

A volleyball player in a purple jersey is captured mid-air, jumping high to hit the ball. Her blonde hair is in a long braid that is flying behind her. She is looking up at the ball with a focused expression. The background is a blurred indoor volleyball court with spectators and other players visible.

FURMAN VOLLEYBALL 2020 RECORD BOOK

PROGRAM HISTORY

The Furman Paladin volleyball team has competed in the Southern Conference since 1984, when the league sponsored its first volleyball title. In the years since, Furman has won three regular-season and three tournament championship and has seen 67 All-Southern Conference citations awarded to members of the Furman program. In 1998, the winner of the Southern Conference began receiving an automatic bid to the NCAA Championships, further heightening the importance of the league tournament.

Established in 1921, the Southern Conference is the fourth oldest major college conference in the United States. Its roots can be traced to 1894, when several football-playing institutions formed a confederation known as the Southeastern Intercollegiate Athletic Association (SIAA). On February 25-26, 1921, 15 of the larger SIAA members met in Atlanta and officially formed the Southern Intercollegiate Conference.

Charter members were Alabama, Auburn, Clemson, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, Maryland, Mississippi State, North Carolina, North Carolina State, Tennessee, Virginia, Virginia Tech, and Washington & Lee. Athletic competition began that fall.

Since its formation, the SoCon has given birth to the Southeastern and Atlantic Coast Conferences, and its membership has changed drastically. Current members include Furman, Mercer, VMI, East Tennessee State, The Citadel, UNC Greensboro, Chattanooga, Samford, Western Carolina, and Wofford.
