FLORIDA ATLANTIC UNIVERSITY

Founded in 1961, Florida Atlantic University is a comprehensive public university that is currently serving more than 30,000 undergraduate and graduate students at sites strategically located along the state's southeastern coastline. Long known as an outstanding teaching institution, FAU is undergoing rapid development as a center of cutting-edge research, particularly in the biomedical arena. The process has been accelerated by the University's partnerships with two internationally known biomedical research organizations: The Scripps Research Institute and the Max Planck Florida Institute for Neuroscience. Additionally, FAU's Charles E. Schmidt College of Medicine recently welcomed its fourth class of students.

Through a well-developed network of partner campuses, FAU serves students at locations and sites throughout its six-county service region in southeast Florida as well as through distance learning FAU's student body, which ranks as the most ethnically and culturally diverse in Florida's State University System, includes men and women in both traditional and non-traditional age. Modern student housing is available on the Boca Raton and Jupiter campuses, and all campuses offer attractive and varied dining facilities. The University community is served by an excellent library system that has more than 374,000 full-text electronic books and 18,000 full-text electronic journals, plus access to several hundred proprietary databases.

A member of Conference USA, FAU has 19 men's and women's intercollegiate teams, including the NCAA Division I football team that has won two bowl games. The Boca Raton campus is home to a 30,000-seat football stadium.

FAU's 10 academically distinguished colleges are the Dorothy F. Schmidt College of Arts and Letters, the College of Business, the College of Design and Social Inquiry, the College of Education, the College of Engineering and Computer Science, the Graduate College, the Harriet L. Wilkes Honors College, the Charles E. Schmidt College of Medicine, the Christine E. Lynn College of Nursing and the Charles E. Schmidt College of Science.

The University currently offers more than 180 undergraduate and graduate degree programs and is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. Additionally, the University holds membership in the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges and the Council of Graduate Schools.

FAU has fully funded Eminent Scholar Chairs in disciplines that include the arts of humanities, brain science, community education, engineering, growth management, Holocaust and Judaic studies, international business, marine biology, nursing, philosophy and social science.

FAU is committed to serving the educational needs of persons of retirement age through non-credit courses offered by the Lifelong Learning Society, which is believed to be the largest and most successful organization of its kind in the United States. DR. JOHN KELLY

PRESIDENT | FLORIDA ATLANTIC UNIVERSITY

John Kelly was named president of Florida Atlantic University by unanimous vote of the FAU Board of Trustees on January 17, 2014, becoming the seventh president in the University's 50-year history. Upon his arrival, President Kelly declared his intention to make FAU the fastest-improving university in America, and it soon became clear that goal was within reach. In 2016, the Florida Board of Governors ranked FAU the top-performing public university in the state, based on the Board's performance-based funding metrics across 11 participating universities.

Highlights of President Kelly's first two years in office include announcement of a record-breaking $16 million gift from the Schmidt Family Foundation to build a premier academic/athletic facility on the Boca Raton campus — the largest single gift in the University's history. He also announced an agreement with Scripps Florida and the Max Planck Florida Institute for Neuroscience to establish a unique partnership on the Jupiter campus. The program offers FAU students the rare and valuable opportunity to work side by side with some of the world's most distinguished biomedical researchers, including Nobel Laureates.

President Kelly came to FAU from Clemson University, where he held a succession of leadership positions over a 28-year period. As president of FAU, he oversees an institution that currently serves more than 30,000 undergraduate and graduate students on six campuses and sites along more than 100 miles of Florida's east coast. One of the largest employers in South Florida, FAU has more than 3,000 employees, including 1,000 dedicated faculty members, and an operating budget in excess of $700 million. The University has an annual economic impact of $6.3 billion and is conducting millions of dollars' worth of funded research in such critically important fields as drug discovery, biotechnology, ocean engineering and marine science.

President Kelly holds a bachelor's degree from Clemson University and both a master's degree and a Ph.D. from The Ohio State University. He is married to FAU First Lady Carolyn Kelly, and they are the parents of Carly, 14, and Stella, 2.

PAT CHUN

VICE PRESIDENT AND DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Patrick "Pat" G. Chun is in his fifth year at the helm of the Florida Atlantic Department of Athletics. He quickly guided the Owls through an aggressive period of growth that has yielded unprecedented successes and was elevated to vice president in June of 2014.

Chun's overarching goal is student-athlete success and development academically, athletically, and socially. The 2015-16 academic year proved to be historic with multiple conference championships, record academic achievement, fundraising and ticket sales. Student-athletes recorded a 3.0 G.P.A. for the academic year (2015-16) for the first time in the program's history. The football program recorded its first FAU Stadium sellout, student attendance was at a high, and the department recorded a program high 4,100 hours of community outreach.

As part of FAU Athletics' commitment to build relationships, the annual fundraising organization was renamed the Owl Scholarship Fund (2013) and the OSF continues to increase in total dollars on an annual basis. In December 2015, FAU announced the largest single gift in university history, $16 million from the Schmidt Family Foundation, which would be directed to the design and construction of a facility to be named the Schmidt Family Complex for Academic and Athletic Excellence.

Another community connector has been the creation of the Boca Raton Bowl, played in FAU Stadium. The bowl game is a partnership between FAU, ESPN, the City of Boca Raton, Palm Beach County, the Orange Bowl, Conference USA, the Mid-American Conference and the American Athletic Conference.

Revenue generation has been at the forefront of initiatives. In 2013, FAU agreed to a 10-year agreement with Learfield Sports. The partnership is expected to generate $25 million in revenues over the life of the agreement.

Prior to FAU, Chun spent 15 years at The Ohio State University and was ultimately elevated to Executive Associate Athletics Director for External Relations and the daily liaison with football (2009-12). In the four years of overseeing the external division, Ohio State benefited from record fundraising totaling $122 million in his last three years. Chun also was a lead member of the athletics department senior team that authored the then-largest multi-media rights deal in intercollegiate athletics history (2009).

On a national level, Chun was named to the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics executive committee. He completed a term on the NCAA Division I Baseball Committee from 2013-16. Locally, he serves on the YMCA of South Palm Beach County Board of Trustees and has also served on the executive committee for the National Association for Athletics Development Directors.

A native of Strongsville, Ohio, Chun earned a bachelor's degree from Ohio State and a master's degree from Duquesne. He and his wife, Natalie, have three daughters (Vanna, Kennedy and Gretta).

DR. KIM DUNN

FAR | FLORIDA ATLANTIC UNIVERSITY

Kim Dunn joined Florida Atlantic University in 2001 and is currently an associate professor in the School of Accounting. She was named FAU's Faculty Athletics Representative to the NCAA in the fall of 2014.

Prior to joining FAU, she was an assistant professor at Baruch College - City University of New York. Her primary teaching and research interests are in financial accounting. She has eight years of experience in the banking industry and has published in Auditing: A Journal of Practice and Theory, Issues in Accounting Education, Journal of Information Systems, Journal of Investing, Managerial Auditing, and Review of Accounting Studies. She was recently ranked 41st in the nation for her publications in accounting education research. Dunn has served as director of the School of Accounting, faculty adviser to Beta Alpha Psi and director of the Accounting Scholars Program. Over her career, she has taught introductory accounting to more than three-thousand students. She was awarded the Beta Alpha Psi Teaching Excellence Award, Alumni Association Degree of Difference Award, College of Business Distinguished Teacher of the Year, Steward Distinguished Professorship, and College of Business Master Teacher.

Kim is married to her high-school sweetheart, Ray, and they have two sons, Brandon and Caleb. In her spare time, Kim enjoys travel, golf and FAU sports.

Degrees: Georgia State University, Ph.D. 1997 University of Alabama, M.Acc. 1992 University of Alabama, BSBA. 1991, St. Petersburg Junior College, AA. 1987.

Conference USA begins its 22nd year in 2016-17 as it continues to compete and promote the success of its student-athletes. The league has adapted to the ever-changing landscape of collegiate athletics over its first two-plus decades, but the commitment to excellence, integrity, leadership and its student athletes in competition, academics and community is unwavering.

Conference USA enjoys a far-reaching fan base with its 14 members: Charlotte, FIU, Florida Atlantic, Louisiana Tech, Marshall, Middle Tennessee, North Texas, Old Dominion, Rice, Southern Miss, UAB, UTEP, UTSA and WKU.

Debuting in 1995, Conference USA teams have combined for 93 bowl appearances in football, 104 NCAA Tournament appearances in basketball, including three Final Fours, 67 NCAA baseball appearances including six College World Series berths, 84 NCAA soccer tournament appearances including four trips to the College Cup, and 36 individual national champions in track and field and cross country.

Success is not limited to athletic achievement, however, as 207 Conference USA student-athletes have garnered Academic All-America honors, 722 have achieved academic all-district laurels and thousands of student-athletes have earned a college degree.

Conference USA sponsors competition in 19 sports – nine for men (baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, soccer, tennis, and indoor and outdoor track and field) and 10 for women (basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, indoor and outdoor track and field, and volleyball).

The league promotes the scholar-athlete ideal, honoring outstanding academic achievement with numerous conference-sponsored awards, including the Commissioner's Honor Roll and the Commissioner's Academic Medal as well as sport-specific All-Academic teams.

C-USA annually awards postgraduate scholarships, along with the Sport Academic Awards, Scholar-Athletes of the Year and the Institutional Academic Excellence Award. Additionally, Conference USA presents a Spirit of Service Award three times each year, recognizing student-athletes who excel on the field, in the classroom and give back to the community through significant service efforts and participation.

SUCCESS ON THE PLAYING FIELD

Conference USA performers have achieved great success in competition, placing the league among the top conferences in the nation.

Football

*93 teams have earned bowl bids

*Eligible for the College Football Playoff

In addition to the numerous NCAA Tournament berths, C-USA has sent four men's soccer teams to the NCAA College Cup, three softball teams to the Women's College World Series and three volleyball teams to the NCAA Sweet 16. The league has also had 36 national champions in NCAA track and field competition, one national champion in diving, and numerous NCAA individual and team competitors in cross country, golf, swimming, tennis, and track and field. Overall, Conference USA teams and individuals have made nearly 2,000 NCAA appearances.

SUCCESS OFF THE FIELD

C-USA institutions are among the nation's best in academic performance of student-athletes, bolstered by the fact that student-athletes at league schools have a higher graduation rate than the general student population. Among C-USA's 5,000 student-athletes, there are champions off the playing field as well. In 21 years, more than 30,000 student-athletes have been named to the Commissioner's Honor Roll or received the Commissioner's Academic Medal, indicative of outstanding achievement in the classroom.

C-USA ON TV

C-USA enjoys significant television exposure through partnerships with ESPN, CBS Sports Network, American Sports Network (ASN) and beIN SPORTS. The multi-tiered selection process that is rooted in partnering with all four networks provides extensive national exposure for football, men's and women's basketball, and all other conference sports.

C-USA membership include institutions within eight of the Top 40 media markets and four in the Top 25 according to Nielsen. C-USA home markets this year will include more than 13 million TV households, a 30 percent increase from three years ago.

CUSA.TV

CUSA.TV will officially launch in the Summer of 2016 making all non-televised team sports available as part of a subscription package. The site will offer all events in one location so fans can watch home and away matchups of their favorite team or season long events from their favorite sport. The site will showcase weekly feature stories as well as postgame interviews, players of the week highlights and other exciting content.

C-USA IN THE COMMUNITY

The conference's current footprint is concentrated with 14 members in 10 states and a combined area population of more than 30 million. With a commitment to community involvement, the conference developed several initiatives to maintain strong ties in C-USA cities, as well as with fans and alumni across the country. C-USA schools also place a priority on giving back to their communities through volunteer service with local and national organizations. Individually, student-athletes are recognized each season through the Spirit of Service award.

GOVERNANCE

Conference USA has significant representation in the NCAA governance structure. The presidents of the member institutions serve as the league's Board of Directors.

A PROUD HISTORY

Conference USA was formed in 1995 and quickly emerged as one of the nation's top conferences. The conference unveiled its name, logo and commissioner April 24, 1995, in Chicago. The league's charter members were Charlotte, Cincinnati, DePaul, Houston, Louisville, Marquette, Memphis, Saint Louis, Southern Miss, Tulane, UAB and USF. Eleven of the institutions began athletic participation in 1995, while Houston joined competition in the fall of 1996.

The league's headquarters were established in Chicago and, after nine years, relocated to the current office in Irving, Texas. Britton Banowsky was named Commissioner in October 2002, succeeding Mike Slive, the league's first Commissioner. In October 2015, Judy MacLeod became the league's third Commissioner.

C-USA added East Carolina (September, 1996) and the United States Military Academy (March, 1997) as football members. ECU began league competition in 1997; Army in 1998 and UAB began football play in 1999. The league brought in TCU and ECU (1999) for all sports and they began competition in 2001. USF started C-USA football in 2003. Marshall, Rice, SMU, Tulsa, UCF and UTEP became full-time Conference USA members for all sports in 2005.

