PALADINS ON RADIO 1982

Jeff Charles and Greg Laetsch will handle the play-by-play and color commentary on the Furman Football Network this season. WGVL Radio will serve as the network flagship station, carrying all the action of every Paladin contest.

Charles, a native of Piqua, Ohio, is in his first season as the "Voice of the Paladins." The 29-year-old Goshen (Ind.) College graduate came to WGVL after serving as sports director at WSB in Atlanta. A veteran of 10 years broadcasting experience, Charles has done play-by-play for University of Illinois football and basketball.

Most recently, Charles has been the "Voice of the Peach Bowl," winning awards from both Associated Press and United Press International. Host of WGVL Sports Talk Nightly, he and his wife, Debby, have a daughter and a son.

Greg Laetsch begins his third year as color commentator on the Paladin radio broadcasts. A 1979 Furman graduate, Laetsch is an Asheville, N.C., native.

A three-year letterman at receiver for the Paladins, Laetsch signed a free agent pact with the Seattle Seahawks of the NFL in 1978. The 23-year-old bachelor was also selected to play in the Canadian-American Bowl. He is presently an account executive with Smith Barney, Harris Upham & Co., of Greenville.

1982 OUTLOOK

Furman University Head Football Coach Dick Sheridan begins his fifth season at the helm and welcomes 53 lettermen, including six offensive starters, seven from the defense and one specialist from a year ago.

The Paladins finished 8-3 on the season, capturing their second consecutive Southern Conference championship, while compiling a 5-2 league mark.

Offensively, the Paladins will miss the services of eight lettermen, including five starters. Defensively, Furman lost 5 lettermen, with four being full-time starters and one a part-time starter. Gone from the specialty unit are four letter winners, including the starting punter, holder and long snapper.

Of the losses the Paladins incurred, seven were All-Southern Conference performers last season, two were named to the league all academic squad and two were signed to free agent contracts in the National Football League. Of the losses on the defense, two stand as the top two tacklers in Furman grid history.

Sheridan and his coaches have the task of replacing these people and the fifth-year coach feels it is a challenge to replace players of this quality. In four seasons, those 17 lettermen not returning played a major role in winning three Southern Conference crowns.

SCHEDULE

The Paladins will face all seven Southern Conference foes this season, opening the league contests on Sept. 18 at Boone, N.C., against Appalachian State. Other league road games include Tenn-Chattanooga (Sept. 25), East Tennessee State (Oct. 23) and Marshall (Nov. 13). Southern Conference teams making the trip to Greenville and Paladin Stadium are Virginia Military (Oct. 2), Western Carolina (Oct. 9) and The Citadel (Nov. 20).

Outside the conference, Furman will face long-time foe Davidson (Oct. 30) and second time opponent James Madison (Nov. 6), both in Greenville. The Paladins will open the season in Raleigh, N.C., (Sept. 4), with a night game against North Carolina State. The Wolfpack was the

RECEIVERS

One of the most experienced areas a year ago, Furman's receiving corps in 1982 will be one of the youngest on the squad. Gone are starters Terry Clark and two-time all-league end Byron Lee.

At tight end, juniors Danny Gaines (6-1, 215, Jr.), Jack Borders (6-3, 196, Jr.), Steve Greenleaf (6-0, 199, Jr.), Neal Anderson (6-3, 210, Jr.) and Blair Biggerstaff (6-5, 197, Jr.) will be called on, along with sophomore Jonathan May (6-4, 201, So.) and freshman Jim Easterling (6-3, 200, Fr.). FURMAN UNIVERSITY

Furman University traces its origin to The Furman Academy and Theological Institution authorized in 1825 by the South Carolina Baptist State Convention and opened in 1827 at Edgefield, South Carolina. In 1850 it was chartered Furman University, and over the years has firmly established itself as one of the nation's leading private institutions.

