INTRODUCING EXOGRID.

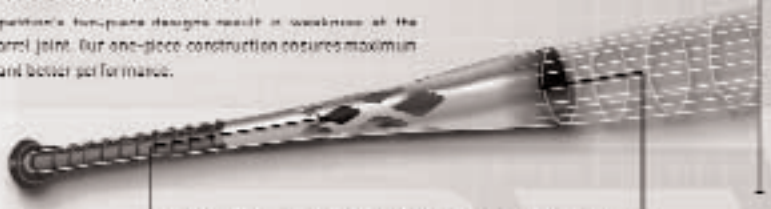
EXTREME DOMINATION CONTINUES.

IT'S BEEN PROVEN IN 5 STRAIGHT NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS: LOUISVILLE SLUGGER'S STIFF-HANDLE BATS OUTPERFORM THE COMPETITION'S FLEXIBLE-HANDLE DESIGNS.

Now, we've taken stiff-handle technology to a totally new level with the revolutionary, new Exogrid. See what the buzz is all about: wrap your hands around the best-performing bat ever produced by Louisville Slugger. You'll see why bats that bend don't win. And why Louisville Slugger dominates, year after year.

ONE-PIECE CONSTRUCTION

The competition's two-piece designs result in weakness at the handle/barrel joint. Our one-piece construction ensures maximum strength and better performance.



INTERNAL CARBON COMPOSITE SLEEVE

A carbon sleeve provides greater handle stiffness than aluminum, alone, ever could.

CARBON COMPOSITE INSERTS

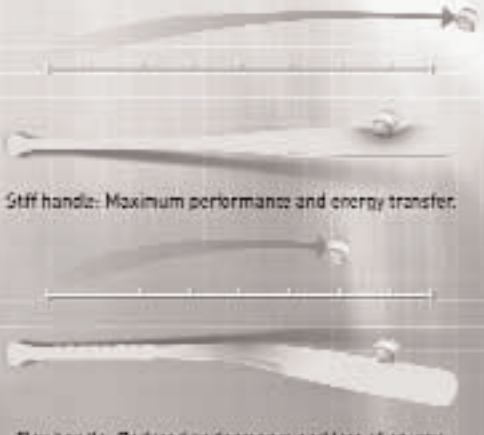
The metal is trimmed in a grid pattern, then replaced with carbon composite insets that are several times stronger and lighter than the original metal.

EXCLUSIVE EXOGRID FUSION PROCESS

Using heat and extreme pressure, the sleeve, inserts and metal wall are bonded to function as a single, solid unit.

ST•20 ALLOY

The toughest bat alloy available today.



Stiff handle: Maximum performance and energy transfer.

Flex handle: Reduced performance and loss of energy.

WHY BATS THAT BEND DON'T WIN.

The last thing you want at the moment of contact is for your bat handle to flex. When the handle flexes, the barrel can't. That reduces your trampoline effect. A stiff handle produces more barrel flex, resulting in maximum trampoline effect and, ultimately, greater performance.

Coaches

Kevin Cooney

HEAD COACH

20th Season

"Twenty years ago I headed south on I- 95 from New Jersey to Boca Raton, Florida, wide eyed and anxious to see where that road might take me. As I turned down Glades Road and toward the campus of Florida Atlantic University, my head was filled with thoughts of the impact I would make on FAU Baseball. Twenty years burning down the road, I realize the opposite is true. The players, coaches and community of Florida Atlantic have impacted me far beyond what I could have imagined. I thank all of them for the ride."

Twenty years on the job would be an accomplishment no matter what your craft. In coaching, 20 years means even more. It means you've had a great deal of success at your craft. Florida Atlantic University head baseball coach Kevin Cooney is no exception.

Over the previous 19 years, Cooney has shaken hands with the opposition 680 times as the victor and has achieved a .612 winning percentage at FAU. Including his time at Montclair State, he has been successful in earning a win 820 times.

Consistent success on the field doesn't happen by chance. Cooney has helped shape the lives of young men on and off the practice field, mentoring 14 All-Americans, 48 All-Conference Selections, 88 Academic All-Conference selections and 64 players have played professionally, including four FAU players that have advanced to the Major Leagues.

By helping to mold these great individuals and lay the foundation for high expectations each season, Cooney has also successfully built one of the most recognized programs in the country. A tall task when you consider that when he arrived in Boca Raton, FL, in 1988, FAU played all of its games during the day because the field didn't have lights.

His most successful season came in 1999, a year that saw Florida Atlantic start 39-1 on its way to a 54-9 campaign while tying an NCAA record with 34 consecutive victories.

That squad was the first to represent Florida Atlantic in an NCAA D-I Regional and the first Atlantic Sun Conference school to be ranked nationally among the top-10 schools in every poll.

Still, there has been a great deal of success not measured by statistics or victories during Cooney's career. He takes great pride in watching young boys grow up to be men and trying to enrich their lives along the way. You won't find those names or numbers in any record book, but Cooney remembers all of them.

Cooney's career started as a pitcher for Montclair State, where he was first introduced to success at the collegiate level. He was the ace of the pitching staff and was drafted by the Minnesota Twins in 1972. To this day, he still ranks second on Montclair State's career list of fewest walks allowed per nine innings (2.21) and is eighth in career ERA (2.35) and strikeouts (7.87 per nine innings).

He would spend two seasons within the Twins minor league organizations before a shoulder injury forced him to retire with a 21-11 minor league record. He then returned to his alma-mater as an assistant coach from 1975-76, before leaving to teach and coach at a local high school.

After Montclair State's coach, Fred Hill, took a job at Rutgers University, Cooney took over the program. During his four seasons as head coach of Montclair State, he posted 110 victories, a .731 winning percentage (140-50-5), four Mid-Atlantic Regional championships and a D-III World Series

Kevin Cooney with six-time Cy Young Award winner Roger Clemens at FAU Baseball's 25th anniversary Celebrity Dinner

Championship. His achievements at Montclair State garnered him several awards, including NCAA Division III District Coach-of-the-Year from 1985 to 1987, New Jersey College Coach-of-the-Year in 1985 and National Coach of the Year in 1987.

After the four seasons at Montclair, Cooney contacted then Florida Atlantic head coach Steve Traylor, who was in the process of taking a job at Duke University. Thanks to a recommendation from Traylor, Cooney took the reigns of the young program in 1988.

Under Cooney's guidance, the Owls have won two A-Sun regular season titles and an A-Sun postseason championship, and have played in seven NCAA Regionals. In 2002 FAU won the University's first NCAA Regional championship, defeating No. 3 ranked Alabama on their home field.

That's a long way for a program that began with a field surrounded by Australian pines, no locker room and no weight room. A program that under Cooney and his staff is consistently ranked among the best in the nation.

What will the next 20 years bring as the team makes its move into the Sun Belt Conference? Only time will tell. But if it's true that history often repeats itself, the future looks bright for Cooney and the Florida Atlantic baseball program.

Cooney lives in Boca Raton with his wife, MaryBeth and has four children, Jim (27), Jeff (22), Maggie (9) and Luke (7).

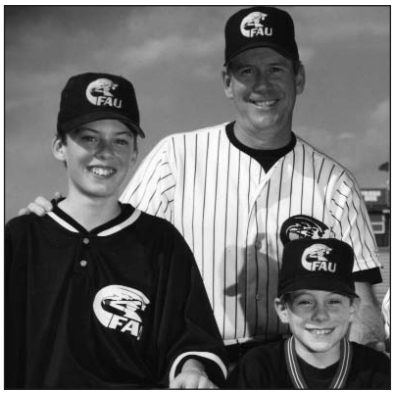
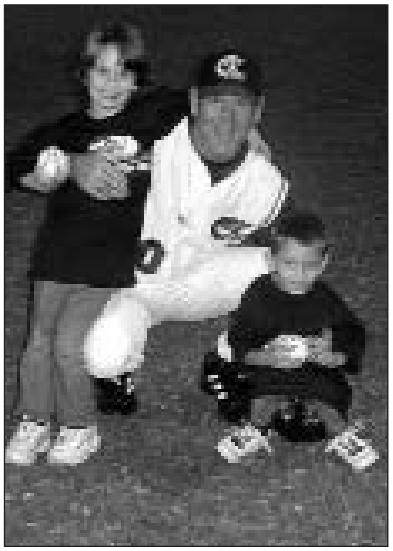
The Cooney family (2006)



Coach Cooney with sons Jim and Jeff (1993)

Coach Cooney with sons Jim and Jeff (2004)



Coach Cooney with daughter Maggie and son Luke. (2004)

RECENTLY, A MASTER'S DEGREE STUDENT INTERVIEWED COACH COONEY ABOUT HIS COACHING CAREER. SELECTED QUESTIONS APPEAR BELOW:

What is your playing and coaching history? How and when did you get your start in college baseball?
I played at Montclair State from 1969-72 and in the Minnesota Twins farm system (A Ball) from 1972-74, then started as an assistant coach for Montclair State in 1975. My first year salary was $150, second year, $200 and we went to the World Series both years. An alum of Montclair State called my head coach looking for someone to replace the retiring baseball coach at the high school where the alum was the Athletic Director. I then coached seven years at the High School level before becoming the head coach at Montclair State from 1984 to 87, winning the National Championship in 87. I have been head coach at Florida Atlantic since 1988.

Please summarize your coaching philosophy.
I try to use my personality in my coaching style. It has evolved as I've aged, but I still follow that method. I firmly believe you need to be true to yourself or kids will see through you. I try to interject humor, sarcasm, sex, family, music, history and other topics which seem unrelated to the task at hand, but which get the attention of young people and go beyond the rote learning of baseball skills. I feel the experience of playing college baseball should be a positive one for each young man, and not be affected by the ego of the coaching staff. My hope is that the kids will be smart enough to recognize this and play hard for me in return. Most do, eventually; some take longer than others.

What do you feel are the major difference between Division I and Division II baseball?
DI gets all the media attention and the level of play in the top 30 or 40 DI schools is superior, but the top DII schools match up well with the lower tier DI schools. Overall, though, there is a definite difference in depth, particularly on the mound.

Obviously you have to recruit to win. Do you enjoy recruiting and what are your main selling points?
I enjoy speaking with parents and kids after they have been identified by my coordinator, but I don't have confidence in my ability to recognize talent as well as my assistant, so he does most of that. But when it comes to selling my philosophy and my program, I enjoy that part. The main selling point is the philosophy I outlined earlier and the fact that we have been so successful.

If you had to list the five main keys to running a successful program, what would they be?
Honesty, good assistants, organization, administrative support and good players.

Briefly describe your program's offensive approach.
It depends on our players. We have been a big inning, American League-type team, and a National League-style club at various times. I like to run and put pressure on teams when we have the right kids. We squeeze a lot and have a reputation for doing some trick things on the bases. Most of that is out of desperation.

Please discuss the positives and negatives of the "coaching" lifestyle.
The positives are that you work full throttle for an extended time on something you love. You are immediately, and publicly, evaluated. Then you change gears and life is totally different for a period. Then it changes again and you're back in school in the fall and at practice. Then the spring semester rolls around and you are back in season, which is the reason for being. The life is tough for a family. You spend far more time with someone else's kids than you do your own. If you don't have children, your wife needs to be special. She needs to be very special. No woman should marry a coach unless the deal is clearly spelled out to her. Even when you're not coaching or recruiting, your mind is on it. I'd be driving with her and thinking of lineups in December. You are away from home a lot, and as a head coach, you are the boss and responsible for every decision. When I'm finally home, I don't want to make the decisions, but a wife needs a break from that responsibility too. It's not an easy life, but the rewards have been immense. I've not had a "real job" since college, and people have told me that I have been an important influence on kids. I feel that I have gotten more from the kids I've had over 30 years than I have ever given.

