PRESEASON INDIVIDUAL NOTABLES

- Braden Burress: established himself as the premier offensive threat for the Pirates this season, leading the team with a .485 batting average and 16 runs scored. His ability to reach base is elite, evidenced by a .571 on-base percentage and a strong .438 success rate when leading off an inning. Burress is particularly lethal against right-handed pitching, where he maintains a .444 average, and he has shown speed on the basepaths with a perfect 2-2 record in stolen base attempts...

- Grady Lenahan: Team's top run-producer, pacing the Pirates with 13 RBIs. He is remarkably consistent with runners in scoring position, batting .385 (5-for-13), and has recorded a team-high 23 successful runner advancement opportunities. His versatility is reflected in his .581 slugging percentage... one of the main offensive reasons ECU topped No. 10 North Carolina, hitting his first collegiate home run (grand slam) to break the tie and go ahead 7-3... With another hit, base clearing double at the Durham Bulls to solidify the final score 10-3... Lenahan has been the only consistant Freshman to start, being in the middle of th elineup at the start of the year, and now being moved to the -Jack Herring: Lineup's most consistent power, leading the squad with 23 total bases and a team-high .639 slugging percentage. He is a "clutch" specialist who bats .500 (10-for-20) when runners are on base and successfully advances those runners at a 62.5% clip. Herring has shown a significant preference for left-handed pitching, punishing southpaws with a .625 average...

-Matt Lashley: emerged as a high-impact contributor in a limited role, making the most of his opportunities at shortstop. Over four games and three starts, he has posted an impressive .455 batting average, collecting 5 hits and scoring 4 runs. Lashley shows great plate discipline and contact skills, having struck out only once in 11 at-bats, while contributing 3 RBIs to the Pirate offense. He is currently riding a three-game hitting streak, proving to be a reliable spark plug whenever he is in the lineup... Lashley proved himself as a valuable player against No.10 North Carolina, being able to produce a 2-RBI sacrifice bunt, having the Pirates score first... Now he has started the three last games, garnering at least one hit a game...

- Sean Jenkins: Dominant force on the East Carolina pitching staff, serving as the ultimate closer. Over 11.2 innings of work, he has maintained a stellar 1.54 ERA and a 2-0 record, with his efficiency highlighted by a microscopic 0.77 WHIP. Jenkins is a high-volume strikeout specialist, racking up 19 strikeouts while surrendering only 6 hits and 3 walks. Opposing hitters are struggling to find any rhythm against him, managing only a .146 batting average. He has been particularly effective at keeping the ball low and controlled; of the few hits he has allowed, only one has gone for extra bases (a home run), and he has yet to record a wild pitch, balk, or hit batter... Earned Conference Pitcher of the week for his performances against Campbell, going four scorless innings with 5 strikeouts, as well as having 4.2 scoreless innings with seen strikeouts, shutting down No. 10 North Carolina...

-Nick Moran: A significant reliever, maintaining a perfect 0.00 ERA through 7.2 innings of work. He is a control specialist who has yet to issue a single walk this season, resulting in a microscopic 0.52 WHIP. Moran is especially effective at neutralizing right-handed hitters, who are batting only .105 against him. His efficiency is highlighted by his ability to keep the ball on the ground or in the park, surrendering no home runs and inducing a high rate of fly-ball outs... Was another pitcher that helped shut down Campbell...

-Colby Weber: established himself as one of the most reliable and efficient starters on the East Carolina pitching staff this season. In his two starts, he has posted a 1-0 record with a solid 3.86 ERA over 9.1 innings of work. Weber is a "strike-thrower" who excels at managing the game and keeping runners off the basepaths, as evidenced by his impressive 0.96 WHIP. He has struck out 8 batters while yielding only 3 walks.. Was able to produce the first win of the season for the Pirates, that also ended up being his first collegiate win as a Freshman...

Although The Pirates struggled throughout the season, Norby was able to have substantial pull to help the Pirates through adversity throughout the 2025 campaign. Being Friday's starter in the rotation, with some relief appearences, the left-hander held an 8-5 record in 18 total appearences. Landing a 3.80 ERA, he kept his opponent batting average to a .215 and only giving up 73 hits and 22 walks. Norby created a name for himself, gaining a total of four All-American Accolades at the end of the 2025 season (named by D1Baseball/Perfect Game/Baseball America), along with four Preseason All-American honors coming up for the 2026 season. ECU is excited for what Norby has in store for this season.

LEWIS FIELD AT CLARK-LECLAIR STADIUM

Built in 2004, Lewis Field at Clark-LeClair Stadium, which rates as one of the top collegiate baseball facilities in the nation and boasts one of the best atmospheres in the country, is the home of the ECU baseball team. Construction began in May of 2004 and was completed in March of 2005.

The design plan for the facility, which was built on the old site of Harrington Field, increased the seating capacity to 3,000 (permanent seating) and can hold upwards of 2,000 additional spectators in the elevated berm area known as the "Williams Jungle."

With an estimated price tag of $12 million, Clark-LeClair Stadium, which was named after Pirate alumnus and key contributor Bill Clark and former Pirate skipper Keith LeClair, nearly doubled Harrington Field's capacity of approximately 1,750 (excluding outfield areas). Field area was named after E.R. Lewis Construction.

The playing surface consists of Celebration Bermuda turf while the infield is a clay base and the warning track will be composed of crushed brick. Among the features are indoor and outdoor batting cages, a VIP booth, picnic areas, coaches' offices and a video scoreboard (which was installed in February 2004). Player amenities include a spacious clubhouse and locker room, onsite equipment and training rooms and video system to study player mechanics.

To accommodate the writers and broadcasters covering the nationally-ranked Pirates, a state-of-the-art press box features a main writing level and two overflow areas that can seat 30 media members comfortably, a TV broadcast location, two radio booths, a Pirate Club (fundraising/hospitality) suite and a viewing suite for the LeClair family. In addition to housing the video operations that streams all of ECU's home games live online, it is also the stadium operations control center for all of the marketing promotions efforts.

Recent additions to Clark-LeClair Stadium include a new batter's eye, outfield fence with black padded walls and protective netting down the first, and third base bleachers in 2007 to enhance the aesthetic appeal of the playing area. In the winter of 2009 field turf was installed behind the plate with the words "Pirates" inscribed and before the 2017 season, turf was added down the right and leftfield foul lines, along with a new graphics on the concourse level, padded walls behind home plate, a new state of the art scoreboard and sound system.

In the summer of 2019, a new 7,125-square foot hitting facility was completed down the right field line costing right a $1 million. It features three cages for hitting, state of the art pitching machines and surround sound system along with central heat and air. It is laid with top of the line field turf and retractable netting to allow for throwing, ground balls, defensive drills, etc.

On April 22, 2009 the Pirates set the then state record for largest crowd to witness a college baseball game on campus when they played host to No. 1 North Carolina cruising to a 4-0 win over its in-state rival. They would later set the school-record for attendance Feb. 24, 2023 in a 6-5 win over the No. 12 Tar Heels before a gathering of 6,003. In fact, the 2023 campaign saw four of the top-10 crowds in facility history, including the top three.

The Pirates have hosted the 2007 Conference USA Tournament, six NCAA Regionals (2009, 2018, 2019, 2021, 2022 and 2024) and their first-ever on-campus NCAA Super Regional in 2022 against Texas.
