"Matthew Cleveland's return for his sophomore season is huge. The 6-foot-7, 200-pound sophomore looks like Florida State's next big thing on the wing, following the footsteps of Patrick Williams, Devin Vassell and Terance Mann. Cleveland could be a darkhorse to win ACC Player of the Year. He's got some help on the wings from the likes of Cam'Ron Fletcher, Darin Green, Jr., and Jalen Warley. Having supersized wings has been a staple of Leonard Hamilton-coached teams at Florida State, and 2022-23 will be no exception."

FLORIDA STATE PLAYS HOST TO NO. 5 PURDUE IN THE ACC / BIG TEN CHALLENGE

Florida State, which has won three consecutive home games in the ACC / Big Ten Challenge, plays host to No. 5 Purdue in the 2022 ACC / Big Ten Challenge presented by Continental Tire. The Seminoles enter the event for the 24th time with consecutive home victories against Minnesota (75-67, Nov. 28, 2016), Purdue (73-72, Nov. 28, 2018) and Indiana (69-67 in overtime, Dec. 9, 2020). The Seminoles have gained nine wins at home in the ACC / Big Ten Challenge against five different teams -- Minnesota (2000, 2007, 2012, 2016), Iowa (2002), Northwestern (2003), Purdue (2005, 2018) and Indiana (2020) -- and pay host to the Boilermakers for the third time in the series. The Seminoles are 2-0 at home in the event against Purdue with victories at the Tucker Center in both 2005 and 2018. Purdue is the Seminoles' second-most common opponent in the event, as the two teams will meet for the fourth time with Florida State holding a 2-1 series advantage. Florida State has faced Minnesota five times in the history of the challenge. Following Florida State's game against Purdue on Wednesday, the Seminoles begin conference play at No. 3 Virginia on Saturday in Charlottesville in a 2 p.m. tip off on ESPN2.

FLORIDA STATE VS. PURDUE -- CONNECTIONS

Florida State plays host to Purdue in the 24th annual ACC / Big Ten Challenge on November 30, 2022 at the Donald L. Tucker Center in Tallahassee. The game is the fourth meeting between the two teams in the Challenge with Florida State holding a 2-1 lead in Challenge games. The Seminoles defeated the Boilermakers in challenge games during both the 2005 (97-57 in Tallahassee) and 2018 (73-72 in Tallahassee) seasons. Florida State most recent win over Purdue came by a 63-60 score in overtime in the championship game of the 2019 Emerald Coast Classic and lead the all-time series against the Boilermakers by a 4-1 margin. Matt Painter, the head coach of the Boilermakers since the start of the 2005-06 season, has faced the Seminoles four times -- with Florida State defeating his first Purdue team in the ACC / Big Ten Challenge in 2005, his 2018-19 team also in the ACC / Big Ten Challenge and his 2019-20 team in the Emerald Coast Classic. Boilermaker assistant coach Brandon Brantley has coached against Florida State three times (in the 2018 and 2021 ACC / Big Ten Challenge and the 2019 Emerald Coast Classic) and is 1-2 as a coach against the Seminoles. Terry Johnson, who is in his second season at Purdue, faced Florida State as an assistant coach at Butler -- a 67-64 Bulldog win on December 23, 2010 at the Diamond Head Classic in Honolulu and as a member of Purdue's staff during the 2021 ACC / Big Ten Challenge. Paul Lusk, who is in his second season (and second stint) as a Purdue assistant coach, was a Boilermaker assistant coach on November 29, 2005 when Florida State took its first win over the Boilermakers in the ACC / Big Ten Challenge. Elliott Bloom, Purdue's Director of Basketball Administration and Operations, was the sports information director for the Duke men's basketball team during the 2000-01 season.

2023 WILL USHER IN THE ACC / SEC CHALLENGE

The Atlantic Coast Conference, the Southeastern Conference and ESPN Monday (November 28) announced the formation of the ACC/SEC Challenge for men's basketball, which will begin as part of the 2023-24 season. ACC and SEC teams will square off as part of the annual Challenge. Each one of the 28 games (30 starting in 2025-26) will be carried on an ESPN platform and each conference will host an equal number of home games.

FLORIDA STATE IN BACK TO BACK MATCH-UPS IN THE ACC / BIG TEN CHALLENGE

Florida State's game in the 2022 ACC / Big Ten Challenge marks the fourth time in the history in the ACC / Big Ten Challenge that the Seminoles will face its Big Ten opponent for the second consecutive season. The Seminoles faced Ohio State (2009, 2010), Minnesota (2012, 2013) and Indiana (2019, 2020) in back-to-back years and will face Purdue (2021, 2022) for the second consecutive year on Wednesday in Tallahassee.