Has there been a change in the "student-athlete" behavior and expectations in the past decade?
There has been a seismic change. Parents are more aggressive and more involved at the college level than in the past, perhaps because the college recruiting has become so dependent on showcases, camps and personal coaches. This economic impact and involvement by the parents may be one reason they seem so much more involved these days. Agents—oops, advisors—also muddy the waters. They have provided another adult voice for the kid to have to hear and another person to wipe the nose of a kid who is a baby looking for someone to blame. Kids also seem to want things now more than in the past. The concept of waiting your turn is not as prevalent as it previously was. I also think that life is too easy for kids today (what generation has not said that?) and consequently some of them are not as mentally tough. Plus…we have to be careful how we discipline them. I ran our kids one day this fall because they lost focus in practice. One of our best veterans dropped out and went to the dugout and puked. He stayed there and made no move to return as his teammates circled the field. One kid cursed him out and he shot back that he works harder than anybody (he does) and knew what he was doing. Our trainer said he showed some early signs of heat exhaustion. I sat next to him and said that in today's environment I hesitate to tell him what I wanted to say, which is that if he didn't get out there, he'd lose the respect of every teammate on the field. I told him to do what he felt was best. I don't think it was smart of me to say that in today's climate, but I felt the kid needed to hear it. He went out and I called the group in after he made one lap. He survived, but I was real reluctant to encourage him to do what I felt was the right thing. In the old days, a coach would not have thought twice.

What is the role of your volunteer coach?
Our volunteer is Tony Fossas, an ex-big league relief pitcher. He is our pitching coach and will probably be here forever. He gives our kids great perspective because of his career. Tony spent 11 years in the minor leagues before becoming the prototype for situational lefties. Our kids learn what it takes to make it from someone who's been through it the hard way.

What is your dream job?
I've had two of them. Montclair State, my alma mater in my home state, five minutes from where I grew up. Four regional championships and a national championship. FAU, a DII school with a regional appearance the year before going DI, then six DI regionals and one championship, plus three conference championships, all four miles from the ocean in Boca Raton! My next dream job is raising my two young kids on a farm in Tennessee.

John McCormack

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH/RECCRUITING COORDINATOR

Over the past 16 years, John McCormack has played an important role on Kevin Cooney's staff. McCormack has been responsible for brining the talent to the program for Cooney to mold on the field and has acted as the program's recruiting coordinator for the past 14 seasons. He was promoted to associate head coach in 1998.

His passion for the Boca Raton area and Florida Atlantic University has allowed McCormack to reach some of the best players in the state. Having lived in Boca Raton for more than 30 years, he realizes what a great area South Florida is and what it can provide student-athletes.

"For the past 16 years I've seen John grow from a novice to one of the best assistant coaches in the country," said head coach Kevin Cooney. "He has a knack for getting people to understand that they will be treated properly at FAU, while getting the opportunity to play a great schedule and compete for a championship every year."

"A common refrain from parents who have dealt with John is that he is a great representative of the program and Florida Atlantic University. His tireless work ethic is recognized by parents, scouts and opposing coaches. His devotion to the program and to the service of the athletes he coaches is one of the main reasons for the continued success of Florida Atlantic baseball."

McCormack joined the staff in 1991. He approached head coach Kevin Cooney about assuming the duties of recruiter and the current program was launched. McCormack has focused his attention on the pool of talent in the South Florida area. His first FAU recruiting class (1993) finished the season 41-17 and made a trip to the South Regional, where they fell to the eventual national champion.

In the 14 years that McCormack has recruited, FAU has won 539 games, tied a national record for consecutive games won (34), participated in seven NCAA Regionals (playing in the championship game four times) and won the Tuscaloosa Regional over the nation's no. 3 team, Alabama, in 2002. In 2003, McCormack was recognized with the AFLAC National Assistant Coach of the Year Award for his efforts and accomplishments at FAU.

During his tenure in Boca Raton, FL, he has developed relationships with local baseball scouts and 63 FAU players have been drafted by or signed with professional teams; four of them have moved on to the major leagues. Twelve players were drafted in the first 10 rounds, including three third-rounders and two fifth-rounders.

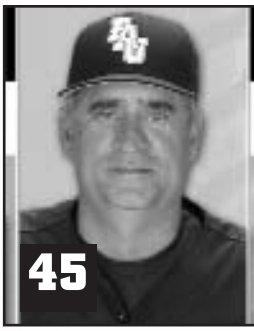
"John's relentless work ethic has helped make me a better head coach in off-the-field matters," says head coach Kevin Cooney. "He resurrected our Alumni Day, expanded our contracts with equipment manufacturers and served as the academic counselor for baseball, as well as the Department of Athletics liaison with housing on our campus. He has built our summer camps into a successful business in one of the toughest camp markets in America."

In many cases, the talent was evident only to McCormack. FAU's baseball program has been built around the premise that McCormack would find athletes with the desire to win. The coaching staff would develop talent and the players would become better.

Before joining FAU, McCormack played ball for nearby Lynn University, where he received his bachelor's degree in business administration in 1990. At Lynn, McCormack earned All-Conference honors his junior (catcher) and senior (third baseman) seasons and All-Area Team MVP honors during his junior season. Prior to Lynn, he attended Indian River Community College and Pope John Paul II High School.

"I have had the opportunity to spend my career at a university that has grown exponentially since 1990," said McCormack. "The only thing better than a growing Florida Atlantic campus is the Boca Raton community. When I talk to baseball players about the experience that lies ahead at FAU, I know that those who choose to come to Florida Atlantic may eventually be my neighbors. Boca Raton is a place that offers so many professional opportunities and a lifestyle that is hard to leave after their collegiate experience has been completed."

Born in New York, McCormack has lived in South Florida for more than 30 years. He and his wife, Katrina, reside in Boca Raton with their sons Conor (9) and Shane (6).



Tony Fossas

ASSISTANT COACH

Third Season

Tony Fossas started his career with Florida Atlantic University in 2005 as the pitching coach. In his first season on the staff, the former major leaguer can boast he developed Collegiate Baseball's Freshman Pitcher of the Year and a Third-Team All-American and saw four pitchers post five or more wins.

"I am pleased that someone of Tony's experience and stature joined our program," said head coach Kevin Cooney. "His background as a college player who slowly worked his way through the minor leagues and went on to have a solid big league career is an inspiration to the young men he will mentor."

First drafted out of high school at St. Mary's in Boston, MA, Fossas turned down two professional contracts before signing with the Texas Rangers as a ninth-round pick out of the University of South Florida. While attending USF from 1975-1979, he worked his way into the Bulls record books. He is 10th with 224 career strikeouts, third in single-season ERA (2.09) and seventh in complete games after throwing seven in 1979. The left-hander was named to the All-Conference Team in 1979 after leading the team in ERA and strikeouts. He graduated with a bachelor's degree in education and a minor in Spanish before moving on to professional baseball.

During his 11-year stint in the minor leagues, the Cuban-born pitcher spent two years with the Texas Rangers' single A affiliate before moving up for a two-year stint with the AA affiliate in Tulsa, OK. Once making it to AAA he spent seven years waiting for his dream to become a major leaguer to come true.

In his first game as a Texas Ranger, he faced George Brett and the Kansas City Royals. With the bases loaded, Brett ground into a double play on Fossas' first pitch to end the inning. In 1995, he had his best season with the St. Louis Cardinals as he appeared in 58 games and posted a 1.47 ERA, 3-0 record and struck out 40 in 36.2 innings.

While with the Cardinals his career's biggest opportunity came in 1996 when he pitched against the San Diego Padres in the division series and against the Braves in the NLCS. He spent a total of 10 years in the major leagues.

Norberto Lopez

40

ASSISTANT COACH

First Season

With experience at all levels of baseball, Norberto Lopez began his newest journey in the fall of 2006 when he was named an assistant coach at Florida Atlantic University. Throughout his career, Lopez has been a mainstay in South Florida and has worked with high school, college and youth national teams.

"Norberto is an enthusiastic, knowledgeable and motivating teacher of the game," said Head Coach Kevin Cooney. "He has worked our camps the last few years and has made a favorable impression on every player with whom he has worked. I'm excited to see his influences on Florida Atlantic baseball.

In his last coaching job, Lopez helped Broward Community College to a third place finish at the National Junior College Athletic Association World Series. As the hitting and catching coach he saw the team hit .301, set the home run record at the state tournament and win the Florida Community College Activities Association state title.

After gaining recognition for the team's outstanding performance he was named the hitting and catching coach for the USA Baseball Youth National Team. Lopez helped guide the team to a gold medal at the COPABE 'AA' Youth Pan Am Championships in Venezuela. The offense finished the tournament with a .390 offensive clip.

Lopez's first coaching experience came as the head coach of an elite summer high school team in 2003-05. The X-Team earned a third place finish at the National Championship in 2004. He then moved on to American Heritage High School for one season before heading to BCC.

He got his start as a player at Monsignor Edward Pace High School in Hialeah, FL before heading to Broward Community College and Nova Southeastern University. He earned his bachelor's degree from NSU in business administration and his master's in exceptional student education.

After being drafted by the Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim Lopez spent three years in the system. He advanced to AAA and made an appearance in major league camp.

Lopez resides in Davie, FL, with his wife, Cheryl.

HISTORY

FIRST TEAM 1981

1981

Under Head Coach Steve Traylor, who coached FAU from 1981 to 1987, the Owls finished 15-16 in their inaugural season. FAU won its first six games, including a 12-8 victory against St. Thomas University in the season opener. Shortstop Darryl Powell, the team's most valuable player, led the Owls offensively, hitting .383 and driving in a team-high 41 runs. On the mound, right-hander Bill Cobe was voted the team's outstanding pitcher, leading the club with five victories and 61 strikeouts.

1982

This was the first of seven consecutive winning seasons, as the Owls finished 42-14. After finishing the regular season with a record of 38-12, FAU was ranked 10th in the final NAIA poll and earned a berth in the NAIA District 25 Tournament, where the team advanced to the championship game before losing to Georgia College 7-4. Individual standouts for FAU included first baseman Mike Ryan, who led the club with 16 home runs, 73 RBI and a team-record .418 batting average, and pitchers Pat Murphy and Jorge Vega. Murphy, who was named the team's outstanding pitcher, finished the season 6-3 with a team-leading 2.66 ERA, while Vega led the club with 10 wins. Left-hander Tommy Clark, who posted a 4-0 record, threw the Owls' first no-hitter.

AND LEONARD LEWIS

FAU enjoyed its most successful season in 1983, winning the NAIA District 25 Championship and a team-record 49 games. The Owls, who were ranked fifth in the final NAIA poll, also defeated the University of Miami in February. After taking the NAIA District 25 Title, FAU advanced to the NAIA Area Five Tournament, where they were eliminated in the semifinal round. The Owls, who won 18 consecutive games in mid-season, set team records for the most hits, home runs, doubles and triples in a single season. Catcher Keith Foley, who led the nation with 95 hits while batting .396, was named to the NAIA All-America Second Team.

1984

Following the 1983 season, FAU moved into NCAA Division II. In the 1984 season opener, the Owls showed they belonged by defeating the University of Florida 4-3. They then went on to win their next four games, including an 11-10 win over the University of Miami. FAU finished the season at 40-15 and was ranked eighth in the final NCAA II poll. First baseman Mike Ryan led the club with 19 home runs and was named to the NCAA II All-America Third Team. Right-handed pitcher Jim Hanrahan also had an outstanding year, winning eight games, including a no-hitter against Illinois Tech in mid-March.