In 2013, charter member Charlotte returned to C-USA and was joined by new members FIU, Florida Atlantic, Louisiana Tech, Middle Tennessee, North Texas, Old Dominion and UTSA. WKU joined the league on July 1, 2014.

CHARLIE PARTRIDGE

HEAD COACH

Charlie Partridge was named Florida Atlantic University's Head Football Coach on December 17, 2013 becoming just the fourth person to hold that title, since the program's inception in 2001. Partridge, a south Florida native, returned home to lead a program that completed its first season as a member of Conference USA and became eligible for a bowl game in 2013.

Upon his arrival, the touted recruiter began building a staff, a recruiting base and a culture by which the program would stand over time. Within weeks that staff was in place and assigned to every high school from the I-4 corridor south. By February, the Owls had added 24 players, 15 from their targeted area. That class included offensive lineman and future Freshman All-American Reggie Bain. The Owls posted a 3-9 record and saw six games decided by a touchdown or less within the last two minutes. Lucky Whitehead became the first FAU wide receiver to earn C-USA post-season honors and D'Joun Smith was taken in the third round of the NFL draft. 2015 followed the same blue print. The recruiting class, tabbed as the best class among C-USA schools, comprised of 27 players, including USA Today Freshman linebacker Azeez Al-Shaair and two others earned a spot on the C-USA All-Freshmen team as well as earned C-USA Honorable Mention recognition. Three players garnered First Team All C-USA honors in 2015. The Owls finished with 3-9 record and saw five games decided by seven points or less. As part of the cultural shift, the Owls posted the most 3.0+ G.P.A.s in program history (46) and the squad's highest team G.P.A. FAU's defensive line set a new program record in sacks (35) and junior Trey Hendrickson led C-USA in total sacks with 13.5 and was No. 2 nationally in both forced fumbles and sacks. The Owls deep running back corps ended 2015 with the second most rushing yards in program history (1,977) surpassing the 2014 squad (1,963). The special teams unit continued to be a highlight of the program. Junior Dalton Schomp led the nation with a 48.0 yards per punt average. As a unit, FAU was No. 5 nationally in net punting (41.71 net yards per punt).

Partridge came to FAU after a one-year stint at the University of Arkansas where he coached three different defensive linemen to all-conference honors. Defensive ends Chris Smith and Trey Flowers were second-team All-SEC, and defensive tackle Darius Philon was voted to the SEC All-Freshman team. Smith ranked third in the SEC with 8.5 sacks, the eighth-highest single-season total in school history, and ranked seventh in the conference with 11.5 tackles for loss. Flowers ranked second in the SEC with 13.5 tackles for loss, and his three forced fumbles were fourth in the conference. Philon tied for fourth in the SEC with two forced fumbles in conference play and finished the year leading the UA defensive linemen with 46 tackles, including 9.0 for loss and 3.0 sacks.

Partridge also worked with the Razorback specialists, helping tutor kicker Zach Hocker and punter Sam Irwin-Hill. Hocker, who ended his career holding six school records, was a second-team All-SEC selection after he was 28-of-28 on PATs and 13-of-15 on field goals. Hocker made three field goals of more than 50 yards, including a 54 yarder that ranked as the eighth-longest field goal in school history. Irwin-Hill, in his first season at Arkansas, ranked fourth in the SEC and 15th in the NCAA with an average of 44.3 yards per punt. Irwin-Hill boomed a 79-yard punt that is seventh all-time at Arkansas and was tied for the second-longest punt in the NCAA during the 2013 season. Arkansas' net punting average of 39.02 yards ranked fifth in the SEC and 21st in the NCAA.

Prior to Arkansas, Partridge spent five seasons at Wisconsin where he helped the Badgers win three-straight Big Ten championships and to become the first Big Ten team to play in three-straight Rose Bowls since Michigan following the 1976-78 seasons. Before the 2011 season, he was promoted to associate head coach, co-defensive coordinator and defensive line coach after three seasons as the Badgers' defensive line and specialists coach.

In 2012, Wisconsin led the Big Ten and ranked third in the NCAA with a three-and-out percentage of 41.72, and the Badgers' 5.23 three and outs per game topped the Big Ten and was fourth in the country. The Badgers' defense was 13th in the NCAA in total defense and tied for 19th in the country in scoring defense. Wisconsin also ranked 21st in the nation in third-down conversion defense in addition to being third in the conference in sacks and 21st in the NCAA in rush defense and pass efficiency defense and 23rd in the country in pass defense.

The Badgers also produced two of the top nine sack artists in the conference, with defensive end Brendan Kelly tied for seventh with an average of 0.45 sacks per game and defensive end Tyler Dippel's 0.42 per-game average tied for ninth. Defensive backs Devin Smith and Marcus Cromartie both ranked in the top seven in the Big Ten in passes defensed with Smith fifth and Cromartie tied for seventh. In addition, Smith also tied for third in the conference in interceptions. Linebacker Chris Borland tied for third in the Big Ten in forced fumbles and fourth in the conference in fumble recoveries, and linebacker Mike Taylor ranked fifth in the Big Ten with an average of 1.15 tackles for loss per game.

The 2011 Wisconsin defensive line typically rotated at least eight linemen every game, even after losing starting defensive end David Gilbert to a season-ending injury after the fourth game. They were a key component in Wisconsin finishing among the top 15 nationally in both scoring and total defense.

The 2010 season was highlighted by the play of J.J. Watt, who won the Lott IMPACT Trophy. Watt was the leader of Wisconsin's defense, finishing the season tied for seventh in the country in tackles for loss with 21.0. A consensus first-team All-Big Ten selection, Watt tied for second in the Big Ten in sacks with 7.0 and tied for third with three forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries. He tied for second on the team in tackles with 62, led the team with 10 quarterback hurries and also broke up eight passes, blocked three kicks and grabbed one interception. A second-team All-American by Walter Camp, Rivals.com and CBSSports.com, Watt was named Lott IMPACT Defensive Player of the Week three times during the season. He was selected 11th overall by the Houston Texans in the 2011 NFL Draft, the highest for a Wisconsin defensive player since 1992.

In 2009, the UW defensive line exceeded all expectations after losing three senior starters from the prior year. The headliner of the group was senior defensive end O'Brien Schofield, who ranked second in the country with 24.5 tackles for loss, the second-highest total in school history. He also tied for seventh in the country and third in school history with 12.0 sacks, while Watt pitched in with 15.5 tackles for loss. The duo's 40.0 combined tackles for loss were the most by a pair of teammates in the country in 2009.

The defensive line also was instrumental in transforming Wisconsin's rush defense into one of the best in school history. The Badgers led the Big Ten and ranked fifth in the country in rushing defense, allowing just 88.2 yards per game on the ground, the second-best season average in school history. Wisconsin held each of its last 10 opponents to less than 100 yards rushing, the longest streak in the country and the longest streak in school history.

In his first year at Wisconsin, Partridge led a veteran line. The three senior starters, Matt Shaughnessy, Mike Newkirk and Jason Chapman, all earned All-Big Ten accolades while Schofield, in his first season as a starter at defensive end, tied for the team lead in sacks. Following the season, Shaughnessy was a third-round draft pick by the Oakland Raiders.

In his work with the specialists, Partridge led four-year starters placekicker Philip Welch and punter Brad Nortman to leave their mark on Wisconsin's record book. Welch, a first-team Freshman All-American in 2008, finished his career ranked second in school history in points with 384, field goals made with 59 and field goal percentage at .776. Nortman, a two-time honorable mention All-Big Ten selection, was third in school history with a 42.1 career average.

Before his time at Wisconsin, Partridge spent five years at Pitt. For his first four seasons, he coached the defensive line before switching to tutor the Panthers' linebackers in 2007. He also had special teams coaching responsibilities for the last three seasons, including the last two as special teams coordinator.

Pitt ranked No. 5 nationally and led the Big East in total defense in 2007, allowing just 297.7 yards per game. In addition, the Panthers led the conference and were No. 3 in the country in pass defense, surrendering only 167.3 yards per game. Pitt was fourth in the Big East and 20th in the NCAA with 2.92 sacks per contest. The Panthers' signature defensive effort that year came when they shut down high-powered and No. 1-ranked West Virginia in a 13-9 win that eliminated the Mountaineers from national title contention. Defensive lineman Joe Clermond was a second-team All-Big East selection.

Partridge's special teams units flourished at Pitt. In 2006, his first season as special teams coordinator, Pitt led the Big East in net punting with a 37.54 average and kickoff returns at an average of 24.14 yards per return. Punter Adam Graessle was an All-Big East selection, and kick returner Lowell Robinson led the conference and finished ninth nationally with a 27.9-yard average. ESPN's 2006 college football "play of the year" selection was a 73-yard punt return for a touchdown by Pitt's Darrelle Revis against West Virginia. Revis was drafted 14th overall in the first round by the New York Jets in the 2007 NFL Draft.

Prior to his years at Pitt, Partridge served as recruiting coordinator and defensive line coach at Eastern Illinois in 2002 and helped lead the team to the NCAA Division I-AA playoffs after sharing the Ohio Valley Conference title.

Partridge worked for head coach Dan McCarney at Iowa State from 1998-2001. He was a defensive graduate assistant in 1998-99 and worked with outside linebackers. He became the program's director of football operations in 2000.

Partridge was an NSCA All-American at Drake, where he played defensive line. He was a three-year starter and team captain for the Bulldogs before starting his coaching career at his alma mater as a graduate assistant in 1996-97. He coached running backs, including a pair of 1,000-yard rushers, and served as a strength and conditioning coach.

Partridge, a Plantation, Fla., native, earned a bachelor's degree in secondary education from Drake in 1995 and a master's degree in education from Iowa State in 2002. Partridge and his wife, Julie, have two daughters, Alexa and Kylee.

ROC BELLANTONI

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR/LB

At Florida Atlantic

Roc Bellantoni joined the FAU football coaching staff in December of 2014 with the task of reinventing a defense that had flourished the year before behind the efforts of two linebackers and a corner who continued their careers on NFL rosters. Not an easy request, but he did so behind the efforts of returning all-conference selections D'Joun Smith, at corner, and Andrae Kirk, at linebacker. Both players had been consistent starters during their four-year playing career and both were accustomed to adjustments with Bellantoni being their fourth defensive coordinator in four seasons. Kirk led the Owls in tackles, with 103, and became the program's all-time tackle assists leader, while Smith had a team leading eight passes defended and 53 tackles. Often times, the duo were two of just three seniors on the field. Kirk ended the season ranked No. 3 among C-USA tacklers and signed as an NFL free agent with Arizona and completed his first professional season in Canada. Smith was No. 16 nationally in kick returns and No. 43 in recovered fumbles he was a third round pick by the Indianapolis Colts. The defensive side of the ball also worked through injuries, losing an experienced defensive lineman and a linebacker to season ending injuries. Following his first season with the Owls Bellantoni was named Conference USA Recruiter of the Year by Scout.com.

Bellantoni began 2015, his second with the Owls, with several holes to fill and in many cases it was freshmen or redshirt freshmen who stepped up to the challenge. Just four positions saw the same starters play each of the squad's 12 games. The season finale starting unit was comprised of four seniors, one junior, one sophomore and five freshmen. Despite its youth, the Owls' defense improved it national ranking 40 spots between 2014-15 and 2015-16. FAU's red zone defense was ranked No. 13 at season's end. Owl defenders tallied 26 points in 2015 and were ranked No. 8 nationally in defensive TDs and No. 13 in sacks. Individually, four Owls were ranked among the nation's leaders in interceptions with senior Cre'von LeBlanc leading the way at No. 39, nationally. Junior Trey Hendrickson was No. 2 nationally in both sacks and forced fumbles and freshman Azeez Al-Shaair was named Freshman All-American by the USA Today.

At Villanova

Roc Bellantoni coached two seasons at Villanova. While at Villanova he focused on the Wildcats defensive line and served as special teams coordinator.

His recruiting area was Florida.

The 2013 Villanova team finished the season ranked No. 6 in the NCAA SRS rankings. He coached All-CAA defensive lineman Rakim Cox and Antoine Lewis as well as All-CAA punter Mark Hamilton.

In 2012, Bellantoni had four players earn All-CAA honors. On defense, nose guard Antoine Lewis and defensive end Rakim Cox were both first team All-Conference honorees and senior defensive end Marlon Johnson was a second team selection. On special teams, sophomore Poppy Livers garnered third team All-CAA distinction as a punt returner. Bellantoni's 2012 punt return unit led the CAA with a return average of 16.8 per game. Villanova won the CAA championship and received the automatic bid to the NCAA Division I FCS playoffs.

