In addition to the victory being his 600th overall coaching win, the win was his 400th at Florida State, making him only the fifth coach in ACC history to win 400 games as an ACC coach. Hamilton is one of just 17 active collegiate coaches with at least 600 career victories.

Why I Wear My Number

Matthew Cleveland -- I wear No. 35 at Florida State because that is the number I've been wearing since my sophomore year of high school. We won two state championships while I was wearing that number, so I asked if I could wear it when I came to Florida State.

Cameron Corhen -- I wear No. 3 because I think it is a cool looking number. Most recently I wore the No. 3 during the Peach Jam in 2021.

Cam'Ron Fletcher -- I wear No. 21 at Florida State because that's the only number I have ever worn -- I've worn it my whole life and it has gotten me this far.

Jaylan Gainey -- I wear No. 33 at Florida State because it's the number I wore in high school when I was a three-time All-Conference and three-time conference Defensive Player of the Year. I wore No. 22 during my career at Brown.

Darin Green Jr. -- I wear No. 22 at Florida State (and also at UCF) because it's the number my dad wore when he was a collegiate player at George Washington (1995-98).

De'Ante Green -- I wear No. 5 at Florida State because I think it looks like a really cool number. It is the first time in my career I've worn the No. 5.

Tom House -- I wear No. 12 at Florida State because it has always been my favorite number. It's the only number I've ever worn as a basketball player. Not only is it my favorite number, it's my mom's favorite number, too.

Chandler Jackson -- I wear No. 0 at Florida State because it's a tough looking number, and one of my favorite players, Russell Westbrook, wears 0.

Naheem McLeod -- I wear No. 24 at Florida State because it reminds me of Kobe. With him also being from Philadelphia it makes me think my hometown city always has my back.

Baba Miller -- I wear No. 11 at Florida State because I believe that the only person that can stop me from growing and getting better is myself. I identify 1 as myself, so 11 is the representation of me vs me.

Caleb Mills -- I wear No. 4 at Florida State because I to give myself a fresh start at my new school. I have worn either two or three my whole life, and even if they had been available, I would have asked to wear a new number in my first season at Florida State.

Jaylen Warley -- I wear No. 1 at Florida State because it's a number that I played well in when I was younger. I wanted No. 2 (the number I wore in high school but it wasn't available for my freshman season because Anthony Polite wore it.

FSU Men's Basketball: Matthew Cleveland Showing Confidence In Latest Surge

By Carter Karels

Tallahassee Democrat

January 6, 2023

When Matthew Cleveland is not on the hardwood, the Florida State men's basketball star likes to play chess.

Even when traveling to road games, Cleveland will sometimes bring his own chessboard with him on the Seminoles' plane and challenge teammates.

"Just constantly thinking," said Cleveland on what he enjoys about chess. "One move could affect the rest of the game, and it could be the first move in the game. So constantly thinking ahead, that helps a lot with real-life situations."

So much of what fascinates Cleveland tends to be related to the mind. It is why he majors in criminology and wants to be a child psychologist or FBI agent. It is why he enjoys watching YouTube videos from critical thinkers like astrophysicist Neil deGrasse Tyson.

And it is why his recent surge can be mostly attributed to his burgeoning confidence and overall mentality.

"Toughness is a talent. Playing hard is a talent. You have to work as hard in those areas as you do with shooting free throws and shooting a jump shot. Matthew has that," FSU coach Leonard Hamilton said.

"He is a competitive youngster. He rises to the occasion. And you never have to be concerned about whether or not he is giving you complete effort to exhaustion."

Compared to last season, the 6-foot-7, 200-pound Cleveland now looks like a much different player offensively. As a true freshman, Cleveland shined and earned ACC Sixth Man of the Year honors. But his shooting struggles and tentativeness at times clearly held him back. He went just 6 of 34 (17.6%) from 3-point range and 61 of 110 (55.6%) from the free throw line.

Through 15 games this season, though, Cleveland has shown significant improvement as a shooter. He is 8 of 19 (42.1%) from beyond the arc and 50 of 66 (75.8%) from the free throw line while leading the Seminoles with 14 points per game and 6.9 rebounds per game.

"I definitely feel like I have earned some respect," Cleveland said. "The way I have been getting guarded recently is completely different to the way I was getting guarded last year. So it has added a dimension to my game that I can use if they are going to press really far up."

To start the season, Cleveland needed to adjust to assuming more responsibilities while FSU had multiple players unavailable.

But in the Seminoles' last eight games, Cleveland has finally taken his game to another level. He has averaged 17 points and 9.4 rebounds during that span, shooting 48% from the field, 50% from 3-point range and 83.8% from the free throw line while being a double-double machine.

Cleveland will look to record his fifth straight double-double when FSU (4-11, 2-2 ACC) hosts Georgia Tech (8-6, 1-3) at 1 p.m. Saturday in the Donald L. Tucker Civic Center (TV: Bally Sports Sun).

Not since Douglas Edwards in the 1991-92 season has a Seminole player tallied five consecutive double-doubles.

"He has a lot more confidence," Hamilton said. "He is not hesitant with his ability to shoot a jump shot when he is down. He shot an airball from the free throw line the last time we played Duke up there. And now he is shooting about 40% from three.

"But that is because of his focus and determination. His toughness, mentally and physically, that is who he is. You can expect him to get better and better."