CONFERENCE

Furman University is a member of the Southern Conference, one of the nation's oldest intercollegiate athletic conferences. The nine-team league is composed of members — Appalachian State, The Citadel, Davidson, East Tennessee State, Furman, Marshall, Tennessee-Chattanooga, Virginia Military Institute, and Western Carolina.

The Southern Conference was formed in 1921 at a meeting of 15 institutions in Atlanta, Georgia. The league initially was known as the Southern Intercollegiate Conference and the following 12 schools were charter members: Alabama, Auburn, Clemson, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, Maryland, Mississippi State, Tennessee, Virginia, Virginia Tech, and Washington & Lee.

The growth of the SIC was rapid and, within a year, Florida, LSU, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tulane, and Vanderbilt were added.

In 1923, the league was officially renamed the Southern Conference. Through the years, other schools were admitted but, in 1932, 13 of the 21 members left the conference to form the Southeastern Conference.

In February 1936, Furman was one of six new members admitted to the Southern Conference, including current members Davidson and The Citadel. In 1953, there was another mass exodus of schools from the league to form the Atlantic Coast Conference.

The Southern Conference declares champions in 11 different sports, one being decided by tournament play. Tournaments have been a popular and profitable method of determining the yearly conference basketball champion. Southern Conference champions in basketball, baseball, and wrestling automatically qualify for participation in NCAA national tournaments. All members of the conference possess NCAA Division I status.

Kenneth Germann is the commissioner of the Southern Conference. Dallas Shirley serves as assistant to the Commissioner, and supervisor of officials. John Geis directs the service bureau. Furman University Vice President Francis W. Bonner served as president of the conference for six years.

The conference annually awards the Commissioner's Cup to the university which accumulates the greatest number of points in championship competition throughout the year.

DICK SHERIDAN - Head Football Coach

Now in his fifth year as head football coach at Furman University, Dick Sheridan has established himself as one of the nation's outstanding coaches.

Three times in the past four seasons, Sheridan has guided the Paladins to the top of the Southern Conference. In 1978, Sheridan's squad tied Tenn-Chattanooga for the league crown, then in 1980 his team captured the school's first outright conference football title and last season made it two championships in a row with an 8-3 overall mark and a 5-2 league finish. In 1978 and 1980 Sheridan was tabbed Southern Conference Coach-of-the-Year. The Columbia (S.C.) and Charleston (S.C.) Touchdown Clubs also recognized him as their top coach in 1978 and 1980. For his efforts in 1980, he also earned South Carolina Coach-of-the-Year honors from the South Carolina Sportswriters Association.

Named to the position in February of 1978, Sheridan has compiled a 30-13-1 overall record and a 20-6 Southern Conference mark. His first season's record of 8-3 was the best in eight years at Furman and only the second time since 1935 that the Paladins had achieved eight wins in a season. In 1979, the Paladins lost their first five games, only to bounce back to capture five of the final six games of the season. The lone loss in the final half of the year was a 21-20 defeat by Virginia Military in Lexington, Va. The following week, Furman defeated Davidson, 63-55, to set, at that time, an NCAA mark for most points scored in a game by two teams (118).

In 1980, Sheridan's charges became only the fourth Furman team since 1902 to win nine or more games in a single year. It was also the best season for the Paladins on the gridiron since 1927, when Furman fashioned a 10-1 record. Following a season-opening loss to nationally-ranked North Carolina, the Paladins reeled off a school record-tying eight consecutive wins, including six league victories. Two weeks later, Furman closed the gates to 45-year old Sirmine Stadium with a 28-15 defeat of arch-rival The Citadel, finishing 9-1-1 and 7-0 in Southern Conference action. The Paladins also extended their undefeated streak to ten games.

In 1981, Sheridan guided the Paladins to an 8-3 overall record, tying the school mark for victories in a four-year span with 30. Furman took its second consecutive league crown, defeating Virginia Military in Lexington, in November, 33-21, for the honor. Furman opened Paladin Stadium with a 21-0 win over East Tennessee State, to keep its stadium opening day record perfect at 3-0 since 1919.

