"25 is a beast. A beast. And he (Mfiondu Kabengele) is from the old school. He ain't from the new school. And praise God he ain't listening to anybody and praise God he doesn't get caught up in all that minutiae on Twitter and all that. Because he is old school. I told him after the game, 'If you stay this way, you are going to make as much as you ever want to make. If you stay and do what you do.'"

FLORIDA STATE TRAVELS TO PLAY SAINT LOUIS IN METRO BY T-MOBILE ORANGE BOWL CLASSIC

No 11/12 Florida State, which has won five consecutive games, travels to play Saint Louis in the 2018 Metro by T-Mobile Orange Bowl Classic on Saturday, December 22, 2018 at the BB&T Center in Sunrise, Fla. The Seminoles' appearance in the Orange Bowl Classic marks the seventh consecutive season they have played in the event. Florida State arrives at the Orange Bowl Classic ranked No. 11 in the latest Associated Press poll and No. 12 in the USA Today Coaches poll. The Seminoles are ranked in the nation's top 11 in the AP poll for the third consecutive week and in the top 12 of the coaches poll, also, for the third consecutive week. Florida State has won five consecutive games twice this season and began their current winning streak with a 73-72 win over No. 19/21 Purdue in the ACC / Big Ten Challenge in Tallahassee on November 23.

FLORIDA STATE VS. SAINT LOUIS – A SERIES HISTORY

Florida State will face Saint Louis in the Metro by T-Mobile Orange Bowl Classic on December 22, 2018 at the BB&T Center in Sunrise, Fla. It marks the seventh consecutive season, eighth time under Head Coach Leonard Hamilton and ninth time in their history the Seminoles will play in the Orange Bowl Classic. Florida State holds an 11-1 series advantage and has won four consecutive games against the Billikens. The series began on January 4, 1972 – when the Seminoles took a 63-62 win over St. Louis in the championship game of the Senior Bowl Tournament. It was the same season – just two months later -- that Florida State played UCLA in the championship game of the 1972 NCAA Tournament. Florida State and St. Louis played as members of the Metro Conference from the 1976 season through the 1982 season when the Billikens left the conference to join the Mid Continent Conference. Florida State left the Metro for the ACC in 1991. The Seminoles were 10-1 against St. Louis while members of the Metro, with their only loss coming by one point on Feb. 4, 1980. Travis Ford is in his third season as the Billikens' Head Coach. He, as did Florida State's Leonard Hamilton, coached at Oklahoma State – Hamilton from 1987-90 and Ford from 2008-16. Hamilton and Ford also have the University of Kentucky in common – Hamilton was an assistant coach from 1974-86 and Ford was a player for the Wildcats (1992-94). Ford has faced Hamilton and Florida State twice and is 1-1 (while the head coach at UMass) against the Seminoles. Dante Milligan, a graduate manager at St. Louis, scored 10 points in 18 minutes played in Florida State's 73-63 win over UMass in 20006.

FLORIDA STATE'S HISTORY IN THE ORANGE BOWL CLASSIC

No. 11 Florida State owns a 7-2 record in nine previous Orange Bowl Classic appearances and enters the 2018 Classic having won seven of their last eight games with victories over Nebraska (in 2005), Western Kentucky (in 2008), Tulsa (in 2012), UMass (in 2013), USF (in 2014), Florida Atlantic (in 2016) and Manhattan (in 2017).

2 Florida State shot .506 percent from the field in its victory over North Florida on Wednesday night in Tallahassee marking the second consecutive game the Seminoles have made more than half of their field goal attempts. The Seminoles are shooting .505 percent (71 of 141) from the field in the last two games.

2.7 Florida State outscored North Florida by a 64-30 margin in points in the paint in its 95-81 win over the Ospreys on Wednesday night. The Seminoles have outscored their last two opponents in the paint by a near 3:1 margin (112-42).

4 Senior Terance Mann, who surpassed the 1,000 career point mark against UConn on December 8, scored 17 points in the Seminoles' win over North Florida. It marked the fourth time this season he has scored at least 15 points.