LOOK FOR FLORIDA STATE TO...

...Defeat No 5 Purdue and gain its fifth win in six games against Purdue. The Seminoles enter Wednesday's game against Purdue with a 3-0 record at home against the Boilermakers;

...Defeat Purdue and gain a victory over top-five ranked team for the second consecutive season. The Seminoles defeated No. 5 ranked Duke, 79-78 in overtime, at the Donald L. Tucker Center on January 18, 2022.

Quoting Florida State Basketball

"Leonard Hamilton has pieced together the usual collection of athleticism and length."

Walter Villa
Lindy's Sports Annuals

"Sophomore wing Matthew Cleveland is a potential first-round NBA Draft pick, veteran guard Caleb Mills is back after leading the team in scoring when healthy and UCF transfer Darin Green, Jr. help in perimeter shooting. In the front court, former Kentucky forward Cam Fletcher looks poised for a breakout year after coming off the bench last season in his debut campaign with the Seminoles. If 7-foot-4 sophomore Naheem McLeod can stay healthy, then Florida State will have excellent rim protection again. Hamilton's incoming crop of five freshmen ranked as the No. 18 recruiting class nationally."

David Cobb
CBS Sports

"A very special award (The Joe Lapchick Award) for Coach Hamilton. Nobody deserves it more. You talk about someone with high character who demands it from his players to carry themselves in the right way, to act the right way, to go to class, to graduate ... I think everyone's graduated that's ever come though Florida State but two players. That's just impressive when you sit back and look back at all of the changes he's been able to make in men's lives and really prepare them for success later on. That's what were here to do. Were' here to impact the young people lives and no one does it better than Coach Hamilton."

Michael Alford, Director of Athletics
Florida State University

"Leonard Hamilton has flown under the radar in the ACC due to Roy Williams and Coach K but now, Hamilton has the best résumé in the league. He has over a dozen 5-star commits in the past, including Scottie Barnes, Dwayne Bacon and rising sophomore wing Matthew Cleveland. Coach Hamilton is known for building depth but quietly handles his own on the trail."

Jeff Goodman, Rob Dauster
The Field of 68

"With the departure of Anthony Polite, Jalen Warley likely steps into the starting backcourt alongside guard Caleb Mills. Warley's offensive prowess and natural ability should be showcased with increased opportunity. The Mt. Airy, Pennsylvania, native can play either guard spot and operates as both the primary ball-handler and off-ball guard in the offense. Defensively, Warley's size and length allow him to defend multiple positions."

Charleston Bowles

"Stan Jones is phenomenal at X's and O's. Stan is a great person and can coach circles around most. He can get players too."

THERE'S JUST SOMETHING ABOUT THE TUCKER CENTER

Florida State has defeated 16 Top-5 ranked teams – with seven of those victories coming in the Donald L. Tucker Center – under Head Coach Leonard Hamilton. Hamilton gained his first Florida State win over Top-5 ranked in his first season as the Seminoles' head coach (2002-023). Included in those victories are three wins over the nation's No 1 ranked team – a list that includes Duke at home in 2006, North Carolina in the ACC Tournament in 2009 and Duke at home in in 2012.

Florida State Basketball By The Numbers

.933 Freshman Cam Corhen has made 14 of his last 15 free throws since the second half of Florida State's game against Troy and is shooting .933 during that span of games. He is shooting .800 from the free throw line (20 of 25) in the first eight games of his collegiate career.

.973 Under Leonard Hamilton, 73 of 75 four-year players (.973 percent) have earned their degrees from Florida State. Caleb Mills is the most recent degree recipient; he earned his degree in July of 2022.

3.0 Junior Cam'Ron Fletcher has 9 steals in the last three games – five against Siena, two against Stanford and two against Nebraska – and averaged 3.0 steals per game during the ESPN Events Invitational.

4 Florida State enters Wednesday's game against Purdue with four double figure scorers – Caleb Mills (12.6 ppg), Cam'Ron Fletcher (12.1 ppg), Matthew Cleveland (11.4 ppg), and Darin Green, Jr. (11.4 ppg).