1985

FAU finished eighth in the final NCAA II poll and earned a bid to play in the South Regional Tournament against No. 1 Florida Southern. In its first NCAA post-season appearance, the Owls lost the best-of-five series to the Moccasins, who went on to become Division II Champions. FAU, which finished the season 44-15, had several players finish among the nation's statistical leaders. Catcher Doug Gonring, who signed with the Toronto Blue Jays after the season, finished 13th in the country in RBI, and Jeff Forney, a first-round draft choice of the Cincinnati Reds, finished seventh in stolen bases and eighth in triples. Right-handed pitcher Luis Merino, a seven-game winner in 1985, threw a no-hitter against Florida Memorial, the third in the program's history.

1986

The Owls finished 44-10 in 1986 and won 12 of 13 games against Division I opponents, their only loss coming on the last day of the season against Miami. Following the season, FAU was ranked 11th in the final NCAA II poll. Several Owls earned post-season honors, including centerfielder Scott Hay, First-Team All-South Region, who hit .403 with 57 RBI and a team-leading 32 stolen bases. The Owls also had three players selected to the All-South Region Second Team—shortstop Dave Conner, catcher Marty McDaniel and pitcher Scott Halama. Right-hander Jim Drancsak finished the season with a team-record 1.29 ERA, third best in the country. He also threw a no-hitter, the fourth in FAU history.

1987

FAU finished the 1987 season with a record of 34-21-2. The season was highlighted by victories against Division I LaSalle University and Northeastern University. Team MVP Gonzalo Carcache and third baseman Jack Penrod led the Owls offensively. Carcache led the club with a .379 batting average and 16 stolen bases, while Penrod led FAU with 14 home runs. Scott Halama, who set new FAU single-season records with 66 strikeouts and three shutouts, led the pitching staff. The 1987 season marked the end of coach Steve Traylor's career at FAU. Traylor, who compiled a record of 268-105-2 with the Owls, left to become head coach at Duke University.

1988

FAU won its 300th game in 1988, a 9-1 win over Nova University, which was its last win of the season. Under new coach Kevin Cooney, the Owls finished 32-19-2, despite a seven-game losing streak midway through the year. Several players enjoyed record-breaking seasons, led by All-American Jack Penrod, who hit .418 to tie the FAU single-season batting record. Penrod also set a new single-season home run record, belting 22 round trippers, while driving in 64 runs. With a team-leading 62 strikeouts, left-hander Mike Fascetti became the FAU all-time strikeout leader with 138. Another record breaker was right-hander Joe Peede, who tied the single-season record for starts with 16.

1989

FAU finished the season with a 30-23-2 record, which included a season-ending four-game win streak, which tied the longest streak that season. The team earned big victories against Florida Southern (8-6), Lynn (8-6) and Coach Cooney's former team, Montclair State (6-5). Four players hit above .300, with junior Wayne Stofsky leading the team at .376. Dro Ormrod hit .348, Tom Horincewich hit .338 and Brian Covin hit .312. The pitching staff was led by Rob Mascarella, who tallied a 2.66 ERA. Junior Steve Taylor led the team in victories, with nine, and strikeouts, with 116 in 22 appearances.

1990

Despite a season-ending six-game losing streak, FAU compiled a 28-25 record behind the hitting of junior Pat Murray. Murray tallied a team-leading 71 hits and a .335 batting average. Also hitting for average were Wayne Stofsky at .326 and Brian Covin at .323. Tom Horincewich rounded out the .300 hitters with a .309 average. Senior Steve Taylor led the team with a 2.78 ERA, which included 74 strikeouts. Steve Lawson led the team in innings pitched with 126.1.

1991

Rocky times saw FAU post a 24-31 record. That mark was the program's second losing season and the first losing season for Coach Kevin Cooney. Roster deletions and injuries plagued the season. FAU was led by Rick Seider's .393 average. Craig Shotten and Charles Aristy hit .330 and .325, respectively. The pitching staff was led by Matt Kramer's six victories and 3.53 ERA.

1992

FAU finished the season with a 27-27 record and was just two games away from a post-season appearance. FAU was led by First-Team South Region selection Anthony Bellinato's .371 average. Matt Kramer led the team in innings pitched (96.3) and victories (seven). Tim Holley led the team with 60 strikeouts. The season concluded with a Washington D.C. road trip. FAU posted victories against Florida Southern, LaSalle, Purdue, Army and Georgetown. Tom Lane, Tim Harikkala and Matt Jones received professional contracts.

1993

A second NCAA Division II post-season appearance for FAU resulted in the 41-17 team's South Regional Championship Tournament berth. Both Kevin Morgan and Eric Riebel earned First-Team South Region honors, while Marty Reinhardt received Second Team starter honors and Aaron Reid made Second Team as a closer. Morgan and Ron Rippo were named to the South Regional Tournament Team as an outfielder and DH, respectively. FAU pulled off several outstanding victories, including a 2-0 victory against the University of Miami. Riebel led the team in both average (.346) and doubles (17). Reinhardt and Brian Merkey led the team with perfect records (6-0). Pitcher Tim Holley led the team with a 3.03 ERA. Merkey and Reid posted 1.94 and 2.43 ERAs, respectively, as closers. The team was listed in several national categories, including leading the nation in double-plays turned. Catcher Kevin Lewis was drafted by the New York Mets.

1994

FAU finished its first season of NCAA Division I competition with a 31-23 record and several individual and team accolades. John Sammon opened the 1994 season with a 13-0 complete game no-hitter during the first series of the season against Florida A&M. That performance earned Sammon National Pitcher-of-the-Week honors in Baseball America. The season continued with an outstanding performance when Kevin Connacher set a new consecutive-game hit streak record of 24. Connacher finished the season with a .359 average, just five points lower than team leader Kevin Morgan (.364), and Freshman All-American honors by Baseball America. FAU again pulled off big victories at Florida (4-2), Michigan State (11-7), Army (16-6), UCF (11-1) and Florida International (7-0). FAU batted .310, tallied 32 homers, 88 doubles and 14 triples. The pitching staff held a 3.70 team ERA and recorded six shutouts, three saves and three complete games. Kevin Morgan and Marty Reinhardt were drafted by Saskatoon, a minor league squad that serves as a feeder program to the major leagues.

1995

FAU finished its second season of Division I competition and its first as a full member of the Atlantic Sun Conference with a 27-31 overall record and a 17-13 A-Sun record. FAU was one of four A-Sun teams to be invited to the Atlantic Sun Conference Tournament. In FAU's first game, the squad defeated Florida International University, ranked no. 9 at the time, 1-0 in 10 innings. FAU was the only team in the state to face every Division I Florida team in 1995. FAU defeated Florida 11-3 in Gainesville and had several victories against top-30 opponents. Gene Manning was picked pre-season All-A-Sun as a DH. Nick Presto, who led the squad with a .349 batting average, was named as the First-Team All-A-Sun shortstop. Roger Walker was named to the District III Academic All-America Team. Ken Wagner, who led the team with a 2.98 ERA, tallied 10 complete games to tie the school record and pitched 129.2 innings.

1996

FAU finished its third season of Division I competition with its best Division I record, most competitive schedule, highest conference finish and its highest MLB draft selection. Shortstop Nick Presto completed his four-year career with many school records and was drafted in the fifth round by the Cincinnati Reds. The team defeated the University of South Florida and projected number one draft pick, 11-4. FAU also hosted Kentucky, earning a 12-inning victory and grabbed a 13-inning win over Michigan State. In Atlantic Sun play, FAU finished as the tournament runner-up and placed five members on the All-Tournament Team: Nick Presto, MVP; Rich Ozarowski, Kevin Connacher, Garry Kamphouse and Tony VonDolteren. Connacher was named First-Team All-Conference at second base. Presto and Joe Cali were named Second-Team All-A-Sun. Presto led the squad with a .374 average while Cali, who finished the season third nationally with 14 saves, led the team with a 3.19 ERA in 62 innings of work. Coach Cooney also earned his 400th career coaching victory.

1997

The team finished third in the Atlantic Sun Conference regular season. Five players were drafted and six signed professional contracts. Outfielder Billy Brown was drafted third by the Toronto Blue Jays, marking the highest June draft selection in the program's history. Four-year letterman Kevin Connacher (Chicago White Sox) and Brennan Hervey (Detroit Tigers) were also drafted. Junior college transfers Rich Ozarowski (Detroit Tigers) and Charlie Jones (Arizona Diamondbacks) were also selected.

1998

FAU finished fifth in the Atlantic Sun Conference Tournament and third in the regular season A-Sun South Division. Injuries plagued the pitching staff, with three starters lost before March. Todd Moser opened the season strong with a 36-pitch (five inning) victory over Bethune-Cookman. FAU played in the Florida Marlins' Tournament, which featured Washington, Oregon State and Santa Clara. The big victory of the season came at Clemson, ranked ninth at the time, after FAU almost defeated Auburn. Due to team injuries, Dickie Hart stepped up to play three positions (second, short and third). He also led the team offensively and was voted MVP. The team finished 29-30.

1999

The 1999 squad rewrote the University's record books and broke into the national spotlight by tying Texas' 1977 record for most consecutive victories (34). Coach Cooney also earned his 500th career victory in a season that saw the team post a 54-9 record and make their first trip to a Division I NCAA Regional Tournament. Team records set: most victories (54), fewest losses (9), highest winning percentage (.857), most three-game sweeps (10, A-Sun 7), most consecutive shutout innings (22 at Regional Tournament). A-Sun records set: longest winning streak, most overall victories, fewest losses. FAU individual records set: Dan Jackson (game-high 15 strikeouts), Ryan Withey and Zack Roper (single season hit by pitcher, 18), Todd Moser (15 victories, 130 strikeouts, and 33 career starts), and Mick Celli (135 career walks). Todd Moser was named 1999 FAU Male Athlete of the Year, Baseball Weekly All-American, College Baseball Insider All-American, TPX All-American, NCBWA All-American, 1999 Super Team NCBWA Honorable Mention All-American, and ABCA All-Atlantic Region; Anthony Doubt was ABCA All-Atlantic Region First Team as a DH; Paul Stryhas was ABCA All-Atlantic Region Second Team; and Chris Winsett ABCA All-Atlantic Regional Second Team. Todd Moser was named A-Sun Player of the Year and Kevin Cooney A-Sun Coach of the Year. Eight players earned All-A-Sun honors. Paul Stryhas was named to the A-Sun Championship Team. Zack Roper, Clint Conway and Anthony Doubt were named to the Regional Tournament team.

2000

On the heels of a historic 1999 season, 2000 proved FAU was legitimate with the team earning a top-30 ranking. The team went through several turning points. The first was a 3-2 victory over Ball State, courtesy of a great defensive play to hold onto the game in its final innings. The second was the first home conference series, during which FAU captured two one-run games from Jacksonville to win the series and open the A-Sun season 4-2. Next was a 2-1 last inning trick play victory over UCF before 2,825 fans in the first regionally televised game played at FAU. The squad continued the season by winning its last three conference series and holding a number-two seed heading into the A-Sun Tournament, a tournament filled with upsets. The season ended with the team's second consecutive trip to the NCAA Regional Tournament, again hosted by the University of Miami. The tournament began with a 14-6 victory over Florida International, keeping hopes alive of moving through the tournament, despite an injury-depleted pitching staff. FAU fell in the final two games to end the season with a 43-19 record, the fifth best in 20 years of FAU baseball.

