Marist Women and Men Win 2013 MAAC Rowing Championships

West Windsor, N.J. – The Marist College men’s and women’s rowing teams won the 2013 MAAC Rowing Championships at Lake Mercer.

In the women’s competition, the Red Foxes earned the league’s first automatic qualifier to the NCAA Rowing Championships with a team total of 45 points and became the first team this year to earn an AQ to the NCAAs. Fairfield University finished second with 43 points, followed by Canisius College (35), Drake University (28), Robert Morris University (23), Jacksonville University (20), Sacred Heart University (13) and Iona College (9).

On the men’s side, the Red Foxes took the top spot with a total of 150 points. Jacksonville took second place with 149 points. Iona finished in third place (113), followed by Fairfield (109), Loyola University Maryland (39), Canisius (20) and Manhattan College (17).
