FAMU VOLLEYBALL OUTLOOK 2015

The Lady Rattler Volleyball team seeks a return to glory in 2015, as they vie for a Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference championship.

Cautious optimism is in air around the Florida A&M University Volleyball Program, as they gear up for a run at a 14th Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference championship.

Head coach Tanio "Tony" Trifonov (338-174 in 17 years overall; 172-6 in MEAC), hopes to recapture the magic that sparked the Lady Rattlers to nine (9) straight league crowns between 2001 and 2009, and 10 overall during his tenure.

Nonetheless, a tad bit of frustration has set in over the program, which has not won a MEAC Tournament since 2009, losing twice in the finals and bowing out in last year's semifinals during that five-year drought.

Trifonov, who has been a master of recruiting internationally, is counting on a bumper crop of imports to bolster the returning core of players from last season's 13-15 squad, which won the MEAC Southern Division title with a sterling 9-1 record.

Those newcomers should provide an upgrade in both talent and team depth, and soften the blow of losing two key performers from a year ago: libero/defensive specialist Joanie Del Castillo, a First Team All-MEAC selection, and #2 in MEAC in digs (4.04 per set), who graduated; and outside hitter Yeshia Arcia, an academic casualty, who averaged 3.12 kills per set, 2.98 digs per set, and 0.56 blocks per set.

FAMU'S LEADING LADIES

Heading the cast of returning performers are a pair of 2015 Preseason All-MEAC selectees, sophomore Pamela Soriano and junior Ginna Lopez, both of whom

The :2015 Preseason Player of the Year, Soriano, a 5-10, sophomore outside hitter from Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, was the 2014 MEAC Rookie of the Year, a First Team All-MEAC, ranking 2nd in MEAC and 31st in NCAA in Kills (4.25 per set); and 2nd in MEAC and 39th in NCAA in Points Per Set (4.73), along with 252 digs and a team-high 23 service aces.

@ This summer, she was a member of the Dominican Republic's Under 23 National team, which won the bronze medal in the FIVB World Championships in Turkey earlier this month.

Ginna Lopez, a 6-3, senior middle blocker from Lima, Peru, a 2015 Preseason All-MEAC pick, and a two-time First Team All-MEAC selection (2013, 2014), was 4th in MEAC in hitting (.304), and 5th in Blocks (0.40 per set); along with Pamela Soriano, a 5-10, sophomore outside hitter from Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, who was the 2014 MEAC Rookie of the Year, a First Team All-MEAC, ranking 2nd in MEAC and 31st in NCAA in Kills (4.25 per set); and 2nd in MEAC and 39th in NCAA in Points Per Set (4.73), along with 252 digs and a team-high 23 service aces.

@ Lopez actually had two runs at international play this summer, participating with the Peruvian National team in the Pan American Games in Toronto in July, and competing with the Under 23 Peruvian National team at the FIVB World Championships in Turkey, where she finished ranked in the Top 10 in blocked shots per set in the event.

OTHER KEY RETURNEES

Also returning is setter Valeria Lopez, a 5-9 sophomore from Medellin, Colombia, who ranked 6th in the MEAC in assists (8.74 per set), 15 service aces, and 89 digs as a freshman in 2014; outside hitter Tamar Fowler, a 5-10 senior from Woodland Hills, California, who had 109 kills and 44 digs in 81 sets, and middle blocker Deija Martin, a 6-0 junior from Glenns Ferry, Idaho, who had 129 kills and 0.71 blocks per set a year ago.

Also due back in 2015 is Andrea Soriano, a 5-11 redshirt senior outside hitter from Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, who sat out 2014 recovering from shoulder surgery. The older sister of Pamela Soriano, Andrea played in 71 sets in 2013, with 86 kills, 85 digs and 0.42 blocks per set.

TANIO “Tony” TRIFONOV

Head Volleyball Coach

18th Year at Florida A&M

Bulgarian National Sports Academy, 1990

Tanio “Tony”

Trifonov is in his 18th season at the helm of the Florida A&M Volleyball program having turned this perennial contender for Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference into the league’s most dominant program, with 10 league titles overall during his tenure.

This energetic visionary has fashioned a 338-174 career mark at FAMU, and a sizzling 172-6 record in regular season Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference competition.

Although the overall league title run has hit pause since 2009, FAMU has still won the league’s Southern Division 14 years running (2001-14).

FAMU’s Legendary Run (2001-09)

Florida A&M had won nine consecutive MEAC Regular Season and Tournament titles between 2001 and 2009, advancing each season to the NCAA Tournament, ending in the 2010 MEAC quarterfinals in an upset loss to Delaware State.

@ The Lady Rattlers finished the 2007 campaign by extending the nation’s longest conference match win streak in NCAA Division One to 91 straight - dating back to 1998.

@ That streak ended in 2008 at 95, but an injury-riddled FAMU club still brought home another conference title.

@ The 2005 (22) and 2006 (21) clubs extended the program’s

20-match season win streak to eight (8) straight years.

@ After the 2009 regular season, the Lady Rattlers had won 72 of their last 76 regular season conference matches by 3-0 scores, having reeling off 43 straight conference shutouts between 2001 and 2005.

