Head Coach

Ray
GIACOLETTI

First Season

Ray Giacoletti was introduced as the 26th head coach in Drake men's basketball history during a press conference on March 28, 2013.

In his first season at the helm of the Bulldogs, he led the squad to a 10-3 start to the season that included the Fresno State Classic championship and a program-record five wins in the month of November. The team finished his first season with a 15-16 record.

Giacoletti served as an assistant coach at Gonzaga University for six seasons (2007-13), where he helped lead the perennial basketball power to six straight NCAA appearances, five West Coast Conference titles and a 163-41 (.799) record during his time on campus in Spokane, Wash.

In 2012-13, Gonzaga marched to a 32-3 record and spent the final three weeks of the season ranked No. 1 in both the Associated Press and USA Today Coaches Polls to earn a No. 1 seed in the West Region of the NCAA Tournament. Giacoletti came to Gonzaga with 10 total years of head coaching experience and a three-year tenure as the head coach at the University of Utah where he led the Utes to a 29-6 record in his first season to tie for the third-most wins in program history and advanced to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament. That squad won 18-straight games to win the Mountain West Conference regular-season title and recorded the best league record to date (13-1) in the six-year history of the league.

As a result, Giacoletti was named the NABC District 13, USBWA District 8, and Mountain West Conference Coach of the Year. Sophomore center Andrew Bogut became Utah's first consensus national Player of the Year, winning the John R. Wooden Award, Naismith, National Association of Basketball Coaches and Associated Press Player of the Year honors. In three seasons on the Utah bench, he amassed a 54-40 record.

Prior to taking the reins at Utah, he served as the head coach at Eastern Washington University where he went 69-50 in four seasons, the best mark of any coach in the school's NCAA Division I history. He guided the Eagles to their first NCAA Tournament appearance in 2004, as well as the Big Sky Conference regular-season and tournament titles. In each of Giacoletti's first three years, the Eagles placed second in the Big Sky during the regular season and advanced to the tournament championship game. In 2002-03, Giacoletti led EWU to the NIT for the program's first postseason bid since 1947 when it was a NAIA program.

The 2004 Big Sky Conference Coach of the Year, Giacoletti directed EWU to a 17-13 overall record and an 11-3 mark in conference play that season as the Eagles won 14 of their last 18 games en route to winning the Big Sky Tournament. In the first round of the NCAA Tournament, EWU fell to eventual Final Four participant Oklahoma State.

DEPAUL	80

Nov. 18, 2014 • Chicago, Ill.
Allstate Arena • 5,340

Seniors Chris Caird and Jordan Daniels' 36 combined points weren't enough to lead a short-handed Drake men's basketball to victory as the Bulldogs fell, 80-62, at DePaul.

Caird scored 19 points on a 3-of-7 night from the three-point arc while Daniels went 7-of-13 from the field for 17 points. Each added a team-high four assists.

DePaul, which led for nearly 39 minutes of the contest, had five players in double-figures with Billy Garrett, Jr.'s 15 points leading the way. The Blue Demons shot 55.1 percent from the field and 45 percent for the three-point arc as the Bulldogs were unable to consistently generate stops to keep pace.

DePaul opened the game by hitting five of its first seven bucket from behind the arc to take a 19-8 lead following an 8-0 spurt.

The homestanding Blue Demons held the momentum and quickly stretched the lead back out to double-digits, 34-24.

Drake pulled as close as 12 points three more times in the second period, but all three charges were answered.
