It does not take long for a conversation about the highest levels of success in the basketball world to turn to the name Krzyzewski. In 41 seasons at Duke, Mike Krzyzewski - a Naismith Hall of Fame coach, five-time national champion and 12-time Final Four participant - has built a dynasty that few programs in the history of the game can match.

No coach in Division I men's basketball history has won more games than Coach K's 1,184.

Announcing his retirement in June ahead of his 42nd season at Duke, and 47th overall as a head coach at both Duke and Army West Point, Krzyzewski owns an 1,184-363 record as a head coach, including a 1,111-304 mark at Duke.

The numbers that illustrate Coach K's career are simply staggering:

- Five national championships (1991, 1992, 2001, 2010, 2015)
- Six gold medals as head coach of the U.S. Men's National Team
- Nine National Players of the Year (11 honors)
- Six National Defensive Players of the Year (nine honors)
- 10 consecutive top-10 AP poll finishes (1997-06)
- 12 National Coach of the Year honors (eight seasons)
- 12 Final Four appearances (tied for most in NCAA history)
- 12 ACC regular season championships
- 15 ACC Tournament championships (most in league history)
- 28 NBA Lottery picks (most in Draft history)
- 35 NCAA Tournament bids (most by one coach)
- 37 All-America selections (51 honors)
- 67 ACC Tournament wins (most in league history)
- 68 NBA Draft selections, including 42 first-round picks
- 97 NCAA Tournament wins (most in NCAA history)
- 127 weeks ranked No. 1 in the AP poll (most by a coach in poll history)
- 521 ACC wins (most in league history)
- 567 weeks ranked in the top 10 of the AP poll (most by a coach in poll history)
- 670 weeks ranked in the AP poll (most by a coach in poll history)
- 1,111 victories at Duke (most in NCAA history at one school)
- 1,184 career wins (most in NCAA history)

Coach K became the Division I men's career wins leader on Nov. 15, 2011, at Madison Square Garden, moving past his former coach Bob Knight with his 903rd victory. His historic 1,000th career victory came against St. John's at The World's Most Famous Arena on Jan. 25, 2015, as he became the first Division I men's basketball coach to achieve a four-figure win total.

Krzyzewski's 1,111 victories at Duke are an NCAA record by a coach at one school. With 1,111 of the Blue Devils' 2,228 all-time victories, Coach K has presided over nearly half (49.6 percent) of the men's basketball wins in Duke history.

Krzyzewski has won a league-record 521 ACC games (regular season and tournament), passing former North Carolina head coach Dean Smith (422) on Feb. 4, 2015. He has also won an ACC-record 193 conference road games.

Coach K's five national championships are the second-most in NCAA history. Krzyzewski and former Connecticut coach Jim Calhoun are the only coaches in NCAA history to win national championships in three different decades.

Coach K has led the Blue Devils into the NCAA Tournament 35 times - more than any other coach in history. His streak of guiding Duke to 24 consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances from 1996 to 2019 ranked as the longest streak in NCAA history, surpassing Dean Smith's 23 consecutive appearances from 1975 to 1997.

Krzyzewski holds NCAA Tournament records for games coached (127) and wins (97) while ranking second all-time and leading active coaches with a .764 NCAA Tournament winning percentage (min. 20 games). He has reached the Sweet 16 on 25 occasions, six more than any other coach in NCAA history, and has advanced to the Elite Eight 16 times.

Of the 1,4145 games Krzyzewski has coached at Duke, 1,254 - 88.5 percent - have been as a ranked team. The Blue Devils are 1,021-233 (.814) as a ranked team under Coach K.

Coach K has taken top-ranked Duke teams into games on 255 occasions and compiled a 219-36 (.859) record as the AP's No. 1 team, ranking first in poll history in both number of games and wins as coach of a top-ranked squad.

Krzyzewski has tutored 68 NBA Draft picks during his time at Duke, including a total of 42 first-round selections that leads all active coaches. Duke has had at least one player taken in 34 of the 41 NBA Drafts during the Krzyzewski Era.

Since the inception of the NBA Draft Lottery in 1985, Coach K and Duke have produced 28 lottery picks - a draft-record total for both a school and a coach.