5 Sophomore Naheem McLeod blocked a career-high five shots in Florida State's victory over Mercer on November 21 – the most blocked shots in a game since Jonathan Isaac blocked seven shots in an 83-80 win over Notre Dame at the Donald L. Tucker Center. McLeod blocked a total of seven shots in 18 games in his first season (2021-22) at Florida State.

8 Junior Caleb Mills has blocked eight shots in the first eight games of the season. He has blocked 18 shots in 34 games as a Seminoles after blocking five shots in his first 35 college games at the University of Houston

8 Sophomore Jalen Warley has eight steals in his first eight games of the season (1.0 spg) and 45 steals in the first 39 games of his Florida State career (1.2 spg). He has earned four steals in the last three games (1.3 spg) including two against Siena.

10 Junior Cam'Ron Fletcher has earned 10 steals in his last five games – including a career-high tying five steals against Siena.

18 Sophomore Matthew Cleveland has made 18 free throw and is shooting .750 from the free throw line (18 of 24) in the last five games.

100 Junior Darin Green Jr. earned two assists in Florida State's game against Nebraska and enters Wednesday's game against Purdue with 100 career assists.

122 Junior Caleb Mills enters Wednesday's game against Purdue with 878 career points. He needs just 122 points to join teammate Darin Green, Jr. in the illustrious 1,000 career point club. Green, Jr. enters Wednesday's game with 1,038 career points. He scored his 1,000 career point against Florida on November 18, 2022.

MILLS CONTINUES TO RANK A FLORIDA STATE'S ALL-TIME BEST FREE THROW PERCENTAGE SHOOTER

Junior Caleb Mills enters Wednesday's game against No. 5 Purdue as the Seminoles' all-time free throw shooting percentage leader with a career-mark (at Florida State) of .838. He is currently one of only 10 players in school history with a career free throw shooting percentage of better than 80 percent. As a Seminole he has made 83 of 99 free throws with at least 75 made free throws triggering him into the Seminoles' career lead. Mills is shooting .800 from the line this season.

Coach Leonard Hamilton: 'The Worse the Program, the More I Became Interested'

By Billy Witz

New York Times

September 19, 2022

Hamilton, the Florida State men's basketball coach, was presented with the Joe Lapchick Character Award in New York last week.

Leonard Hamilton was on the ninth floor of the stately New York Athletic Club with its million-dollar views over Central Park, accepting the Joe Lapchick Character Award at a luncheon on Friday. Outside, a chauffeur waited to whisk him across the Hudson River to a private plane that would deliver the Florida State men's basketball coach back to Tallahassee, Fla.

It was quite the departure from his first visit to New York.

That came 50 years ago, when Hamilton was a wet-behind-the-ears assistant coach at Austin Peay State University in Tennessee. Hamilton walked to the La Guardia Airport car rental counter only to discover that he could not pay cash for a car — and he did not have a credit card. So he jumped in a cab and asked the driver to take him to the cheapest hotel he could find near a gym in Brooklyn.

When Hamilton got to the gym, he heard other coaches talking about a hot prospect from the neighborhood. So he pulled aside Rodney Parker, a street basketball consigliere whom any recruiter in the city had better get to know, and asked if he could introduce him to this phenom. The next night, they went to the prospect's apartment a little before he was expected home at 7. His mother answered the door. They talked and talked, Hamilton turning on the charm.

Sometime after midnight, when the mother excused herself to use the bathroom, Hamilton turned the clock back a couple of hours lest she ask him to leave. When she went to the bathroom again, he pulled the blinds down, lest she discover the sun would soon be peeking through. Finally, just around 7 a.m., in walked a sinewy 6-foot-5 teenager with a bushy Afro and a sly grin.

Immediately, Hamilton hit it off with James Williams, whom everyone knew as Fly.

"I was following him around playing All-Star games," Hamilton said. "Nobody knew me, and I never wore anything with Austin Peay on it, so Fly, being the jokester that he was, told everybody I was his cousin. I actually sat in on two recruiting meetings with other schools. He said, 'I can't talk with anybody without my cuz.'"

Austin Peay, which had finished last in the Ohio Valley Conference the previous season, nearly reached the Mideast regional final of the N.C.A.A. men's tournament in 1973, losing in overtime to Kentucky.

Hamilton, 74, was the first Black player at the University of Tennessee at Martin and the first Black coach in the Southeastern Conference when he was hired as an assistant at Kentucky in 1974. He is getting ready for his 21st season at Florida State, where he has coached six first-round draft picks since 2016 — including the reigning N.B.A. rookie of the year, Scottie Barnes — and where 73 of the 75 players who have completed their eligibility have graduated.

