FOOTBALLETTER

Vol. 63, No. 1 // 2022 Ballot Issue // Summer 2021

ON THE COVER

The 2021 College Football Hall of Fame Class was announced in January and features (clockwise from top) former Southern California quarterback Carson Palmer, former Oklahoma head coach Bob Stoops and former Iowa defensive end Andre Tippett. Both the 2020 and 2021 Hall of Fame Classes will be inducted during the 63rd NFF Annual Awards Dinner on Dec. 7 at the ARIA Resort & Casino Las Vegas. Look inside this Footballetter for the candidates for the 2022 Class and vote for your top selections.

CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

FROM ARCHIE MANNING

Dear Members and College Football Friends:

The college football community just concluded the most challenging football season in our lifetimes. From coast-to-coast, football stands at the center of campus life, and our great game continues to play a pivotal role as our country begins to return to normal.

With that, we welcome you to the National Football Foundation's 2022 College Football Hall of Fame Ballot. Induction into the College Football Hall of Fame represents the pinnacle of achievement in our sport, and the Hall of Fame serves as the centerpiece of the NFF's efforts to inspire future generations to greatness. We are proud to solicit your vote as part of the selection process. Your passion and insights play an important role in helping us determine who will join this elite fraternity, and we truly appreciate your participation in this revered tradition, which stretches back to 1951.

The link to the online voting system can be found throughout this issue. Please email membership@footballfoundation.com if you have questions. You have until Friday, June 25, to vote.

As you peruse the ballot, please keep in mind that of the 5.47 million who have played college football since the first game on Nov. 6, 1869, only 1,038 players and 223 coaches have been inducted. In other words, including the members of the 2020 and 2021 Classes who will officially join the Hall of Fame in December, less than two one-hundredths of a percent (.02%) of those who have participated can call themselves a College Football Hall of Famer.

We employ a rigorous set of objective standards to identify only the most worthy candidates, and the criteria limits us to a pool of approximately 1,500 First Team All-Americans. A district screening system further culls the list to the names you find on the ballot. As you can see, just being on the ballot is a huge honor, and all of the names seen here rank among the greatest players to ever set foot on the collegiate gridiron. The membership vote plays an important role, providing key insights to the NFF Honors Court, which makes the final decision on the inductees. So, please cast your vote by June 25.

The announcement of the 2022 College Football Hall of Fame Class will be made in early 2022, with specific details to be announced in the future. The Class will be officially inducted during the 64th NFF Annual Awards Dinner on Dec. 6, 2022, and permanently immortalized at the Chick-fil-A College Football Hall of Fame in Atlanta. They will also be honored at their respective schools with an NFF Hall of Fame On-Campus Salute, presented by Fidelity Investments, during the 2022 season.

Thank you for voting in this very special tradition and submitting your College Football Hall of Fame ballot. Again, please be sure to cast your vote by Friday, June 25.

Kind regards,

Archie Manning

Chairman of the Board

1989 College Football Hall of Fame Inductee
