Amy Mallon, a fixture on Drexel's bench for the past 16 seasons, agreed to terms on Friday, March 27, 2020 to become the head women's basketball coach at Drexel University. Mallon will become just the sixth head coach since the school became a Division I member.

Mallon joined the Dragons in 2004 as an assistant coach before becoming the associate head coach in 2007. Charged with forging Drexel's defense, Mallon galvanized DU into a formidable defensive adversary for opponents, pushing the Dragons to become one of the best defensive programs in the country.

Mallon played a significant part in seven 20-win campaigns during her time as a Drexel coach including five in the last six seasons. Drexel went 23-7 in 2019-20, capping off the conference schedule with a 16-2 record to claim the No. 1 seed in the Colonial Athletic Association Championships and a share of the conference's regular-season title. At one point during the CAA slate, the Dragons put together a 13-game winning streak, the third longest in program history.

Drexel has won three regular-season CAA titles with Mallon on the bench. Prior to this season, DU previously earned a share of the regular-season championship in 2017-18 and the outright title in 2008-09. The Dragons have made 10 postseason trips in the last 11 seasons including a 2009 NCAA Tournament appearance and nine WNIT bids with a WNIT Championship in 2013.

Mallon came to Drexel in 2004 after coaching stints at Saint Joseph's University and Villanova University as a coach and assistant athletics director at Episcopal Academy in Merion, Pa. Mallon also enjoyed success as a professional, playing in the now defunct American Basketball League and in Luxembourg. Mallon also suited up for the Irish National Team during the 2001 European Championships. Her playing career has earned her numerous accolades including a 2002 induction into the Philadelphia Big 5 Hall of Fame and enshrinement in the halls of fame of Howard County Maryland and Mt. Hebron High School in Ellicott City, Md.

Her start in coaching came in 1994 when she took an assistant coaching position at Division III Rosemont College. After one season with the Ramblers, Mallon joined Villanova's coaching staff and helped guide the Wildcats to a 21-8 record and a Big 5 Championship in the 1995-96 season. She returned to her alma mater, Saint Joseph's, the following season and, as an assistant coach, helped bring the Hawks both Atlantic-10 and Big 5 titles after finishing with a 26-5 mark.

Mallon continued to produce championship teams as a coach when she took over as head coach at the prestigious Episcopal Academy in Merion, Pa. In addition to serving as head coach of the girls' basketball and softball teams, Mallon also took on responsibilities as the assistant director of athletics. In her fifth season at the helm of the women's basketball team, Mallon led Episcopal to a 17-6 record, one of its best finishes ever, and a trip to the Inter-Ac Championship game.

In her playing days, Mallon was one of the CAA's all-time greats. She helped lead the Richmond Spiders to back-to-back conference championships in 1990 and 1991 and was named to All-Conference teams in both seasons and also made the CAA All-Defensive team in 1991. Mallon helped lead the Spiders to three consecutive postseason appearances, including two NCAA bids, and a 72-18 record during her three seasons with the team. Her experience as a member of one of the last teams to defeat Old Dominion in a conference tournament, proved to be a rallying point for the 2009 Drexel women's basketball team when the Dragons upended the Lady Monarchs in the semifinals of the CAA Tournament, ending what had been a 17-year reign by ODU in conference tournament play. The 1990 Richmond women's basketball team was recently inducted into the University of Richmond Athletics Hall of Fame in 2019 as a team of distinction.

Mallon transferred to Saint Joseph's for her senior season in 1992-93 and put together one of the best single seasons in the history of Philadelphia Big 5 women's basketball, leading to her induction into the Big 5 Hall of Fame in 2002. Mallon led the Hawks to a 21-8 record, a Big 5 Championship and was named the league's Player of the Year after averaging a double-double for the season. She was also an All-Atlantic 10 First Team selection, a member of the Academic All-District Team and an Honorable Mention All-American.

After graduating from Saint Joseph's with a bachelor's degree in sociology, a master's in health education and 1,384 career points on the basketball court, Mallon played professionally in Luxembourg for the DBBL's Résidence de Walferdang franchise. When the American Basketball League was born, Mallon returned to Philadelphia to play for the city's franchise, the Rage.

In addition to her on-court expertise, Mallon has played a pivotal role in the growth of the Drexel program internationally. Her recruiting efforts have helped to bring top-level talent to Drexel from around the globe. She was integral in the recruitment and coaching of Gabriela Marginean, a Romanian-native who was the 2009 CAA Player of the Year, a three-time First Team All-CAA selection, the league's Rookie of the Year in 2006-07 and the first Drexel player to be drafted in the WNBA. In addition, her efforts have also helped to procure players hailing from Belgium, Canada, Czech Republic, England, Ivory Coast, Lithuania, Slovakia, Spain and Sweden.

Mallon has had her finger on the pulse of collegiate women's basketball for over two decades, playing as a Nike-sponsored athlete and working as a representative and consultant for the company from 1997-2001. She has been an ambassador for the game since her playing days, speaking at schools and clinics throughout the nation since 1993. Her passion for the game continues to inspire new generations of student-athletes to strive for success.