Sheridan-coached teams have made their way into the NCAA statistical rankings as well. In his first campaign, the Paladins were included in the top 14 in the country in three offensive categories, leading the Southern Conference in total offense and rushing. In 1980, the Paladins ranked eighth in rushing offense, while finishing in the top 25 in rushing defense and scoring offense. Furman also topped the league in rushing defense and scoring defense that season. In 1981, the Paladins were 16th in the nation in rushing offense and led the conference in rushing and scoring defense.

Sheridan came to Furman in 1972 as an assistant to Art Baker. He served five seasons as offensive coordinator before assuming the head coaching responsibilities.

Sheridan came to Furman in 1973 as an assistant to Art Baker. He served five seasons as offensive coordinator before assuming the head coaching responsibilities.

The North Augusta, S.C., native joined the coaching staff at Eau Claire High School in Columbia, S.C., in 1964 and remained there as assistant football coach and head basketball coach until 1969. In three seasons as head basketball coach, his teams produced two conference championships and the state 'final four' twice, finishing second in 1969. He then assumed the head football duties at Orangeburg-Wilkinson High School for three seasons, where his 1971 squad finished with a 13-0 record and the State AAA title. That team ranked 12th in the nation and Sheridan was named South Carolina Coach-of-the-Year.

He then moved to Airport High School, in West Columbia, S.C., in 1972, before joining the Furman coaching staff. In his final three seasons as a high school head coach, his teams posted a 32-3 won-lost record and won more games during that period than any other team in South Carolina. His four-year prep record was an amazing 37-8-1.

A member of the Rawlings Sporting Goods Coaches Advisory Staff, he is director of the Dick Sheridan Quarterback and Receiver School, held each summer at Furman, featuring instruction by outstanding college coaches and several NFL quarterbacks and receivers.

A member of the NCAA Subcommittee on Recruiting Practices, Sheridan is a 1964 graduate of South Carolina. He earned a Master's of Education from USC in 1969. He and his wife Brenda have two sons, Bobby and Jon.

Sheridan's coaching philosophy at Furman: "Our goal is to have the best football program in the Southern Conference. We will do our best to produce consistently successful teams that represent Furman University with class and with an obvious desire to excel."

STEVE ROBERTSON — Defensive Coordinator

Steve Robertson begins his tenth season on the Furman staff. He will again serve as defensive coordinator and coaches the defensive line. He also serves as administrative assistant for the football program.

In the past nine seasons, Furman's defense has captured Southern Conference statistical titles in every department. Twice the Paladins have led the league in total defense, pass defense, rushing defense and been the toughest squad to score on.

As administrative assistant, Robertson is responsible for assisting teams with their travel arrangements, liaison between Furman and the pro scouts, and coordinates banquets, awards and game organization.

Robertson came to Furman in 1973 from Newberry College, where he had served as defensive coordinator since 1968. Prior to that, he spent eight years at Eau Claire High School as assistant and head football coach. He joined the Shamrocks in 1959 and assumed the head coaching duties in 1965.

A former South Carolina Coach-of-the-Year, Robertson guided Eau Claire to the Class AA title in 1967. His three-year record at the school was 28-4-1.

A native of Greer, S.C., Robertson was graduated from Newberry after earning All-State and All-Conference honors with the Indians. He and his wife, Linda, have a son, Ron, and a daughter, Robin.

In addition to his coaching duties, the 1962 University of South Carolina graduate coordinates the off-season program and the acquisition of equipment for the Paladins.

Satterfield came to Furman in 1973 following a highly successful coaching tenure. In five seasons at Eau Claire and Irmo High Schools, Satterfield compiled a 47-9-1 won-lost slate. During that period his teams won five conference championships and one Upper State title. In 1970, when Eau Claire captured the Upper State crown, he was named South Carolina Coach-of-the-Year and also served as Shrine Bowl coach.