4 Redshirt sophomore Mfiondu Kabengele has scored at least 15 points four times this season after scoring 15 or more points only twice last season.

7 Junior Trent Forrest totaled seven assists against zero turnovers in Florida State's victory over North Florida – the highest assists total without committing a turnover in the same game in his career.

8 Redshirt sophomore Mfiondu Kabengele leads the Seminoles with a career-high 12.4 points per game scoring average. He has scored in double figures a team-leading eight games despite not starting a single game of the Seminoles this season.

10 Florida State is undefeated, 10-0, when it outscores its opponent.

10 Florida State is 10-1 in the last two seasons when scoring at least 90 points. The Seminoles have wins over Canisius (93-61) and North Florida (95-81) this season when they have scored 90 or more points.

11 Senior Christ Koumadje has been perfect from the field in the last two games – he has made each of his last 11 field goal attempts.

18 Senior Christ Koumadje blocked three shots in the Seminoles' victory over North Florida – the 18th time in his career that he has blocked at least three shots in a game.

24 Redshirt sophomore Mfiondu Kabengele outperformed North Florida's entire bench on Monday as he scored 24 points off of the bench and the Osprey's earned 21 points total from their bench players.

FLORIDA STATE FROM THE FREE THROW LINE

FLORIDA STATE BOOM SQUAD RETURNS

Florida State's wildly popular Boom Squad (the players coming off of the bench in the rotation) is quickly gaining steam as one of the most potent parts of Florida State's offense. The term "Boom Squad" was begun by the Seminoles' bench bunch during the 2016-17 season for those coming off of the bench and not allowing the sense of urgency and energy to fall even a little as Head Coach Leonard Hamilton continues to coach his team to "win by committee". The Boom Squad 2.0 was evident most recently as Wednesday night in Tallahassee as the Seminoles' bench bunch outscored North Florida's bench bunch by a 40-21 margin. Florida State's bench scored a season-high of 51 points in its 93-51 win over Canisius (November 19).

FLORIDA STATE GOING TO THE OFFENSIVE GLASS

Florida State has earned double figures in offensive rebounds in each of its last four games and in eight of its first 11 games of the season. The Seminoles have won the second chance point battle in nine of their first 11 games – losing the margin to only Florida (but winning the game by an 81-60 score) and finishing tied with Purdue (but winning the game by a 73-72 score).

A HOMECOMING FOR GRAY, POLITE AND HANDS

Florida State's game against Saint Louis in Sunrise, Fla. is a homecoming for three Seminoles. Redshirt freshmen RaiQuan Gray (Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.), Anthony Polite (West Palm Beach, Fla.) as well as freshman Ty Hands (Palm Beach Lakes, Fla.), all call South Florida home.

SAVOY PLAYS INSIDE OF THE 3-POINT LINE AGAINST NORTH FLORIDA

Senior PJ Savoy scored 11 points the hard way (for him) in the Seminoles' victory over North Florida. Generally comfortable from outside the 3-point line (he is tied for 19th in school history with 108 career 3-point field goals made) he showed his versatility against the Ospreys as he made four of his five field goals in the game from the 2-point range. Savoy has made 132 field goals as a Seminole – 108 from outside of the arc and 24 from inside of the arc.

KABENGELE'S POINTS PER MINUTE SCORING

Redshirt sophomore Mfiondu Kabengele scored 24 points in 19 minutes played in the Seminoles' 95-81 win over North Florida on Monday night in Tallahassee for a 1.3 points per minutes average against the Ospreys. An extremely high points scores per minutes played average is simply part of Kabengele's ever-growing repertoire on the basketball court. For the season, he has scored 136 points in 204 minutes played (0.7 ppm) and for his career he has scored 381 points in 747 minutes (0.5 ppm).

"They (Florida State) bend's a little but they didn't break."

