

Women's Golf Record Book

East Carolina completed its 16th season of women's golf finishing tied for ninth at the 2016 Baton Rouge Regional. It's a program that has received national recognition both academically and athletically since the 2000-01 season. The Pirates have made 11 NCAA Regional appearances (seven consecutive from 2008-14) in the first 16 years of existence. As a member of Conference USA, ECU claimed the 2006 tournament title and recorded four second place finishes (2007-8, '10 and '13). In the American Athletic Conference, the Pirates finished second in 2016 (second year in the league) with a score of 904.

ECU has had 14 different players named to 37 Academic All-America teams. Its overall record on the course is an impressive 1,804-869-28 (.673 winning percentage) at the conclusion of the 2015-16 season, where they were ranked No. 29 nationally by Golfstat.

The Lady Pirates have amassed 26 tournament and 28 individual titles (by 10 different golfers), and what's even more impressive is they have claimed at least one title in 13 of the 16 seasons with a school-record six during the 2007-08 campaign.

The history of women's golf at ECU is not limited to the past 16 years. In 1968, U.S. Junior Girls Champion Gail Sykes (Clayton) won the Intercollegiate Golf Championship AIAW (now the NCAA) while she was attending Odessa College (Texas). She transferred to East Carolina that fall and was named to the 1969 All-America Team while competing as an Individual for the Purple and Gold of ECU!