Through the 2020-21 season, Coach K's former Duke players have accumulated more than $2.5 billion in NBA contracts. Lottery selections who played for Krzyzewski at Duke have combined to earn more than $2 billion in contracts, an average of nearly $70 million per individual.

Under Coach K's watch, Duke has produced multiple All-ACC Academic selections in 12 of the last 13 years. The 2015 NCAA championship team featured a program-high five All-ACC Academic honorees. Quin Snyder, Amile Jefferson and Grayson Allen are the only players in Duke history to earn All-ACC Academic honors four times. Jefferson, a three-time captain, departed the university in 2017 with both bachelor's and master's degrees.

Krzyzewski has had six players collect a total of nine CoSIDA Academic All-America honors, headlined by two-time first-team honorees Battier (2000, 2001) and Mason Plumlee (2012, 2013). Allen became the sixth in 2016 when he garnered second-team accolades.

Fittingly, Coach K has earned nearly every award imaginable. The crown jewel of that haul, however, came in 2001 when he was inducted into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame.

Since his enshrinement in Springfield, Mass., Krzyzewski has also been inducted into the Army Sports Hall of Fame (2009), the Chicagoland Sports Hall of Fame (2010) and the Duke Athletics Hall of Fame (2011).

While establishing Duke as one of college basketball's dynastic programs, Krzyzewski simultaneously spent more than a decade as one of the architects of the revitalization of USA Basketball. During his tenure at the helm of the program, the U.S. National Team amassed an extraordinary 88-1 record and claimed gold medals at the 2007 FIBA Americas Championship, 2008 Beijing Olympics, 2010 FIBA World Championship, 2012 London Olympics, 2014 FIBA World Cup and 2016 Rio Olympics, as well as a bronze medal at the 2006 FIBA World Championship.

Coach K was 24-0 in the Olympics as head coach of the USMNT and his time at the helm ended with the team in the midst of a National Team-record 76-game winning streak that began in 2006.

Sustained success under Coach K has resulted in coaching opportunities for several of his former players, as well as his former assistant coaches from both Duke and Army. More than 25 of Coach K's former players or assistants are currently either coaching or working in front office roles across professional and college basketball.

The Coaching Tree

Ten of Coach K's former players or staff are currently Division I head coaches: Tommy Amaker (Harvard), Kenneth Blakeney (Howard), Mike Brey (Notre Dame), Jeff Capel (Pittsburgh), Chris Collins (Northwestern), Johnny Dawkins (Central Florida), Bobby Hurley (Arizona State), Nate James (Austin Peay), Greg Paulus (Niagara) and Mike Schrage (Elon). James assumed the Austin Peay position following the 2020-21 season.

Quin Snyder is currently the head coach of the NBA's Utah Jazz, headlining a long list of former players, staff and managers that are connected to the NBA. That list also includes Grant Hill as part-owner of the Atlanta Hawks, Elton Brand as general manager of the Philadelphia 76ers, Trajan Langdon as general manager of the New Orleans Pelicans and Shane Battier as vice president of analytics and development for the Miami Heat.

Krzyzewski has shown a firm commitment to taking care of his own, having at least three former Duke captains on his staff every season since 1996-97. The Blue Devils have won three NCAA titles, 12 ACC Tournament championships and eight ACC regular season crowns during that time.

The 2020-21 staff of Jon Scheyer, Chris Carrawell and Nolan Smith all held the captain role during their playing careers at Duke.

Giving Back

Krzyzewski has been diligently committed to public service, both locally and nationally, throughout his coaching career. He is currently serving on boards for, while also assuming vital roles with, the Duke Children's Hospital, the Jimmy V Foundation for Cancer Research, the NABC Foundation, the CEO Roundtable on Cancer and the Emily Krzyzewski Center.

Coach K's philanthropic activities also include the establishment and funding of the Emily Krzyzewski Center, a community center in Durham named in honor of his late mother. The Center's mission is to inspire economically disadvantaged students to dream big, act with character and purpose, strive for academic excellence and reach their highest potential as future citizen leaders.