Phil Cunningham
Troy Basketball

"While most eyes were focused on the action in Indianapolis last Tuesday, the Seminoles lit up what is expected to be a good Florida team, a Florida team that returns several key pieces from last season's NCAA tournament 6-seed. And Florida State handled the Gators with ease. The Seminoles then went to Tulane in a true road game and beat the Green Wave by 11. The big early difference between this season's Seminoles and the past few iterations (even the one that reached the Elite Eight last season) has been perimeter shooting. PJ Savoy hit eight in two games, while MJ Walker also buried three 3s. Savoy is seeing a starting role after coming off the bench the last two seasons, and Walker -- a former five-star recruit -- will be a difference-maker."

Jeff Borzello

"The beauty of a Leonard Hamilton team is that no player has to be the lone go-to guy. Terance Mann is one of many who can make major contributions without the pressure of always having to deliver. Mann's versatility will come in handy on a team that is loaded with options."

Leonard Hamilton's Emphasis On Academics Leads To FSU's impressive Graduate Rate

By Curt Weiler

Tallahassee Democrat

December 12, 2018

In a college basketball world that concerns itself with the next level and advancing ahead with the opportunity to play professionally, academics can often be pushed to the side.

The addition of the one-and-done rule in 2005 -- which required all draft-eligible players to be 19 and one year removed from high school -- unintentionally furthered the notion among these players that school is secondary to basketball.

All of this makes the hit rate with which Florida State men's basketball coach Leonard Hamilton has seen his players graduate across his tenure in Tallahassee all the more impressive.

Since Hamilton took the FSU job ahead of the 2002-03 season, 61 of the 63 players (96.8 percent) that have enrolled and played for the Seminoles for at least four seasons left with their degrees.

The only two that didn't, former FSU players Al Thornton (2003-2007) and Solomon Alabi (2007-2010), have both reached out to FSU about finishing their degrees with online coursework as their playing careers wind down.

While this may seem impressive to many, Hamilton just views it as an expectation of someone in his position.

"It's part of our responsibility to take young men when they're teenagers and usher them into young adulthood," Hamilton told the Tallahassee Democrat.

"When you're a teenager, 17 or 18 years old, sometimes you're not in a position to make worldly decisions even though you might think that you are. I think that what we have always done is just set certain boundaries and certain expectations, try to hold everybody accountable to the things that we believe are important in the overall development of a young man, not as a basketball player but as an individual.

"What we've always tried to do is just treat everything like we would treat it if it was our own children. That's the way we look at it and so everything that we do totally in our program -- not only in academics but in everything that we do -- we try to treat it as such."

This is a belief that traces back to Hamilton's time as an assistant coach at Kentucky, where he won a national championship in 1978.

"That was part of my responsibility as a young assistant coach at the University of Kentucky for 12 years to make sure that I stay on top of the kids' academically," Hamilton said.

"I was at an institution that really placed a lot of emphasis on making sure that the kids not only played well, but they graduated."

With all the success the No. 10 Seminoles (8-1) have found early this season -- making the program's earliest appearance in the Top 10 since 1992 -- Hamilton sees the bigger picture when reflecting on his success at FSU.

"We truly believe that when you look around in my office and you see all those NCAA rings and watches and memorabilia, trophies, coach of the year awards, if that's where you place all the emphasis -- the fact that we have won a certain number of basketball games -- then I think we're very shallow in the big picture," Hamilton said.

"The most important thing we do is take young men and try to be a part during this period of life when you're taking them from teenagers to young adults. That is by far the most important thing we do as coaches.

"Now, there's no question that we need to win. That's part of the process, that's part of the job. But if we win and fail in the development of young people, in helping them grow in developing the tools that are going to give them a chance to be successful in life, we have failed."

A significant subset of this group of graduates are people who became the first in their direct family to attend or graduate from college.

Hamilton is quite aware of the fact that athletic scholarships could be the only means of some of his players earning college degrees and doesn't take that responsibility lightly.

"A lot of them will be the first people who have gone to college in their families. This is important because they many times change the whole culture of their family by them having academic success that compliments what most people want in athletic success," Hamilton said.

"Our rewards come five, six, seven, eight years after a kid has left us and what are they doing with their lives and their families and their careers. That's when our great report comes in.