2001

With only three starting position players returning and one starting pitcher, FAU either had to prove it could continue its legacy or call it a rebuilding year. But several big wins during the year made FAU a team to look out for. The biggest win came in the second game of the season against eventual National Champion University of Miami. FAU can boast that it was the only team during the 2001 season to beat Miami on the road. Several other wins against top-25 opponents marked the rising of a young team. Back-to-back wins against no. 20 Eastern Carolina and no. 23 Rutgers readied the team for conference play against ranked opponents Stetson and UCF. In the A-Sun Championship, FAU edged by Stetson with a 2-1 win in the first round. The season also saw Kevin Cooney earn his 600th career victory and remain listed among the winningest active coaches by percentage.

2002

A win over the national no. 3 seed to capture an NCAA Regional was a great way to garner nationwide attention, but Florida Atlantic's season had several other highlights along the way to a no. 15 ranking. The team traveled the country and gained playing experience when it made its first trip to the West Coast and took on UCLA for the first time in history. A chilly March trip to play Minnesota, Tennessee and Alabama in the Metrodome in Minneapolis gave FAU an early look at an eventual NCAA Regional opponent. Returning to Florida, the team began a 27-game winning streak before falling to Miami on April 24, going 48 days without losing a game. FAU's offensive output for the season was second only to the 1999 season. The team displayed its offensive power on

FAU BASEBALL TEAM — 2002

February 23 when it broke a school record and scored 31 runs in a shutout over Hartford. An at-large bid to the NCAA tournament for the third time in four seasons saw the team go 3-0 to advance to the Regional Championship. What followed was a thrilling 6-5 victory in the ninth inning against Alabama to give FAU its first NCAA Regional Championship and a berth in the Super Regional to play Georgia Tech.

2003

FAU hit the field with high expectations for the season. After gaining recognition in the preseason polls for the first time, the squad went on to post the second most victories in FAU history, 47, second only to the 54 victories recorded in 1999. FAU captured its first Atlantic Sun Title since 1999 with a 25-8 conference record and spent 14 weeks ranked in the nation's top 25. The pitching staff held opponents to a 3.42 ERA and finished the year with the 12th lowest ERA in the nation. The offense did its part and finished 44th in the country with a .313 batting average and finished behind only 28 other teams with a scoring average of 7.6 runs per game. Left-handed pitcher Randy Beam finished with 13 victories and was named Second Team All-America by CollegeBaseballInsider.com and Sports Weekly and Third Team by Louisville Slugger and Baseball America. Head coach Kevin Cooney picked up his 700th career victory as FAU defeated Georgia Southern 12-2 on May 9, 2003. Florida Atlantic's regional selection placed the team in the Coral Gables Regional for the third time in four appearances. The squad defeated Florida before suffering a devastating 1-0 loss to Miami. That same evening FAU lost a 22-14 contest to Florida to end the season with a 47-16 record.

2004

The team got off to the best start in school history with 11-straight wins and opened up the DoubleTree Diamond Classic in Boca Raton by hosting four top-30 teams. As the no. 12 ranked team in the nation, the team finished the weekend 2-1, the only loss to no. 10 Notre Dame by one run. The team finished the conference season on a high note as FAU captured its first Atlantic Sun Tournament Championship. The team swept through the tournament with a 4-0 record and moved on to its fifth NCAA Regional in six seasons. A familiar trip down I-95 to Coral Gables resulted in a trip to the championship game but the team would end the season with a 47-17 record. A unique experience occurred in March as the players got to experience the big leagues for an afternoon when the squad played the St. Louis Cardinals at the team's spring training facility in Jupiter.

2004 A-SUN TOURNAMENT CHAMPIONS

The team earned its fourth consecutive trip to an NCAA Regional after finishing second in Atlantic Sun play by closing out conference action on an 8-1 run. The squad then advanced to the championship game of the A-Sun Tournament. The turning point of the season came against no. 6 Georgia Tech. FAU fell to the Yellow Jackets in game one of the three game series in the tenth inning and won the third game of the series by shutting out the team for the first time in seven years on their home field. Freshman pitcher Mickey Storey picked up Third-Team All-America recognition and was named Collegiate Baseball's Freshman Pitcher of the Year after he tallied a 1.70 ERA and 10-1 record.

2006

The team had high expectations for the season, ranked in the top-20 in the national preseason polls and picked to win the Atlantic Sun Conference in its final season in the league. With two top-25 teams on the schedule in the first month, the Owls had to be on the top of their game from the start. But the injury bug quickly claimed three starters in the first month of the season. Going into the conference tournament, the Owls were without five original starters. FAU made the tournament by sweeping East Tennessee State in the final weekend of the regular season and earned the no. 4 seed. Mickey Storey threw FAU's first no-hitter in 12 years when he defeated Campbell 2-0 on Mar. 31. He was named Louisville Sluggers Player of the Week and to the College Baseball Foundation Honor Roll.

This Is...

Florida Atlantic University

Built on Tradition — Focused on the Future

Florida Atlantic University opened its doors in 1964 as the first public university in southeast Florida. Today, it is a comprehensive teaching and research institution serving 26,000 students on seven campuses that stretch from Port St. Lucie to Davie.

FAU is a first choice university for people from every walk of life. Recent high school graduates, community college transfers, working professionals, researchers and scholars all find their place at FAU. Students can choose from more than 170 undergraduate, graduate and doctoral degrees offered through the University's nine colleges.

On the Forefront of Research

Built on a rich tradition as a teaching university with a world-class faculty, FAU is earning a reputation as a top research institution in areas ranging from biomedicine and biotechnology to ocean engineering and coastline security.

This research will lead to the next generation of medical cures and technological advancements, all of which builds the local economy. With more than $60 million per year in sponsored research, FAU is providing a solid foundation for the development of a vibrant high-tech industry in South Florida.

Living and Learning

The college experience is different for everyone. Hundreds of student activities — from fraternities and sororities to pre-professional student associations — enrich the learning experience and nurture relationships that last a lifetime.

And while there is no substitute for the dynamic synergy created inside the classroom, FAU faculty and students seek out real-word experiences that enhance this experience, such as internships, hands-on research and study abroad opportunities.

An Enriching Experience

FAU may be considered a progressive institution in the changing landscape of higher education, but it also embraces the timeless traditions that are unique to the university experience.

Eighteen NCAA Division I athletic teams, including baseball, basketball, football and softball, provide scholarships to student athletes and add to the tradition of what it means to be part of a real university.

This heritage is enhanced by the support of more than 95,000 alumni, many of whom are leaders in business, government and the arts not only in South Florida, but around the world.

Frank T. Brogan

PRESIDENT — FLORIDA ATLANTIC UNIVERSITY

FRANK T. BROGAN became became the fifth president of Florida Atlantic University in March 2003. Previously, he was lieutenant governor of Florida, the state's commissioner of education, superintendent of schools in Martin County, Florida, and a principal, assistant principal, dean and fifth-grade teacher in Martin County public schools.

President Brogan and his twin brother, John, were born in Cincinnati, Ohio, the youngest of six children. The first member of his family to graduate from college, President Brogan received a bachelor's degree in education magna cum laude from the University of Cincinnati in 1976. Two years later, he moved to Florida to teach at Port Salerno Elementary School on the Treasure Coast. He continued his education at FAU earning a master's degree in education in 1981. In rapid succession, he became dean of students at Indiantown Middle School, assistant principal and then principal at Murray Middle School, Martin County's elected superintendent of schools, Florida's commissioner of education (the youngest person ever to hold that office), and, in 1999, lieutenant governor on the Bush-Brogan ticket. He had just been elected to a second term as lieutenant governor when he decided to seek the presidency of his alma mater, FAU.

President Brogan has been a champion of public education all his life. He considers his most important achievement as commissioner of education to have been building greater accountability into Florida's public school system, and he is a strong advocate of accountability in higher education as well. His goals for FAU include supporting its continued growth as an important center of teaching, research and public service activities; increasing access to higher education across the University's seven-county service region; encouraging diversity in FAU's student body, faculty and staff; supporting world-class research initiatives; fostering close, mutually supportive relationships with the communities the University serves; and making FAU an ever-stronger engine of economic development for South Florida.

In addition to championing education, President Brogan has served as a leader for other important causes. During the past few years, he has become especially involved in the fight against cancer — a disease that claimed the life of his first wife, Mary. He has used his remarkable speaking ability to crusade in the fight against breast cancer and he currently serves as statewide chairman of Florida's Dialogue on Cancer. He has received a public service award from the Pioneers in Prostate Cancer.

President Brogan is married to Courtney S. Brogan, who has a law degree from Florida State University. They are the parents of Colby John Brogan, born in 2005.

President Brogan was named to the Sun Belt Conference Executive Committee as the at-large representative for 2006-07.

NCAA FACULTY REPRESENTATIVE

JIM RIORDAN was named Director of the MBA in Sport Management program at Florida Atlantic University on July 1, 2000. Prior to coming to South Florida, Riordan was the founding director of the MS in Sport Administration program at Canisius College in Buffalo, NY.

Riordan's extensive background begins in 1983, when he was named Director of Security and Event Services for the Wachovia Spectrum and the Philadelphia Flyers. Other events that he has overseen include the 1987 Stanley Cup Finals and official visits by Hillary Clinton, Nelson Mandela, Margaret Thatcher, and Pope John Paul II.

From 1989 to 1994 he held executive management positions while working for the facilities management giant Spectacor Management Group. In 1994, Riordan served as Director of Training and Quality Control for the NY Mets, and Shea Stadium.

In 1996, Riordan served as Sector Coordinator for the Olympic soccer medal-round site. He has also served as a crowd management and event operations consultant for Super Bowls XXXIII and XXXIV.

Riordan has served on several committees at FAU, including the Director of Athletics search, Athletic Advisory Board, NCAA Self-Study Re-Certification, Strategic Planning sub-committee, and the multi-sport facility feasibility committee.

Riordan, 44, holds a BS and MBA from Saint John's University in New York. He is currently pursuing a PhD in Higher Education Leadership at FAU.

Florida Atlantic Athletics

Craig Angelos DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

CRAIG ANGELOS was named Director of Athletics at Florida Atlantic University in July 2003, assuming oversight responsibility for the institution's 18-team intercollegiate athletic programs including 450 student-athletes.

When Angelos first arrived, he enthusiastically embraced his multi-faceted role and has since moved at a rapid pace to take the program to the next level, by working with President Brogan, FAU students and staff. His philosophy for running a successful intercollegiate athletic program is built on four fundamental principles: institutional control; academic excellence; fiscal integrity; and winning championships.

Since his arrival, he has been instrumental in Florida Atlantic's rise to Division I-A entrance into the Sun Belt Conference affiliation (one of the 11 I-A conferences) and has orchestrated both transitions. He initiated and chaired the University's brand identity campaign and saw it come to a conclusion with new marks in the spring of 2005. Along the way, a television contract was secured in 2004 that saw ESPN and Fox Sports become regulars at both home and away football contests including the 2005 home season opener, which aired nationally on ESPN2 and was hosted by Kurt Herbstreit and Mike Tirico, against Oklahoma State. The department also became the fourth university within the state of Florida to have an all-sports apparel deal with Nike, Inc., joining Florida State, Florida and Miami. The 2005-2006 year was also a pinnacle year for FAU women's athletic teams with seven of the 10 sponsored sports advancing to postseason play. In all, FAU captured five conference women's championships and was one of just eight schools nationally to capture five or more women's championships.