Eastern Illinois

He served as an assistant from 2001-11 while working his way up the storied program's coaching ladder to associate head coach. He was the defensive coordinator from 2002-11 and the associate head coach from 2007-11. Bellantoni helped Eastern Illinois win five Ohio Valley Conference Championships (2009, 2006, 2005, 2002, and 2001) and make six NCAA playoff appearances. During the 2007 season, he served as Acting Head Coach for the final regular season game and the first round FCS playoff game. During the 2006 campaign, his defense led the nation in turnovers forced with 36. Throughout his tenure as the Eastern Illinois defensive coordinator, Bellantoni coached three Ohio Valley Conference Defenders of the Year, including Donald Thomas (2006), Clint Sellers (2005) and Nick Ricks (2002).

Drake University

First collegiate coordinating experience came as the Defensive Coordinator at Drake University. In 2000, Drake earned a share of the Pioneer League title as Bellantoni's defense forced 26 turnovers and tallied 36 sacks that season. He also was a part of the 1998 Drake team that captured the conference championship.

High School Coaching Experience

Bellantoni began his coaching career at Mamoroneck High in New York in 1993 and 1994. His first college job came at Buena Vista University in Iowa in 1995.

Playing Career

Iona College (1990-1993) - three-year letter winner at defensive tackle.

CHRIS HURD

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR/TE

At Florida Atlantic

Joined the Owls in January 2014 as the team's special team coordinator and tight ends coach. The tight ends provided six scores which was a third of the Owls 2014 receiving touchdowns. Senior Alex Deleon led the way with five TD receptions. Deleon, who started every game, was used in multiple sets and ended the season third among all receivers with 23 catches for 295 yards. He also worked out for two NFL teams at season's end. Freshman Nate Terry provided game-ending heroics hauling in a 20-yard pass as the time ran off the clock to give FAU the 41-37 victory. It was Terry's first collegiate catch. Special teams also were a highlight of the Owls in 2014. Senior Lucky Whitehead returned a punt 73 yards for a score in the final game of 2014. Whitehead, who is just the sixth Owl to return a punt for a TD, ended the season ranked No. 4 among C-USA in all-purpose yards, No. 18 nationally and 7th in kick return yards. Hurd also was faced with the challenge of replacing both kickers. His punter, Dalton Schomp, averaged 45.4 yards per punt. The pooch specialist averaged 35.4 yards per punt and dropped 10 of his 18 inside the 20. Seven were fair caught. Kicker Greg Joseph was 10-of-13 (77%) at 40 yards or less. The Owls kick-off unit did not allow a kick-return for a score, despite C-USA having the nation's top-two leaders in kick returns for a score and three in the top-10.

The 2015 special teams' excelled in their second season under Hurd's direction. Most notably, junior Dalton Schomp who lead the nation with a 48.0 yards per punt average. Nearly half of Schomp's punts (22-of-45, 49%) were for 50 yards or more and he pinned 18 inside the 20. Junior Greg Joseph shined in the kicking game. Joseph ended the year ranked No. 27 in field goals per game and among the countries top-100 in two other categories. The Owls kick return defense was rank in the top-half of the nation, an improvement of 50 spots and net punting jumped from No. 58 in 2014 to No. 5, nationally, in 2015. Punt return defense moved to No. 50. FAU tight ends emerged as a solid unit in 2015 with the development of graduate student transfer Cameron Tyler, who moved from quarterback to tight end. Cameron saw action in every game and drew starts in six contests. He recorded 21 catches for a total of 257 yards for an average of 12.2 yards per catch. Sophomore Nate Terry led all Owls receivers with four touchdown receptions. He recorded 16 catches for 185 yards and average of 11.6 per catch.

At Arkansas

Served one season as the University of Arkansas special teams quality control coach.

At Tennessee

Worked in strength and conditioning at the University of Tennessee for two seasons. He was an intern in 2011 and an assistant coach in 2012. During his time at Tennessee, the Vols produced seven All-SEC selections and five NFL draft picks, including 2013 first-round selection Cordarrelle Patterson. In 2012, Tennessee ranked in the top-five in the SEC in 10 different categories, including leading the conference in sacks allowed and ranking in the top-three in four other categories.

Cisco College

Hurd spent four seasons coaching at Cisco College in Cisco, Texas, where his positions included defensive coordinator for three seasons and special teams coordinator for two. In 2007, he coached defensive backs as well as the punt and kickoff units.

University of North Texas

Hurd began his coaching career at his alma mater as a strength and conditioning graduate assistant. He moved to the field in 2005-06 where he coached tight ends his first season and defensive backs the next. The 2004 season was his first to coach in a bowl game and it stretched the Mean Green's consecutive-bowl game streak to four.

Playing Career

North Texas (2000-03) - Walk-on who lettered four seasons. He earned a scholarship and was a two-year starter. Member of a team that captured the Sun Belt Conference Championship in 2001, 2002, and 2003. Earned the team's Byron Gross Award, bestowed to the team's best linebacker, in 2002 and 2003. Named first-team All-Sun Belt in 2003 and was the Defensive Player of the Year the same season.

Killeen High School (1997-00) linebacker and team captain. Named Second Team All State.

TRAVIS TRICKETT

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR/QB

At Florida Atlantic

Joined the Owls in December 2015 and began the process of building a quarterback unit and installing an up-tempo offense.

At Samford

In 2015, the Bulldogs averaged 34.6 points per game and averaged nearly 480 yards per game. He used two quarterbacks in 2015 and the duo passed for 22 scores and tossed 3,662 yards to 15 different targets and boasted the nation's highest completion percentage at 69.7 percent. The Bulldogs had a season high 752 yards versus Florida A&M.

During the 2014 season, Trickett led an offense that averaged more than 30 points per game, marking the second-straight year the team improved in scoring offense. The Bulldogs averaged 217.9 passing yards per game, and 399.3 yards of total offense per game. The 2014 offense also posted the program's largest margin of victory in a Southern Conference game (45-0 at Furman) and the program's most points scored in a SoCon game (63 vs. VMI).

In 2013, Trickett mentored quarterback Andy Summerlin during his record-breaking senior season. Summerlin, who was named the Southern Conference's Offensive Player of the Year, set school records for passing yards in a game (495 vs. Georgia Southern) and passing yards in a season (3,640).

In Trickett's first season coaching quarterbacks, the Bulldogs finished third in the Southern Conference in passing offense, and Summerlin ranked third in the league in passing.

In 2011, Trickett assisted with a much-improved offense from the previous season. He tutored tight end Zeke Walters, who caught 11 passes for 153 yards in his first season in a Samford uniform.

At FSU

Trickett worked as a graduate assistant at Florida State, 2008-10, where he served on the staffs of both Bobby Bowden and Jimbo Fisher. While at FSU, Trickett helped coach quarterbacks Christian Ponder and E.J. Manuel.

At Alabama

Trickett worked as an offensive graduate assistant on Nick Saban's staff at Alabama from 2007-08, where he worked with quarterbacks John Parker Wilson and Greg McElroy.

At West Virginia

Trickett began his coaching career as a student assistant at West Virginia University, from 2003-07, where he worked under head coach Rich Rodriguez. As part of his duties with the Mountaineers, Trickett worked with quarterback Pat White.

JARED ALLEN

ASSISTANT COACH/RB

At Florida Atlantic

Allen joined the staff in fall 2009 as a graduate assistant and since that time he has served as a position coach for every unit on the offensive side of the ball, with the exception of offensive line, and he has served under every FAU head coach since the program's inception in 2001.

His first position as a full time assistant was with the wide receivers. In his first season as a collegiate assistant coach, Allen watched senior Lester Jean flourish. Jean was named second team All-Conference and became FAU's first East/West Shrine Game invitee. Jean then joined the Houston Texans as a free agent where he was a member of the 2012-13 play-off roster.

Allen began recruiting in the spring of 2010 and moved from wide receivers to quarterbacks as the team began preparation for 2011. The quarterback position came out of the spring undecided with no clear-cut leader among the four. Allen worked with the inexperienced unit which saw Graham Wilbert take hold of the position.

In 2012 under the direction of a new coach, the FAU Alum moved once more - to tight ends coach. The new offensive system required more of the position than in years past and Allen and his corps responded. At the seasons' end junior Nexon Dorvilus earned second team All-SBC and the team's Student Athlete of the Year Award while sophomore Alex Deleon earned the program's first Iron Owl Award for his off-season efforts in the weight room and in conditioning drills. On the field, the duo combined for 14 starts, 43 catches 378 yards and six scores. Dorvilus ended the season tops among all receivers with five touchdowns and third on the team with 301 receiving yards. In 2013, Allen's deep unit was able to provide more protection than in years past while hauling in 20% of the team's receptions. Dorvilus was responsible for six touchdown receptions which was tied for the team lead, despite sharing his time with two other tight ends. The unit accounted for nearly half of the team's TD receptions (7 of 16). Dorvilus earned honorable mention All-Conference for his efforts.

Allen remained with the program in 2014 as Partridge assembled his staff but, moved to director of player personnel/external relations, a position that would best allow Partridge to lean on Allen's knowledge of the area, the local high schools and their coaching staffs. He also handled "Pro Day", worked with the NFL scouts and many of the day-to-day team task off the field.

With the recruiting foundations laid, Allen moved back to a full-time coaching position in 2015 as the running backs coach. The Owls returned four backs with game experience as well as a quarterback that had been a major ground-game contributor. The Owls concluded the 2015 campaign, used three different starting backs, and a total of eight ball carriers to tally 1,977 yards, the second most in program history. The backs also accounted for 26 receptions for a total of 278 yards, an average of 10.7 yards per catch. The 2016 backfield is expected to be a deep unit which has the potential to go five or six deep.

Playing Career

Allen is a founding member of the FAU football program, a program that saw him play in the first 47 games (every game from 2001-2004). Allen also was under center when FAU captured it first Division I-A victory in just the 22nd game of the program's existence. He then guided the Owls to an 11-3 finish and NCAA Division I-AA semifinal finish. The following season, the Oklahoma native traveled to Hawaii where the team dealt the University of Hawaii its only home-field loss in 2004. FAU finished 9-3 in 2004, including a five-game win streak to open the season, all on the road due to hurricanes. Allen concluded his four-year career with 8,100 yards, 50 touchdowns and a program-best 135.1 efficiency rating. He remains a leader in nearly every category and in some cases is listed No. 2 behind alum Rusty Smith.

Professional Playing Career

Allen had the opportunity to play as an undrafted free agent for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 2005 and 2006. He was named the Tampa Bay rookie Mini-Camp MVP in 2005. Allen was on the Buccaneers roster through the off-season, training camp and preseason both years. The Buccaneers allocated Allen to play in NFL Europe in 2006 for the Amsterdam Admirals. In Europe he had the privilege of starting at quarterback in the WorldBowl.

Post Playing Career

Allen worked in medical sales for just under two years. During that time he also co-directed, with his oldest brother Jason, the Top Gun Challenge, a national quarterback competition. Allen worked many quarterback camps and clinics following his 2004 FAU graduation and prior to becoming an FAU graduate assistant in 2009.

CORY BELL

ASSISTANT COACH/DB/ASSISTANT PLAYER PERSONNEL

At Florida Atlantic

Bell returned to college football after a three-year stint as American Senior High School's head coach where he focused his efforts with the secondary, primarily the corners. Bell's 2014 veteran unit ended the season with three of the team's eight leading tacklers and a total of five of the eight were members of the secondary. Corner D'Joun Smith faced the opponent's top-receiver and ended his final campaign with 53 tackles, a team leading eight defended passes and one interception. Cre'von LeBlanc, the squad's third leading tackler in 2014, was credited with six break-ups and two interceptions.

In 2015, LeBlanc stepped into the leadership role vacated by Smith, who left a foundation as a graduate and a third-round NFL draftee. The secondary returned Sharrod Neasman and LeBlanc, but the remaining positions were open and presented questions. By seasons end, those questions had been answered with a total of 14 interceptions, including three returned for a score. In all, the secondary was credited with 24 points. Second team All-C-USA honors were bestowed to LeBlanc while freshman Jalen Young earned a spot on both the C-USA honorable mention team as well as on the all-freshman team. C-USA also recognized freshman Ocie Rose on the all-freshman team. While Bell worked with a young secondary, the entire defense was a young unit. The defense stressed the importance of individual assignments and working as a unit. The Owls did so with precision, ending 2015 leading the C-USA in sacks which Head Coach Charlie Partridge credited the secondary's coverage as a major reason for the defensive line's success.

At American Senior High School

Bell was instrumental in resurrecting a struggling program that hadn't won a district title since 1998. While at American he led the Patriots to three-straight District Championships from 2011-13.

At Miami

Bell served as Coach Randy Shannon's daily external liaison within the athletic offices and he oversaw football matters related to the student-athletes, including budget, the training table, travel coordination and college compliance issues.

