Amber Alford Enshrined in MEAC Hall of Fame

Former FAMU All-American softball star Amber Alford was inducted into the MEAC Hall of Fame, in a brunch ceremony at the Benton Convention Center, in Winston-Salem, NC.

Alford was joined by Jermaine “JD” Hall (Bethune-Cookman), Alisha “Tuff” Hill (Howard), Philip Murphy (SC State), and Tavis Williams (Hampton).

Alford thanked several family members and friends for her success, including coach Veronica Wiggins. “When I went to FAMU, coach Wiggins had dean Turner to meet me and escort me on my campus visit. That is what sold me on FAMU. No other school I visited stressed academics the way my visit to FAMU did. They even coordinated a curriculum in molecular biology to where I could achieve my goal...and I know coach Wiggins had something to do with that,” Alford said.

On the morning of the MEAC basketball semifinals, the capacity room included several FAMU staff and supporters. FAMU athletic director Derek Horne, director of alumni affairs Carmen Cummings-Martin, FAMU special events coordinator Tammy Hamlett, FAMU senior women’s administrator Faydre Hawkins-Brown, FAMU assistant AD for marketing and development, Angela Suggs and head football coach Joe Taylor.

The spirited affair was one of the highlights of the well-attended MEAC week in Winston-Salem. With solid representation from all schools in the MEAC, each athlete spoke of the trials and tribulations associated with coming to an HBCU and playing a sport.

Hill got one of the loudest applause for saying, “We enjoyed beating people like FAMU...” It underscored the spirit in the room. While all of the inductees were as competitive as possible on the field, there is a mutual respect among the schools in the MEAC.

Alford credited her success to being competitive first at home. “My sisters could do everything, so I had to use softball to get some attention,” Alford said. She thanked her late father for instilling the drive to be successful. “I could hear his voice in my head when I was on the mound,” she added.

Alford was the catalyst to three consecutive MEAC championships for the FAMU softball team. The Lady Rattlers won the title from 1997-1999. She was named the MEAC Rookie of the Year in 1997 and MEAC Player of the Year in 1998. She compiled a 75-47 record as a starter, with a 2.19 ERA. She struck out 487 batters and has a FAMU record 43 complete games. She also earned MEAC Tournament Outstanding Performer twice during her career.

"I'm just overwhelmed with joy and happiness. The MEAC did a wonderful job on the Hall of Fame banquet and I'm just happy to be here. Coach Wiggins is handling business. It's the middle of the season and she has a team to play. I know how she feels about me so we're always going to be connected in spirit," Alford said.

The Starting Lineup

The Florida A&M Lady Rattlers ended the 2012 regular season with a 24-27 record. In MEAC play, the Lady Rattlers were 10-4, ending the season on an impressive eight-game winning streak, comprised entirely of conference games.

The season began with three straight losses, as the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga, University of Central Florida and the University of North Florida all took advantage of the squad with a core of new players, struggling to find rhythm.

Senior outfielder Jasmin Donaldson has come on to have an outstanding season for the Lady Rattlers. Donaldson was a first team All-MEAC performer in 2010. The slap-style speedy hitter from Rockledge, FL., ended the season batting .400. Donaldson also scored 34 runs, had 73 total bases and 60 hits to lead the Lady Rattlers.

Senior second baseman Tera Gainer has had a solid season on the right side of the Lady Rattlers' infield. Gainer batted .348, scored 26 runs, had 63 total bases and 46 hits. The 2011 All-MEAC selection has been the leader of the inexperienced infield.

From the plate, Whitney Robinson has been a big hitter for the Lady Rattlers. Robinson, who is also a pitcher on the team, has been very effective as the team's designated player. Robinson batted .311 on the season, scoring 24 runs, nine doubles and powered four home runs this season.

Veteran coach Veronica Wiggins settled for two freshmen infielders on the left side of the infield. Kieifi Myrick and Alyssa Weaver have been effective at third base and shortstop respectively.

Myrick batted .305, scored 23 runs, had 40 hits and drew 18 walks. Myrick also mustered three home runs this season.

Weaver has been steady, batting in the top third of the Lady Rattlers' lineup most of the season. She scored 21 runs, managed 41 hits, had 19 RBIS and 12 stolen bases.

Obie Roberson took over sole catching duties midway through the season. Roberson garnered a .358 on base percentage, had 111 putouts and had a streak of four straight games reaching base.

Rounding out the infield was first baseman Arianna Stewart. Stewart is batting .268, but has captured key hits for the Lady Rattlers this season. She had 26 hits, 10 RBIs and 142 total putouts.

Jennifer Lindsey has emerged as the leading pitcher for the Lady Rattlers. Lindsey currently has a record of 12-8 in 30 total appearances. She has also pitched 12 complete games. Lindsey has pitched 136 innings, with a 3.00 era. She has struck out 71 batters, while walking just 32 opponents.

Christina Robbs has held down left field for 41 games this season. Batting .295, Robbs has been valuable as a fielder as well as a hitter. She acquired 26 hits and scored six runs on the season. Robbs' strength is her fielding, with the ability to cover a lot of ground in the outfield.

Senior Tenisha Dixon has been solid in right field for the Lady Rattlers, after a slow start to the beginning of the season. Dixon ended with a .267 batting average, had 31 hits, scored 19 runs and 13 RBIs.

Head Coach Veronica Wiggins

Florida A&M's Veronica Wiggins is the architect of one of the most successful and respected collegiate women's softball programs in the region in the Lady Rattlers.

The highly competitive, yet extremely personable South Florida native enters her 21st season at the helm of the Lady Rattler diamond program with one goal in mind, to win another Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference title and return to the NCAA playoffs.