In Angelos' first three years at FAU, the Owls have captured 10 conference titles and FAU has represented the university in postseason competition 15 times. Three individuals earned All-America status while two earned Academic All-America honors. The department's commitment to a holistic approach to student-athlete excellence shows with more than 35% of the student-athletes maintaining a 3.0 G.P.A. and with the National Consortium for Academics and Sports honoring FAU as an Academics and Sports Outreach and Community Service Program Honor Roll member in 2005. This was made possible in part due to the recent creation of a Champs/Lifeskills program that assists the student-athletes development in the areas of academic and athletic excellence, personal and career development and community service.

Perhaps, most significantly, under Angelos' leadership the department has been able to develop a balanced budget plan that culminated with a balanced budget for the first time since the inception of the football program, which will subsequently create the long-term stability of the athletic programs.

Along with balancing the budget, has come a complete renovation of fundraising measures that have resulted this past year of an increase in major gifts of 400%, an Owl Club fund increase of 130% and an increase in special event revenue of 150%. Angelos' efforts to market the teams, build a fan base and showcase the University on national television have greatly enhanced the overall image of the athletics program. In 2004, football ticket sales rose 30%, attendance was improved by 130% and student attendance rose 906% despite not playing a home game until six games into the schedule. During the 2005 season, he was instrumental in the department selling the most single game tickets in the history of the young football program that allowed the Owls to meet the requirements for becoming a full fledged I-A member.

Angelos has also had the opportunity to hire two new basketball coaches the first came to a conclusion in early April of 2005 with the hiring of Matt Doherty, which emphasized Angelos' commitment to the overall growth of the department. In just one season, men's basketball revenues tripled and attendance more than doubled. That foundation, laid by both Angelos and Doherty will be continued in 2006-2007 by former associate head coach and newly hired head coach Rex Walters who took over the program after the departure of Doherty to SMU.

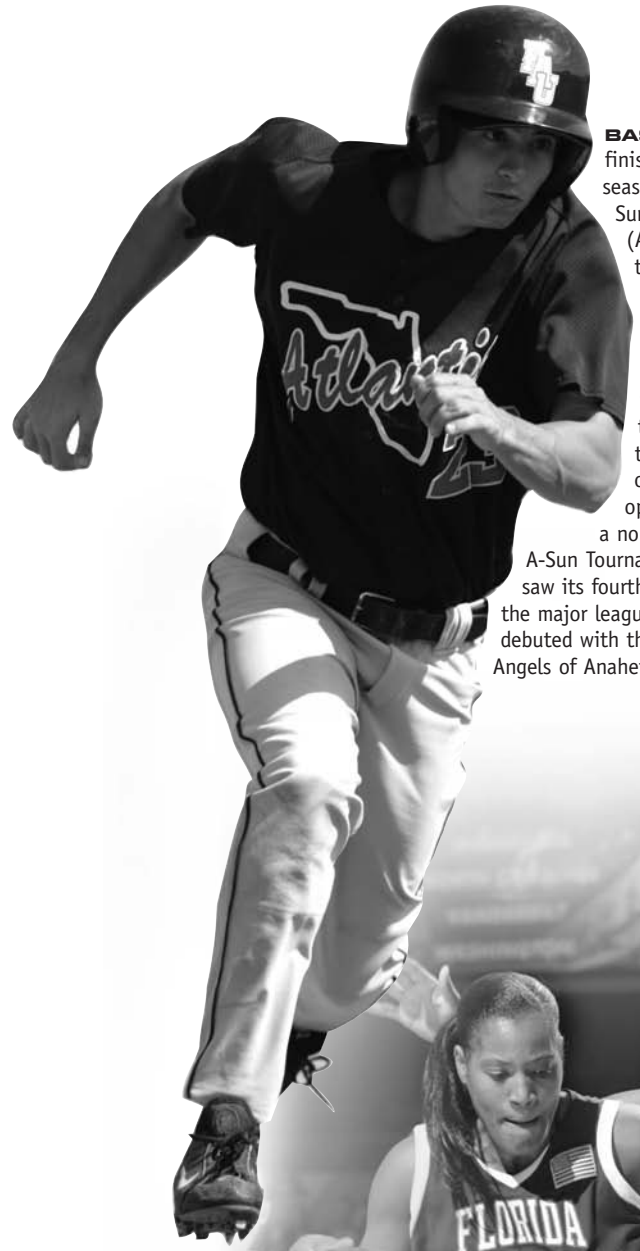
Almost immediately after his arrival at FAU, Angelos initiated a master plan and review of all athletic facilities. The plan has already begun to be implemented within the recent ground breaking for a state of the art track and field complex and major renovation of the basketball arena. Perhaps the gem of the projects includes exploring the feasibility of building an on-campus football and basketball venue that would solidify the athletic department's position among top-tier institutions. His proposed plan not only includes the "Carrier Dome Like" facility, but more importantly, the entire University would benefit by his vision of developing an innovation village that would create much needed additional student housing, retail establishments, additional parking, and a hotel and conference center that would all combine with a multi-use dome stadium to make FAU a leader in the country and take FAU to extraordinary heights

Prior to coming to FAU, he was the Deputy Director of Athletics and Chief Operating Officer at Indiana University since January 2002. While there, he supervised many aspects of the athletic department including the football program and was instrumental in negotiating a Nike contract for 23 of its 24 sports. Previously, he was at the University of Miami (FL) for eight years, serving in a variety of positions but mostly in the number two-spot under athletics director Paul Dee. Prior to arriving on campus, he spent three years at the NCAA as a legislative assistant interpreting rules and regulations of the association. He is now entering his 16th year as an administrator in intercollegiate athletics.

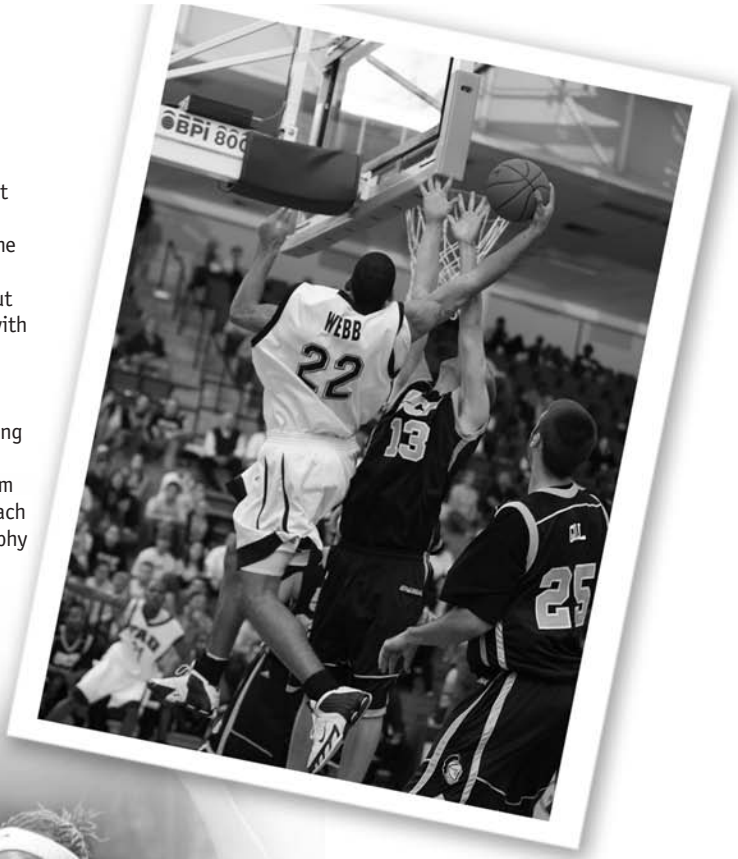
A graduate of the Creighton University School of Law in Omaha, NE, Angelos worked for a short time in a mid-size litigation firm in Los Angelos, CA. However, he ultimately decided to combine his legal background and his love for athletics and gravitated towards a career in intercollegiate athletics. During his undergraduate years at Brigham Young University in Provo, UT, Angelos was the starting first baseman on the varsity squad. He later played for one year in the Italian professional baseball league in Udine, Italy.

The 44-year old Angelos and his wife, Kristin, have been married for 21 years and keep busy with their six children, Alayna (17), Alexis (14), Abigail (11), Austin (9), Aaron (6), and Alivia (3).

Athletic Review



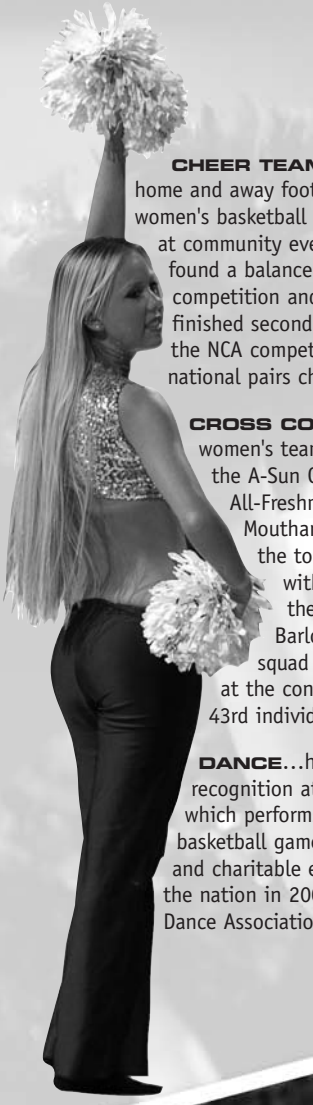
BASEBALL... finished their final season in the Atlantic Sun Conference (A-Sun) and found themselves without five starters for the majority of the season. The team battled throughout the year ending with the season's first three-game sweep of a conference opponent and earning a no. 4 seed in the A-Sun Tournament. The program saw its fourth former player reach the major leagues as Tommy Murphy debuted with the Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim.



MEN'S BASKETBALL...ended the season with the best conference record in program history (14-6) and claimed third place in the A-Sun. The Owls, who led the conference in assist-to-turnover ratio, averaged an assist on nearly 60% of their field goals and shot a conference-best 39.9% from three-point range. Rex Walters, who played for seven seasons in the NBA, was promoted to head coach in April.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL...had tremendous success, winning the A-Sun Championship and receiving a berth to the NCAA Division I Tournament for the first time. The team's 16-4 A-Sun record was the best ever for the Owls, who also had their first 20-win season at the Division I level. First Team All-Conference selection Shontavia Williams set FAU's career scoring mark with 1,466 points.

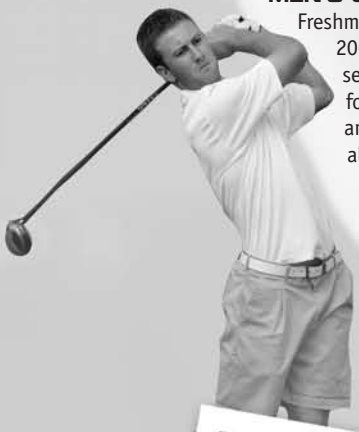
BASEBALL



CHEER TEAM...is a regular at home and away football games, men's and women's basketball games and is a constant at community events. The squad has found a balance between spirit, competition and education. The team finished second in 2001 and 2003 at the NCA competition and owns a national pairs championship.

