FINDLAY, OHIO

CITY OF FINDLAY

Findlay's origin dates back more than 200 years. The city's population grew rapidly in 1886 when gas and oil were discovered. The discovery led to much attention for Findlay. Thousands came to see the famous gas wells and the first practical use of natural gas in mechanical arts was developed in Findlay. As a result of the boom, the town quadrupled in population virtually overnight. The gas proved to be of short duration, but continued oil discoveries enabled the town to move forward with steady population growth.

With a population of nearly 50,000 people, the city of Findlay is large enough to offer plenty of opportunities for shopping, dining out and evening adventures, but still offers a safe, community-focused atmosphere to live, work and study in.

Findlay, which resides in Hancock County, has been designated "Flag City USA" due to its patriotic atmosphere. American flags are flown all across the city, most notably on Main St.

More than fifteen high-profile Fortune 500 companies have chosen Findlay/Hancock County for the many benefits of this dynamic micropolitan city. Fortune 500 companies are headquartered here including Marathon Petroleum Company, and Whirlpool Corporation and Goodyear Tire and Rubber have significant operations here. A vibrant office, manufacturing and distribution center of Northwest Ohio, Findlay is truly an international business center. In addition to the many U.S. based companies, seven Japanese companies, two Canadian firms, and three German enterprises are located in our world-class business and industrial parks.

Other manufacturers attracted to Findlay include: Hancor, Inc., which manufactures corrugated polyethylene pipe, and Ball Metal Beverage Container. Distribution centers for Lowe's, Kohl's, Best Buy and the headquarters of Hercules Tire & Rubber are located here because of the excellent transportation access and the benefits of the Foreign Trade Zone.

Findlay, Ohio, has been designated a "dreamtown" by Demographics Daily, and it has been repeatedly named one of the top 10 "micropolitan" areas (small cities) in the U.S. by Site Selection magazine. Findlay is the only city in Ohio to have been named one of the 100 Best Communities for Young People three consecutive times by America's Promise Alliance, an organization founded by Colin Powell.