He spoke to The New York Times last week about growing up in the segregated South, taking on reclamation projects, why he doesn't think about the what-ifs of the pandemic and when he'll retire.

You quit coaching when you were told Austin Peay would not hire a Black head coach, right?

It wasn't quite like that. I went to talk to the university president when I thought Coach (Lake) Kelly might leave to see if there was a chance I could replace him. He said he was retiring in a couple years and nothing would make him happier than for me to be the coach at Austin Peay. Politically, he said he didn't know if he was strong enough to get it done. He was being honest with me, but that cut my guts out.

So you quit?

I got a job at Dow Chemicals. My first day on the job, I got a call from Joe Hall (the Kentucky coach), who had become aware of me because we almost beat them. Near the end of my interview, I said, "I'm going to tell you four things: I'll be loyal to you, nobody will outwork me, you'll have players, and I won't get you in trouble. But if you're not going to offer me the job, I'm going to go back to Charlotte and be the No. 1 chemicals salesman in the country."

You spent 12 years as an assistant at Kentucky (winning the 1978 championship with the team), but your head coaching jobs have been at places that were not exactly blue bloods. Oklahoma State hadn't won an N.C.A.A. tournament game in more than two decades; Miami had recently resurrected its program 15 years after dropping it; and Florida State had always been a football school. Is that a coincidence?

As an assistant coach, like most young coaches, I was dreaming. I wanted to be somewhere that had good facilities, was in the vicinity of good players and that had won. I wanted to find one of those good, cushy jobs where I could really go to work. But then it's almost like God slapped me on both sides of my face and said, "Those programs don't need you." It was almost like a vision — if you're going to make a name in this business, you're going to have to go somewhere that is extremely challenging. The worse the program, the more I became interested. That would be a way for me to earn my stripes.

How much did your upbringing in Gastonia, N.C., prepare you for that, having to make do with less?

There were eight of us living in a two-bedroom house. Our bathroom was on the back porch, there was no hot and cold running water. I took my bath in a tin tub. Everybody in our neighborhood lived that way. This was an era when we were still drinking out of a colored water fountain, using a colored bathroom, sitting in the back of the bus. We lived 30 or 40 yards from my church — Mount Zion Baptist, at the corner of Allison and Morris, where everybody is somebody and Christ is all. I could hear the piano from our back porch, and if the doors were open, we were there. It gave me a moral compass. All of those circumstances, even the negative part of segregation, prepared me mentally. It gave me a toughness, a desire, a will to fight and a determination to try to overcome challenges.

Last year, Gaston College, the community college you attended in your hometown, resurrected its athletic program after 50 years, bringing back five sports, including men's basketball. You urged the college's board of trustees to do this. Why?

Most Blacks in that time got their education through the G.I. Bill, so that's what I was going to do in 1966 — join the Army. My mother went to school up to the seventh grade, my father went to the ninth grade. The coach convinced me I could always join the Army but this would be a good experience. And he was right. Gaston College meant so much to me because I was a guy who needed some direction. I needed small classrooms. I needed the relationships. I needed that environment. Every Wednesday night, my coach would take me to Howard Johnson's. He was teaching me how to eat pasta. He wanted me to take the fork and the spoon and curl it up, which made no sense to me. It helped prepare me to go to Tennessee-Martin. I had three younger brothers and a sister who looked to me for leadership. Getting my degree set the table for them.

In 2020, Florida State was 26-5, A.C.C. champions, ranked fourth and picked by some to get to the Final Four, where you have never been. Then the pandemic hit and the N.C.A.A. tournament was canceled. How often do you think about what might have been?

I don't. When you think about the negative effect that continuing to play those games could have had on a lot of people, me standing up there saying "I'm No. 1" pales in comparison. I would have loved to have played for a championship, but the most important thing is it was the right decision to make.

In the past two years, Roy Williams retired at North Carolina, Mike Krzyzewski retired at Duke and Jay Wright retired at Villanova. You turned 74 last month, you just had hip replacement surgery, and you coached with a ruptured Achilles' tendon in last year's N.C.A.A. tournament. How long do you want to coach?

This is my ministry. This is my calling. This is what I'm built for — to help young people fulfill their dreams. I don't play golf. I don't hunt. I don't fish. I'm boring. I always tell my staff that if I don't come out of the locker room and go to the wrong bench, then I'm going to stay here.