In May 2018, Coach K and his wife Mickie announced their single-largest philanthropic gift, a $3 million donation to the Emily K Center to kick start a $15 million fundraising campaign for the Durham-based Center. That campaign concluded on December 31, 2020 and raised $18.85 million to exceed the goal.

Williams' 'tremendous' performance against NC State again proves he'll deliver when Duke needs him

By Brendan Marks, The Athletic (January 15, 2022)

The Athletic

DURHAM, N.C. – It's some 38 minutes before tipoff, and Mark Williams is rocking. Literally.

Perhaps it's Lil Tecca and Gunna's "Repeat It," blaring over the Cameron Indoor intercom system, that has him in such a good mood. (The song does, as the kids say, slap.) Perhaps it's Duke's impending matchup against NC State, a game in which Williams knows he'll be heavily showcased. But whatever the reason, here Williams is – on the baseline, directly underneath the net nearest the visiting bench – shifting from the balls of his feet to his heels and back again. If all that didn't already say as much, the way he's bobbing his head to the beat confirms it: Yes, the vibes here are very good.

And shouldn't they be? After thoroughly undressing Wake Forest on Wednesday – on the road, without Coach K, no less – Duke suddenly looks like the Death Star version of itself from back in November, when it beat Kentucky and Gonzaga on its way to the nation's No. 1 ranking. If anything, the Blue Devils are even better off now, given the sudden emergence of former five-star recruit A.J. Griffin. But as the program is getting back to its winning ways, much of the fascination has centered on ... well, anyone but its starting center.

Some of that makes sense, considering Duke's other four starters are all projected first-round NBA draft picks in their own right. Here's the thing, though: So is Williams, and for good reason. (For those counting at home, John Calipari's 2010 Kentucky team remains the only one in college basketball history to produce five first-rounders in the same draft ... for now.) Though Williams had scored in single figures in five of Duke's previous eight games, when the Blue Devils have needed him most this season – see: limiting national player of the year candidates Oscar Tshiebwe and Drew Timme – Big Fella always comes through.

It was no different Saturday, as Williams exploited the Manny Bates-sized hole in NC State's starting lineup. (Bates has missed basically the entire season because of a shoulder injury that required surgery.) To steal a line from longtime ACC scribe Brett Friedlander, the Wolfpack are a donut right now, with a giant hole smack dab in the middle. There is a reason, after all, that Kevin Keatts' club cedes 37.5 points in the paint per game and nine times has allowed more than 40 such points. Everyone in the ACC knows this, including Williams and Duke's coaching staff, and attacks it accordingly. Duke was no different, using its season-high 58 points in the paint to roll to an 88-73 win.

That pregame scene with Williams, though, almost proved prescient. The chorus to "Repeat It," Williams' pregame jam? Stayin' up, I get no rest, rest, rest, rest. And though, yes, the musical stylings of Lil Tecca and Gunna likely meant those lyrics in a different sense, they were absolutely applicable to Williams' play against the Wolfpack. The 7-foot-1 center frequently stayed up in the air, blocking NC State's layup attempts, and no, having played nearly 26 minutes, he did not receive much rest. Then again, he didn't need it – not when you're enjoying the success Williams did Saturday. His final stat line: 19 points, a season high; 11 rebounds, more of them offensive (six) than defensive; and eight blocks, a career high and the third most ever by a Blue Devil. In Duke shot-blocking lore, you know you've had a night when "The Landlord" himself tweets: "Love it!!!!" (That Williams had twice as many blocks as Shelden Williams used exclamation points – and that's a lot of exclamation points – is one hell of a cosmic coincidence.)

"He was tremendous," Keatts said of Williams. "I thought he was the difference in the game."

It was evident early – like, second-offensive-possession-of-the-game early – that Williams was, indeed, going to be quite active. He scored Duke's first points, a putback dunk off a missed Paolo Banchero layup, and set the tone for the rest of the afternoon. If it wasn't clear then that Duke would be playing through its big man, it was minutes later. About 3 1/2 minutes into the game, Trevor Keels made an alley-oop pass to Williams that somehow was slightly overthrown. But Williams tracked it, caught it before it went out and – near the same baseline spot where he danced during warmups – threw a backward bounce pass to a streaking Banchero behind him. The dunk that followed was nice, but the dime? Sheesh.