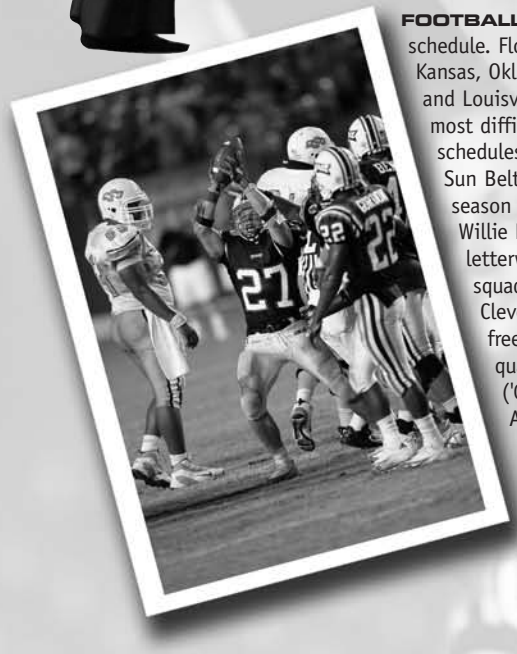
CROSS COUNTRY...saw the women's team capture fifth place in the A-Sun Championship, led by All-Freshmen runner Elodie Mouthan. Three Owls finished in the top 21 for the women, with three competing in the NCAA Regional. Earl Barlow paced the men's squad to a 10th-place finish at the conference meet, taking 43rd individually.

DANCE...has garnered national recognition at FAU. The dance team, which performs at football and basketball games as well as pep rallies and charitable events, placed second in the nation in 2005 at the National Dance Association competition.

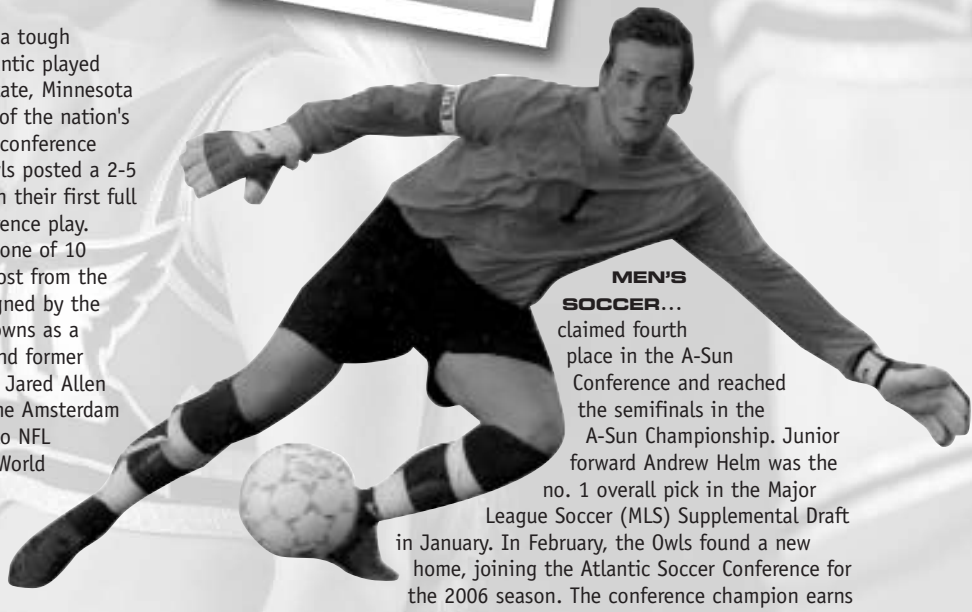


MEN'S GOLF...saw Mike McMillan earn A-Sun All-Freshmen Team honors after finishing 19th in the 2006 A-Sun Championship. The Owls took seventh as a team in the conference and look forward to 2007, losing just one senior among its top five players. The season was also highlighted by a third-place finish at the NSU Spring Classic.

WOMEN'S GOLF... took third place in the A-Sun Conference Tournament behind the efforts of Praewnapa Phol-Uaypom, the A-Sun Freshman of the Year. Phol-Uayporn took third individually, shooting a tournament-best 70 in the final round. Head coach Joan Joyce returns four of her top five players for 2007.



FOOTBALL...faced a tough schedule. Florida Atlantic played Kansas, Oklahoma State, Minnesota and Louisville, one of the nation's most difficult non-conference schedules. The Owls posted a 2-5 Sun Belt record in their first full season of conference play. Willie Hughley, one of 10 letterwinners lost from the squad, was signed by the Cleveland Browns as a free agent and former quarterback Jared Allen ('04) led the Amsterdam Admirals to NFL Europe's World Bowl.



MEN'S SOCCER... claimed fourth place in the A-Sun Conference and reached the semifinals in the A-Sun Championship. Junior forward Andrew Helm was the no. 1 overall pick in the Major League Soccer (MLS) Supplemental Draft in January. In February, the Owls found a new home, joining the Atlantic Soccer Conference for the 2006 season. The conference champion earns an automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament.

FLORIDA ATLANTIC UNIVERSITY

SWIMMING AND DIVING...women's team earned the University's first Sun Belt Conference championship. Junior Ellie Weberg captured two All-American honors, finishing fourth in both the 100 and 200 breaststrokes. Sophomore Kevin Bartell took 12th in the 100 breaststroke at the NCAA Championships, while the men finished third at the Sun Belt Championships.

MEN'S TENNIS...experienced a transitional season under the direction of first-year head coach David Komie. The Owls turned the corner, landing a top-20 recruiting class scheduled to begin play in 2006-07. Komie's 2006 squad battled teams like Miami, Wisconsin and Tennessee, among others, and shut out Jacksonville 6-0 in regular season A-Sun Conference play.

WOMEN'S TENNIS...won five-consecutive matches in March and earned victories over Toledo, Syracuse, Army and Brown during the season. Sophomore Claudia Kecht was named to the A-Sun Second Team and Danielle Simone was recognized on the All-Freshmen Team all under the direction of head coach Mary Dailey.

WOMEN'S SOCCER...dominated the A-Sun Conference, outscoring its opponents 35-2 during a 9-0-1 conference season and leading the NCAA with a .792 shutout percentage in 21 overall games. The Owls were 16-4-1 on the season and earned the program's first berth into the NCAA Tournament. The team had its sixth-consecutive winning season and placed six players on First Team All-Conference, including Susanna Lehtinen as Player of the Year. Head coach Brian Dooley was recognized as A-Sun Coach of the Year.

WOMEN'S TRACK AND FIELD... took second place at the A-Sun Conference Indoor Championship and third place at the A-Sun outdoor meet. Freshman Krystena Castro won the indoor shot put and outdoor discus titles. Raynell Hagberg took two individual indoor titles while junior Yanique Booth won the 60-meter hurdles indoor. Booth, Castro and the 4x400 relay team all qualified for the NCAA Outdoor Regional. In May the Owls broke ground on a new outdoor varsity track.

SOFTBALL...returned to the top of the A-Sun Conference, winning its ninth conference title in the last 10 years. Taking advantage of their seventh NCAA Tournament berth, the Owls reached the regional final for the first time. FAU finished second in the A-Sun during the regular season, going 15-5, and went 35-25 overall, the 11th consecutive season with 35 or more wins.

VOLLEYBALL...went a perfect 9-0 in the A-Sun Conference and finished an all-time best 29-3 overall, taking the A-Sun tournament and the program's third berth to the NCAA Tournament. Senior Kelly Paiva was named A-Sun Player of the Year and earned both All-Region and All-America honors. Head coach Jody Brown was recognized as A-Sun Coach of the Year.

Melissa Dawson

ASSOCIATE AD – SENIOR WOMAN ADMINISTRATOR

MELISSA DAWSON became Florida Atlantic Associate Athletic Director and Senior Woman Administrator June 1, 2001. She is the University's first person to hold the SWA position, in a full-time capacity, demonstrating the University's commitment to the growth and development of women's sports.

Since coming to Florida Atlantic, Dawson placed her finger prints on the quality of game operations, worked to improve facilities and consolidated both the training rooms and the equipment room to encompass the needs of the entire athletic department. She supervises several teams, and monitors student-athlete welfare for the entire department.

Dawson came to FAU from Florida State University. While the title of SWA is new for her, the inner workings of college athletics is not. The Inverness, FL native held various positions at FSU during her 12-year tenure, all of which are an asset as FAU continues to strive towards success.

She was hired in 1990 as an equipment manager for the Seminoles and was promoted in 1991 to an Administrative Assistant position. In that role, Dawson worked directly with women's volleyball, basketball and softball. She graduated in April of 1992, from Florida State, with a Bachelor of Science in Physical Education.

The following Fall, Dawson's title, but not home, changed once again to Assistant Home Event Manager, a position that provided her the opportunity to coordinate all invitationals, conference championship and NCAA tournaments hosted by FSU.

She was promoted again in August of 1993 to Assistant Director of Athletic Facilities and Operations, a position she held until her departure from FSU for FAU. As FSU's Assistant Director of Facilities, Dawson directly supervised the daily operations of volleyball, soccer and softball and assisted in the daily game operations for tennis and swimming. She also served as the manager of eight athletic facilities, the liaison between FSU and Nike and supervised an equipment staff of five, all while earning a Master of Science in Athletic Administration in April of 1996. She has served as the tournament director or assistant tournament director for ACC Championships, NCAA Regional Championships and the 1996 NCAA Division I Women's Tennis Championship.

Ed Hayward

ASSOCIATE AD – COMPLIANCE

ED HAYWARD came to FAU in March of 1996 with the daunting task of establishing a strong compliance office while preparing and guiding the University through the NCAA Self-Study.

Hayward was rewarded in the winter of 1999 with a promotion to Associate AD at which time he assumed the responsibility of overseeing several sports. Hayward came to FAU after serving as Florida International University's Compliance Retention and Academic Support Athletic Coordinator from January 1992 to February 1996.

Hayward, who received his masters of science in sports administration in December of 1991 from St. Thomas University, came to Florida from Tennessee Technological University where he served as Admissions Counselor from the University's Office of Admissions from 1988 to 1990.

Hayward, who received his B.A. with an emphasis in journalism in 1988 from Tennessee Technological University, became involved with the support and advisement of Foot Fraternity Inc (football) while working at Tech and continued his community support upon becoming a resident of Miami. He was a four-year letterman for the Golden Eagles ('83-'85, '87) and in the program's extended history Hayward is one of seven to rush for 1,000 yards (1,021 '85).

He has been a road race coordinator for the Miami Runners Club and has served on the board of directors. Hayward also volunteers for Boys Town of Florida, Miami division, and was a football coach for the North Miami Parks' Recreation Department.

Hayward resides in Miami with his wife, Lisa, and three children Christian (11) and Myles (8) and daughter Virginia Brya (4).

Randy Langejans

ASSOCIATE AD – BUSINESS OPERATIONS

RANDY LANGEJANS joined the Florida Atlantic staff in June of 2004 with the responsibility of overseeing the fiscal operations of the athletics department.

Since coming to Florida Atlantic, Langejans has been instrumental in growing and managing a competitive budget for 18 sports along with numerous department support areas. He also assisted with the development of a comprehensive business plan for the department which included a balanced three-year model forecast.

Langejans joined the Owls after spending 20 years in various roles at Northern Arizona University. At NAU, he started as a graduate assistant football coach, moved into the areas of athletic ticketing and event management before his role in business operations, which began in 1990.

In that capacity, the Northern Arizona graduate was responsible for the fiscal affairs of the athletic department, which included all sports camp activity. As he developed into his role, Langejans was afforded additional responsibilities, which included event management, football scheduling and travel. During his last two years at NAU, he also oversaw the day-to-day operations of football, men's basketball, and the men's and women's cross country and track and field teams.

He has served as the tournament manager for a number of conference post-season events and also served a member of the NCAA Division I men's tennis national committee of which he was the national chair during the 2004 season.

A former 20-year high school sports official, he earned his degree in recreational leadership with an emphasis in business administration in 1984.

Langejans and his wife, Bonita, were married in Maui in March of 2006, and reside in Boynton Beach, FL.

