On what Florida did to boggle you up offensively...

"The biggest thing is that they executed and they played harder. They wanted it more, their intensity was ramped up, the crowd started getting into it and they just started feeding off their energy and that's what kind of propelled them to the victory. We have to give credit to Florida, they were a tough team, they were the team that clearly wanted the game way more, they had way more pride than us and that's what helped them pull the win out. Their intensity and their attention to detail were key."

On what the young guys can take away from this game...

"I would say that the biggest teacher is that the guys know what it takes win on the road. They know how hard it is to win on the road, they know what the environment is like, and they know what type of level they have to play at. This is one of the bigger games of our season, especially on the road. Playing Florida and just having this kind of rivalry in this hostile environment, that is the biggest take away... Knowing what it takes to win on the road, knowing what it takes to compete on the road and knowing that we are no longer the hunters, but we are the hunted. People are going to come at us again and again and again, that was the biggest teaching."