"Mark's actually pretty skilled. He's got a good feel for the game. So it wasn't like he just kind of did it randomly – he knew what he was doing," Banchero said of that play, smirking as he described it. "I knew Mark was gonna save it, and he made a perfect bounce pass right to me. Made it easy on me. Set me right up going to the rim."

Williams had several of his own rim-rattling dunks on the day, including a number of and-1s, but that assist was as impressive as anything he did offensively. Williams knew so, too. When a reporter insinuated after the game that he might have made that bounce blindly, hoping for the best, Williams was quick to correct him. "No, I saw Paolo," he protested, with a gregarious grin. "I didn't want to put too much heat on it where he wouldn't catch it. I mean, I knew he was there. I dropped it off, and he finished it."

Though that might have been Williams' best offensive highlight, frankly, it paled in comparison with his defensive ones. Per KenPom, Williams has the nation's No. 4 individual block percentage, but it's hard to imagine there are three other players in the country doing the sorts of defensive things he is. Williams' program-record 7-foot-7 wingspan makes that possible, but it's his timing that makes it happen. Take his second-half block on Casey Morsell, for example, about 5 1/2 minutes after the break. Duke had already opened the game up by then, leading by 15 at the time, but when Williams slammed Morsell's layup attempt into the floor – like a volleyball spike, but with the "kill" going to NC State's comeback hopes – he all but put a capper on the contest. The Wolfpack rallied multiple times late in the second half to cut the margin to nine, but each of the three times they did so, Duke immediately scored on the subsequent possession to make it a double-digit deficit again.

So, why are those blocks so valuable?

Well, for multiple reasons. The first is, obviously, they prevent an opponent from scoring. Duh. But even more than that, they set a precedent. The next time NC State's players came down the court, do you think they were gleefully driving inside? Heck no. Every time Williams swatted a shot into the stands, it was the physical embodiment of a "Do Not Enter" sign. "Obviously, today it was blocked shots, but other games it might not just be blocked shots," Williams said. "It might be altering a shot, or maybe they don't take it up at all. That sort of thing."

This isn't a high-quality analysis, but keeping points off the scoreboard is good. So, too, is being a disincentive for opposing drives. (It's a bonus when, as Banchero says, Williams blocks a shot inbounds so Duke can get the rebound and run immediately in transition.) But there's another bonus to those vicious swats, something that can wreck an offensive game plan as well as anything:

They're fun as hell. And the Cameron Crazies ... well, they like to celebrate such fun. Say, by busting your eardrums with their collective chanting. It's not too much fun to run offense when you can't hear your coach – or your own thoughts.

"Every block gets the crowd into it," Banchero said. "His is always, like, so emphatic. He cocks back. It's a violent block every single time."

(An aside: After the game, a local columnist suggested that Williams' block on Morsell "had some violence to it," to which Williams replied, "Oh, yeah, for sure." So, he's aware.)

The point is there is no singular benefit to Williams' presence; rather, it's the accumulation of all these different bonuses. Banchero and Keels even said they change the way they play defense when they know Williams is behind them on the floor. "I put more pressure on the ball," Keels said, "just because I know I've got somebody in the back who's gonna block the shot or clean things up." So when you consider the importance of Duke's defense – which is No. 18 in the nation, per KenPom, in adjusted efficiency – to its lofty season-long goals, Williams' contributions to that defense become magnified. As they well should.

The beauty of Duke's roster, at its best, is still its versatility: that Griffin can play as a camped-out-in-the-corner shooting guard or a small-ball power forward; that Banchero can play center in spots while also being a primary ballhandler; that Wendell Moore Jr. can defend any position, one through four. And some games, such as against Virginia Tech, playing someone of Williams' size is a disadvantage because of smaller, quicker opponents. But to win six games in March, Duke almost definitely will have to play big at times, too – and, more specifically, need its bigs to come up big. Williams did so against Timme and the Zags, and Saturday against NC State was another example.

It's not an every-night thing because it doesn't need to be.

But the next time Williams plays a team with a big-time center or a team lacking one entirely? Well, in the wise words of Lil Tecca and Gunna: Repeat it.

WENDELL MOORE JR.