Wiggins has led her Lady Rattlers to nine conference championships. During her run, Wiggins' teams have won 579 games, with many of those victories coming against quality competition.

Additionally, the program has won nine MEAC championships (1993,1994,1995,1997,1998,1999,2005,2006, 2009); more than any other since the title play began in 1993, coupled with four runner-up finishes (1996,2001,2002,and 2003).

Four of her teams have advanced to the NCAA postseason competition. Three teams advanced to NCAA play-in series (1995,1997,1998) and four directly to regional play (1999 West Regional at Fresno, Calif, 2005 Auburn Regional, 2006 Alabama Regional and 2009 Regional).

Through it all, Veronica Wiggins' vision of turning the Lady Rattlers' program into a perennial regional and national contender remains, which is why she consistently challenges each year's team with a demanding non-conference schedule.

In 1999, the Lady Rattlers posed a 34-31 record, becoming record, becoming the first Historically Black College to directly reach an NCAA Regional, where they pushed defending national champion Fresno State to the brink before losing, 5-0

Perhaps the program's finest season came in 1997, when the Lady Rattlers stormed to a 43-22 record, finishing 57th in the nation. They took on Cleveland State in the a three-game play-in series again pushing their opponents to the brink by forcing a third and deciding game before bowing out.

The Lady Rattlers under Wiggins have scaled the heights before and she is determined to push, pull and drive them to the summit once more.

A native of Miami, Wiggins began her softball career in seventh grade playing on a recreation league team with the YMCA. She openly admits that at the start, she had little talent for the game, but was taught the game. That was the beginning of her philosophy on softball.

"Give me a young woman who has goals, who wants something out of life. I can teach her the game," Wiggins says. "The game is easy. She just has to be about something more than the game."

As a direct result, the softball team consistently leads all FAMU sports in academic excellence and community service. Each player is expected to perform her best in the classroom, so much so that Wiggins has personally supervised team study hall sessions to drive home the point. Players are even excused from practice and games if it interferes with classes.

Wiggins' strong belief in academic achievement has led her to work more closely with the Athletic Department's Academic Center, which advises and tutors some 350 student-athletes.

In fact, she may be more passionate about student-athletes graduating with their degrees and going on to truly productive lives than simply winning softball games. This deep concern that she has for her young student-athletes is the result of her own experiences growing up in a large family.

The oldest of nine children, Wiggins turned down a scholarship from Florida International to help raise her younger brothers and sisters. She did keep her academic goals in mind by enrolling at Miami-Dade Community College, receiving an Associate of Arts and Sciences degree in 1977.

Eleven years later, she enrolled at Florida A&M, earning a Bachelor of Science degree and a Master of Science degree in Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

In 1992, she was named head softball coach at Florida A&M and guided the program through a tough 9-41 season. Better things were to come and in short order too. The following campaign witnessed a scintillating about face, as the Lady Rattlers won a then-school record games (34-25), capping the glorious season with the first of three straight MEAC titles.

Four years later, the now fabled-1997 club, which won 43, broke the record of the 1993 team for wins, knocking out several ranked teams including cross town Florida State, for the first time in over 50 games.

She is a three-time MEAC Coach of the Year (1997, 1998, 2006) and has been named the Outstanding MEAC Tournament Coach seven times (1993, 1994, 1995, 1997, 1998, 2006, 2009).

Active in the community, the 1998 "Who's Who in America" candidate has spent every summer since 1986 as volunteer coach in FAMU

National Youth Sports Program. In 1988, the NYSP honored her with the Outstanding Leadership Award and in 1989, she was presented with the Outstanding Contribution Award. With the retirement of longtime NYSP activity director Bobby Lang in 2003, Wiggins took over the program, which had been held on the FAMU campus under the auspices of the NCAA, since the 1960s.

In addition to the NYSP, Wiggins also conducts softball clinics for area youngsters in the Fall, with the hopes of introducing young girls to the sport.

Veronica Wiggins is a modest woman. She refuses to boast and talk about wins to come, she let's the game speak for itself.

Her record and the women who have matriculated through her program speak volumes. Each reaffirming the beliefs linked with the sport – that integrity, honesty and hard work are the foundation of athletic excellence.

Wiggins recently served on the NCAA Softball selection committee, and this year, she started a three-year appointment to the NCAA Softball Rules Committee.

Wiggins' crowning moment came in 2009, when she was elected to the FAMU Sports Hall of Fame.

Assistant Coach Lori Goodart

Lori Goodart is in her fifth year as assistant coach for the FAMU Lady Rattlers. Primarily a pitching coach, Goodart has adapted to assist coach Veronica Wiggins in whatever capacity she has been needed to fill.

To her credit, she coached one of the all-time greats in FAMU's softball history in Amanda Reyes. Reyes, was the MEAC Pitcher of the Year in 2009 and led the Lady Rattlers to their most recent MEAC Championship.

Goodart, is not limited to coaching pitchers, as an injury sidelined Wiggins for the beginning of the 2012 season, and Goodart took the reigns, coaching third base at the season's onset.

The personable Goodart comes to FAMU with a ton of experience. She is a 1995 graduate of the University of West Florida and was enshrined as member of its Hall of Fame in 2003-2004.

She hails from Niceville, FL, where she was a first team All-State, and Northwest Florida All-State selection.

For the Argos, Goodart was an outstanding player with the versatility to play outfield as well as catcher. She batted .312 her senior season at UWF and was the team's top run producer. She also belted three home runs her senior season.

Goodart's tutledge is one of the attributes that has led to the solid Lady Rattlers pitching staff.