'I have a lot of confidence in my shot now'

Cleveland knew he needed a change.

Because of his shooting woes, Cleveland looked hesitant at times when he was outside of the paint last season. He also never shot more than three 3-pointers in a game and only averaged 1.2 attempts per game from beyond the arc.

"I always wanted to take the good, safe shots, like if they were wide, wide open," Cleveland said. "As people told me, you are not going to get a wide, wide open shot in college basketball."

FSU associate head coach Stan Jones identified a solution, suggesting to Cleveland that he should tweak his shooting form. How Cleveland placed his off-hand on the ball, he explained, tended to mess up his shot.

So Cleveland spent all offseason perfecting a new way to shoot, placing his off-hand on more of the side of the basketball.

"Three times a day, I would come in and really work on it from up close (to the basket)," Cleveland said. "For like a month, I didn't really shoot a jump shot until I felt really comfortable with how it felt and until it became muscle memory.

"I have a lot of confidence in my shot now, so it has really helped a lot."

It took time before Cleveland seemed confident about his new form in a game setting.

In the Seminoles' exhibition against Newberry College, Cleveland went scoreless on 0 of 9 shooting across 31 minutes. He then scored five points or fewer in three of his first seven games this season, shooting 41.5% (27 of 65) from the field, 16.7% (1 of 6) from 3-point range and 65.5% (19 of 29) from the free throw line during that stretch. Now, Cleveland has clearly put his shooting struggles behind him.

"I would say USC Upstate (on Dec. 13)," said Cleveland on the turning point for him. "The one I hit in the right corner, the dude was really closing out. I did not hesitate to shoot it, but I shot it. I was like, I would not have shot this last year at all."

Rebounding machine

As a new player for the AAU team Georgia Xclusive, an eighth-grade Cleveland learned the importance of rebounding.

Cleveland remembers the team having a surplus of talented, experienced guards. So even though Cleveland stood 6-1 and had yet to hit his six-inch growth spurt, he pushed his way to securing a featured role at power forward and center.

"When I was younger and shorter, I was not always the best player," Cleveland said. "So I had to find a way to get myself involved in the game, and offensive rebounding was the way to do it. So I definitely feel like that has been something that I have been good at for a long time."

With leading rebounder Cam'Ron Fletcher (season-ending injury) and fellow forwards Jaylan Gainey (season-ending injury) and Baba Miller (16-game suspension) unavailable, the Seminoles badly needed better production on the boards.

Since Fletcher went down with his injury at Virginia on Dec. 3, Cleveland has led FSU in rebounding in six straight games. He has recorded double-digit rebounds in four straight games and five of his last six.

"I would definitely say there is an art to it," said Cleveland on rebounding. "You can see by the trajectory of the shot if it is going to bounce long or bounce short. So just playing with that in my mind and also trying to be the first one off the floor to get the rebound."

Cleveland facing his favorite childhood team

As the son of two Georgia Tech alums, Cleveland grew up rooting for the Yellow Jackets.

FSU played Georgia Tech once last season, falling 75-61 on the road. Cleveland tallied five points on 2 of 10 shooting while adding seven rebounds and three assists.

"Last year, it was surreal playing at Georgia Tech," Cleveland said. "It's definitely the game I mark on my calendar, being a diehard Georgia Tech fan growing up. It is very cool to play against them."

After the Seminoles play the Yellow Jackets, Miller will be able to make his long-awaited return from suspension at Wake Forest next Wednesday.

Barring a miracle in the ACC Tournament, FSU is in too deep of a hole to earn an NCAA Tournament appearance. But with Cleveland playing well and Miller coming back soon, the Seminoles have to feel more optimistic about how the second half of their season will play out.

"Like one-game national championships," said Cleveland on how he wants to approach the rest of the season. "We know we can't get everything that we lost from the beginning of the season back in one game."

"So if we take it game by game, do our work game by game and treat it like it is our last game of the season, then by the end of the year, we will be in a completely different position than we are now."

Game 19 -- Florida State 84,
Notre Dame 71

NOTRE DAME, Ind. — Darin Green Jr. scored a game-high 20 points on six made field goals, four 3-pointers, and four free throws to lead Florida State to an 84-71 victory over Notre Dame at the Joyce Center. Green Jr. led five Seminoles in double figure scoring, Green, Jalen Warley (17 points), Matthew Cleveland (14 points), Caleb Mills (11 points), and Cameron Corhen (10 points) to improve Florida State's ACC record to 4-4. Matthew Cleveland secured his eighth consecutive double double against Notre Dame with 14 points and a career-high 16 rebounds. The last Seminole to reach the milestone was Reggie Royals who finished the 1970-71 season with nine consecutive double doubles. Cleveland will have the chance to join Royals in Saturday afternoon's game against Pittsburgh. Cleveland's 16 rebounds are tied for the second most in an ACC game by a Seminole – tied with Al Thornton against Virginia on February 7, 2007. The school record for rebounds by a Seminole in an ACC game is 17 by Michael Joiner against Wake Forest on January 9, 2001. Cleveland's 16 defensive rebounds established a school record by a Florida State player in an ACC game. Warley scored his career-high of 17 points on four made field goals and eight free throws. He surpassed his former career-high of 15 points against Duke in February of 2022 and made the most free throws of his career, shooting eight for 10 (.800) from the free throw line