"I'm hoping that as a staff when we hang our whistles up and we look ourselves in the mirror, that we will be able to say that we have done everything possible to help the young people that have been a part of our journey to have a place in our society that's meaningful and that they're not only proud of the fact that they represented the school, Florida State, but that we had the kind of relationships that they feel helped them become who they are in the next part of their lives."

Florida State's RaiQuan Gray Gaining Confidence As Game Slows Down

By Wayne McGahee III

Tallahassee Democrat

Dec. 2, 2018

Redshirting is not a common occurrence in major college basketball.

No. 14 Florida State (6-1) had three players -- forwards RaiQuan Gray and Wyatt Wilkes and guard Anthony Polite -- take a redshirt last season knowing that they would struggle to break into the rotation.

Prior to forward Mfiondu Kabengele redshirting the 2016-17 season, FSU hadn't redshirted a player other than for injury in more than a decade.

Of the three players that redshirted in 2017-18, Gray had the longest way to go, but also the most to work with. In addition to making the jump from high school to college, Gray was also well over the weight he should be at to be able to play at the level FSU needs its players to when he arrived.

But his ability to play the game of basketball couldn't be denied.

"RaiQuan has never been lacking on talent," FSU associate head coach Stan Jones told the Tallahassee Democrat.

"His skill set is very diverse and unique with his ability to be a ball handler, a shot maker, a back to the basket guy, a facilitator. He's always had a unique offensive skill set that caught our eye early in the recruiting process."

He went to work immediately to change his body so he could showcase that talent.

He's dropped 40 pounds since he arrived on campus -- he's still listed at 6-foot-8, 260 pounds -- and is in the best shape of his playing career thanks to the work of strength and conditioning coach Mike Bradley and the rest of the FSU staff.

"I feel a lot better," Gray said.

"I feel like I can play longer, jump higher, move faster, guard everybody. That was the main thing really, just losing weight so that I can play defense. I knew on the offensive end that everything was going to take care of itself, but really, the main thing was defense.

"Coach Hamilton prides himself on defense so to be out there on the floor and stay out there longer, you've got to be able to defend."

Gray played his first college game in the Seminoles' season opener against Florida Nov. 6.

It didn't go particularly well for him.

He made one of his three shot attempts with two rebounds and four fouls in 13 minutes.

He didn't get much of an opportunity to play in FSU's second game against Tulane with just six minutes and two points.

But then things started to click for him.

He had four points against Canisius and six points against UAB with three rebounds, two assists, and a steal.

"I think what you've seen the most from him since the season's started is that his confidence is growing, and the game is slowing down for him," Jones said.

"Just by getting game experience. Everyone thinks this is a game where you can just walk on the court and have success. It's a lot of different variables from being a high school player to being a red shirt to being a significant contributor. I think as you see game to game, you see him be less passive and more aggressive as his role's expanded."

FSU has played three straight teams that have been ranked when FSU played them or ranked after and come away with two victories.

Gray played a big role in all three games.

He had eight points, four rebounds, two assists, and a steal in 16 minutes in the Seminoles' 79-76 overtime win over then No. 21 LSU.

Two days later, Gray put up seven points and two assists in 14 minutes during FSU's 66-60 loss to No. 23 Villanova in the AdvoCare Invitational championship game.

Wednesday, Gray had seven points and two rebounds in 14 minutes during FSU's comeback 73-72 victory over No. 18 Purdue.

Those numbers may not look all that special, but for a player that is still adjusting to his new body type and the speed of the college game, they're a start.

"This is a game that you can't gain confidence without experience," Jones said.

"Actually getting into the game and seeing yourself on tape and talking to your teammates and reviewing your film after the game. (Gray) is an instinctive basketball player. You can see from game to game that the light's getting brighter for him and his confidence is growing exponentially every game."

Gray isn't happy with making a small impact this season.

He wants to be a major contributor as the Seminoles' look to make another deep run in the NCAA tournament after making it to the Elite Eight last season.

"I really have high expectations for myself," Gray said.

"As the year goes on I just want to gain more confidence and be able to be out there in the big games where it matters the most. So I just see myself getting better as the season goes on. More rebounds, more assists, more points. I feel like as long as we keep winning everything will take care of itself. I want to make the ACC All-Freshman team."