The Trifonov Vision

Despite the disappointments in the MEAC Tournament the past five seasons, which included a pair of five-set losses in the finals (2011, 2013), Trifonov’s long-term vision for the program extends beyond merely winning the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference.

His ultimate dream has the Rattlers vaulting into the rarified air of the established elite of collegiate volleyball, a feat they accomplished briefly in 2004, as they finally broke into the AVCA Division One Top 25 Poll in

COACH TRIFONOV

October, soaring to #22 after winning the MEAC Tournament in late November of that year.

@ In 2004, he guided Florida A&M to a #1 ranking in the NCAA East Region in 2004.

@ His clubs were rated in the Top 10 in the region in seven of the last 11 years and their 27-4 mark in 2003, included the school's first-ever opening round NCAA Division One Tournament win for an Olympic sports (3-0 vs. Winthrop University at Georgia Tech).

@ In 2004, FAMU set a new school-record with a 27-match wins streak, which surpassed the 25 straight FAMU won during the 2003 campaign.

@ In 2004, FAMU began its' 27-match win roll with a 3-1 victory over the second-rank Nebraska the Huskers' last nonconference home loss-continuing their ever improving records against quality foes.

@ In 2003, FAMU extended nationally-ranked Stanford and Colorado State to five sets before bowing out.

@ In 2002, FAMU's 23-7 mark featured stunning road win at LSU and against nationally-ranked Louisville in the Georgia Tech Tournament, helping the Lady Rattlers to the cusp of national recognition.

Tony Trifonov Before FAMU

Trifonov has been involved with volleyball for the greater part of his life. He honed his playing skills in his hometown of Sofia, Bulgaria.

As early as 1979, Trifonov was playing on the national level participating on the CSKA-Sofia Junior Clubb tema that won three national championships and the Bulgarian Junior National team.

He continued to develop as a player and moved onto the professional ranks playing with Minyor-Pernik and CSKA-Sofia professional teams.

He crossed over into the coaching ranks at age of 21 and led the Minyor -Pernik Junior team to a national title, and was also an assistant coach for the Academic-Sofia women's professional team that finished in third place at the Bulgarian pro league championship.

Trifonov continued his playing career on the Bulgarian National team that finished sixth in the 1988 Summer Olympics in Seoul, Korea.

In 1990, he joined the AVP two-man beach volleyball tour.

Shortly after, he returned to the coaching ranks with a brief stint at the University of South Florida.

2015 FAMU Volleyball Team Features Summer International Flavor

Three Rattler women fresh from world championship play should be ready to provide experience, leadership during challenging FAMU schedule

AUGUST 21 - With the 2015 regular season opener just a week away, the Florida A&M University Women's Volleyball program is excited about this year's prospects thanks to a trio of players who gained some valuable international playing experience this summer.

Two members of the trio are returning veterans: 2015 Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference Preseason Player of the Year Pamela Soriano, a 5-10 sophomore outside hitter from the Dominican Republic, and 6-3 senior middle blocker Ginna Lopez, from Lima, Peru, who was a preseason All-MEAC pick, and a two-time first team All-MEAC selection (2013, 2014), while the third is incoming freshman libero Valentina Carrasco from Lima, Peru

FAMU head coach Tanio "Tony" Trifonov was excited for his players and more excited for their potential impact on the 2015 Rattler Volleyball team.

"This has been a great experience for our players, and hopefully they will provide the leadership that will help us elevate our play this year through the MEAC Tournament and potentially into the NCAA Tournament as well," Trifonov said.

FAMU's Ginna Lopez (Left) was on two Peruvian National teams this summer, one in the Pan American Games, and one in the FIVB Under 23 World Championships in Turkey in August.

World Under 23 Championships duo

The returning FAMU duo of Soriano and Lopez-Chavez played in the FIVB (International Federation for Volleyball) Under 23 World Volleyball Championships in Turkey, which concluded this week, with Soriano, as a member of the bronze medal-winning Dominican Republic National team, and Lopez-Chavez a member of the Peruvian National team.

@ Soriano's Dominican team dropped a five-set heartbreaker in the semifinals to eventual world champion Brazil, but rallied literally and figuratively in the third place match, coming from two sets down to overtake Japan, 3-2 (21-25, 17-25, 25-21, 25-16, 15-11) for the bronze.

@ Lopez-Chavez's Peruvian team finished tied for ninth (9th), but individually, she had an outstanding tournament, finishing #10 overall in blocks among all players, averaging 0.56 blocks per set.

The Under 23 World Championships was the second summer event for Lopez-Chavez, who played for Peru in the 2015 Pan American Games in Toronto in July, along with a FAMU Volleyball alum, libero Susan Egoavil.

FAMU freshman in Under 18 Championships

Speaking of the libero position, FAMU's third international summer competitor was incoming freshman Valentina Carrasco, another in the long line of Lima, Peru natives to wear the Orange and Green.

Carrasco played in the FIVB Under 18 World Championships for Peru, finishing the event ranked as the #5 libero overall in the event.

All three players will be on campus by Sunday, just in time for the start of the 2015 Fall Semester on Monday, August 24, and they'll have a few days of practice to gear up for next Friday's season opener in the University of Miami Tournament against Kansas State at 5:00 p.m.

They will face host Miami (12:30 p.m.) and Illinois State (5:30 p.m.) on Saturday, August 29.