At Miami Edison

Bell was 25 years old when he was named Miami Edison High School's head coach, the youngest head coach in the state. He assumed a program that had finished the previous season 0-10. Bell quickly built Edison into one of Dade County's top football programs. His teams made five-consecutive state playoff appearances and three-straight district titles. Over his tenure, Bell had 84 Division I signees including six All-Americans. He was named the Miami Dolphins Coach of the Year for his work in 2003. His 2004 class earned a No. 3 national rank for Division I signees.

TERRANCE JAMISON

ASSISTANT COACH/DL

At Florida Atlantic

Terrance Jamison is in his third season as Florida Atlantic's defensive line coach after coming to the Owls in January of 2014.

In his first year at FAU, Jamison oversaw a defensive line that regularly went 11 deep. Jamison's defensive line recorded 224 tackles, 60 for a loss, including 23 sacks which totaled 168 yards lost, the third most in program history. Junior defensive tackle Trevon Coley contributed with 53 tackles, 6.5 for a loss of 43 yards while grabbing four sacks, an interception and a key fumble recovery to secure a victory. Although Jamison lost two seniors from the 2014 defensive line to graduation, he would return a line in 2015 with nearly 165 games of experience under their belts.

In 2015, FAU's defensive line set a school record with 35 sacks for a loss of 240 yards, which ranked No. 1 in Conference USA and No. 13 nationally in sacks. Junior defensive end Trey Hendrickson led the league with 13.5 sacks which ranked No. 1 in C-USA and No. 2 nationally. Trevon Coley, a senior, contributed with 66 tackles, 8.5 TFLs, 4.5 sacks, and one forced fumble. Senior defensive tackle Brandin Bryant also contributed with 35 tackles, 10.5 TFLs, five sacks and one forced fumble. Both Hendrickson and Coley were selected as first-team All C-USA.

At Cal

Served in a quality control role, on the defensive side of the ball, for Cal in 2013.

At Wisconsin

Spent four campaigns on the football staff at his alma mater, Wisconsin. He spent three of the four working alongside FAU Head Coach Charlie Partridge. During the 2008-09 season, Jamison served as a student assistant for the defensive line and in 2011 he served as a defensive quality control coordinator. In his last season at Wisconsin, 2012, Jamison coached linebackers, a group who led the Big Ten in tackles.

GARIN JUSTICE

ASSISTANT COACH/OFFENSIVE LINE

At Florida Atlantic

Garin Justice joined the Owls in January of 2016 with the task of retooling a deep line to work in conjunction with the Owls uptempo offense.

At Concord

Justice assumed the helm of Concord, a program that had been winless (0-11) as recently as 2008, in January of 2011. In his five-year stint, the Mountain Lions were 40-17 under his direction which included a 13-1 season in 2014. Additionally, Justice led Concord to two conference championships and two NCAA Division II playoff appearances. On Justice's watch 84 players were named All-West Virginia Athletic Conference or All-Mountain East Conference selections while two athletes earned Defensive WVIAC Player of the Year accolades in addition 18 All-Region selections and eight All-American honorees were named.

His 2015 squad had 11 players earn Mountain East Conference honors and two received All-Region recognition. He coached the top-offensive lineman in the MEC who led a unit that allowed the fewest sacks in the league and made way for the program's running back to set the all-time rushing record. His defense finished the season No. 2 in total defense.

In 2014, the Mountain Lions won the most games in school history (13) while also making an appearance in the national semifinals. Under Justice's guidance, CU won its first playoff games in school history, defeating West Chester (51-36) and Bloomsburg (32-26) which gave Concord its first Super One Region Championship. Not only did Concord set school records in wins (13), but Justice also was named Mountain East Conference Coach of the Year. It was his second league coach of the year award in four seasons at Concord. Justice coached the offensive line at Concord and tutored two All-American linemen in Rustin Mayorga and Coleman Osborne. All five of Justice's linemen earned all-conference during the 2014 season while paving the way for MEC Offensive Player of the Year Calvinaugh Jones.

The 2013 season was a showcase of what would come. Concord went 8-3 and narrowly lost out on winning the inaugural MEC title and earning a playoff bid. Concord tallied three-year highs under Justice on offense in points per game (26.6) and rushing yards per game (167.9). Just as impressive was Justice's defense which posted three-year lows in points allowed per game (14.2), rushing yards allowed per game (108.4) and passing yards allowed per game (159.7). His Concord teams excelled in all phases of the game defensively as well with a No. 3 national rank in four categories and two players earned All-American honors for their efforts. Special teams held a No. 6 national mark.

In 2012, Justice's second season in Athens, Concord registered a 7-4 overall record and a 6-2 mark in the WVIAC. In Justice's first season as a head coach (2011), he led Concord to its first WVIAC title since 1990 as well as the school's first appearance in the NCAA Division II playoffs after CU finished 7-4 overall and 7-1 in WVIAC competition and he was named the 2011 WVIAC Coach of the Year.

A native of Gilbert, W. Va., Justice originally came to Concord in January of 2009 as the offensive line coach and strength & conditioning coordinator. Justice played a prominent role in Concord's remarkable turnaround after its 0-11 season in 2008. In 2009, Justice's first year on the CU staff, the Mountain Lions went 6-5. In 2010, Concord was 8-3, winning eight games for the first time in 19 years.

At FSU

Justice spent two seasons at Florida State as an offensive graduate assistant, offensive videographer, and weight room graduate assistant. Justice helped develop four freshmen All-Americans and two All-Atlantic Coast Conference performers. In his two seasons with the Seminoles, FSU was 16-10 overall. The offensive line provided protection for running backs who gained more than 2,300 yards on the ground with 27 TDs in 2008 and tallied more than 1,600 yards in 2007 with 12 TDs. The passing game covered 2,500 yards in 2008 and 3,143 in 2007. The line allowed an average of less than two sacks per game. He completed his master's degree from Florida State in sports administration in 2008. While at FSU, Justice was a member of two bowl staffs. The 2007 team fell to Kentucky in the Music City Bowl and in 2008 defeated Wisconsin in the Citrus Bowl. He graduated FSU with a Masters of Sports Administration in 2008.

At West Virginia

Justice began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at West Virginia in 2006 where he worked with the offensive line and helped Dan Mozes win the Rimington Award as the nation's best center. The 2006 Mountaineers finished their campaign with an 11-2 record. The line provided protection for a running back corps that rushed for nearly 4,000 yards and tallied 48 scores. The passing game recorded 15 touchdowns and nearly 1,700 yards through the air and downed Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl.

Playing Experience

Justice was a three-year starting offensive tackle for West Virginia University and served as team captain in 2005 for a Mountaineer squad that went 11-1, defeated Georgia in the Sugar Bowl and ranked No. 5 in the season-ending AP Poll. He earned All-Big East honors and was a Sporting News second team All-American for his efforts. Justice also was the Big East Football Scholar-Athlete of the Year. He graduated from West Virginia in 2006 with a Regents Bachelor of Arts degree.

DAN SHULA

ASSISTANT COACH/QB

At Florida Atlantic

Shula worked with a solid blend of newcomers and veterans in 2014. The Owl quarterbacks connected with 19 different players, eight true receivers, and spread the touchdown receptions to seven different players. Jenson Stoshak and newcomer Kalib Woods were each credited with two scores. But, the breakout season fell upon the speedy slot receiver Lucky Whitehead who was credited with six scores. Whitehead lead all FAU receivers, with 76 receptions which placed him No. 2 among all Conference USA receivers and No. 27 nationally. Whitehead ended his senior campaign as a first team All-Conference USA selection. The program's first – first-team selection since joining the league in 2013. He was ranked among league leaders in receptions (2), receiving yards (10), kick returns (7) and all-purpose yards (4). Nationally, he was listed in eight categories, including in the top-40 in all-purpose yards (18), combined kick returns (16), kick-returns (36), punt returns (3) and receptions per game (27).

In 2015, Shula returned four game experienced receivers. The unit was led by senior Jenson Stoshak, who was listed among the nation's top receivers in three categories. Stoshak posted his best campaign in 2014 with 37 catches and 508 yards and surpassed the mark with 57 catches and 820 yards in 2015. His longest of the season was a 65-yarder. Once again the Owls' passing game spread the ball around connecting with 13 players. The balanced attack saw four wide receivers record 20 or more receptions. Tight end Nate Terry led all receivers with four scoring receptions, while Woods added three.

At Illinois State

Served as an assistant coach at Illinois State, the first two seasons as the team's offensive assistant the final two he focused on the wide receivers, kickers and punters while also serving as the team's director of operations. Kicker Zach Kutch was second-team All-American in 2009.

Shula transitioned into his role as receivers coach and inherited a talented group of wideouts. Led by Tyrone Walker, the group helped the Redbirds average 200 yards per game through the air in 2011 and the unit caught 18 touchdown passes. Shula's final season with the Redbirds saw Walker lead the unit with 65 receptions for 787 yards and eight touchdowns on his way to All-MVFC second team honors. Marvon Sanders wrapped up his stellar two-year career at ISU with 441 yards receiving on 39 receptions and freshman Lechein Neblett was named to the MVFC All-Newcomer team. 2012 was more of the same with the receiving corps tallying 2,066 yards and 15 scores. In 2012 the receivers accumulate 3,415 yards and 27 touchdowns. The kicking game also flourished with his kicker earning honorable mention All-Missouri Valley Football Conference honors and the long snapper was named second-team All-American. During Shula's tenure, Tyrone Walker set school records for receptions, receiving yards, touchdowns and was first team All-MVFC in 2012. The Redbirds 2012 squad advanced to the FCS quarterfinals and finished the season ranked No. 8, nationally.

At Miami

Served a two-year stint as a graduate assistant where he primarily worked with the offensive line.

At Alabama

Worked one season as a graduate assistant, primarily with the wide receivers.

BEN STRICKLAND

ASSISTANT COACH/DB

At Florida Atlantic

Strickland joined the staff in May of 2015 with the task of building a secondary unit vacated by third round draft selection D'Joun Smith as well as Christian Milstead and Damian Parms who had NFL tryouts. The secondary didn't miss a beat, relying on the experience of Sharrod Neasman and Cre'von LeBlanc to shoulder the weight of an otherwise young unit. By seasons end, the true freshmen were a shining example of things to come. The Owls tallied 14 interceptions, including three returned for a score. In all, the secondary was credited with 24 points. Second team All-C-USA honors were bestowed to LeBlanc while freshman Jalen Young earned a spot on both the C-USA honorable mention team as well as on the all-freshman team. C-USA also recognized freshman Ocie Rose on the all-freshman team. Strickland's work with a young secondary blended into the defense's focal point which was the importance of individual assignments and working as a unit. The Owls did so with precision, ending 2015 leading the league in sacks which Head Coach Charlie Partridge credited the secondary's coverage as a major reason for the defensive line's success.

At Wisconsin

Strickland guided the Badgers' junior CB Darius Hillary to second-team All-Big Ten honors for a 2014 season in which he finished with 41 tackles, 3.0 tackles for loss and five pass breakups. Strickland's unit helped the Badgers to field the nation's No. 4-ranked passing defense in 2014. Wisconsin allowed just 168.0 passing yards per game, a number that dropped to 159.8 yards per game in Big Ten play. Opponents completed just 49.0 percent of their passing attempts against the Badgers, a mark that also ranked No. 4 nationally. Wisconsin continued to be especially strong against the pass on third down, allowing opponents to covert just 25.9 percent of their third-down attempts through the air. Opponents completed only 41.4 percent of their passes for an average of 5.8 yards per attempt on third down against the Badgers' defense.

In 2013, the Badgers' defense ranked No. 17 in the country against the pass, giving up just 202.5 yards per game through the air, and ranked in a tie for 13th in the FBS in yards allowed per passing attempt at 6.2. Wisconsin allowed opponents to convert just 25.2 percent of their third-down attempts through the air, the fourth-best mark in the nation. The Badgers ranked No. 3 nationally both in terms of completion percentage (40.7 percent) and yards per attempt (4.37) by opponents on third down.

Strickland's unit also was key in the Badgers matching Michigan State for the national lead in the fewest plays of 10-plus yards allowed with just 125 in 13 games.

Strickland mentored true freshman CB Sojourn Shelton to an impressive debut season, with Shelton tying for third in the Big Ten with four interceptions. His four picks ranked No. 3 nationally among true freshman, trailing only Virginia Tech teammates Kendall Fuller (6) and Brandon Facyson (5). Shelton's four interceptions were the second-most ever by a UW freshman and the most by a true freshman in school history.

In Strickland's first season, three of the Badgers' four starters in the secondary received 2012 All-Big Ten honors in senior CB Devin Smith, who tied for the Big Ten lead in interceptions, senior CB Marcus Cromartie and junior SS Dezmen Southward.