Terry Mohajir

ASSOCIATE AD – DEVELOPMENT

TERRY MOHAJIR was named Florida Atlantic University's Associate Athletics Director for Development in December 2004.

Since coming to Florida Atlantic he has been heavily involved in creating a comprehensive fundraising program with a focus on major gifts, annual fund and special events. Since Mohajir arrived, the department has enhanced the major gift program 400 percent, and has increased Owl Club giving 130 percent. In addition, the special events revenues have increased 150 percent. He also coordinates all fundraising efforts for the proposed 170 million dollars' worth of facilities expansions.

Mohajir joined the staff after serving in a similar role at the University of Missouri-Kansas City. His last appointment at UMKC saw him serve as the assistant athletics director for external relations, a position he held from 1997 to 2004.

As the assistant athletics director for external relations at UMKC, Mohajir oversaw all marketing and promotions, sports information, fundraising, radio and TV contracts, corporate sales, tickets and event operations.

While at UMKC, Mohajir was responsible for a 450 percent increase in the educational athletics endowment. He oversaw an 80 percent increase in sponsorships and an 89 percent upswing in the athletics fund donor base. There was also a 33 percent increase in ticket revenue under his direction. One of his more visible accomplishments was leading the fundraising and construction efforts for a new training room and strength and conditioning center.

Mohajir organized the bid and successfully pitched to the conference presidents to host the Mid-Continent Conference men's and women's basketball championship tournaments in 2003 and 2004. He directed and hosted an exempt, eight-team Thanksgiving basketball tournament. He also organized UMKC's effort to land the 2005 NCAA Women's Basketball Midwest Regional. Additionally, Mohajir oversaw the operations of the Hospital Hill Run and the 2002, 2003 and 2004 USA Track and Field Association men's half-marathon national championships.

Prior to working at UMKC, Mohajir was a football ticket sales and promotions account executive for the University of Kansas from 1996-97 and was an assistant offensive line and gameday special team's football coach for the Jayhawks from 1993-96. Mohajir graduated from Arkansas State with a major in sports management and a minor in marketing in 1993 where he was a starter on the football team. He earned a master's degree in Sports Management from the University of Kansas in 1997.

Michelle Brown, Ed.D.

DIRECTOR, CENTER FOR ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

DR. MICHELLE DOMAS BROWN is the Director of the Student-Athlete Center for Academic Excellence.

Reporting to the Dean for Undergraduate Education, Brown oversees the academic counseling and life skills staff, and serves as a liaison between the athletic and academic communities at FAU. Brown's objective is to ensure that every student-athlete has the resources and support structure in place to reach their educational goals.

Brown has been at FAU since 1997. Before taking her position with the SACAE in October 2002, she was an Assistant Director for Freshman Programs. Throughout her tenure at FAU, she has worked with students in many capacities focusing on their personal development and academic success.

The balance between academics and athletics has been a very important part of Brown's life. Brown earned a full athletic scholarship in volleyball at West Virginia University and decided to become a Mountaineer. She had a successful Division I athletic career earning several awards, including being named on the GTE Region-2 All-Conference Academic First Team and the Atlantic-10 All-Conference First Team. She graduated with honors in four years with a Bachelor of Arts in International Studies and Foreign Languages.

Having earned the Atlantic-10 Post Graduate Scholarship and a graduate teaching position, she continued her education by earning a Master of Arts in Foreign Language from West Virginia University. In 1995, Brown married Jody Brown and returned to Boca Raton where her husband became the FAU Head Volleyball Coach. While working full-time at FAU, she earned her Doctorate in Education in Educational Leadership, Higher Education Administration.

Dr. Brown and Coach Brown have one son, Kaja.

Quentin Ball

ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR, CENTER FOR ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

QUENTIN BALL joined the Florida Atlantic University academic staff in fall 2005 as the Associate Director of the Student Athlete Center for Academic Excellence.

Ball comes to FAU from Saint Peter's College in Jersey City, New Jersey, where he was the Academic/Athletic Coordinator. His main role at Saint Peter's was to determine and certify the eligibility of student-athletes. Additionally, he was responsible for the advisement of all student-athletes and the monitoring of every student-athlete's degree progress. He served as the CHAMPS/Life Skills Coordinator and assisted with the SAAC. Outside of his athletic department duties he served on the President's Enrollment Council and was a charter member of the First Year Experience Committee. He joined the Peacocks in the summer of 2004.

Prior to Saint Peter's, Ball worked at USF for nearly two years in a similar role as an academic advisor. There he primarily advised the men's and women's basketball student-athletes. He worked directly under the supervision of Phyllis Labaw and was involved in many of the changes that took place throughout the growth of the athletic academic program during the time the school was selected to join the Big East Conference. Additionally, Ball was the Practice Coordinator and Floor Manager when USF hosted the 1st and 2nd Round NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament.

Ball received his master's degree in human performance with a specialization in sport management in December 2001 from the University of Alabama. While working toward his degree he also completed a graduate assistantship at the school's Center of Athletic Student Services. His primary responsibilities involved working as a graduate academic counselor to the football and men's basketball programs.

The St. Louis, Missouri native graduated from the University of Florida in 2000 with a bachelor's degree in business administration with a concentration in sports management. During his four years at UF he served as a student manager for the men's basketball program. He was a member of the program when the team played for the National Championship in 2000.

He is married to the former Shannon Brubaker of Gainesville, Florida.

Academic Counselor

Rebekah Gingras
Academic Counselor

FLORIDA ATLANTIC UNIVERSITY is committed to each student-athlete as a total person. Participation in athletics is important, but it represents only one aspect of a student-athlete's college experience. Student-athletes at Florida Atlantic University have the opportunity to participate in one of the top athletic programs in the country. More importantly, they have the opportunity to earn a degree from an outstanding academic institution, one that will provide them with the necessary skills and experiences to find success and fulfillment well beyond college.

The University's commitment to the student-athlete is a dual one. Participation in the athletic arena is not viewed as an obstacle to the attainment of one's educational goals, rather it is seen as a complementary activity. Each supports the other. Athletic excellence is stressed, but academic achievement is never compromised.

The University realizes that student-athletes are required to commit a large percentage of their personal time to University-sponsored athletic activities. For this reason, the University recognizes the need for a support program for its intercollegiate athletes. The Student-Athlete Center for Academic Excellence is designed to assist all student-athletes in achieving their educational goals.

Academic counselors work collaboratively with faculty and campus advising centers to ensure that student-athletes are taking the appropriate classes and making progress toward their degrees. Counselors also work with students on a variety of learning enhancement activities, including study skills and time management strategies. In addition to individualized counseling, a comprehensive tutorial program is also available to student-athletes through the Academic Center. Tutors come highly recommended by faculty and they are generally available to work with students in all subject areas.

The Student-Athlete Center for Academic Excellence also coordinates community outreach and "life skills" activities for FAU student-athletes. FAU takes considerable pride in the accomplishments of our student-athletes in the community. In fact, the FAU Athletic Department was recognized recently by the National Consortium of Academics and Sport as one of the top universities in the country for commitment to community service.

CHAMPS/Life Skills Program

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

The Student-Athlete Center for Academic Excellence offers a variety of personal development programming for student-athletes. In recent years, FAU's personal development programming has been conducted through a series of workshops designed to help students not only make a successful transition to college life, but also to prepare them for success beyond FAU once they graduate. Recent workshops have focused on time management, study skills, drug and alcohol awareness, gambling, financial planning, sport psychology, and health and wellness topics.

FAU's Life Skills program also includes sections of the First Year Experience course (SLS 1501) that are specifically designed for freshmen student-athletes. These classes are required for all freshmen student-athletes. While the curriculum for these classes will follow the traditional SLS model that is currently in place at FAU, certain topics (e.g., time management, freshmen transitional issues, drug and alcohol education, communicating with the media, etc.) are taught in a manner that will help meet the unique needs of the student-athlete population. Students' involvement with this class has had a positive impact on their academic performance and helps them build a strong connection to the FAU community.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COUNCIL (SAAC)

Each athletic team at FAU has at least two representatives on the Student-Athlete Advisory Council (SAAC), a leadership and service organization that exists for the betterment of the student-athlete experience. SAAC meetings provide students with a vehicle to express any concerns they may have with existing practices and to offer suggestions for improvements in the future. The SAAC also organizes a wide variety of community outreach activities each semester. This past year was particularly productive for the SAAC as they organized a holiday party for and donated gifts to a community of underprivileged youth and held a National Student-Athlete Day event that exposed a group of children to the life of a college student-athlete.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The Student-Athlete Center for Academic Excellence strives to provide its student-athletes with opportunities for career exploration, development, and job placement. The center achieves these goals by offering the student-athletes a variety of programs to prepare them for their future careers. These programs include mock interview days, workshops on interviewing skills, networking, and dressing for success, and resume and cover letter information sessions. This past year, the SACAE also developed several programs to help with job placement. The center developed a Job Bank to assist students with finding summer jobs and internships.

MENTORING PROGRAM

The SACAE also initiated a Student-Athlete Mentor Program. This program is designed to match FAU student-athletes with business people in the greater South Florida community with similar fields of interest. Mentors become off-campus advisors to students, able to introduce students who are well schooled in theory to the real and practical world of business. The program is also a fine opportunity for students to make friends in the business community and receive advice and help from very successful people.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Throughout the academic year, FAU's student-athletes continuously interact with several community organizations through clinics, fundraisers, and educational enhancement initiatives in schools, after-school programs, and non-profit organizations. Here are a few organizations that teamed with the Owls in 2005-06.

- YMCA
- Del Prado Elementary School
- Special Olympics
- Boys & Girls Clubs of Broward & Palm Beach Counties
- Broward County Library
- March of Dimes
- At-Risk Programs
- American Cancer Society
- Ronald McDonald House
- Dixie Manor Community Center
- Rape & Incest National Network
- Hammock Pointe Elementary School
- Palm Beach and Boca Raton Chambers of Commerce

Owls in the Community

FAU's student-athletes, coaches, and administrators show a commitment to service as they are involved in a wide range of community outreach activities throughout the year. FAU believes in the importance of interaction between the student-athletes and the community and strives to uphold a broad based program of service to the greater South Florida region. This comprehensive community outreach program helps the student-athletes develop an appreciation for and a life-long commitment to volunteerism.

NCAA Compliance

Ask Before You Act – Call
561.297.2992

Florida Atlantic University's Athletic Compliance Office functions within the realm of the University's compliance structure, coordinating, monitoring and verifying compliance and meeting all NCAA requirements. FAU is committed and compelled to the principle of institutional control in the operation of its athletics department in a way that is constant within the rules and regulations of the NCAA and the University.

The Athletics Compliance Office commitment is to maintain control of its athletics program through responsible administrators, faculty and institutional bodies; to educate coaches, staff, student-athletes and other individuals involved with the athletics program of their institutional responsibilities under the rules; to develop operating systems within the athletics department and the University that provide guidance in how to work within the rules; and to discover and report any violations of the rules that occur. Each individual involved in intercollegiate athletics is obligated to maintain competency in knowledge of the rules; to act within his or her realm of responsibility in full compliance with the governing legislation; and to report any violation of NCAA, conference and/or institutional rules of which he or she is aware.

As the University strives for excellence on and off the field of competition, the highest regard for ethical conduct must also be sought. In order for the athletic department to exist, outside participation is required and must be emphasized. However, any inappropriate activity outside the rules and regulations of the NCAA could jeopardize the student-athlete's eligibility to compete athletically. Everyone involved inside or outside the University must do his or her part in order to foster an environment that is supportive of the NCAA operating principle of competitive equity. Each person has a role and responsibility and has accountability when it comes to compliance of NCAA rules and regulations.

