun Belt foe Arkansas-Little Rock in the last men's basketball game at the Denver Fieldhouse.

In 1999, the Pioneers joined the Sun Belt Conference and finished the league schedule with a 3-13 mark. Denver was 6-22 overall. The Pioneers began the season with a thrilling, 82-79 win over Yale in the first regular season game ever played in Magness Arena. Sophomore Wahhab Carter drained a 3-pointer with just 2.1 seconds left to lift the Pioneers to their first victory of the season. Carter continued his stellar play the rest of the season, as he led the Pioneers in scoring and rebounding and was named to the All-Sun Belt Conference Team. In addition, Carter and freshman B.J. Pratt were both named Wilson Sun Belt Players of the Week. Carter was honored the week of Jan. 31, when he recorded a career-high 26 points vs. Arkansas-Little Rock and turned around six days later and topped that mark with 30 at Florida International. Pratt garnered the award Jan. 3, after he tied the season-high scoring outburst in the SBC after he poured in a career-high 37 points and pulled down 10 rebounds against Louisiana Tech.

The 2000-01 campaign saw an improvement in the team's overall and conference records, and as a sophomore Pratt became the program's first individual honoree since returning to Division I when he earned All-District accolades from the U.S. Basketball Writers of America.

The Pioneers completed their third season in the Sun Belt Conference in 2001-02, finishing 3-12 in the league and 8-20 overall. Denver celebrated numerous accomplishments during the season, including the fifth-best free-throw shooting percentage improvement in the nation, increasing their percentage to 69.7 from 59.8 the year before.

In 2002-03, Denver enjoyed its finest season since turning NCAA Division I, winning its first two Sun Belt Conference tournament games before bowing out in the semifinals and finishing with a 17-15 overall record. Junior Brett Starkey was named second team all-conference and senior B.J. Pratt made the all-tournament team. Starkey was also named a Verizon Academic All-American.

In Denver's fifth season as a member of the Sun Belt Conference, the men's basketball team completed its 100th season 14-13 overall and 6-9 in the Sun Belt Conference West Division, its second-consecutive winning season. The Pioneers' non-conference season was highlighted by sweeping Colorado State and Wyoming for the first time since the 1956-57 season and just the third time in school history. Denver defeated Wyoming in front of a record-breaking crowd of 6,319 at Magness Arena. The Pioneers also claimed season sweeps of Montana State and Southern Utah. The conference slate was highlighted by a 68-54 road win over New Mexico State, Denver's first win over the Aggies in Las Cruces since 1965. Denver also recorded victories against Florida International, Arkansas State, South Alabama, New Orleans and North Texas.

The Pioneers returned to Division I postseason play in 2004-05, earning the school's first berth in the National Invitation Tournament in 46 years. The Pioneers' 20 wins are the most in their Division I history. Twelve of Denver's victories came during Sun Belt Conference play as the Pioneers won their first-ever SBC regular-season championship with a 12-3 league record. Denver also advanced to their first-ever SBC Tournament Championship Game. Head coach Terry Carroll was named the SBC Coach of the Year and junior center Yemi Nicholson earned SBC Player of the Year accolades.

DU began a new chapter in March 2007, when DU hired Joe Scott to lead the men's basketball team, which had gone a disappointing 4-25 the season prior to his arrival. Scott, a former player and coach at Princeton, was widely regarded as the mastermind that transformed the Air Force Academy's basketball team from a struggling program into a perenial contender in the ultra-competitive Mountain West Conference.

Just three years into Scott's tenure, the Pioneers improved by 15 wins to 19-13 in 2009-10 and advanced to the semifinals of the 2010 Sun Belt Conference Tournament. DU also finished the season on a 15-game home winning streak at Magness Arena.

Back-to-back 22-win seasons in 2011-12 and 2012-13 culminated in a No. 3 seed in the 2013 National Invitation Tournament, in which the Pioneers earned their first-ever national postseason victory with a win over Ohio at Magness Arena in the first round. Junior Chris Udofia earned All-Conference First Team honors in both the Sun Belt (sophomore) and WAC (junior), as well as a spot on the Conference All-Defensive Teams.

The Pioneers joined the Summit League for the 2013-14 season and finished the season with a 16-15 mark, going 8-6 in conference play. Senior Chris Udofia and Junior Brett Olson were name to the All-Summit League First Team. Udofia also claimed the Summit League Defensive Player of the Year Award. Olson set the single-season free throw shooting percentage at 90.2.

The Crimson and Gold finished the 2014-15 season with 12 wins. DU finished in the top 30 in the NCAA in several statistical categories; ninth in FT percentage (76.6), 18th in FG percentage (48.0), 20th in fewest turnovers (338), 23rd in assist to turnover ratio (1.35) and 28th in assists per game (15.2). Senior Brett Olson was named to the All-Summit League Second Team.

Denver ended the 2015-16 with a 16-15 record. The Pioneers finished ranked seventh in the NCAA in free throw percentage (77.0), 29th in 3-point field goal percentage (38.3), 32nd in field goal percentage (47.6) and 32nd in scoring defense (65.3). Freshman Joe Rosga was named to the Summit League All-Newcomer Team and Honorable Mention All-Summit League.

Denver welcomed in a new era in 2016-17, with the addition of Rodney Billups as head coach. The Pioneers posted a 16-14 record which was highighted by the team posting a 7-1 record in December, the best record for a month in the program since joining the Summit League back in the fall of 2013.

The Pioneers had their best finish in Summit League regular-season history in 2017-18, taking third with an 15-15 record overall but 8-6 in league play. The eight wins tied for the most in the Pioneers have won in their regular-season history in the Summit League.