Strickland spent the 2010 and 2011 seasons as a graduate assistant working with the defense. He returned to Wisconsin is 2009, serving as the team's defensive quality control coordinator.

Playing Career

A former walk-on at Wisconsin, Strickland was elected team captain as a senior in 2007. A four-time Academic All-Big Ten selection, Strickland played in 51 games as a Badger on special teams and as a defensive back. He finished his career with 72 tackles, eight passes defensed and one interception.

On special teams he blocked and recovered a punt in the 2007 Capital One Bowl. He also recovered a blocked punt in the end zone to cap a dramatic comeback win at Minnesota in 2005, a play that was later named the Pontiac Game-Changing Performance of the Year by ESPN.

HEATHER HENDERSON

DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

Heather Henderson joined the football staff in November of 2012 with the primary focus on assisting with on-campus recruiting. In February 2013, following the compilation of the best signing class in the program's history, Henderson began assuming more duties. She was named the director of football operations in April of 2013. As DFO, Henderson joined less than a handful of females in the position.

Henderson came to Florida Atlantic in the spring of 2004 as the Owls' head cheer coach. She brought more than 20 years of cheerleading experience. Since that time, Henderson has guided FAU to several top-20 national finishes including a No. 1 finish in the 2013 Cheer Limited National Tournament in the Large Co-Ed division. Henderson also served as the president and co-founder of CheerFormance X-Treme (CFX). CFX tailored to cheerleaders of all ages, giving personal lessons to those wanting to make an elementary, middle, high school, or all-star level squad. CFX delivered a cutting edge approach to training nearly 200 cheer athletes each year.

As a cheerleader, Henderson was a co-captain on the University of South Carolina Varsity Cheerleading squad. She also worked with several high schools in South Carolina, choreographing numerous state championship routines. Enhancing her choreographing skills, Henderson worked directly with choreographer Charissa Seaman. She also received a dance scholarship to the famed L.A. Underground School of Dance.

GRAHAM WILBERT

DIR. OF PLAYER PERSONNEL/EXTERNAL RELATIONS

At Florida Atlantic University

Following a four-year FAU playing career, Wilbert was invited to join the staff as an offensive graduate assistant, a position he served for two seasons. As a GA 2013-14, Wilbert primarily focused on the quarterbacks and helped to develop Jaquez Johnson. Johnson was named Conference USA and FAU "Newcomer of the Year" and was ranked No. 10 in rushing yards with 767, No. 4 in total offense with 2638 yards in 2014. He also was ranked No. 8 in rushing yards for a QB in the entire NCAA during his sophomore campaign. He also was instrumental in developing a running back corps which set the program's all-time single-season high in rushing yards at 2225 in 2013. The 2014 squad is third all-time with 1,963 yards.

Upon completion of his post-graduate work, Wilbert moved into the role of Director of Player Personnel and External Relations. The position allows him the time to meet area high school coaches and organize the program's recruiting efforts. His efforts have been instrumental in two of the strongest recruiting classes in program history.

Playing Career

Wilbert served as the FAU starting quarterback in all but two games in his final two campaigns (2011-12). As a senior, he worked under the direction of his third offensive coordinator and excelled despite the change from a pro-style, which he was recruited to lead, to a spread offense that he mastered through knowledge of the game and capitalizing on his strengths. Wilbert completed 261 passes of 405 attempts for 2,819 yards. He tossed 18 touchdown passes and reduced his interceptions drastically form his junior season with just six INTs in 2012. Wilbert's completion rate of 64.4% set a new FAU record while he posted an impressive 138.67 passing efficiency in Sun Belt Conference play. The Californian threw for 4,319 career yards and is listed among the top-five FAU record holders in several categories.

Wilbert, who tossed his first collegiate touchdown at Auburn, a 17-yard connection with current Washington Redskin running back Alfred Morris, served as FAU's offensive captain for every game in 2011 and 2012. At the conclusion of his junior campaign he was awarded the team's 2011 Student Athlete Award. Following his senior season, 2012, Wilbert received the team's first Endurance Award in recognition of his holistic achievement in the classroom, on the playing field, in the weight room and for citizenship.

As a prepster, he played for Larry Muir at Valencia High School, where he held a senior quarterback rating of 107. Wilbert finished his final prep campaign 225-for-360 in passing completing 64% of his passes for 2,905 yards and 26 touchdowns with only five interceptions. Wilbert had 81 carries in 2008 and posted a 7-4-1 record as a starting high school senior.

TODD SOUKUP

ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

At Florida Atlantic

Todd Soukup joined the Florida Atlantic University football staff in the fall of 2013 as a recruiting and operations intern. He later added the responsibilities of assistant to the director of player personnel to his list of day-to-day responsibilities and in May of 2015 he was elevated to associate director of player personnel.

In that role, Soukup assists with all organizational aspects of the recruiting process. He also helps to coordinate the program's recruiting efforts which have enabled the staff to build back-to-back classes that rank the highest in program history. The 2015 class featured four members of the Conference USA's All-Freshmen team, including Azeez Al-Shaair, who was named by two organizations as a Freshman All-American. Along with his recruiting and operational responsibilities, Soukup manages the team's social media account. Finally, he assists with camp and clinic efforts.

Prior to FAU, Soukup worked for nearly two years with the Central Palm Beach county Chamber of Commerce, where he was a member account representative.

Soukup received his undergraduate degree in social science with a minor in political science and sociology from Florida Atlantic in 2010. He then continued his education at FAU earning a MBA degree with an emphasis in sports management in 2015. While seeking his degree, Soukup interned with the Miami Dolphins in 2013 as a member of their operations staff.

Dorvilus is in his second season with the Owls, as a graduate assistant. The Miami native is a former FAU player who started two seasons. Dorvilus' work as a graduate assistant focuses on the wide receivers and compiling scouting reports. He also works with recruit evaluation and on-campus visits.

Playing Career

Was a two-year starter at tight end and drew three starts as a sophomore while he saw action in every game during his four-year FAU career. Dorvilus was used in multiple facets as a tight end and played under both a pro-style and spread offense. Following his senior campaign, he earned the team's Mr. Resilient award, an award bestowed by then Interim Head Coach Brian Wright, who used the word Resilient to exemplify what he was looking for in each team member in an effort to reach bowl eligibility status, which they accomplished. In fact, Dorvilus grabbed a season-ending touchdown pass to secure a victory and become bowl eligible. He tallied six touchdowns on the year, earned Conference USA honorable mention honors and was a member of CollegeFootballPerformance.com watch list. The Miami native also was a major contributor on special teams.

TEAM BIOS UPDATE WEEKLY AT

FAUSPORTS.COM

OFFENSIVE LIVE

Following the 2016 Spring Season, we sat down with Florida Atlantic University Head Football Coach Charlie Partridge to review the spring season and to take a more in-depth look at the Owls, position-by-position.

The majority of the interest lies on the offensive side of the ball and the changes made by newly-hired offensive coordinator Travis Trickett.

Let's just say, the Owls kicked it up a notch. The pace of practice was elevated and no man was left standing (around). If you were not involved in the action, you were shadowing and nowhere was it more noticeable than at quarterback where FAU had two QBs running each play and both were evaluated on every snap.

Spring practice offensive buzz words were "progression", "pace", "breaking barriers" and "competing". It all starts up front which is where the position-by-position focus will begin.

Head Coach Charlie Partridge named Trickett as FAU's offensive coordinator on December 11. Partridge had first became aware of Trickett while coaching at Arkansas. As the Razorbacks' Assistant Head Coach and defensive line coach, Partridge was in charge of game planning for Samford, an FCS member. Through film study, Partridge recognized the chess match the Samford Bulldog offensive coordinator played, "punch-counter-punch".

Following the game, Partridge respectfully sought out Trickett. Three months later, Partridge took over the helm of the Owls and began his collegiate head coaching career and he continued to build his relationship with Trickett, especially noting Trickett's Florida recruiting ties. When the opportunity presented itself, Partridge made the phone call to Trickett and invited the football coaching legacy (his father is FSU offensive line coach Rick Trickett) to become a part of the Owl football program, as FAU's offensive coordinator.

Trickett took the opportunity one year, three months and four days following that Arkansas vs Samford chess match which saw Partridge and the Razorbacks pull away with a 31-21 victory.

But, the tale of coach respect doesn't end there.

Trickett was faced with hiring a new offensive line coach less than a month into his new position. While getting up to speed on the Owls 2016 recruiting class, the returning Owls, going back and forth to Birmingham for the Holidays and preparing to move to south Florida, Trickett made a long-promised phone call. He called Garin Justice. Justice was someone Trickett had coach while serving as a student coach at West Virginia. Trickett and Justice also had served together as FSU graduate assistants. While the familiarity was there, would Justice leave Concord University, in his home state of West Virginia where he served as the head coach? The duo reunited on January 7th with Justice agreeing to become Florida Atlantic's offensive line coach.

They had watched hours of game film together. The system was familiar to both. And, Trickett knew the importance the offensive line would play in his goals for FAU's offense.

The first "barrier" to achieve the "pace" the Owls would face was intensive off-season training – a program designed to make the Owls bigger and stronger. With strength and size a focus, the endurance became a factor early on during spring drills. The linemen would be asked to move faster and further and would need to adjust to the playing speed, knowing that endurance training would come during the summer months. And despite returning a veteran line, the 2016 spring season was much different than anything they had experienced.

"Three guys that stood out this spring were Dillon DeBoer, Reggie Bain and Antonyo Woods," said Partridge. "They were the three that probably had the best spring. This offensive system has really been a great fit for Dillon. He is so athletic and he was able to withstand the tempo. As his confidence grew, his leadership and aggressiveness reached a new level. He has really gone to another level."

DeBoer, one of 12 football players selected league-wide as a C-USA All-Academic honoree, is expected to return as the starting center. DeBoer (Tarpon Springs, Fla.) has the experience to stabilize the veteran line as well as either quarterback under center. He was named to the Rimington Watch List following the 2016 spring season.

Antonyo Woods (Port St. Lucie) posted an outstanding spring after gaining more playing time in the fall of 2015. He was the most consistent on the line throughout spring practice and simply came to work every single day. Woods, a pre-med major, caught onto the scheme, the calls and the footwork faster than most of the linemen, which put him ahead of the game. Woods saw time at right guard a year ago and was used as an extra blocker. His strength and intelligence allow the coaching staff to use him anywhere along the line but, he is expected to see the majority of his time at guard.

Reggie Bain (Miami, Fla.) will return for his third season and is two years removed from his Freshman All-American performance, which he followed up with a second–team C-USA performance in 2015. Bain held the highest weekly performance grade and much of that success is generated from the daily battles between Bain and FAU first team all-conference defensive line selection Trey Hendrickson.

"Trey is so dominant that there were a couple of days this spring that were truly ugly," said Partridge when asked about the Bain/Hendrickson match-up during spring drills. "Trey was winning pretty close to every snap. Reggie is a competitor. So, Reggie had to raise his level significantly to be able to compete with Trey. There is no question that those guys (Reggie and Trey) going against each other every day has made both better. As soon as Reggie elevated his game and Trey wasn't as dominant it bothered Trey. They both push each other quite a bit."

Bain, a two–year starter at left tackle, was the only returning starter who had played for just one collegiate position coach and one offensive coordinator. His adjustment took three or four practices to get acclimated to the new tempo. But, with the pressure from Hendrickson and his competitive nature he broke through that "barrier".

"When he [Bain] made the choice, it was really a choice that you could almost see happen, he went to another level. He finished blocks outside the frame of the video. He is leading and he is demanding other guys around him to raise their level of play. If they aren't living up to it, he is either getting them there or moving on. Reggie has had the best spring and the best segment of practices that I have ever seen him have," added Partridge.

Returning to the right side of the line will be senior Kelly Parfitt (Boca Raton, Fla.). Parfitt transferred in 2014 and saw his first action in '15 as both a center and right tackle. Parfitt was held out of the spring practice while recovering from injury but remained vocal and engaged in practice and is expected to return to a veteran line which returns four starters.

The four returning starters will be pushed by the deepest offensive linemen corps the program has had since winning the Sun Belt Conference Title (2007) and moving to Conference USA. Roman Fernandez (West Palm Beach), a high school teammate of Antonyo Woods, had an outstanding spring and fall in 2015 until he was sidelined for the season, weeks before the first game. He returned to the practice field and was once again putting together a good spring until an ankle injury held him out the final weeks. Fernandez is expected to be in the lineup and like Woods is one of the strongest players on the squad.