There's no denying that Gray has the talent to do that this season as long as he continues to develop.

He moves very well for a player his size and can play inside or outside on the offensive end comfortably.

It's going to come down to his ability to play deeper into games and develop defensively to become the player the coaches believe he can be.

"I've always compared him to a poor man's Mark Aguirre or Clarence Weatherspoon," Jones said.

"He's not as explosive as Charles Barkley, but a guy that can be so versatile offensively with a unique body type that makes him very hard to guard. He can run and jump, but he also has a low center of gravity. He has a wide hip and shoulder base, which allows him to create space on pivots and post ups and rebound opportunities.

"I don't see why he can't develop into a player that's going to contribute here significantly throughout his whole career."

Anthony Polite Takes Different Path To Same Destination As His Father

By Curt Weiler
Tallahassee Democrat
December 7, 2018

Despite the garnet and gold in his gene pool, Anthony Polite didn't grow up around Florida State.

In fact, the Florida State legacy spent the first 15 years of his life on a different continent.

Polite was born in Lugano, Switzerland while his father Michael was playing basketball abroad.

That didn't stop him from following in his father's footsteps and ending up at FSU as well.

"It has been a part of his life from when he was a very small kid," Michael Polite told the Tallahassee Democrat.

"I'd bring my bag home with the ball in there. Him, as a child, rolling it around the house, his mom allowing him to play with the ball and him becoming familiar with that round ball and having a love for it kind of snowballs."

Michael played at FSU from 1987 through 1991. He finished his career with 1,066 points and was on teams that made the NCAA Tournament in three of his four seasons with the Seminoles.

"He has the benefit of a father who really knew something about basketball. That speaks for itself," FSU head coach Leonard Hamilton said.

After his time in Tallahassee, he went onto have a 10-year career in Europe. It was during this time that Michael's wife Maddalena gave birth to Anthony.

Even after Michael's time as a professional player ended, the Polites stayed in Switzerland.

Polite bounced back and forth between basketball and soccer before locking in on wanting to seriously play basketball when he was 12.

"He's been a student of the game," Michael said.

"He knows the history of where I started, from my high school and then obviously playing college ball and then seeing me play professionally, wanting to follow in his dad's footsteps."

A few years and a move to a different area in Switzerland later, Anthony decided he wanted to play high school basketball in the United States.

He moved to Boca Raton and enrolled at St. Andrew's School as a freshman at 15 while his mother stayed back in Switzerland, where she remains to this day.

"His mom has really been supportive of him liking the game and him actually wanting to follow in his dad's footsteps," Michael said.

Added Anthony, "I always looked up to my dad and my mom. They always wanted the best for me. My dream was always to come play college basketball.

"Once I came over here and I moved to the states, (FSU) was definitely one of my top choices."

After a prolific playing career which saw him named the 2017 Palm Beach Player of the Year as a senior, Polite chose FSU over Miami and Memphis, among others.

While his connection to FSU seemed clear on paper, Michael is adamant that his career had little impact on his son's decision to pursue basketball and to do so at FSU.

"I never really pushed him in the direction that he has to do what his dad did. He just had a love for the game and was a student of the game," Michael said.

"Growing up in Switzerland, his mom being supportive of him being a basketball player, he just followed some of the better players, better leagues and the competition in terms of college basketball as well. He decided to come here and play college basketball here and he learned the game from this perspective being here in the U.S. and just studied the collegiate game as well.

"He took a visit to Florida State and fell in love with the program in terms of how coach Hamilton runs his program, the guys showing a lot of love towards him as a player and he made his decision. It was nothing that I forced on him. It was something that he studied and decided to come play for Florida State."

While Anthony played his entire high school career in the U.S., Hamilton sees aspects of his game that developed from his time playing abroad.

"He brings that European system where I think they spend a lot of time with youngsters earlier in life fundamentally. He seems to be pretty sound when he dribbles left, dribbles right, he has good shooting form," Hamilton said.