Satterfield joined the Eau Claire staff following graduation from USC and assumed head coaching responsibilities in 1968. He remained there until assuming the head coaching position at Irmo in 1971.

FURMAN'S PALADIN STADIUM

Furman's Paladin Stadium, nestled beautifully on the campus with a scenic view of Paris Mountain, is the football home for the Paladins. The 13,200-seat facility was opened in 1981, replacing Sirrine Stadium, site for Furman football for 45 years.

Paladin Stadium is the third such facility for the Paladins since 1919. Manly Field, completed in 1919, was christened with a 7-6 victory over Wofford. In 1923, Manly Field seating was expanded to 8,000. Furman's final contest in Manly Field was a 20-9 win over Mercer in 1936.

Furman moved to newly constructed Sirrine Stadium for the sixth game of the season in 1936 and defeated Davidson 14-13. Just over 45 years later, the Paladins closed the gates to Sirrine with a 28-15 victory over arch-rival The Citadel and its first outright Southern Conference Championship.

Furman opened Paladin Stadium the same way it did Manly and Sirrine, winning the first intercollegiate contest played within its boundaries. The Paladins defeated East Tennessee State, 21-0. And in its first season of play, Paladin Stadium served as the home turf of the Southern Conference Champions.

From initial grading to completion, Paladin Stadium took two years to be realized at a cost of approximately $2 million.

The home grandstand contains aluminum plank seating for 10,000, including over 1,000 with permanent back rests. The visitor's side of the stadium will accommodate over 3,000.

The entire project was designed and developed to include the most convenient provisions possible for the handicapped. Handicap seating is located in Section 1 and a special parking area located immediately adjacent to the special seating area. Restrooms were designed to easily accommodate the handicapped.

All restroom buildings (two on the home side and one on the visitor's) have provisions for both men and women.

Another feature of Paladin Stadium is the five-story press tower. Level 1 houses concession areas and ticket windows. The third floor of the press tower is used by the Furman Paladin Club, the athletic fundraising arm of the university, for pre and post game activities, and is serviced with a private porthole to stadium seating. On the fourth floor can be found the President's Box for his guests of the University and also includes two radio booths and an area for television sportographers. Sportswriters, scouts, coaches, public address and team film crews is located on Level 5. All floors are serviced by an elevator and stairs and restroom facilities are located on each level.

Construction of the project was handled by Farley Construction Company of Columbia, S.C., and work continued through the summer of 1981 in order to complete the fourth and fifth phases of the stadium, to include the fieldhouse and lights.

The fieldhouse, located at the stadium's north end, contains the visitor's dressing room, an officials room which includes separate shower and toilet facilities, a visiting coaches room, and training rooms for both the visitors and home teams. Also included is a large area for pre-game and halftime, along with special meetings, for the Paladins.

Lighting of the field will be provided by 92 fixtures on four poles, two on each side of the stadium, with a maintained candle power of 60 at midfield.

The scoreboard, provided by Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Greenville, gives spectators complete display of game information. Located in the South end zone, the electronic board is located 15 feet above ground and measures 17 feet high and 35 feet long.

Paladin Stadium parking is located adjacent to the facility and can accommodate 3,200 cars. The stadium is accessible by Duncan Chapel Road and U.S. 25.

The playing field is hybrid Bermuda and landscaping at the stadium is in line with the design and architecture of the entire university.

ORIGIN OF THE PALADIN

Furman University athletic teams were known by different names until the 1961 school year. The baseball team was "Hornets," the football team "Hurricanes," and the basketball team "Paladins."

The basketball team was dubbed "Paladins" by a Greenville sportswriter in the 1930's and the name stuck. By vote of the student body, all Furman athletic teams became the "Paladins" on September 15, 1961.

"Paladin" is derived from the Count Palatine, one of the twelve knights who comprised the bodyguard and inner circle of Emperor Charlemagne.