Another expected to see playing time in 2015, the only player to spell Bain in 2015, is redshirt sophomore Byers Hickmon. Hickmon (Gainesville, Fla.) is described as the most gifted player in the offensive lineman's meeting room. He has the size and athletic ability to become a special player. Hickmon's ability to break down the "barriers" is heavily anticipated and will strengthen a veteran line. He is joined by redshirt freshman Jack Breshears (Batavia, Ill.), redshirt sophomore Matt Weiner (North Palm Beach, Fla.), who saw time at center a year ago, as well as redshirt sophomore Siffo Pierre (Coral Springs, Fla.), who contributed to special teams in 2015, and Richard Williams (Miramar, Fla.), who redshirted a year ago. Also working with the unit are redshirt junior Jakobi Smith (Miami, Fla.) along with redshirt freshman Tarrick Thomas (Tallahassee, Fla.) and Bryan Beck (Franklin, Wis.).

As the "O" lineman continue to transition to a faster tempo and break their individual barriers, they will allow the quarterbacks to make their progressions, taking what is given, whether it is on the ground or through the air, which will allow the Owls to be more balanced and competitive.

Newcomers

Ean Biancardi, 6-5, 285, Lake Wales, Fla.
Brandon Walton, 6-5, 300, Largo, Fla.

RUNNING BACKS

The knee jerk reaction to labeling FAU's offense as an up-tempo offense is: "That's just basketball on grass". The quarterbacks will toss it here and there and the receivers will go get it. Well what about the running backs? Will we see that part of the game disappear?

Remember the phrase "take what they give us" to better understand FAU's new offense. Yes the receivers are heavily involved and expect to see multiple receptions by multiple receivers, but don't be surprised to see the return of the deep pass that FAU quarterbacks of old used to burn opposing defenses. Expect to see the running backs eat up yards and to catch passes out of the backfield but, don't expect to see video board replays. Why? There simply will not be time to show a replay before the ball is set and the next play is called.

Coming out of the spring, Gregory "Buddy" Howell (Coconut Grove, Fla.) reminded us of how good he can be. Jay Warren (Navarre, Fla.) continued to put in the work in anticipation of an outstanding senior campaign while Kerrith Whyte (Loxahatchee, Fla.) and Marcus Clark (Tallahassee, Fla.) proved the running back stable is full but ready to welcome incoming freshmen James Charles (Fort Lauderdale, Fla) from St. Thomas Aquinas and highly touted Deerfield Beach and American Heritage-Delray standout Devin Singletary.

"Buddy [Gregory Howell] really separated himself as the guy," said Head Coach Charlie Partridge. "Day after day, play after play, he has proven that he can be a big play back. He is running faster and is running with more confidence. He really thrives in this system. He is a little stronger and a little faster and has gotten better since the fall. He is definitely one of our elite leaders and is doing everything right."

Howell showed his break-away speed as a true freshman, tallying 118 yards in his first outing. He followed up his WKU performance a week later with 92 yards versus Marshall and was well on his way to another outstanding game until a run-stopping injury versus UAB ended his game and season. He saw action in every game a year ago and tallied a team-high 598 yards in a four-back rotation that also shared the ground attack with the quarterback, who had the second-most carries (100). Howell has averaged nearly five yards per carry during his first two collegiate seasons. Howell finished his 2015 campaign No. 4 nationally with more than 100 rushing attempts and less than 20 yards lost. He was charged with a loss of 10 yards a year ago and a total of just 15 lost during his two-year career.

Each of the three returning backs were credited with at least one reception a year ago which will be critical in 2016. Remember, we will "take what they give us".

Veteran Jay Warren has used the last three seasons to build a resume that has proven his preparedness for either the run or pass. The senior has 287 career rushing attempts and has tallied nine receptions. Like Howell, he averages nearly five yards per carry. He also broke the 100-yard single-game plateau as a freshman versus Southern Miss and repeated it as a sophomore versus Wyoming. As a junior, he recorded a 132 yards on 11 carries in the first half versus Miami. He ended his junior campaign with 150 yards on 29 carries at ODU.

"We protected Jay [Warren] this spring by not allowing him to participate in a lot of contact situations," said Partridge. "He participated in all the 7-on-7 and drill work. He is in a good place and I'm anticipating that Jay will have a good senior year."

Warren's fellow Florida panhandle native, Marcus Clark made the best of his 2015 opportunities. He averaged 5.0 yards per carry and was given the ball 37 times. His longest was a 40 yarder versus Rice. He also saw time in the kick return game with a total of 57 yards on three returns. The redshirt junior shared his spring carries with redshirt freshman Kerrith Whyte.

"Kerrith showed glimpses [during spring practice] of what we saw on scout team last year. He is fast. He is quick and he runs hard," said Partridge. "He will continue to develop his body to give himself a chance to withstand the pounding of being a Division I running back. That is the challenge we gave him for the summer."

Each of the backs provide a different look and create different challenges. Each will return in the fall to showcase their ability and to take advantage of the opportunities given to best help the team.

WIDE RECEIVERS

College receivers enjoy the summer. There are captain-organized 7-on-7 practices. There are phone calls from quarterbacks looking for someone to play catch. And, at Florida Atlantic, where the beach is 1.8 miles from the stadium, the skies are bright blue and the palm trees offer a bit of shade, there is the promise of an up-tempo offense that has been described by Head Coach Charlie Partridge as "air raid-ish."

The Owls return four receivers, as well as two tight ends and three running backs who recorded receptions in 2015. The returners account for 136 of the team's 206 receptions, 63% of the accumulated yards and more importantly, the returners account for 83% of the squad's 2015 touchdown receptions.

Who will provide the Owls shock in "shock and awe" has yet to be determined. It will either be redshirt sophomore quarterback Jason Driskel (Oviedo, Fla.) or redshirt freshman quarterback Daniel Parr (Jupiter, Fla.). The starting quarterback will remain a question mark until the closing weeks of preseason. However, it is relatively easy to pinpoint the awe.

Spring practice produced one of the biggest changes to the Owls offensive weaponry with the move of Nate Terry (Homestead, Fla.), who had four 2015 touchdown receptions, from tight end to receiver.

"I think Nate Terry moved to where he needed to move. He was often in that position last year. We really just put him where he can shine. Here is where his best skill set is and he really, really showed that this spring," said Partridge. "Incredible hands, smart, runs the route you want him to run, the depth you want him to run it, reacts to the defense. The quarterbacks have so much confidence that he is going to be where you need him to be…there was a point (in the spring), that when he was targeted, he was 80-85%. That is a phenomenal, phenomenal number. That has been a great, great move for us."

Terry's move to the receiving corps will give FAU more size. With his size at 6'7" inches and 210 pounds, the Owls will now have the opportunity to have three receivers at 6'2" or taller plus either tight end who stands at 6'3" or taller. Both projected running backs are 6' or more giving you a complete specialist unit with the height and blocking ability either quarterback can use to his advantage – all without giving up speed.

One player that will be better prepared to contribute in 2016 is Kalib Woods (Jacksonville, Fla.). The rising redshirt junior is the second leading returning wide receiver with 27 receptions for 330 yards and three scores.

"Kalib [Woods] had a really, really nice spring. He is almost 200 pounds and he sustained the weight throughout the spring," added Partridge.

On the other side, Kamrin Solomon (Jacksonville, Fla.) will return after putting together his best collegiate season to date. The rising junior returns with two starts under his belt and 12 games played a year ago. He held the team's highest yards per reception average at 17.4 with 22 receptions and the second most in yards at 382.

"Kamrin [Solomon] was solid in the spring and kept his production number up while working on consistency to details, technique and routes," said Partridge

As the quarterbacks move through their progressions, trust and consistency become even more important and Solomon's growth will be key to the Owls success. Two receivers that will vie for receptions are junior Henry Bussey (Opa Locka, Fla.) and redshirt freshman Tavaris "Pico" Harrison (North Miami, Fla.).

"Henry was explosive this spring. Fans didn't get to see it in the Spring Game. We just didn't get the ball to him," said Partridge. "He is really coming into his own after transitioning him from running back to this position and he has become a true wide receiver."

While fans may not have seen his improvement this spring, one look at the team statistics a year ago identifies Bussey as the team's top returner in receptions (29). Harrison turned in a strong spring season and is on pace to have an impact as a redshirt freshman.

"I knew in my heart that someone was going to 'pop-up' in this offense - Harrison is the one," said Partridge. "He had the second most production, but also the second most mental busts, this spring. As he grows and gets rid of the mental busts…he will become a real, real factor. In this offense, if they give us a five-yard pass, we are going to take it. He can make that five-yard pass an 80-yard gain."

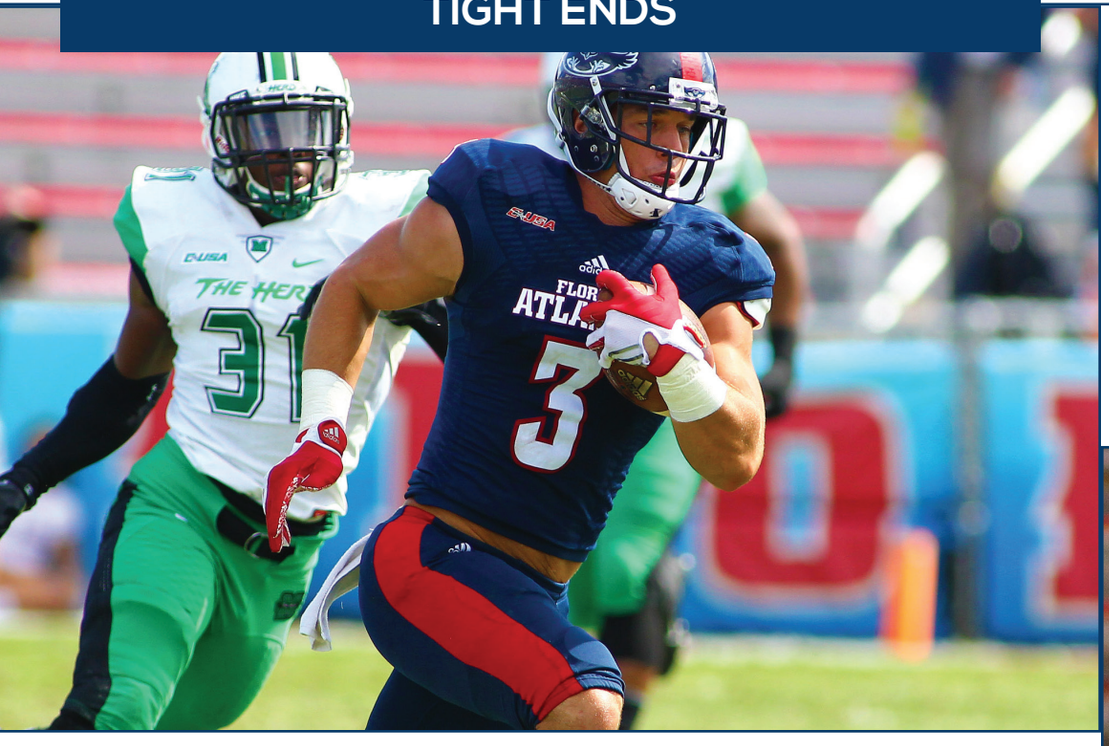

To manage the offense's anticipated crispness, more than these five receivers will be needed. For that, the Owls will look to Tony Thomas (Miami Gardens, Fla.), a redshirt senior who saw action in 11 games a year ago. Thomas will be joined by four players who have at least a year of college under their belts, but will see their first game action. Redshirt sophomore Bobby Mitchell (St. Augustine, Fla.) as well as redshirt freshmen Ladante Harris (Sebring, Fla.), J'Quan Napier (Riveria Beach, Fla.) and James Brunson Fort Myers, Fla.), who was named 2015 Scout Team MVP, will fill that role.

TIGHT ENDS

They giveth (Tyler Cameron) and they taketh away (Nate Terry)

The tight end unit entered the 2015 preseason camp with a senior returning from injury, a junior college transfer, two sophomores, and an incoming freshman. They had lost, to graduation, the unit's most productive tight end and needed the tight end puzzle completed prior to the season opener.

By the end of the 2015 preseason camp, the puzzle was indeed complete but the final piece, which proved to be important, came from another puzzle box – the quarterback unit.

Midway through camp, the coaching staff spoke to Tyler Cameron, a graduate student transfer who had played three collegiate seasons and his entire high school career under center. They asked if he would be willing to practice at tight end.

He agreed and by week's end the picture was complete.

Cameron (Jupiter, Fla.) contributed in every game and drew six starts. He led the tight ends with 21 receptions which was fifth on the squad in total receptions. He averaged 12.2 yards per catch and as the year progressed he became more and more physical.

Someone used to the physicality of the position and who also saw action in every game was Dustin Bowens (Palm Coast, Fla.). Bowens' size and strength was vital in the squad's offense as well as on special teams.

"Tyler (Cameron) and Dustin (Bowens) are the two that will be in there come game time. Tyler again showed that he is a reliable pass catcher," said Head Coach Charlie Partridge after the spring season. He got much stronger in the off season and has been much more physical at the point of attack and you flip it to Dustin. Dustin continued his path down being a physical guy but, now he catches the ball better. So, we have two guys that we feel good about."