Michael added, "Growing up in Europe, he has that European style, he has that style of play. Then, obviously, coming over to the U.S., playing high school ball, playing on the AAU circuit, he's done a tremendous job of transitioning his game from learning how to play the game and the fundamentals over in Europe and then picking up the style of play here."

After battling tendinitis in both of his knees last year while redshirting, Polite has earned his first significant playing time this season.

Averaging 14.3 minutes, Polite is seeing the most playing time out of the Seminoles' four true or redshirt freshmen.

"I'm not surprised. I've seen Anthony put in a lot of work in his first two years," FSU point guard Trent Forrest said.

"I knew he was going to be a pretty good player defensively and he was always able to shoot the ball. I feel like he's just gaining his confidence."

His intensity and ability to operate the Junkyard Dog defense Hamilton wants to see is one of the main things to which this can be attributed.

"I like him being in a stance, I like the pressure he's putting on the ball," Hamilton said.

"I envision him as some point being a good defender, a guy who can pick up the point guard for us and a guy also who can knock down jump shots."

Added Anthony, "I know I'm a good defender so that's what I do. If my shot's not falling, I have to find something else that I can produce in and that's defense, steals, rebounds, finding someone else."

All of this has Hamilton excited about the legacy Anthony may leave behind in his own right at FSU.

"The fact that he has the potential he's developed, he has the energy and the quickness and speed and the strength to defend. I think he's obviously a pretty good shooter, pretty good dribbler," Hamilton said.

"I do think that you can see the future is very bright for him and for us."

Exhibition 1 -- Florida State 96, West Florida 56

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. -- As basketball season officially tipped-off in Tallahassee, Florida State breezed past West Florida 96-56 in its first exhibition of the year. The Seminoles wasted little time jumping out to a big lead over the visiting Argonauts and led 11-3 with 16:34 left in the first half after a PJ Savoy triple. A pair Christ Koumadje free throws built the Florida State lead to double digits at 25-12 with 9:30 left in the half. Koumadje had a strong game and finished the night with 20 points, eight rebounds, and four blocks as his size was far too much for the Argonauts to handle inside. Trent Forrest had a big night driving to the rim, using his trademarked ability to finish through contact to extend the lead to 28-16 with 8:01 left in the half. The Seminoles got into transition all contest with 28 points off turnovers during the game. A Devin Vassell steal and lay-in gave FSU a 33-16 lead with 6:30 left in the half. Against West Florida, FSU forced 19 turnovers with eight steals and five blocks.

Exhibition 2 -- Florida State 99, Valdosta State 77

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. -- Florida State defeated Valdosta State, 99-77, in its second and final exhibition game to open the 2018-19 season. Redshirt freshman RaiQuan Gray scored the first seven points of the game for the Seminoles on a pair of smooth driving lay-ins and a three-point bomb from the wing. A quick 7-0 run gave FSU a 21-13 lead at the 12:06 mark after a short jumper from freshman Devin Vassell. Later in the half an 8-0 run, spurred by strong defense and attacking the basket, gave the Seminoles a 29-16 lead with 9:22 left. Trent Forrest's driving and-one lay-up capped the run for Florida State. On the night, the Seminoles scored 64 points in the paint. A Christ Koumadje dunk with 2:26 left before the break gave FSU its largest lead of the half at 45-26 and the Seminoles went into the locker room at halftime leading 47-35. The Seminoles shot 62 percent from the floor (40-65) on the night, including 7 of 16 from beyond the arc. Forrest led FSU with 15 points, six rebounds, and five assists in the win.

Game 2 -- Florida State 80, Tulane 69

NEW ORLEANS, La. -- Terance Mann scored 21 points and 10 rebounds, PJ Savoy added 11 points and No. 17 Florida State wore down a feisty and apparently improved Tulane squad, 80-69 in Tulane's cozy Devlin Fieldhouse. Tulane was buoyed by the debut of freshman Kevin Zhang, who had 24 points, including 10 during a second-half surge that briefly pulled the Green Wave as close as 62-56. Christ Koumadje's dunk sparked a 10-0 Seminoles run that included layups by Mann and Trent Forrest, and FSU maintained a double-digit lead for most of the final seven minutes. Trent Forrest finished with 13 points and Mfiondu Kabengele scored 12 for Florida State (2-0), which shot 48.3 percent (29 of 60). Samir Sehic scored 19 points for Tulane (0-1), but took only four shots in the second half and missed all of them.