FIVE RULES OF ATHLETIC COMPLIANCE

1 Only coaches and athletic department staff members are permitted to be involved in the recruiting process. Alumni, friends and "other representatives of athletic interest" who are not employed by the University are not permitted to contact a prospect (or members of the prospect's family) by letter, telephone or in-person (on or off campus) for the purpose of soliciting their participation in the athletic program. FAU faculty members are permitted to have contact with the prospects, but only while on the campus.

2 A prospect remains a prospect even after he or she signs a Letter of Intent or financial aid agreement to attend the University. The prospect does not lose his/her prospect status until the start of classes at FAU or the beginning of official team practice prior to the start of classes.

3 The prohibition of contact with a prospect is intended to relate to unavoidable incidental contacts with a prospect by representatives of a member institution's athletics interest. It is understood that such a contact is not prearranged by the athletics representative or an athletic department staff member; is not made for the purpose of recruitment of the prospect: and involves only normal civility. For example, if you meet a high school student or junior college student-athlete, you can talk with them about anything except FAU athletics. If you are attending a public function and find yourself talking to the parents of a prospect, you can talk about anything that doesn't relate to the athletic department.

4 If a student-athlete accepts any benefits or special consideration based on his or her status as an athlete or because of athletic skill, the student-athlete will lose all eligibility for intercollegiate athletic participation. Do not do anything for prospective or enrolled student-athletes without specific authorization from the FAU Athletic Compliance Office.

5 Representatives of athletic interest are reminded that NCAA rules regarding enrolled student-athletes remain in effect throughout the entire year, including summer breaks. When student-athletes complete their final season of eligibility, they must abide by NCAA rules until the end of that academic year and/or until they are no longer receiving athletically related financial aid.

Facilities

THE TOM OXLEY ATHLETIC CENTER

Tom Oxley, a local businessman, an FAU alum, and an avid polo enthusiast, stepped forward with a donation that allowed the athletic center to become a reality. The 54,000-square-foot, state-of-art facility houses the football locker room, training room, weight room, meeting rooms and coaches' offices. But, it doesn't stop there. The Oxley Center also opens its doors to individual locker rooms for women's track, soccer, softball and volleyball, as well as the respective coaches' offices. The Athletics Director and administrative staff also call the Oxley Center home. All FAU students are privileged to use the computer study lab and classrooms. The facility overlooks the baseball "B" field, the soccer game field, the softball stadium, the Boca Raton airport, and two football practice fields.

A University-wide ceremony was held to break ground on a new track. Opened Jan. 10, 2007

TENNIS COURTS

The men's tennis team, which ended the 2001 regular season with a No. 50 national ranking, an Atlantic Sun Championship, the first in a FAU men's sport, and its second-consecutive trip to the NCAA tournament, makes use of two tennis facilities. The newly renovated FAU courts complete the athletic complex, with six lighted courts nestled between the baseball stadium, behind the aquatics area and next to the soccer game field. The men's and women's tennis teams call Patch Reef Park home, a facility that houses 17 lighted tennis courts and locker rooms for both teams. It is also a practice or tune-up facility for professional tennis players training for one of the many South Florida tour events.

Facilities

BASEBALL STADIUM

FAU's baseball team, ranked as high as no. 8 nationally in 1999, is afforded the opportunity to practice on two full-dimension fields. Field "B" was the original home field for baseball, but with growing fan support, a new field was constructed in 1991. Plans are being considered for a new stadium. The stadium field, which features AAA baseball lighting, is known as the best playing surface in South Florida and recently received an endorsement from Cal Ripken. FAU fans enjoy the beach/picnic atmosphere along both foul lines where beach chairs, coolers and grills are a staple.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE FIELDS

Two full-sized practice fields are flanked by the Tom Oxley Athletic Center, and are used 12 months of the year. Room is available to add a astro-play surface.

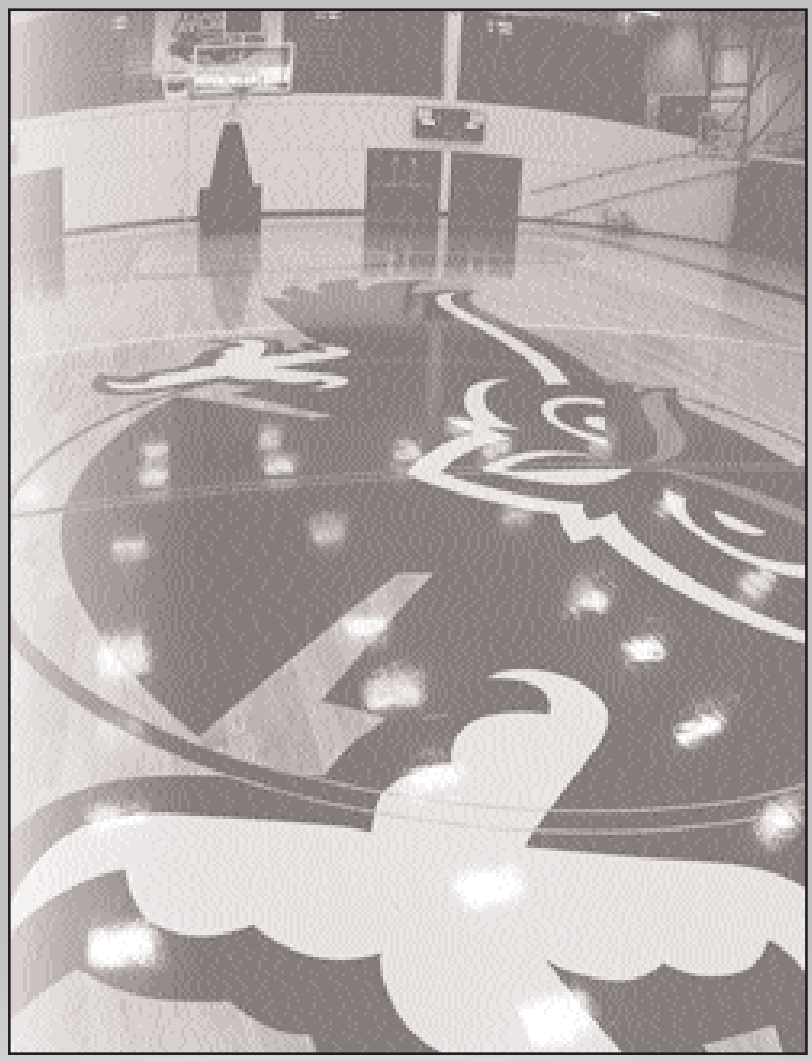
SOCCER CHAMPIONSHIP PLAYING FIELD

The completion of what is now called the "Game Field" – better known to the women's soccer team as "Heaven" – concluded the 10-year development of five on-campus soccer fields, in conjunction with the Greater Boca Raton Beach Tax District. FAU hosted the Atlantic Sun Conference Women's Soccer Championship in 2000 and 2003. The University has also served as practice site for several international teams, Team USA and the women's soccer professional combines.

FLORIDA ATLANTIC UNIVERSITY

AQUATIC CENTER

The swim team moved just yards away from its 25-yard pool to an Olympic-size meter pool. The meter pool has hosted the Independent Collegiate Conference Swim Meet and has served as the winter training facility for hundreds of collegiate swimmers, as well as the training site for FAU's men's and women's swim teams. The change to a meter pool was vital for the program to continue to attract Olympic swimmers to the teams. The pool also features a diving well for one and three meter events. The dive team also uses the Coral Springs Aquatic Center for platform practice and competition.



FAU ARENA

The FAU Arena opened its doors to women's basketball in 1984; men's basketball and women's volleyball were added in 1988. The facility seats 5,000 for games and houses locker rooms for two varsity teams.

SOFTBALL STADIUM

Through the assistance of FAU football, Hooters, Inc. and the State of Florida Title IX fund, the Lady Owls can continue their success in one of the best softball facilities in the country. FAU, which just captured its seventh-consecutive championship and its fifth-consecutive regional appearance, plays on a palm tree-lined field complete with stadium, concession, press box and covered batting cage.

The Sun Belt Conference is one of only 11 NCAA conferences to participate in Division I-A football and enters its 31st season in 2006-2007 with a proud history of athletic and academic success.

The conference sponsors 10 women's sports - basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, indoor and outdoor track and field, and volleyball; and nine men's sports - baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, swimming and diving, tennis, and indoor and outdoor track and field.

Each of the 19 sports has seen numerous team and individual accomplishments, and 11 Sun Belt Conference schools are currently graduating its student athletes at a rate higher than their school's student body. All Sun Belt schools are committed to excellence in the 21st century, and facility upgrades and expansion are occurring on virtually every campus.

Because of its status as a member of the Division I-A football coalition, the Sun Belt Conference has a permanent seat on the NCAA's 16-member Board of Directors. As a result, the conference has a crucial voice on some of the most pressing issues in college athletics and will always have a role in the implementation of any future NCAA legislation and guidelines.

The conference continues to utilize television to grow and promote the league. Adding volleyball and baseball to the conference's television package resulted in more national and regional television exposure for the league in 2005-2006 than at any time in its history, while ESPN televised the conference's men's basketball championship game for the 26th straight season in 2006.

The Sun Belt Conference has partnered with XOS Technologies, Inc. to deliver a full-service, customized, public and premium web site to provide fans with a broad range of real-time information and content about the conference's athletic teams.

The Sun Belt was the only conference in the nation in 2005-06 to provide video highlights and features on its web site from each of the league's respective championships. This technology enables anyone in the world with internet access to view the conference's championship events, and fans in five different countries viewed the 2005 soccer championships.

Prominent Sun Belt alumni include United States Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice (Denver), NFL Hall of Fame football player "Mean" Joe Greene (North Texas), Arizona Diamondbacks All-Star baseball player Luis Gonzalez (South Alabama), former member of the United States Senate and House of Representatives John Breaux (Louisiana-Lafayette), country music superstar Tim McGraw (Louisiana-Monroe), and actor Andy Garcia (Florida International).

The conference's first 30 years have also produced numerous individual national champions along with Olympic track medalists including Earl Bell, Tom Hill and Al Joyner (Arkansas State), Hollis Conway (Louisiana-Lafayette), and Tayna Lawrence (Florida International).

Old Dominion's Anne Donovan received the Naismith Trophy recognizing the nation's top women's basketball player in 1983, helped the United States win the Olympic gold medal in 1984, and helped the Lady Monarchs capture the national championship in 1985 (one of eight women's Final 4 appearances by Sun Belt schools: Old Dominion - 1983, 1985; Western Kentucky - 1985, 1986, 1992; Louisiana Tech - 1994, 1998, 1999).

Sun Belt teams have also participated in the men's NCAA Final 4 (UNC-Charlotte in 1977), the College World Series (Louisiana-Lafayette in 2000), the Women's College World Series (Louisiana-Lafayette in 1993, 1995, 1996, 2003), and had 10 players selected in the first round of the NBA Draft.

The Sun Belt Conference is led by Commissioner Wright Waters, who is in his eighth full year as commissioner. He was named the conference's fourth commissioner in December of 1998 following the tenures of Vic Bubas (1976-1990), Jim Lessig (1990-1991), and Craig Thompson (1991-1998). The league's annual all sports champion is awarded the Vic Bubas Cup, named after the conference's first commissioner.

The conference office has been headquartered in downtown New Orleans since 2000, after moving from suburban Metairie, La., where it had been based since 1991. Prior to moving to the "Big Easy," the league was based in Tampa, Fla., from 1977-1991. The original conference office was located in Charlotte, N.C., from 1976-77.