The duo will enter the season knowing that they have a greater opportunity to contribute and to make a difference after the unit lost Nate Terry (Homestead, Fla.). Terry used the spring of 2016 to make a move to wide receiver and he flourished. The junior saw action as a tight end in every 2015 game, with a unit-leading seven starts. He ended his second collegiate campaign just behind Cameron with 16 catches, but accounted for a fourth of the team's touchdown receptions.

Despite losing Terry, the tight ends have the size, experience and ability to contribute in multiple ways. With Terry's move to receiver, the coaching staff will have the option to have three physical receivers in the game that will provide a different look than if they had opted to used have used them as a three-tight end set and could do so with speed as well as size.

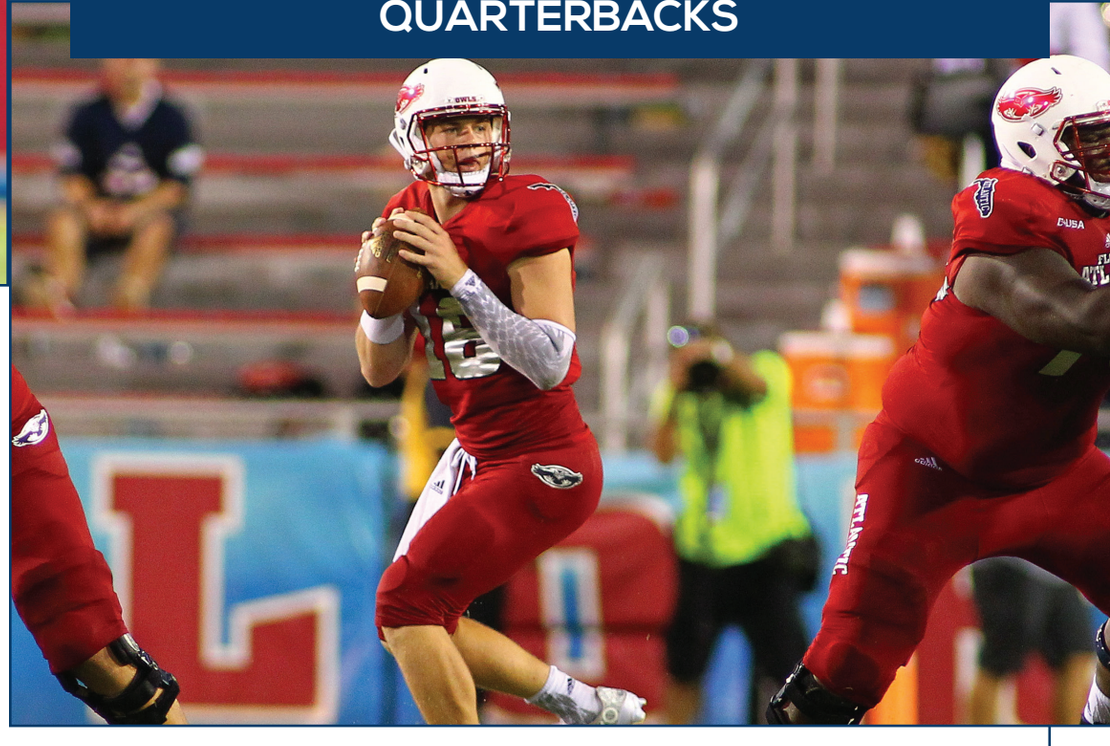

Jacob Wilson (Chipley, Fla.) can add to that size mix and will return as a redshirt sophomore. Newcomers will be incoming freshmen Harrison Bryant from Gray, Ga. and Westminster Christian's John Raine.

Bryant earned all-county, all-region, and all-state honors as a senior where he tallied 38 receptions for 608 yards and 10 touchdowns. He is a physical player that saw time as both an offensive and defensive lineman during his prep career. Raine earned all-county honors as well and used his athletic ability to earn the school's Offensive MVP honors for both football and basketball. He tallied 24 receptions for 223 yards and four touchdowns as a senior.

John Raine, 6-2, 230, Miami, Fla.

QUARTERBACKS

Decisions

When Freedom Whitfield was asked what Florida Atlantic University had meant to him, the graduating linebacker said "FAU has taught me that it is not our abilities that show what we truly are – it is our choices."

With that statement Whitfield summed up the Florida Atlantic quarterback race.

In no other sport does a team receive the play from their coaches, have the ball set by the officials, analyze the opponent, put the play in motion - all within 40 seconds, and then do it all over again regardless of success or failure within a 40 second window.

From the most difficult of business to the most mundane, decisions are researched, analyzed, discussed and often pondered. On the football field, decisions are made before thousands of fans, set in motion and executed – all within 40 seconds.

Head Coach Charlie Partridge has time for this decision. He will make the starting quarterback decision by analyzing the body of their spring and fall practices. He will ponder the decision all summer and will start the person he feels can put the Owls in the best position for a positive outcome.

The duo of Jason Driskel, a six foot two, 210 pound redshirt sophomore from Oviedo, Fla., and Daniel Parr a six foot three, 190 pound redshirt freshman from nearby Jupiter, Fla., are proven winners and more importantly are competitive students of the game.

"They have truly, truly pushed each other. I love the competition," said Partridge. "There is no incumbent. There is competition every day, every drill. One day you think (Jason) Driskel's got it. The next day (Daniel) Parr takes it. They are both operating as starters."

Driskel holds the edge in game experience. He saw action in 10 games and drew two starts in 2015. He was 77-151-4 in passing on the year with 965 yards and three scores. But, it is Driskel who proved when thrown into action late in the first quarter versus Miami, before an FAU Stadium sold out crowd, that ability to prepare, to make decisions and to handle the unexpected can mean more than experience

In Driskel's first collegiate action, the redshirt freshman marched the Owls down the field to pull FAU within four (14-10). Before Driskel's next touch of the ball, the Canes kicked a field goal and held a seven point lead. Driskel then led the Owls down field for the second time of his career and handed off to Jay Warren for the nine-yard score to even the contest at 17, with just minutes to go in the half.

It also is fun to watch the duo in practice. Both work with the first unit. One is under center and the other is just a few yards behind. Both drop back from the snap and go through the progression. One tosses the pass or hands the ball off and the other goes through the motion just a few feet behind, very often it is the same motion, the same read and the same decision. Two different people – one thought.

"Travis (Trickett - FAU's new offensive coordinator) will not allow them to stand back there," said Partridge when asked about the shadowing in practice. "They have to simulate the throw, so that Travis can coach both quarterbacks on every rep."

Through Spring Drills, the duo were neck and neck. Similar enough that they are interchangeable. But, unique enough to excel in different ways. Driskel is an intelligent quarterback that has learned through his experiences as well as the experiences of his brother, Jeff, who played at both Florida and Louisiana Tech and is now a member of the NFL.

Parr played for Dwyer High School, one of the best high school programs in the state and was highly recruited by power five programs, but made the decision to attend FAU led by Charlie Partridge, who began recruiting Parr early in his high school career and never wavered in the recruitment process. Partridge kept the recruiting dialogue alive throughout his coaching stops bringing the two together once he assumed FAU's helm. Despite multiple options and late pressure as signing day drew near, Parr's commitment to building his hometown team never swayed. He enrolled in January 2015 as an early high school graduate for the opportunity to begin his college career.

The decision of which quarterback to start will be similar to the progressions the quarterbacks are asked to do on every play. FAU has two outstanding quarterbacks. Both have the ability to guide FAU's crisp offense. Both have the ability to taking advantage of the opportunities given by opposing defenses. Both will continue to compete well after that initial decision is made and no matter who starts that first snap the competition makes the Owls better in the process.

DEFENSIVE LINE

The Owls entered the 2015 preseason camp with nothing but questions. They were thin in number. They were young in experience. How did they answer those questions?

They improved their number with freshmen who often, didn't play like freshmen (you can insert the name of USA Today Freshman All-American Azeez Al-Shaair here). They gained valuable experience throughout the season and often throughout the game. The Owls' defense improved their national rank in total defense by 40 spots. FAU's red zone defense was ranked No. 13 nationally at season's end. Owl defenders tallied 26 points in 2015 and were ranked No. 8 nationally in defensive TDs and No. 13 in sacks. Individually, four Owls were ranked among the nation's leaders in interceptions which factored into the defensive line setting the program's single-season sack record and junior Trey Hendrickson to finish the season No. 2 nationally in both sacks and forced fumbles.

Entering 2016, the abundance of questions have been answered. And, there is no question that like last year, it will begin with the defensive line.

It starts with Trey (Hendrickson)," said Charlie Partridge, FAU's head football coach. "To his credit, he is bigger now (270). But, he is moving every bit as fast, if not faster. He holds himself to a high standard. If his technique is off, even if he dominated the play, he is upset about it and he is aware of it which is cool. He still has growth. That is the fun thing, he is not at his ceiling - yet."

While Hendrickson (Apopka, Fla.) hasn't hit his individual ceiling, he has set the FAU single-season mark of 13.5 sacks, which ranked No. 2 nationally. He shattered FAU's all-time career sack mark of 16 by four (20) and will add to his record in 2016. Hendrickson has his home as the right defensive end; however, he also worked the opposite side during the spring which will give the Owls a different look. To the naked eye, the right and left side are the same. Hunter Snyder, expected to start on the left, is a six foot seven redshirt sophomore who was an Owl starter by seasons end a year ago and only improved through the off-season and spring. Snyder (Palm Harbor, Fla.) saw action in every 2015 game and accumulated 32 tackles, six for a loss, including 4.5 sacks. The duo will be supported by Haiden Nagel (Tampa, Fla.), an extremely intelligent player who can provide help on both sides. Nick Internicola (Pembroke Pines, Fla.), who missed the spring, is expected to round out the experienced unit.

The tackles are a group that is experienced and ready to take over for Trevon Coley and Brandin Bryant, both FAU graduates and members of NFL rosters. Expect to see Ray Ellis (Egg Harbor Township, N.J.), a six foot one 285 pound junior, Shalom Ogbonda (Sugar Land, Texas), a six foot four 290 pound redshirt senior who is on the Wueffer Watch List, Steven Leggett (Belle Glade, Fla.), a six foot one 290 pound sophomore and Denzel Whitfield (Monticello, Fla.), a six foot five 280 pound senior, to receive the bulk of the snaps. The quartet has been a part of a steady rotation the last two seasons which allowed the Owls to keep fresh legs in the game at all times. And, that system paid off with constant pressure from linemen who tallied 31.5 of the team's single-season record-setting sack record of 35, an accomplishment that can be met and surpassed should they continue their expected development.

"Ray (Ellis) made a huge jump this spring," said Partridge. He has a chance, if he can stay where he was at the end of the spring, to be as disruptive as those two guys last fall. Steven (Leggett) will push both Ray and Shalom (Ogbonda). He has quick twitch and a ton of talent. Steven wants to be good and he is gifted."

The Owls return seven players who saw action on the record breaking line a year ago, five of whom recorded a sack. So, as the Owls' defense heads into 2016 the only questions are can they top their improvement and their records.

LINEBACKERS

The Tradition Continues

Everyone remembers their "Sweet 16" and that confident walk from the DMV to the car knowing you can drive without mom or dad in the car. For FAU football, it is the knowledge that the program, in its 16th season, can continue its tradition of dominant linebackers.

In the first 15 seasons four linebackers garnered team MVP honors, second only to quarterbacks. The tradition of outstanding linebacker play is expected to continue in 2016 with the unit's leadership coming from junior middle linebacker Nate Ozdemir and sophomore outside linebacker Azeez Al-Shaair.

"There are two alphas in the linebacker meeting room – Nate (Ozdemir) and Azeez (Al-Shaair)," said Charlie Partridge, FAU's head football coach. "Nate is what we had hoped he would be as a leader and Azeez is way ahead of his years."

Ozdemir joined the Owls in 2013 after spending the summer after his senior year at the Naval Academy, where he participated in summer drills and preseason camp. That fall, Ozdemir transferred to FAU where he earned Scout Team MVP honors in part because of his work ethic and ability to learn the opposing team's schemes. That ability served him well in 2014 with the new coaching staff and especially absorbing the teachings of the squad's new defensive coordinator. Not only did Ozdemir have the opportunity to learn from his position coach, but he also was mentored by senior Andre Kirk, who was known for being a student of the game and an avid film watcher. Ozdemir, a Winter Garden native, assumed the starting middle linebacker spot in 2015 and used his ability to read and react to guide the young defense. The starting opportunity was a chance for him to showcase his skills, where he recorded 61 tackles on the year and a career high eight tackles in three different games. Off the field, he continued to work in the classroom towards a business degree as well as stay on track towards his Marine Corps officer goals by using his free time to obtain his private pilot's license.