Game 4 -- Florida State 81, UAB 63

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. -- Bolstered by a 5-for-5 night from the field and a 6-of-7 effort at the free-throw line, guard Terance Mann scored a game-high 17 points to lead Florida State past UAB, 81-63, to earn a spot in the semifinals of the AdvoCare Invitational. The Seminoles relied upon their signature stingy defense to blow past the Blazers, holding UAB to 19 of 58 from the field (33 percent) and 2-14 (14 percent) from the 3-point line. Both marks were a season-bests for the Seminoles, and their two 3-point shots allowed were the least by an FSU team since Fordham made just one on Nov. 17, 2018. After a slow start that saw scoreless basketball for the first 2:30, FSU senior PJ Savoy found his stride, connecting on back-to-back 3-point baskets to earn the game's first points. With the game tied 8-8 five minutes into the first half, senior Christ Koumadje catapulted an 11-1 run that held UAB without a field goal for 6:18. Off an inbound lob, Koumadje threw down a heavy dunk that put the Noles up 14-11. A few possessions later, he had yet another slam that extended the lead to five. Koumadje used his size and strength to dominate the paint all night. He finished with 12 points, a career-high tying nine rebounds and three blocks. His three blocks put him at 100 blocks for his career. Florida State ran through the first half off of a balanced scoring attack that saw nine different Seminoles score at least one basket. Fresh off a 10-point showing against Canisius, freshman Devin Vassell hit a corner 3-point shot to put FSU up 27-15 at the 7:01 mark.

Game 5 -- Florida State 79, LSU 76 (OT)

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. -- Mfiondu Kabengele hit a deep 3-point jumper with a half-second left in overtime, and No. 14 Florida State advanced to the AdvoCare Invitational championship game with a 79-76 win over No. 19 LSU Tremont Waters made three free throws to pull LSU even at 76 with 11.5 seconds to go in overtime before Kabengele's shot bounced off the rim and into the basket. "It just dropped right in and I was in shock," said Kabengele. "I'm just happy it went in." After trailing by nine, Florida State forced overtime when Trent Forrest tied it at 68-68 on a layup with 2.8 seconds left. Naz Reid's 3-pointer at the buzzer hit off the rim for LSU, who got 19 points from Skylar Mays. Reid hit a 3 and Emmitt Williams had a fast-break dunk as LSU went up 59-52 with 7 1/2 minutes left. Reid, slowed recently by an ankle injury, scored 12 points in 41 minutes. M.J. Walker had 13 of his game-high 21 points during the first half as Florida State took a 30-29 lead at the break.

Game 7 -- Florida State 73, Purdue 72

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. -- Trent Forrest didn't have a point, rebound or assist in the second half. Not until the game was on the line and he made all the plays Florida State needed.

Forrest forced a turnover with 16 seconds left and, after a timeout, drove the lane to hit a pull-up jumper with 5.2 seconds remaining as the No. 15 Seminoles stormed back to beat No. 19 Purdue 73-72. The junior point guard also had a steal in the final seconds to wrap up the win. The plays were part of a critical sequence as the Seminoles held on after Purdue led by eight points with 3:43 left. Purdue didn't score after holding that 72-65 lead. That included a pair of missed free-throw attempts by Carsen Edwards, who led the Boilermakers with 24 points on 7 of 19 shooting. Ryan Cline added 21 points, including four 3-pointers after halftime, for Purdue. Cline made 7 of 11 3-pointers as Purdue rallied from a 16-point deficit late in the first half. Edwards gave Purdue the lead again, 52-51, on a 3-pointer with 13:37 to go. The Boilermakers held the lead up until Forrest's shot in the final seconds. M.J. Walker scored 13 points to lead the Seminoles. Forest, Terance Mann, P.J. Savoy and David Nichols had nine points apiece. Mann led Florida State with eight rebounds.