"Nate has always worked to be a leader and that hasn't changed," said Partridge, shortly after spring ball was completed. "I won't even say that it [leadership] has risen. There has always been that high bar. What has blown us away is how well he is moving. Part of it is his knowledge of the defense. He knows what all of them are doing. If he sees something he goes. He is running away from blocks and is running guys down. He is doing things athletically that none of us could have anticipated."

Another talent hard to anticipate was the play of Azeez Al-Shaair. The staff knew the linebacker two-deep would be thin in 2015 and began building their scheme around the knowledge that several true freshmen would need to play. Educational opportunities as well as the way preseason camp would be managed took all of this into account. But, the development of Al-Shaair as well as several other freshman is truly what galvanized the program and set the future's course. By season's end, Al-Shaair had played in each of the team's 12 games and drew 11 starts. The Tampa, Fla native led the team with 94 tackles, including seven for a loss of 29 yards and was garnered Freshman All-American honors by USA Today.

"The thing I love about Azeez is that he doesn't care what year you are or how much you have played. Whether he has screwed up the play before or not, which is a hard thing to get over, he can learn from that, put it away and still demand from those around him," said Partridge. "He is so demanding of all those around him – all the time. He is on a mission. He has the unique mindset. He feels the clock. He knows this is his second year and he has three left. He takes coaching. He is a kid who has had so much success, you are really coaching fine points, footwork and he wants it. He gets upset if he doesn't get it, which is great."

With the duo of Ozdemir and Al-Shaair in place, the linebacker corps return depth that they have not been afforded since 2013, a year that two of the starting three joined the NFL and the third followed a year later with a free agent chance and later CFL contract.

With the starting Mike (middle linebacker) position set, there is good competition for the No. 2 spot and that may not be determined until late in preseason camp. Jake Stewart and Jacob Douglas are the two vying for the spot. Both also play a tremendous role on special teams. Stewart, from Miami, Fla., saw action in 10 games a year ago and recorded two tackles, a solo and a tackle assist against UTEP and ODU, respectively. Douglas, from Jacksonville, Fla., played in four games and tallied 16 tackles (7-9), including a season high seven at ODU.

While the use of a nickel package is used more and more, the defense has to prepare for 90+ plays which requires depth. FAU will look to Jerrad Ward, a junior from Jupiter, who has moved exclusively to outside backer where he is expected to see a lot of playing time and is expected to help the team.

Along with Ward's help on the outside, expect to see sophomore Khantrell Burden at the Sam and Kris Harris at Will (weakside linebacker). Burden saw action a year ago in nine games and recorded five tackles, primarily on special teams. The Miramar, Fla. native used his athletic ability to gain playing time right away and will look to hone in on his linebacker position in 2016. Harris, like most of the linebackers, played a big role on special teams in 2015. After continued growth and a strong spring, the Tallahassee, Fla. product is on pace to vie for time at the Will.

"There is really a competition between Jake Stewart and Jacob Douglas," said Partridge. Both of them really, really pushed each other. That is fun to see." The leadership of the linebacker corps will be key but, all indications are that the front seven will be a formidable group. It is a group that set the program's single-season sack record in 2015 and who was ranked No. 13 nationally at season's end in both team sacks and red zone defense. The Owls will return seven every game starters to the lineup in 2016 along with a youth movement that now has the game experience and depth to uphold a young program's tradition.

DEFENSIVE BACKS

Passing the Torch

Seven years ago a young man walked onto campus that changed the way NFL scouts viewed Florida Atlantic, specifically the defensive backs. In 2009, Keith Reaser signed his National Letter of Intent. In 2014, despite a knee injury, the Miami, Fla. native signed with the San Francisco 49ers as a fifth round pick.

The torch was passed to D'Joun Smith who signed his NLI in 2011 and was a member of the first freshmen class to play in FAU Stadium. Smith took that torch and became one of the best defensive backs in program history holding a No. 2 national rank in passes defended as a junior. Following his senior year, he served as a captain and was named the defensive MVP, Smith was selected in the third round by the Indianapolis Colts as the 65th pick overall.

Cre'von LeBlanc, who signed his NLI in 2012 and saw his first collegiate action in back-to-back games versus Georgia and Alabama, the defending National Champions, then took the baton. His performance was praised many times over the next four seasons. Following his senior year, a year he served as a captain and was named defensive MVP, LeBlanc was selected by the New England Patriots to join the squad as a free agent. LeBlanc and fellow DB Sharrod Neasman, who signed with the Atlanta Falcons, became the ninth and tenth FAU defensive backs to extend their football careers professionally in the program's first 15 seasons.

The question now - who will grab the torch?

It is a unit 20 strong, but they are dominated by youth. The defensive back corps includes just seven upper classmen. But just one has been an FAU defensive back each of the last four years and has not been held out due to an injury or who has transferred to the Owls. In the case of FAU's 13 underclassmen, youth is not a term used to soft sell inexperience. This group is 13 strong with significant collegiate playing experience and that includes Jalen Young and Ocie Rose, who both earned spots on the 2015 C-USA All-Freshman team as well as the league's overall honorable mention squad.

"Ocie had a nice spring, working to improve his consistency as a nickel and will compete with [DJ] Juste and others this fall," said Partridge. "He needs to have a great summer and keep working up towards his potential."

Right now, Ocie (Rose) is the guy [at nickel]," said Charlie Partridge. "He is extremely talented and is someone we have to keep challenged. If he is bored, he will drive you crazy because he will leave his assignment, but he is so blessed that he will make a play where you are going NOOOOO – YEAH. He has to grow into always focused, always disciplined and to know your plays will come."

Joining Rose at the nickel is senior DJ Juste, who came to FAU as a quarterback, moved to wide receiver, saw time as a returner and has worked into a play maker for the defensive backs. The senior saw action in 10 games, recorded 11 tackles, including a tackle for a loss of nine yards, and saw action on both defense and special teams.

Rose and Juste were pushed in the spring by transfer Alfred Ansley who joined the Owls in the fall and worked at both safety and nickel while completing his NCAA year of residence requirement. Anthony Hamilton, a redshirt senior returning from a knee injury, is another that may move between safety and nickel.

"Juste is someone you can trust," said Partridge. "He is going to do what you want him to do. We moved Alfred to nickel late in the spring to help push both those guys [Rose and Juste] and he did that. You felt his presence. He is physical and he has got some nice movement tools. He will add competition and then Anthony Hamilton is someone we will try at both nickel and safety. He hasn't played football in a while so it will be fun to get him back in the mix."

While most of the discussion centers around the younger players, Raekwon Williams will return for his junior season and has the experience of playing behind both D'Joun Smith and Cre'von LeBlanc. Williams has played in every games since donning an FAU uniform in 2014. He has recorded 35 tackles, one for a loss of three and has six passes defended but is looking for his first collegiate interception. His career high of eight tackles came in the 2014 Alabama contest.

"Raekwon has become, without a doubt, the alpha," said Partridge. "He is the one in the whole DB group, along with Hamilton, even though he was injured, who is trying to teach the young guys – all of them will watch film – those two [Williams and Hamilton] are trying to teach them how to watch film. What to look for. How to organize the cut ups. How to make it more productive. Raekwon is always coaching the young guys."

Two that find themselves learning from Williams are Herb Miller and Shelton Lewis. The duo were heavily involved in the 2015 defense with Miller drawing starts as a true freshman. Miller tallied 29 tackles while Lewis added five and both will once again factor into 2016 both defensively and on special teams.

"We have good competition between Miller and Lewis coming out of their freshman year, both played in the fall," said Partridge. "Shelton has a ton of playing experience and Herb has starting experience. Both have gone through Saturday battles. Shelton came into the spring with a mission. He is extremely talented, maybe one of the most talented on the corner depth chart. He is fighting for a starting job right now. Herb is continuing to mature. He turned 18 partway through the season…Herb has all the tools and is an awesome kid. He just needs to keep growing up."

The Owls also will see youth and the future take over the safeties. Young will make the move from free safety to strong safety where he made a lot of plays in the spring. Young, who tallied 69 tackles, two for a loss, forced a fumble and tallied three interceptions, improved with every 2015 game as he got used to the tempo and continued that improvement in the spring. Projected to fill Young's vacated role at free safety is redshirt sophomore Andrew Soroh, who saw action in 10 games and recorded seven tackles, one for a loss of three yards.

"Jalen is so competitive and so demanding on himself and so much more consistent now," added Partridge. "There were times in the fall that he would make a great play, then he would give up a play. He is much, much more consistent, but the big story of that room is Andrew Soroh. Andrew has done a 180 in his play, his approach off the field, watching film, and his focus on a very specific thing each day. He made a decision [prior to spring] and he did it."

This is a collective group that has the potential to build upon a foundation laid by former players. It is a group that despite their educational classification, has the maturity, experience and competitiveness to build a strong defense. While much of the 2015 defensive accolades was shined upon setting the program's all-time single-season sack record, it is important to remember why quarterbacks needed more time – the defensive backs had the receivers covered. It is important to remember that the defensive backs tied for the third most interceptions by defensive backs in the program's history and then there were the returns, which resulted in a historic three scores. After just one season, Ocie Rose is third all-time in interception return yards and he has the longest INT return in program history, a 95-yarder versus Marshall. Jalen Young is ninth all-time in interception return yards with three years to play.

The torch is ready to be passed – who will carry it forward?

Making Your Last Option Your Best Option

Sports commentators often describe the game of football as a chess match and in many ways it is. When the chess match comes down to the last move, the last option you hope that you are in the strongest possible position. In the game of football, your strategy is bookended by special teams and those moves determine the way the game is played and the way the play ends.

The Owls relied on the kick-off leg of Greg Joseph 62 times in 2015. More than half of those kicks were not returned (33), which allowed the Owls to setup their defense. Joseph averaged 62.9 yards per kick-off and his net was 40.6 net yards per kick. Opponents elected to return the ball 27 times for an average 20.7 yards per return. It was Joseph, along with the entire kick-off unit that gave the inexperienced Owl defense a chance to defend the goal. That unit did not allow a touchdown to be scored despite facing several opponents with outstanding returners, including three in C-USA alone who had taken one to the house.

Once the kick-off or the first move is made, the specialist return to the sideline to wait and hopefully wait never to be called into action again unless it is an extra point attempt, where again Head Coach Charlie Partridge would look to Joseph who was a perfect 28-for-28 in 2015.

Should the need for an extra point attempt not come into play, Joseph still remains an option for Partridge's next move. The redshirt junior connected on 18 field goals a year ago and 14 as a freshman. His longest field goal was a 48-yarder in the final game of the year, a 33-31 victory and a game that saw Joseph make good on four of five field goal attempts. His lone miss of the game was a 49-yarder. On the year, Joseph made five field goals that were 40 or more yards.

Should the Owls not be within Joseph's range, the Owls boast two options in their punt team arsenal. Senior Ryan Rickel (Fort Lauderdale, Fla.) for the short punts. Rickel has 28 career punts and averages 35.4 yards per punt. Eighteen of his 28 punts have been dropped inside the 20. The second option would be Dalton Schomp (Seminole, Fla.). Schomp was primarily used for the longer boots but assumed all duties towards the end of 2015. The redshirt senior has been called into action 95 times in the last two seasons and averages 46.7 yards per punt. He averaged a national leading 48.0 yards per punt in 2015, with 35 sailing 55 yards or more and his longest was a 76-yarder at UTEP in 2015.

"Dalton is becoming a complete punter where we can rely on him for pooch punts and regular punts," said Charlie Partridge, FAU's head football coach.

Everyone returns in the kicking game including C-USA honorable mention and all-freshman team honoree long snapper Casey Winner (Tallahassee, Fla.), who provided every 2015 long snap and was perfect in PAT snaps.

When previewing the return game moves, there is a knowledge that every south Florida grown football team has options. The difference on which "chess piece" to use comes down to who can receive the ball under stress and then make something happen. The Owls have players with talent who can make an impact. Those players are gathered before each practice and called into action under stressful situations. The drills last about five minutes.

"We want to see who is doing the best job of receiving the ball under created stress," said Partridge. "Sometimes we try to distract them. We move the jugs around and put them in stressful positions."

Through the spring, it was Jalen Young (Belle Glade, Fla.) and Henry Bussey (Opa Locka, Fla.) who set themselves apart.

Jalen is the one with gifts to make something happen and also has embraced really catching the ball," added Partridge. "Henry Bussey is right there behind him. They are the two that we think can make a difference in a game and also take care of the catch, which is number one."

The Owls special teams pieces are in place. It is a unit that has the talent and ability to take over a game. They can flip the field for a better defensive position or can help the offense put points on the board.

Checkmate.

ALL TIME LETTERMAN

The All-Time Lettermen Roster lists players who have met the requirements, set by the coaching staff, to earn a varsity letter. It may differ from both the All-Time Roster and the All-Time Numerical Roster. Following each name is year(s) lettered, hometown and high school.
